San Francisco is mixed up in a strenuous and close race with Chicago on army recruiting. Whether San Francisco or the Illinois metropolis will take second place in helping to fill the ranks of the army is the question. Enlistments there have now increased 60 per cent more than normal. This increase came before any offices save those in San Francisco and Oakland were opened. Now that Fresno, Sacramento, Bakersfield and a few other offices are doing business, Recruiting Officer Gardner expects to report an increase of more than 100 per cent within a week.

Major Ewing of the United States army recruiting station in Baltimore said that since the Mexican situation has become interesting applications for enlistment at the Baltimore office have increased 100 per cent and actual enlistment of accepted men 50 per cent. The average enlistment before the war was about fifteen per month.

The chase after Villa has had a varied effect on recruiting in Cleveland. Applicants for enlistment are calling at the army recruiting office at the rate of twenty a day. The normal average is twenty applicants a week. Seventy-five per cent are being "turned down." The recruiting officers noticed a slight increase the week following the Columbus (N. M.) raid.

That recruiting has been decidedly more active in St. Louis since Villa's raid on Columbus, N. M., was indicated by reports by the officials of the various military organizations. The greatest increase in enlistments has occurred at the recruiting stations of the regular army, where more than 300 men have joined the ranks. There have been 226 additions to the national guard of Missouri, 188 having been admitted at the First regiment armory, where a special campaign has been made for infantry recruits. A total of twenty-seven have enlisted for cavalry service at Troop B armory.

Enlistments Grow In New Orleans.

In thirty days enlistments in the United States army numbered twenty-one and the United States navy thirty-six in recruiting stations in New Orleans. Enlistments in the Louisiana national guard in the same period numbered 116 in New Orleans alone. One new battery of Washington artillery, state guard, was mustered in with seventy-six men. Two new companies of state guard infantry and one new company of state naval militia are being organized, but have not progressed to the enlistment stage.

The army recruiting office in Philadelphia maintains that the increase in the number of applications for enlistment came upon it at the announcement that the troops would be sent into Mexico to catch Villa. The increase has varied from 75 to 100 per cent. Where previously twenty men would apply daily the officers now handle from thirty-five to forty. The number of men who want to volunteer just for the period of the trouble is sometimes as large as that of those who wish to enlist for the regular term of service.

The question as to whether the Plattsburg (N. Y.) military training camp for business men will be held this summer was set at rest for the present at least by a definite statement issued at General Leonard Wood's headquarters on Governors Island that there had been no changes made in the plan by the war department. That the camp had been called off because of the Mexican situation was asserted recently, and as a result General Wood sent this telegram to Washington:

Photo by American Press Association.

A RECRUITING STATION IN NEW YORK CITY.

"Request denial as far as this department is concerned of alleged war department statement that no military instruction camp would be held this year.

"The report affects nearly 2,000 men already signed for camps in this department and is causing confusion and inquiries. This department is entirely prepared and expects to carry on proposed camps within its limits."

In reply General Wood got this from Adjutant General H. P. McCain: "No statement given out that training camps would not be held. Matter entirely in hands of department commanders, and war department will assist in every way possible."

Lesson of Spanish War.

Much was learned in the Spanish war as to the method of putting the volunteer regiments into service. The plans as now laid out provide that state troops first be mobilized in their armories under federal control to undergo several weeks' preliminary hardening and sifting of the unfit so that the men gathered in the concentration camps would be fit for field service.

It is estimated in round figures that almost 4,500 horses and mules would be required for the New York state military establishment. This would allow 1,000 animals for the First cavalry regiment, 1,800 for the twelve field artillery batteries and 125 apiece for the thirteen infantry regiments, which require mules for their wagon trains and horses for the mounted officers.

400,000 CROSSED ATLANTIC.

Of These 250,000 Braved U Boat Peril on Belligerent Ships.

Despite the perils of submarine warfare, 400,000 persons crossed the Atlantic between American and European ports as passengers last year, according to the bureau of navigation. Of these 250,000 traveled on vessels owned by the belligerents. One hundred and fifty thousand took passage on neutral ships.

Slightly more than half the Atlantic travelers were eastbound, and Italian ships carried more than vessels of any other nation.

Passengers carried by belligerent ships are divided as follows:

By Italian ships, 113,000; British, 89,000; French, 43,000; Russian, 6,000; Belgian, 1,000. Those on neutral ships were: American, 51,000; Greek, 28,000; Danish, 27,000; Dutch, 23,000; Norwegian, 15,000; Spanish, 4,000.

Try A Press Want Ad.

The Biederwolf Evangelistic Services

Will revive interest in Bible Reading in Plainfield as never before and regardless of sect, creed or faith. A universal reading of the Bible is bound to make for better citizenship, is bound to make for a plainer, stronger, simpler, honester speech in daily life, and a higher standard of ethics in the dealings of men. A return to Bible reading in these stressful times of world disturbance is needed as never before in our history and is bound to add to the moral and mental equipoise of this entire nation.

To Further Interest Our Readers In Bible Reading the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

HAS SECURED A LIMITED SUPPLY OF

Big Print Red Letter Bibles

All the Words and Sayings of Christ Printed in Red

This Book of Books

This Bible—this miraculous Bible—this Book of All Books—luminous with the light that dwelleth not on land or sea—this noblest and most beautiful Thing in all the world—what is it—whence cometh it—what means it?

It has made and unmade Nations. It has uprooted Kingdoms and Empires. It has diverted the mighty tides of History. It has crumpled ancient Faiths and Superstitions. Because of it fell Pagan Rome. The antique Systems of India and the Far East have bowed their heads to its enlightened sway.

China and the Orient now first awaken from their sleep of thrice a thousand years, and follow their sister nations of the Occident—whose feet are guided by one sole lamp—the sacred flame of which was kindled by the inspired Hebrew Prophets, and fed for all time by the Lord and Master of the Golden Rule.

Only ignorance scoffs at the Bible! The greatest rulers—the greatest statesmen—the greatest scholars—writers—orators—scientists—soldiers—and the untold millions of the Common People, whose collective genius outweighs them all—have thrilled to its Divine Wisdom.

Its lyrics of unfathomable tenderness—its orations of compelling potency—its contemplative prose of preternatural grandeur—have never been equalled. Its emotional depths and its intellectual heights make it the one and only Book of Books, vouchsafed for the guidance of mankind throughout the ages.

Special Features of This Beautiful Bible

ALL THE WORDS AND SAYINGS OF CHRIST distinguished from the context by being printed in red.

All Passages in the Old Testament prophetic of the coming of Christ, marked with a Star.

All the difficult words in both Testaments made self-pronouncing by diacritical marks; made so simple a child can pronounce them.

Hundreds of Helps and References.
Family Register of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
Exhaustive Marginal Annotations.
Index to Parables and Miracles.
Explanatory Heading at top of each page.
Dissertation on the Lord's Prayer.
Proving the Old Testament, by Dr. Wright.
Books of Reference for Students.
Readings of Revised Version collated with King James Version.

Sunday School Teachers' Use of Bible, by Bishop Vincent.
Calendar of Daily Readings of Scripture, by Whittle.
Authentic Bible Statistics and Information.
Harmony of the Gospels.
From Malachi to Matthew, by Dr. Fernie.
Biblical Weights and Measures.
Christian Worker and his Bible, by Whittle.
How to Study the Bible, by Dwight L. Moody.

Wondrously Beautiful Half-tones of Scenes of Sacred History. Text Printed in Large Type, Easy on the Eyes. Eight Tinted Maps of Bible Lands.

EXQUISITE COLORED PLATES OF

Nazareth, Bethlehem, Holy Sepulchre, Garden of Gethsemane, Visitation of Virgin Mary, Modern Jerusalem, After the Crucifixion, Tiberias, Damascus, Gate of Jerusalem, etc.

This Bible Has Been Distributed By Newspapers All Over The Country For a Much Higher Price Than The Offer Made By The Daily Press.

Specially Bound in Genuine Limp Bible Leather Folding Cover, Red Edges, Round Corners, Gold Lettered Back.

Full size 9⅝x6¾ inches.

Mail Orders Filled.

Begin Clipping Coupons on Page 2 today. Act quickly. Bibles can be seen at Daily Press Office, 193 North avenue.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN PRICE TO PRESS READERS OF

Only $1.23 AND THREE COUPONS $1.23 Only

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — SCOOP'S CAR LEADS HIM A DOG'S LIFE — BY "HOP"!

Mono Storage

Warehouse
North Avenue
Opp. Freight House
125 East Front Street

WHEN ITS YOUR MOVE

SEE US

When you're going to MOVE don't forget that this concern has the equipment and trained men that reduces to the absolute minimum the danger of damage and breakage and the worries and exasperations of this trying time.

OUR SPLENDID EQUIPMENT insures promptness and no delays —our character help and exacting supervision the elimination of roughness and carelessness.

Call 541 and try us.

HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to
Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS
W. A. SCHORB & CO.
Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold.
120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2296.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE

Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.

We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.

207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms
326 to 330 West Front Street,
Corner Grove

Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.

Phone 666.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 338-J

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2854
J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS
Floral Design Work a Specialty.

Chas. L. Stanley
Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1128 South Ave. Tel. 331.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 315.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Carnations a Specialty
FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N. Y. Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising the car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

200,000 GARDEN PLANTS

Can You Use Any of the Following?

Roses in Pots—50 Varieties.
Geraniums.
Heliotrope.
Lemon Verbena.
Cannas Salvias.
Sweet Alysium.
Colens, Stocks.
Verbenas, Cosmos.
Petunias Marguerites.
Salpflossis Snaptorafon.
Lobelia Scabiosa.
German Ivy.
Vinckas, Calendulas.
Forget-Me-Not.
English Daisies.
Begonias, Tubroses, Begonias.
Calladimu, Pansies.

Asters in all colors.
Butter, Gladiolas, Cannas, Tuberoses, Calladiums.

Hardy Plants.
Chrysanthemums—250 varieties.
Gaillardias, Phlox.
Jox Glove, Holyhocks.
Larkspur.
Dephiniums.
Grape Vines.

Vegetable Plants
Cabbage.
Tomato Plants.
Parsley.
Egg Plants.
Peppers.

CHAS. L. STANLEY
159 East Front Street, Tel. 928.
Greenhouses Trolley Terminus, Netherwood.
Open From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

REALTY DEVELOPER BUYS LARGE WEST END TRACT

S. Schwartz, of No. 916 West Front street, as president of the Merchants and Traders' Realty Company, Inc., has just purchased the "Brunson tract," comprising more than 150 lots located in the West End at the corner of West Front street and Jefferson avenue. S. Schwartz proposes to commence at once the erection of fifteen modern five and six room houses.

Mr. Schwartz has had considerable experience in the developing line, having sold more than 150 acres at South Plainfield and subdivided into lots and has built 60 houses there. This tract was held by Mr. Brunson, president of the First National Bank, for a long time.

N. P. H. S. NOTES

The senior class of North Plainfield High School will hold its class-day exercises on Wednesday, June 21, in Debele's Auditorium. President Dilts, of the graduating class, has appointed Emily Pleydell, John Dawe and Martin McDonough as an executive committee to select a playlet to present at that time. Margaret Ewart was appointed to compose a class song, while Akerman Chandler will write a class poem.

The two sections of the physics department were visitors at the local telephone plant this afternoon, where they obtained a great deal of information on the subject, which they are now studying in their classrooms.

The silver loving cup won by the girls' basketball team was formally presented to the High School this morning by Miss Lillian Spencer, captain of the basketball team.

DR. KRANS TO SPEAK.

The last combined meeting of the Lincoln-Bryant P. T. A. will be held at the Bryant School tomorrow afternoon at 3:15. Dr. Edward S. Krans will speak on the care of the baby and will exhibit an inexpensive outfit to cover all the baby's needs. This baby exhibit will also be shown Thursday afternoon. A short musical program will be rendered and a social hour with refreshments will conclude the meeting. This is the last meeting of the association this year.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling-task to a classified ad.

CHANCE FOR PRESS ADVERTISERS TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF THE ENTIRE COUNTY.

As the result of an agreement between the Plainfield Daily Press and the Elizabeth Evening Times any advertiser placing a classified ad in the Press may have that same ad inserted in the Elizabeth Evening Times upon the payment of one-half more than is charged for the Daily Press insertion alone. Thus, if an advertisement in the Daily Press costs forty cents, the same advertisement may be placed in the Elizabeth paper for an additional twenty cents.

The Elizabeth Evening Times has a circulation of 9,000 and is widely distributed throughout Union County. Thus if an advertiser places his advertisement in the Plainfield Daily Press and Elizabeth Evening Times he places it before the eyes of thousands of readers at a very small cost.

Most advertisers welcome the opportunity to attract the attention of the whole county to their offerings and with the co-operation of the Elizabeth Evening Times the Plainfield Daily Press is now able to make this possible. The Elizabeth Evening Times has earned a reputation for itself as an advertising medium, especially along the classified line, and it is a well known fact that its influence extends into other counties besides Union.

SECOND HEARING WILL BE HELD IN JERSEY CITY

The second hearing on Assembly bills 9 to 16 will be held by the Commission for the Survey of Municipal Financing at City Hall, Jersey City, Thursday, May 11, at 2 P. M. Bills 12 to 16 will be the subject of special discussion.

WILL MERGE MEETINGS.

The men's noonday gospel meeting will merge its Wednesday noon service with the Biederwolf meetings held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 12 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. This arrangement will continue during the Biederwolf campaign. All men are urged to support the services.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 63.

DIED.

STRONG—Suddenly, on May 3, 1916, at Los Angeles, California, Malcolm Wheelock Strong, son of George A. and Harriet Efner Strong, in the 21th year of his age.
Funeral private.

LENEHAN—On Monday, May 8, 1916, Mrs. Ellen Lenehan.
Funeral from the residence of her niece, Mrs. H. P. Greenwood, 1206 Cameron avenue, Wednesday, May 10, at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m., where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment at Calvary cemetery, Long Island.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

WANTED—Two strong boys to learn plumbing trade. A. F. Newman, 600 Spooner avenue. 5 8 3

WANTED—A reliable man, married; steady work. People's Ice Co., Scotch Plains, N. J. 5 8 tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Road or farm horse, cheap. Charles Michaels, Scotch Plains. 3 30 tf tu-th

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, delivery wagon, nearly new, A-1 condition, open wagon and light buggy. E. J. Dunn, Dunellen, N. J. 5 9 2

FOR SALE—Dahlia and Gladiola bulbs. Call 1300 Columbia avenue. 5 8 3

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. C. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

IDEAL COUNTRY PLACE
For Sale.

House has 14 large rooms, hardwood floors, gas, water system, bath, etc. Good barn and 5 acres of land. The place is directly on the Rahway River, and has a commanding view of river and beautiful farming country. It can be purchased for less than cost of the house.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
Real Estate Department
5 6 3 eod

FOR SALE—Choice corner lot, 113 feet front, West Seventh street and Irving place, surrounded by new private residences and beautiful shade trees; would divide. Price reasonable and terms to suit if sold at once. Apply J. B. Cottrell, 313 West Sixth street. 5 6 3

FOR SALE—Lot corner East Second street and Emerson avenue. Address J. S., care Press. 5 9 2

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

NORTH PLAINFIELD, 4 acres more, brook, trees, Greenbrook road, ideal home site, facing Washington Rock Park. W. B. Lundie, 137 Humboldt street, Weehawken, N. J. 5 4 6

FOR SALE—Lot 40x150, Arlington avenue, near school. J. T. Vail, 177 North avenue. 4 6 tf

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulvanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings; located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T. Vail, Plainfield. 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

WANTED—TO RENT.

WANTED—To lease by responsible American farmer, small farm, vicinity Plainfield, near railroad or trolley, healthy location, reasonable. E. Strong, 146 Ege avenue, Jersey City.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

TO LET—941 Kensington avenue, 9 rooms, 2 baths, fruit. Tel. 123-J. 5 6 3

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street, 4 25 tf

FURNISHED room to let, with all conveniences. Apply 115 West Fourth street. 5 5 6

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $25. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—May 1, house 1[illegible] West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

SIX-ROOM apartment to let, with improvements. Inquire A. Thorn, 15 Craig place. 4 29 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

WANTED—Young girl as mother's helper for afternoons. 'Phone 448-W. 5 6 3

WANTED—A girl for general housework (white); also a nurse to care for one child. Apply with references to Mrs. Wighton, 721 Watchung avenue. 5 9 3

WANTED — Nurse-waitress; references required. Telephone 2468-W, or apply 945 Cedarbrook road. 5 9 tf

WANTED — General housework. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

WANTED—Immediately, white girl as waitress, small family; good wages; references required. Call evenings, 905 Watchung avenue. 5 8 3

GIRLS wanted on sewing machines, also learners; steady work; good wages. 318 West Front street, top floor. Weiser. 5 8 3

WANTED—Young girl for general housework; small family flat. Apply after 6 o'clock, 646 West Front street, downstairs. 5 8 3

WANTED—Experienced skirt draper. Apply Smalley & Bogart, dressmakers, rooms 321 and 322, Babcock building. 5 5 3

WANTED—Girl for general housework. 925 West Seventh street. 5 5 3

WANTED—White girl for general housework. Call tonight, 25 Washington avenue. 5 3 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities. 'Phone 1724 tf

PERSONAL.

WILL Mrs. Jennie Miller or any one knowing her present address communicate with R. L., care Daily Press, "Important." 4 29 10

WANTED TO BUY.

WANTED—Gas range; must be in good order. Address Cash, Press office. 5 8 3

Executor, Administrator

Guardian, Trustee

VOLUNTARY TRUSTS

These trusts are operative during life and not after death. Their purpose is to establish an income producing fund for dependent friends or relatives, or for charitable endowment, and are particularly designed to relieve the overburdened business man of the care of his accumulated capital.

Voluntary Trusts are created by mutual agreement, the terms of which may provide for the disposition of the fund at death. This Company is prepared to handle such trusts and our Officers will be glad to answer questions on the subject.

The Plainfield Trust Company

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE.
Telephone 985X.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL

Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.

KEEP 'EM SHORT.

TROT-MOC'S
BOY'S SCOUTS
TENNIS
GOLF

AND ALL SORTS OF SPORT SHOES AT

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF COMMUTERS

SERVICE

this bank opens its doors for business every business morning at 8:15. Checks may be cashed, deposits made and access to safe deposit box obtained.

The nearness of this bank to the statiton makes it possible for customers to transact business and take the 8:30 train for the City without undue haste.

The New York business man is invited to do business with this company, and may feel certain that nothing will be left undone that will make the relation satisfactory.

3% interest is paid on accounts of $500 or more.
Checks on this company are payable at par.
Checks on points throughout the United States collected at par.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

Tennis
and Outing
Shoes
---AT--- ABRAMS'

A COMPLETE LINE OF GOODYEAR GLOVE AND CHAMPION TENNIS GOODS IN WHITE, BROWN AND BLACK; HIGH AND LOW CUTS. PRICES DEFY COMPETITION.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 W. Front St.
The Home of Good Shoes

Queen Quality
SHOES

Queen Quality Shoes are made right, fit like your gloves, and look good until worn out.

Number 10637, made of patent kid, turn sole; no seam in shoe, and fits to perfection.

Same thing in dull kid and bronze.

$4.50

Fitted Expertly Here.

A. K. WILLETT
107 Park Ave.

NEW SHIRTS

We're showing a most complete line of the newest patterns in negligee shirts, including the latest plaids.

Time to Select Your

STRAW HAT

Our straws are right up to the minute in style. The best hats for the money are here.

SCHWED BROTHERS
Front St., Opp. Park Ave.

Your Insurance Policy Against Moth Eaten Furs

Our experts have the whole summer before them to repair or remodel your furs. They now have the time to do the work right and our even temperature, moth-proof storage plant will take care of your valuable furs until you need them.

WE HANDLE THE BEST FURS IN PLAINFIELD BECAUSE WE DO OUR WORK RIGHT.

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

Have You Headache?

Do your Eyes burn or itch?
Do they feel tired or strained?
If so, have your Eyes examined;
Your glasses may need changing.

STILES & CO
Philadelphia Eye Specialists
AT 107 EAST FRONT ST.
EVERY THURSDAY.
Hours 10 to 5.

Hotter weather makes you forget
"HOTTERHEAT" COAL
But it should remind you of our
Certified Natural Ice

WADLEY & GOODENOUGH
208 Madison Ave. Tel. 13

TRY A PRESS WANT AD.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.

AT

Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For NEW YORK—2.10, 3.41, 5.08, 5.40 (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.58, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), 8.52 except holidays), 6.27, 6.55, 7.22, days), 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.45, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m.; 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.18, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.06 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (8.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—8.42, 5.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.20 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.39, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39, 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.45, 6.47 p. m.

*Except Mauch Chunk. 5 8 '16

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:18 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 6:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3:50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton. Close —6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m Close—9:00 a. m 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—2:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS, VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

LAWN MOWERS
Some of the Best Cutters
Plainfield, Universal, Philadelphia, Matchless or Townsend
The Above Have Been Tried and Found True
SEEDS FERTILIZERS
FOR SALE BY
H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.
General Hardware and House Furnishings.
Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
810 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
For Prompt Service
Careful Drivers—Good Cars.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARRUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 888.

—Until you have canvassed the readers of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD,
WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL
TELEGRAM, AMERICAN,
BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS

WATCHES
CLOCKS and
JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
217 Park Ave. Phone 1967-J.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale. Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MERSTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2588-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

ROBERT H. BARNARD
proprietor of the WOODHULL & MARTIN BAKERY, has placed a full line of his goods on sale in
David S. Campbell's Store
398 North Avenue 5 5 6 Dunellen

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

ORGANIZED 1875

Comforts and Blessings

Consider the many comforts and blessings your saved dollars will afford you and you will see the advantage of regular deposits.

Now is a good time to start an account with us.

4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts.

CITY NATIONAL BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting Station, Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, any Friday between 9 o'clock and noon.

All-year jobs at good pay.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.

Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably showers; warmer tonight; winds becoming south and increasing.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

INDUSTRIES ARE BOOMING HERE

C. O. S. Report for April Shows Not a Single Case of Unemployment in City.

MANY FAMILIES AIDED

Material Relief is Given in Cases Where Persons are Wholly or Partially Dependent—Total of 148 Cases Under Care.

That Plainfield industries are booming is further indicated by the report of the Charity Organization Society for April, which did not show a single case of unemployment. But it must not be supposed that there was, therefore, no distress to be relieved. Finding work for the unemployed is only one phase of the broad work of rehabilitation which the Charity Organization Society carries on.

Sixty families received material relief during April. In twelve of these the male head of the family was dead; in twenty he was incapacitated; in eighteen non-support was the reason for need of relief; ten families had insufficient income. Such causes of distress are always in the community, no matter what the industrial conditions.

In many cases the mothers of these families do what they can to eke out the income. The Charity Organization Society is always able to supply women who work by the day, and they work well too. But sometimes the mother cannot help in the support of her family.

A case in point is that of Mrs. A. She is a widow with five children. The oldest is nine, the youngest a baby. The mother is very frail, and her physical strength is overtaxed every day in caring for those five kiddies. She has a widow's pension, but it is only fifteen dollars a month. She can't go out to work, she can't possibly support her family on her pension, so this is the scheme the Charity Organization Society has worked out for her: The rent of $12 is paid by the city, the $15 pension covers the food and living expenses, and the C. O. S. helps with two quarts of milk a day, a dollar a week for spending money, and clothes the whole family. There isn't much margin in this family budget, but it works.

This is an instance of the attention, oversight and advice extended by the trained workers of the society to those in real need, helping them where they cannot help themselves, and planning for them so that they can make the most of all their resources.

There were altogether 148 cases under care in April.

In April, 1914, there were 147. In 1915 the number ran up to 190. This year seems to have brought a return to normal numbers. But the normal mark has not been resumed in the money which it is necessary to use. In 1914 $305.05 covered the material relief, 1915 ran up to $562.90, and in April, 1916, $446.57 was needed. Of this amount the C. O. S. raised $281.16 by special appeal for special cases. It came dollar by dollar, and represents constant effort by the C. O. S. workers in making known specific cases.

April accounts show that it was necessary to overdraw the amount alloted to relief work—$57.41.

The weakest feature in the report is that concerned with the volunteer workers. There were but seven friendly visitors during April. From now on through the summer the volunteer workers usually become fewer and fewer. Though the summer work is a different sort from the winter there is ample scope for volunteer helpers at all seasons of the year. An addition to the list of volunteer workers is desired.

MISSING FROM HOME FOR THE PAST TWO DAYS

William H. Price, of 409 East Fifth street, has been missing for the past two days and the local police have been asked to aid in the search for him. Price is a Mason, but is not a member of the local lodge. It is believed that he is away on a short trip and will return within a few days.

SAFFORD NOT TO SERVE TERM IN PENITENTIARY

Frank D. Safford, former clerk in the Kensington Hotel in this city, got a reversal of his sentence of nine months in the penitentiary in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New York yesterday. Safford was convicted of perjury in the famous "Oliver Osborne" case. He was out on bail. The decision of the court was that James W. Osborne gave hearsay testimony in bringing about the conviction of Safford, and when this was excluded there was nothing n which to find him guilty.

Do You Want

to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv.

4 24 tf ***

Our Automobile Repair Work

is guaranteed. Give us a trial. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. ***

LAURA BIGGAR NOT AT $100,000 TRIAL

Remained at Home in Plainfield Yesterday—Will Answer Today.

Miss Laura Biggar, defendant in a suit for $100,000 in the courts of New York, where Mrs. Agnes M. Hendrick is asking balm for alleged alienation of her husband's affections, remained at her home in Plainfield yesterday and did not appear at the trial. She promised to be in the rooms of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, when the case is resumed today, however.

Before Justice Manning and a jury in the second trial of the action, Mrs. Hendrick recited, with emotion, an impassioned but fruitless appeal in a dressing room to Miss Biggar to permit Dr. Hendrick to return to his home and family.

"I asked Miss Biggar where my husband was," she testified. "I said to her, 'Didn't you promise to give him up? He is my husband, and I want him.' She replied, 'Now, be sensible. He intends to live with me, and I intend to keep him. You're a nice-looking woman. Why don't you go on the stage? I am going to get a half-million dollars from the Bennett estate, and I intend to keep him. He doesn't intend to live with you. Take a flat somewhere and I will see to it that you are provided for.'

"Then I said to her, 'For God's sake, Laura Biggar, haven't you the fear of God in your heart?' All she said was, 'Lower your voice.' Then I was ejected from the dressing room."

This interview took place in the spring of 1903, soon after a charge of conspiracy against Miss Biggar and Dr. Hendrick was dismissed and they were released from the jail at Freehold, N. J.

Miss Biggar had filed claim to $500,000 of the estate of the late Henry M. Bennett, Pittsburg theatrical manager.

PRINCE MURAD HERE; EXILE FROM MOSUL

Armenian Nobleman Makes His Escape From Mohammedan Massacre.

Driven from home in Mosul, Mesopotamia, by the persecution of the Turks and after many hardships making his way to this country, Prince Murad, Armenian refugee, is now visiting in this city. He will remain in this country until after the war is over. Murad, the son of the former governor of Mosul, and, therefore, of noble birth, carries many letters and cards of introduction from well-known churchmen. He is a Christian in faith and it was because of religion that the Mohammedons massacred practically every person in his native town.

His story told in broken English is as follows:

"My father was the governor of Mosul at the time of the Mohammedan massacre of the Christian people. One day I was about a half-day's journey from Mosul when I heard that the Turks had come to kill. I was afraid to come back to my people. Others and myself walked about one day and a half to Mount Moses.

"There the Turks came, about 300 of them. We managed to hold them off for sixteen days, and I made a flag, which we hoisted. A ship in the harbor finally saw the flag and rescued us. They took us to Port Said, where the English people helped us. We went to Cairo, Egypt, where Dr. Oscar Hardin, an American missionary, gave me goods and sent me to America. After the war is over I am going back to my country."

Murad has credentials signed by such people as Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of this city; James F. Riggs, of East Orange; Rev. Dr. T. J. Finney, American missionary in Egypt, and a number of other well-known ministers and laymen. He has been stopping at the Y. M. C. A. in this city and during his stay is gradually becoming acquainted with people here.

COX, OHIO REPUBLICAN LEADER, BELIEVED DYING

Cincinnati, May 10.—The condition of George B. Cox, former Republican leader, was critical today.

PLAN EUCHRE AND DANCE.

A meeting of the members of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, their wives and friends will be held in the West Front street clubhouse tonight for the purpose of arranging for a euchre and dance to be held in Columbus Hall, Monday evening, May 29. Final plans will be made tonight, and the various committees appointed.

DEATH OF LITTLE GIRL.

Dorothy A. Force, the six-year-old daughter of Frank D. and Henrietta B. Force, of 647 East Seventh street, died yesterday after a brief illness. The funeral will be held at the parents' home Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. and will be in charge of Rev. E. C. Conover, pastor of the Temple Baptist church.

GERMANY ADMITS SUSSEX SINKING

Formal Note Accepting Responsibility is on Way to Washington.

VERDUN QUIET AGAIN

British Destroyer Damaged in Fight off Belgian Coast—Russian Attack Repulsed With Heavy Losses—Names of Cymric Victims.

Washington, May 10.—The State Department today received word from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin that Germany's formal aceptance of responsibility for the attack on the Channel steamer Sussex is en route to Washington from Berlin. It is expected to reach the State Department late today or tomorrow. Ambassador Gerard's cable contained a brief outline of the German note.

Germans Extend Positions.

Berlin, May 10 (Wireless).—German war statement:

Western theatre—In the Argonne the enemy, after blasting operations, attempted to enter our lines, but were repulsed. Southwest of Hill 304, advanced detachments of the enemy have been driven back still farther. One picket post was captured. New German positions on Hill No. 304 have been extended. German airmen copiously bombarded factories at Dombasle and Ran le Tape.

Eastern theatre—A Russian attack south of Garmunowka, on a small front, was repulsed. The enemy suffered heavy losses.

British Destroyer Damaged.

Berlin, May 10.—A British destroyer was badly damaged by gunfire during a brief engagement between German and British warships off the Belgian coast on Monday, it was officially announced today.

Victims on the Cymric.

New York, May 10.—The following cable was received this morning from Liverpool to the office of the White Star Line in this city, regarding the casualties which occurred upon the torpedoing of the steamer Cymric:

Killed: Malcolm, chief steward; Watts, third engineer; Morton, sixth engineer; Kenny, oiler, and Bregan, fireman. Injured: Dudley, fireman. The dead and injured members of the crew were all landed.

Holland Press Applaud.

Amsterdam, May 10.—The Dutch press generally applaud the clearness of President Wilson's reply to Germany on the question of submarine warfare. They expect that Germany will abandon her reservations, being only too glad the trouble is over.

French Report a Lull.

Paris, May 10.—French war statement:

A lull has fallen upon the fighting on the Verdun front after a week of bloody infantry onslaughts and intense bombardments. The French War Office, in a communique today, stated that there was no infantry action in the sector of Verdun last night and that there was little activity on the part of the artillery. There were feeble grenade combats in the forest of Avocourt and south of Fort Douaumont. In the absence of infantry attacks on the Meuse fronts the Germans tried a surprise assault between the Oise and Aisne rivers, but it was repulsed. This attack, which was delivered under cover of darkness, was made against the French position south of Moulin.

No Americans on Ship.

Washington, May 10.—Secretary of State Lansing learned positively today that were were no Americans on board the British liner Cymric, sunk without warning by a German submarine from Consul Frost stationed at Queenstown.

E. R. ACKERMAN TALKS ON "TRIP AROUND THE WORLD"

Former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of this city, gave a talk on "A Trip Around the World" at the meeting of the Epworth Men's Club in Epworth church, Elizabeth Monday evening. He combined several of the trips he has taken and described countries in all parts of the world, illustrating his talk with a remarkable series of colored views, many of the mtaken by himself.

He showed first some of the wonders of this country at Palm Beach and in California. Going across the Pacific, he showed scenes in Hawaii, Japan, China, Burma, Korea and India. Brazil and the Andes, the Faroe Islands and the North Cape were shown before the trip ended at this country without touching war-torn Europe south of tthe Arctic Circle.

Senator Ackerman showed a picture of the Lusitania ,reminding his hearers of the anniversary of its sinking and describing its first trip, when he was a passenger. The Epworth Club will hold one more meeting before closing for the summer. At this meeting, in June ,an entertainment will be given by the members.

MAY PASS SEBRING CASE TO DECEMBER

Vice-Chancellor Will Call a Halt at End of Today's Testimony.

Newark, May 10.—That the suit of the Sebring heirs to secure an injunction restraining Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen from constructing a sewer disposal plant near Dunellen, will probably go over until December, was announced by Vice-Chancellor Howell this morning, when the testimony in the case was resumed. The Vice-Chancellor only allowed three days for the hearing of this case and the three days will end tonight. Less than half of the testimony for complainants has been heard, and nothing from the defendant municipalities. Chancellor Howell will attempt to transfer a hearing docketed for next month, but if this is not possible he will pass the Sebring case to the December docket.

Cornelius C. Vermeule, a hydraulic expert, was on the stand this morning. Mr. Vermeule told of frequent floods in the section where the plant is being built, and declared that these would interfere with the working of the plant. Last August, waters were up to the floor level of the plant, he said, and freqquently the flood stage reached even three feet higher. He declared that such a flood would cause the deposit beds of the plant to overflow and scatter matters from the bed over the adjoining lands.

George A. Johnston, of New York, sanitary expert, was put on the stand for cross-examination. He said the geological formation of the country where the plant is being built was red shale, and that polluted matter would be allowed to pass between the shale strata and touch waters of the wells of the Watchung and Piscataway township water companies.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HEAR EVANGELIST

Dr. Biederwolf Addresses Organization and National Male Quartet Sings.

The City Union of King's Daughters meeting, held in the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon, was attended by a large number of members of the fourteen different circles that make up the city union. Mrs. J. H. Peterkin, the city president, presided during the meeting, which was opened with a short devotional service led by Mrs Marie Brake, of the evangelistic party. The National Male Quartet also rendered a number of vocal selections.

During the meeting, Rev. Dr. William Biederwolf addressed the women, speaking on the noble work that the King's Daughters have done throughout the State and country, and urged them to continue their fruitful labors.

Mrs. Peterkin introduced the State President, Mrs. Charles Menet, of East Orange, as the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Menet outlined in brief the work of the individual circles of King's Daughters and told of the advantages of their affiliation with the State branch and the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons. This latter organization was the original society from which all the other circles have sprung. All the women attending yesterday wore their silver crosses and purple ribbons.

BOARD OF EDUCATION RECEIVES COAL BIDS

Bids for furnishing the city schools with 1,600 tons of coal, more or less, for the coming year, were received at the meeting of the Board of Education last night. The bidders were Joseph Harrigan, the Consumers' Coal Company and C. M. Hetfield. The bids were referred to the proper committee and the award will be made next Monday night, to which time an adjournment was taken. President Archibald Cox was not present at the meeting and aside from receiving coal bids little business was transacted.

The board will meet on Monday night for the purpose of granting a public hearing on the proposed school budget. This will be held in the High School auditorium and everyone interested is invited to attend.

A. O. H. DANCE AND EUCHRE.

A euchre and dance will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary A. O. H., Division No. 5, in the Knights of Pythias Hall, 212 West Front street, Monday evening, May 15. Play will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The committee in charge have a large assortment of prizes to award the winners at the various tables.

FLOWER GUILD MEETING.

The Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild will meet at the Friends' meeting-house Friday night, May 29, Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, will speak and the Young People's Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will attend.

RANGERS FIGHT A BANDIT BAND

Many Mexicans Killed in Latest Battle Across Border Capt. Fox Reports.

OBREGON WITH SCOTT

Conference Renewed Last Night and Will Continue Today — More Troops on Way to Protect American Territory From Invasion.

El Paso, May 10.—Captain Fox, of the Texas Rangers, according to a report reaching here from Marathon, Texas, has reported to Colonel Sibley, commanding the United States troops there, that a posse accompanied by seven United States soldiers had encountered a party of Mexican bandits across the Rio Grande and in a fight that ensued had killed several Mexicans.

Conference Still On.

Washington, May 10.—General Scott today reported to the War Department that his conference with Obregon last night until shortly before midnight ended without any agreement having been reached. The conference was to be continued today, according to General Scott.

Third Regiment to Border.

Syracuse, May 10.—The third regiment of United States infantry from Madison barracks and Fort Ontario will leave Watertown tonight in a special train for the Mexican border.

RETAIL COAL PRICES TAKE A BIG JUMP

Anthracite Owners to Make Consumers Pay Wage Increase.

New York, May 10.—The recent advance in wages granted by the anthracite mine owners to the miners will be paid by the consumers. The new scale announced show advances of fifteen cents a ton for egg coal delivered at New York tidewater, 40 cents for stove, 20 cents for chestnut, 50 cents for pea, and 20 cents for buckwheat No. 1. The new prices charged are broken $4.95, egg $5.05, stove $5.30, chestnut $5.35, pea $3.65, buckwheat No 1 $2.95, and boiler $2.25. These prices will prevail at tidewater until June first, when 10 cents a ton will be added to egg, stove, chestnut and pea, another 10 cents will be put on on the first of July, August and September each.

N. P. H. S. HONOR PUPILS ANNOUNCED

Miss Marion Woolley and Miss Carol Hughes, Valedictorian and Salutatorian.

The honors pupils of the 1916 graduating class of the North Plainfield High School were made known today, when it was announced that Miss Marion Woolley had been selected as the valedictorian of the class and Miss Carol Hughes, the salutatorian.

Miss Wooley's average for the past four years was 95.5, about the highest of any graduate in the history of the school, while Miss Hughes is a close second, with a four-year average of 93.3. There are about forty graduates in this year's class. The essays of the valedictorian and salutatorian will be on the subject of "Shakespeare."

The commencement exercises will be held in the Plainfield High School Auditorium Friday night, June 23, this being the first time in the history of the school that these exercises have been held in the City High School. The reception to the graduates will be held at the same place the night of the graduation. Heretofore, this has been held at the Park Club, while the exercises were in the Plainfield Theatre.

TIMELY DISCOVERY SAVES BENJ. SCRIBNER'S HOME

But for the fact that Benjamin Scribner, of Madison avenue, Dunellen, had occasion to send his wife to the house yesterday for some oil, undoubtedly their home would have been destroyed by fire. Just as Mrs. Scribner reached the kitchen, she discovered a blaze behind the range, and it was gaining rapid headway.

The borough fire department was summoned, Mr. and Mrs. Scribner controlling the fire as best they could until the arrival of the firemen. Before it was extinguished it reached the second floor. The total damage is estimated at $200.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

BIEDERWOLF BARES HIS HEART BEFORE TABERNACLE AUDIENCE AND LEADS SCORES TO CHRIST

PROUDER OF MEMORY OF LOWLY PARENTS THAN HE WOULD BE OF HERITAGE FROM KING AND QUEEN.

ALMOST 250 ELKS ARE GUESTS AT SERVICE

Many Lodge Members Among Those Who Walk Sawdust Aisles—Mrs. Brake to Preach Thursday and Friday Evenings—Afternoon Services Are Postponed One Week.

If souls that have passed beyond the dark border of life into the unknown beyond are cognizant of human efforts and human hearts, then Michael Biederwolf looked down upon the pine temple in Plainfield last night through eyes that must have brimmed with tears of happiness as he saw his son, the Rev. William E. Biederwolf, lead almost two hundred souls to acknowledge the atoning blood of Jesus Christ and pledge their lives to his work.

His own heart carrying the leaden weight of grief over his father's death yesterday morning, the evangelist delivered a message of sunshine and salvation to the sin-stricken. He told them of the Man who once died that others might live; who, by His sacrifice, made death a reward and the grave a haven of rest after life's long battle, and so earnestly and sincerely did he plead that there poured down the sawdust aisles of the Tabernacle the largest crowd of penitents of any evening service of the campaign.

Dr. Biederwolf told his audience of the telegram giving news of his father's death. He said it would not be necessary for Plainfield people to extend their sympathy in his bereavement, because he knew that it was his. "I can see it in your faces," he said. "I can feel it."

"Both my father and my mother were born in Germany," said the evangelist in a simple recital of the lives of his parents. "My mother came to this country, a poor immigrant girl, when she was eleven years of age. She had but $3.50 when she landed, and this was taken away from her by an unscrupulous man—a man of the street. She was left friendless and penniless on the streets of New York—a poor, ragged, little orphan girl. She sold matches and biscuits on Union Square—a penny a biscuit and a penny a box of matches.

"My father came to America when he was sixteen, without money and without friends in this country. He worked as a carpenter for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway for some time and then went West. There, by hard toil, he managed to get together a modest sum of money, and every dollar of it was honest.

"Once it was hinted to me, and only once, that as I had studied in Berlin and in Paris, and knew people of influence and wealth, it might not be just the proper thing to mention the humble origin of my parents; but I would rather have been the son of Michael and Abbie Biederwolf than to have been the son of hundreds of kings and queens of this world that I have known."

After this brief baring of his own heart, Dr. Biederwolf gave his attention to the hearts of the unsaved in the audience of almost 6,000 people in the Tabernacle.

It was Elks' night, and more than 250 members of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., attended the services in a body. They occupied seats of honor in the center section near the front and were given a rousing welcome when they entered. There was also a large-sized delegation present from the colored churches of the city, one made up of women of the First Presbyterian church, another from Cranford, another from Westfield, from Bayonne, and one from the Hall Printing Press Works in Plainfield.

Dr. Biederwolf announced that he would not leave for his father's funeral until after the meeting of tonight. He will preach at the Tabernacle tonight on "The Dance," and will go at once to the depot. Thursday night and Friday night Mrs. Brake will preach at the Tabernacle, and Dr. Biederwolf will return in time for the Saturday evening sermon.

There will be no afternoon meetings this week. These were to have been held in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, but have all been postponed until next week.

In the opening prayer last evening, Secretary Estes, of the Y. M. C. A., asked that strength be given three workers in the campaign to bear the loss of dear ones who had died during the day. One had lost a father, he said, one a mother, and one a child.

There was a song from the quartet, a solo by Mr. Heaton, assisted by the chorus choir, and a selection by a colored quartet.

Dr. Biederwolf's sermon was on the text, "Confess and Be Saved." He said the conditions of salvation matter little to those in whose hearts there was a love for God and Jesus Christ, but that certain conditions must be fulfilled in order that the human will be broken in obedience to that of the Divine Father, and the first of these is declared in Romans, 10: 9: "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." He urged the Elks and other members of fraternal orders present to stand up for Christ as they stand up for their lodge, saying that a man who was ashamed to be an Elk had no business in the lodge, and the man who was ashamed of his religion had no business in the church.

"I think if Hell took a dose of ipecac, the last piece to be thrown up would be the snake-hearted old hypocrite who loafs around on God's territory and is serving the devil with the livery of Heaven on," said the evangelist.

Many members of the Elks' delegation were prompted to walk down the sawdust aisle at the close of the service and give the evangelist their hand with the scores of others who made

SINSHEIMER QUARTET TO PRESENT FINE PROGRAM

A delightful treat is in store for the music lovers of Plainfield tomorrow afternoon when the Sinsheimer Quartet give their "musicale" in the Hartridge auditorium, at 3.30 o'clock. The soloists will be Bernard Sinsheimer, first tenor; Robert Toedt ,second violin; Arnold Volpe, viola; William Dupieux, 'cello, and Mme. Tozier Hardy, pianiste. The program will be as follows:

Quartet, F major, Dvorak; allegro ma non troppo, lento, finale, vivace ma non troppo; a. Prelude in G minor; b. Polichinelle. Rachmaninoff, Mrs. Hardy; a. Theme and Variations, Schubert; b. Scherzo, Ippolitoff-Ivanow, quartet. Quintet, A minor; piano, 2 violins, viola and 'cello, Foote; allegro giusto appassinato, intermezzo—allegretto, scherzo—vivace, allegro—giusto.

ASK CONGRESS TO MAKE PROBE OF LONG ISLAND

Washington, May 10.—Cassily Cook, of New York, and R. D. Cummin, of Washington, representing the minority stockholders of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, appeared before the House rules committee today to obtain a thorough congressional investigation of the Rock, Island situation.

—Overland model "75," delivered, $650; electric starter, electric lights demountable rims, one man top. Auto Distributing Co.—Adv. 5 4 6 ***

BERFELDEN MILLS MUST PAY $469.28 TO PLAINTIFF

Damages of $469.28 were awarded in Circuit Court yesterday to Anton Schmid in a suit against the Berfelden Mills, of Plainfield. The plaintiff sued as trustee in bankruptcy for the Haledon Throwing Company, of Paterson, which held notes from the defendant company for $989.28.

The Berfelden Mills included in their defense statements of their losses through inability to obtain silk. The company was unable to run its looms on full time and could not fill its contracts.

STATISTICS.

Tuesday.

Attendance	85,500
Decisions	50
Reconsecrations	126
	176

Totals to Date

Attendance
Decisions	1,310
Reconsecrations	2,093
Children	262
	3,665

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Joseph, of Willow avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Woodard, to Carroll T. Runyon.

—Press want ads. pay

A. E. FORCE & CO.

"The White Store"

Preparedness Sale

THIS IS PREPAREDNESS WEEK. ALREADY WE HAVE HAD A TASTE OF SUMMER WEATHER. MAKE READY TO ENJOY THE WARMER DAYS TO COME BY HAVING YOUR LIGHTER AND MORE COMFORTABLE CLOTHING ON HAND. WE ARE OFFERING A FEW TIMELY SUGGESTIONS:

A REMARKABLE SALE OF SUITS

The greatest lot of suits we have ever been able to offer for the price; a rare chance to get a suit like these. They are all made of high grade materials and first class tailored. Silk lined, plain man tailored, braid bound, and fancy trimmed suits in a wide variety of fashionable shades and the popular checks and mixtures; latest ripple and flare effects featuring many novelties.

Our buyers made a successful purchase, and we are going to give you the benefit of it. Come and be convinced. Value $20.00 to $27.50; sale price 13.75

Distinctive Footwear for Women

All the newest and most desirable styles and patterns of the 1916 season. Designed for appearance, built for comfort and durablity.

Gray Kid Laced Boot with leather Louis heel; a distinctive and stylish model 6.00

White Calf Laced Boot with white covered Louis heel; a great favorite of the season 6.00

White Sea Isle Canvas Laced Boot with white ivory sole and heel; an exceptionally beautiful model... 4.00

Sorosis patent colt, gun metal calf and mat kid Colonial pumps with leather Louis and Cuban heels; $4.00 and 5.00

Sorosis gun metal calf and vici kid oxford ties in medium and low heels 4.00

Patent kid and mat kid colonial pumps with leather Louis and Cuban heels; $3.00 to..... 5.00

White buckskin high laced shoe with guaranteed rubber sole, at 4.00

UNUSUAL BARGAINS IN SKIRTS

We will offer in this sale 100 beautiful skirts, made of poplins, men's wear serges, gabardines, hair line stripes, and all kinds of checks; sizes 23 to 30 waist; length 33 to 42; special sale price 2.98

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF PETER BENWARD HELD

The funeral of Peter Benward was held from the late home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Rev. George Gardner, of Atlantic Highlands, a former pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating. The large attendance and numerous floral pieces indicated the esteem in which the departed was held in this section. Mr. Gardner spoke in the highest of terms of Mr. Benward. He made fitting reference to his sterling character and of his fortitude during his eight years of total blindness. He said that Mr. Benward's agreeability was not effected in the slightest by his affliction; that his mind remained keen and alert despite his age, and he therefore always enjoyed conversing with him.

The burial was held in the Middlesex Hillside cemetery. The bearers were Lewis Walker, Sr., Henry S. Garretson, Herbert Benward, A. E. Giddes, Ralston Dunbar and Robert S. Craig.

Walter Penrose worked for Carl Beiler, the grocer, yesterday.

Miss Meta Barrett is suffering from rheumatism of the arms.

Walter Laing has given up his job with A. B. Laing, the Plainfield electrician.

Frank Penrose, Jr., has purchased a bicycle.

George Bunting tore down the old picket fence in front of his home yesterday and the place is improved.

MOTORED TO BABYLON.

Edward Maurer, George Martin, Russell Brakley and Benjamin Cole motored to Babylon, L. I., Saturday in Mr. Maurer's Pierce-Arrow, and remained over Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Vail and Mrs. Lewis Tinsman spent yesterday in New York City.

EDWARD HARVEY RECOVERS.

Edward Harvey, who had his arm caught in machinery while working at the Saurer plant of the International Motor Company two weeks ago, has returned from the Muhlenberg Hospital.

WOUND BECAME INFECTED.

Raymond Tynan has been incapacitated by blood-poisoning of the hand. He is employed at the International Motor plant and, in cranking a machine recently his hand slipped and struck one of the lamps, inflicting a wound which it required three stitches to close. He got some dirt in the wound in some way and the hand became infected.

George H. Richter submitted to an operation yesterday in which he had a slight growth removed from his nose.

George Apgar, of the Apgar Construction Company, has been indisposed for the past few days.

IMPROVING STREETS.

The H. K. Corbin Company has at last commenced to roll the streets of the borough. A heavy steam roller is being used.

Mrs. Edward J. Dusel is spending several weeks at Atlantic City, the guest of Mrs. Mary E. Dusel.

Louis Watts, who has been employed in Zeek's bakery at Plainfield for the past month, has received a promotion.

C. E. SOCIETY TO ATTEND.

All Presbyterian C. E. members are urged to meet at the First Baptist church, Plainfield, at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening, to go in a body with other Endeavorers to the Tabernacle.

Louis Watts visited his aunt, Mrs. Myrtle Wier, in Newark, Sunday.

Miss Ruth Apgar has been visiting Miss Kathryn Wissert at Newark.

Mrs. Emile Muller is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Flynn, of Brooklyn.

Miss Althea Dufford has returned to her home at German Valley, after spending a week in the borough the guest of Mrs. J. R. Hamley.

Lloyd Williams has so far convalesced from his operation for appendicitis as to be able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Hebard enjoyed an automobile trip to Trenton recently.

Mrs. Irving Benerd, of Sanford avenue, is reported as doing much better in the St. Peter's Hospital, New Brunswick, where she submitted to a serious operation recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Fuller entertained a housefull at a family gathering on Sunday.

William J. Davenport, of Lebanon, who formerly resided here, was a visitor in the borough this morning.

Miss Beulah Ayers entertained Miss Louise Klingerfus, of Hampton, and Atherton Hounsevill, of Attleboro, Mass., over the week-end.

Scotch Plains, Fanwood

Mr. and Mrs. George Cassidy and daughter, who have been making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Creesy, have removed to the Whitehead cottage on Martine avenue.

The Misses Whitehead have removed from their home in the borough to the Morgan house on Union street.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Henderson and Miss Margaret Henderson, of the township, are spending several weeks at Cumberland, Md.

Edwin Howe, who has been stopping at the Homestead for some time, has leased the house of Dr. Ray Munger, on North avenue, for the summer.

John Southard, of Cook avenue, is on temporary duty as station agent at Netherwood.

The next dance at Stony Hill has been announced for Friday, June 9.

Miss Fannie Williams, of Park avenue, has returned from spending several months at school in the South.

John Pomeroy has discontinued his chicken farm on Westfield road and removed, with his family, to Bound Brook. The chicken houses and runs have been purchased by the county for the Bonnie Burn sanitorium.

Mrs. Edward Armeding, of the Graceland section of the township, has left on a trip through the Middle West. She will visit her son at St. Louis and on the return trip will stop at Niagara Falls.

Miss Emma Elliot entertained the members of the Sub-Rosa Club at the weekly meeting last night at her home on Park avenue.

GUILD CHAPTER MEETING.

A meeting of the World-Wide Guild, Chapter 46, was held in the Parish House last night and was followed by a social hour. Miss Maude Davis, of Montclair, an ardent worker for the guild, made an interesting and instructive address, and after the business session, music and games were enjoyed, followed by the serving of refreshments.

A short business session of the Board of Trustees of the Fanwood Public Library was held in the library last night, at which time all unfinished business was cleared up, as it was the last session until fall.

South Plainfield.

Business at the Spicer plant is still booming, and many new hands are being taken on. A proprietor of one of the boarding houses stated that last week he refused over a dozen applicants. One of the local real estate dealers has over ten applications from persons who are seeking houses in this place. Just at present there are five new houses being erected. Plans are also out for the erection of a grocery store. The Hamilton Realty and Construction Company and the Merchants and Traders' Realty Company intend to erect a number of new houses in the near future.

A special meeting of the Piscataway Township Committee was held in Hotel Nelson, New Market, last night, for the purpose of signing the contract for the tax map. The contract was recently awarded to E. R. Collins & Son, of Westfield

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rolande have sold their household effects and will move to Brooklyn next Saturday

Jeremiah Teneyck has resumed the paper hanging and decorating business which he formerly conducted at this place over twenty years ago.

Samuel Johnson, the contractor, is grading about Samuel Clauson's new homes.

Mrs. Ida Harris has returned from a trip to New York, where she visited her son, Lloyd, who is undergoing treatment in Post Graduate Hospital.

John Horan, who is ill at his home with scarlet fever, is reported as improving.

Miss Ruth Boss has returned after visiting friends in Perth Amboy.

H. Burdick, of New Market, has filled the night vacancy in the Lehigh Valley yard office, which was left by John McDonough.

Angelo Chirrello, who has been spending the winter in New York, is now residing with his mother.

Miss Elizabeth Maguire has resumed her studies in the Plainfield High School after being confined to bed for some time with quinsy sore throat.

Mrs. Charles Ruth has gone to her home in Mechanicsburg, Pa., after spending a few days with relatives here.

PRAYER MEETINGS THURSDAY MORNING

Cottage prayer meetings will be held Thursday, May 11, at 10 a. m. in the following houses:

Mrs. P. S. Suffern, 955 Kensington avenue; Mrs. J. R. Hefti, 913 Putnam avenue; Mrs. W. Headley, 529 East Second street; Mrs. H. A. Pope, 37 Sanford avenue; Mrs. J. N. Rutledge, 98 Westervelt avenue; Mrs. H. H. Woodland, 49 Grandview avenue; Mrs. E. K. Powlison, 86 Summit avenue; Mrs. William F. Doane, 223 East Sixth street; Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, 234 East Ninth street; Mrs. M. A. Cable, 1304 Park avenue; Mrs. S. W. Clark, 122 West Fifth street; Mrs. Henry C. Irons, 452 West Eighth street; Mrs. D. Verschuur, 34 Washington avenue; Mrs. A. Hoagland, 664 West Front street; Mrs. W. H. Nichols, 150 Grove street; Mrs. Nelson Van Winkle, 26 Duer street; Mrs. Robin Brown, 735 Sheridan avenue; Mrs. J. Duncan, 822 West Third street; Mrs. D. F. Randolph, 506 Lee place; Mrs. Frank Platts, 310 Lyman place; Mrs. F. O. Dunning, 42 Mountain avenue.

Y. W. C. A.

The last of the series of current event lectures delivered by S. B. Howe in the association will be given tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. He will take as his subject, "A Momentous Year," a review of the current events of the year.

A walk to Washington Rock will be held Saturday afternoon, the party leaving the association at 2:30.

Smart Tailored Suits

GREATLY REDUCED

In This Money-Saving Sale at $12.00

Some Formerly Priced up to $18.00

THURSDAY

AS SPRING ADVANCES TOWARD SUMMER, WE BEGIN TO CLEAR OUR STOCKS OF ALL BROKEN LINES, AND THEREFORE GIVE YOU THIS REAL MONEY-SAVING OPPORTUNITY. SMART SUITS IN SERGES, POPLINS, GABARDINES AND CHECKS IN ALL THE POPULAR MODELS AND MOST WANTED COLORS.

SOME OF THESE SUITS HAVE BEEN SELLING RIGHT ALONG FOR $18.00, WHICH MAY BE HAD THURSDAY FOR THE EXTRAORDINARY LOW PRICE OF..... 12.00

J. Ottfass
THE PARIS STORE

GRANT LEAVE OF ABSENCE WITH PAY

Plainfield Union Water Co. Encourage Employes to Attend Military Camp.

The Plainfield-Union Water Company at its annual meeting yesterday voted to grant to its employes leave of absence for the full time with pay to attend the military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., this summer, and Hamilton F. Kean, vice president, and Julian H. Kean, one of the directors, agreed personally to pay any employe wishing to go to camp $40, which is equivalent to equipment and expenses at the camp.

This action on the part of the company is to be commended, and no doubt many of the employes will take advantage of the generous offer. Of course, it is optional with the employes as to whether they want to take the training at Plattsburg.

MARRIAGE BUREAU LOCATION IS CHANGED

So Writes Love-lorn Sailor Boy to Postmaster Alvin E. Hoagland.

Whether because of modesty or neglect the "prettiest girl in Plainfield" has not as yet answered the plaintive plea of one of Uncle Sam's middies who several months ago addressed a letter to this particular female, leaving it to the taste of Postmaster A. E. Hoagland to decide on whom should receive the missile. A copy of the love-lorn sailor's card was published in the Daily Press and a letter received by Postmaster Hoagland today tells of the seaman's present plight.

While not engaged in scrubbing decks or passing furloughs on foreign soil the middy has been busy opening answers from prospective brides and has a stack large enough to crowd the water out of the ocean. He attributes the ready response to his plea for a helpmate directly to the article in the Daily Press which was given country-wide circulation. In certain other towns the article located ambitious misses who thought that a Plainfield damsel would not be possessed of the qualifications essential to favor in the writer's eyes and they immediately set about telling the sailor so by means of postals and sweet sayings enclosed in attractive smelling and bright colored envelopes.

In fact, the laddie is now seriously contemplating addressing a similar communication to "Plainfield's best secretary" for he has undertaken the job of sending a reply to each answer. To date it is his opinion that the prettiest girl has not sought him out although he has collected a choice stack of beauty model photographs worthy of the attention of a Harrison Fisher or Nel Brinkley.

Postmaster Hoagland suggests that the sailor spend one of his furloughs in Plainfield and do his own selecting. Mr. Hoagland is perfectly willing to assume the responsibility if he is allowed to use his own discretion but he's a peace loving man and has his own ideas on beauty and the qualifications necessary for good "wifing."

The latest letter to the postmaster follows:

"I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know of the success of my card to the 'Prettiest Girl in Plainfield.'

"I have received up to date seventy-four letters and fifty-six post cards, which were all mailed before the first of March.

"I thank you very much for your kindness and consideration in the matter. Believe me, I will have enough to do now to keep me from being lonesome.

"I am trying to answer all of the correspondence, but if it keeps up I will have to get me a private secretary to help me out. Thanking you again, I remain, yours sincerely,

"S. V. WHITE,
"U. S. S. Pampanga,
"Hong Kong, China."

"P. S.—I was transferred to Frisco from the Callao to this ship last January. Have not heard yet who the 'Prettiest Girl' is."

FORMER GOVERNOR FORT TO ADDRESS OSTEOPATHS

Former Governor J. Franklin Fort, Charles C. Pilgrim, speaker of the House; the Rev. W. W. Giles, of East Orange, and Alexander Black, the well known author, will be among the eminent speakers at the banquet at the annual convention of the New Jersey Osteopathic Society at the Washington, Newark, May 13.

Dr. Earl S. Willard, of Newark, will speak on the classification of the osteopathic lesion. Dr. F. F. Wilcox, of Plainfield, will discuss acute diseases. "Soft Tissued Technique" is the subject of a paper by Dr. Charles M. Sigler, of Trenton. Dr. E. E. Tate, of Newark, will speak on pneumonia. "Faulty Metabolism, Its Causes, Treatment and Diet" will be the subject discussed by Dr. F. H. McCall, of Atlantic City. Dr. H. L. Chiles, of Orange, secretary of the American Osteopathic Association, will speak on professional matters of national interest. Dr. R. M. Colburn, of Newark, president of the State society, will preside. Dr. A. L. Hughes, of Bloomfield, is secretary.

CIVIL SERVICE "EXAMS" FOR RURAL CARRIERS

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Union, to be held at Plainfield, Summit and Elizabeth on May 27, 1916, to fill the position of rural carrier at Plainfield and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post-offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post-office in the county, and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

WILL ATTEND SERVICE.

The Young People's Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet at the First Baptist church tomorrow evening at 7:15 to go in a body to the Tabernacle. It is hoped that every member will be on hand at that time.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

BUSINESS MEN FORM WELFARE ASSOCIATION

B. W. Stewart and George French Assist Merchants in Organization Plans.

Representative business men of Bound Brook met in Hotel Berkeley last night and effected the organization of a business men's association, electing the following officers for the ensuing year: President, E. Harold Levy; vice-president, C. F. LaRue; executive board, E. Aaronson, A. H. Friedman, M. A. Jackson, R. Goldstein and Samuel Klumpus. Another session will be held at the same place next Monday night, when it is hoped that a considerably larger number of Bound Brook merchants will avail themselves of the opportunity to enlist as charter members.

Benjamin W. Stewart, representing the Merchants' Mercantile Agency, of Pittsburgh, assumed the initiative in bringing the business men together, and, together with his assistant, George French, delivered a short address on the value of co-operation and organization among business men.

The speakers outlined the procedure necessary to founding the association on a firm basis, and urged the men present to do all possible to interest other Bound Brook merchants in the plan. The mutual benefit of the body to both merchant and consumer was pointed out and the project was accepted by those present with an unusual display of enthusiasm. Mr. Stewart and Mr. French represent the publishers of the Credit Experience Guide, and this issue is expected to lend considerable influence to the work of the Bound Brook association. Mr. Stewart and another assistant, Clifford B. Smith, will appear in Somerville before the Business Men's Association of that place tonight on a similar mission.

Service For Lobsters.

"Are lobsters well served here?" asked the dudish looking young man in the restaurant.

"Well, give me your order. I'll see what I can do for you," replied the waiter.—Yonkers Statesman.

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT

ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Distributed by the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.

3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it

Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.

EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED

Add for Postage!
Up to 100 miles 5c
Up to 300 miles 10c
Up to 600 miles 15c
Up to 1000 miles 20c
For greater distances with parcel post rate for 3 lbs.

MODERN DENTISTRY

makes it possible for you to retain your own teeth to a ripe old age. Or to supply false ones that will give good service and look perfectly natural.

CHILDREN'S TEETH

need attention from time to time. Consult

DR. WHITE,
Plainfield's Painless Dentist,
105 E. Front Street,
Over Schwed Bros.
Tel. 2291 11 10 mwstf

TRAVELSTAMPS
PAY YOUR FARE EVERYWHERE

Travelstamp Advantages No. 2

How The Retailer's Customers are Protected

PRINTED on the back of every Travelstamp coupon and stamp is an important clause. This refers to the guarantee deposit fund for redemptions that is maintained in the interest of those who save Travelstamps—a concrete evidence of good faith—and a form of protection never before accorded savers of trade-tokens.

Travelstamps are issued in stamp or coupon form—and are interchangeable at any redemption station of Travelstamps, Inc.

TRAVELSTAMPS, Inc.
115 Broadway - - - - New York

THE FOLLOWING STORES GIVE TRAVELSTAMPS

ASTOR THEATRE
235 West Front St.
RANDOLPH'S PHARMACY
Prescription Druggist,
143 W. Front St.
JOHN DOUGHTY
Sporting Goods, 142 North Ave.
CARL SILBERT
Jeweler, 255 W. Front St.
FRANK LINKE
Wines and Liquors,
227 W. Front St.
J. MATTHEWS
Ladies' Tailor, 62 Somerset St.
PARK AVE. MEAT MARKET
M. R. GILES
Meats and Vegetables,
104 W. Second St.

L. B. VAN CAMP
Furniture, 101 E. Front St.
NEUMANN BROS. CO.
Grocers,
Watchung Ave. and Fifth St.
GERTRUDE ENANDER
Millinery and Hosiery,
123 Watchung Ave.
ROBERT GARDNER
Merchant Tailor,
325 Watchung Ave.
WALSH'S CENTRAL PHARMACY
Drugs and Perfumes,
Watchung and North Ave.
STANDARD HARDWARE STORE
184 E. Front, near Watchung Ave.

LINCOLN MARKET
Meats and Vegetables,
94 Somerset St.
ESTIL'S BOOK SHOP
Stationer and Bookseller,
111 Park Ave.
JAS. C. HANSEN
Painters' Supplies,
141 East Front St.
PLAINFIELD AUTO TIRE CO.
Auto Supplies, 407 Watchung Ave.
OSMUN'S MEN'S SHOP
Haberdasher, 214 Park Ave.
J. L. BENNETT
Grocer, 257 W. Front St.
W. W. GALLAWAY
Pharmacy, 200 Grant Ave.
STADLER'S CLOTHING STORE
128 E. Front St.

Plainfield Office and Redemption Station, Daily Press Building, 193 North Ave.

MORE REGULARS SENT TO FRONT

National Guard Re-enforced by Artillerymen.

FUNSTON WANTED MORE.

Said to Have Had In Mind a Great Invasion of Southern Republic—Eight Thousand Men Ordered South to Guard Border—No Further Call on Militia, Says Baker.

Washington, May 10.—Secretary of War Baker announced that eleven companies of coast artillery, comprising a thousand men, and five batteries of field artillery were ordered by the war department to proceed to the Mexican border.

The eleven companies of coast artillery will be taken from ports along the gulf of Mexico and the south Atlantic coast from Galveston to Delaware, not all of the men at any one place being removed.

The five batteries of the Fifth field artillery, now at Fort Sill, Okla., are included in the orders, the Sixth battery of that regiment being already on the border. Orders also went out to a battalion of the Third field artillery, now at Tobyhanna, Pa., to hold itself in readiness to proceed to the border if needed. The additional troops will report to southern department headquarters at San Antonio, Tex.

No New Sensation.

Secretary Baker declared the new orders were not the result of any reports received from the border, but were contemplated earlier.

The following companies of coast artillery are ordered to the border:

One Hundred and Twenty-seventh from Galveston, the One Hundred and Sixty-fourth from New Orleans, Twentieth and Seventy-seventh from Pensacola, Seventy-fourth from Savannah, One Hundred and Forty-fifth from Charleston, Thirty-first from Cape Four Rivers, Forty-first and Sixty-ninth from Fort Oglethorpe, One Hundred and Third from Baltimore and One Hundred and Twelfth from Delaware river.

Coming on the heels of the raids by Mexican outlaws on the American towns of Glen Springs and Boquillas, Tex., and in the midst of disturbing news of an impasse in the negotiations between Major General Scott and War Minister Obregon of Mexico, the president's action made a deep impression here.

In addition, three additional regiments of regular infantry have been directed to proceed to the border, and such further arrangements will be made as are necessary for the complete security of the people of the United States against raids of this kind.

The regular army organizations ordered to the border are the Thirtieth infantry from Plattsburg, N. Y.; the Third infantry from Watertown and Oswego, N. Y., and the Twenty-first infantry from Vancouver barracks, Wash., and two battalions of the Fourteenth infantry from Fort Lawton, Okla.

Funston Plans Invasion.

General Funston, however, is said to have urged other and more comprehensive steps, having in mind the possible requirements of a general invasion of northern Mexico, but Secretary Baker has declined to make public the entire contents of his report or that of General Scott.

The militia and regular army forces called into service will give General Funston a total additional force of approximately 8,000 men, including the regular infantry regiments, totaling about 3,000, and the militia organizations, aggregating 4,000 men.

Although Secretary Baker insisted that there was in contemplation no additional calls on the national guard, the division of militia affairs at the war department has in hand all the data necessary for a mobilization of the remaining militia organizations.

The sending of the three regiments and two battalions of regular infantry to the border has practically stripped the rest of the country of regular army troops, there being left north of the border only the First battalion of engineers at Washington barracks, one troop each of the Second cavalry at Fort Myer, Va., and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and one battalion of the Third field artillery, now en route from Fort Myer to the training camp at Tobyhanna, Pa.

CALL BRITISH HUSBANDS.

All Eligible as Soldiers to Report For Duty.

London, May 10.—All married Englishmen eligible for military service who are living abroad, but who ordinarily are residents of Great Britain, must return to England forthwith and report for military duty.

This announcement was made in the house of commons by Sir George Cave, the solicitor general.

GERMAN FLEET COMES OUT.

Large Squadron and Many U-boats Seen In the North Sea.

London, May 10.—According to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, Norwegian vessels which have arrived at Copenhagen from England report meeting a large German squadron as well as submarines in the North sea.

MRS. ANTHONY'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Edith V. Anthony, wife of Benjamin E. Anthony, whose death occurred in Muhlenberg Hospital, Monday afternoon, will be held at her late home, 713 Essex street, tomorrow afternoon, at 2:00. The service will be in charge of Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, and burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

This Store is Open Saturday Evenings Until 9:45

HAHNE & Co.
NEWARK

The Hahne Club Plan makes it easy to buy Furniture, Rugs and Carpets.

"Lend Me Your Ears," Say These Summer Draperies, Awnings, Bed Sets, Cedar Chests and Matting Boxes

There's plenty of reason for an army of homes to heed the call to summer preparedness, for summer is fast on the way and this big store has planned well and generously to give good service in setting the house in order.

A sale of importance to a great many housewives will be this clearance of Sunfast Novelty Net Lace Paneling and Curtain Materials—fabrics formerly 75c to $1.50 per yard, at .....38c to 68c

Do you wish to make effective sash and cottage curtains? Then this figured swiss may interest you. Usually 19c and 25c per yard; this lot will be closed out at, yard..... 12c

Swiss Bed Sets with pretty colored borders and bolsters add to the effectiveness of the summer bedroom. We have some that were $3.75; now 2.50

Summery Cross Stripe Curtains, some with Dutch valance to match, are shown at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.50, $3.50, $3.75

Cretonne Covered Boxes, that add so much to convenience in the summer home, are shown at.. 3.95

Extra—Ready-made Awnings, in tans and greens; complete with frame and fixture; in sizes 2 feet 6 inches, 3 feet, 3 feet 6 inches and 4 feet; the special price does not include hanging; awnings that usually sell for $2.75 will be, each 1.68

Cedar Chests are ready to take good care of things you wish to lay away; priced .....$7.85 to $25

Matting Boxes are priced from $2.00 to $6.50

CRETONNES FOR SUMMER

To meet the great demand for Cretonnes for use in summer homes we have increased our already large assortments to such an extent that it is by far the most comprehensive exhibit we ever made. Imported and Domestic Cretonnes are shown, at, yard, 15c, 18c, 25c, 35c, 55c and 75c.

With particular reference to summer homes, we have included many designs in bright colors, particularly for summer verandas.

"The Aerolux Porch Shades" are sold in Newark only at Hahne's. They come in browns and greens; guaranteed sunfast and weatherproof; fixtures are not corrosive; sizes, 3 feet to 12 feet by 7 feet 6 inches deep; at each.$2.00 to $9.50

Hahne's—Third Floor

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:—This advertisement is sent to you previous to its publication in the daily newspapers, beginning Monday, May 8th, so that you may have first choice of the merchandise offered.

If you cannot visit our store during the [illegible] mail, being sure to state size of pajamas desired.

To avoid disappointment it is advisable to forward your order by return mail, as the supply in stock will not last long when the quality of the goods is appreciated.

A. A. VANTINE & CO., INC.

Vantines
The Oriental Store.

Announce a Special Offering of Imported Silk Pajamas, $3.50 Pair

Delightfully soft sleeping garments for men, cut in the latest and most comfortable style, of imported hand-loom Chinese pongee silk, natural color, purchased in China previous to the recent advance in silk prices.

Coat has five white mercerized cord frogs, collar, and breast pocket. Trousers have Pongee silk draw string at waist. Come in three sizes—small, medium and large.

Mail orders filled until supply on sale is exhausted. Be sure to state size desired.

A·A·VANTINE & CO. Inc.
Fifth Avenue and 39th Street, New York.

LOCAL PEOPLE HURT ON WESTFIELD CAR

Three Cut and Bruised There, When Trolley Leaves the Rails.

Westfield, May 10.—Three Plainfielders were bruised and cut here yesterday when a Union car jumped the tracks at a curve on Prospect street shortly before noon. None were badly hurt. One woman of Dunellen suffered a bruised hip. All other passengers on the car escaped without injury.

The injured are:

G. LEWIS, Fairview avenue, North Plainfield.

MRS. A. GRANT, 1166 Gresham road, Plainfield.

MRS. J. SCHWARTZ, 642 West Front street, Plainfield.

MRS. G. T. LONGBOTHUM, of Dunellen.

Mrs. Longbothum was the most seriously injured. She was injured about her hip.

The other three were cut about the face and head by flying glass.

There were ten people in the car, all were severely shaken up. Mrs. Longbothum was thrown from the seat and fell on her hip in the aisle of the car.

The other three, seated near the front, were showered with glass. Their faces and heads were painfully cut.

A flat wheel and the spreading of a rail are ascribed as the cause of this derailment. The car was taking the turn into Newton place at moderate speed and veered off toward the gutter. Mounting the curb, it continued its journey into a tree, which offered little resistance and snapped in two. Only the soft lawn halted the progress of the vehicle, headed toward the house.

The motorman, Robert Meggy, says the car was going slowly and he is corroborated by many.

JOSIAH S. SMITH DIES IN EIGHTY-FOURTH YEAR

Josiah S. Smith, aged eighty-four years, died last night at his home on East Fourth street, following a long illness. He had been a resident of Plainfield for a long time, for the past fifteen years living a retired life. Prior to that time he followed the trade of carpenter. He was a member of Trinity Reformed church, where he attended regularly when his health permitted.

Mr. Smith is survived by his widow, Lydia Smith, one son and one daughter. These are Walter A. Smith, of Jersey City, and Mrs. Samuel Glenn, of Clyde, N. Y. The funeral, which will be private, will be in charge of Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, and interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

ELEUTHERIOS VENIZELOS.

Former Premier's Victory Arouses Popular Feeling.

Photo by American Press Association.

Ex-Premier Venizelos, who was a candidate for the chamber of deputies for Mityleno, headed the poll by a large majority in the recent elections. Great enthusiasm was displayed by the people over his success.

THINK THAT IT IS UP TO GERMANY NOW

Diplomats Expect Kaiser to Make No Reply.

Washington, May 10.—Will Germany accept President Wilson's note as the final word in the submarine controversy?

Will the new orders to submarine commanders remove the menace to American lives?

These were the questions uppermost in the minds of officials here. Upon the answer depends the maintenance of friendly relations between the United States and Germany.

The president's note assumes that Germany has unconditionally abandoned her illegal methods of submarine warfare, and the interest of diplomats is now centered on whether or not Germany will accept this interpretation or make another reply. Silence in diplomacy means assent, and state department officials do not expect Berlin to answer the final word which was sent to Ambassador Gerard.

It is understood also that officials close to the German embassy do not expect Germany to reply. So far as the German embassy is concerned the controversy as to methods of submarine warfare is now a closed book.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

METHODISTS ENJOY 'CHURCH DAY' PROGRAM

Women's Societies of First M. E. Church Participate in All-Day Session.

"Church Day" was observed at the First M. E. church yesterday, the Ladies' Aid and the Home and Foreign Mission Societies gathering for their monthly meeting. At 11 o'clock the Home Mission Society held their meeting. Announcement was made that $10.40 was raised during Lent by each member paying a penny a day during that period. Instead of sending a basket of preserved and other articles to the Deaconess' Home, as has been the custom in previous years, the members donated $25 in money to this cause.

A parcel post social was planned, and all packages are to be in by June 1, when the date for the sale of the articles will be announced. The announcement cards mailed out to the members and their friends bear the following inscription:

"Please send us something we can sell,
And wrap it up so none can tell,
What's in the package they have bought
Until its contents they have sought.
Send the package by parcel post,
The price to be ten cents at most;
Some little thing to keep or wear,
That all may remember they were here."

At 12:30 a luncheon was served to thirty women, and at 1:30 the Ladies' Aid met for their business session. At this meeting announcement was made that the next business meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. F. G. Crawford, on Myrtle avenue, and will be an outdoor gathering. A supper will be served the members and their husbands.

REV. MEBANE RAMSEY IS GRADUATED AT PRINCETON

Rev. Mebane Ramsay, pastor of the Mary E. Wilson Memorial Union chapel, is among the thirty-one members of the graduating class of Princeton Theological Seminary, the 104th annual commencement of the seminary being held yesterday morning in Miller chapel, Princeton. Of this number, twenty-one received the degree of bachelor of divinity, which was conferred upon them by Rev. Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, president of the Seminary. Mr Ramsay was also among the latter number. At noon the alumni held their annual dinner in Stewart Hall, followed by the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, at which the Rev. Russel Cecil, president of the association, presided.

Mr. Ramsay has been pastor of the Wilson Memorial chapel for the past two years, beginning his pastorate there while a student in the seminary. His home is in Tusla, Okla.

CHILD LABOR BILL WILL PASS SENATE

Democratic Steering Committee Puts Keating Bill on Official Program.

The passage of the child labor bill before Congress adjourns is practically assured for the steering committee of the Democratic majority in the Senate has agreed to put it on the program of bills to be passed at this session. The child labor bill will be taken up after the rural credits, good roads and appropriation bills have been disposed of and since it has been known for sometime that a large majority of the Senate is in favor of the bill there is little doubt that it will pass.

The news that the Keating bill had been placed on the official program for the present session was enthusiastically received by the National Child Labor Committee which for two years has fought for the enactment of a federal child labor law. "We have known for a long time that the country is with us on this issue and that we had the votes to pass the bill," said Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, "but we were never quite sure whether the bill would be taken up in time to prevent its opponents from filibustering it out of existence. The fact that the Democratic majority has decided to put the bill through at the present session makes it look as though our two years of hard work were going to meet with success before many more months have passed."

The members of the steering committee, of which Senator Kern is chairman, are Senators Owen, Reed, Martin, Chamberlain, Thomas, O'Gorman and Williams.

PROBE RAILWAY WRECK.

Central Flier Dashes Into Pile of Ties on Tracks.

Dunkirk, N. Y., May 10.—Railroad detectives are investigating an apparent attempt to wreck the eastbound Twentieth Century limited at Silver Creek, N. Y., on the Lake Shore division of the New York Central railroad.

The train ran into a pile of railroad ties placed on the rails at a point three miles west of Silver Creek. The pilot of the engine was damaged, but the engine did not leave the rails. No one was injured.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a6.30, a7.30, 9.00 11.45, 1.00 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.10, b9.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—9.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 8.00.

Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.05, 1.30, 2.30, b4.30, 4.30 except Saturday, 5.30, 7.30, b8.30, 10.00, b11.45. Sundays—9.30, 12.15 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.

Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00 .15, f10.00, b1.00, g2.00, 4.15, b6.30.

Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g3.45 5.35, g7.30.

Leave Plainfield for Warrenville—d6.45 d8.15, 6.20, f10.00, g3.00, g4.30.

Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40 f11.00, g3.30, g7.15.

Leave Plainfield for Stirling—6.15, b1.00 4.15.

Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8.40, b2.00 5.15.

(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays Monday mornings, and mornings after holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave 'Phone 120 Plainfield.

Owing to the material increase in our business this Spring, we have found it increasingly difficult for our ten teams to cope with our delivery problem. We now have, however, added a two-ton Mack truck to our delivery equipment, and our customers may again expect prompt deliveries as heretofore.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

SPRING HATS

SOFT AND STIFF
Soft Hats in all new shades
$2 and $3

Arrow Shirts.
Interwoven Silk Socks.
Silk Gloves.
Fine Neckwear.
Everything for Easter.

J. R. Blair
119 PARK AVE.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Table Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 891.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

ESTATE OF JANE ANNE DOBSON COLE, Deceased. Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the County of Union, made on the twenty-fourth day of April, A. D., 1916, upon the application of the undersigned as executrices of the estate of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscribers under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the date of said order, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscribers.

MARGARET THOMPSON,
REBECCA DOBSON,
Executrices.
Swackhamer & Bird, Proctors,
Plainfield, N. J.
4 26 9w. Fees $11.10.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling-task to a classified ad.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

NORTHFIELD PLANS FOR COMING SEASON

Strong List of Speakers Announced for Thirty-fourth Annual Conference.

East Northfield, Mass., May 10.—W. R. Moody, president of the Northfield Schools, and son of Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, has announced the arrangements of the thirty-fourth season of the Northfield Conferences and Summer Schools. The Northfield Seminary Commencement, June 3 to 6, is the first event of note. Among its features are the graduation sermon and commencement address by Dr. G. Glenn Atkins, of Providence, R. I., alumnae day, class reunions and luncheons, and the Estey chorus concert. This year marks the thirty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Mount Hermon School. During commencement week, July 15 to 18, a grand reunion of 1,000 former students is being arranged in the way of celebration.

The annual attendance at the Summer Conferences has been increasing rapidly during the last few years, particularly in July, and it has been found necessary to hold two Young Women's Conferences, one from June 15 to 21, and one from July 5 to 12. The nature of these two conferences will be practically the same. Rev. J. Stuart Holden, of London, will be one of the leading speakers at the first of these conferences, and Dr. Robert E. Speer at the second. The Young Men's Student Conference will be held from June 23 to July 2. Dr. John R. Mott will preside, and Dr. Robert E. Speer and Rev. G. Sherwood Eddy will be among the speakers. The other conferences are: Summer School for Women's Foreign Missionary Societies, July 14 to 21; Women's Summer School of Home Missions, July 21 to 28; Summer School for Sunday-school Workers, July 22 to 29; and the General Conference of Christian Workers, August 4 to 20. At the General Conference, Charles M. Alexander will have charge of the music. President Francis J. Patton, of Princeton Seminary, will deliver a series of lectures on "Christianity and the Modern Man." Provision for a special Ministers' Conference will be made.

Some of the other speakers and teachers already secured for the various conferences are: Cornelius Woelfkin, D. D., and Harry E. Fosdick, D. D., of New York city; Professor John Duxbury, of London, England; J. Ross Stevenson, D. D., of Princeton; John R. Davies, D. D., of Philadelphia, Pa.; Henry C. Applegarth, D. D., and Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, of Rochester, N. Y.; John McDowell, D. D., of Baltimore, Md.; A. T. Robertson, M. A., D. D., L. L. D., and Miss Nannie Lee Frayser, of Louisville, Ky.; Rockwell H. Potter, D. D., of Hartford, Conn.; Charles R. Brown, D. D., of New Haven, Conn.; James I. Vance, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Margaret Slattery, of Fitchburg, Mass.; Rev. C. E. Burton, of Alaska, and Bishop Charles H. Brent, of Manila, P. I.

Big Advance in Anthracite.

New York, May 10.—The new wholesale tidewater anthracite price schedule was made public by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company. It makes an advance of 40 cents for a stove coal.

What Are You Offered At Rothberg's?

A gathering of fine things to wear for men, young men and boys; goods of highest excellence, latest and smartest styles; priced to give you the best value for your money.

In addition to that a policy of satisfaction-giving, which takes your side of the case; which says:

"Try the Goods; if they are not perfectly right in every way, we'll refund the money cheerfully."

Suits $12 to $25

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S RYE
E. G. WESTCOTT
115 East Front Street.

OMIT IRISH FROM CONSCRIPTION

Redmond Says the Measure Would Be Insane.

HAS TILT WITH CARSON.

Unionist Whip Moves That Island Be Included In Measure—Asquith Hoped Amendment Would Not Pass—Manifesto on Subject Agreed Upon to Be Issued Soon.

London, May 10.—The house of commons rejected without division an amendment to the compulsion bill making conscription apply in Ireland.

Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, moved that Ireland be included in the territory affected by the conscription measure.

Premier Asquith agreed that once the principle of general conscription is accepted a new case was made for its extension to the whole United Kingdom. He said he hoped that the amendment would not be passed.

In the debate on the amendment Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulster Unionists, said he thought the government had made a great mistake in excluding Ireland from matters of imperial policy. John Redmond, Irish Nationalist leader, said it was insane to attempt to force conscription in Ireland.

Sir Edward Carson said that the reason why Ireland was not included in the compulsion bill up to this time was because the Nationalists governed the country and not the government.

"If John Redmond said that compulsion was not possible in Ireland," the Ulster leaded added, "I will not press the policy in order to avoid further disorder."

Mr. Redmond denied that the Nationalists had any power or responsibility for the government of Ireland and said that if his advice had been taken the recent occurrences would have been avoided.

All amendments changing the age of service in the bill have been defeated.

Prepare Manifesto.

It is understood that a manifesto to the Irish people has been agreed upon, but the contents of the manifesto have been withheld until Thursday, so as to enable its simultaneous publication throughout Ireland. Various rumors were current in the lobbies of parliament concerning negotiations between the government and the Irish parties, but nothing is likely to be decided upon by the latter until after Premier Asquith's pronouncement on the Irish situation.

During the committee stage of the military service bill in the house of commons Sir John Brownlee Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionist party, moved that Ireland should be included in the operation of compulsion.

Premier Asquith, replying, said the question of compulsion was not a matter of agreement with Ireland and that if the motion were persisted in there would be protracted discussion, which would prevent the measure becoming a law at the earliest possible moment.

The premier said that a very large number of the representatives of Ireland were not at the moment prepared to accept compulsion in Ireland and that it was not desirable that the country should be plunged into a controversy on the subject at this time. Ireland had just undergone a terrible ordeal, but the result of it, he believed, would be to establish the foundation among loyal Irishmen of a larger measure of agreement than there ever had been in the past.

The premier asked what could be worse than that the representatives of Ireland should be forced into a conflict at this moment. The government, he added, was reviewing with the utmost care the military arrangements in Ireland and the matter of bearing arms, and he hoped a common agreement would be reached.

RUSSIANS DEFEAT TURKS.

Capture Mountains on Way to Diarbekr—Push on Toward Bagdad.

Petrograd, May 10.—The war office issued the following bulletins on the operations in Asia Minor:

In the direction of Erzingan during the course of the day the Turks made stubborn but unsuccessful attacks against our positions. Having suffered crushing losses, the enemy toward evening abandoned the offensive.

In the direction of Diarbekr we dislodged the Turks from the chain of mountains extending south of the region of Mush.

In the direction of Bagdad after dislodging the enemy from fortified positions we threw them back westward and captured in the course of the pursuit another field gun.

MAYOR RIDDLE DEFEATED.

Prospect Is Dull For Those Who Would Be Gay.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 10.—The city has repudiated Mayor William Riddle and his ultra liberality issues at the polls. In one of the most exciting elections in the history of the resort Riddle went down to defeat and was shorn of his power by the so called citizens' ticket.

Commissioners Harry Bacharach, Albert Beyer and Joseph Thompson were elected with Frank Sooy, an attorney, and C. D. White, millionaire hotel man and owner of the Marlborough-Blenheim.

Priest Tries to Settle Strike.

Newark, May 10.—Efforts to settle the strike at the Worthington Pump works in Harrison are being continued by Rev. George L. Fitzpatrick, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross of that town, but no move has yet been made to indicate that a settlement is near.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

THE TONIC VALUE OF BEER

MEN and women who lack energy and strength will find a glass of good pure beer most beneficial. It tones up the nervous system, enriches the blood and promotes healthful sleep.

It will aid digestion and increase the appetite by stimulating the action of the stomach and by calling out a more abundant secretion of gastric juice. It feeds the body, steadies the nerves and builds strength as no other beverage has ever done.

Prof. T. J. Clouston, of Edinburgh, says:—
"Alcohol is a food and may in a diluted form be a very valuable adjunct to ordinary foods by exciting appetite, improving digestion and stimulating certain nutritive processes."
Prof. F. Jolly, M. D., Privy Medical Councillor of the University of Berlin, said:—
"A glass of wine in the forenoon, one at table, another in the evening, or in place of this, a glass of beer, will not only be healthful but will exercise a stimulating effect."
The moderate use of beer is recommended and its tonic and food value indorsed by the world's greatest physicians and food experts.

RUPPERT'S Knickerbocker
The Beer That Satisfies

is absolutely pure because it is brewed under conditions which have reached the highest degree of perfection. Aside from its dietetic value, it is hygienically an effervescent, sparkling, refreshing malt beverage of nutrient and tonic value. The very best quality ingredients are used, the most sanitary conditions prevail in every department of our brewery, assuring a wholesome and nutritious beverage of unsurpassed quality.

Every bottle is absolutely pure when it leaves the brewery and must be absolutely pure when it reaches you.

In Bottles and on Draught Bottled at the Brewery Exclusively

The Jacob Ruppert Brewery
Third Avenue, 90th to 92d Street, New York

COUNTY TAX BOARDS HOLD A CONFERENCE

Andrew E. Kenney, of North Plainfield, is Elected Treasurer of State Ass'n.

Trenton, May 10.—Members of the various county tax boards throughout the State, constituting the State Association of County Tax Boards, held a conference in the Assembly Chamber yesterday, with President Thomas B. Usher, of Hudson county, presiding. As required by a resolution adopted at the meeting of the executive committee held in Newark January 22 last, reports of boards throughout the State were read by Secretary William P. Macksey, of Newark, a member of the Essex Tax Board. At the conclusion of the reading of the report is was adopted and ordered spread on the minutes.

In his report Mr. Macksey declared that a greater part of the criticism directed at the county boards is due in a large sense to the lack of knowledge that the taxpayers have in regard to the work and efforts of the boards to equalize and revise assessments." He added that "the larger part of this criticism is directed at some of the smaller counties which have shown no disposition to perform the functions for which they were created." He submitted a brief synopsis of reports turned into him by all but two of the counties.

The conference was decided upon by the State Board of Taxes and Assessments acting in conjunction with a committee representative of county tax boards. It is proposed to make the conference an annual affair.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: President, Thomas B. Usher, Jersey City; vice president, Frank McLees, Bergen; secretary, William T. Macksey, Newark; treasurer, Andrew E. Kenney, Somerset.

During a discussion of tax subjects there seemed to be unanimity of opinion that local assessors should have greater latitude and should be protected by civil service under the supervision of county boards.

COMING EVENTS.

TODAY.
Brightside Circle meeting.
Carpenters' Union meeting.
Mothers' Association "lawn party."

TOMORROW.
Meeting Recreation Committee.
Musicale—Hartridge School.

FRIDAY.
Princeton Club dinner — Country Club.
"Jersey Day" exercises—West End Community Center — Washington School.

MONDAY.
Trustee meeting — Netherwood Residents' Association.
Whatsoever Circle, Kings' Daughters, meeting.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

TODAY—Last Times
"THE MIDNIGHT FROLICS" and the original
HAWAIIAN QUARTET
5 OTHER BIG FEATURES 5
And Latest Photoplays

TONIGHT IS
AMATEUR NIGHT
Another carnival of fun

TOMORROW, FRIDAY, SATURDAY.
COUNTESS OLGA VON HATZFELD AND WILLIAM HERBERT
In a Classy Offering

The Oklahoma Wonder
COWBOY WILLIAMS & CO.
A Wonderful Novelty

5 OTHER CLASSY SURPRISES 5
Latest Photoplays including 11th "IRON CLAW"

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
The World-wide Famous
ANNA HELD in
"MADAME LA PRESIDENTE"
A sparkling French comedy in 5 parts. Paramount-Pictographs and others.
Prices for Matinee today only 5c and 10c.
Prices for tonight, 10c & 15c.

TOMORROW
Bluebird Photoplays Present
MR. HOBART BOSWORTH in
"THE YAQUI"
A drama of the struggle in old Mexico in 5 parts, and other photoplays.

FRIDAY
Jesse L. Lasky Presents
FANNY WARD in
"TENNESSEE'S PARDNER"
Founded on the play by Scott Marble in 5 parts, and other interesting photoplays.

Our motto—"QUALITY NOT QUANTITY."
We Give Travelstamps.

PROCTOR'S
10c Continuous 2 to 11. 10c

KEEP KOOL—AN INNOVATION
There is a big surprise in store for the patrons who have so loyally and steadfastly patronized PROCTOR'S. It will be in the nature of an ICE PLANT. There has been installed 50 oscillating fans and numerous ice depots in various parts of the theatre where large cakes of ice will be planted with cooling devices that will positively reduce the temperature to any point desired. Even on the hottest days patrons will find the atmosphere cool and comfortable at PROCTOR'S.

TODAY—BIG DOUBLE SHOW
Your Last Chance to See

Charlie Chaplin
In His Burlesque on CARMEN
4—Uproarious Parts—4

And the Eminent Emotional Star
BERTHA KALISH
Making Her Debut in Motion Pictures in SLANDER
A Mammoth Six Part Fox Feature

11th Episode of "THE IRON CLAW"

THURSDAY
Triangle Presents
William S. Hart
in
THE ARYAN
A Stirring Story of Pioneer Days in the Wild and Untamed West

HANK MANN
in
HIS BREAD AND BUTTER
Keystone Comedy

Other Splendid Features

FRIDAY
Charles Cherry
in
THE MUMMY & THE HUMMING BIRD
A Wonderful Paramount Picture

The Last Chapter of
"THE SOCIAL PIRATES"

Other Select Photoplays

STARTING MONDAY, MAY 15,
MARY PICKFORD WEEK
See This Most Popular of Screen Favorites in a Different Picture Each Day

AUTO ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL.
The street crossings were crowded, and it wasn't your fault, but you will be sued for damages, just the same.
Avoid any such misfortune by taking out Liability Insurance with us.

FREDERICK A. MARTIN CO.
(Successor to Elston M. French and J. C. Pope & Co. Insurance Agency)
171 NORTH AVENUE Telephone 2304
Insurance Mortgages Real Estate
The Oldest Insurance Agency in This City.

"Confess and Be Saved"

Sermon of the Rev. William E. Biederwolf at the Tabernacle Last Night.

"If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." —Romans 10:9.

No matter what the conditions for salvation are or how many there are if a man fulfills any one of them honestly and in the right spirit it's a dead sure thing he will be led to fulfill every one of them.

I saw a little book the other day written by Benjamin Franklin. I don't know which Ben it was, but it wasn't the one who coaxed lightning down his kite string and put us wise to electricity. When I went off to the Spanish-American war Martin Luther filled my pulpit while I was gone, but it wasn't the one who nailed 99 theses on the door of the Wittenburg cathedral. I'm not recommending the contents of the little book, for I didn't read it. It was the title that caught my eye. It was called, "Sincerity seeking the way to heaven," and it started out by introducing a young man of twenty-one who is making his first effort to seek the Lord and who himself says, "I am astonished at myself that I have lived this long without God and without hope."

This is really one of the most astonishing things of life and this town is full of people, just as is every other town, who have waited not only till you are twenty-one, but twice that long and some of you have passed this matter up until your hairs are gray and your bones are brittle and your feeble heart will only pump a few more ounces of blood and the undertaker will come along with the embalming fluid.

Never Neglect the Soul.

You're concerned about a hundred other things but you'd better be concerned about this one important thing. You'd better neglect anything else than to neglect the salvation of your soul. Better neglect your business, better neglect your lodge, better neglect your family, better neglect your health than to neglect the way of getting right with God if there is any way to do it. And there is a way. And God has given it to us. It's His own prescription. It's His own remedy for our disease. I want to ask you to take it tonight. Of course if you don't take it you've only got your own foolish self to blame for the consequences.

Suppose I'm a doctor and I give you a prescription and you go down to the druggist and say, "Read that to me before you fill it," and he runs it off, and you say, "Cut out the ipecac, it nauseates me, and cut out the asofoedita, I never did like that, and don't put any of the quinine in; I haven't got any faith in that," and then you say, "Now fix it up," and you take it and instead of getting better you get worse. You've nobody to blame but yourself; you took your own prescription and not the doctor's medicine at all. So you'd better look for God's prescription and take it. No wonder some of you are so far away from God. You've been taking all kinds of dope. You've been taking Christian Science and you've never got anywhere, and you've doped yourself with Spiritualism and Theosophy and Unitarianism and Russellism and the Lord only knows what all. But these are all the devil's medicine and no wonder you're in such a miserable plight.

You're like the man who took Peruna. A lot of these patent medicines are four-fifths alcohol anyhow. He had a bad case of worms and Dr. Hartman, the Peruna man, recommended his patent medicine and after awhile he asked the man for a testimonial and the man wrote him and said, "I have taken twelve bottles of Peruna and can truthfully say that I have no more worms, but I've got snakes."

No Cure Here.

You'll never get any better from swallowing the Devil's medicine. But if you want the health of soul and the salvation that God has worked out for you, let's see what He says you must do to get it. He says, "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." If thou shalt confess with thy mouth and believe in thine heart. Of course belief always comes before confession, but Paul puts it this way to be in harmony with the previous verse, but in the following verse he puts them in their right order, where he says, "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." A confession with the mouth that does not have its root in a believing heart is just so much hot air. It's a mockery and of course it's an insult to God.

It says, "If thou shalt believe in thine heart." There's a difference between heart belief and head belief. A fellow once said it don't make so much difference about a man's life; if he believes on Jesus Christ, God will save him. But he was confounding opinion with faith. And if theology has been guilty of any crime I'm afraid it always manifests itself in two ways.

1. By an absolute trust in the object of your faith. You can believe all you want to about Jesus Christ and go to hell with your head full of knowledge like that. It's believing on Him in your heart that saves you because it's that kind of belief that leads you to trust Him and commit yourself to Him in order to be saved.

2. The other way that a belief in the heart manifests itself is in the life. The fellow who believes in his heart and then confesses is the one who delivers the goods. The fellow who believes in his head and then confesses is the fellow Jesus was talking to when He said, "Why call me Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say?" A man can believe in his head and you'll never know unless he tells you, but when a man believes in his heart his life will speak louder than any words could sound.

Your children may think mighty well of you as their father. They might go and write up a nice creed about you, about your wisdom and your generosity and your great regard for their welfare. They could put it down in black and white, "We, the children of Mr. So and So, do believe and hereby declare thus and thus about our father." But if they have left you severely alone, never cared when you went away, never seemed glad to see you come back, never thanked you for your goodness and never begged your forgiveness when they hurt you, you'd say, "Bright children those, but they are heartless."

Belief in the Heart.

"If thou shalt believe in thine heart." Believe what? "That God hath raised Him from the dead;" raised Jesus up out of the grave. You see, Paul picks out the very heart of the Gospel, the fundamental thing of the whole business. It's the keystone of the Christian faith; you knock that out and the whole arch will come down with a crash. No wonder the old Devil has been doing his worst for twenty centuries to put a black eye on this doctrine. He'd put a crimp in the preacher's business all right, for "If Christ be not risen from the dead," says Paul, "then our preaching is in vain and your faith in vain."

Everywhere the apostles went they preached the resurrection of Jesus from the dead. If you had gone up to them and said, "How do you know that Jesus is the Son of God? How do you know that He has power to forgive our sins? How do you know that death is not the end of life? And, How do you know that the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ whom you preach?" they would have said, "Because God raised Him from the dead."

I haven't time to go into this subject now, but when Jesus made His claims He said He would prove them by rising from the dead, and God raised Him up. And so Paul says in Romans 1:4 that Christ was "declared to be the Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead." So in His resurrection God recognized Him as His own Son and as the Saviour of the world and accepted of His blood as a sacrifice for your sins and mine. And that's why, because of who He is and what He has done, if you believe in your heart and trust yourself to Him you shall be saved.

There is No Other Way.

There's no other way. A lot of people think it can be done by morality and culture and respectability, but that's all in their imagination. You're like the old Spaniard, Ponce De Leon, who hunted around down among the Florida everglades and thought he was going to find a fountain that would give him perpetual youth when he drank the waters. The wrinkles were to smooth, the gray hair to become black and the bent shoulders to straighten up. But did he find it? No. Why? Because it was only the hallucination of a deluded imagination. It was only in his mind. And some of you poor deluded simpletons imagine you are going to find salvation for your soul in paying your debts and being decent and keeping out of jail, but you can just search for it till you are gray-haired and wrinkled and you'll never find it. There is just one way to be saved. Believe in your heart the great truth I've been preaching to you about Jesus Christ.

And now when a man believes, it's time to make his confession. Paul says, "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus." And when a man believes, really believes in his heart, you're not going to have any trouble getting out of him a confession with his mouth or any other way that God asks him to.

The Bible put confession right alongside of belief. God makes one fully as important as the other. God expects a man to stand up for his belief. God expects a man to stand up for Jesus Christ if he believes in Him. Jesus Christ said, "Whosoever shall confess me before men, him will I confess before my father which is in heaven." I'm glad He expects it. A lot of your people here believe enough with your head; it's time now for you to believe with your heart and step out here and make your public confession. I say I'm glad Christ demands the public acknowledgement.

Loyal in Other Things.

If a man's a loyal American he won't be ashamed to take off his hat and cover his heart in the presence of the Stars and Stripes. If a man's a loyal Englishman or a loyal German he won't be ashamed to acknowledge his king or his emperor, and these things he must do if he wants to be a citizen of these kingdoms and if a man wants to be a citizen in the kingdom of God, why shouldn't he be expected to stand up and acknowledge the King of kings and the Lord of the universe. No matter what political party you're a member of, you'll go to a rally and yell yourself black in the face to let people know it. If you're a Mason or an Odd Fellow or any kind of a lodge man you acknowledge it publicly, and if you are a member of nothing more than a little two-by-four literary society you'll put on a pin and parade it before other people and say, "See what I belong to," and yet, when it comes to being a member of the glorious body of Christ and acknowledging allegiance to the noblest character this old universe has ever seen, you show the yellow streak in you and drop your eyes and look for your hat and try to sneak out.

I'm glad Christ says you've got to confess Him before men. I wouldn't give two whoops on this side of anywhere for a fellow who won't stand up for what he believes and won't shout for it, too. I like to think of that enthusiastic Irishman who was incessantly shouting for his own country: "Hurrah for Ireland! Hurrah for Ireland! Hurrah for Ireland!" And one day when there was a bunch of them together and something was said that started Pat, and he shouted: "Hurrah for Ireland! Hurrah for Ireland!" There was an Englishman there who had stood it about as long as he could, and when Pat broke out this time the Englishman, in disgust, said, "Oh, Hurrah for hell!"

"That's roight," said Pat, "ivery man for his own country."

I like to see a fellow stand up for what he believes.

Well, how does Christ expect a man to confess Him

1. Well, of course, by his life. That goes without saying. It's a handful of hypocrites in the church that throws the whole bunch under suspicion. It would be a good deal better for the cause of Christ and for some of you, too, if you didn't make any confession at all as long as you don't back it up with a decent life. If what you are speaks so loud people can't hear what you say, then shut off the hot air and give God a chance at your hypocritical old heart and maybe He can do something yet for you before hell gets hold of you.

You know, I think if hell took a dose of ipecac the last piece to be thrown up would be the snake-hearted old hypocrite who loafs around on God's territory and is serving the devil with the livery of heaven on.

Confess in Baptism.

2. And then, of course, you are expected to confess Christ in baptism. Well, you say, "Doesn't the Bible say, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved"; and there is nothing said there about baptism. Yes, but it says in another place, "Repent and be baptized"; and there's nothing said there about believing. You've got to take all the teachings of the Bible.

Well, you say, "Don't you have to be baptized to be saved?" Of course you do. If God tells you to do a thing and you say, "I won't do it"—why that's a good sign you're not a Christion at all, or you'd do what God tells you to. But don't get the idea that baptism saves you. It's a symbol of a spiritual operation and it's a sign of your obedience to the word of God.

When the Phillippian jailor was converted he was baptized. I don't know whether he was immersed or sprinkled. I'm not here to preach controverted doctrines. If denominations are true to the deity of Jesus Christ, I let them alone. It wouldn't be fair to the Presbyterians and some others to say you had to be immersed and it wouldn't be fair to the Disciples and Baptists and some others to say that you had to be sprinkled. It's my place to call you to Jesus Christ and these other things you'll have to attend to yourself, and don't get to scrapping because you can't all just see everything alike.

3. And then of course you are expected to confess Christ by joining thethe church. You say, "Can't I be a Christian and not jin the church." Well, I don't know; I wouldn't advise you to try it. Somebody has said you can go to Europe without going on a ship, but look out for the sharys. And look out for the submarines, too!

"Well," you say, "I've never found any church that just suits me." I suppose if some one would start another denomination to your taste, you'd join, and yet you howl because we've got so many now. What's the difference whether your little ideas are incorporatel or not About nine out of every ten of these differences don't amount to anything anyhow. Join any church and you'll be a whole lot better off than where you are now. The church is the only institution that Christ ever founded, and if you're a Christian and got any regard for Christ, you'll get in it and fight in the ranks with the rest of us.

Confess With Thy Mouth.

4. But Paul says, "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth." He don't say, "If you are baptized and join the church you'll be saved," and we know well enough that hundreds of people, yes, thousands, do this and are really not saved at all. But he does say, "if you confess with your mouth, and believe of course in your heart, you shall be saved." He takes it for granted, of course, that you'll do these other things, but to let the matter he wants us to know is a sad and fatal delusion.

"Oh," said a woman, "I confess with my influence." But m-o-u-t-h don't spell influence. M-o-u-t-h spells mouth. Christ expects you to speak up for him and not be ashamed, and I don't know any better place to begin to do it than right here. I know it's not the easiest thing to do. I know an old soldier who had fought hard battles in the face of musketry and cannon, but who fought six long months before he could get the courage to walk out and make a public confession of Christ. A lot of you church people haven't got the grit and the grace to do it yourself, and no wonder when you get in a crowd and someone jeers at Jesus Christ, you never peep; and when some one told a smutty story you didn't have the Christian manhood or Christian womanhood to protest, but sat there like a miserable old turncoat and looked sheepish. Well, you may look like a sheep, but you act like a goat. And you come in here and when you are asked to walk out here and publicly declare yourself for the sake of your influence you grab your hat and sneak out and beat it.

Now why does God demand that you make a public confession of your faith? He does it for three reasons.

For Your Own Sake.

1. For your own sake. It'll strengthen your faith and give you a little spiritual nerve. A lot of you people want to be Christians. At least you think you do. You say you do. But you've got a prejudice against coming down this aisle. Well, that is not the only way to make a public confession, but I'm afraid it's the only way for a good many of you, just because you've made up your mind you won't do it; but if you only knew what it would mean for you to come, of the satisfaction it would bring you and the respect you would have for yourself, and the nerve it would give you and the spiritual tonic it would be, you wouldn't waste a minute in getting here.

I remember in Oil City, Pa., once a fine-looking business man came down the aisle and when I took his hand, he said, "Biederwolf, I've had a very unsatisfactory time." I said, "What's the matter?" He said, "I joined the church two weeks ago, and I've been miserable ever since." "Well," I said, "that's a queer fix to get into for joining church. What's the matter?" "Well," he said, "I declared I never would walk down this aisle I didn't see the necessity of it, and it was a bit too public for me and I said I wouldn't do it; but I said, 'I'll be a Christian and I'll join the church,' and I joined it two weeks ago, and I've been just miserable. I felt like a little coward, and I couldn't seem to get anywhere, but thang God," he said, "I've walked this aisle tonight; and say, Biederwolf, it does make a difference." Of course it does.

And then it puts you on record in a way that if there's anything to you at all you'll have to make good. You could do it, in a more quiet and less public way and you wouldn't find it so hard to play fast and loose with the Lord in the months that are to follow; but if you walk out openly for Christ in this way, everybody who knows you will know it by tomorrow morning, and for some of you the whole city would know it and they'll expect you to change your life and make good and they'll cheer you while you do it, and laugh at you if you don't; and you know it. So it's a great thing to put yourself on record in a way that will call out the best that's in you, and if you've got the right kind of a streak in you, you'll do it.

For Others' Sake.

2. He demands it in the second place for the sake of others. Do you know when the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals of the State of New York walked down the aisle in Rochester when Finney was preaching in the thirties, it was a signal for a break in the ranks, and every lawyer in the city before many nights had done the same thing, and that was the beginning of that great revival which swept 150,000 souls into the kingdom, and whose influence has been felt all down the decades to our own time?

You may not have an influence like that, but some one is watching you, and your example is worth more than you estimate; and I say to you, man of profession, man of business, factory superintendent and all men, the young men of this city have a right to expect you to lead out in this matter and the young maidens have the same right in respect to you, my sister, and it's worth everything to you to stop and consider whether you are going to meet now the obligation that rests upon you or whether you are going to meet one day at the bar of God the responsibility for not doing it.

3. Then, in the third place, He demands it for Christ's sake. And this is the biggest reason of all.

When the inexorable justice of God demanded that you should die, and there was no hope for you and hell stared you in the face, Jesus stepped in and took the blow for you, and yet some of you haven't the manhood to walk out here and acknowledge Him and you'd like to sneak into the Kingdom of God when so many people wouldn't know it.

I read of a workingman who saw a building contractor fall from a high scaffold and he reached up his arms to catch him. The weight of the falling man drove his arms into their sockets, crushed his shoulders, twisted his spine and made him walk the streets forever after, an object of pity; and one day some one asked him what had become of the man he saved. And his face lit up with joy and he said, "Oh, he gave me half of his fortune; he gives me half of his income and never lets me want for a thing." Ah men, we know how to appreciate that. But some of you seem to forget that there was One who was crushed and bent for you, who was wounded for your transgressions and bruised for your iniquities; and yet you haven't got the manhood to step out in public and acknowledge Him as your Saviour. You treat Him worse than a brute, some of you. God pity you!

Show Your Colors.

You ought to confess Him. You ought to acknowledge Him. You ought to thank God for the opportunity of walking down this aisle and standing up here for Jesus Christ. Don't be cowardly. God despises a coward—a mut—and He's calling on you tonight—now—to show what kind of material you've got in you. If you stand for Him here He'll stand for you in the judgment. But if you don't, there's no hope for you. Christ says, "Whosoever shall confess before my Father, who is in heaven," but He says, "And whosoever shall deny me before me, him will I deny before my Father who is in heaven."

39 THEOLOGICAL GRADUATES.

Princeton Seminary Turns Out the Finished Product.

Princeton, May 10.—Thirty-nine students were graduated at Princeton Theological seminary commencement and twenty-one received the degree of bachelor of divinity for special work, while six fellowships and five prizes were announced.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

Beautiful Bedrooms completely furnished at low cost, either in matched suites or odd pieces; ours is the most attractive line.

YOUR NEW REFRIGERATOR IS HERE

The famous Belding Hall make, a high-grade refrigerator in every respect and a real ice saver, too; the prices are most reasonable.....$6.98 to $47.50

AWNINGS, SCREENS, PORCH CHAIRS, COUCH HAMMOCKS. The largest and most attractive stock for your selection.

SHIRLEY & JOHNSTON

JOHN S. JOHNSTON, Prop.

The Quality Home Furnishers

BABCOCK BLDG. :: W. FRONT STREET

Among the special musical numbers last night was a selection by a colored quartet. They sang "Just As I Am."

Miss Raybert sang the solo parts to "Lead Me Gently Home, Father," and the choir accompanied her on the choruses.

Mr. Heaton sang "From Every Stormy Wind," with the choir joining in on the choruses.

The National Male Quartet sang "Blessed Is He That Readeth."

The last song on the musical service was "Master the Tempest Is Raging." "Mac" surely had the choir in hand and the expression with which the piece was sung was very impressive.

Among the many delegations last night were the B. P. O. E. of Plainfield, who marched in headed by the Dutch Arms Band; the Hall Printing Press Co.; the women of the First Presbyterian church; a Bible class from Cranford; a delegation from Bayonne and Westfield. All of these were given big cheers and a hearty welcome.

Tonight delegations from the Foresters and from the Sons and Daughters of Liberty will be at the Tabernacle.

Because of the death of Dr. Biederwolf's father, there will be no afternoon meetings this week.

Dr. Biederwolf will not leave for the West till after the service tonight and he will therefore preach his sermon on the dance tonight as announced.

Mrs. Brake will speak Thursday night.

"Mac" held a meeting yesterday afternoon for High School boys. He gave an illustrated lecture which was very interesting. Monroe O'Donnell, cheerleader, went down to the First Baptist church after the girl's meeting and taught the girls the cheers for Friday night.

FOUNDED · 1856

Sprightliness for the young men, more conservative models for older men, yet all styled to meet the dictates of correct dress.

Then, too, the fabrics of our superior spring showing are abreast of our usual supreme quality.

Selected materials from the best looms; individual weaves and patterns; dependable dyes all supplemented by tailoring of masterly skill and studied application.

BROKAW BROTHERS

1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET
NEW YORK

It is proper that the housewife should know as much about the business of buying for the home as her husband knows about the business in which he earns his income.

Sometimes a store will decide to perform a real "stunt" in value-giving on some special line. You may be sure that in all such instances the ad-readers will have earliest knowledge of the details.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some day really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights, have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

HERR'S SCHOOL

FOR BUSINESS TRAINING

FALL TERM NOW OPEN

Day and Evening Classes

Call, phone (344) or write for full information.

PLAINFIELD BUSINESS COLLEGE

171 East Front Street

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 193 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 10, 1016.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS.

The Paterson Call comments on the reported investigation of American newspapers which is to be made by Chinamen. According to the story the Chinament have decided among themselves that the American newspapers are the best in the world, and they want to learn all about them—how to run them, how to induce the people to read them as universally as the people over here read them.

The newspapers have become so much a part of the daily life of the average American that he pays little attention to them. He takes them as a matter of course. He seldom stops to marvel at the completeness of them, and he is not interested in the tremendous expense of effort and money that is necessary in making a metropolitan paper. And not having other papers with which to compare the American newspapers, the average citizen takes it for granted that the papers in this country are about the same as those published in other countries.

But the fact is, there is a vast difference between the American newspapers and the newspapers of other nations—and the difference is in favor of those printed in this country. There are a number of really great papers abroad, but none comparable with American production. The statement is not made out of sentimental patriotism, it is made because it is the truth, and known to be the truth by any man who has carefully studied the production of newspapers. As for the number of readers in proportion to the population, the United States is easily ahead of any other nation on earth. Not only have we more newspapers than any other country, and more readers of newspapers, but the number of papers in proportion to population is greater and the number of readers far exceed that of any other country.

Nobody understands this better than the Chinese. They have been studying such things for several years. And after these years of study they have decided to send here a delegation of men, at public expense, that the people of China may be given the best newspapers and then encouraged to read them.

• • • • • •

HOLD YOUR OWN CLEAN-UP WEEK.

As it is evident that no local authority intends to bring about a concerted movement on the part of Plainfielders to clean up, each property owner should take it upon himself to hold a little "clean-up week" all his own. Last year when a call was made for this work, the plan was generally adopted by the citizens, for the simple reason that it was given much publicity. Thtis year, if the purpose is to be accomplished, our people must take it upon themselves. Get the rubbish out of your cellar and backyard, and put it where the ashman can take it away. There is always a lot of good-for-nothing stuff around every house or place of business. It is a fine breeding place for moths, or mosquitoes or flies or some other nuisance, and yet at the same time so worthless to you that thieves will not steal it. It is up to the individual to get it out, and the spring of the year is the best time to tackle the job.

Neater cellars means cleaner backyards. Cleaner backyards mean a cleaner front yard and a more desirable section in which to live. And the more desirable the section is as one in which to build homes, the greater value has that piece of property. If every one will help to clean up and paint up, we will have a better Plainfield in which to live and one in which there will be fewer places for breeding germs that lead to disease and a lot of things that are undersirable.

• • • • • •

The directors of Muhlenberg Hospital have ordered an electric bell chime for the ambulance. They recognize the fact that some distinct alarm is necessary, different from those on any other automobile, and will place one on the machine following the suggestion made in the Daily Press a number of times. The ambulance should have the right of way over everything, as do the fire engines, but unless some such warning signal is given, no blame can be attached to ordinary motorists or vehicle drivers, if they do not clear the road.

• • • • • •

The sympathy of the thousands of friends whom Dr. W. E. Biederwolf has made in Plainfield will go out to the evangelist in the loss of his father. That he will keep up his work here, with but a few days' absence, under these distressing circumstances, proves the calibre of the man, for he is willing to put aside his personal grief in order to complete the great work he is doing in this city.

• • • • • •

The manner in which Mayor Raymond, of Newark, is being critisized for his handling of the liquor question, leads to the belief that he needs to take a few hours off and visit Plainfield. The problem comes as near not being one here, as it ever can in any community in the United States without absolute prohibition.

• • • • • •

The mosquito commission has left a lot of wrigglers in netting capped bottles, at various points about town, so that the development of the pests can be studied. Now if they will bring around a tank of goldfish, or a few trained canary birds to eat them after development, everybody will be happy.

• • • • • •

The automobile dealers do not care how long the street authorities take to repair Watchung avenue. Why? Because in its present condition they find it the best place in the city to try out new cars to see whether they rattle or not.

• • • • • •

Uncle Joe Cannon is suggested for President. Well, if the Republican convention should so far forget itself as to nominate him or Root, it is easy to predict four years more of Wilson. That's all!

• • • • • •

There is one kind of a riot that every man who has a nice front lawn wishes could be stopped, and the police are in no position to do it. We refer to the dandelions.

• • • • • •

Even Plainfield is feeling the horrors of war. A window was blown out in the Timbo Social Club yesterday, when the powder works blew up at Dover!

• • • • • •

How do you expect a fellow to work anyhow, when he knows that his garden needs hoeing?

• • • • • •

Yes, inquiring reader, it's safe to take 'em off.

Sir Roger Casement wants to be hanged with a silken cord. Hardly a worthy ambition but one that the English government will very probably aid.

• • • • • •

Nobody but a well advertised film star has all sorts of companies bringing suits against him when he quits his job.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

Luck.

With determination grim
I've followed superstition's whim.
I've picked up horseshoes by the score
And hung them up above my door.
And, though you may call it a joke,
I've never dared to kill a cat;
I've never spilled salt on a mat;
Beneath a ladder I ne'er walk;
Of fiendish dreams I never talk.
I gaze at each new moon, sublime,
O'er my right shoulder every time.
But without sign of an excuse,
Luck's turned me down; so what's the use?
Bad luck with me is now acute—
The moths have got my old spring suit.

Uncle Abner

Hank Purdy is certainly one of our rising young business men. He rises at 4 o'clock every morning and hurries over to the creamery.

Elihu Higgins says the more you do for some people the more you kin. Last week he gave his wife 10 cents to buy some lace and this week she struck him for 45 cents to buy dress good to go on it.

A feller never knows until the time comes whether he is going to be a daredevil or a coward, and you can't tell much by the looks of a feller, either.

The Hardshell congregation of our village is thinkin' some of cuttin' down expenses by dispensing with the sermons and the music.

There is only one thing that worries a woman more than the high cost of living, and that is her back hair.

The only thing in the world that will stick tighter than a mustard plaster is a life insurance agent.

The price of strawberries may be lower some day, but the bottoms of the boxes will never be. They are getting higher every year.

Since Anse Frisby took the green blinds off'n his front winders his house is cross-eyed.

Elmer Jones is lettin' his hair grow long and is almost ready to start out with a wagon and a gasoline torch introducin' a tapeworm remedy.

About the Size of It.

On the back of an envelope found on the ground after a gathering in South Carolina these fragments were jotted, surmised by the Columbia State to be the topical outline of a spellbinder's speech as penciled by him beforehand:

God knows—
The fair women—
The great State—
The old veterans
Breathes there a man—
Familiar faces—
Joke—
Deep gratitude—

Them Movie Drammers.

I never could tell (and I say it with vim),
With him dyin' for her, and her pinin' for him,
With his heart torn to shreds and her heart all in tatters,
I can't see just why they're so slow to mend matters.
I'd jump on the villain, his folks, and I'd kill 'em
And grab off the gal in the first foot of fillum.

Prohibition Sandwich.

Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock mass meeting. Evangelist's topic, "Hell." Booze in the afternoon and hell in the evening.—The East Palestine (O.) Leader.

ALONE WITH HIS THOUGHTS

- Proctor's Theatre -

Every day in the daily papers one sees a great stage star who has forsaken the footlights for the lure of the screen, and one of the latest and most famous of legitimate stars to enter the realm of the silent drama is Bertha Kalich, the talented and distinguished emotional actress, who makes her debut in motion pictures at Proctor's today in "Slander," a mammoth Fox production presented in six engrossing parts. Madame Kalich shows remarkable versatility in screen pantomime, and her acting holds the close attention of the spectators throughout the picture. "Slander" is staged in thoroughly effective fashion, and will appeal strongly to the great majority of picture-goers. Patrons will have their last opportunity today of seeing Charlie Chaplin cavort upon the screen in his mammoth four-reel comedy creation, "Carmen," and today's program also includes the presentation of the eleventh episode of "The Iron Claw." Tomorrow's headline attraction is "The Aryan," featuring William S. Hart, the far-famed Triangle delineator of Western characters. "The Aryan" is an original story by C. Gardner Sullivan, and is one of the most tensely compelling narratives ever penned by the prolific and versatile author, and suits to a nicety the capabilities of the screen's popular "bad man." In addition tomorrow Hank Mann, the droll Keystone funmakers, appears in a two-reel outburst of merriment entitled "His Bread and Butter," and there will be several other splendid features to provide variety and round out the program. On Friday the headline photoplay will be "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," a Paramount screen adaptation, with Charles Cherry enacting the leading role; the last chapter of the "Social Pirates" will be shown and other features will be presented. On Saturday Metro presents Grace Ellison in "Black Fear," Charlie Chaplin appears in "The Property Man," and there is a list of supporting comedy features that will prove a treat for the little folks. Next week will be known as Mary Pickford week, and in addition to the regular big program of wonderful features, patrons will have a chance of seeing this popular screen star in a different one of her greatest successes each day.

--Astor Theatre--

This is the day you are all waiting for to see the beautiful Parisian favorite, Anna Held, she of the naughty eyes, whose world-wide fame needs no announcing, at the Astor today only, in the Oliver Morosco photoplay, "Madame La Presidente," released on the Paramount program. This sparkling French comedy of the matrimonial tangles of M. Galipaux, the whitehaired judge, by its Parisian flavor, enables dainty Miss Held to attain that height of fascination and charm which has placed her name on the lips of everyone in America. As Mlle. Gobette, the actress, who finally becomes "Madame La President," she acts with such verve and vivacity as to make this filmization a photo-comedy distinctly different. Hobart Bosworth, favorite actor with millions of "picture fans," will lead the Bluebird camera-actors who come to the Astor Theatre tomorrow in the sensational feature film, "The Yaqui," a play in which his rugged acting and strong personality is brought out to the extreme of abundant opportunity. There is no subject of such importance just now is the strained situation along the Mexican border, the almost imminent possibilities of serious consequences keeps Mexico continually in print. To have a feature film treat with faithfulness to detail, its locations on the very soil of Mexico, and to bring to residents of the United States truthful replicas of life in Mexico may be considered timeliness extreme. This is what "The Yaqui" will do when exhibited tomorrow. You will be electrified by the sensational scenes and incidents, developed as part of an impelling story of love and devotion, with Hobart Bosworth the hero of the occasion. Always a big and interesting bill at the Astor Theatre, the house of Paramount and Bluebird features. You see them here first. Our motto, "Quality Not Quantity." We give travelstamps.

.· Plainfield Theatre. ·.

Garry McGarry and company, presenting the beautiful scenic production of Hawaiian life, will close their engagement at the Plainfield Theatre tonight after making one of the biggest hits recorded in several weeks. Seven people are in the cast, four of whom are young men who play the ukalale and sing Hawaiian songs in a captivating manner. Four and five encores were the regular thing after each solo number at the performance since Monday.

In addition to the regular bill of six acts tonight, a portion of the time will be allotted to another of those merit-provoking amateur sessions. Seven entries have been received by Manager Shannon, and there may be two or three more by the time the fun begins. The revival of amateur night locally has been very successful, capacity crowds attending on each occasion.

For the lovers of movies, the programs at the Plainfield Theatre always contain something new and novel. Feature films are shown at every performance. Tomorrow's special will be the continuation of the sensational serial, "The Iron Claw," and on Friday the current episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page." Charlie Chaplin comedies are shown at regular intervals, and the Pathe Semi-Weekly is scheduled the Pathe semi-weekly is scheduled for Tuesday and Saturday.

SCIENTISTS AGREE THAT ANIMALS HAVE MORE OR LESS MENTALITY

Man has considered himself "the lord of creation" for so many centuries, and has been so thoroughly inoculated with the idea that he is the only thing that really thinks that the discovery of recent years that animals also have thinking powers and can reason along certain circumscribed lines, has been very slow of acknowledgement. To a very great extent the remarkable stories told from time to time in the press have been regarded as either fanciful or exaggerated. Slowly, however, there is growing up in the minds of the public an appreciation of the fact that animals have more or less mentality, according to species and environment, and some students of natural history have even gone so far as to raise the question whether, after all, animals may not have souls.

It is this long-continued attitude of mankind toward the lower animals and the questions that have recently been aroused by scientists regarding their mentality that gives the visit of the Cook & Wilson wild animal circus to this city on Friday, May 19, a particular interest at this time. Naturally, the primary purpose of the Cook & Wilson show is to afford entertainment for the public, and in this respect this great traveling institution is said to stand practically alone among exhibitions of its kind. Nevertheless, the question of whether or not wild animals think is answered to a great extent by the wonderful performances given by the trained wild beast with the show. Those who have seen the Cook & Wilson animal circus say they "do everything but talk," and presumably they even talk in their own way. Under the direction of their trainers, tigers and pumas go through evolutions that would be impossible for unthinking beasts to remember; lions, bears, jaguars, seals, kangaroos, elephants, horses, ponies and other animals, wild and domestic, exhibit the most apparent intelligence in their work, and throughout the exhibition of "educated" beasts there is said to be unescapable evidence of calculation and reasoning. The performance is thrilling, but also scientifically interesting.

In addition to the trained animal numbers, the Cook & Wilson show offers a big program of highclass circus numbers, interspersed with riotously funny comedy by an army of Merry Andrews. A mile long free street parade will inaugurate circus day. Performances will be given afternoon and night.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

GUARDS BROUGHT IN AS PRISONERS.

Americans Outwit Mexicans South of Border.

Alpine, Tex., May 10.—Bringing back three of their guards as prisoners, eight Americans made captive by bandits at the mine of the International Mining company, south of Boquillas, Tex., have returned safely to the American side. The Americans overpowered their guards after being taken twenty-five miles into the interior of Mexico and succeeded in getting back to the United States without an encounter.

News of the plucky escape of the Americans was brought in by Carl Halter, the mine superintendent, who said that J. Deemer, the Boquillas storekeeper, and Monroe Payne, a negro, were still prisoners of the Mexicans. Halter did not believe that either had been killed.

The party of Americans who made their escape consisted of Carl Halter, mine superintendent; R. R. Hasbrouck, Dr. Homer Powers of San Angelo, W. T. Butler, Nick Postrius, N. R. McKnight, George Scott and Austin Swayze.

The men say that their Mexican captors made no effort to harm them and treated them well. The prisoners were taken on a truck belonging to the mine, which the Mexicans forced them to drive and on which the bandits carried provisions stolen from the mine commissary and store of Deemer, east of Boquillas, Tex.

The Americans assert that the band of raiders who took them prisoners were former Villistas under command of Colonel Natividad Alvarez, who informed them that he was taking them prisoners to Villa at Torreon, but that they could come back later.

DENVER GIVES UP COMMISSION

After Three Years Colorado Metropolis Goes Back to a Mayor.

Denver, Colo., May 10.—Denver, a city of 250,000 population, as a result of the municipal election, will return to the old mayoralty form of government after three years' trial of the commission form.

Unofficial returns show that Robert W. Speer, formerly mayor, of the "boss" type, has been re-elected to the office of mayor by an estimated majority of between 12,000 and 14,000. It is estimated that about 63,000 votes were cast.

William W. Booth, the only opponent of Mr. Speer, and the Denver Post, which has been putting up a strenuous fight against Speer, both conceded Speer's election.

Carranza Said to Seek Loan.

Havana, May 10.—Senor Zubaran, President Carranza's minister to Berlin, has arrived here on his way to Berlin. It is believed that he has been commissioned to raise a loan in Germany.

Weather Forecast.

Fair, followed by unsettled, possibly showers; warmer; variable to southwest winds.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
Albany	48	Clear
Atlantic City	62	Clear
Boston	58	Clear
Buffalo	44	Cloudy
Chicago	44	Cloudy
New Orleans	86	Clear
New York	58	Cloudy
St. Louis	76	Cloudy
Washington	64	Clear

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Ashputtel Goes to The King's Feast After All.

Looked So Splendid in Her New Finery.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

AFTER supper daddy took Jack and Evelyn on his knees and told them: "When a hard hearted mother told her stepdaughter, Ashputtel, that she might go to the king's ball if she could pick a dishful of peas out of an ash heap in two hours Ashputtel got her friends, the birds, to pick up the peas for her. But her mother only said: 'You can't dance. Pick two dishes of peas out of the ashes in one hour and you may go.'

"So Ashputtel went out into the garden and cried out to her birds:

"'Hither, hither, through the sky,
Turtledoves and linnets fly!
Blackbird, thrush and chaffinch gay,
Hither, hither, haste away!
One and all come help me quick!
Haste ye, haste ye—pick, pick, pick!'

"Then first came two white doves in at the kitchen window. Next came two turtledoves. And after them all the little birds under heaven, chirping and hopping about. Down into the ashes they flew. They bent their heads down and set to work—pick, pick, pick! And soon they had the two dishes of peas picked out of the ash heap.

"Delighted, Ashputtel took the two dishes of peas to her stepmother. She thought that now she might go to the party like her stepsisters. But the stepmother only said: 'It's no use. You have no clothes and would only put us all to shame.' And off she went with her two daughters to the king's feast.

"Ashputtel was so sad, left all alone, that she went to the hazel tree she had once planted over her own mother's grave. She went to it and cried:

"'Shake, shake, hazel tree,
Gold and silver over me!'

"Then her friend, the bluebird, that had built a nest in the hazel tree flew down and brought a gold and silver dress for Ashputtel. He also brought slippers all spangled with silver. Then Ashputtel happily put them on and followed her stepsisters to the ball.

"But they did not know her, all dressed up in her beautiful clothes. They thought she must be some strange princess, she looked so splendid in her new finery. They hardly remembered Ashputtel, sitting safely at home in the ashes. They danced about, trying to attract the king's son, and they showed off their own clothes. But all through the evening they never thought of their little drudge at home," daddy ended the story.

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS EVA LEONARD

Isn't It Enough to Make One Cry When a Horrid Maid is Impudent?..

"Why, Ethel, what is the matter?" asked Ralph Gordon, coming into the bedroom and finding his wife sobbing in a heap on the foot of the bed. He had passed through the empty living room in his search for her. Ethel sat up at the sound of his voice and pushed back her disheveled hair.

"Close the door," she said tragically. He obeyed and came and sat on the side of the bed to learn the cause of the tears.

"That maid—" began Ethel.

"What, Minnie?" interrupted Ralph.

"Yes; she was so impudent today. I was telling her what I wanted prepared for the refreshments for the little evening gathering and what do you suppose she said?" Ethel paused impressively.

"I haven't the slightest idea, but you surely were not crying because of what a maid said to you?" Ralph asked incredulously.

"Well, wait till you hear what she said," resumed the tearful little woman. "When I asked her to prepare some salad and make a cake and chocolate and cut the sandwiches in patterns and—and—" she swallowed a sob, "she said that it took folks that knew nothing about work to be the most unfeeling mistresses; that I had given her enough work for that day to keep three maids busy." Ralph laughed.

"How can you laugh, Ralph Gordon. It is bad enough to have your maid impudent, but to have your husband think it is funny and laugh at you is——" The rest of the sentence was drowned in tears and delivered into the pocket handkerchief.

"Why, my dear," said the young man, stifling his mirth. "She simply meant that you were giving her more to do than she could get done because you had no idea how much time and strength anything would take. I do not see anything to be miserable over. I suppose the truth hits home pretty hard, though."

"And she said if things did not get better she should go back to Milwaukee." Ethel stopped crying long enough to deliver herself of this crushing sentence.

"She knows that will fetch you; she has you on the hip. Whatever would you do if she left?" asked Ralph, drawing her toward him to hasten the comforting process.

"I do not know," wailed the helpless little thing, laying her head on his shoulder.

"It is awful to be so dependent on servants, little girl. Why do you not learn somethig about housework and cooking so you would know more about what you were asking when you give orders. I'll tell you what to do," he began again brightly after a pause. "You tell Minnie that you will prepare the refreshments for the guests if she will do the other work that day."

"Ethel removed the handkerchief from her eyes and looked reproachfully at her husband.

"I can't begin practicing cooking on guests! You want things the nicest possible when you have company, and this is my first party."

"Well, couldn't you help with the other work on that day, so Minnie could get the extra time needed to prepare the refreshments."

"And get my hands all spoiled for the evening!" There was withering scorn in her tone.

"But what will you do? You do not want to let her think you are trying to overwork her. She would be sure to leave then," ventured Ralph.

"Well, I guess there are more maids," said Ethel loftily, sliding off the bed and going to the mirror to repair the ravages of the storm.

"I doubt it, at least here in Fairport. Take my advice and go slow, or you will find yourself alone with all the work to do."

Ethel tossed her head as she rubbed the powder on her face. Her husband's attitude had hardened her in her determination to let Minnie see who was mistress of that house.

(To be continued..)

Lawn Mowers?

Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the five cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.
119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.

Two Phones, 5—6.

OUR OUTOMOBILE FIRE AND THEFT POLICY INSURES AGAINST
Loss or damage by FIRE, arising from any cause whatsoever.
Loss or damage (while in the hands of a transportation company) by stranding, burning, sinking, derailment and collision.
Loss by THEFT, of entire automobile or accessories, in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25.00.)
Reimbursement of the assured in consequence of a loss for any reasonable expenses incurred in recovering, saving and preserving the property insured from further damage.
Our rates are the lowest, companies the strongest, and service the best. Place your business here.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS

GEO. M. CLARKE CO.

Babcock Bldg. Telephone 309 Plainfield.

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

"Stirring news" today—war news, local news, store news

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WASH DAY MENU.

MONDAY—BREAKFAST.
Oranges. Cereal and Cream.
Waffles. Honey. Coffee.

LUNCHEON.
Cream of Celery.
Toasted Graham Bread.
Lettuce and Apple Salad.
Cookies. Tea.

DINNER.
Celery Mince.
Roast Spring Lamb With Mint Sauce.
Peas. Romaine Salad.
Assorted Fruits. Coffee.

Various Mushrooms.

MUSHROOMS AU GRATIN.—For this very appetising dish select a dozen big mushrooms, trim and peel them and separate the tops and stalks. Chop the stalks fine, with two tablespoonfuls of parsley and two tablespoonfuls of fat bacon. Add salt and pepper to taste and two eggs, beaten well. Put the dozen tops of the mushrooms in a buttered baking dish and then add the chopped mixture. Sprinkle the top with fine breadcrumbs and melted butter and bake until brown.

Mushrooms For Garnishing. — For garnishing, canned mushrooms answer the purpose very well. Fresh mushrooms should be peeled and trimmed and boiled tender and then used whole or chopped in gravy or sauce.

Creamed Mushrooms.—Boil the mushrooms until tender, after peeling and trimming neatly. Then make a thick white sauce and add the mushrooms to it. It should be well seasoned and rich.

Mushroom Patties.—Heat patty shells, crisp, rich ones, and have ready creamed mushrooms. Put a tablespoonful of the creamed mushrooms into each hot patty shell and serve.

Mushroom Omelet.—Beat the whites of four eggs stiff and beat the yolks until creamy. Fold together and add a little salt. Pour into a hot omelet pan and cover. Cook slowly. When ready to fold sprinkle half the omelet with half a cupful of minced mushrooms, fold, put in the oven for two minutes and serve.

Mushrooms In Brown Sauce.—Brown two tablespoonfuls of butter with two of flour. Then add a cupful of the water in which mushrooms have been slowly boiled. When thick and smooth season well with salt and pepper and add the mushrooms. Cut small.

Chicken and Mushrooms. — Broiled chicken is delicious with mushrooms. Have ready some creamed mushrooms and put them, in tablespoonfuls, on small pieces of hot buttered toast around the broiled chickens on a platter.

Mushrooms and Sweetbreads.—Mushrooms and sweetbreads are delicious together. Boil the sweetbreads and mushrooms separately and cut into small pieces. Mix with rich cream sauce and serve, seasoned with salt and pepper.

Anna Thompson.

THE WOMAN'S COLUMN

Minneapolis.—Twenty-five States are represented in the Mississippi Valley suffrage conference which opened with a big mass-meeting Sunday night. Five hundred delegates, prominent in women's work, are attending. Consideration of methods of campaigning for the vote and organization procedure are the chief topics that the delegates took up at the first regular session. Among the speakers are Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Florence B. Paterson of Chicago; Emmy Evald, noted Swedish suffrage worker; Antoinette Finnegan, of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Ella S. Stewart, of Chicago. The spectacular parades and stump speeches on the sidewalks will be lacking this year, the suffragists having determined to concentrate on the serious side of the suffrage question.

New Orleans.—Louisiana will have a clever woman in the executive mansion when Governor-elect Ruffin G. Pleasant is inaugurated. Mrs. Pleasant has been a decided belle for many years in Louisiana, and she is noted for her cleverness and charming personality. Mrs. Pleasant was, before her marriage, Miss Annie Ector, of Marshall, Texas, daughter of a general in the Confederate army and later supreme judge of Texas. A great part of her girlhood was spent in Shreveport. She married Colonel Pleasant ten years ago, and has been a social leader in New Orleans since then.

Boston.—Putting babies in women's colleges for educational purposes, inducing all young women to earn their own living before marrying, and developing team games among girls—are some of the things advocated at the Twentieth Century Club meeting by Dr. Luther H. Gulick, of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. He insisted that exposure of young girls to the care of babies should be one of the chief parts of their training for womanhood. He declared the women who earned their own way before marriage were the happier and more successful, and have given more than the women who have not had the experience of standing on their own feet.

Washington. — It is expected that 140 homes being constructed for wage-earners as a memorial to the late Mrs. Ellen Wilson, will be completed in September. The homes are situated within a mile of the Capitol building, and are planned on modern lines for colored wage-earners, to create more wholesome living conditions and wipe out the alley-homes. About 1,200 persons will be accommodated in the new buildings. The Ellen Wilson Memorial Homes are the outgrowth of the idea of the late Mrs Wilson. Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, who assisted her in the work of eliminating the alley slums, has carried through the project, securing the location and starting the builders at work. Every room in the new buildings is open to the fresh air, and the modern conveniences are supplied. There are playgrounds, day nurseries, club rooms and small libraries for the use of the colored workers.

Indianapolis.—Women social workers will have an important part in the big conference of the National Conference of Charities and Correction, which opened here today. Among the chairmen and speakers are Dr. Julia C. Lathrop, chief of the Children's Bureau; Miss Katherine B. Davis, chairman of the parole commission of New York City; Mrs. A. D. Sheffield, of Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. Alice Stebbin Wells, a member of the Los Angeles police force

ASK FOR and GET

HORLICK'S

THE ORIGINAL
MALTED MILK

Cheap substitutes cost YOU same price

BIG SUMMER SESSION AT RUTGERS COLLEGE

Extensive Preparations Now Underway for School Which Opens July 5.

Extensive preparations are now underway at Rutgers College, New Brunswick, for the summer session which opens July 5 and continues for six weeks. An attractive bulletin issued this week announces more than one hundred and fifty courses in education, methods of teaching, psychology, the liberal arts and sciences, industrial arts, manual training and vocational education.

The American Association for International Conciliation was so impressed with the attendance upon the courses in Spanish, Latin-American geography and international relations which were given through their cooperation last year, that they have again made a liberal appropriation for the offering of similar courses.

Many courses for teachers which cover the State certificate requirements are offered and all such courses when completed are accepted by the State Board of Examiners in lieu of examination. Especial emphasis has been placed upon work in domestic science, manual training, vocational education and the psychology of deficient children.

A decided departure is made, this year, in that larger emphasis is being placed upon work of regular collegiate grade. Many college courses are being offered and students of Rutgers College and other colleges have the opportunity of completing many regular college courses during the summer session. In addition to this a number of graduate courses which earn credit for the higher degrees are offered.

Among the new courses which will be offered is a course on the organization of the Boy Scouts of America, two on vocational education, one on recent theories in biology, one in expert swimming and a number of special courses in agriculture, art, psychology and education.

A large number of the professors of the regular staff of Rutgers College will offer courses. These will be assisted by teachers of high rank from such institutions as Columbia University, Barnard College, Wesleyan University, Cornell University, the State Normal Schools of New Jersey, the University of Illinois and Delaware College.

An effort is made to assist students in obtaining positions. To this end a comprehensive system of placing teachers has been inaugurated and this appointment bureau is in position to render adequate service to such teachers as enroll in the summer session.

MAY 10 IN HISTORY.

1574—Beginning of the modern stage, by royal license issued by Queen Elizabeth.

1649—Governor Endicott and others in Massachusetts formed an association against wearing long hair.

1778—Birthday of William Ladd, one of the founders of the American Peace Society.

1810—First agricultural exhibition in the United States opened at Georgetown, D. C.

1837—New York banks stopped specie payment; other American banks followed same course.

1853—The Pope prohibited circulation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in his dominions.

1871—Alsace-Lorraine ceded by France to Germany as spoils of Franco-Prussian War.

1913—Chinese government accepts loan of $125,000,000 from bankers of five powers.

1914—Death of Lillian Nordica, famous singer, on a South Sea island.

1915—THE WAR.
Russians claim all important posts are held against Austrian advance in the Carpathians. Admit withdrawal for thirty miles in West Galicia.
French take ground and trenches near Souchez.
President Wilson at Philadelphia: "There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as a nation being so right that it does not need to convice others by force that it is right."
German air raid at Southend, England. One death.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Plainfield Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment.
Must be proved to be as represented.
The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.
But the endorsement of friends is.
Now supposing you had a bad back,
A lame, weak, or aching one,
Would you experiment on it?
You will read of many so-called cures.
Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.
It's different when the endorsement comes from home.
Easy to prove local testimony.
Read this Plainfield case:
Mrs. Patience Manchester, 120 Lafayette place, Plainfield, says: "For a long time I doctored and tried various remedies for my kidneys and bladder, but didn't get a cure. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me good results from the first, and before long rid me of the trouble. I still use this remedy occasionally, and it always relieves me of serious trouble."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Manchester had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., May 1, 1916.

AN ORDINANCE

For the Assessment of Taxes for the Year 1916.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That pursuant to the statutes and ordinances and resolutions in such cases made and provided and certifications thereunder, there shall be assessed and raised by tax for the year nineteen hundred and sixteen, for the general purposes of the City, exclusive of school, library, poor, fire, street, lighting, State and county taxes and contingent fund, the sum of ($96,000) Ninety-six Thousand Dollars.

This sum includes the following, to be raised by general tax for the several purposes specified, viz.:

For street improvement	$ 55,000
For Police Department	88,000
For maintenance of sewers	11,000
For salaries	19,000
For Board of Health	10,000
For City's share of benefits for permanent street improvements	3,000
For supporting indigent patients in Muhlenberg Hospital pursuant to Chapter 256, P. L. 1911	4,000
For printing and advertising	4,000
For maintenance of District Court	3,000
For rent of city offices	2,200
For miscellaneous expenses	500
For Police Pension Fund	1,325
For Public Recreation Fund	500
For care of City dumps	400
For free Dental Clinic, pursuant to Chapter 79, P. L. 1911	500
For changing City Assessment Maps	125
For expenses of Commissioners in street widening	450
For catching and disposing of dogs	50
For extra help in Collector's office	400
For care of City Park	200
For fire insurance premiums	350
For Memorial Day	100
For Madison avenue and Central avenue widening	7,000
For assessments and taxes, extra help, postage, etc.	1,000
Total for General Purposes	$162,000
Less receipts from fees, licenses, franchise and bank taxes, poll taxes, etc., etc., estimated at	$ 66,000
BALANCE to be raised for general purposes under this ordinance	96,000

Also there shall be so assessed and raised the following sums for the several purposes specified:

For interest to fall due during the year 1916 on Permanent Brick Pavement Bonds dated Sept. 1, 1907, One Thousand and Eighty Dollars	1,080
For interest to fall due during said year 1916 on Street Improvement Macadam Bonds, One Thousand, Eight Hundred and Seventy-five Dollars	1,875
For interest to fall due during said year 1916, on Police Station House Bonds dated July 1, 1908, Eight Hundred and Fifty-five Dollars	855
For payment of principal of said Station House Bonds maturing during said year 1916, One Thousand Dollars	1,000
For payment of principal of Brick Pavement Bonds falling due in 1916, Two Thousand Dollars	2,000
For payment of principal of sewer bonds (except obligations payable out of assessments, and temporary obligations) maturing in 1916, Six Thousand Dollars	6,000
For interest falling due in 1916 on outstanding Sewer Bonds and obligations, Twenty-five Thousand Eight Hundred and Forty-five Dollar	25,845
For interest falling due in 1916 on Fifteen Thousand Dollar Fire House Bonds, Six Hundred and Seventy-five Dollars	675
For Sinking Fund to retire the principal of said Fire House Bonds at Maturity, One Thousand, Three Hundred Dollars	1,300
For the support of the City poor, Eleven Thousand Dollars	11,000
For the maintenance of the Public Library and reading room, Eleven Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars	11,500
For the maintenance of the City Fire Department, Fifty-five Thousand Dollars	55,000
For the amount required for the year 1916 by the Shade Tree Commissioners of the City, as certified by them, Two Thousand Dollars	2,000
For the care, custody, policing and maintenance of the Playgrounds and recreation places, and for the expenses of the Board of Playground Commissioners, Two Thousand Dollars	2,000
For the expenses of the year 1916 for lighting the public streets and places in the City of Plainfield, as ascertained and determined by resolution of the Common Council and certified to the assessors of said City, Nineteen Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars	19,500
For interest falling due in 1916 on School Bonds authorized under City ordinances or resolutions of the Common Council, Twenty-Eight Thousand Dollars	28,000
For payment of principal of such school bonds maturing in 1916, Six Thousand Dollars	6,000
For Sinking Fund for retirement at maturity of School Bonds aggregating One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars, authorized by resolution of the Common Council, adopted June 1, 1908, and November 1, 1909, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Twenty-five Dollars	1,925
For interest on City Hall notes estimated	3,000
Total	$376,555

5 3 2w.

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

Your Opportunity Lasts Only Three Days Longer

NATIONAL GAS RANGE WEEK is going fast. Thursday—Friday—Saturday, are the days remaining in which to take advantage of the special reduction of five per cent. on any Cabinet Gas Range you may buy of us.

By paying cash you will also get an extra five per cent. discount.

Come to our Show Room this week.

The Cabinet Gas Range illustrated above costs $30.50. Through our Service Payment Plan you can pay for it at the rate of $2.00 down and 1.50 per month. Other Cabinet Gas Ranges sell at from $25.50 to $175.00.

Every home should have a Cabinet Gas Range, if only for the reason that it costs less to cook with.

Why not step in and make your selection today?

If you cannot visit our Show Room during National Gas Range Week fill in and mail the coupon below.

Public Service

Public Service Gas Co.,

Kindly send representative to see me, (day).... (hour)....

Name .....

Street .....

P. O. .....

COAL

CONSUMERS COAL COMPANY

EGG, STOVE, NUT
$6.75 Per Ton
Pea $5.25
30c discount for Spot Cash
A charge of 25c extra for carrying coal
Hay, Grain and Feed

CONSUMERS COAL CO.

Tel. 66 225 Madison Ave.

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting Station, Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, any Friday between 9 o'clock and noon.

All-year jobs at good pay.

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY

Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's
Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

If you are a student of the "ads" you KNOW WHAT IT OUGHT TO COST.

The store's advertisement is the store's daily message to you—and there is not often a day in which there is not something new and interesting in that message.

SPORT TOPICS

COVERING ALL BRANCHES CONCISELY

Sports Dept. Tel. 3000—Extension 3. PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1916. Serving Its Twenty-ninth Year.

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

BALLISTS WILL SET A UNIQUE PRECEDENT.

In these days of unkissed athletes and explosions that make the lazy-boned idlers sit up and take notice one is prepared for almost any shock that is to be put across but who among us ever thought they'd be able to induce our City League ballists to wend their way toward the Tabernacle? Of course the trick hasn't been accomplished to date but it's well on the road to reality and the suggestion deserves the hearty unanimous support of the one hundred or more registered members of the organization. The leaders of every team are enthusiastic over the idea and everything possible should be done to have every individual affiliated with the league on deck when the meeting is held in the Daily Press office Sunday afternoon. Make the delegation a representative one and some benefit is certain to derive from the novelty.

• • • • • •

HOW ABOUT THAT COUNTY ATHLETIC MEET?

Now is the time to begin stumping for the Union County High School athletic meet. Parker Field proved an excellent meeting place for the county athletes last year and there is every reason to believe that it should be the logical selection for the 1916 event. It is easily reached, has the best track and field available and enjoys the acquaintance of athletic talent from nearly every high school in this section. The county runners and jumpers were enthusiastic in their praise of the reception given them last year by the local high school athletic association and little persuasion would be necessary to bring the classic back to Plainfield this spring.

• • • • • •

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS HERE MEMORIAL DAY.

Then, too, Plainfield on May 30 will be the mecca for at least 3,000 outsiders, coming here from New York and other parts of New Jersey, to participate in the monster letter carriers' demonstration. Memorial Day is the logical date for athletic meeting of high schools and the event would no doubt prove an attractive feature to the day's program. The thousands of visitors would be interested in such an affair and it would be a drawing card well worth the trouble of organization. Plainfield High School has enough faculty athletic promoters to handle the proposition and it would be comparatively easy at this time to line up the schools.

• • • • • •

FOR LEFTHANDED GOLFERS.

Something new in golf has been devised by the North Hills Country Club, near Philadelphia. It will hold a one-day tournament on June 13, for lefthanded golfers, and will invite every lefthander who belongs to a club on the rolls of the Golf Association of Philadelphia. The competition will consist of an 18-hole handicap. Such solicitude for the lefthanded players has never been in evidence in the Metropolitan district, but now that a Philadelphia club has shown the way some New York organization may decide to follow suit. There are few lefthanded golfers who have attained any degree of proficiency at the royal and ancient game, Brice Evans, of Boston, being about the best in the country. Bruce Pearce, of Australia, is one of the best lefthanded golfers who have accomplished anything in British tourneys.

• • • • • •

LIFE IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES

The Major League races are proceeding as best they may in between rain drops. The month of April, now happily ended, was not propitious. On the opening day the weather was fair and all clubs got in their games, but since then there has been few days on which the entire schedules were followed, owing to cold or rainy weather. In this particular, the East was rather worse off than the West, New England particularly being hard hit by bad weather. As a result 31 games were postponed in April—20 in the National League and 11 in the American League, of which by far the larger share fell to the East. Under the conditions, while good ball has been the rule, the Eastern teams are rather below the Western teams in point of playing strength, owing to the many enforced lay-offs which have served to lessen team effectiveness, and particularly to slow up the pitchers.

Queries--Comment--Answers

Query—Is Arbor Day a legal holiday throughout the United States?—B. L. K.

Answer—Arbor Day is a legal holiday in some States, although in some it is observed as designated by the Governor.

Query—A. bets that Ralph Runyon, of Plainfield, holds the record for pole vaulting. B. bets that Platt Adams hold it. Which is correct?—V. G.

Answer—Neither holds the pole vaulting record, although Adams holds the mark for the vault for distance (indoor). M. S. Wright, of Cambridge, Mass., holds the record with a vault of 13 feet 2¼ inches.

Query—Is there any restriction in Plainfield governing the installation of those gasoline tanks along the curbs in the business section?—J. I. P.

Answer—It is first necessary to secure a permit from the Common Council before installing a gas tank, and, if granted, the regulations of the building inspector have to be rigidly observed.

Query—What is the average attendance daily in the high schools of Manhattan?—M. M.

Answer—About 19,180 according to the latest figures.

Query—What is the moon's distance from the earth?—C. M. U.

Answer—The moon's mean distance from the earth (center to center) is 238,850 miles.

Seen and Heard on the Street

"Fritz" Harding, First Lord of the Key in the Berckman street tower, limbering up for a heavy duty telegraph trick by helping "Den" Gavin plant potatoes in the latter's spud plantation on Greenbrook road.

Stranger in town, who had evidently been looking at the city through the bottom of glasses, cautiously picking his way along the narrow boardwalk at North and Park avenues and trying to count the bottom row of a pile of bricks in order to keep his balance.

In common with all the other occupants of houses on Grandview avenue, paperhanger rushing out of a residence when the Powder Works Explosion occurred yesterday noon carrying in his hand a paste-bedaubed brush which he slobbered all over "Mike" Higgins' new coat in his excitement. Crowd forgot all about the cause of the explosion for the moment to sympathize with "Mike" and offers to help him lynch the offending paperhanger.

He was a well dressed man and he got off one of the commuting trains at the North Avenue station Monday afternoon. It was plainly noticed from his unsteady gait that he had been drinking. He was puffing vigorously on a cigar and he suddenly tripped and fell backward opposite 146 North avenue. He turned a complete somersault and then fetched up against a doorway without having lost the cigar or even missing a puff as he rolled over. The acrobatic feat was too much for him, however, and it required the assistance of several fellow commuters to get him straightened out and headed for his home in North Plainfield.

Here's one a clever team gets off at the Plainfield Theatre: Pretty stenographer in hotel to drummer who has been trying to get acquainted—"I trust you will pardon my coldness at first because you know girls in a place like this have to be on their guard." Drummer—"On your guard? Why, say, kid, when it comes to preparedness you're the whole national defense."

This one sounds fishy but it actually happened a few days ago. A prominent family killed a pet cat which had been in the household for many years. The head of the house, who is a commuter, decided the easiest way to get rid of the remains was to place them in a box and drop them off the back-end of the ferryboat as he journeyed to New York in the morning. On the boat he became involved in a hot political argument and forgot all about the package under his arm until he was half way up Liberty street. It was too late to do anything then so he kept it at the office all day with the idea of dropping it off the boat at night. On the homeward trip he again forgot everything through a discussion of national affairs and lost all track of the corpse under his arm until he boarded the train. With muttered curses he placed the box in a rack over his seat intending to leave it there and let the "Lost and Found Department" of the railroad hold the post mortem. On alighting at the North Avenue station, he was sneaking along with an innocent expression on his face when the trainman came running after him and handed him the package he had purposely forgotten. Without saying anything to the family his next idea was to bury the hoodoo carcass in the backyard after supper and he meandered that way as the shades of night were falling fast. Before placing the body of poor pussy in its last resting place he opened the box to have one last, long, lingering look at the departed family pet and found—what do you suppose? A fine leg of lamb belonging to some other commuter which had been left alongside the cat casket. Pause, gentle reader, and imagine what happened when the wife of the man who was carrying the leg of lamb opened up the other box?

SOUTH PLAINFIELD READY FOR FIRST BALL CONTEST

The South Plainfield Baseball Club will entertain the New Market Field Club Sunday afternoon. This will be the initial appearance of the South Plainfield team.

Keenest rivalry always marks the clash between these two teams. Harry Sofield will be in the box. The home team will line up as follows: Hamilton ss; Phillips, rf; P. McDonough, c; Smith, 3b; F. McDonough, 1b; Miller, cf; Riely, lf; T. Colfax, 2b, and Sofield, p.

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Bowling—Gates' alleys.

Tomorrow.

N. P. H. S. at Roselle.

Elks' Billiard Tourney.

Thursday.

Elks' Billiard Tourney.

Woodbridge at Plainfield (tennis).

Friday.

Elks' Billiard Tourney.

Saturday.

N. P. H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

Plainfield A. A. at First Baptist.

T. A. B. S. at Hope

Clinton Avenue at Netherwood

Elks' billiard tourney.

Monday.

Central H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

WITH BASES FULL, EDER FANNED OUT

P. H. S. Had Chance to Beat Roselle in Ninth But Flunked.

Loose playing in the first two innings caused Plainfield High School's baseball outfit to lose a 7 to 3 game to Roselle High School on Parker Field yesterday afternoon. The visitors started off in the first frame with three counters, and got two more in the next, while the locals grabbed only one. For the rest of the game, Plainfield played the winners to a standstill, and started what looked to be a dangerous rally in the ninth, but it was choked off.

The first two men to face McDowell were walked, and after Gradrof grounded to Lewis and was thrown out at first, Davies sent over the first two runs with a two-sacker that the high wind carried beyond Noonan's reach. Pulley's sacrifice scored Davies and Gaffney fanned. In the Plainfield half, Dunham walked, stole second and came home on Apgar's out. Roselle grabbed two more in the second on one hit, coupled with three walks.

Dealman replaced McDowell on the mound at the start of the third and the scoring stopped until the seventh session, when two errors by Linke and a hit were responsible for the last two runs. P. H. S. got a run in the seventh and eighth on some clean hitting. Noonan got on by an error and got to third on Victorson's pinch hit. Semer walked, filling the bases, but Eder struck out.

The score:

ROSELLE H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Vega, c	4	1	0	10	1	0
Benedict, ss, p	4	1	2	1	1	0
Gradrof, 3b	4	0	0	0	1	0
Davies, p, ss	5	1	2	2	3	0
Pulley, 2b	3	0	0	2	3	1
Gaffney, rf	4	0	0	1	0	1
Galloway, 7b	4	2	1	9	2	0
Davenport, cf	3	2	0	2	0	0
W. Gaffney, lf	4	0	0	0	0	0
	35	7	5	27	11	2

PLAINFIELD H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Dunham, rf	4	1	0	0	2	0
Mills, cf, 2b	4	1	1	3	0	0
Kyle, 1b	3	1	2	11	0	1
Apgar, c	3	0	1	6	0	0
Linke, 3b	4	0	0	2	3	2
Noonan, lf	4	0	0	2	0	0
McDowell, p	1	0	0	0	0	0
Lewis, 2b	3	0	0	0	4	2
Coudray, ss	2	0	0	2	3	0
Dealman, p	2	0	1	0	0	3
Semer, cf	0	0	0	0	0	0
aVictorson	1	0	1	0	0	0
bEder	1	0	0	0	0	0
	32	3	6	26	12	8

Benedict out bunting on last strike.

aBatted for Dealman in ninth.

bBatted for Coudray in ninth.

Score by irnings:

R. H. S.	3	2	0	0	0	2	0	0	—7
P. H. S.	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	—3

Summary: Earned runs—R. H. S., 2; P. H. S., 3. Two-base hit—Davies. First base on balls—off McDowell, 5 (in two innings); off Dealman, 1 (in seven innings); off Davies, 4 (in nine innings). Struck out—by McDowell, 1 (in two innings); by Dealman, 4 (in seven innings); by Davies, 11 (in nine innings). Left on base—R. H. S., 2; P. H. S., 4. First base on errors—R. H. S., 5; P. H. S., 1. Passed ball, 1 (Apgar). Umpire—Mullen.

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played in National and American Leagues.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Pittsburgh—									R.	H.	E.
New York	0	1	1	0	0	6	4	0	1—13	16	1
Pittsburgh	0	2	1	0	1	0	0	0	1—8	8	2

Tesreau, Benton, Mathewson, Rariden; Harmon, Jacobs, Hill, Gibson, Schmidt.

At Chicago—										R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	1	2	1	1	0	0	0	0	0—5	9	3
Chicago	3	0	0	1	0	0	0	5	*—9	16	1

Mitchell, Schneider, Schulz, Clarke; Seaton, Pierce, Prendergast, Allen.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	10	4	.714	Phila'phia	8	8	.500
Boston	10	5	.667	St. Louis	10	10	.500
Chicago	12	10	.545	Pittsburg	9	13	.409
Cincinnati	11	11	.500	New York	3	13	.188

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

At Washington—										R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1	0	0	0	0	3	4	2	0—10	8	1
Wash'gton	0	2	0	3	0	0	0	0	0—5	11	3

Green, Davenport, Parks, Hartley; Harper, Ayers, Gallia, Henry.

At Philadelphia—										R.	H.	E.
Detroit	1	8	0	0	6	1	0	0	0—16	11	0
Philad'phia	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	0—2	3	5

Cunningham, Boland, Stanage; Baker, Nabors, Weaver, Ray, Schang, Murphy.

At Boston—										R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0—1	3	4
Boston	0	0	1	0	1	0	1	2	*—5	6	0

Covaleskie, Mitchell, O'Neill; Leonard, Carrigan.

At New York—										R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0	0	0	4	1	0	0	0	0—5	6	3
New York	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—4	6	1

Williams, Cicotte, Schalk; Caldwell, Alexander.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	16	8	.652	Detroit	11	11	.500
New York	11	9	.550	Chicago	11	12	.478
Wash'ton	11	9	.550	St. Louis	8	11	.421
Boston	11	11	.500	Phila'phia	7	13	.350

—Press want ads. pay.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

LEAGUERS WILL LINE UP AT TABERNACLE

Baseball Players Will Face the Cross-fire Shoots of Evangelist Sunday Afternoon.

Secretary Daniel Randolph, of the City Baseball League, today notified the Daily Press that the one hundred or more members of the organization would meet in the offices of this newspaper at 2:15 Sunday afternoon and proceed in a body to the Tabernacle, where they will attend the Biederwolf services. As related exclusively in the Press yesterday, the leaguers brought up the matter at a meeting held Monday night, and the favorable reception of the idea foretold its acceptance. Certain details in the arrangements were left in charge of Secretary Randolph, however, and a définite decision could not be announced until these were completed.

The six teams will probably have their full rosters on hand Sunday afternoon, and news of the league's coming has already wended its way in the hands of the committee managing the evangelistic services here. The event will, no doubt, be an impressive one, and one well worthy of notice, inasmuch as at least one of the clubs will cancel a Sunday afternoon baseball game in order to line up at the Tabernacle.

DUTCHER READY FOR NEWARK "GYM" MEET

Many champion gymnasts, including Ray Dutcher, formerly of Plainfield, are entered in the national championships to be held in Newark at the Young Men's Christian Association, on Saturday night. Entries for the titular events were passed upon last night by the National Championship Committee, of which Frederick W. Rubien is chairman.

Among the entries are those of nearly all the leading gymnasts in the East, including the majority of the metropolitan district title-holders. Dutcher will try again in the club-swinging event.

VOORHEES STARTS AGAIN ON THE ROAD TO VICTORY

Coyne and Voorhees began their second series of bowling contests on Gates' borough alleys last night, Voorhees copping eight out of eleven. Coyne captured the third, tenth and eleventh matches, but proved no match for his rival in the other meetings. The opening series was won by Voorhees.

Voorhees set up the high score of the evening in the second game with a 224 and came back with a 204 in the eighth. Coyne failed to hit the double century. The scores:

Coyne.	Voorhees.
192	194
157	224
180	163
149	171
142	189
148	190
129	198
175	204
178	192
185	124
168	162

SPORTING NOTES

A new plan of settling the college rowing supremacy of the country will be put before the American Intercollegiate Rowing Association at its meeting Friday night at Philadelphia. The English Henley system is advocated.

The International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis on Memorial Day has a "divorce" entry. Charlie Merz and his teammate, John Aiken, were both married and both divorced, and are back in to the auto speed game.

The Ohio State League opens its season today, with Lexington at Frankfort, Huntington at Charleston and Portsmouth at Maysville. The league has a split season of 60 days each, winding up on Labor Day.

The race meet at Lexington comes to a close today, and the Blue Grass circuit adjourns to Churchill Downs, where the $15,000 Kentucky Derby will open the schedule on Saturday.

The bout between Gunboat Smith and Al Weinert, which was postponed from last week, is set for tomorrow night in New York.

The Pennsylvania State Baseball League opens its season today, with six teams in the circuit. Johnstown opens at Altoona, York in Harrisburg and Allentown in Reading.

Nine events are on the program for the National A. A. U. gymnastic championships which will be held at Newark on Saturday. Lester J. McCloud, of New York A. C., holder of the club swinging championship, will have a lively rival in Ray W. Dutcher, former holder of the title.

The wrestling match between Joe Setcher, the Nebraska wonder, and Yussuf Hussane, the Turk, will be one of the biggest matches of the year. Jack Curley arranged the match for Louisville, and it will be put on Friday night, the eve of the big Derby race.

Minneapolis fans may witness boxing bouts all summer if the present plans go through. Willie Ritchie and Mike O'Dowd are signed for the main go in the show to be given Friday night.

The innovation of introducing American methods to decide harness races will be attempted in Canada this year in the events conducted under the auspices of the Western Canada Racing Association.

Earle Melrath, of Philadelphia, who recently won the live bird shooting championship of that State, is the first man wearing eyeglasses to win that title.

The Atlantic League opens its season today. The clubs consist of Easton, Pottsville, Allentown and Reading, in Pennsylvania and Wilmington, Del., and Paterson.

Muggsy McGraw is having his annual difficulties in cutting down his squad. The fellow who suggested that he needs nine more new men is cruel indeed.

All records for entries in amateur

Winners!

Suits of *"Forefathers' Cloth."

Made from wools from the same County in England from which came the sturdy fabrics our forefathers wore.

*"Westpointer" shoes.

For both men and boys. Built on the same last General Scott approved for the West Point cadets.

*"Shire" collars.

All linen where the wear comes. Exclusive styles.

*"Solo" socks.

Called "Solo" because so low in price for such good quality.

*"Roadster" dusters.

Cut from "changeable" silks and serviceable khaki in smart Raglan style.

*Registered trademark.

MAIL ORDERS FILLED

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

Broadway at 13th St. | "The Four Corners" | Broadway at 34th St.

Broadway at Warren | Fifth Ave. at 41st St.

NEW YORK CITY

EASTERN BOTTLING CO.

2ND ST. AND CENTRAL AVE., PLAINFIELD, N.J.

Distributors of Reliable

WINES—LIQUORS—WHISKIES

Both imported and domestic. Selected vintages which you will be proud to serve to your guests. Even our lowest priced goods are chosen with care.

We Feature

BALLANTINE'S ALES & BEERS

that sparkle with quality and savor of flavor.

Tel. Plainfield 190

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT

the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.

AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.

MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

FISK QUALITY

FISK BICYCLE TIRES

The Best That Can Be Had.

For Sale by

George L. Simon

179 NORTH AVE. OPP. DEPOT.

races in this country have been broken by the spring meeting of the United Hunt, to be run Saturday and next Wednesday at Belmont Park Terminal. Over 22 entries for each of the thirteen events were received.

The only American entry in the Oaks, one of the biggest of English races, is Foxhall's Keene's Puss in Boots. King George's White Pearl is also an entry in the race, which is set for June 1.

GENTLE REMINDERS

Since "Dippy" Jones took himself out of the City League circuit doings along the line have been as quiet as a plate of soup. "Dippy" Jones resigned to take a job in other climates but to date he's still in our midst watching the league returns each week-end.

Sportsmen have stopped some scoundrel from spearing eels on Long Island, but it's still permissible to lasso mosquitoes in Plainfield.

There are still a score or more of games left in the City League schedule and to date they haven't massacred an umpire.

We haven't noticed any of the City Leaguers getting round shouldered from carrying their batting averages around.

If every knock is a boost Warry McLaughlin and his Dunellen clansmen are at the top of the ladder.

A baseball player's year is divided into two seasons—cheering and hooting.

Local fruiterers are sending forth the annual cry to the effect that the Delaware peach crop has been a failure. All of which reminds us that we never heard of a quince crop being ruined.

Manager McGraw might pitch Jeff Tesreau every fourth day and have rain on the other three.

WHO'D WANT TO KISS LIPS OF SASSAFRAS?

The fact that nine Columbia College seniors (men, mind you), including Allan Bruce Conlon, of this city, have never been kissed, has led to the announcement of some other facts in connection with them.

According to the figures, water is their favorite drink, with sassafras tea a poor second and Honolulu cocktails (a dash of lemon and a cherry in a bottle of pop) third. Despite this fact, however, the students voted that a beer saloon on Broadway was a more popular resort than a certain ice cream parlor, which might indicate that the vote on the drink question may have been padded.

CIVIC ASSOCIATION WILL OBSERVE "JERSEY DAY"

"Jersey Day" will be observed by the West End Civic Association on Friday night, with a special program. The affair will be held at the Washington School, and the address of the evening will be by Henry C. White, vice-president of the Public Recreation Committee. Another feature will be the singing of the prize song, composed by a pupil of the Plainfield High School, appropriate to "Jersey Day." The author of the accepted song will receive $5 in gold. The judges are Lindsey Best, principal of the High School; Clifford A. Braider and Mrs. Joseph Edgar. The selection will be made on the basis of points. The contest closed yesterday. The Glee Club from the Community Center will also sing.

The Governor's proclamation in reference to "Jersey Day" will also be read at that time. The committee in charge of the observance request that everybody in the city display the national colors on Friday, thereby showing their loyalty to their State.

ORE SHOVELLERS STRIKE.

Flat River, Mo., May 10.—A strike of approximately 2,000 undergound ore shovellers employed by the Federal and Doe Run Lead Companies, threatens to paralyze the lead and mining industry of St. Francois county. The shovellers are demanding a wage scale of $3.50 a day.

General Markets.

FLOUR—Easy; spring patents, $6.90@7.25; winter patents, $5.60@5.80; winter straights, $5.50@5.65; Kansas straights, $5.70@5.85.

BUTTER—Firmer; receipts, 15,892; creamery extras, 32 score, 31@31½c.; creamery, higher scoring, 31½@32c.; firsts, 30@31½c.; seconds, 29@29½c.

EGGS—Firm; receipts, 26,386; fresh gathered, extras, 24@24½c.; regular packed, firsts, 21½@22½c.; seconds, 20@21c.; nearby hennery whites, fine to fancy, 24½@25c.; nearby hennery browns, 24@25c.

CHEESE—Firm; receipts, 2,464; state, held, specials, 18½@19½c.; fresh, specials, 16@17½c.; do, average fancy, 16½@17c.; Wisconsin twins, held, 18½c.

POULTRY—Live, weak; no prices settled. Dressed, firm; chickens, 18@32c.; fowls, 17½@22c.; turkeys, 28@38c.

Live Stock Market.

Pittsburgh, May 10.

CATTLE—Supply light; market steady; prime, $9.50@9.60; good, $8.80@9.35; tidy butchers', $8.50@9; fair, $7.75@8.25; common, $6.50@7; heifers, $6@8.50; common to good fat bulls, $4@8; common to good fat cows, $4@7.75; fresh cows and springers, $40@80.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Supply light, market steady; prime wethers, $7.80@8; good mixed, $7.40@7.75; fair mixed, $6.50@7.25; culls and common, $4@5.50; lambs, $7@10.40; veal calves, $10.50@10.75; heavy and thin calves, $5@7.50.

HOGS—Receipts light; market steady; prime heavy, heavy mixed and mediums, $10.10@10.20; heavy Yorkers, $10@10.15; light Yorkers, $9.40@9.50; pigs, $8.75@9; roughs, $8.75@9.10; stags, $7.25@7.50.

—Press want ads. pay.

SUCCESS OF RIFLE CLUB ASSURED BY MANY INTERESTED IN THE MOVEMENT

Charles H. Frost Elected President to Succeed Former Mayor Percy H. Stewart—Will Use Independent Club's Range—Offer of Four New Targets to Cost $160—Company K. Indoor Armory at the Disposal of Members for the Time Being—Scotch Plains Range Will Be Established Eventually.

Public interest in the "preparedness" policy, and primarily in the newly organized Plainfield Rifle Club manifested itself prominently last night in the armory of Company K, where the organizers of the local movement held a mass meeting. Testimonials to those who took the responsibility for the initial steps in the formation of the club and optimism for its success were forthcoming on every hand, one of the most promising features being the announcement made by Secretary Truman T. Pierson to the effect that one true American living in Plainfield had offered to furnish four regulation targets for the use of the members at a cost estimated in the vicinity of $160.

One of the principal pieces of business transacted last night was the unanimous selection of Charles H. Frost, publisher of the Courier-News, as president, to succeed former Mayor Percy H. Stewart. Mr. Frost's nomination came as the result of Mr. Stewart's resignation, the following letter addressed to Secretary Pierson being self-explanatory:

"I regret exceedingly that I shall not be able to accept the presidency of the Plainfield Rifle Club. As you know, I am one of the directors of the Military Training Camps' Association, and am also chairman of the Plattsburg Enrollment Committee for the State of New Jersey, as well as chairman of the Plattsburg Committee of the Citizens' Preparedness Parade, which is to be held in New York city on May 13. Under the circumstances it would not be fair to your rifle club, or to the other associations with which I am now connected, and which demand such a great measure of time, to undertake to act as president of the Plainfield Club. I am deeply interested in the matter of rifle practice and in the new club, which you have so wisely and patriotically formed, and I have already sent my check for my initiation fee and annual dues to Mr. Marion S. Ackerman, treasurer of the club.

"I am very much pleased that you should wish me to act as president of the club, and beg to assure you that I deeply appreciate the honor which has been so kindly and gracefully tendered to me, and if there is any way in which I can be of assistance to you, I should be most happy to do so at any time."

Dr. C. W. Leonard called the meeting to order, and in an opening address Captain Charles Peterson, of Company K, gave an excellent, instructive talk on "The Use of Rifles and the Routine to be Followed in Rifle Practice." His lecture was illustrated, and proved thoroughly interesting and educational.

The range of the Independent Gun Club will be at the disposal of the club for the time being, and it is planned to eventually establish a new one at the foot of the mountains in the vicinity of Scotch Plains. The Independent range is 200 yards in length, and the club's new headquarters will have facilities for practice at 300 yards. Captain Peterson has tendered the use of Company K indoor range for tonight and Saturday afternoon, shooting at the latter date commencing about 2 o'clock. The indoor range will also be available next Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Nearly one hundred enthusiastic Plainfielders, men in all classes of social and business life, attended the meeting, and favorable comment was forthcoming on every hand.

LUNCHEON SERVED TO 218 BUSINESS WOMEN

Two hundred and eighteen business women of Plainfield attended the luncheon served in the First Methodist church at noon today, by the Y. W. C. A. The National Male Quartet rendered a number of selections, and Mr. McEwan favored with a solo. Mrs. Marie Brake spoke to the young women.

Much interest has been manifested in these noonday gatherings of the business women, and an agitation has been started to organize a permanent club so the girls may assemble and co-operate with each other.

For this purpose a special meeting has been called, to be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, Monday night, May 15, at 7:30 o'clock, when a committee will be appointed and officers probably elected. So many of the young women have expressed themselves as wishing to continue these noonday meetings that all the other girls who are interested in the project are especially asked to report for the meeting Monday night.

LOCAL BANK SUES TO RECOVER ON SIGNED NOTES

Claims of the First National Bank, of Plainfield, against Frederic Harrington, formerly head of the Harrington Leather Manufacturing Company, in Magnolia, are being heard before Judge George S. Silzer, in the Circut Court, Elizabeth. There are two suits filed, one against Frederic Harrington and Frederic Harrington, Inc., the other against Frederics Harrington and John T. George. It is alleged that the bank held nine notes of the defendant, and sues for a balance of $13,699.79. No jury is sitting in the case, as both sides waived the right of a jury trial.

The defense, presented by Attorney Sidney W. Eldridge, is based partly on the claim that Frederic Harrington settled his debts before incorporating his business, by an arrangement with his creditors, including the bank. Isaac P. Runyon, who is an officer of the bank as well as the attorney representing it in the trial, attempted to show that the way in which this arrangement was carried out did not satisfy the institution's claims.

RECREATION NOTES

The swimming classes will be held in the High School pool tonight. The women will have the use of the pool fidst. The men's classes will meet in the gymnasium for physical exercises prior to going into the pool.

The P. E. G. S. will hold a special meeting in the High School gymnasium tonight. All members are urged to be present, when plans will be made for a subscription dance to be given by the club in the near future.

Tomorrow night the West End Boys' Club will hold a special meeting in the Washington School.

Miss Scarborough's classes will meet in the kindergarten room, and the Social Club will have the use of the auditorium.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

PRINCETON STUDENTS WANT TO BE SOLDIERS

College Men Take up Cause of Military Preparedness and Enlist for Summer Work.

Princeton, N. J., May 10.—Princeton's students have taken up the cause of military preparedness and enlisted for summer work in the army in three times as large numbers proportionally as any other college in the country, acording to figures learned here today. Harvard is second and Yale third in the enrolments for the summer, and Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Williams and Massachusetts Tech. have together enrolled scarcely more than has Princeton alone.

Military training plans for the summer are being made on the Princeton campus and those who have enrolled include the most prominent figures in the undergraduate life of Old Nassau. The training in military matters at Princeton is in line with the personal plans of Major-General Leonard Wood, and these plans are being executed under the direction of President John Grier Hibben.

The figures for the enrollment of the college students for the camp, up to the first of May, gave Princeton 109 students, Harvard 185, and Yale 51, the percentage giving Princeton an average of three times that of Harvard, which has four times the number of students at Princeton.

The complete figures are: Harvard 185, Princeton 109, Yale 51, Williams 47, Cornell 20, Pennsylvania 19, Massachusetts Tech. 14, Columbia 9. Harvard's enrolment is about two per cent. of its total students; Yale's is one per cent., and Princeton's is more than six per cent.

DO YOU KNOW--

Today is always the best day to clean up?

Fresh air, food, rest—these three combat tuberculosis?

The U. S. Public Health Service has reduced typhoid fever 80 per cent. in some communities?

Overeating, constipation, lack of exercise, foul air, eye strain, may produce headache?

Polluted drinking water causes many deaths?

An efficient health officer is a good community investment?

Bad teeth handicap children?

Insufficient sleep endangers health?

CHARLOTTE ALLEN.

Charlotte Allen, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, of 131 Elmwood place, died at the Muhlenberg Hospital this morning. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

REX BEACH.

Declares Forts at Panama Inadequate.

Photo by American Press Association.

Rex Beach, the novelist, has returned on the United Fruit liner Metapan from a stay of several months among the Indian tribes in the San Blas country north of Panama. He took moving pictures of the natives. Mr. Beach asserts that the coast defenses guarding the Panama canal, which he visited, were woefully inadequate.

DEATH COMES TO ANDREW J. NOLAN

Former Well Known Plainfielder Passes Away at Newark After Long Illness.

Andrew J. Nolan, a former well-known resident of Plainfield, and for many years prominent in local Democratic political circles, died at noon yesterday at his home, 60 Milford avenue, Newark. He had been living in the latter city for the past ten years, working for various contractors as a steam fitter. His health began failing last fall and since January he had been confined to the house suffering from heart trouble, a kidney affection and complications.

Mr. Nolan, who was forty-eight years old, came to this city from Yonkers, N. Y., when a young man. He was employed as engineer by several local concerns, one of his last positions being with H. W. Marshall when the latter's laundry was located at 132 East Front street. Just previous to leaving Plainfield Mr. Nolan formed a partnership with former Councilman P. J. Reville to conduct a laundry at Fourth and Liberty streets. The business was sold to another party about six months after it was started and has since been discontinued. It was then that Mr. Nolan removed to Newark.

From the time that he first came to Plainfield, Mr. Nolan was an energetic worker in the Democratic ranks and for several terms acted as chairman of the city committee. In the days when there were only a few real Jeffersonians in Plainfield, Andrew Nolan was always ready to bear the brunt of the campaigning and election work, but because of the overwhelming majority at the time he had little success in landing candidates. He served on the county committee and when he removed to Newark his loss was distinctly felt in the Democratic ranks.

Mr. Nolan is survived by his wife, who was Miss Margaret McCarthy, of this city, and eight children, all of whom live in Newark. These are Mrs. William Wilkinson, the Misses Catherine, Grace, Sarah and Anna Nolan, Andrew Nolan, Jr., Edward and Marcus Nolan. The funeral will be held in St. Columbus' church, Newark, Friday morning at 8 o'clock and burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery, this city.

Somerville

Mrs. Harry Newberry, of Providence, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cowen, of Altamont place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Barnes, Sr., left Monday for St. Louis, where Mr. Barnes will attend the annual convention of the Order of Railway Conductors. Mr. Barnes has gone as a delegate from the Phillipsburg local. After the convention Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will go to Houston, Tex., to visit their son, Frank Barnes.

The History Club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. W. Betts West. A paper was read by Miss Rosina Miller, president of the club, her subject being "American Poets." Mrs. William A. Ackerman read selections from many poets.

Charles N. Matthews has purchased the house in Davenport street, where he resides, from Abram T. Van Fleet.

The annual concert of the Concordia Singing Society will be held in Eagle's Hall tonight. The society will be assisted by the Aurora Singing Society, of New Brunswick.

The Monday Evening Club was entertained Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vosseller, of West Main street. An evening of music was enjoyed.

Dr. and Mrs. Elias Hall, of East Millstone, are in Ridgewood for a week.

Mrs. John Koeffst has returned to East Millstone, after spending the winter in New York.

Miss Mary Cleveland, of New York, is spending some time at her farm, north of Somerville.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

JOURNEYMEN CARPENTERS ASK INCREASE IN PAY

A meeting of the journeymen carpenters of this district will be held in Trades' Council Hall tonight at which time a statement will be received from the Master Carpenters relating to the former's request for an advance in wages. The journeymen are at present receiving $4 per day and are seeking a raise of fifty cents. The matter has been under consideration for several weeks past but what disposition will be made of it is not known at this time.

Carpenters of the Plainfield district made a request for more pay last year and when no agreement could be reached between them and the masters a walkout was declared. The men remained out for several weeks, after which thy returned with the understanding that the matter would be given consideration later.

NEW PROVIDENCE

Miss Caroline Marex, of Plainfield, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Webster, of Springfield avenue, West End.

Under the direction of Miss Martha Davis, teacher of the seventh and eighth grades in the Lincoln School, a branch of the Camp Fire Girls was formed here Monday. Ten girls attended the meeting. Next Monday another meeting will be held, when the girls will select a name.

Miss Mary Kelley yesterday returned to Tuckahoe, N. Y., after visiting Miss Agnes Maher, of Springfield avenue. She came here with Miss Maher, who had been visiting her in Tuckahoe for several days.

William A. Davis, of Springfield avenue, Monday went to Newark to spend a week with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Genung and daughter, Mrs. George R Condit, re- to their home in Montclair after a short visit to Mr and Mrs. Halsey Genung, of Springfield avenue.

Mrs. Robert G. Rogers, wife of Township Clerk Rogers, of New Providence township, is suffering from the effects of a fall Sunday down the cellar stairs at her home in Passaic avenue, the township.

LIKE A TINY SOLAR SYSTEM.

Power and Possibilities That Are Locked In an Atom.

The most generally accepted theory about the structure of the atom—which is no longer regarded as the ultimate indivisible particle of any element, as this of course could have no structure—is that it is a positively charged nucleus surrounded by a system of electrons which are kept together by attractive forces from the nucleus. Thus it becomes a sort of infinitestimally small solar system.

In an article in the General Electric Review Dr. Saul Dushman draws the following conclusions from a discussion of the laws that govern the atoms of the several elements:

"Considering the relationships exhibited by the different radioactive elements, one realizes that the dream of the alchemists may not have been as fatuous as has appeared until recently. The concept of an absolutely stable atom must be discarded once for all, and its place is taken by this miniature solar system, as it were, consisting of a central nucleus and one or more rings of electrons.

"But the nucleus itself is apparently the seat of immense forces, and in spite of its exceedingly infinitesimal dimensions it contains both alpha particles and electrons. Once in awhile the nucleus of one of the atoms will spontaneously disintegrate and expel an alpha or beta particle. A new element has been born. What causes these transformations? Can they be controlled? These are questions which only the future can answer. But if we had it in our power to remove two alpha particles from the atom of bismuth or any of its isotropes, not only would the dream of the alchemists be realized, but man would be in possession of such intensely powerful sources of energy that all our coal mines, water powers and explosives would become insignificant by comparison."

SEEMED TO RAIN FIRE.

When a Startling Meteoric Shower Scared Folks in 1833.

In Scharf's "Chronicles of Baltimore" there is a vivid description of the starry hailstorm, the fiery meteoric shower, of 1833, and old files of newspapers are made luminous at that date with the impressions of editors and contributors.

One writer said it was the grandest and most charming sight ever presented to the vision of man. Awakened from sleep, he sprang to the window, thinking the house was on fire, but when he looked out he beheld stars, or fiery bodies, descending like "torrents." "The shed in the adjoining yard to my own," he wrote, "was covered with stars, as I supposed, during the whole time."

Professor Olmstead of Yale college thought that the exhibition was the finest display of celestial fireworks that had been witnessed since the creation of the world, although he, too, while knowing its character, was sufficiently imbued with the theological spirit of the time to believe that it was a solemn portent that carried a divine warning.

One editor whose comment upon this phenomenon was probably more quoted than any other he ever made said: "We pronounce the raining fire which we saw on Wednesday morning an awful type, a forerunner, a merciful sign of that great and dreadful day which the inhabitants of the earth will witness when the sixth seal will be opened. Many things occurring in the earth tend to convince us that we are now in the latter days."

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

WILLIAM C. GORGAS.

To Study Yellow Fever In South America.

Photo by American Press Association.

Surgeon General Gorgas of the United States army has obtained leave to make an extended tour of South America to study methods of eradicating yellow fever. He will head a corps of physicians who will start south on June 1.

END OF YEAR TO SEE GERMANY'S DEFEAT?

Danes Hear Kaiser's Empire Is Exhausted.

London, May 10.—The Danish newspaper Ribestifts Tidende claims to have discovered by a month's investigation that the belief prevails in Germany that it is impossible to continue the war to the end of 1916.

Many in Germany believe that it cannot be maintained through the summer, the paper asserts, and continues:

"The rations of the German soldiers were cut six weeks ago. Meat is becoming rare, bread is limited to twelve ounces daily and food parcels from the soldiers' homes are now forbidden lest the civilians themselves suffer.

"Desertions are numerous, and they include officers. Socialism is spreading amazingly among the troops. Slackness of discipline is evident, resulting from the extremely harsh treatment. The shortage of horses necessitated the reducing of gun teams.

"Ammunition and arms, however, continue to be produced in incredible quantities."

While numerous German papers, copies of which have just reached here, are harping upon the food troubles, the Koelnische Zeitung of May 7 asserts that "Germany is able to continue the war indefinitely, notwithstanding the inconveniences."

Incidentally, the paper announces the discovery of a process of making a certain quality of steel for munitions, for which wolfram, imported at great cost, has been necessary.

German Valley and Chester.

The baseball season was opened Saturday with a game between the married and single men, the former winning by 13 to 5.

Frank Kelley, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday at his summer cottage here.

Isaac R. Howe, fire warden of Chester township, is posting notices in regard to forest fires.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Trivett, of Glen Ridge, will soon open their summer home in Valley road.

Miss Mary L. Gardner, of Chatham, spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Edward P. Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs John Hamilton, of Far Hills, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett M. Hockenbury.

George Howell, of Liberty Corner, spent Sunday with Henry M. Lindsbury.

Mrs. Roscoe C. Howell has returned from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ader entertained an auto party Sunday. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Elwell, Nathan Longfield, John Williams, Elmer Snyder and the Misses Effie, Marian and Carrie Longfield, of Irvington, and Miss Tessie Hefner, of Newark. John Malone, of Bound Brook, was also a visitor at the Ader home.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cresaman is suffering with bronchitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Fields entertained over the week-end Mrs. Fields' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoffman, of Mendham.

Roy Swackhamer of Plainfield, and John Swackhamer, of New York, were week-end guests of the former's mother, Mr. William S. Swackhamer.

Mr. and Mrs George Lance and daughter, of Califon, concluded a visit Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lance, Sr.

Mrs. Philip H. Barton and daughter, Miss Lenora Christionsen, Mrs. P. Brower of Newark, are at the home of Mrs. Barton for the summer.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature recorded at the State Trust Company today was as follows: 9 a. m., 57 degrees; 11 a. m., 64 degrees; 1 p. m, 65 degrees

BIG EXPLOSION ROCKS STATE

Dynamite Mills at Hopatcong Blow Up.

FIVE KILLED, SCORES HURT

Atlas Powder Company Works at Landing Explode—Many Employees Have Legs and Arms Broken by Detonation—Thirty-five Taken to Hospital.

Lake Hopatcong, May 10.—Five men were killed and thirty-five were so badly injured as to necessitate their being taken to hospitals, and more than 100 others were cut and bruised when two dynamite mixing buildings of the Atlas Powder company at Landing, Lake Hopatcong, were destroyed by a dynamite explosion.

The fragments of the buildings caught fire and burned for some time.

Three men were killed in the first mixing building. Two in one adjoining also were killed when the first explosion caused the second.

The explosions occurred in what are known as the gela-glycerin mixing buildings. These are wooden structures 15 by 25 feet in size, and only two men are allowed in each at a time.

The plant is located about a quarter of a mile from the main highway leading around the eastern shore of Lake Hopatcong and consists of a number of detached buildings.

One of those killed was Force Johnson, boss powder man, who lived at Landing. He leaves a family.

Of such force was the explosion that men's legs and arms were broken by the concussion. All of the thirty or more injured suffered from broken bones, caused, Hudson Maxim said, directly by the force of the detonation.

For more than an hour after the explosion the emergency hospital crew and other employees were busy removing the injured and making them as comfortable as possible. This work, together with the fighting of the fire, was supervised by Emil J. Reiderer, superintendent of the plant.

Coroner Totten of Dover arrived at the scene early, but was unable to do anything for some time, as everybody in the place was either attending to the wounded or fighting the wood fire.

The legs and arms and pieces of the bodies of the men who were killed were scattered about the wreckage.

When the more seriously injured had been cared for the lesser hurts of the hundred or more were looked to.

No official of the concern could be seen to tell what had caused the explosion nor how much dynamite blew up.

NAB BROOKLYN FUGITIVE.

Man Charged With Murder Taken by Newark Police.

Newark, May 10.—Rocco di Gisso, thirty-three, of 480 Linden road, Flatbush, Brooklyn, was arrested here as a fugitive from justice. He is wanted in Brooklyn for murder. Fortuno Grecco of 514 Midwood avenue, Brooklyn, was shot to death at 458 Lefferts avenue on Feb. 28. At the same time Foryunato Nessi was shot and seriously wounded. Gisso escaped at the time.

Dominic Gisso, a brother of the prisoner, is in jail at Pottsville, Pa., awaiting execution for the murder of a milk dealer. Before he was arrested Grecco and Nessi went from Brooklyn to Pottsville to rescue him. They had an automobile to take him from his hiding place. Their plans miscarried, and they were arrested and gave information which led to Gisso's capture.

ST. MARY'S SOCIAL CLUB ENJOY CARDS AND DANCE

The card party and reception given last night in T. A B. S. Hall by St. Mary's Social Club proved a success from every point of view. Over two hundred were present and twenty-seven tables were used for the players. Pinochle, euchre and "500" were the games played, and first prizes in these went to the following, respectively, Edward McCann, Miss Ethel Coffey and Miss Margaret Smith.

Following the play dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Professor Squier's orchestra providing the music. Refreshments were also served.

The committee, to whom much credit was given for the splendid arrangement of the entire affair, was composed of the following members of St. Mary's Social Club: Misses Jennie Higgins, chairman; Virginia Brady, Alice McAfee, May Murray, Mary O'Keefe, Elizabeth Flynn, Kitty Ellis, Annabelle McAfee, Helen Hagen, Mary Reilly, Emma Sullivan, May Lyons and Catherine McCauley.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN CHAPTER NAMES NEW COMMITTEES

Plans for the coming year were discussed at an enthusiastic meeting of Abraham Lincoln Chapter, No. 122, I. C. S., Fraternity of the World, in its new headquarters in the Frost building Monday night. These committees were named for the coming year:

Membership, R. W. Aldrich, chairman; Harry J. Rider and Frank W. Wadsworth; entertainment, C. Ivan Hill, chairman; Alex D. Doig and Arthur L. Grisley. A future date will be set aside as "get-together-day," I. C. S. students of Plainfield and vicinity at which time all I. C. S. men will be guests of the local chapter.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

The Way of the WRAP

by Hester Winthrop

This Premet Wrap Flares Below the Elbows and has Three Bands of Velvet

A Gay Little Wrap of Coffee Tinted Faille with a New Hood Collar

A Black and White Silk Coat by Redfern with Mammoth Cuffs and Collar

An Ample but Trim Coat of Bisque Tussah with the Newest Mode in Capes

A Jenny Coat of Pearl Gray Silk with Soutache

"Rookie" Coats for Smart Street Wear - Many Good Looking Models In Navy Blue - Sumptuous Silk Coats for Warm Spring Days - Stitchery, Embroidery, Braiding and Buttons On the New Coat Models for Spring.

THE choice between a spring coat and a spring suit—if one cannot manage both—is a distracting and puzzling problem this season. One feels, perhaps, that a suit is the proper thing to have—the quite indispensable item of the wardrobe; but after trying on several coats in a tentative sort of way, a coat one simply must have. They are so altogether fascinating just now, with their graceful lines and their irresistible smartness and dash. And after all, if there was ever a season when a spring coat fulfilled all the needs of a suit—and much more—this is the season. The new models cover every requirement of coat usage, from sturdy coats for rainy day wear to delectable silk wraps that will add untold distinction to a formal, late afternoon toilette.

To every Paris couturier his masterpiece—in the way of a coat. Each house strives to bring out at least one model that shall make a sensation, and by that model will the house be known all through the forthcoming season. This year the couturiers have fairly outdone themselves in the coat line. Grace seems to have been the fundamental idea in the building of coats and rarely graceful and pleasing are the results. There is a Lanvin coat of gray duvetyn with rows and rows of embroidery in white wool thread which has achieved a deserved sensation in Paris. The Chanel capecoat of old-blue jersey cloth is another notable spring model. Jenny's masterpiece is a satin coat with a knee-deep hem of cloth and buttons set closely all the way from neck to hem. From Martial et Armand comes a swagger coat of navy blue gabardine with a bulky-necked cape and front panel of blue and white checked serge. The special Georgette coat of taffeta with full skirt and low belt is captivatingly youthful and full of chic and dash, as all Georgette's models are. Drecoll introduces a gay motor coat of rose pink tussah silk. And so on, and so on, all through the list of charmed Parisian names. Many of these models have been copied or "adapted" by American manufacturers.

Silk An Ideal Material For Summer Wraps.

All the wraps pictured today are of silk; for, as always, the endeavor has been to present to my readers the most attractive types of the season's styles; and the silk wraps are undoubtedly the most attractive models for outer wear this season. Later in this chat, I will tell you something about dressy coats of gabardine and other wool-woven fabrics; but first we will take up the silk wraps on which fashion smiles with particular kindness just now.

Smartest, perhaps, of all the smart coats pictured, is the Redfern model of black and white silk in a big criss-cross pattern. White stripes cross the black silk one way and gray ones the other; so that the effect is soft and not glaring. The coat is lined with white silk and this shows itself at the turned back cuff and at the inner fold of the collar, which is truly an impressive detail evidencing the cut of a master in its crushed and folded effect over the shoulders. Take a yard of wide silk and try to arrange it in the manner suggested and then try to make it stay there, resuming its correct lines after the coat has been thrown off and pulled on again! I think you will be willing to yield Redfern all the credit he deserves for this cleverly draped and entirely new collar. This coat has straight lines to the waist, the skirt having a circular cut so that it flares widely at the hem without adding bulk at the waistline. The sleeve, divided against itself by a corded piping above the elbow, flares in bell shape to the rolled back cuff, wider, surely, than ever a cuff dared to be before. Worn as it is, with white frock, gloves and boots and a big hat of black straw trimmed with a white feather ornament, this black and white silk coat is infinitely good style.

Fullness Usually Over the Hips.

All the French wraps for spring show one point of resemblance; the line at the back is kept as flat as possible, from neck to hem, whatever fullness there is being massed at the sides over the hips. In many cases this fullness is reinforced with a light haircloth facing so that while the frock itself swings out gaily from the ankles, the coat swings yet more gaily and madame's silhouette has a lively and animated effect as she comes toward you, down the street. Why is it that the short skirts, fluttering frills and flaring coats of the moment, give women such an animated suggestion. Whatever the reason, they certainly do, and most women, with the facile adaptability of their sex, live up to their gay, youthful skirts in expression and manner. The languishing look which accompanied the droop-shouldered "slouch" of the tight-skirt-era has vanished from feminine faces, and a bright, blithe alertness seems to have taken its place. So much for the effect of haircloth and hoops.

A Doucet coat of coffee-colored faille silk, with flat back and fullness over the hips—as has been mentioned above—shows a quaint effect at the sides, as though the couturier had made the gored side-panels too long and as an after thought, had drawn them up in the way a French awning is drawn up, on a shirring. This coat has a graceful, draped sleeve and a hood collar turning back on itself. The coffee-colored faille is extremely chic, for all the tan and light brown tones are favored in coatwear this season. Navy blue is another favorite color; but the dark blue coat must be very, very chic if it is not to suggest in any way a uniform. Nurses and nursery maids wear neat, long coats of dark blue over their linen gowns; and blue coats are worn by certain protestant sisterhoods. There is something eminently practical—yet not black—about a dark blue coat, so to have notable smartness a model of this shade must make itself very distinguished. In her satin and cloth coat, buttoning from neck to hem—mentioned earlier on this page—Jenny has achieved this distinction; but then no nursemaid or business girl on the lookout for something practical chooses a satin and broadcloth coat flaring six yards at the hem.

Another Jenny wrap, pictured today, is of pearl gray taffeta with bands of self-toned soutache embroidery on collar and hip. Note the flat back here again, and the fullness massed at the sides. Also note the bulky collar and remember that a modest little turn-over collar makes no wrap modish these days. The collar positively must arrest attention by its size or style to merit distinction.

A Premet Wrap Whose Queer Shape Is Its Chief Asset.

Premet loves to do unusual things and her new evening wrap for wear over summer dinner and dance frocks is unusual enough to be a sensation. The picture of this wrap shows its odd silhouette, the rich brocade in turquoise and orchid pinks, folded like a tightly drawn scarf about the upper part of the figure and flaring out below into looped panniers which spread widely over the hips. Seen from a little distance, the wearer of this wrap presents a silhouette amusingly suggestive of a peasant girl carrying two big vessels of water and perhaps this was the very effect Premet intended, for she is going in strongly for peasant styles this season.

Practical Coats of Silk and Gabardine.

Stepping from the formal and fanciful to the practical, one finds a vast number of pleasing spring wraps which may be "worn anywhere" over any frock; whether the occasion be formal or informal. In this class comes a driving and walking coat of tussah in the new bisque shade which is not nearly as perishable as it looks, by the way. A bisque tussah coat is pictured and the style is beyond cavil, for it combines infinite chic with sturdy practicality. The loose tussah coat is shirred into a shapely trimness at the waistline, falling in full folds over the skirt. At the back the flat line is given by a broad pleat in Watteau style. The full sleeve is caught in at the wrist in cartridge pleats over a flat cuff-facing and a final touch of smartness is added in the ripple cape which falls to the elbow. Very sensibly, with her coat in such a pale color, the wearer elects a hat all black.

"Rookie" is the special shade of tan which you must demand in coatwear this spring. "Rookie" is an indescribable color—a sort of dust shade tinged with green. A gabardine coat in "rookie" with full ripple skirt and the new enormous collar will give any woman a smart appearance for street, travel or driving wear.

One of the best utility coats of the spring is a smart, trim model in navy blue gabardine, fitting the figure in the new, close fashion to a little below the normal waistline and then flaring to a five-yard width at the hem; and this hem was not straight around the coat-skirt for the latter was shorter at front and back than at the sides, giving a very graceful line. The collar was convertible and, like all the new collars, was conspicuous by the amount of material in it.

The general style of this blue coat suggested Georgette's attractive model, mentioned earlier—fitted to the waist and then flaring widely in ripple effect. A coat like this is a costume in itself, whatever the frock worn beneath it.

THE WILLOW SANDWICH TRAY.

VERY attractive trays for serving sandwiches at tea hour, or hot rolls at breakfast time, come in the shape of handled shallow baskets, a platter of old-fashioned blue willow ware fitting in the bottom of the low basket. The tray is about twelve inches long and comes in green, brown or ivory-colored wicker and the blue willow porcelain platter is included in the price. If you have a genuine blue willow antique about the size and shape of the porcelain accessory of the tray, this will be a splendid way to make use of it; for resting in the shallow wicker basket the valuable bit of old china will be comparatively safe from accident in the way of breakage.

Dainty Neck Fixings of SPRING

QUITE appropriately, in a season of ultra feminine styles, neckwear belongings are as soft and dainty and exquisitely fine as they can possibly be. Handkerchief linen, sheer as cobweb, soft batistes, organdie, mousseline de soie and washable net go into the new collars and jabots, and very often there is marvelously beautiful hand embroidery, wrought on the fairy fine fabric.

French shops give the preference to cream tinted neck belongings, and there are some very beautiful specimens of hand embroidered cream—or "blonde" net—which include collar and cuffs; the collar usually in some odd and original shape, different from anything likely to be worn by the rank and file. A new collar for wear with silk frocks, and made of this creamy net with delicate hand embroidery and scalloping, appears to be turned around hind-side-before on the shoulders. A narrow, circular strip surrounds the neck, lying flat like an ordinary round collar of the Jane Eyre type except that the opening is at the back, and down the back, half way to the waist line, hang square pleatings of the embroidered net.

There are round collars, square collars, pointed collars, scalloped collars, cape collars and dear knows how many other sorts. Sometimes the neck opening is V-shaped in front, sometimes round; often square. And one may wear as shallow or as deep a neck-opening as personal fancy dictates this season. Every woman must be her own guide in this respect, for what is becoming to one face is often hopelessly trying to another. As a rule the V-shaped opening is most becoming, for it gives a long line that adds to the slenderness of the figure, and it has a way of softening the contour of a heavy or a hard face. And, if you will look about you any day in New York, you will find few faces—on women over thirty—that have not acquired hardness about the mouth.

Jabots and fichus are to be tremendously fashionable this summer—if one may judge by signs that point that way. There are fascinating net fichus, with little pleated frills all around the edge which will be the making of simple bodices of washable frocks. Elbow sleeves are coming in again, over in Paris; and the prettiest way to treat sleeves, when a fichu is crossed over the bodice front, is to cut them in a slanting line at the elbow, finish the edge with pleated net frills and then add a little bow of velvet ribbon to the outer side of each sleeve and a third bow where the fichu crosses on the bosom.

Jabots are of cream net also, and the prettiest ones are tapered to a point at the bottom; the two pleated sections of the jabot being attached to a narrow strip of net trimmed with tiny buttons, or hand embroidery. A very narrow collar of cream tinted crepe de chine opens in a deep V in front and is edged with a pleating of the crepe, hemstitched at the outer edge. This pleating is 4 inches deep at the back of the narrow collar, but tapers to nothing where the collar tapers to nothing at the point of the low V. Below, falls a pleated jabot of the crepe, also hemstitched. There are chemisette collars also; the collar turning back at the front from a long, straight vest portion which slips under the fronts of the bodice. Of this type is a broad organdie collar with a scalloped net hem, the two fabrics joined under a line of the most exquisite of organdie, tucked finely and fastened with little crochet buttons. To match this collar there are cuffs of organdie with scalloped hems of net, also embroidered.

Collar and cuff sets in very good style are of Georgette crepe cut in deep vandykes at the edge, the vandykes in turn being finished with tiny hand-embroidered scallops. Such a set is simple enough in style, but the sheer material and exquisite handiwork gives an effect of supreme distinction. Particularly French is an upstanding collar of sheerest organdie finished at the edge with a corded hem only. This collar is two inches high and is crisply starched, and it stands straight up from the neckband. But—and here is the secret—the neckband is at least two inches lower than normal and the bodice is cut out at least an inch lower at the back than this collar are circular in shape, so that they flare well away from the sleeve when turned back from the wrist.

For wear with tailored frocks or coats there are many varieties of cape collar; some of taffeta, others of linen or other wash materials. One is a cape collar of cream-colored linen bound with self-toned braid. This collar is square in cut at back and front and falls well over the shoulders. It is a more becoming style than the perfectly round cape-collar which invariably adds breadth to the figure. One young woman who has plenty of time at her disposal is making herself a cape collar and cuff set for wear with summer morning frocks. The round cape is finished at the edge with scallops and eyelets and the cape falls well over the shoulders. The neck opening is finished with a narrow turned-down collar, also scalloped and eyelet-holed. This narrow collar opens in a V at the front, and the larger cape-collar buttons down the front from the V with tiny pearl buttons. The cuffs are three inches wide and flare a trifle. They, also, are finished with scallops and eyelets.

Lace is again very fashionable on neckwear belongings and one sees a deal of filet, cluny and the lovely real Irish which has been missed for a year or two on new collars and cuffs of sheer linen.

The tulle neck ruff without adding uncomfortable warmth, gives the costume a finished touch and a certain formality and distinction. It is also invariably becoming in black or color.

There is ever a demureness about snowy cuffs and collar on a dark frock. This year a touch of lace is permitted.

Nothing in neckwear is quite as flattering as the tulle ruche. Therefore it prevails and here is this

A variation of the cape-collar, square in cut and made of cream linen bound with self-tone braid.

Is Your Face Too Fat?

MANY women deplore the fact that a diet which reduces the figure shows its results also in the face; but this is not invariably so deplorable after all. A fat face may be happy, jolly, good-natured, but never, never can it be interesting and spirituelle, the latter a French word expressing refinement and delicacy of contour and feature only to be found when the spirit shines through the flesh. It is this delicacy of feature and the wiping out of material lines that makes the face of a convalescent often so appealing and interesting. So long as the complexion is healthily white and pink, the lips rosy and the eyes bright with vitality, a thin face is no detriment to beauty—rather the reverse. Even a child with a fat face is not beautiful. The woman who fears to make her face thinner by dieting should remember that a thin pear larger and—provided other conditions bespeak health and vitality—will make her look younger than the fat, heavy-jowled cheek and chin of middle age.

PETTICOATED LIGHTS FOR THE BOUDOIR.

INSTEAD of dignified candles on the dresser now, there are two cleverly arranged electric lights, each one concealed beneath the frilly skirts of a little doll-lady togged out in appropriate Watteau style, or Eugenie style if one prefers. Two of these little dolls, dressed in ruffled pink silk skirts, tight pink bodices with puffed sleeves, and poke bonnets with nodding roses, stand guard over the electric lights that illumine the dresser in a charming boudoir. The glow of the light through

Cheesecloth Windows for Windy Nights

IN the housefurnishing departments of the big shops one finds a very clever window device for excluding wind and rain while admitting air; and the cost is so trifling that no family need be without a supply of these appliances—one for every sleeping-chamber in the house. The device is a light wooden screen, exactly like an ordinary sliding fly-screen for summer use, except that the frame is only eight or ten inches high and coarse cheesecloth is substituted for netting. The screens come in several sizes so that any window may be fitted and the smallest size costs about twenty-five cents. With one of these cheesecloth screens in place the window may be opened for ten inches even when a blizzard is blowing and the occupant of a bed in the room will not be annoyed by chilly breezes lifting the hair from his head while the bedclothes are hud- are especially useful for small, one-windowed rooms where wind and rain are apt to blow directly on the foot of the bed.

BE SURE YOUR GLOVES ARE CORRECT.

IN no detail of dress is the knowledge of fine discrimination in sartorial things more evident than in the choice of gloves. Yet a surprising number of women, otherwise, well-dressed, make mistakes in glove-wear. For instance, white glace kid gloves are not correct in the morning, unless one is on the way to a luncheon or some other formal affair; yet how many women one meets on a morning's shopping expedition gloved in formal white? Fawn colored or bisque gloves are now more fashionable in Paris than pure white for dressy wear, and the informal glove is of washable kid or heavy glace kid

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — THE QUESTION IS—WHAT WAS HE RUBBERING AT? — BY "HOP"

Mono Storage

Warehouse
North Avenue
Opp. Freight House
125 East Front Street

WHEN ITS YOUR MOVE

When you're going to MOVE don't forget that this concern has the equipment and trained men that reduces to the absolute minimum the danger of damage and breakage and the worries and exasperations of this trying time.

OUR SPLENDID EQUIPMENT insures promptness and no delays—our character help and exacting supervision the elimination of roughness and carelessness.

Call 541 and try us.

SEE US — HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to
Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS
W. A. SCHORB & CO.
Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold.
120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2296.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE

Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.

We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.

207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms
326 to 330 West Front Street,
Corner Grove

Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.

Phone 666.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 333-J

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2854
J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS
Floral Design Work a Specialty.

Chas. L. Stanley
Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1126 South Ave. Tel. 331.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 315.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Carnations a Specialty
FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers,
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N Y Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising that car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

200,000 GARDEN PLANTS

Can You Use Any of the Following?

Roses in Pots—50 Varieties.
Geraniums.
Heliotrope.
Lemon Verbena.
Cannas Salvias.
Sweet Alysium.
Colens, Stocks.
Verbenas, Cosmos.
Petunias Marguerites.
Salpflossis Snaptorafon.
Lobelia Scabiosa.
German Ivy.
Vinckas, Calendulas.
Forget-Me-Not.
English Daisies.
Begonias, Tubroses, Begonias.
Calladimu, Pansies.
Asters in all colors.
Butter, Gladiolas, Cannas, Tuberoses, Calladiums.

Hardy Plants.
Chrysanthemums—250 varieties.
Gaillardias, Phlox.
Jox Glove, Holyhocks.
Larkspur.
Dephiniums.
Grape Vines.

Vegetable Plants.
Cabbage.
Tomato Plants.
Parsley.
Egg Plants.
Peppers.

CHAS. L. STANLEY
159 East Front Street, Tel. 928.
Greenhouses Trolley Terminus, Netherwood.
Open From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

CYMRIC CREW LANDED.

Many Injured—Torpedoed Without Any Warning Is Report.

Bantry, May 10.—One hundred and seven members of the crew of the Cymric arrived at Bantry. Several, suffering from broken limbs, were sent to the hospital.

The officers of the Cymric declare that the vessel was torpedoed without warning. A submarine was seen, but it disappeared immediately after firing the torpedo.

The Cymric, although badly damaged, made her way for some hours, but finally sank.

Many of the crew on their arrival here were barefooted and only partially clad. They were provided with clothing and given all the care possible.

REPORT OF THE

Plainfield Savings Bank,

As made to the Commissioner of Banking at the close of business, May 1, 1916.

Resources.

Bonds and mortgages	$ 768,408.43
Other bonds, including premiums on same	596,754.00
Loans on Collateral	1,000.00
Banking House and fixtures	29,500.00
Cash in bank	71,093.35
Cash on hand	2,354.40
Tax advanced	59.01
Interest accrued on bonds	5,680.64
mortgages	17,952.60
Interest acrued on bonds	5,680.64
	$1,492,802.43

Liabilities.

Amount due depositors	$1,375,859.94
Average interest due depositors	16,600.00
Surplus	100,342.49
	$1,492,802.43

State of New Jersey,
County of Union. } ss.

W. F. Arnold, President, and H. A. Pope, Treasurer, of the Plainfield Savings Bank, being duly sworn, depose and say, and each for himself saith, that the above statement is correct and true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me at Plainfield, New Jersey, this ninth day of May, 1916.

A. E. CRONE, Notary Public.
W. F. ARNOLD, President.
H. A. POPE, Treasurer.
5 10 3

CHANCE FOR PRESS ADVERTISERS TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF THE ENTIRE COUNTY.

As the result of an agreement between the Plainfield Daily Press and the Elizabeth Evening Times any advertiser placing a classified ad in the Press may have that same ad inserted in the Elizabeth Evening Times upon the payment of one-half more than is charged for the Daily Press insertion alone. Thus, if an advertisement in the Daily Press costs forty cents, the same advertisement may be placed in the Elizabeth paper for an additional twenty cents.

The Elizabeth Evening Times has a circulation of 9,000 and is widely distributed throughout Union County. Thus if an advertiser places his advertisement in the Plainfield Daily Press and Elizabeth Evening Times he places it before the eyes of thousands of readers at a very small cost.

Most advertisers welcome the opportunity to attract the attention of the whole county to their offerings and with the co-operation of the Elizabeth Evening Times the Plainfield Daily Press is now able to make this possible. The Elizabeth Evening Times has earned a reputation for itself as an advertising medium, especially along the classified line, and it is a well known fact that its influence extends into other counties besides Union.

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E. WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

THE price of printing cannot be compared with the cost of printing until the wastebasket has been examined.
PLAINFIELD PRESS CO.,
193 North Avenue.

DIED.

NOLAN—At his late residence, 60 Milford avenue, Newark, on Tuesday, May 9, Andrew J. Nolan, Sr., beloved husband of Margaret D. McCarty Nolan, formerly of Plainfield, in his 48th year.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral on Friday morning at 8 o'clock, St. Columbus' church, Newark, where high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment at St. Mary's cemetery, Plainfield. Automobile cortege.

FORCE—On Tuesday, May 9, 1916, Dorothy A., daughter of Frank D. and Henrietta B. Force, in her 6th year.

Services at the parents' residence, 647 East Seventh street, on Friday, May 12, at 2 p. m. 5 10 2

ANTHONY—On Monday, May 8, 1916, Edith V., wife of Benjamin E. Anthony.

Funeral services at her late residence, 713 Essex street, on Thursday, May 11, at 2 p. m. Interment in Hillside cemetery.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

PRICE CUT IN HALF—Rose Comb Brown Leghorn eggs for hatching, 75 cents for 15. 21 Everett place, Plainfield. 5 8 2 eod

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue, Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

MERKEL 6 H. P. twin; $50. 555 East Second street; 'Phone 650-M. 5 10 4

FOR SALE—Gentleman's and boys' bicycle, cheap. Call evenings, 217 Watchung avenue, North Plainfield. 5 10 2

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, delivery wagon, nearly new, A-1 condition, open wagon and light buggy. E. J. Dunn, Dunellen, N. J. 5 9 2

FOR SALE—Dahlia and Gladiola bulbs. Call 1300 Columbia avenue. 5 8 3

SITUATION WANTED—FEMALE.

YOUNG Danish girl wants position as chambermaid and waitress. Call 831 Madison avenue; 'Phone 606. 5 10 3

WHITE woman wishes position as general housekeeper. 682 West Front street. 5 10 3

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—11-room house and barn, choicest location, shade and fruit trees, garden, convenient to depot, trolley, schools and churches. Lamar VanSyckel, 146 Park avenue. 5 10 3 w-f-s

LOST AND FOUND.

SUITABLE reward for return of small black and yellow dog, which disappeared from 514 West Seventh street, Tuesday evening, May 9.

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

SITUATION WANTED—MALE.

MAN wishes position as gardener and all around work. Frank Torpczynski, 964 West Third street. 5 10 3

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—Lot corner East Second street and Emerson avenue. Address J. S., care Press. 5 9 2

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

NORTH PLAINFIELD, 4 acres more, brook, trees, Greenbrook road, ideal home site, facing Washington Rock Park. W. B. Lundie, 137 Humboldt street, Weehawken, N. J. 5 4 6

FOR SALE—Lot 40x150, Arlington avenue, near school. J. T. Vail, 177 North avenue. 4 6 tf

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press. 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulvanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. H. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

WANTED—Two strong boys to learn plumbing trade. A. F. Newman, 600 Spooner avenue. 5 8 3

TEN painters wanted. Apply 145 Manning avenue, North Plainfield. 5 10 3

WANTED—A reliable man, married; steady work. People's Ice Co., Scotch Plains, N. J. 5 8 tf

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

230 EAST SEVENTH STREET—Handsomely furnished rooms, with first class board; accommodations for table guests. Mrs. Taggart, late of 104 East Ninth street. 5 10 2

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

FURNISHED room to let, with all conveniences. Apply 115 West Fourth street. 5 5 6

TO LET—Upper five-room flat, with all improvements. Apply J. Pashin, 647 West Third street, or 'Phone 1580-W. 5 10 4

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $25. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—Modern dwelling, 559 Belvidere avenue, 10 large rooms and 3 bathrooms; hot water heat; parquet floors; open fireplaces. Every modern improvement and convenience. Lot 100x165. May be seen by appointment. The State Trust Company. 3 6 tf eod

FOR RENT—May 1, house 302 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

WANTED—A girl for general housework (white); also a nurse to care for one child. Apply with references to Mrs. Wighton, 721 Watchung avenue. 5 9 3

EXPERIENCED girl wanted for general housework; no laundry; white preferred. Call 1004 East Seventh St. 5 10 tf

WANTED — Nurse-waitress; references required. Telephone 2468-W, or apply 945 Cedarbrook road. 5 9 tf

WANTED — General houseworker. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

WANTED—Immediately, white girl as waitress, small family; good wages; references required. Call evenings, 905 Watchung avenue. 5 8 3

GIRLS wanted on sewing machines, also learners; steady work; good wages. 318 West Front street, top floor. Weiser. 5 8 3

WANTED—Young girl for general housework; small family flat. Apply after 6 o'clock, 646 West Front street, downstairs. 5 8 3

WANTED—White girl for general housework. Call tonight, 25 Washington avenue. 5 3 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities 'Phone 1724. tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings; located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T. Vail, Plainfield 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 15 tf

Executor, Administrator,

Guardian, Trustee

VOLUNTARY TRUSTS

These trusts are operative during life and not after death. Their purpose is to establish an income producing fund for dependent friends or relatives, or for charitable endowment, and are particularly designed to relieve the overburdened business man of the care of his accumulated capital.

Voluntary Trusts are created by mutual agreement, the terms of which may provide for the disposition of the fund at death. This Company is prepared to handle such trusts and our Officers will be glad to answer questions on the subject.

The Plainfield Trust Company

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

Your Insurance Policy Against Moth Eaten Furs

Our experts have the whole summer before them to repair or remodel your furs. They now have the time to do the work right and our even temperature, moth-proof storage plant will take care of your valuable furs until you need them.

WE HANDLE THE BEST FURS IN PLAINFIELD BECAUSE WE DO OUR WORK RIGHT.

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

TRY A PRESS WANT AD.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
810 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.

AT

Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

B. GORKIN
48 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

A NETTLETON
Master Street Boot

$7 and worth it

"THE ARDSLEY"

Bal.—in Black and Tan Calfskin

The smartly refined lines of this model, its thorough finish, its quality-look, all make a strong appeal to the man who seeks dress-value in shoes.

But more; in black calfskin, "The Ardsley" represents the absolute utmost in wear; in tan calfskin, it is almost as durable. Nettleton Shoes are a sound investment and a real economy.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 West Front Street.

Agent—for Nettleton Men's Shoes—the world's finest.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 6.08, 5.46, (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.58, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), (8.52 except holidays), 6.27, 6.55, 7.22, 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.55, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.18, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.05 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (9.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 5.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—3.41, 9.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.28 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.39, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39, 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 5.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.46, 6.47 p. m.

*Except Mauch Chunk. 5 3 '15

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

—Until you have canvassed the readers of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property.

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE.
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL
Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.
KEEP 'EM SHORT.

TROT-MOC'S
BOY'S SCOUTS
TENNIS
GOLF
AND ALL SORTS OF SPORT SHOES AT Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

Have You Headache?

Do your Eyes burn or itch?
Do they feel tired or strained?
If so, have your Eyes examined;
Your glasses may need changing.

STILES & CO
Philadelphia Eye Specialists
AT 107 EAST FRONT ST.
EVERY THURSDAY.
Hours 10 to 5.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:08 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 5:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3:50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, :00, 3:50 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m Close—9:00 a. m 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m Close—2:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS

WATCHES
CLOCKS and
JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
217 Park Ave. Phone 1967-J.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale. Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MEISTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF COMMUTERS

SERVICE

this bank opens its doors for business every business morning at 8:15. Checks may be cashed, deposits made and access to safe deposit box obtained.

The nearness of this bank to the statiton makes it possible for customers to transact business and take the 8:30 train for the City without undue haste.

The New York business man is invited to do business with this company, and may feel certain that nothing will be left undone that will make the relation satisfactory.

3% interest is paid on accounts of $500 or more.
Checks on this company are payable at par.
Checks on points throughout the United States collected at par.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

Don't Wait Until It's Too Late

Everywhere we hear people talk PREPAREDNESS. Are you prepared for the attack of the worst enemy of the summer season—General Fly and his vast army of disease spreaders. Then, too, we make a specialty of wire screens for your veranda and sleeping porch. Again we say "Don't Wait," but come today and place your order.

J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Co.

EAST END YARD — MILL — WEST END YARD
No. Av. & Berckman St. Rock Ave. & S. 2d St. Rock Ave. nr. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J. Tel. 1776.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS, VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2538-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

ROBERT H. BARNARD
Proprietor of the WOODHULL & MARTIN BAKERY, has placed a full line of his goods on sale in
David S. Campbell's Store
898 North Avenue 5 5 6 Dunellen

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARRUPP, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST.
Telephone 868.

ORGANIZED 1868

PLAINFIELD SAVINGS BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Make Ample Provision

for the future by placing a dollar or more to your credit with the Plainfield Savings Bank each week. It will soon accumulate at interest. We cordially invite you to start an account with us.

Accounts of $1 or more accepted.

William F. Arnold, President.
Albert C. Stebbins, Vice-President.
Howard A. Pope, Secretary and Treasurer.
H. B. MacDonald, Asst. Sec'y and Treas.

4% INTEREST PAID
ONLY SAVINGS BANK IN PLAINFIELD

LAWN MOWERS
Some of the Best Cutters
Plainfield, Universal, Philadelphia, Matchless or Townsend
The Above Have Been Tried and Found True
SEEDS FERTILIZERS
FOR SALE BY
H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.
General Hardware and House Furnishings.
Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

If it's advertised today it is likely that it is of timely interest to you today.

Before you have followed the plan of reading the ads for very long you become an EDUCATED judge of values. This education must be kept up to the hour.

ORGANIZED 1875

Comforts and Blessings

Consider the many comforts and blessings your saved dollars will afford you and you will see the advantage of regular deposits.

Now is a good time to start an account with us.

4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts.

CITY NATIONAL BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Fair tonight and Friday; cooler; fresh north to northwest winds.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

FEAR OUTBREAK ALONG BORDER

Troops Being Changed to Prevent Attack on American Soil.

U. S. SENDS WARNING

"New Villa" Has 1,000 Men Just Across Line—Washington Expects Developments at Any Minute—Women Sent Away.

Washington, May 11.—Americans all throughout Mexico are being warned to leave that country at once. Secretary of State Lansing today made it plain that the orders to American consuls to urge their countrymen to return immediately to the United States were not confined to any particular locality.

Are Redisposing Troops.

Washington, May 11.—Behind the veil of secrecy maintained by the War Department, a rapid redisposition of troops is being made in Northern Mexico, under General Pershing. Important developments are expected in the near future.

Border Expects Attack.

Marathon, Tex., May 11.—All along the Rio Grande, for 100 miles in each direction, bandit raids upon American towns are imminent, and it is impossible for the four troops of American cavalry in the "Big Bend" country to patrol the entire distance. There are 1,000 Villista bandits under command of a man who calls himself Villa Nueyo—new Villa—massed just across the Rio Grande, seeking a favorable place to strike. The towns most open to raids are La Jitas, forty miles west of Boquillas, at the mouth of the Rio Grande Canyon, and Terlingua, twenty miles nearer.

All women are being sent away, and the men are arming to resist the bandits.

Thirty Bandits Cross Border.

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—Thirty Mexicans on guard along the Rio Grande crossed the river last night to a piece of ground on the American side of the river, but owned by Mexico, because of a sudden change in the course of the stream several years ago, and aimed several times at the American patrol along the line, but did not fire.

This was officially reported by Lieut. French, in command of the American detachment on guard. Heretofore the Mexicans have regarded the river as the border at this point and have not attempted to cross to the land in question.

STEEL COMPANY TAKES OVER PLANT MORTGAGE

Bethlehem Corporation in Deal With C. & C. Concern at Garwood.

The Bethlehem Steel Company has taken a mortgage for $90,000 on the plant and property of the C. & C. Electric and Manufacturing Company in Garwood. In the mortgage, which was filed at the Courthouse in Elizabeth yesterday, the C. & C. Company agrees to continue to operate the plant and to keep it in repair, but the Bethlehem Company will take over the property in case of failure to pay the loan of $90,000, for which the mortgage is security.

Inquiries in Elizabeth and New York yesterday failed to reveal the purpose of the Bethlehem Steel Company in acquiring this mortgage. George L. Wodey, of Samuel L. Moore & Sons, an Elizabeth firm which is controlled by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said yesterday that the filing of the mortgage was news to him, as he had heard nothing of the matter before. At the New York office of the company it was stated that the only man who can tell what the plans are in connection with the mortgage is the treasurer of the company, B. H. Jones, of Bethlehem, Pa., who conducted the transaction for the steel company.

CONGRESS MAY CALL A PEACE CONFERENCE.

Wahingtn, May 11.—Representative Green, of Iowa, introduced a resolution in the House today providing for an international peace conference to settle European war, to be called by President Wilson, at which not only the warring powers, but also the neutral powers of North and South America, are to be represented. The resolution was referred to the House Committe on Foreign Affairs.

Do You Want
to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv.
4 24 tf ***

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

BAYONET STOPS GERMAN ATTACKS

French Hold Out at Verdun Against More Terrific Assaults.

FIGHT AT LAKE VAUX

Crown Prince Seeking Weak Spot in Defense—Berlin Announces That Alsace-Lorraine Villages Are to Be Rebuilt at Once.

Paris, May 11.—German troops suffered another check at Verdun early today. They made a furious attack upon the French trenches west of the small lake near Vaux on the east bank of the Meuse, but the communique issued by the War Office this afternoon states that they were repulsed with the bayonet. This attack like that made yesterday on Hill No. 287, is believed by the French to be an effort of the Crown Prince to find a weak spot in the lines of the Verdun defenses. Thus far all his attempts have resulted in failure. The communique also reports a violent bombardment directed by the Germans against the French at Avocourt Woods, but states that elsewhere on the Verdun front there was no break in the lull.

To Rebuild Alsace-Lorraine.

Berlin, May 11.—The Reichstag today passed on first reading the bill providing for the reconstruction of villages in Alsace-Lorraine, destroyed by the French, and those in East Prussia ruined during the early Russian invasion.

Germans Repulse Attacks.

Berlin (by wireless to Sayville), May 11.—The German War Office today announced the repulse of two French attacks made yesterday on the west bank of the Meuse, northwest of Verdun. The official statement also says that since May 4 the Germans have captured 1,568 prisoners in the fighting about Hill No. 304.

Berlin Secretary Coming Home.

Berlin, May 11.—It was announced today that J. C. Grew, secretary of the American Embassy, would soon leave Berlin for New York to attend to private business, his father having died recently.

MALCOLM W. STRONG'S BODY ARRIVES HERE

Dr. J. S. Zelie Will Officiate at Funeral to Be Held at Parents' Home Today.

The body of Malcolm W. Strong, the playwright, who lost his life in an automobile accident in Los Angeles, Cal., last week, was received here this morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Strong, of Central avenue. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will conduct simple services for the family at the home this afternoon and the burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery tomorrow morning.

Mr. Strong, who was a graduate of Leland Standord University, had been engaged in writing moving picture plays for sometime, being in the employ of the Universal Film Company. He lived at Universial City. At the time of the accident which caused his death a tire on the machine burst and the car turned turtle.

PRIZE SONG WRITERS SELECTED BY JUDGES

Miss Olive Lawrence, Class '16, Plainfield High School, is the winner of the prize-song competition conducted by the West End Civic Association, the aim being to get an appropriate song for "Jersey Day," tomorrow. She will receive $5 in gold. A title of her composition is "New Jersey Song," and it is set to the tune of Auld Lang Syne.

Everett Case, Class '17, was awarded second honors, $3, his song being entitled "Hail New Jersey," set to the music of "The Orange and Black." The judges were Clifford A. Braider, Lindsey Best and Mrs. Joseph Edgar. These songs will be sung for the first time at school tomorrow morning and at the celebration in the Washington School tomorrow night. They will be published in The Daily Press tomorrow.

M'DONALD'S RESTAURANT SOLD

Jeremiah MacDonald, who has been conducting a restaurant at 119 North avenue, has sold the business to M. Ahern, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The latter will take possession next Monday and proposes to introduce several ideas that will make the place one of the most complete of the kind in the city. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald have purchased a home on Jackson avenue, where they will make their residence. Mr. MacDonald's plans for the future are not completed at this time.

—Press want ads. pay.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

Prying the Lid Off

MISS KREWSEN PUT ON LONG PROBATION

Nurse Confesses Guilt and Must Pay $1.50 a Week For Two Years.

Miss Helen Krewsen, the Plainfield nurse who was recently arrested on several charges of larceny made against her by families of Somerville where she had been employed professionally, is on probation for two years, during which time she must report to Judge Daniel H. Beekman once each week and pay $1.50.

Miss Krewsen stated in court that she was married, but did not give the name of her husband. She was sometimes known as Mrs. Krewsen.

The complaints against the woman were made by William A. Ackerman, supervising principal of the Somerville public schools; Mrs. Mary Lyman, Miss Sophia Talmage and A. L. Canfield. She had been employed by each of them between last July and January, and in each place, when notes were compared, it was found that many articles had disappeared.

Among the articles taken was a pair of trousers from Mr. Canfield. It was alleged they were afterward seen on a man in Plainfield with whom the prisoner was known to be friendly, but who, it was said, was not her husband. Small articles which had disappeared were found to have been given to the children of a woman friend in Plainfield.

Prosecutor Beekman expressed the opinion that the woman was under the influence of the man in this city. Her counsel, former Prosecutor F. A. Pope, pointed to the fact that she did not sell the articles as indicating his client did not steal for profit. He said if she was not sent to jail a man had agreed to take charge of the nurse. She is an attractive brunette about 23 years old. Judge Beekman said he had investigated the offer and therefore imposed only the probation sentence.

STATISTICS.

Wednesday.

Decisions	23
Reconsecrations	100
Children	2
Decisions to renounce the dance	381

Totals to date:

Decisions	1333
Reconsecrations	2198
Children	264
	3790

Automobile Repairs
at lowest price consistent with first-class workmanship. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. ***

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

DOVER ELKS' SHOW THE GREATEST YET

Fifty Plainfielders Enjoyed Production and Hospitality of Morris Co. Town.

Fifty members of Plainfield Lodge of Elks, who made their yearly visit to Dover last night to witness the annual musical comedy and minstrel production of the Dover Elks, are enthusiastic today in their praises of the show. As in previous years, the entertainment was written and staged by Past Exalted Ruler "Pete" Woodhull, who is an expert in this direction, and was presented at the Baker Theatre under the title of "Welcome, Stranger!" It was brimful of action, catchy songs and choruses, good comedy and dancing, backed up by beautiful settings of special scenery.

Most of the principals in the production are well-known to the Plainfielders, and the local delegation was more than liberal with its applause. While every number was enjoyed to the limit, especial big hits were registered by Miss Greta Kelsey, with her singing, whistling and toe dancing; Miss Hazel Bowlby, Mrs. Lucy Ayer, "Sheriff" William Hosking, former Sheriff W. B. Gillen, Howard Custard, William E. James, and Al Kaiser with songs and comedy. A rousing reception was acorded Miss "Girlie" O'Connor, who is a former Bound Brook resident and well-known locally, and Russell C. Struble, in their cabaret singing and dancing specialty. A chorus of twenty young men and women supported the principals and an orchestra of fourteen pieces provided music. During an interlude, the Plainfielders presented a beautiful floral fraternal key to the Dover lodge, acceptance being made by Past Exalted Ruler Woodhull in a neat speech of thanks.

Following the performance, most of the Plainfielders were accorded a reception and supper at Pine Terrace Inn, where those taking part in the show were entertained. Others of the local contingent were guests of honor at a supper given in the Mansion House by Proprietor G. M. Hergan, also a Plainfield resident at one time. In either instance the members of 885 were treated royally and are sounding the praises of Dover and Dover lodge today in more glowing terms than ever before. The committee which arranged the trip from Plainfield, which was made by automobiles, was composed of "Sammy" Taverner, J. Wendell Mosher and James Coleman.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.

The Plainfield Trust Company will be represented at the annual convention of the New Jersey Bankers' Association to be held at the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City, on May 12 and 13 by Messrs. O. T. Waring, president; J. H. Case, vice president; DeWitt Hubbell, secretary-treasurer, and H. H. Pond, one of the directors.

EXECUTOR THREATENED WITH JAIL SENTENCE

Court Directs Victor Merrill to Produce Mortgage by 4 O'clock This Afternoon.

The hearing in the will contest of Howard Van Orden and Mrs. Florence Cochran, grandchildren, against the estate of Mrs. Mary VanOrden Parker, of Oak Tree, is being continued today in New Brunswick. Victor Merrill, executor of the estate and chief beficiary, the defendant, is represented by Francis J. Blatz, of this city.

Mr. Merrill was ordered by the court to produce today two mortgages, aggregating $12,000, which is a part of the estate. It was shown that they were assigned to a Mrs. Coleman, a daughter of Mr. Merrill, who is living in New York. He stated that his daughter refused to give him the mortgages, but would turn them over to the court upon getting a receipt. This did not please the court and Mr. Merrill was told that unless the mortgages were in court at 4 o'clock this afternoon he must go to jail for contempt. He is now busy trying to get possession of the documents.

The grandchildren are represented by Attorneys Edward F. Clark, Roger Hinds and T. H. Haggerty. The estate is valued at about $50,000. Mrs. Parker died in Muhlenberg Hospital, this city, March 21, last.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND HIT HER WITH FIST

Edgar Apgar, aged 51 years, will be arraigned in police court tomorrow morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. His wife made a complaint against him. She says that he used profane and indecent language toward her and struck her with his fist.

GEORGE YORK FINDS A BABY THAT WAS LOST

A toddling three-year-old youngster was found wandering around on Front street near the corner of Watchung avenue at 9 o'clock this morning by Constable George York. The child was lost, and was taken to the Day Nursery. Mr. York notified police headquarters and within a short time Chris Rolis, of Elm place, called to claim his child.

TO HOLD EXXHXIBITIONO.

An exhibition of folk dancing, drills and games will be held in the Day Nursery tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The affair will be under the direction of Miss Florence Burt, who has taught the children during the winter. The exhibit will be free to the public and all the King's Daughters are invited to be present.

ALMOST 400 PROMISE TO GIVE UP DANCE AFTER HEARING BIEDERWOLF DENOUNCE IT AS SADLY IMMORAL

PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION HAS NO RIGHT TO USE SCHOOLS AS DANCE HALLS, SAYS EVANGELIST.

CROWD OF ALMOST 7,000 CHEERS STATEMENT

Evangelist Left for New York After Close of Service—Goes to Father's Funeral—Mrs. Brake in Charge of Young People's Service Tonight—Collection for the Family Altar League.

"I regret that the Plainfield public schools are sometimes used for dance halls," the Rev. William E. Biederwolf stopped in the middle of a dramatic sermon, "The Dance," at the Tabernacle last night to say. "I do not believe that the Board of Education here or anywhere else has the right to turn your schools into dance halls unless they receive this through a majority vote of the people on a direct question."

This declaration of the evangelist received applause from more than two-thirds of the almost 7,000 men and women in the Tabernacle, showing that there is some sentiment in Plainfield against the dance—or the modern dances, as Dr. Biederwolf meant in using the general term.

The sermon of the evangelist was the last that he will preach before attending the funeral of his father in Monticello, Indiana. He left immediately after the service of last night and Thursday and Friday evenings the services are to be in charge of Mrs. Brake.

While his sermon was a bitter denunciation of the dance and a plea that all professing Christians forsake this, the most popular form of amusement in America, it was delivered in a delicate manner that was forceful but not shocking. Dr. Biederwolf said that every sentence had been wrought out on his knees in prayer and that he used the kindest language possible, hoping to elevate not pull down those who were devotees of the dance. He expressed the hope that no one would be offended, but feared that some mother would go out thinking that her daughter had received ideas that might make the dance immoral in the future. He told such mothers that their daughters knew more than they thought. If they do not they will find it out pretty soon, he said, as every other girl must find out, and he declared it was a million times better for them to hear it in the Tabernacle than to learn the way some girls do.

There were delegations present from the Foresters, the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, and the Patriotic Sons of America.

"I am not going to argue with you," said Dr. Biederwolf in the beginning. "I am simply going to tell you some things I know to be true and trust to your own enlightened Christian judgment, your own high sense of honor and your own fine sense of distinction between what is delicate and refined and modest, and what is indelicate and coarse and suggestive."

He first laid down the principle of sacrifice upon which all Christians must build their lives, and then said that the thing to be sacrificed depended upon the position of the individual in the world. There must be a difference between one who is not a Christian and one who is, said the minister, and he pointed out that Christians must do more than others to lead loved ones to the church of Jesus Christ.

After quoting others high in life, some not Christians, as to the character of the dance, Dr. Biederwolf declared that the thing was immoral in itself, unlike the card game and the theatre, except that it be between a man and his wife or his betrothed. There are no square dances in brothels, he said, and he suggested that his hearers ask a brothel keeper why, as he had done. He recited the testimony of dancers, and of dancing instructors to show that it led to sin and shame, and then declared that the church itself denied its members the dance.

At the close of his sermon Dr. Biederwolf asked all persons under 35 years of age who had never danced and who were willing to promise God that they never would to come forward, also all persons of any age who had danced, but were willing to promise that they would forsake this pleasure, and more than 200 crowded in front of the pulpit to make this pledge.

The collection last night was for the Family Altar League, one of the organizations that Dr. Biederwolf helped to found and to which he gives the proceeds of the sales of his sermons and books. He said last night that one of the reasons why the church was getting so far away from God was because people have stopped praying in the home.

The evangelist urged all to pray for Mrs. Brake during his absence and to pray for him and promised that the two evenings Mrs. Brake preached wonderful results would be seen.

Mr. McEwan sang "Plainfield for Christ," and the quartet sang "My Guiding Star."

Tonight will be Young People's Night at the Tabernacle and a delegation of more than 250 young people will come from Elizabeth. Organizations in Plainfield will also be represented.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Biederwolf will preach to men only on "Booze," but all seats not taken at 2:45 can be occupied by women. This is one of the strongest sermons of the entire campaign.

It was announced last night that the big downtown demonstration would be held next Wednesday night. Already acceptances are coming in from organizations of every class in the city and it is expected that 10,000 men and women will take part in the celebration.

VERDICT OF $55,000 AGAINST LOCAL WOMAN IN SUIT OVER A DOCTOR'S LOVE

A verdict for $55,000 was awarded against Miss Laura Biggar, of Plainfield, in the Supreme Court of Brooklyn yesterday, in favor of Mrs. Agnes M. Hendrick, who sued for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Dr. Charles C. Hendricks.

Miss Biggar and her attorney gave her residence as Plainfield when questioned in the Brooklyn court. Attorney Biggar is registered at a local hotel. tioned in the Brooklyn court. Miss

In denying the motion of Miss Biggar's attorney, Morgan Donnelly, for a stay pending an appeal, Justice Manning said:

"The verdict seems just. I shall not grant a stay unless I am assured that the defendant is financially responsible for the amount of the verdict, or that she will furnish a bond for the sum recovered."

"The case has been a long one," said Mrs. Hendrick, "and all credit is due my counsel, Luke O'Reilly. He is a darling."

According to Mrs. Hendrick, she and Dr. Hendrick were married in 1894, had seven children, and lived happily until 1903, when he persuaded her to leave her home in Jersey City and go to her mother's home, in Brooklyn, telling her that he was attending a case of smallpox. Soon afterward and the next time she saw him, he and Miss Biggar were in jail at Freehold, N. J., accused of conspiracy. This charge was afterward dismissed.

Dr. Hendrick testified that he and his wife separated in 1901 because of difficulties due to her jealousy of women patients. He said he did not meet Miss Biggar until 1902. Mrs. Hendrick obtained a divorce four years ago, naming Miss Biggar as co-respondent.

At the first trial of the action for alienation of affections, six years ago, Mrs. Hendrick won a verdict of $75,000, which was reduced to $550,000 by the presiding justice. The Apellate Division reduced it to $25,000 and the Court of Appeals set it aside and ordered a new trial.

EUCHRE AND DANCE.

A euchre and dance under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., Division No. 5, is to be held in Knights of Pythias Hall, on Monday evening, May 15. Play begins at 8:30.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

MISSIONARY AND AID MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Missionary and Aid Society of Warren chapel immediately after the morning service Sunday. Mrs. McKelvey wishes to meet all the members of this society in the chapel at that time.

—Press want ads. pay.

Scotch Plains and Fanwood

FANWOOD INVADED BY GYPSY BAND, BUT CITIZEN ARMY REPULSES THEM

Anyone passing through Fanwood borough during the middle of yesterday afternoon must have had visions of the United States border along the Mexican front—and it certainly did resemble some such scene, with men rushing about in all directions as if they had lost their heads, and presently appearing as if by magic with a band of curious citizens that were half-brothers, at least, to the Mexicans. They marched toward the firehouse on Watson road, and bundled their charges therein in excellent imitation of the way they do it in Mexico.

The whole thing hinged on a telephone message from Westfield that had been relayed from Garwood, where men were feeling in their pockets to see if any money had escaped the deft touch of the invaders. Mobilizing his army in excellent order, including George Estelle, John Ford and Albert Walpole, local taxi men, and several other volunteers, with Maurice Higgins, lieutenant of the Plainfield police force, as first lieutenant and chief advisor, Marshal John Logan advanced on the invaders as they crossed the Westfield line. Deploying in two columns, the enemy, otherwise known as gypsies, advanced along South and North avenues, thereby putting one over on the defenders, because the entire army was on South avenue and left North avenue unguarded. Before Chief Advisor Higgins could warn his general of impending strategical defeat, the North avenue brigade of gypsies had reached the heart of the borough.

As the home guard closed in upon them, one gayly-bedecked damsel had George Rainier "button-holed" on the corner of Martine and North avenues, but he knew her game and was merely holding her until the officers arrived. Another of the fair sex had an old man waiting at the C. R. R. of N. J. station for a train, behind a bush in the park, trying to show him that she could change a five dollar bill to a ten, while still another was trying to pursuade Edward Finisy, the baggage master, to part with a dollar to see her do the greatest dance ever shown.

Scenting danger in the distance, the gang cleared out toward Plainfield. Feeling weary after their profitable visit, the gypsies strolled back to the borough line and were reposing on the springy sod when the advance guard of the regular army, Estelle, Ford and Walpole, whom Logan had sent in pursuit, came upon them and the journey to the tribunal was begun. "General" Logan, with the main army, brought the right wing of the conquered forces to the "tribunal la firehouse" at the same time as the other section arrived, and Recorder Sheelen opened the solemn occasion.

An hour's session only got twelve of the names of the tribe, they being translated from as many different languages, as follows: Peter Lace, Miller Stevens, Mary Pueller, Jane Martin, James Condit, Mary Newbo, Lewis Catherine, Emma Gerser, Aller Adams, Lena Grey, George Pullock and Mary Pullock. As the shades of night were falling fast and a number were growing hungry, the Recorder drew them up in a bunch and levied $25 on them. After paying it, they swore they had one dollar left, and started for regions unknown with the Plainfield and Westfield forces mobilized on either side, waiting to repulse them.

MRS. HASKELL WILL GIVE RECITAL OF "QUALITY STREET"

Mrs. Fanetta Sargen Haskell will appear in the Parish House Tuesday night under the auspices of the Sunday-school of the Methodist church, when she will devote the evening to a recital of parts of James M. Barrie's dramatized novel, "Quality Street."

She has been enthusiastically received at recitals in New York, Washington, New Orleans, Chicago, City of Mexico, England, Scotland, Cuba, and various points on the European continent, besides nearly all of the cities of the United States.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

SPELLING CONTEST.

Supervising principal of local schools, S. Dana Townsend, has announced that the elimination contest for the places on the team that will represent the local schools in the annual Union county spelling contest on May 26 will start on Monday. Keen competition has been shown thus far, and it is expected that the locals will have the strongest team that has yet been sent from here. The contest is taken part in by practically all the schools in the county, and last year Frank Weldon, a local youth, got second prize.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

A. D. MACAULAY
Carpenter and Builder
JOBBING
1204-M.
WESTFIELD AVE. SCOTCH PLAINS

LET EXPERTS DO YOUR REPAIRING
AT
The Scotch Plains Garage
(Schiffel and Frazee)
Repairs—Supplies—Storage Open day and night
Auto Bus to Hire
Bicycle Accessories
Corner Park and Mountain Avenues SCOTCH PLAINS
Telephone 1466

CENTRAL MARKET
(Charles Michaels)
Best Place in Scotch Plains to Buy High-Grade Meats, Fresh and Smoked, and All Kinds of Heinz Pickles.
Phone 1478-M. SCOTCH PLAINS

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT
ILLUSTRATED EDITION
Distributed by the
PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.
3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it
Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.
EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED
MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED
Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles 2c
Up to 300 miles 3c
Up to 600 miles 4c
Up to 1000 miles 5c
For greater distances add postmaster rate for 2 lbs.

UNIQUE TABLEAUX IN FIREHOUSE HALL

Fanwood Program for Saturday Night Worthy of Public Notice.

A series of tableaux and a short sketch, entitled, "The Bachelor's Dream," will be presented in the Fanwood firehouse Saturday night, under the auspices of the All Saints' Guild of the Episcopal church, for the benefit of the rectory and parish house fund of the church. Those who will participate in the affair have all been chosen and the last rehearsal will be held tomorrow night. Following is a list of those who will appear in the sketch or tableaux:

"Songs of All Nations," tableaux, Edth Fancher, Marjorie Tuzo, Mariette McAneny, Frances Barrett, Dorothy Pandick, Jennie Lambertson, Wilbur McAneny, Raymond Sherwood, Peter Pandick, Helen Miller, Sherman Betts and Gertrude Head.

Illustrated songs will consist of the following cast: Mariette McAneny, Margaret Barrett, Frances Young, Kathryn McAneny, Florence Meeker, George McAneny, Richard Tull, Howard Kirby, Lamar Tuzo, Stoddard Nichols, Paul Tuzo, Ralph Newell, Kathryn McAneny, Florence Meeker and Mrs. Orr and the infant class of the Sunday-school.

The sketch, entitled, "The Bachelor's Dream," will be acted by the following: Bachelor, S. Dana Townsend; Friends, James Carter, S. Wright McAneny, Jr., John R. Meggy, George Jespersen, Bradley Barrett and Amando Paul.

The bachelor girls will be the Misses Barbara Graham, Vera Pandick, Stella Garsky, Kathryn M. McAneny, Rose Thomas, Emily Garda, Olive Garda, Theresa Lewis, Hannah Lambertson, Ruth Barrett, Mrs. Palmer, Beatrice Head, Helen Head, Gertrude Head and Viola Garda.

Town Topics

Ever since the trial before Borough Recorder Charles Sheelan last Monday night of the Westfield youth that caused an accident in the borough several weeks ago and was reckless as well, there has been considerable talk that the Fanwood officials were unnecessarily severe in bringing him into court and finding him guilty, even though sentence was suspended. Fanwood, like all other places, has ordinances governing such things, and if they are not enforced, autoists will, after a while, have no regard for pedestrians and more serious accidents are sure to result. The officials are not going to do anything that they know will be detrimental, and when they do take steps to make it possible for local streets to be safe, it would be a great deal better if everyone would try to help and not hinder.

Next Tuesday will be known as "exhibition day" in the local schools, at which time the work done by the pupils during the past year will be on display for the parents to see. Every resident should make it their business to attend it, and by so doing show their interest in the educational work being accomplished.

ANNUAL EXHIBIT FOR SCHOOL PUPILS' WORK

The students at School No. 1 are preparing for their annual exhibit of school work that will be held in the school building next Tuesday. The affair has now become recognized by the parents as an opportunity to find out just what their children have been doing during the year. Besides the usual exhibits in writing, arithmetic, geography and other regular subjects, there will be an added interest this year, as a part of the exhibit will be of the work accomplished by the pupils in the improvised manual training and home arts departments that Principal S. Dana Townsend has tried to start, although there is no regular appropriation for them.

The results obtained thus far in the two lines that are new to the children will undoubtedly be well received by the parents and may help toward having a yearly appropriation hereafter.

The teachers and pupils will be about the building throughout the day to show visitors about and explain anything desired.

IN "PREPAREDNESS" PARADE.

A large number of local people, both from Scotch Plains and Fanwood, will be present at the Citizens' "Preparedness" parade in New York, Saturday. A number of local business men connected in business in various ways will march in the parade with the different associations. Mayor William Hoar, of the borough, is a member of the Citizens' Committee, and will act as marshal of the garment salesmen. His column will assemble on Sixteenth street, west of Fifth avenue, facing east, and will be ready to start at 1 o'clock.

NO PRAYER MEETING.

There will be no prayer meeting in the Methodist church tomorrow night, as many will attend the Biederwolf services in Plainfield.

EXPECT RECORD YEAR FOR CAMP ENDEAVOR

Meetings Being Held Regularly to Devise New Features for Summer Months.

With the approach of summer, the trustees of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union's fresh air camp, on the mountain in back of Scotch Plains, are getting ready for the opening of the season. The several chairmen have been selected, and considerable work has already been started. Meetings have been held in the past two weeks with the view of talking over the various needs, and a circular has been printed descriptive of the work being done by the union and is being distributed. Indications point to the best season for Camp Endeavor since its start several years ago.

The plan adopted last summer relative to the taking of children only from Union county will again be adhered to, and with improved facilities the number entertained at the camp during July and August should be larger than heretofore.

The president of the Board of Trustees, Fred G. Lounsberry, of Plainfield, has been identified with the work ever since the camp was started. Miss Lucie M. Coriell, also of Plainfield, is the secretary, and the treasurer is George W. Mingus, of Rahway, who succeeds Purdy F. Benedict, of Roselle, who retires after several years of excellent work. Frederick F. Mintel, of Rahway, is vice-president, and, together with Mr. Lounsberry, acts as member, ex-officio, of the committees, each having supervision over a certain number. Mr. Benedict is chairman of the guest committee; Archie R. Taintor, of the commissionary; William Hoffman, of the house committee, and Miss C. L. Lum, of the devotional and entertainment. Jesse Lounsberry is superintendent of the grounds about the camp, and Mrs. Mingus heads the finance committee. Miss Jennie Stoddard, who so competently filled the position of matron last year, will again occupy that position.

MAY LAY OUT RANGE NEAR SCOTCH PLAINS

Plainfield Rifle Club Contemplating Feature Near Here.

According to present plans the Plainfield Rifle Club, a newly organized body, will in the near future establish a 300 yard rifle range at the foot of the mountains in Scotch Plains. Tentative plans were made for this feature at a meeting held Tuesday night and Scotch Plains was agreed upon as a site in preference to a number of other good locations.

The mountain base in this vicinity is particularly well adapted for anything of this kind, the rock walls forming a natural back-board that couldn't be duplicated for any amount of money. The Plainfield club also preferred this site because of its convenient location, trolleys running within a short distance of it.

At present the Plainfield organization, which has a membership of over 100, is using the range of the Independent Rifle Club, but this is only a temporary convenience.

COMING EVENTS.

Today.
Belgian Relief Society—Misses Kyte.
Bible Training Class—Misses Kyte.

Saturday.
All Saints' entertainment—Fanwood firehouse.

Sunday.
Mothers' Day in the churches.

Tuesday.
Fanwood Fire Co.—monthly meeting.
School No. 1 exhibit.
Methodist entertainment—Parish House.

Wednesday.
Willow Grove Sewing Circle—monthly meeting.
Ladies' Aid Society (P. E.)—undecided.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Toble Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 901.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

FANWOOD TO PAY PUPILS' CARFARE

School Board Busy Working Out Plan to Spend $3,000.

Ever since the annual school election in March, the Fanwood Township Board of Education has been at work solving the transportation problem of local school children. At the election, $3,000 was appropriated to bear the expense of local students going to Westfield and Plainfield High Schools, and during the past few weeks the Board has been getting the necessary data. Some of the pupils go back and forth on the trolley, and some on the train; and so the expense of each individual case will not be the same. As soon as the matter is fully worked out, the way of the pupils will be paid.

When the transportation problem of the High School pupils is settled, the Board will be able to turn its attention to local transportation facilities. Some of the grammar school pupils in the Willow Grove and other remote sections of the township have to walk a considerable distance to and from school. At a recent meeting of the school superintendents from various parts of the State, that was held at Trenton, a resolution was passed that will be presented to the State Board of Education and will undoubtedly become a school law. It fixes the distance that school children may be compelled to walk to school, and will effect local children in a number of cases. For elementary pupils, two miles was fixed as the maximum distance that they should walk to school and a mile and a half to the nearest line of transportation.

TO PROBE COAL PRICES.

Department of Justice Hears Raise Is to Be Made.

Washington, May 11.—Important investigation of the anthracite industry is virtually assured as a result of the price increase which has been decided upon by the companies since the recent wage increases.

Following the publication of correspondence between Attorney General Gregory and the federal trade commission, in which it was disclosed that any increase in prices which seemed to exceed the wage increases would be investigated, it became known that department of justice officials have information that the coal companies intend to inaugurate a higher level of prices.

The belief in official quarters is that the trade commission already is preparing to begin its investigation.

BRITISH EXTEND LINE.

Now Hold Ninety Miles on Franco-Belgian Front.

London, May 11.—British troops now hold a front of ninety miles in France and Belgium, according to an official announcement made in the house of commons. The Belgian line is taken up by the British at a point near Merckem, southeast of Dixmude. The twenty-five mile sector held by the British in Belgium extends to Loos and includes the Ypres salient. In France the line extends from Loos south sixty-five miles to Lassigny, twenty-five miles northwest of Soissons. This line includes the Lille sector, the Hulluch region and the region to the north of the Somme.

In the early days of the war the British held only seventeen miles of this Franco-Belgian front.

New Yorker Arrested In Ireland.

Washington, May 11.—The state department is interesting itself in the arrest by British authorities of John Kilgallon of Long Island City presumably in connection with the Irish revolt. Mr. Kilgallon was attending school in Dublin under Professor Pearse and was arrested April 24 on a charge of bearing arms. On the request of Mr. Kilgallon's relatives the department has inquired as to the circumstances of the case and the date of the trial.

MRS. M. A. LEWIS,
Millinery
Untrimmed Hats from 75c to $3.00
New shapes each week
Flowers from 10c to $1.50 each
Best quality black velvet ribbon, per yard—No. 7, 19c; No. 9, 25c; No. 12, 29c
Bring in your own materials and have them made like new FRONT STREET SCOTCH PLAINS

'Phone Your Order for
HORTON'S ICE CREAM to
JOSEPH ALBERT
Paper Plates and Spoons Furnished Free for Parties.
Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobacco
Scotch Plains. Phone 1485-W.

FORD TAXI COMPANY
Montague Ave., SCOTCH PLAINS
Tel. 1239 Fanwood
Satisfactory Taxi Service—Once a mere dream—now a dream come true.

G. S. RAINIER
Martine Avenue. Phone 1210
BOROUGH REAL ESTATE
Mirror Candies
Crane's Philadelphia Ice Cream

SHEELEN BROTHERS
FANCY GROCERIES
All Kinds of
FRUITS, ORANGES
FANCY TABLE APPLES
Fresh String Beans, Cauliflower, Celery, Boston Lettuce and other vegetables in season.
TRY OUR
HOTEL ASTOR COFFEE
Ceylon and Mixed Teas
White Rose and Mistletoe Brand Canned Fruits and Vegetables. Rockdale Butter.
Telephone 1224—1209-R.
SOUTH AVENUE FANWOOD

THE SEASON'S TREAT
Bock Beer
Equal to Any—Superior to Many
All Kinds of Bottled Beer on Hand
Try it at
Ye Olde Historic Inn
H. J. FROWERY, Proprietor
Wholesale and Retail Liquor Dealer
Deliveries to All Parts of Township
RESTAURANT
Dinner a la Carte at Reasonable Prices.
Tables Reserved for Families and Parties
One Block From Trolley, Scotch Plains, N. J. Get off at Park Ave.
Telephone 1470 Fanwood.

MEYER BROTHERS
FINE GROCERIES
GENERAL MERCHANDISE
Coffee Coupons Given With Each
CASH PURCHASE
SEED POTATOES GARDEN SEEDS
POULTRY and MOSQUITO NETTING
SCOTCH PLAINS Tel. 1432-R

H. C. FLANNERY
Castle's Ice Cream
Sanitary Napkins, Spoons and Plates Furnished Free
Telephone 1478-W.
Free Deliveries
PARK AVENUE SCOTCH PLAINS
POCKET BILLIARDS

THE PARK AVENUE MARKET
(Clarence E. Sharkey)
Swift's Hams
Fresh and Smoked Meats
Highest Quality
Telephone 1218-J. Scotch Plains

J. B. GUTTRIDGE
PHONE 311. NETHERWOOD
CHOICE MEATS—BEST GROCERIES
Two Deliveries to Scotch Plains and Fanwood Daily
Buy From the Big Store—Save Money.

PLUMBING TINNING
S. B. MACAULEY
SCOTCH PLAINS PHONE 1204-M.
Steam and Hot Water Heating a Specialty.
Satisfaction Our Object.

PLAINFIELD NURSERY
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
EVERGREENS, RHODODENDRONS, ROSES, TREES, ETC.
We plant and deliver everywhere
Cut Flowers a Specialty Phones 1451—1218 W. Fanwood.

BEST WORK AT THE BEST PRICE
GEORGE Mc VOY
FRONT STREET SCOTCH PLAINS
Plumbing Heating
Phone 1218-M.

NEWARK

OPPENHEIM COLLINS & CO

Broad and William Streets, Newark

America's Foremost Specialists

Direct Attention

Unusual Sale of Higher Cost Suits

For Women and Misses

Exclusive semi-tailored, belted and dressy models, of Men's Wear Serge and Gabardine, in the prevailing colors; also some Black and White Shepherd Checks.

Formerly Sold from $25.00 to $40.00

20.00 22.50 25.00

Distinctive Street Coats

For Women and Misses

Smart semi-fitted and belted models of Gabardine and Whipcord, in Navy and Black; lined throughout with Peau de Cygne; extra Faille Silk collar. Special 15.00

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

BOROUGHITES PICNIC ON DR. W. J. NELSON'S LAKE

A party of boroughites spent the day very pleasantly yesterday in picnicking along the shore of Dr. W. J. Nelson's lake down country. At noon a prairie dinner prepared on the spot was enjoyed by all. The menu included fried ham, potatoes roasted in a stone oven, flapjacks and coffee. Among those who composed the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Muller, Mrs. Frank H. Fuller and daughter, Miss Margaret; Mrs. Fred Touzeau, Mrs. Walter Muller, Mrs. Letitia Clawson, Mrs. Charles Vliet and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Nelson.

DUNELLENITES ATTEND ENJOYABLE BARN DANCE

A barn dance was held in the house which Contractor Clarence Scheurman is erecting for a New York party at Washington Rock, Tuesday night. The affair was arranged by Mr. Scheurman. Music for the dancing, which lasted from 8 until 12:30, was furnished by a phonograph. Refreshments were served. Among those present were Mrs. Patrick Hickey, the Misses Helen Conklin, Cornelia Wagner, Mary Wagner, May Vliet, Naomi Snyder, Ellen Scheurman, Rose Kern, Ethel Scheurman and Ethel Snyder, and the Messrs. George Jennings, Clifford Schenck, William Snyder, Frank Vliet, Patrick Hickey and William Scheurman.

CALLED AS WITNESSES IN ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE

Constable C. Wesley Blaine and Dr. Longbothum attended court at New Brunswick yesterday. Dr. Longbothum went as a witness in the assault and battery case of Girzki vs. Crowskie. The assault occurred, it is said, as a result of an argument which the two had while working at the Hall Press Works one day the early part of March. While Girzki was waiting for a Plainfield trolley at the close of the day, Crowski, it is alleged, approached him from behind and struck him on the head with a steel instrument.

Michael McCarty has given up his job at the Hall Press Works.

T. J. Johnson, residing in this borough, had his finger badly cut while working at a machine at Hall's yesterday.

Contractor Edward Daniels has been awarded the contract of erecting a house for Leslie Latham on Prospect avenue.

The Merschred house on North avenue, recently vacated by Mrs. Mary Walker, has been rented to H. L. Rankin, of Plainfield.

The wife of Judge Jaques, of Westfield, has been visiting Mrs. William Huenke for the past several days.

Mrs. Lewis T. Churchill and Mrs. J. R. Hamley visited Mrs. Merwin H. Fagely, at Roselle Park, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Scribner, the interior of whose home was quite badly damaged by fire yesterday, are putting up temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. Abram Van Arsdale.

James F. Walters, of Flushing, L. I., has moved into the most westerly brick house of W. W. Tappen, on West Front street. Mr. Walters is employed at the Lincoln plant of the Bell Locomotive Company.

The Lienau house, on Dunellen avenue, now occupied by Carl Marx, who is to move to his new home on Third street shortly, was rented yesterday through the John Fedderman agency to J. McLeod Wylie, of Clifton, who will take possession about the first of June.

Lewis Tinsman returned to his duties as baggagemaster on the Central railroad after a "layoff" of two months, due to illness.

Mrs. Blanchard Gardner has gone to Rockport, where she will spend the remainder of the week visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jacob Lunger.

Charles Coriell, Jr., has been confined to his home for the past week, suffering from a general breakdown.

MISS CAMERON IMPROVING.

Miss Beatrice Cameron, who sprained her ankle when she slipped while coming down from the choir loft of the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning, is now able to get about her home and expects to be able to resume her stenographic duties in Roselle on Monday.

John Maskell has given up his position in the factory of the Railway Acetylene Company at Lincoln.

Mrs. Agnes White, of Maplewood, has returned to her home, following a visit of several days with Mrs. Lewis Tinsman.

Harry Shugare was obliged to submit to a slight operation yesterday as a result of dropping a steel instrument on his foot five weeks ago.

Dr. M. J. Whitford has returned from the Virginia woods, where he went to recuperate about ten days ago.

Miss Louise Leyh, of Scranton, Pa., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Leyh, of Prospect avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forest, of Edwards avenue, are entertaining a friend from Binghamton, N. Y.

Joseph, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ahearn, has been very ill for the past few days, being threatened with pneumonia.

South Plainfield.

William A. Norman is planning the erection of an automobile garage to be built of either cement or hollow tile and the dimensions will be 35x50 feet.

At the special meeting of the Township Committee held in New Market on Tuesday evening, permits for carrying revolvers were renewed to Postmaster John Geary and Louis Lipshitz.

William Norman has completed arrangements with the Weiss drug store of North Plainfield to carry a line of their drugs. Arrangements have also been made to have prescriptions filled.

James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, is slowly recovering from his recent attack of blood poisoning.

Mrs. Margaret Duffy has returned after attending the funeral of a nephew on Long Island.

Bert Summers has returned to Easton, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Everhardt.

Edward Norman has purchased Joe Delaney's roadster. The latter has purchased a car of a racing type.

Robert Randolph has just purchased a horse from a Plainfield dealer.

Miss Clara Bradbury, who has the scarlet fever, is improving.

Peter Leach, who recently purchased the blacksmith business from William Hamilton, is rushed with work, requiring the services of an extra man.

John Ball, who underwent an operation in St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick a week ago, will be home tomorrow.

Miss Louise Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Newton Bray, of Hampton.

RECREATION NOTES.

The West End Boys' Club will meet in the kindergarten room of the Washington School tonight. The Social Club will meet in the auditorium and the library will be open for games.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT AT TABERNACLE

Local Pupils Will Attend Service There Tomorrow Evening.

All plans have been completed for High School night at the Biederwolf Tabernacle tomorrow night, and it is expected that about five hundred students will be present. Plainfield High School will have the largest delegation, but North Plainfield, Westfield and, possibly, Somerville and Bound Brook, will be largely represented.

Previous to going to the Tabernacle, the fellows will meet at the Y. M. C. A., where they will enjoy a banquet. There will be speech-making, cheering and a general good time. After they will march to the Tabernacle, where cheering will provide a half hour's entertainment before Dr. Biederwolf commences his sermon. The building will be decorated with school colors, and all other details have been attended to by committees that have been working with Mr. McEwan, which are as follows: Decorating committee: William Snowden, Dickerman Williams, Irving Manly, Burnham Carter, Harold Stelle, Russell Tomlinson, Kenneth Larabee and Harold Hall; ticket committee: William Snowden, Dickerman Williams, Horace Bunker, Caryl Dunavon, Harold Loizeaux, Monroe O'Donnell, David Fitch and Charles Marshal. Monroe O'Donnell will lead the cheering.

FLOWERS AND PEN FOR MRS. BRAKE

Business Women Express Appreciation of Noon Day Luncheons.

Mrs. Marie F. Brake, woman's work director with the Biederwolf evangelistic party, was presented with a handsome fountain pen and a large basket of flowers by the business women of Plainfield at noon today at the luncheon given in the First Methodist Episcopal church. Today's luncheon was the last to be given during the campaign, but because of the popularity of the meetings business women of Plainfield will form a permanent organization and will meet during the lunch hour at least once each week at the Y. W. C. A. The largest number of women yet attending the events was present today. The presensation to Mrs. Brake was made by Miss Rose. She replied earnestly, saying that she was much touched by the gifts and the spirit in which they were given. A resolution thanking the women of all the churches of Plainfield and members of the Y. W. C. A. for serving the luncheons, also the officers of the First Methodist church for the use of the building, and all who had a part in bringing them about, was passed by unanimous vote. Mrs. Brake announced that a meeting would be held Monday night in the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of organizing a Plainfield Business Women's Association. At that time a nominating committee now working will report and officers will be elected.

MASONS SYMPATHIZE WITH DR. BIEDERWOLF

Dr. Biederwolf yesterday received the following letter of sympathy from the local Masons:

"Dr. William E. Biederwolf,
"Plainfield, N. J.
"Dear Doctor Biederwolf:

"At a meeting held this evening in Masonic Hall, this city, at which was represented the entire Masonic fraternity of the Tenth Masonic District of New Jersey, it was announced that it had pleased the Grand Master of the Universe to summon into his presence your dear father, and, realizing the great loss which you have sustained, there was an expression of the deepest regret from every brother present; and although there is very little of this world's consolation that we can offer you, we do wish to assure you, in the strongest terms possible, that we sincerely, deeply and most affectionately sympathize with you in your afflictive bereavement, that it is our earnest prayer that God's richest blessing may ever rest upon you.

"Sincerely yours,
"ANCHOR LODGE, No. 149,
"F. and A. M.
"Willard M. Maxim, Sec'y."

FUNERAL OF MRS. ANTHONY.

The funeral of Mrs Benjamin E. Anthony whose death occurred Monday afternoon in Muhlenberg Hospital, was held at the late home on Essex street this afternoon. The service was in charge of Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, and was attended by many relatives and friends. Burial was in Hillside cemetery. Mrs. Anthony had been a resident of the west end for many years and had only just removed to the Essex street address when taken ill. She is survived by her husband and eight children, the eldest of whom is but eighteen years of age.

MAY FESTIVAL.

A bazaar and May festival will be held at the Swedish Gethsemane church, 522 East Seventh street, from Thursday to Saturday, inclusive. A concert will be given each evening at 8 o'clock and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the church.

BIEDERWOLF PARTY GIVEN OVATION AT N. P. H. S.

The Biederwolf party was given an enthusiastic reception this morning when they visited the North Plainfield High School during the chapel exercises. The pupils were pleased with the program given by their visitors. The National Male Quartet gave three selections. Mr. McEwan gave a solo selection entitled "Jonah and the Whale," which, coupled with his wit, made a hit.

Due to the absence of Dr. Biederwolf, Mrs. Brake gave a short, inspiring talk on "The Utilization of Opportunities." She presented to her listeners concise reasons why a boy or girl should fully utilize their opportunities. The N. P. H. S. students are organizing their cheering corps for tomorrow evening, which will be High School night at the Tabernacle. Cheering practices are being held daily for this event, and a large representation is expected from the borough students.

MRS. J. J. VARLEY CHAIRMAN.

At the meeting held last night at Columbus Club consisting of the committee of Knights of Columbus, their wives and women friends, Mrs. J. J. Varley was unanimously elected chairman of the coming euchre and dance to be held at the clubhouse Monday evening, May 29, Decoration Day evening. Mrs. Edward Feiring, of Orchard place, was elected vice chairman. It was decided to hold another meeting on next Wednesday evening, at which the several committees will be appointed to make preparations for this great event, which promises to surpass any yet held in the clubhouse.

YOUNG PEOPLE TONIGHT.

About 500 Young People will be in the line of march tonight to go as a delegation to the Tabernacle. All societies will meet at 7:15 at the First Baptist church, except the Epworth Leaguers, which will meet in front of the First M. E. at the same time. The delegation will be led by the Dutch Arms Band.

MISS HOLLY A DELEGATE.

New Jersey delegates appointed by Governor James F. Fielder to attend the National Conference on Charities and Corrections, beginning today in Indianapolis, and continuing until next Wednesday, have left for the sessions. Among the delegates is Miss Margaret C. Holly, of this city.

TRUSTEES TO MEET.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield will be held in the rooms of the league in the Babcock building, Monday evening, May 15, at 8:15. All members are requested to be present.

The monthly meeting of the Young People's Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church will meet with Mr. Bauer and Mr. Rial at their home, 517 East Front street, tomorrow evening.

Newark's 250th Anniversary----May to October

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

MARKET, HALSEY & WASHINGTON STS.

The May Sale of Lingerie

WOMEN'S GOWNS

Nainsook or crepe gowns, made in surplice style, with trimmings of lace or embroidery. 46c

Gowns of nainsook, crepe or crossbar material, in surplice model. 68c.

Pink and white gowns of crepe or nainsook, surplice effect; embroidery and medallion trimmed. 94c.

Gowns of fine quality nainsook, plaid voile or pink lingerie crepe; many styles, including sleeveless model, at 1.89; others at 2.95, 3.95 and 4.95.

WOMEN'S DRAWERS

Strong cambric drawers, with wide cambric ruffles, hemstitched hems and cluster tucks; both styles. 21c.

Cambric drawers of very good quality, with embroidery ruffles and clusters of tucks; both styles. Sale price, 33c.

Cambric drawers, neatly trimmed with lace medallions, lace insertions and edges; others with lace or embroidery ruffles. 46c. Others at 68c, 94c and 1.10.

PETTICOATS

Cambric petticoats, neatly trimmed with ruffles of embroidery. 46c.

Cambric petticoats of very good quality, trimmed with pretty embroidery. 68c.

Cambric petticoats with lace and embroidery trimmings. 94c.

Cambric petticoats with full cut flounces, lace and embroidery trimmed. 1.44 Others at 1.99, 2.95, up to 7.95.

COMBINATIONS

Combination in both princess and two-piece styles, trimmed with neat embroidery. 46c.

Combinations of good nainsook, trimmed with embroidery and lace insertions. 74c.

Nainsook combinations of fine quality, trimmed with lace, embroidery medallions and beading. 94c.

Elaborately trimmed combinations of fine nainsook, fashioned with lace and embroidery; ribbon run. 1.44. Others at 1.99 and 2.95.

EXTRA SIZE GARMENTS

Extra size drawers; nice cambric; trimmed with ruffles and cluster tucks. Three pairs for 1.00, or pair, 35c.

Extra size drawers; trimmed with ruffles of embroidery and cluster tucks. 46c.

Extra size gowns, high neck model; trimmed with embroidery insertions. 63c.

Extra size gowns, surplice style, of fine nainsook, lace and embroidery trimmed; finished with beading and ribbon. 94c.

Extra size petticoats, of strong cambric. 94c.

Extra size combinations, corset covers and drawers. 2.50.

Extra size combinations of crepe de chine. 3.95.

CORSET COVERS

Very good corset covers, full French style, of nainsook, with lace or embroidery trimming; sizes 36 to 44; at 23c.

French corset covers of good nainsook, with embroidery and lace insertions; sizes 36 to 44; at 29c.

Modern covers of strong cambric, trimmed front and back with lace; fastened in front with hooks and eyes; sizes 36 to 48. 33c.

Nainsook corset covers, French style, trimmed in various ways with lace, embroidery, beading and ribbon. 46.

French corset covers of fine nainsook, trimmed with embroidery, lace beading and ribbon. Sale, 68c.

French corset covers of fine nainsook, trimmed with embroidery, lace beading and ribbon. Sale, 68c.

SILK UNDERWEAR

Washable satin camisoles, 94c.
Crepe de chine corset covers, 1.99.
Crepe de chine envelopes, 1.95.
Washable satin envelope chemises, 1.99.
Washable satin envelope chemises, 2.95.

Envelope chemises, made of fine georgette crepe, 2.95.

Crepe de chine gowns, in flesh color only, 2.95.

Gowns of crepe de chine, 4.95.
Crepe de chine combinations, 2.95.
Crepe de chine dance petticoats, 2.95.

CHEMISES

Envelope chemises of nainsook or crepe, trimmed with dainty embroidery or lace; ribbon run. Sale price, 46c.

Envelope chemises, made of nice quality nainsook, trimmed with pretty embroidery; ribbon run. 68c.

Envelope chemises of fine nainsook; cluster of pin tucks front and back, lace edged neck and armholes. 84c.

Envelope chemises made of pink or white nainsook, lace and embroidery trimmed, some front and back alike. 94c.

Envelope chemises of pink or white nainsook, with lace and embroidery medallions and lace insertions. 1.44. Others at 1.99.

PHILIPPINE UNDERWEAR

Philippine embroidered gowns, of sheer material; hand-sewed embroidered scallops around neck and sleeeves; embroidered eyelets; ribbon run. 1.99.

Envelope chemises to match, 1.99.

Philippine embroidered gowns, beautifully embroidered in effective design; made of very sheer material. 2.95.

Envelope chemises to match, 2.95.

Try A Press Want Ad.

E. & W. SCHLOSS

PLAINFIELD'S LEADING GROCERS

We Give S. & H. Trading Stamps Telephone 1000

We Give S. & H. Trading Stamps Telephone 1000

Finest XXXX Patent Flour 24½-lb bag — 85c

Toilet Paper 8 Large Rolls — 25c

Curtice Bros. Blue Label Catsup large bottle — 18c

N. Y. State Corn or Sugar Peas 3 cans — 25c

Choice Teas—Oolong, English Breakfast or Mixed; lb. . 29c

Fancy Golden Santos Coffee, 19c lb; 5 lbs 90c

Griffen's Shoe Polish, Black, Tan or White, bottle — 8c

Leggett's Premier Stuffed Olives 10c size, bottle — 8c

Finest Macaroni or Spaghetti, in bulk, lb — 10c; 20-lb box $1.50

Peerless or Gold Cross Evaporated Milk, 3 cans — 25c

Marvel Brand Condensed Milk 3 cans — 25c

Huyler's Chocolate Almond Bars 3 5c cakes — 10c

Large Sour or Dill Pickles, a dozen 18c

Sauerkraut, while it lasts, a lb 3c

Columbia River Salmon — ½-lb flat can . . . . 12c; 1-lb flat can 20c

Red Alaska Salmon 1-lb tall cans — 18c

Choice Pink Salmon tall cans; 3 cans — 25c

Japo Cleanser chases dirt 3 5c cans — 10c

Grand Ma's Borax Soap Powder large pkg. — 12c

20-Mule Team Borax 1-lb package — 12c

Pure Cocoa in bulk, a lb 22c

Pure Peanut Butter in bulk, a lb 15c

Royal Baking Powder — ¼-lb can . . . . . 12c; ½-lb can . . . . . 22c; 1-lb can 42c

Saw-Tay — Small jar . . . . . 10c; Medium jar . . . . . 25c; 5-lb crock $1.00

Cut Beets large No. 3 can can — 10c

Bromangalon Jelly Powder, assorted flavors, 3 packages — 25c

Mango Chutney or Waw-Waw Sauce a bottle — 10c

Pride of Farm Catsup a bottle — 10c

Strictly Fresh Country Eggs, a dozen 29c

Evaporated Pears or Silver Prunes, a lb 18c

Electro Silicon Cream large jar — 18c

Beechnut Co. Brand Erie Bacon large jar — 19c

Preserved Raspberries No. 2 can; a can — 15c

Quaker Furniture Polish 50 size; a bottle — 35c

Bordens Malted Milk 45c size — 37c

Curtice Bros. Assorted Jams large bottle — 15c

Yuban, Peeks' or Hotel Astor Coffee, 3 lbs $1.00

Hotel Astor Rice—3 1-lb packages 25c

Finest Imported Lentils a lb — 18c

English Walnuts a lb — 19c

Swift's Toilet Soap 3 5c cakes in box — 7c

Swift's Pride Laundry Soap 10 cakes — 32c

Fels Naphtha Soap 10 cakes — 43c

Swift's Borax Soap 10 cakes — 39c

E. & W. Brand Coffee, 1-lb can, 33c; 3 lbs 95c

Premium Java Coffee, 27c lb; 5 lbs $1.15

Leggett's Premier Preserves a bottle — 18c

Fresh Figs in Syrup 2 cans — 25c

Smoked Sardines in Oil 3 cans — 25c

Hawaiian Sliced Pineapple, No. 3 can — 17c; 3 cans 50c

Burnham's Clam Chowder No. 3 can — 17c

Van Camp's Spaghetti — Small can . . . . . 8c; Medium can 12c

Smoked Bloaters, 2 for 5c

Farina in bulk, 6c lb; 4 lbs 22c

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a6.30, a7.30, 9.00, 11.45, 1.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.19, b9.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—8.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 9.00.

Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.05, 1.35, 2.30, b4.30, 4.30 except Saturday, 5.30, 7.30, b9.30, 10.50, b11.45. Sundays—9.30, 12.15 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.

Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00 .15, f10.00, b1.00, g3.00, 4.15, b6.20.

Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g3.45 5.25, g7.30.

Leave Plainfield for Warrenville—d6.45 e6.15, 6.20, f10.00, g3.00, g6.20.

Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40 f11.00, g3.30, g7.15.

Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b1.00 4.15.

Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8. 9, b2.30 5.15.

(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays Monday mornings, and mornings afte holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave
'Phone 120 Plainfield.

Owing to the material increase in our business this Spring, we have found it increasingly difficult for our ten teams to cope with our delivery problem. We now have, however, added a two-ton Mack truck to our delivery equipment, and our customers may again expect prompt deliveries as heretofore.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.
(Case No. 1)

To Morris Liebman and Mrs. Morris Liebman, his wife, Max Spiro and Frank Butensky:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein John B. Cortelyou and Josephine C. Bessonett are Complainants, and you, Morris Liebman and Mrs. Morris Liebman, his wife, Max Spiro and Frank Butensky, and others, are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the 15th day of June, next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by the Security Realty and Construction Company, a corporation, to the complainants, dated August 4th, 1911, upon lands in the City of Plainfield, Union county; and you, Morris Liebman, are made a defendant because you are the owner of the premises; and you, Mrs. Morris Liebman, are made a defendant because you have an inchoate right of dower in the property; and you, Max Spiro, are made a defendant because when you took title to the premises you assumed and agreed to pay the mortgage obligation; and you, Frank Butensky, are made a defendant because you hold a second mortgage upon the property.

Dated April 14, 1916.

CHARLES M. DOLLIVER,
Solicitor and of Counsel with Complainants.
148 East Front Street,
Plainfield, New Jersey.
4 20 5th.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.
(Case No. 2)

To Morris Liebman and Mrs. Morris Liebman, his wife, and Max Spiro:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a case wherein John B. Cortelyou and Josephine C. Bessonett are Complainants, and you, Morris Liebman and Mrs. Morris Liebman, his wife, and Max Spiro and others, are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the 15th day of June, next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by the Security Realty and Construction Company, a corporation, to the complainants, dated February 8, 1911, upon lands in the City of Plainfield, Union county; and you, Morris Liebman, are made a defendant because you are the owner of the premises; and you, Mrs. Morris Liebman, are made a defendant because you have an inchoate right of dower in the property; and you, Max Spiro, are made a defendant because when you took title to the premises you assumed and agreed to pay the mortgage obligation.

Dated April 14, 1916.

CHARLES M. DOLLIVER,
Solicitor and of Counsel with Complainants.
148 East Front Street,
Plainfield, New Jersey.
4 20 5th.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

To: James Robertson, Mrs. James Robertson and Richard Hayes.

By virtue of an Order of the Court of Chancery made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein The Plainfield Trust Company, is complainant, and you are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the Bill of said Complaint on or before the twelfth day of June, next, or said bill will be taken as confessed against you. The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by the Construction & Securities Company, a corporation, dated April 22rd, 1915, for Four Thousand ($4,000.00) Dollars, covering lands in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey; and you, James Robertson, are made defendant because you are the present owner of said property; and you, Mrs. James Robertson, are made defendant because you are the wife of the said James Robertson, and by virtue thereof claim to have some lien upon or interest in the said mortgaged premises; and you, Richard Hayes, are made defendant because you are the maker of the note, the payment of which is secured by the mortgage above referred to.

Dated April 10th, 1916.

REED & HETFIELD,
Solicitors of Complainant,
203 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
4 13 5th.

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

Rothberg's has taken a firm stand on the quality platform—it's one of your advantages in trading here.

Our word is Our Honor.

Rothberg's store is a factor in this community.

What we say, we know people believe; that's the reason we will not misrepresent.

Spring Suits for men and youths

$10 to $30

The best possible value at each price.

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

F. H. FIRSTBROOK
116 W. Front St. Phone 1754

Best Creamery Butter, per lb	37c
Fancy Potatoes, good cookers, 16-qt. basket	75c
H. O. Oatmeal, per pkg.	13c
Baldwin Apples, 4-qt. bas. 25c; 16-qt. basket	75c
N. O. Molasses, extra fancy, per gallon	70c
24-Hour Eggs (one day old, per dozen	30c
Fancy Norway Mackerel, per lb	25c
Small Norway Mackerel, each	5c
California Oranges, 15 for	25c
Extra Large Cal. Oranges, 50c kind, per dozen	40c
Old Dutch Cleanser, 3 pkgs.	25c
Duryea's Corn Starch, 3 pkgs.	25c
Hershey's Cocoa, ½ lb can	15c
Hotel Astor Rice, 3 lbs	25c
Fancy Rice, bulk, 4 lbs	25c
Pearl Tapioca, 3 pkgs.	25c
Tryphosa and Jello, 3 pkgs.	25c
Campbell's Soup, 3 cans	25c
Ritter's Baked Beans, 3 cans	25c
Royal Baking Powder, ½-lb 22c; 1 lb.	42c
Franco-American Invalid Broths, per can	13c
California Prunes, per lb	10c
Large California Prunes, 2 lbs	25c
All Kinds Soap, 10 bars	45c
Mueller's Macaroni and Spaghetti, 3 pkgs.	25c
Fancy Seeded Raisins, per pkg.	10c
Pride of Farm Catsup, per bottle	10c
Ritter Catsup, 3 bottles	25c
Snider's Catsup, 25c size, bottle	17c

We Give S. & H. Stamps

Firstbrook's

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
Bluebird Photoplays Present
MR. HOBART BOSWORTH in
"THE YAQUI"
A drama of the struggle in old Mexico in 5 parts, and other photoplays.

TOMORROW
Jesse L. Lasky Presents
FANNY WARD in
"TENNESSEE'S PARDNER"
Founded on the play by Scott Marble in 5 parts, and other interesting photoplays.

Our motto—"QUALITY NOT QUANTITY."

We Give Travelstamps.

ASK FOR and GET
HORLICK'S
THE ORIGINAL
MALTED MILK
Cheap substitutes cost YOU same price

FATHER HENNESSEY SENT TO ST. MARY'S

Graduate of Seton Hall Seminary to Succeed Father Sciolla as Curate.

Bishop John O'Connor, head of the Catholic Diocese of Newark, yesterday, announced assignments and transfers of priests in twelve parishes. Nine young priests who were ordained last week at the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception at Seton Hall College, South Orange, received their first charges. Four curates were transferred to other parishes. Each transfer and assignment will become effective immediately.

As a result of these appointments, Rev. Walter A. Hennessey, one of the nine priests recently ordained, will become curate at St. Mary's church, this city. Father Hennessey will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Father Vincent Sciolla, who decently left for Elizabethtown, Kentucky. Father Hennessey is expected in this city either today or tomorrow, and will celebrate his first mass in St. Mary's church, Saturday morning.

While at Seton Hall College, Father Hennessey was intimately acquainted with Father MacDonald, already assistant at St. Mary's church, so the appointment will bring the two together again. Father Hennessey was head of Bayley Hall, the grammar department at the college. St. Mary's church has now three priests in charge, the Rev. Father Bernard M. Bogan, pastor; Rev. Father John MacDonald, assistant, and Father Hennessey, curate.

SCOUTS FROM NEARBY TOWNS WILL ATTEND

Final Arrangements Made for Big Demonstration at Tabernacle Tomorrow Night.

Final provisions were completed last night for the Boy Scout attendance at the Tabernacle tomorrow evening. Commissioner Dusel, of Dunellen, announced that a large delegation of the scouts from that division would be present and assurances have been given that Boy Scouts from Elizabeth, Roselle, Garwood, Westfield, Bound Brook and New Brunswick will be in line.

The Dutch Arms Band, under leadership of A. B. Cole, will begin the march from the Y. M. C. A. of the High School boys at the headquarters of Troop 14, Ernest K. Powlison, scoutmaster, at the First Baptist church, all the boy scout delegations will fall in line and march to the auditorium.

Scouts will march in line in mass formation instead of by troops, all the colors and banners being grouped in the center of the scout column. The scout councilmen will have positions at the rear of the line. Field officers and scoutmasters will have positions at the head of the scout column. Order of march will be issued by Commissioner A. V. Searing, Jr.

The special collection is to be taken to help raise the $600 needed for the equipment of the Boy Scout camp in Terrill road this summer. The need of a well equipped place for out of doors work in scouting has been the retardant factor in the development of scout work here in Plainfield, and since New Brunswick and other cities have such a camp the Scout Council has decided to give Plainfield boys the same kind of a chance, with the help of the people of this city. Numbers of boys who have been "trail hitters" during the campaign have made application to be scouts as a suitable medium for expressing their intention to lead good and useful lives and through the courtesy of the Biederwolf campaign finance committee, of which George E. Hall is chairman, has given the people of Plainfield the opportunity to help in this philantrophy which heretofore has been almost solely supported by five-cents-a-week contributions by the boys themselves.

SUFFRAGISTS WILL OBSERVE 'JERSEY DAY'

Pennants and Streamers Will Be Displayed All Over the State.

To emphasize their State pride and to remind the voters that the struggle for suffrage for women as well as men is still on, the votes-for-women advocates have planned to celebrate "Suffrage Day" on "New Jersey Day," which Governor Fielder's proclamation has set for tomorrow. The Governor probably didn't anticipate that the day set apart to celebrate the glories of New Jersey would see suffrage banners set afloat from one end of the State to the other, but the suffrage leaders have so ordered, and the men and women who want votes-for-women to complete the democratization of this commonwealth will obey orders.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. White, the newly elected president of the Equal Suffrage League, of Plainfield and North Plainfield, has sent a circular to the enrolled members of tht league notifying them that votes-for-women banners and pennants are to be displayed on dwellings, business places, motor cars and staffs along with the Stars and Stripes. Mrs. White's circular stated that out of deference for Dr. Biederwolf's revival campaign no public meeting of suffragists would be held tomorrow, but she urged individual members of the league to make special effort to secure the enrollment of new league members on Suffrage Day.

Suffragists who go motoring tomorrow were particularly reminded to decorate their cars with suffrage colors and pennants. As league dues have been abolished enrollment does not mean any expenditure, and the membership is expected to increase rapidly.

On Wednesday, May 24, the ways and means committee of the league will give a card party at the Park Club. Groups wishing to play together are now making reservations through Mrs. C. E. Lipscombe, 1701 Belvidere avenue, or Mrs. I. Scheed, 1147 Evergreen avenue. The proceeds are to meet the assessment levied upon the league by the State organization and current expenses.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

TODAY, TOMORROW AND SATURDAY
COUNTESS OLGA VON HATZFELD AND WILLIAM HERBERT
In a Classy Offering
5 OTHER GREAT ACTS 5
including the Oklahoma Wonder
COWBOY WILLIAMS & CO.
in a wonderful novelty
Feature photoplays including Pearl White in 11th "IRON CLAW"

SPECIAL TOMORROW
EDNO MAYO in the 12th "MARY PAGE"

SPECIAL SATURDAY
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
In a Screaming Comedy

FIRST REGIMENT ARMORY
A Treasure House of Industry

NEWARK'S ANNIVERSARY INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION OPENS
NEXT SATURDAY
MAY 13th

Continuing Daily 10:30 A. M. to 10.30 P. M.
Excepting Sundays
MAY 13 to JUNE 3
ADMISSION 25c
School Children Under 15—10c—10:30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Newark's Exposition of Newark's Products
By Newark's Manufacturers
150 Separate Exhibits 141 Distinct Industries

HOW TO GET TO THE ARMORY
Central Avenue, Roseville and Clifton cars go direct to First Regiment Armory, Sussex Avenue, Hudson and Jay Streets. All other cars transfer to these lines.

POWLISON & JONES
OLD HICKORY
PORCH AND LAWN
FURNITURE

Suitable for all kinds of out of door weather.
The kind that lasts the longest and stands the hardest wear.

PORCH COUCH HAMMOCKS.

Built for comfort with soft cushion seat on metal spring fabric, cushion back and adjustable headrest. Made from heavy canvas in the khaki color, they are serviceable, roomy and comfortable.

HAMMOCK ..... $7.75 to $35.00
IRON STANDARDS ..... $3.50 to $4.85

PORCH ROCKERS AND CHAIRS

WILLOW, FIBRE RUSH, REED AND MAPLE FRAME PORCH ROCKERS, a goodly variety of medium priced pieces that are strongly built and comfortable to sit in.

Priced From $1.00 to $4.85.

REFRIGERATORS BABY CARRIAGES

POWLISON & JONES
149-151 E. Front St. Plainfield, N. J.

BUY IT IN NEWARK
WEEK MAY 22-27

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S
RYE
E. C. WESTCOTT
116 East Front Street

The Store will be CLOSED ALL DAY on Preparedness Day, Saturday, May 13th.

B. Altman & Co.

An Important Special Sale of Women's Gowns, Sports and Country Suits

now being held, will be continued to-morrow (Friday).

The Gowns include a choice selection of this season's models for afternoon wear, and will be offered . . . . at $38.00

The Suits are smartly tailor-made, of gabardines, serges, and mixtures, and are specially priced . . . at $25.00

(Ready-to-wear Department, Third Floor)

Fifth Avenue - Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

PROCTOR'S

10c Continuous 2 to 11. 10c

KEEP KOOL—AN INNOVATION

There is a big surprise in store for the patrons who have so loyally and steadfastly patronized PROCTOR'S. It will be in the nature of an ICE PLANT. There has been installed 50 oscillating fans and numerous ice depots in various parts of the theatre where large cakes of ice will be planted with cooling devices that will positively reduce the temperature to any point desired. Even on the hottest days patrons will find the atmosphere cool and comfortable at PROCTOR'S.

TODAY

Thomas H. Ince Takes Pleasure in Presenting

WILLIAM S. HART

The Peer of Western Character Portrayers in

THE ARYAN

A stirring Triangle story of pioneer days in the wild and untamed West, written by C. Gardner Sullivan and acknowledged to be the most tensely compelling narrative ever penned by this prolific and versatile author. Don't miss this feature.

HANK MANN

The Droll Keystone Funmaker in

HIS BREAD AND BUTTER

A Whirlwind of Laughter

OTHER SPLENDID FEATURE PHOTOPLAYS

FRIDAY

Charles Cherry

Making His Debut on the Screen in

THE MUMMY & THE HUMMING BIRD

A Paramount Picture Telling a Story Close to Every Human's Heart

The Last Chapter of "THE SOCIAL PIRATES"

Other Select Photoplays

SATURDAY

Grace Elliston in BLACK FEAR

A Gripping Metro Feature

Charlie Chaplin in THE PROPERTY MAN

The Juvenile Film Stars in "A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK"

"MUTT & JEFF" "MUSTY SUFFER"

STARTING MONDAY, MAY 15,

MARY PICKFORD WEEK

See This Most Popular of Screen Favorites in a Different Picture Each Day

In addition to the regular program of wonderful Photoplays

MONDAY—"Such a Little Queen."
TUESDAY—"Behind the Scenes."
WEDNESDAY—"Cinderella."
THURSDAY—"Mistress Nell."
FRIDAY—"A Girl of Yesterday."
SATURDAY—"Madame Butterfly."

COMING SOON

Charles Chaplin

In His First Mutual Comedy Under His $670,000 Contract, Entitled

THE FLOORWALKER

KAUFMAN IN CHARGE OF CIVIC PARADE

Expected That Almost 10,000 Will Take Part in the Demonstration.

N. Kaufman has been named as grand marshal of the big civic religious demonstration to be held on the streets of Plainfield next Wednesday evening. Dr. Biederwolf has assured his audiences at the Tabernacle that the demonstration will be the largest ever held in this city for any purpose and it is believed by those in charge that at least 10,000 men, women and children will take part. The program includes a monster parade over downtown streets, after which there will be a short service downtown and the participants will then march to the Tabernacle. The parade will be led by a gigantic fiery cross, formed with electric lights. Aides to Marshal Kaufman have been selected as follows: John R. McLaughlin, division 1; Harry Marshall, division 2; G. H. Bachelor, division 3; E. B. Shoemaker, division 4; W. N. Runyon, division 5; Allen Laing, division 6.

GIVEN FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Miss Gertrude Goldstein, who is soon to make her permanent home at Irvington, was given a farewell reception by twenty friends at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Salls, of East Front street, last night. In addition to music, dancing and refreshments the informal program included a demonstration of palmistry given by Miss Bessie Rosenson, the latter proving especially enjoyable. Miss Goldstein has made many friends in Plainfield, all of whom regret her departure.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

HOSPITAL WORK IN WAR ZONE

Dr. T. G. Aller Gives Interesting Talk Before Plainfield Dental Society.

PHOTOS ARE SHOWN

Dentists Are Entertained at Somerville Country Club by Drs. Naylor and Voorhees—Golf and Dinner Enjoyed.

Vividly describing the extensive work of physicians in caring for the wounded in the European war, where he has been stationed for some time, Dr. T. G. Aller, M. D., D. D. S., of Philadelphia, addressed the members of the Plainfield Dental Society and its guests at the Somerville Country Club yesterday afternoon. The Plainfield members of the society were the guests of Drs Wallace Naylor and George Voorhees, of Somerville, and after a game of golf on the links and dinner, Dr. Aller gave his intresting talk.

Dr. Aller, who is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was a member of Dr. J. William White's unit in the American Ambulance Hospital, Paris, and was there during the time that the French made some of their most terrific drives on the German forces, caring for hundreds of the wounded. During his talk he described a little of all branches of surgery as applied in the hospital service, and exhibited plates and photographs showing in detail the character of the work and the results. He told of the improved form of splints and braces used, which are the invention of an American woman. He also described the aluminum, wire and iron frames used which hold the injured parts of the body rigidly, and permit a physcian or nurse to work about the patient without moving him.

Perhaps the feature of Dr. Aller's talk that interested the dentists the most was that in reference to jawbone grafting, the speaker stating that in many cases where a soldier's face was terribly mutilated, the physicians were able to restore it completely, and within a reasonable time he would return to the firing line. He also described the effect of liquid fire, displaying a mask such as is used to combat this deadly weapon of war.

Dr. Aller said that often as many as 300 patients were treated in an hour, and that he has seen twenty train loads of patients brought in at one time. In conclusion he said that the French are particularly strong in their liking for Americans and do not hesitate to exhibit their fondness.

The Plainfielders who wtre numbered among the guests were Dr. George T. Moore, Charles Moore, Charles Leonard, Charles G. Davis, Guy Hillman, Walter S. Mancill, Raymond Stevens and George Clarke.

FIRE THREATENS QUINCY MANUFACTURING DISTRICT

Quincy, Mass., May 11.—Fire broke out this afternoon in the Meadowbrook Ice Company's storage houses. Outside help was summoned. The fire is near the Fore River Ship plant. The wind is high and there is apprehension that the flames will spread.

HYDROPLANE IS WRECKED OFF COAST OF VIRGINIA

Norfolk, Va., May 11.—A hydoaeroplane, flying from Washington to Newport News early today, was wrecked and two persons, including the pilot, are in the Newport News hospital. Both are severely injured. The machine was wrecked near Mt. Vernon, Va. Five persons were in it.

AMHERST WRECK BLAMED ON ENGINEER HESS

Washington, May 11.—The rear-end collision on March 29 last on the New York Central Railroad near Amherst, Ohio, was caused by the failure of an engineman to observe the stop signal. Engineman Hess failued to observe the stop signal while leaning from the cab of the second section of train No. 86. The report of the wreck was made by the I. C. C. today.

JACKSON-MARNSTEAD NUPTIALS

The marriage of Arthur R. Jackson and Miss Anna Marnstead, both of this city, took place in the Shiloh Baptist church parsonage, 614 West Fourth street, last night. The pastor, Rev. E. W. Roberts, performed the ceremony. The couple left on a wedding trip to Virginia. Upon their return they will reside in this city.

PINOCHLE TOURNEY.

The North Plainfield Pinochle tournament will be continued this evening when the firemen meet the Domino club in the latter's rooms and Walker's team plays the Republican club in the latter's quarters.

Mrs. W. R. Van Sickle, of Jackson avenue, who underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital, is said to be improving.

Mrs. O. Cranston and Mrs. Alexander Dresselt have returned to their home at Nutley after visiting in Plainfield.

HIS GAS METER AND WIFE LIARS

Assertion Fails to Win Divorce For Woman.

BOTH ARE MUCH MARRIED

Defendant Is Seventy-three and Has Been Wed Four Times—Plaintiff Has Tried Matrimony Twice, Although She Is Only Fifty-five.

Jersey City, May 11.—Mrs Annie La Riviere, who sued Urbain La Riviere of 171 Monticello avenue, this city, for absolute divorce, told Vice Chancellor John Griffin that her husband had called her a "gutter snipe." Mrs. La Riviere admitted that she was fifty-five years old and that her husband, a retired perfumer, is in his seventy-third year. She said that the defendant is her second husband and that she is his fourth wife.

"I left him because I could no longer endure his treatment of me," testified Mrs. La Riviere. "He used to tell me that I was such a confounded liar that my only equal was the gas meter in the cellar.

"In March, 1913," said the witness, "my husband decided to buy a farm in Delaware and became annoyed because I refused to acquiesce in the sale of his Jersey City property. The night we had the discussion about it my husband kept me awake until 3 o'clock in the morning. I had to get out of bed and walk into the next room, and Mr. La Riviere became so enraged at what he called my stubbornness that he smashed the bed to pieces."

The witness testified further that her husband had determined to purchase a farm in the state where the peach crop fails each year. She said he went away for a couple of weeks and afterward told her he had been to Delaware.

"Knowing Mr. La Riviere as I did, I very much doubted him," said the witness.

On the stand La Riviere declared that his wife seemed to be torn in a conflict between her love for him and her love for his money.

"She used to grab me by the lapels of my coat and say, 'Strike me, why don't you strike me?' I used to say to her: 'What's the matter, woman? Are you crazy? Come on now, kiss me, Annie, dear, and don't be so foolish.' It didn't seem to do very much good to appeal to her thus," concluded the defendant sadly.

Vice Chancellor Griffin upon the conclusion of the testimony dismissed Mrs. La Riviere's petition.

SHAMROCKS SUFFER LOSS, CENTRALS WIN, 7 TO 4

The Central A. C. is supposed to have turned the tables on the Shamrock A. C. in a seven-inning battle, which resulted in a 7 to 4 score.

"Ninny" O'Keefe, so the report runs, lost his "rep" as a wonder when "Weary" Sullivan made an acquaintance a sizzling liner, which hummed over "Hub" Hickey's head.

The warriors mustered up as follows:

Shamrock A. C.—Willie Kaine, lf; "Minnie" O'Keefe, p; Edward Connors, 1b; Joseph Guinee, 2b; Francis Hickey, 3b; Willie Morcom, c; George Butscher, ss; Jack Townley, cf; Joe Mack, rf.

Central A. C.—Pete Connolly, c; "Weary" Sullivan, p; T. Lyons, 1b; L. Lyons, 2b; Joe Betts, 3b; "Ipper" Witteman, ss; Eddie Hannigan, rf; William Coogan, lf; A. Deady, p.

OLD LANDMARK BURNS.

La Tourette Hotel of Bayonne Destroyed by Fire.

Bayonne, May 11.—The famous old Hotel La Tourette of this city was destroyed by fire. There were probably fifty guests in the house, mostly elderly ladies, who had been there for years, and the tears rolled down the cheeks of many of them as they were forced to gather up an armful of their most precious belongings and flee.

The Hotel La Tourette was located on First street, overlooking the Kill von Kull. It was of frame construction and was erected about 100 years ago. For years after it was built it was one of the show places of the metropolitan district, and people from New York used to row across the river and take supper there. It had what was up to a few years ago considered one of the finest dining halls and ballrooms in the country.

LITTLE BOY HIT BY AUTO.

Joe Batalyou, a two-year-old Italian boy, is a patient in Muhlenberg Hospital receiving treatment for slight injuries received on Richmond street, Tuesday night, when he was knocked down by an automobile belonging to the Gayle company. The accident happened within a short distance of the child's home. He is suffering mostly from bruises and will be discharged in a day or two.

IRON WORKERS STRIKE.

New York, May 11.—About 5,000 iron workers went on strike here today. The men demand higher wages, shorter hours and recognition of their union. The strike is expected to spread.

DR. BROKAW RETURNS.

Dr. Raymond Brokaw, formerly of North Plainfield, who for several months has been engaged in hospital work in Servia, returned home yesterday.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling-task to a classified ad.

Neumann Bros. Company

FRESH JERSEY ASPARAGUS

WE ARE RECEIVING EACH DAY THE FINEST CUTTINGS OF THIS MOST DELIGHTFUL VEGETABLE THAT CAN BE OBTAINED, AND SO WITH ANY OF OUR GREEN VEGETABLES; YOU WILL FIND THEM AS TENDER AND FRESH AS THOUGH PICKED FROM YOUR OWN GARDEN. AMONG OUR SELECTIONS FOR THIS WEEK-END YOU WILL FIND—

Fancy Green Beans
Fresh Jersey Lettuce
Crisp Radishes
Fresh Mushrooms
Hot House Cucumbers
Southern Tomatoes
New Beets
Oyster Plant
Green Peas
Lima Beans
Fancy White Celery
Spinach

BUTTER
Prices way down, quality the same, the best in the city.
Elgin Creamery 36c
Rockdale Tub 38c
Rockdale Prints 39c

Fairy Soap, 6 cakes....25c
Ivory Soap, 6 for.....25c
Lighthouse or Babbitt's Cleanser, 6 cans.....25c

COFFEE
It's in the blend, that's what makes our J. and M. blend of coffee so popular; try a pound, you will be most satisfied with your purchase.
lb, 32c; 5 lbs.....$1.50

PUFFED WHEAT
Per pkg. 11c

STRAWBERRIES
We are receiving daily shipments of berries, and will offer for Friday and Saturday an exceptionally fine lot, their quality and flavor being very good.

PUFFED RICE or CORN
Package 14c

STRICTLY PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY, COMB 20c
NEUMANN BROS. EXTRA FANCY MAINE CORN, 2 CANS 25c

Photo Brand Salmon
The finest Columbia River Salmon packed.
½'s, 12c; 1's 20c

The "Sunshine Special Pkg." contains an assortment of their daintiest crackers, each one a pleasant surprise.
Per 1-lb pkg. 25c

Royal Baking Powder
It's results make baking a pleasure.
¼ lbs, 12c; ½ lbs, 22c; 1 lbs, ...42c

FOWLER IS LIKELY TO OPPOSE CAPSTICK

Rumored That He May Seek Congressional Nomination at Fall Primaries.

The peculiar position in which Congressman John H. Capstick has been placed by his vote on the McLemore resolution and its subsequent developments has given rise to a number of rumors of opposition to his renomination at the primaries this fall. One of the latest reports is that former Congressman Charles N. Fowler may get out of the Senatorial race and throw his hat into the Congressional ring. Other possible candidates to supplant Capstick whose names have been mentioned are William N. Runyon and former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of Plainfield.

When questioned about the rumored change in his candidacy former Congressman Fowler declined to make any statement, beyond admitting that the suggestion had been made to him. It is said, on good authority, that his friends are earnestly uurging Fowler to quit the Senatorial race for the Congressional, and Fowler is believed to be giving the suggestion some consideration. His action, however, may depend largely upon the result of the Republican convention in Chicago next month.

The situation is figured in this wise: If Theodore Roosevelt is nominated by the Republicans, Fowler, who has always been an admirer of T. R., will probably stay in the Senatorial race. If some other man is named, it is not beyond the realms of probability that Fowler will try for Congress.

In so far as former Senator Ackerman and Assemblyman Runyon are concerned the talk of their candidacies appears to have no special significance outside of the fact that friends of both men may be thinking of a Congressional candidate other than Capstick.

Despite the position of the present Representative, which is admittedly a peculiar and mayhap not an advantageous one, there has not developed, aside from the candidacy of Charles A. Trimble any go-ahead opposition. The party leaders evidently look to Capstick to clarify the situation in the course of the next few days by an out-and-out statement of where he stands.

WILSON TO VISIT NEWARK SATURDAY

Newark, May 11.—This city rested today in its celebration of the 250th anniversary, there being nothing on the program for today. A musical pageant will be held tomorrow while Saturday will be known as President Wilson's day.

FUNERAL OF INFANT.

The funeral of the two and a half years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, of 131 Elmwood place, will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The officiating clergyman wil be the Rev. Mr. Ramsay, of Watchung. Burial will be in North Plainfield cemetery.

GRAND REGENT COMING.

Grand Regent Bierman, of the Royal Arcanum, is to visit Plainfield Council, No. 711, at the regular meeting this evening in the Babcock building.

SAUNDERS OPPOSES SENATOR MARTINE

Alternate to Democratic Convention Says He Will Support Frelinghuysen.

William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, president of the Ingersoll Rand Company, and vice-chairman of the Naval Consulting Board, appointed by President Wilson, stated yesterday that he would support Joseph S. Frelinghuysen for the United States Senate. Mr. Saunders is an alternate to the National Democratic Convention at St. Louis.

"I am very fond of Senator Martine," said Mr. Saunders. "He is a personal friend, but I cannot support him for Senator as against a man like Mr. Frelinghuysen, because he has not stood by the President, who not only stood by him, but lifted him to his high office."

Mr. Saunders added that he had written to Mr. Frelinghuysen after the latter's recent speech declaring his candidacy and informed him that he expected to support him.

Some consideration of Mr. Saunders himself as a candidate for the Senatorship had been given by the Democratic organization. He made it clear, however, before the deliberations had progressed far that he would not accept the nomination.

Mr. Saunders was formerly a member of the State Democratic Committee from Somerset County. The fact that a man of his prominence in the party should declare for a United States Senatorial candidacy of a member of the opposite party has rather stunned some of the Democratic leaders in New Jersey. They find an anomaly in the fact that one of those who may quite likely have the opportunity to vote for the renomination of President Wilson at St Louis should cast his vote against the Senate candidate for whom Wilson will no doubt himself vote if he gets the nomination.

That he saw things in a different light was said by Mr. Saunders today. It would be a greater anomaly to support a candidate for the Senate who had not stood by the President and to oppose one who advises standing by the President, than to reverse the situation. He was for Frelinghuysen, he repeated, because he stood with Wilson on international questions, while Martine did not seem to be holding up the Presidential hands.

SHIP PURCHASE BILL IS GIVEN PLACE ON PROGRAM

Washington, May 11.—The administration ship purchase bill, which was filibustered to death at the last session was given a place on the Senate legislative program today by the Democratic steering committee and will be taken up as soon as the oil lands leasing bill and the child labor bill are out of the way.

MINERS GET A RAISE.

Denver, Colo., May 11.—About 5,000 employes of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company's steel mills at Pueblo have been granted an increase in wages, adding $40,000 to the monthly payroll. The higher scale, effective May 1, averages approximately ten per cent.

'PREPAREDNESS' TO BE DISCUSSED AT FORUM

Prominent Speakers Will Talk on Subject at Community Centre Meeting.

A public forum is to be conducted under the auspices of the West End Community Center in the Washington School, Monday evening, on the subject of "Preparedness." It will be lead by some of the well-known citizens of the West End. The public is cordially invited to attend and to participate. Some new and some very original views on the subject will be brought out. No one can be fully versed on any subject until both sides have been heard and a public forum conducted along these lines is the surest and best way of getting at the trend of public opinion. Among the speakers for Monday evening are J. J. Carroll, T. C. Vail, C. L. Riley, Mrs. C. H. White, Mrs. A. K. Brennan, A. B. Jones and William J. Boyd.

These speakers are to deal with the subject from entirely different standpoints. Some of them are decidedly in favor of "Preparedness" as a nation-wide movement, and will present strong arguments for increasing activity along this line in every village and community in the country. They are sure to arouse the enthusiasm of their co-believers to a high pitch. Those who disagree with this attitude are going to endeavor to counteract the efforts of the orators by presenting the other side, and a warm discussion is sure to result. The subject will be approached from many new viewpoints, and an interesting and profitable evening will be spent. The West End Community wish to extend the invitation to all the public-spirited citizens of Plainfield and are particularly hoping that everyone living in the vicinity of Washington School will attend and express some view upon the subject so that there may be a real expression of the spirit of the community as a whole.

PRAYER MEETINGS FRIDAY MORNING

Cottage prayer meetings will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the following houses: Mrs. Robert C. Brown, 1080 Hillside avenue; Mrs. B. F. Hadley, 18 Franklin place; Mrs. C. G. E. Sovereign, 520 East Second street; Mrs. V. Utzinger, 75 Grandview avenue; Mrs. V. P. Heath, 240 Watchung avenue; Mrs. Rachel De Camp, 23 Linden avenue; Mrs. L. C. Sheppard, 28 Somerset place; Mrs. F. Van Fleet, 19 Jackson avenue; Mrs. J. Newton Jenkins, 303 East Sixth street; Mrs. D. E. W. Millar, 309 East Seventh street; Mrs Dudley S. Miller, 929 Union street; Mrs. E. L. Finch, 1106 Park avenue; Mrs. Brady, 316 West Sixth street; Mrs. Joseph Krewson, 119 Plainfield avenue; Mrs. M. C. Van Arsdale, 58 Grove street; Mrs. L. W. Randolph, 15 Myrtle avenue; Mrs R S McAfee, 113 Oxford place; Mrs. G. Brandt, 606 Spooner avenue; Mrs. T. Schwartz, 1109 West Fifth street; Mrs. G. Haring, 936 West Fourth street; Mrs. Ross Poole, 1228 Clinton place.

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 198 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 11, 1916.

THE CONSUMER PAYS MORE THAN HIS SHARE.

According to a dispatch received by the Daily Press yesterday, the increase in wages which has been granted to the coal operators is to be borne by the consumers. It is promised that coal prices will advance ten cents a ton on June first, and ten cents the first of each succeeding month until fifty cents has been added to the present figure. The big miners are to increase the wholesale prices forty cents a ton in order to meet the fifteen cents which has been tacked on the wages of the men who dig it. In other words, the wholesalers will pay twenty-five cents over the increase the miners are to get, and the consumer will have another ten cents added to that in order to complete the deal. This seems to be the established practice. When an increase of a few cents is made for the producer in placing an article on the market, the consumer is taxed three or four times the amount of that increase.

In the past it has been the custom to lower the prices by fifty cents a ton in April in order to encourage consumers to lay in their winter's supply during the summer months, when the coal business is dull. There has been no reduction for this year, and the new agreement with the operatives is to be made to serve as an excuse for withdrawing permanently the encourager that has been given for years.

• • • • • •

Nearly every day advertisements appear in the classified columns of the Daily Press for boys. There are merchants in this city who cannot find a youngster who is satisfactory and will "stick on the job." Every boy wants a position where he will have to work but a few hours each day, at easy work, and then run off to a ball game, or the movies, or some other place that will take his mind away from work. The young men do not seem to realize that if they are to have any future they must apply themselves, start at the bottom, and work up to positions of responsibility. Most of the youths of the present day apparently think that they should be the right-hand man to the boss after three months' experience, and if they cannot they quit. Perhaps they will get a job at manual labor which pays more money at once, but offers no chance of advancement, and they think they are better off. Just now there is plenty of demand for unskilled labor at good wages, but it is largely due to the fact that immigration is shut off. Employers are putting boys and men at work, whom they would not think of hiring under normal conditions because of their decreased earning power. There are plenty of young fellows who are getting big wages, who will undoubtedly be laid off as soon as the war is over and skilled labor is not in such great demand. When this happens they will realize that they would have been better off in the long run had they remained in the positions which paid less money at the start, but offered a better chance for advancement.

• • • • • •

How many people realize that there are no less than forty-three varieties of violets, which are so plentiful about Plainfield this year? None of us need an introduction to this cheerful spring flower, but few realize that it is to be found in so many varieties and shades. Dr. Wilmer Stone, of the Academy of Natural Science, is authority for the statement that twenty-two of the forty-three varieties are to be found in New Jersey. There are blue violets, yellow violets, white violets and a dozen shades between. Yet there're all violets. The arrangement of the flower's five petals aids in the easy recognition. The broad, lower petal is the violet's front porch. It extends out beyond the other petals and gives the bees a resting place, where they can stop in their flight and drink the nectar stored away in the spurlike pouch at the base of the flower. The violet also has a system of defense. The bees are welcome, for they carry pollen from one flower to another. But the tiny crawling insects drink the nectar and pay no toll. So the flower has tufts of hair protecting the path to the spur, which are as effective against insects as barbed wire against an army.

• • • • • •

Members of the Business Men's Association have been talking about the necessity for a public comfort station at some convenient place in the business section of the city. A rest room was provided by this organization on the last dollar day, and it was much used by the shoppers. The demand to which they are giving voice is one that is heard frequently. The Council can take up no more important question than this one, and if such a station is established it will earn the gratitude of the buying public, especially the women. Such a rest room need not be a great expense to the taxpayers. The Council could no doubt find a merchant who would be willing to rent part of his store for the purpose, provided the city went to the small expense of fitting up the room, and paying a small yearly sum for its care. Even if such a station could not be found in this way and economically maintained, it should be provided anyhow and a saving made in some other direction.

• • • • • •

Atlantic City voters have at last turned William Riddle out of office as Mayor. Decent people can now speak of the city without having others remind them that the city's head wants it known as a wide-open town.

• • • • • •

May, perhaps, is a month of warmth and sunshine after the winter weather, but it is hard to convince the average man that this is true when he climbs out of bed in the morning to shut the window.

• • • • • •

The Paterson Call rises to remark that the women who thought they were going to save a little money because the new skirts are shorter find they have to pay a third more for stockings.

• • • • • •

"With 3,927 men recruited to our army in thirty days, how long would it take to put an army of 1,000,000 in the field?" asks an exchange. About a week if war was declared.

• • • • • •

After the first game of the season there are any number of fans who can tell who is going to win the City League pennant.

• • • • • •

There's one beet that's not dead—the sugar beet. Folks blame is for sugar's jump in price.

• • • • • •

Henry Ford might do well to put a "free gasoline" plank in his presidential platform.

• • • • • •

Even if the war does stop, there's still the fight for the baseball championship.

• • • • • •

Have you taken your molasses and sulphur yet? Spring's surely here now.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

The 1916 Model.

"Oh, mamma!" cried the young offspring
In terror and despair,
"Oh, what can be that awful thing
That's standing over there?
Is it some strange wild animal
Brought from a foreign shore?
Oh, tell me, ma, for I've not seen
A thing like that before."

The mother soothed the little lad,
Who in grim terror shook,
And said, "Those things are not so bad
Now, really, as they look.
He will not bite, my angel child,
He's harmless as a toy;
The thing you see is nothing wild,
But just a college boy."

Uncle Abner

If there is anything narrower than a circus seat it is a Hardshell deacon's idea of who's goin' to get into heaven.

One good thing about a pianola is that it don't have to be teased to play, and will stop whenever you want it to.

Hod Peters says every time he looks at the palm garden on Miss Amy Frisby's hat it makes him think of the time he was in Milwaukee, and he hastens over to the saloon to keep the memory green.

There is no loss without some small gain. Hank Purdy's wife cooked a round steak for him that he couldn't eat, but instead of throwin' it away he cut it up into harness laces.

Be good and you'll be lonesome is an old sayin', and most of the fellers around this burg seem to have a constant hankering for company.

It takes a millionaire's wife to wear a $7 gown and not be talked about by her dear feminine friends. A poor man's wife has got to wear the real goods.

The main difference between a genuine calabash pipe and an imitation calabash pipe is the price.

There ain't no man who kin offer you as much advice on how to run your business as some feller who has failed in his own.

A feller with thick eyeglasses is purty hard to beat in a business deal or in a poker game.

What Drives Clerks Crazy.

"I want to buy a shirt for my husband. I don't know what size the neckband is, but he wears a 6½ hat."

"My wife wants me to get her some ribbon to trim a dress. What shade do you think she would like?"

"My wife has just got back from the East and doesn't like the overcoat I bought here six months ago. Will you take it back?"

"Huh, they aint' wearin' them hats in New York now. You don't see 'em in any of Bud Fisher's cartoons."

"What kind of a necktie would my husband like for his birthday?"

"Are those $1,29 cuff links solid gold? If not, I don't want them."

Answers to Correspondents.

Percy—You say you are invited to spend the week-end with friends and want to know if you should dress for dinner. Yes, we would advise you to; also for breakfast and supper.

Musician—You ask how we pronounce potpourri. We don't.

Hank—You say your neighbor has borrowed your vacuum cleaner and won't bring it back. Get even with him by running away with his wife.

Bachelor—You ask us what is the best season to propose to the girl. There is no best season. They are all bad.

Oh, Yes, Indeed.

The Hiawatha "long and dreary winter" called to the mind of at least one Bible reader the reference of the harrassed, hen-pecked Job to snow and ice; also the the Psalmist's suggestive, significant question, "Who can stand before His cold?" Lest we be "tried beyond ability to bear," there were providentially provided by marvelous wisdom and immeasurable power old King Cole, "black but comely," and the slow stored carbon of the woodland trees which, heaped high on hearth, impress the truth that "it is a pleasant thing to see the fire."—Woodbury Herald.

THE NEW ORDERS

- Proctor's Theatre -

Ever intent upon providing for the utmost comfort and well-being of their patrons, the management of Proctor's local playhouse are now installing a huge cooling and ventilating plant, consisting of about fifty of the latest type and improved oscillating electric fans, and numerous ice depots throughout the theatre, upon which large cakes of ice will be placed, with a huge fan behind it to blow the cooling breezes to every nook and corner of the theatre. Provisions are being made to so control the cooling system that the temperature can be lowered or raised to any point desired, thus guaranteeing the greatest comfort and freedom from the heat even on the hottest days. The photoplay program provided today is an exceedingly strong one, and introduces William S. Hart, the peer of all dilineators of Western characters in a Thomas H. Ince spectacle admirably suited to his personality, entitled "The Aryan," which deals in true Ince fashion with the hardships and suffering endured by the hardy pioneers who risked their lives and their families on their way across the vast sandy wastes and rugged mountain trails in the days of '49. Mr. Hart is at home in this type of production, and his acting compares favorably, and even exceeds, his splendid work in his former successes, such as "The Disciple," "Between Men" and "Hell's Hinges." In addition, today, Hank Mann, the Keystone funmaker, with a style all his own, is seen in "His Bread and Butter," and there are numerous other features to suit all varieties and taste. Tomorrow, Charles Cherry appears in his first motion picture, "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," a truly delightful Paramount offering; the last episode of "The Social Pirates" will be presented, and a supporting program of photoplays will evoke loud praise. Saturday, the dramatic attraction will be Grace Elliston in "Black Fear," a gripping Metro offering; Charlie Chaplin will appear in "The Property Man"; the juvenile film stars will be seen in "A Chip off the Old Block," and Mutt and Jeff and Musty Suffer will provide loud and hilarious laughter. Monday is the inauguration of Mary Pickford Week, this dainty screen star appearing in a different picture each day, in addition to the regular program of stunning features. Announcement is also made of the presentation in the very near future of Charlie Chaplin in his first picture released under his new contract, entitled "The Floorwalker."

S. Hart as He Appears In "The Aryan"—Triangle-Ince Play.

AT PROCTOR'S TODAY.

--Astor Theatre--

There is no subject of such importance, just now, as the Mexican question. The strained situation along the border, the almost imminent possibility of serious consequences keeps Mexico continually in print. Seek in books the history of the Yaqui Indians in Mexico—you will find interesting legends galore involved in their tribal records. See "The Yaqui," Bluebird photoplay, at the Astor today, and you will be electrified by the sensational scenes and incidents, developed as part of an impelling story of love and devotion, with Hobart Bosworth the hero of the occasion. Tomorrow, Jesse L. Lasky presents the photoplay favorite of two continents, Fanny Ward, in an elaborate picturization of the widely-read story of the West, "Tennessee's Pardner," founded on the play by Scott Marble, suggested by Bret Harte's story. Miss Ward, in this production, is a girl of the plains. Marvelous scenery, faithful representations of frontier life; exciting episode. "Tennessee" is the name given a little baby by a company of "forty-niners" on their trip across the great plains to California. Jack Hunter, a young boy of seventeen, who is working his way across the country by caring for the horses, takes a fancy to her, and, finally, Bill Kent, Tennessee's father, invites the boy to join the party. On the last night before reaching the goldfields, Kate Kent, Tennessee's mother, elopes with Tom Romaine, a young scapegrace, deserting her husband and baby. Hunter sees the two flee and tells Kent. In the pursuit that follows, Romaine shoots Kent, and the man and woman escape. Kent is just able to write the following message before he dies: "Jack Hunter gets my outfit to look out for the little one. Romaine did this." The photo-drama is said to abound with wonderful atmosphere of the early days of the West. In addition to our other photoplays, this will make a wonderful program. Ask about our family tickets; they will interest you. Our motto, "Quality, Not Quantity." The theatre they are all talking about.

. Plainfield Theatre. .

Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt, for several seasons one of the most brilliant stars in the musical comedy firmament, will come to the Plainfield Theatre today as the headline feature of the bill for the last half of the week. The Countess recently closed an engagement in the stellar role of "The Newlyweds and Their Baby," one of the biggest successes of the past season and comes to this city in a new and highly entertaining offering. She will wear some of her most beautiful gowns and in her act will be assisted by William Hebert, who has been her partner for a number of seasons.

Other numbers on the bill which opened today are the following: Rose and Appel, comedians extraodinary; Cowboy Williams, the Oklahoma wonder, assisted by his own company in the presentation of a novel frontier offering; The Great Franklin, novelty act; Rose and Ethel, classy girls in a refined singing and dancing act, and Dean, Dale and Dean, in the laughable skit, "Just Married."

Every Thursday program includes among its movie features the continuation of the sensational serial film, "The Iron Claw," and every Friday sees another installment of "The Strange Case of Mary Page." The Pathe semi-weekly is shown every Tuesday and Saturday, and Charlie Chaplin comedies are also displayed on the Plainfield Theatre screen at regular intervals.

THE FORUM

(The Friends' Peace Committee, of Plainfield, has requested the publication of the following:

Thoughts of Prominent People.

"Nobody seriously supposes that the United States needs fear an invasion of its own territory."—President Wilson, Jan. 28, 1916.

"The militarist argument amounts to this: for two nations to keep the peace each must be stronger than the other."—Norman Angell.

"The coast fortifications of the United States are impregnable against naval attack."—Gen. Weaver, chief, Coast Artillery, Div., March 15, 1916.

"We never have had, and while we retain our present principles and ideals, we never will have a large standing army."—President Woodrow Wilson, December, 1914.

"My impression is that somebody makes something by reason of the huge expenditure in preparation for war."—Nicholas M. Butler, president Columbia University, New York.

"I sometimes think that there never was a good war or a bad peace."—Ben Franklin.

"We shall never overcome militarism by practicing it ourselves."—President Faunce, Brown University.

"We now spend twenty-nine million dollars a year on preparedness for war. Isn't this the time to spend one per cent. of this amount in preparedness for peace?"—Woodbridge Ferris, Governor of Michigan.

"The only way to get peace, and guarantee it, is by an international court backed up by a sufficient international police (army and navy).—Dr. Frank Crane, N. Y. Globe.

"The great obsessions of the world—cannibalism, slavery, witchcraft, feudalism—each perished in the hour of its apparent triumph. It must be so with war. God is not mocked forever, neither is man."—David Starr Jordan.

Friends' Peace Committee—S. C. Hutchinson, R. D. Williams, M. F. Vail, C. B. Vail.

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

The Senate has passed the Chamberlain Army Bill, and the House has passed what is known as the Hay Bill.

These two bills have been referred to a conference committee made up of three members of the House and five members of the Senate. These eight conferees are attempting to draft a compromise which will eventually be referred back to the House and Senate for final action.

The Chamberlain bill contains three important provisions: (1) the militia pay bill, (2) the increase of the regular army, and (3) Section 56, which makes provision for a National Citizen Army under the exclusive control of the President, which could be made to include such organizations as the Plattsburgh Training Regiments.

Section 56 would permit the organization of dependable national reserves to supplement the present second line, which is made up solely of the 48 State militias.

We call you attention to the fact that the provisions of Section 56 of the Chamberlain bill are not included in the Hay bill and are, moreover, strongly opposed by the House and its conferees.

We, the undersigned, officers and members of the National Security League, consider Section 56 to be the most vital issue before the present Congress. We advocate its retention by the conference committee.

If it is finally rejected by the conference committee we feel that the House as a whole should reconsider its position, go over the heads of the conferees, and pass Section 56 as a separate bill, thus considering it independently of the militia pay clause and of the increase of the regular army and allowing it to be judged on its own merits.

We urge our fellow members of the National Security League, and all others who favor the attainment of adequate preparedness to ask their Congressmen to support Section 56 of the Chamberlain bill.

Signed by:
Joseph H. Choate, honorary president.
Robert Bacon, president.
S. Stanwood Menken, vice president.
Eric Fisher Wood, vice president.
Henry L. Stimson, ex-secretary of war.
John Purroy Mitchel, mayor of New York city.
Z. Douglas Doty, editor Century Magazine.
Ralph D. Mershon, American Institute Electrical Engineers.
Lawrence F. Abbott, editor Outlook Magazine.
Charles E. Lydecker, chairman, Board of Trustees, College City of New York, N. Y.
William C. Church, editor Army and Navy Journal.
J. F. Stevens, American Society of Civil Engineers.
J. Bernard Walker, editor Scientific American.
Raymond B. Price, president Society Patriotic Education.

Y. W. C. A.

A meeting has been called for Monday night, May 15, at 7:30, for the purpose of organizing a business women's club. It will be held in the association, 210 East Front street, and all business women who are residents of Plainfield and vicinity, who would be interested are invited to attend.

The teachers of Plainfield are cordially invited to meet Dr. and Mrs. Biederwolf and the evangelistic party at the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday afternoon, May 16, at 4 o'clock. There will be an address and music, after which tea will be served.

FOOD AND GARDEN SALE.

A food and garden sale will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Sunday-school rooms of All Souls' church, from 2 until 6 o'clock. The sale is given under the auspices of the Women's Alliance. The food on sale will consist of home-made cakes, bread, pies, candy, baked beans, and other articles, while the garden sale will include flowers, garden aprons, flower boxes and implements. Mrs. J. O. Osgood is chairman of the committee in charge.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

No puffed-up, burning, tender, aching feet—no corns or callouses.

"Tiz" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains "Tiz" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "Tiz" brings restful foot comfort. "Tiz" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents.—Adv.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

L. MORALLER & SONS

WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS

WATCHES CLOCKS and JEWELRY

Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.

217 Park Ave. Phone 1967-J.

Available "Places to "Live" Have An Unfailing Interest for Most "People!"

The great majority of families are not "tied down," nor "tied up" to one particular place to live. "To move," now and then, is the privilege of renters—and their OPPORTUNITY!

The classified ads are of the most direct and practical USEFULNESS to all renters.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

How Ashputtel Planted a Hazel Twig.

Where She Planted the Hazel Twig.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

WHEN Jack and Evelyn wanted a story daddy told them about Ashputtel. "Once upon a time a rich man lost his wife and had no one left but a little daughter. She was a nice child and kind to every one about her. When spring came her father married a new wife who had two daughters of her own. Instead of being gentle and kind they were hard hearted. At once they began to boss the man's daughter about. 'What does the good for nothing want in the parlor?' they would ask. 'Away with the kitchen maid! Who would eat bread must first earn it!'"

"'Twas her own home, wasn't it?" said Jack.

"Well, this girl, whose home it was, was forced to do hard work—to get up mornings before daylight, to bring water in from the pump, to make the fire in the kitchen stove, to wash clothes and cook food for her stepsisters. Besides all this, they plagued her in all sorts of ways and made fun of her clothes. At night, when she was so tired after her hard work, she had no bed to sleep on because her stepsisters had taken her room. So she had to lie down by the hearth among the ashes. Of course this made her look dusty and dirty. So her stepsisters nicknamed her Ashputtel.

"Now, it happened that the father once went to a fair. So he asked his stepdaughters what he should bring them for a present. 'Fine clothes!' said one. 'Pearls and diamonds!' cried the other. 'Now, child,' he said to his own daughter, 'what will you have?'

"'The first twig, dear father, that brushes against your hat when you turn your face to come homeward,' said Ashputtel.

"So he went to the fair and bought two beautiful gowns and two pearl and diamond bracelets for his stepdaughters. And on his way home he rode horseback through a green wood. A hazel twig brushed against him and almost pushed off his hat. So he broke it off and brought it home to his own daughter. Then Ashputtel took it and went to her mother's grave, where she planted the hazel twig. She cried so much that she watered the twig with her own tears. So it grew and grew into a fine tree.

"She worked as hard as ever, but three times each day she managed to get away for a little while to visit her tree and cry by it. Then when spring came a little bird built its nest in her tree and talked with her and comforted her. Whenever she wanted anything very much the bird brought it to her," daddy finished.

"'The bluebird for happiness!'" cried Evelyn.

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

Ethel Will Treat Her Maids Differently if She Ever Learns Anything by Experience.

"I just ran in a moment to see if you knew of a maid I could get," said Ethel Gordon as Nell Morton answered her ring.

"Maid! Well, I should say not!" laughed Nell. "I do not supose there is one within a radius of twenty miles. You are not looking for one, are you? I thought you had an ideal maid."

"Well, she is so ideal that she came walking into the living room a half hour ago with her hat and coat on and her traveling bag in her hand. I asked in blank astonishment where she was going, and she said, 'Back to Milwaukee. I am lonely out here in the country!'"

"What did you say?" asked Nell.

"I felt like telling her that was the most sensible thing I ever heard her say. Instead, I looked hurt and asked, 'Are you going to leave me without any warning?' What do you suppose the girl said?" Nell shook her head.

"She just looked right over my head as if I had been a child and said, 'I am doing as you would do under the circumstances; I am pleasing myself.' The idea of a maid talking like that to her mistress!" Ethel bridled with indignation. "Of course I would not keep her now on any terms."

"I suppose the girl has been lonely here away from all her friends, and a good girl need not wait long for a place to work nowadays; but that does not make it any less dishonorable to leave without warning," sympathized Nell.

"She has been acting queer for the last month," continued Ethel. "She will leave my clothes lying around on chairs all day and never hang them up. When my husband comes home he has not a place in the bedroom to sit," grumbled Ethel.

"I should always prefer to care for my own clothes, no matter how many maids I had," remarked Nell, looking at her neighbor in surprise.

"Of course I could pick things up, but am badly spoiled. Mother and the maid at home picked up after me till I forgot how to hang things up, if I ever knew." She laughed over the matter as if it were a good joke. "The trouble began when I asked her to prepare the refreshments the night I had the Neighborhood Club at the house. She seemed to think she had enough to do to clean the house and get the meals and wait on the door. She was impudent and I made her see that I intended to be mistress of my own house."

"What did you do?" asked Nell. "Women who can take a high hand with servants nowadays are rare."

"Ralph told me I would soon be without a maid if I did not go slow, but I would as soon be alone as to have to be forever afraid of giving offense to one. I told her that it was not much to ask of her, and that I should keep back part of her wages if the refreshments were not served and well served." Nell gasped as she replied:

"I do not wonder that you lost her. That method will never work with servants. But as you say, it is easier to get along alone. One has the house to one's self. I will ask my little foreigner to send a little girl to you to wash dishes. Of course she knows nothing about cooking."

"Oh, I must have somebody to do the cooking; I know nothing about it."

Nell shook her head, indicating that she had no move to suggest.

"Well, I foresee a course of meals at a restaurant." Ethel waved the subject away as disposed of.

"I prophesy that the course will end with the first meal," said Nell gravely. "You have not eaten at our restaurant."

"Starvation is staring us in the face," laughed the light-hearted housewife as she rose to go, "unless Ralph can think of some way out."

(To be continued.)

Lawn Mowers? Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the five cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.

119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.

Two Phones, 5—6.

OUR OUTOMOBILE FIRE AND THEFT POLICY INSURES AGAINST
Loss or damage by FIRE, arising from any cause whatsoever.
Loss or damage (while in the hands of a transportation company) by stranding, burning, sinking, derailment and collision.
Loss by THEFT, of entire automobile or accessories, in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25.00.)
Reimbursement of the assured in consequence of a loss for any reasonable expenses incurred in recovering, saving and preserving the property insured from further damage.
Our rates are the lowest, companies the strongest, and service the best. Place your business here.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS GEO. M. CLARKE CO. Babcock Bldg. Telephone 266 Plainfield.
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

Buying for the home cannot be done wisely and economically unless the "buyer" is a student of the advertisements—no more than a store may be made prosperous without advertising.

WHY NOT?

"THAT IRRESISTIBLE FLAVOR."

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association, Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. J. L. Evans.

On Friday evening, May 26, a pageant and exhibition, under the direction of Miss Jackson and Mr. Patch, will be given in the High School Auditorium.

Those who saw the beautiful pageant given by Miss Jackson a few weeks ago will be glad to see it again and those who did not, should not fail to take advantage of this rare treat, augmented by Mr. Patch's physical training classes. This is the first opportunity for the public to see just what the boys are doing toward preparedness. Music for the entertainment will be under the direction of Mrs. William Burnett and Mrs. Guy Bender.

The proceeds of the pageant will be used by the Mothers' Association to place a library on "Household Administration" and "School Gardening" in each school in Plainfield.

The Mothers' Association appreciates the co-operation of the children, and their physical directors in giving an entertainment the proceeds of which will benefit the child, the parent and community at large by placing at their disposal these carefully selected books on all subjects pertaining to the home.

In the May issue of the Mothers' Magazine is a story entitled "Cook Less, Smile More." Now that title might startle some men whose wives neglect the culinary art, or even the management of it, and they might be excused for saying "Cook More, Smile More," but this story tells of two mothers, one of which spent so much time in cooking an endless variety, that she invariably came to the table too tired to eat, and sat emitting doleful sighs. She was too tired to laugh at any of the children's jokes, too tired to be agreeable, but when her husband told her to cook simpler meals, she said, "I guess I know my duty to my family."

Her daughter was a guest of the other mother and her family one evening. This mother cooked less but enjoyed more. She had an abundance, a pot roast, potatoes, onions, a salad and little cakes from the bakery covered with custard; but best of all she came to table in a happy mood, with some reserve strength for sociability.

When the daughter came home her mother said "What did you have to eat?" She wasn't sure she could remember, for they had talked so much she had hardly noticed, only that everything was good; but, finally, on being asked if they had this or that she recalled what they had had. Her mother "thought that a plain meal to serve a guest," then said, "I cook so much for my family that I have no time to be jolly. I know my duty to my family."

Did she? Ah, if we mothers could learn the lesson of moderation in all things.

But to finish the story. That mother saw the error of her ways and reformed. She began to cook less and smile more, but the strange part of it was that her husband praised her meals and said, "Your cooking improves all the time."

A smile sometimes is more satisfying than Charlotte Russe.

For World Peace.

By Elizabeth Towne.

We, the Rising Generations, want a World Federation for Universal Peace.

We want our war vessels and battleships utilized in times of peace for a Public University of Travel, a White Fleet that shall tour the world every year.

We want these ships manned with the best instructors in Art, Literature, Travel, History, Modern Languages, Sociology, Human Nature and Universal Brotherhood.

We want the students selected according to all-round merits from the graduates of Public High Schools and Industrial, Vocational and Technical Schools of all the States.

We want this post-graduate year of travel given at the expense of the nation, the students co-operating systematically with a minimum naval crew, in all work done aboard ship.

We believe in these things.
We pray for them.
We talk them.
e work for them.
We vote to this end.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

HEARN

Fourteenth Street New York West of Fifth Avenue

FRIDAY, AS USUAL, BARGAIN DAY

Fine Array of Price Savings for Tomorrow

On Every Floor, in Every Section

WORTH WHILE VALUES ABOUND

Special Offerings in Babies' Sections for This Week

No Mail or Telephone Orders for the following:

Women's Suits, Dresses, Skirts, etc. — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Red Ticket Lot of Women's Tailored Suits

Were $17.98 to $22.98 ..... 14.95
$24.98 to $37.98 ..... 19.95
$35.98 ..... 27.95
$41.98 ..... 31.95
$59.98 ..... 41.45

Serges, worsteds, gabardines, poplins, taffetas, silk poplins and gros de Londres....Navy, smart checks, green, white, rookie, black and other fashionable colors—General wear, strictly and demi-tailored sports, travel and dressy models—included are copies of foreign suits—all from high class makers—all sizes in lot.

Extra Size Suits—smart styles for stout figures—serges and poplins 19.98

Corded Swiss Voile Dresses—blouses with white lawn vestees and collars—full skirts trimmed with folds—other dainty styles—prettiest summer colorings—value $5.98 ..... 3.79

Our Specialized Tub Dresses of cotton gabardines, tailored hemstitched blouses with yokes and long hem pleated backs—variety of colors, white and black—value $3.98 ..... 2.85

WOMEN'S SKIRTS—smart serges in black or navy—plain, practical styles, well cut—button trimmed—value $2.98 ..... 2.40

These quotations from our recent sale

House and Porch Dresses—Ginghams, Chambrays, Percales—good colors and styles—dainty trimming—sizes to 46—usually $1.60 ..... 1.28

Dresses of Exceptional Quality Ginghams, Percales and Linens—plain or yoke skirt models—other embroidery or contrast trim, or both—regular and extra sizes—value $1.98 ..... 1.56

House and Porch Dresses of excellent quality gingham and percale—variety of newest stripes—wearable and washable—new yoke styles—sizes to 46—value $1.49 .. .93

The Winner—Our Specialized Housedress ..... .98

Muslin Underwear and Sweaters — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Last Friday of M'Ir's Close-Out Purchase.

Women's Night Dresses—Soft finish cambric—yoke of wide emb'y and ribbon run emb'y—full length and width—reg. .59 ..... .38

Night Dresses—round, V or high—four inserts of good emb'y combined with tucks or lace, emb'y and ribbon—reg. .79 to .98 ..... .68

Women's Combinations—Nainsook—yoke of embroidery and three rows lace—value .85 ..... .68

Nainsook combinations—neat or showy styles—lace or emb'y and ribbon—reg. $1.29 ..... .94

Combinations—a dozen models—elaborately trim'd front and back—new effects—reg. $2.69 ..... 1.94

Women's Petticoats—white—ruffle with tucks and embroidery—reg. .59 ..... .45

Petticoats—white or flesh—neat or showy—new models—reg. $1.25 .. .94

Women's Corset Covers—round neck—lace or embroidery and ribbon—reg. .29 ..... .19

Variety of daintiest models—trim'd front and back—medallions, emb'y and ribbon—value .59 ..... .45

Women's Drawers—ruffle, h. s. hem and tucks—reg. .29 ..... .19

Nainsook, muslin or batiste—white or flesh—newest concepts in laces and embroideries—value .69 ..... .46

Envelope and Regular Chemises—yokes of embroidery or lace and ribbon—reg. .49 ..... .38

Ex. size Night Dresses—Cambric—wide embroidery—reg. .69 ..... .46

Ex. sizes Night Dresses—Nainsook, cambric or muslin—lace or emb'y—value $1.29 ..... .92

Ex. size Petticoats—ruffle wide emb'y or fancy lace—reg. $1.29 .. .95

Ex. size Drawers—wide embroidery and tucks or lace and inserting—reg. .49 ..... .38

Ex. size Corset Covers—tight fitting—lace trimmed—others—reg. .29 .. .19

Children's Underwear

Cambric Drawers—emb'y ruffle and tucks—1 to 12 yrs.—reg. .29 ..... .18

Envelope Chemises—lace inserts, combined with medallions and ribbons—value .79 ..... .64

Sateen Bloomers—pink, blue, navy, white; also white crepe—6 to 16 years ..... Special .46

Children's Cambric Night Drawers—good quality—1 to 12 yrs.—value .59 ..... .45

Children's Cambric Skirts—two lace inserts or wide emb'y and tucks—4 to 16 yrs.—reg. .49 ..... .38

Girls' Princess Slips—nainsook—yokes of medallions and lace—trimmed skirts—were $1.19 ..... .94

Children's White Flannel Skirts—silk scalloped edge or herringbone—band or waist—6 to 12 yrs.—value $1.29 ..... 1.98

Silks and Dress Goods — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Yard Wide Taffetas—chiffon finish—Satin stripes—contrasting colors—Were $1.25 and $1.45 .. 1.14

Yard Wide Poplins—silk mixed—soft and lustrous—desirable light and dark colors, also Black ..... .79

40-inch Crepe de Chines—full crepe weave—white, ivory, cream—street and evening colors, also Black—Special .. 1.19

40-inch Radium Silks—specially soft and lustrous—fashionable light and dark colors—also Black—value $1.59 ..... 1.29

36-inch Messalines—dull finish—soft quality—evening shades—value .69 ..... .49

36-inch Taffetas—chiffon finish—dark and medium colors—special 1.09

Dress Goods Remnants

All the leading fashionable fabrics in variety of excellent colors—marked for quick clearance tomorrow at cost or less.

Also these timely items:—

All Wool Imported Challies—light and dark grounds—buds, polka dots, borders and floral patterns ..... .49

Yard Wide Shepherd Checks—small and large designs—black and white—special ..... .22

48 and 50 inch All Wool Fine Weave Serges—navy, men's wear blue and black ..... .98

48-inch All Wool Shepherd Checks—fine cashmere finish—small, medium and large—reg. $1.29 ... .94

44-inch Cream Storm Serges ..... .79

54-inch Jet Black Imported Mohair Sicilliennes—high lustre—special. .69

Linens, Towels, Toweling, White Goods, etc. — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Lunch Cloths—2 yards long—pure linen—silver bleach—reg. $1.89 .. 1.28

70-inch Pure Linen Damasks—value $1.00 ..... .79

Pure White Turkish Towels—18x38—hemmed—white borders only—reg. .12 9

Union Linen Huck Towels—18x36 inch—soft finish—white or red borders—reg. .19 ..... .15

Turkish Bath Sheets—52x70 in.—hemmed—reg. .98 ..... .79

36-inch Ramie Dress Linens—pure white—serviceable quality—reg. .59 .39

Dish, Roller and Glass Toweling—pure linen—reg. .16—special 12½

Fine Variety of Dimities in stripes and checks, dotted Swisses, plain and fancy crepes, also underwear crepe plisse, ripplette, linen finish madras and pique, also 39-inch voiles and lingerie batistes—value 19 cts 12½

36-inch Skirting Gabardines—value .39 ..... .29

36-inch Nainsook, 12 yard piece—reg. $2.39 ..... 1.95

Scarfs and Squares—lace trimmed—many styles—reg. .49 ..... .36

Satin Lambrequins and Piano Covers—floral borders—hand knotted fringe—special 3.77

Misses' and Girls' Wear — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Misses' and Juniors' Suits—also small women's sizes—box or belted flare models—most wanted Spring shades in poplins, gabardines and worsteds—reg. $16.98 to $19.98 ..... 12.95

Handsome Suits—for Misses and small women—serges, gabardines, silk or wool poplins, silk taffetas or worsteds—copies of imported models—ripple of belted styles for sport or dress wear—navy, Copenhagen, green, rookie, black and checks—values to $29.98 ... 18.95

Misses' and Juniors' Coats—all wool plaids, serges, tweeds and corduroys—desirable color assortment—flare or belted models—self or contrast collars, including a navy coat with suede overlay collar—Special 7.98

Girls' Fine White Dresses—organdie or lawn—lace or embroidery trimmed—ribbon sashes—6 to 14 yrs 1.98

Girls' Spring Coats—6 to 14 yrs. in lot—checked or striped novelty weaves—belted models—contrast silk or worsted trimmed collars reg. $3.98 ..... 2.75

Toilet Articles and Notions — Friday's Leading Attractions.

39 ct. Tar Sheets—40x48 ..... .34

Toilet Paper—10 rolls ..... .25

75 ct. Excellent Water Bag—No. 3. .49

50 ct. Hay's Hair Health ..... .27

$1.49 Henry Hughes Ideal Brush .. .79

Porch and Hammock Cushions—all ready for use—reg. .69 ..... .49

Ready Made Skirt Yokes—reg. .12. 9

Coat, Pants, or Skirt Hangers—reg. 3 and 4 cts. each—dozen .. .25

Jersey Covered Bust Forms—reg. .98 .74

"Acme" Adjustable Dress Forms—12-section—reg. $9.98 ..... 7.50

Muslins, Sheets, Pillow Cases, Spreads, etc. — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Bleached Muslins—36 inch—worth 9 6½

SHEETINGS BY YARD—

Bleached		Unbleached
42 in., worth .17	.12	5-4, worth .17	.15
8-4, worth .19	.15	6-4, worth .21	.18
50 in., worth .21	.15	8-4, worth .26	.20
6-4, worth .24	.17	7-4, worth .24	.17
7-4, worth .26	.20
8-4, worth .29	.22	8-4, worth .26	.20
9-4, worth .31	.24	9-4, worth .29	.22
10-4, worth .34	.26	10-4, worth .31	.24

Pillow Cases—
42x36, worth .11 8 | 50x36, worth .13 .10
45x36, worth .12 9 | 54x36, worth .14 .11

54x90 Sheets—for single beds—worth .44 ..... .33

16 oz. Absorbent Cotton—in cartons—reg. .27 ..... .19

Feather Ticking—assorted stripes—worth .18 ..... .11½

Feather Bed Ticks—full and three-quarter sizes worth $1.69 ..... 1.09

Crochet Spreads—for full size beds—worth $1.69 ..... 1.09

Marseilles Spreads—satin finish—worth $2.98 ..... 1.98

Curtains, Portieres, Cretonnes, etc. — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Special Purchase of Mill Remnants of Curtain Scrims—2½ to 10 yd. lengths—many can be matched ... 5¾

Burmese Curtains—Dutch or Straight—Rose, nile, brown, various blues—open mesh—guaranteed sunfast—temper the light, admit the air, so they are very desirable for Summer drapes—reg. $3.50 .... 1.98

Irish Point Marie Antoinette and fine Marquisette Curtains—were $5.98 and $6.98 ..... 4.98

Washable Couch Covers—stenciled art borders 3.29
Table Covers to Match.

Summer Couch Covers—Belgian stripe—fringed—special ..... .84

Chints Cretonnes—light or dark grounds—value .17 ..... .12½

Reversible Velour Portieres—duplex colorings..... Friday 13.50

Rugs, Screens, Shades, etc. — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Worsted Wilton Rugs—two of the best makes—9x12 ft.—medallions or small all over effects—values to $42.00 ..... 29.98

Fine Seamless Velvet Rugs—9x12 ft.—desirable rich rose grounds—value $24.98 ..... 17.98

Gem of the Prairie Deltox Grass Rugs—Grecian, Chinese, Roman and fancy borders, green, red, brown, blue, gray—

18x36 inch	.39	6x9 ft.	3.95
27x54 inch	.79	6x12 ft.	5.49
30x60 inch	.95	9x12 ft.	9.98
4.6x7.6 ft.	2.69	12x15 ft.	14.98

Window Screens—oiled wood frames—28 inches high—extend 23 to 37—reg. .37 ..... .29

Oil Opaque Window Shades—6x3 ft. (before hemming)—slightly imperfect—special ..... .22

Lonsdale Holland Shades—6x3 ft.—before hemming—slightly imperfect—special ..... .39

O-Cedar Oil Mops—long handles—triangle shape—75c size ..... .52

O-Cedar Oil—50 ct. size ..... .37

Initial Stationery—24 cards or 24 sheets of paper, with envelopes—some initials missing, therefore remainder of these reg. .19 and .25 ..... 6½

On Main Floor — Friday's Leading Attractions.

Women's Lisle Gloves—12 button—black or white—reg. .39 ..... .25

Women's Parasols—taffeta, pongee and linen—plain, stripes, ribbon inserts and borders—reg. $3.50 2.19

Special Purchase of Novelty Buttons—large assortment of newest styles, shades and shapes—every imaginable color and combination reg. 24 cts. to 39 cts., card ..... .12

Laces—Val., Point de Paris and fancy cotton—choice widths for every trim'g use—reg. 12½ ..... .10

Clearances of Embroideries—36 to 40 inch flouncings—Voile, Organdie and Swiss—short lengths—slightly soiled—reg. .49 ..... .29

Mesh Veilings—light and dark colors; also black and white—reg. .19 ..... .12½

Assorted Neckwear—vestees, collars, or collar and cuff sets—embroidered voile, batiste or organdie—reg. .29 ..... .19

Men's Pure Linen Hdkfs. ..... .16

Women's Pure Linen Hdkfs.—val. .10 7

Wide Moire Satins and Taffeta Ribbons—black, white and colors, also pretty Dresdens—reg. .29 ..... .25

Photograph Frames—silver plated—large oval size—velvet cov'd back—ball feet—reg. .49 ..... .29

Gold Filled Bracelet Watches—flat models—good quality 4.50

Rogers Silver Plated Table Spoons and Forks—bright and gray finish—pretty patterns—reg. $1.25—½ doz. ..... .98

Table Knives and Forks—best quality steel—celluloid handles—reg. .25 ..... .24

Leather, Satin and Moire Handbags—leather and fancy linings—various sizes and styles—instead of .98 ..... .69

Jananese Matting Suit Cases—reinforced ends—24 inch straps and catches—value $1.98 ..... 1.54

REMNANTS OF NOVELTY COTTONS

At Friday's Clearance Prices

Fashionable Fabrics—Best Colors—Blouse, Dress or Skirt Lengths—A large section devoted exclusively to REMNANTS from Our Famous Wash Dress Fabrics Dept.

The Largest in the World.

If you have a need, come to-morrow!

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY PRESS

SPORT TOPICS

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

ALL SHOULD LINEUP FOR BIEDERWOLF NIGHT.

Those City Baseball Leaguers who have planned to attend the Biederwolf services at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon should get together and circulate the invitation among the players and supporters of the organization in order that the affair might be as representative as possible. Baseball players of every class can stand a little talking to on subjects other than the national nuisance and it's a safe conclusion that the evangelist will have something of the gilt-edged variety in store for them Sunday afternoon. The time, the place and the date has been set by Secretary Daniel Randolph, who will assist President Walter C. Dobbins in taking care of the athletes at the Tabernacle.

• • • • • •

SOMETHING NEW FOR SPORTSMEN TO PONDER OVER.

According to schedule the Plainfield High School girls' swimming team is slated to meet a schoolgirl opponent this afternoon. This is something new for Plainfield sport followers to get acquainted with. Just what kind of mermaids the Red and Blue girlies will make remains to be seen, but inasmuch as they exhibited enough sense to pass up a chance to play baseball here not long ago we're going to take a chance on suspecting they're pretty good water racers. It's also safe to conclude that they won't have any trouble swelling the gate receipts in the event that the exhibitions are made public ones.

• • • • • •

JUST ANOTHER SHIFTING FASHION, MAYBE.

By the way, what has become of that aggregation of feminine baseball jugglers that sprang up on the North Plainfield horizon several weeks ago. The photography firm of Underwood & Underwood, with headquarters in New York, has written for permission to visit the borough and "snap" some of the athletic misses but if the "picture-taker" doesn't happen on the scene pretty quick the baseball girl will be well nigh extinct here abouts. At any rate we haven't heard from the headquarters over the brook in some time and we'd hate to take a chance on sending a poor lonesome New Yorker into the wilds of "Canada" without furnishing him with explicit instructions.

• • • • • •

MAX MARSTON HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Saturday afternoon Plainfielders who follow the "bally" game of golf will have a chance to witness the work of a country renowned expert. No less a personage than Max Marston, of Cranford, will appear on the Plainfield Country Club links with a collection of golfers from that town prepared to slip another victory over at the expense of the local team. As a brassie wielder Marston has established a wonderful reputation for himself and the feature card Saturday should bring out a big "gallery."

• • • • • •

ROBINSON NOT A MANAGER OF SENTIMENT.

There always has been an impression that Wilbert Robinson was an easy boss and that as such his men will play on him with the result that the athletes shirk their duty to the detriment of Brooklyn's pennant interests. Any number of fans can be found who will declare in favor of a taskmaster like McGraw and against a suave manager like Robby. They hold the opinion that ball players must be driven slave-like if a club is to be a winner. Kid-gloving them gets nothing in the end but the horse laugh. Recent events proved, however, that Robby is less solicitous of the feeling of his men than in other years. While he still applies the salve and is ever ready to bestow praise for a clever piece of work he is driving his team harder and compelling every man in a regular berth to step right up to the top notch of his ability. Failure to meet requirements carries with it the ignominy of a job at bench warming. Ollie O'Mara was given two days only to establish his work to the team. The same limit was set for Gus Getz. Casey Stengel was somewhat short of the standard and Jimmy Johnston was given the assignment in right field. Buck Wheat is under surveillance. The noted caretaker of the left wing of the outer defense is cutting very little figure in batting and his fielding lacks the snap of old times. As between Stengel and Wheat, the former looks the better and unless Wheat takes a brace the fans need not be surprised upon casting their optics over the lineup to find Stengel back in right and Johnston out in left. Robby is determined to land Brooklyn a winner if it's in the team. He is experimenting with that object in view. Robby is playing the cards for a winner, and expects every man to do his part or suffer the consequences.

• • • • • •

SPEAKER FOR GROUND RENT.

The sale of Tris Speaker to Cleveland "for more money than was ever paid for a player, not excepting Eddie Collins," recalls the story of Speaker being left at Little Rock in 1908 as rental for the ball park there. The Boston club trained at Little Rock that season, agreeing to turn back a player to Mike Finn's club in payment for the use of the grounds. When the Red Sox left Little Rock Speaker was left behind. That season Tris developed into a remarkable player and several clubs, including the Giants, made offers for him. Manager Finn might have sold him without violating any agreements, but he felt that Boston was entitled to first claim, so he sent the player back to the Red Sox for the sum of $500. Eight years later Tris, once a grounds rent player, is sold for the "record figure of baseball sales."

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.

N. P. H. S. at Roselle.
Elks' Billiard Tourney.

Tomorrow.

Elks' Billiard Tourney.
Woodbridge at Plainfield (tennis).

Saturday.

N. P. H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)
Plainfield A. A. at First Baptist.
T. A. B. S. at Hope
Clinton Avenue at Netherwood
Elks' billiard tourney.

Monday.

Central H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)
N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

GAMES WANTED.

The opening game of the Challengers will be played next week against the Leal School combine. Manager Fletcher has signed "Bill" Reilly, former pitcher for the Diamond A. C., and Pierce Fountain, the well known first sacker. Any team desiring to sign up games notify Gilbert Fletcher, 909 West Second street. The team ranges between 13 and 15 years.

JACK RIFFERT IN GAME.

Jack Riffert, former Plainfield High School all-around athlete, who has been making a name for himself in college athletics as a member of the Swarthmore University forces, played his old position in right field yesterday afternoon against the University of Pennsylvania outfit, Swarthmore winning out by a 5 to 4 count. Riffert scored one putout and two runs.

CARELESSNESS CAUSES DEFEAT OF N. P. H. S.

Borough Boys Lose Eleven-Inning Game to Roselle by Score of 7 to 6.

Overconfidence defeated North Plainfield High School yesterday afternoon when they lost out in an eleven-inning game to Roselle High School at the latter place by the score of 7 to 6. After having the game in their own hands for seven innings, the locals grew careless, until they awoke to the fact that their rivals had tied the score. The defeat taught the boroughites a lesson, from which they will profit.

The borough aggregation played fine ball both in fielding and batting. The deliveries of Galloway and Davies were devoured with delight, fifteen hits resounding from the bats of the invaders. Included in this number were five two-base hits. Newt. Mair continued his slugging by connecting for three safeties, one of which was a two-sacker.

Dilts took matters easy in the pitcher's box, reserving his strength for Saturday's contest, he relying upon the other men more than usual.

The boroughites are in prime condition to meet P. H. S. on Saturday, they being confident of their ability to make a strong resistance against the attacks of the Red-and-Blue.

The scores:

ROSELLE H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Vega, c	5	0	0	16	0	0
Benedict, ss	5	0	0	1	2	0
Grandorp, 3b	5	1	1	1	1	3
Davies, 1b, p	5	2	2	2	1	0
Pulley, 2b	5	2	3	2	2	1
Gaffney, lf	4	1	0	2	1	0
Davenport, cf	4	1	3	2	0	0
Betford, rf	4	0	0	0	0	0
Galloway, p, 1b	4	0	1	7	1	1
	41	7	10	33	8	5

NORTH PLAINFIELD H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Townley, 3b	6	1	3	2	1	0
M. McDonough, cf	6	2	2	1	0	0
Mair, 1b	6	1	3	10	0	0
A. McDonough, c	6	0	1	14	1	1
Dilts, p	6	0	2	0	4	0
Dawe, ss	5	0	1	0	0	1
Kirch, lf	4	1	1	2	0	0
Yates, 2b	5	0	2	1	3	1
Seidel, rf	1	0	0	0	0	0
Van Mater, rf	4	1	0	0	0	0
	49	6	15	30	9	3

Score by innings:

N. P. H. S.	1 1 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 0 0	—6
R. H. S.	0 0 0 0 1 0 4 1 0 0 1	—7

Three-base hit—Galloway. First base on balls—off Dilts, 1; off Galloway, 1; off Davies, 0. Two-base hits—Dilts, 2; A. McDonough, Mair, Pulley 2, Kirch. Struck out—by Dilts, 14; by Galloway, 5; by Davies, 8. Hit by pitcher—Dilts (Pulley). Stolen bases—Townley (2), McDonough, Van Mater (2), Davies (2), Pulley Davenport. Scorer—Laurie. Umpire—Gibbons.

DR. LAVAN MINISTERS TO RIVAL

Advises Ernie Johnson to Take Rest For Six Months.

Dr. John Lavan and Ernie Johnson are the St. Louis Browns' shortstops. During the spring season they fought it out for the honor of becoming the regular for the Browns; last year Johnson performed similar duty for the St. Louis Feds.

Toward the end of the training season Johnson sprained an ankle. There was no doctor in the vicinity—except Dr. Lavan. He rendered first aid to the injured and then in a grave way advised his patient thusly:

"My dear sir, your injury is serious—very, very serious. My advice to you is to take a complete rest—for six months at least. Furthermore, I think you should leave St. Louis."

And Johnson merely grinned.

BOASTS 40 NO HIT GAMES.

Average of One a Year For National League's History.

Forty no hit slab performances in forty years, or the life of the National league. That is the record written to date in the history of the parent baseball circuit.

Bradley of St. Louis set the pace in the first year of the organization, Hartford bowing in defeat. Richmond, pitching for Worcester, won three no hit shutouts in 1879 and 1880.

Galvin, Radbourne, Corcoran, Ward, Clarkson, Rusie, Stivetts, Philippi, Hahn, Mathewson, Lavender, Marquard, Lush, Ames and Maddox are among those boasting niches in this department of the hall of curving fame.

THROCKMORTON WINS TITLE.

Baltimore, Md., May 11.—Harold Throckmorton, the Elizabeth, N. J., schoolboy, won the Maryland State tennis championship here yesterday by defeating Warren Magruder in the final round of the Baltimore Country Club's open tournament at Roland Park, 6-0, 6-3, 9-7.

THE price of printing cannot be compared with the cost of printing until the wastebasket has been examined.
PLAINFIELD PRESS CO.,
193 North Avenue.

60 ACRE TRACT FOR GOLF LINKS

Plainfield Country Club Members Vote Unanimously to Acquire New Territory.

DUES ALSO INCREASED

Meeting Last Night Was Well Attended and the Contemplated Improvement Was Given An Enthusiastic Reception.

More than 150 members of the Plainfield Country Club answered the special meeting summons and appeared in the auditorium of the Hartridge School last night to consider three propositions as outlined exclusively in the Press Monday, each vital to the interests of the organization. It was voted unanimously to increase the annual dues of active members from $35 to $50 beginning April 1, 1917; to purchase sixty acres of land adjoining the present golf course; and to assume a new mortgage for $100,000 and pay off a portion of the present one

The authorization for the land purchase means that the tentative plans for the addition of nine new holes to the present course will be put through. It is proposed to add nine holes to one-half of the present eighteen-hole green and to use the remaining nine holes exclusively in the future for feminine competition.

The sixty-acre tract is ideally situated for the use to which it will be put. It immediately adjoins the present links and will make the course one of the finest in the State. The novel idea of reserving a nine-hole course for women has met with unanimous favor and club members are now looking forward to the time when it will be put in use.

Work on the new green will probably start in the near future under the direction of a well-known architect. While it will probably not be ready for competition this year it is practically certain that the spring card of 1917 will be played over the new links.

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played In National, American and Other Leagues.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At St. Louis—		R.	H.	E.
Philad'phia	0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	4	6	5
St. Louis	1 0 3 0 0 1 4 0 *—	9	14	4

Demaree, Bender, Rixey, Burns, Killifer; Peck, Snyder.

At Cincinnati—		R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	1 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—	4	13	0
Cincinnati	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	0	6	2

Pfeffer, McCarty, Miller; Schultz, C. Dale, Clark, Wingo.

At Chicago—		R.	H.	E.
Boston	2 0 4 0 0 0 2 0 3—	11	18	1
Chicago	0 1 3 1 3 0 0 0 2—	10	11	3

Nehf, Hughes, Gowdy; Vaughn, Seaton, Archer.

At Pittsburgh—		R.	H.	E.
New York	3 0 0 3 1 0 0 0 0—	7	13	0
Pittsburgh	0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—	1	3	3

Anderson, Rariden, Dooin; Adams, Cooper, Jacobs, Schmidt.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	11	4	.733	Cincinnati	11	12	.478
Boston	11	5	.688	Phila'phia	8	9	.471
Chicago	12	10	.545	Pittsburg	9	14	.391
St. Louis	11	10	.524	New York	4	13	.235

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

At Washington—		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	0	5	0
Wash'gton	0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 *—	1	3	2

Plank, Fincher, Hartley; Boehling, Henry.

At New York—		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	2 0 2 0 1 0 0 0 0—	5	8	1
New York	0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—	2	5	2

Russell, Schalk; Keating, Alexander.

At Boston—		R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	2 1 1 0 0 0 0 2 0—	6	10	1
Boston	1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—	2	6	3

Morton, O'Neill; Ruth, Thomas, Cady.

At Philadelphia—		R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0 2 3 0 1 0 0 3 0—	9	11	1
Philad'phia	1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—	3	5	5

Boehler, Stanage, Sheehan, Nabors, Schang.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	16	8	.667	Chicago	12	13	.480
Wash'ton	12	9	.571	Boston	11	12	.478
New York	11	10	.524	St. Louis	8	12	.400
Detroit	12	11	.522	Phila'phia	7	14	.333

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Baltimore—		R.	H.	E.
Rochester	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	1	11	2
Baltimore	0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 *—	2	9	3

Ritter, Hale; Sherman, McAvoy.

At Richmond—		R.	H.	E.
Toronto	0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	1	7	2
Richmond	0 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 *—	3	8	1

Manning, Kelly; Jarmon, Reynolds.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Newark	9	1	.900	Montreal	4	7	.364
Providence	7	3	.700	Rochester	4	8	.333
Baltimore	9	5	.643	Buffalo	4	8	.333
Richmond	7	5	.583	Toronto	2	10	.167

EASTERN LEAGUE.

At Lawrence—		R.	H.	E.
Lawrence	0 0 6 5 0 0 0 1 *—	12	12	0
New Haven	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	0	3	2

Pearson, Harris; Woodward, Chapelle, Murphy.

At Lynn—		R.	H.	E.
Springfield	0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—	2	5	3
Lynn	2 0 1 0 0 4 0 0 *—	7	11	0

Daniels, Stephens; Tuero, Carroll.

At Worcester—		R.	H.	E.
N. London	0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0—	2	7	6
Worcester	1 0 0 0 1 1 2 0 *—	5	8	3

Reiger, Fish; Herring, Tyler.

At Portland—		R.	H.	E.
Portland	4 2 1 0 1 0 0 8 *—	16	15	2
Hartford	0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—	2	5	3

Martin, Sweatt; Salmon, Skiff.

At Lowell—		R.	H.	E.
Lowell	5 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 *—	7	9	3
Bridgeport	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—	1	4	1

Lohman, Kilhullen; Walsh, Gearin, Crooks.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
N. Lond'n	8	3	.800	Spr'gfield	5	5	.500
Lawrence	6	4	.600	N. Haven	4	6	.400
Portland	6	4	.600	Bridgep't	4	7	.364
Lynn	6	4	.600	Hartford	3	6	.333
Lowell	6	5	.545	Worcester	2	7	.222

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

NOT A GOLF BALL.

When is an egg not an egg? When it's a golf ball. At least this is the story: The hen fruit which caused the trouble had been skillfully planted in the grass by a practical joker. The two contestants were a tall man and a short man, and the first named did not have his glasses with him. After a long drive he found what he thought to be his ball and made ready to swing. The short man stood at one side critically surveying the shot. The tall one swung with might and main, but instead of a ball soaring magnificently over the course there was a dull squash, and the contents of the egg were distributed over the person of the short man. "I've heard of these egg massages," he managed to sputter, "but this is the first time I ever tried one."

The age of the fruit is not given.

DUBUC AND JAMES NOT FIT FOR EARLY SEASON GAMES

One of the recruit pitchers may be forced to work in regular turn with the veterans of the Detroit club shortly if Manager Jennings makes good a threat he recently uttered, according to writers who have been traveling with the club.

Dubuc and James, veterans, have not been able to do much work thus far, and Jennings is said to have informed them that he would release them if they did not soon get into condition. Dubuc's pitching arm has been bothering him.

ALMA RICHARDS IS GAME.

Cornell Star Has Been Injured Many Times, but Has Stuck.

Alma Richards, the great Cornell athlete, is a heroic figure of gameness and fearlessness.

Early in his youth Richards indulged in various sports, and often he was injured. His left leg was sprained four times and his right leg twice.

Photo by American Press Association.

ALMA RICHARDS.

Once he broke some of the small bones in his right leg in the same accident that dislocated his wrist.

"The first time I tried a high jump I broke my left leg above the knee," said Richards. "I was on crutches four months. The doctors told me then that I ought to quit athletics—that my bones were too brittle."

But Richards ignored the advice, took a chance of permanently injuring himself, and today he ranks as a great all around athlete.

Richards won the high jump in the 1912 Olympics and in 1915 captured the all around championship in A. A. U. competition in San Francisco. Last summer he established a new intercollegiate high jump record in Philadelphia, and he ranks with the best men in the world in weight heaving, pole vaulting, hurdling and broad jumping.

The most remarkable feature of Richards' achievements is that he has become a star despite the handicap of a left leg that is partially crippled. The bone break that followed Richards' first high jump did not knit evenly. Instead, the broken parts met each other at an angle, forming a clumsy "V," which protrudes to a point just beneath the skin on Richards' leg.

—Among the readers of this newspaper's classified columns are possible buyers for any desirable real estate in this city.

Seen and Heard on the Street

Crowd of youngsters, none of them more than ten years old, dancing a one-step in perfect time on Park avenue to the accompaniment of a hurdy-gurdy tune.

Passing down West Front street, Tuesday night, the cynosure of all eyes from the crowd leaving the Biederwolf Tabernacle, an object that was very common twenty years ago, less common ten years ago and now but rarely seen—a tandem bicycle.

Two young men, one of them apparently of Hebrew extraction and the other undeniably Keltic, having an argument at the corner of Third and Liberty streets, as to whether or not there was any way of proving the former's assertion that ice cream cones are "Kosher."

Little girl on Duer street, who had been watching for several weeks a young lady and her brother walking home for lunch together, remarking to the young lady on a day when the brother had reached home first: "Hello, ———, your husband is home already, he beated you today."

Two fat commuters, who are notoriously famous for wanting that extra five-minute nap after their call for breakfast, arriving at the North Avenue station this morning just in time to be too late for the 7:55 train.

Sign displayed on the wall in Sebring's auditorium—"NO SMOKEING."

Queries--Comment--Answers

Query—How much does the President of the United States get a year?—A. M.

Answer—His salary, if that is what you refer to, is $75,000 per year.

Query—What is the population of the Philippine Islands? The area?—X. Y. Z.

Answer — Population, 8,460,052; square miles, 115,026.

Query—Is it against the law for a taxi driver to refuse to take a passenger from the depot?—J. M.

Answer—Yes, providing the customer is sober and he is in line.

Query—Do you have to have a license to keep chickens in Plainfield?—M. J.

Answer—The fee is 25 cents a year for feathered chickens.

Query—What are the three largest cities in the world?—M. T.

Answer—London, 7,252,963; New York, 5,333,537; Paris, 2,888,110.

T. U. C.—See a reputable doctor—not a quack.—Ed.

Query—How high are Niagara Falls?—G. G.

Answer—164 feet.

Query—What was Harry Steinfelt's batting average with the Cubs in 1908?—W. W.

Answer—Steinfelt batted .241 with Frank Chance in 1908.

Query—Is Dr. Biederwolf a brother-in-law of Billy Sunday's?—Reader.

Answer—No, we have the doctor's word for it that he isn't.

ONLY FIVE TEAMS WILL BE PRESENT

Tabs Will Not Join Other City Leaguers in Visit to the Tabernacle Sunday.

According to an official announcement coming from President Joseph T. McCue, of the local T. A. B. Society, the baseball representatives of that organization will not be included in the assemblage of City Leaguers who will attend the Biederwolf services at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon. It was the original plan of the league to have all of the six teams included in the observance and it is believed that the remainder of the circuit will be on hand at the Daily Press office at the appointed hour.

The Tabs have a game slated with the St. Peter's team, of New Brunswick, for Sunday afternoon and when the Biederwolf proposition was originally broached the management of the Tabs was reluctant to lineup with the rest of the teams. John Denny, who represented the Tabs at that meeting, expressed himself as being in favor of taking the Tabs to the Tabernacle if the postponement with Brunswick could be made gracefully.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR POSITION ON DUNELLEN TEAM

According to present indications a large squad of ballplayers will assemble at Maurer Oval, Dunellen, Saturday afternoon to "try out" for positions on the Dunellen Baseball Club which will open its season, it is said, a week from tomorrow with the Bonnd Brook Bees.

Among the players who will come out for the Dunellen team are the two Trust boys, of East Arcadia, North Carolina, who are spending the summer in Dunellen visiting George Voehl. Both of the boys are great ballplayers. The eldest played several seasons with the Southern League.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling task to a classified ad.

Just received 400 Red Top Fisk Tires, 35 and 40 per cent. off the list. Special offer, 30x3½ non-skids, $7. Double-tread tires is our specialty. We give reliners free. We make good. Watch our weekly specials.
HUDSON DOUBLE TIRE CO.
269 Halsey Street Newark, N. J.
Tu.-Th.-Fri.

Central Bottling Works
Telephone 229. Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts.
HENRY HAURAND, Prop.
Headquarters for High Grade
Beers, Wines, Liquors and Carbonated Beverages
We carry only reliable goods. Goods with a reputation. Goods that we guarantee and recommend.
Try our Leaders—Plainfield Club, (blend); C. B. W. Monogram, (blend); Elkwood Pure Whiskey, (straight); none better made.
We regret to state that we can not deliver goods in Plainfield, but if you consider quality and prices you will find it will pay you to send for them. We call for empty bottles.

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT
the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.
AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.
MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

FISK QUALITY
FISK BICYCLE TIRES
The Best That Can Be Had.
For Sale by
George L. Simon
179 NORTH AVE. OPP. DEPOT.

"THE DANCE"

Sermon of the Rev. William E. Biederwolf at the Tabernacle Last Night.

This is not a pleasant task I am to perform. How certain do I wish there were no occasion for an address such as I am now going to deliver. I assure you, therefore, it is more from necessity than from choice that I am to speak upon the subject announced for this service. That subject is the theme of "The Dance and the Christian Relation To It." I recognize the fact in speaking upon the dance I am dealing with what is beyond question one of the greatest sources of amusement among the American people and I know that your prejudices are very apt to be very strong one way or the other.

I am not going to argue with you. I am simply going to tell you some things I know to be true and trust to your own enlightened Christian judgment, your own high sense of honor and your own fine sense of distinction between what is delicate and refined and modest and what is indelicate and coarse and suggestive to decide for yourself, regardless of what your future position concerning these things is to be.

I cannot understand how any right thinking person can possibly disagree with me in the position which the facts I am about to set forth have constrained me to take. And yet I dare hardly hope that every one will acknowledge as much because I know how strong your prejudices are. Some of you have come here tonight and have said to yourself and doubtless to other, "I'd like to see the preacher convince me that this thing is wrong." Well, we won't, for you know that little couplet, "A man convinced against his own will is of the same opinion still," but if any number or even one shall this day be true to his or her better self and the Spirit of God and begin to do the will of God, I shall speak to you at this time.

In the very beginning I wish to lay down two great principles as a foundation upon which to build:

First—The principle of sacrifice must be put into practice in every life that hopes to be highly successful. This is true of the merchant; it is true of the professional man; it is true of the student and it is true of the Christian.

The heights by great men reached and kept
Were not attained by sudden flight,
But they, while their companion slept,
Were toiling upwards in the night.

And the same thing is true in Christian experience. You will remember the poet told us something about "men rising on stepping stones of their dead selves to higher things."

And if your religion is not a religion of sacrifice, a religion that sacrifices the lower for the higher, it is not the religion of Jesus Christ.

Second—The particular thing we are called upon to sacrifice depends very much upon our position—not our position in the church but our position in the world. The teaching of the New Testament will not for one moment admit that certain things are perfectly innocent for you because you are simply a church member, but sinful for me because I am a preacher. I have the same right before God to do what another Christian does and what is wrong for a preacher is wrong for any kind of a Christian. And I have an idea that this whole question would not wait long for a solution and the church would become suddenly pure if its members allowed themselves only the indulgences to which you would be glad to see your pastor give himself; and I am equally sure that if you knew your pastor to be a wine drinking, card-playing, theatre-going, dancing-man, you would have little confidence in his preaching and prefer some other type of minister to be with you in sickness and most of all when you are dying.

The Inevitable Harvest.

Now, there must be a difference between a person who is not a Christian and one who is. I know the Bible and nature says, "Whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap," and whether a man is a Christian or not he must sacrifice his over-indulgence in strong drink if he does not want to reap a diseased body, a ruined reputation and a life of shame. There are other things which the world may allow itself with clear conscience, but which we, because we are Christians, ought not to do. I do not know what Jesus meant when he said, "Who do ye more than others?" unless He meant something like what I have just mentioned.

"What do ye more than others?" Alas! there is so often too little difference between the man who professes to be a Christian and the man who does not, if one must judge by the life that is lived; and if there is no difference, if there are not some things to which the world is given, which the Christian must forego, then what a miserable farce all our preaching and all our profession really is!

Let it be understood therefore that I am speaking more especially to those who profess to be Christians. Certainly if it shall appear that that which, under discussion tonight is impure and unholy and harmful in itself, I shall expect everyone who claims to stand for that which is highest and purest, regardless of your profession, to register yourself against it. But if I can even so much as prove it to be questionable, it shall certainly be just as much expected of the one who professes to be a Christian that they shall give God the benefit of the doubt in making their decision and follow the teachings of His word about this thing.

Now what shall I say respecting the indulgence of the dance? I speak of course of the round dance; the dance which Byron calls "the endearing, seductive waltz." Human nature is such that we can be none too careful, but it is the dance as carried on in present-day fashionable society that I am now about to discuss and not the old-time minuet and the stately cotillion or not undignified Virginia reel. But human blood is all too warm for that and the square dance is now only tolerated for a few moments at the beginning as a sop to public opinion for the abandon that comes with the later hours of the night's indulgence.

There are two things I want to say in passing.

Hard To Win.

First—The hardest young man and especially young woman in the world to win for Christ is the one who is devoted to the dance. In my work as an evangelist I have had scores upon scores say to me, "If I must quit dancing I will not become a Christian," and this is usually said when not a word has been said about the dance. It must be the prompting of a guilty conscience. If the fascination of the dance is so terrible as to cause you to choose it in preference to Christ and the church, that alone ought to stamp it as a great enemy to moral and spiritual beauty.

Second—For every professing Christian who has anything to say in defense of the dance there can be found an unconverted person who makes no pretense at being religious who will say that if they become a Christian they would expect to give up that form of indulgence. I wonder why this is? I wonder if it is because, as Gail Hamilton said, "The very poise of the parties suggests impurity." I wonder if it is because, as broad and liberal-minded Horace Bushnell said, it is one of "the contrived possibilities of license." I wonder if it is, as Mrs. General T. Sherman said, after reading "The Dance of Death," that "women of virtue and self-respect who know the contents of that volume would blush to have the dance named to them;" and if there is any truth in these statements or in a thousand others like them from men and women of all kinds and from every rank in life, I wonder if it is possible that people who make no pretense of being religious can see ruin and moral putrefaction where God's own professional children can see nothing but innocent and harmless pleasure? Or I wonder if these people of the world are more honest than some of us who will not admit the truth because forsooth it would rob us of an excitement that appeals to our poor sensual natures.

If there is any truth at all in what has been suggested, the chief indictment of the dance is at once before us.

It has been maintained by others that, unlike card game and the theater, the dance is immoral in itself, on the ground that the assumption of sexes, whether it be behind the curtains of a dimly lighted parlor or on the dancing floor or in the shadows of the moonlight stroll, is necessarily immoral in itself except it be between man and his wife or his betrothed. Think as you please about that; my concern is about getting you to see something else, and that is, namely, that the dance has its basis on the passions of human nature.

Everything that follows ought to furnish conclusive proof of this statement:

First—The mingling of the sexes in dancing originated in Greece among men of contaminated morals and women of loose questionable character. There are no square dances in the brothels and what is done there with the avowed and expressed purpose of exciting the sensual nature do you think you can indulge without any tendency whatever in that direction?

Second—There is little or no delight in the dance without the opposite sex. The man who dances only with his wife and the girl who dances only with her brother gets tired quicker and goes home earliest. The dance is the only indulgence that requires the two sexes to make it tolerable. Men play cards alone and women do and engage in all other amusements all alone and the pleasure is often heightened by the absence of the opposite sex, but what club or society ever gave a ball to those of its own sex only?

The Dancer's Testimony.

Third—The testimony of those who have danced is worthy of something. A man came to me recently and said, "I wish you would pray for a friend of mine. He's a splendid fellow. I've just had a good talk with him. He's been married only a few months and he told me that a few nights ago his young wife asked him to go to the dance, and he said, "Mabel, I'm married now, and don't ask me to go to the dance." A man whose thoughts are unholy is none the less false. Some young men are quite free with their lips. Not all young men are thus guilty, thank God, and the things that have been in their minds never find expression in their words, but young woman, if you could hear the remarks of some of these young men or know the thoughts begotten at least in their minds by the dance a blush of shame would mantle your cheek to think that you had ever given yourself to their embrace.

Fourth—If the dance did not have its basis in the passions, such a man as Lord Byron, being the man that he was, could never have written about it as he did. Women, you are pure and noble and caste, but how could you give yourself to the dance after reading the ode of "The Waltz" by the author of Don Juan is a hard thing for a pure minded man to understand.

Since these things are facts and not speculation there can be no longer any doubt as to why the dance is wrong. I but recently laid down a book containing ten indictments against the modern dance, but because human nature is what it is, any one who understands it at all can see without a moment's reflection that the chief indictment against the dance is that in its nature, in its tendency and in its results it is dangerous to social purity, and that all other reasons for condemning it dwindle away into insignificance in comparison with this.

It ought not to take any facts or figures to prove this. Here are the dancers, locked, you will allow me to say, at least partially, in each other's embrace, moving as one body across the floor, the man gazing upon half-concealed charms of his partner, blowing his warm breath upon her exposed arms and breast, that almost magic and ungovernable personal electricity darting between their meeting fingers, their blood heated and quickened at every step until the heat of one body passes into the other. Do you mean to say that a man can give himself to such a thing like that hour after hour and not be in danger of having the pure white of his soul sullied by that which is unchaste and unclean? A man is not made of putty or marble. He is made as all men are made, and these quivering bundles of nerve and passion can well afford to get along without an environment, the tendency of which is in the direction just noted. Granting that none but the purest-minded men ever dance, no man's mind is thought proof, and any indulgence which may cause man to fling away or lose the eternal jewel of chaste thought and its sequel proves bestial and degrading, is hardly a thing for a Christian to defend. Woman, you may not understand this; but man, you understand it all and you know that it is all true.

Professional Testimony.

No further proof ought to be required. Enough has already been given; but,

First—I can prove it by the testimony of dancing masters. At their recent convention in New York City, steps were taken to modify the form of the present tendency towards that which is impure. What the dancing masters themselves acknowledged to be dangerous to pure thought and social propriety, it remains for the professed Christian woman of the church to defend as perfectly innocent and harmless amusement. Has it come to this?

Second—I can prove it out of my own experience. I have God to thank for a heaven-sent conscience on social purity even before I became a Christian, but since a young man of 19 I have known the Christ and I have had not only a new inspiration but a new strength in trying to fulfill the command, "Keep thyself pure." I would not think or do a thing of shame, not because of its effect upon myself, either mentally or physically or socially, but because I know it hurts the heart of my Father in heaven who has been so good and kind to me. And yet I know myself as you know yourself, and I say it without shame, that the struggle of my life has been just along the line we have been discussing. And I have thought of a young man who had the inspiration of a Christian ideal, who knew his Christ and had His help and His strength to keep his mind and his heart, if he could not give himself without harm to these things, what shall be said of the young man who has no such inspiration and who does not know the Christ and is a stranger to His help and strength, and, even though he care to be pure, to say nothing about those who are not so concerned.

Third—I can prove it out of the experience of others. First, on the testimony of young men. In a Western town of some 8,000 population entirely given up to the amusements of this world, a number of the young women came to me during the revival and asked me about the dance. They said they saw no harm in it, and I replied, "Possibly not to you, although there may be; but what about the young men?" "Oh," they said, "we dance with only the nicest young men of the town." And I said, "Who are they?" and they said, "Harry C. and George R.," and went on to name quite a number of the most splendid young men of the place. Later, during my stay I talked with these very same young men. A few of them were inclined to argue a little at first, while others were quicker to confess; but every one of these young men, without an exception, confessed to me in confidence, for I had become their friend, that although they might have gone through the evening's dance without harm at the time, yet when they went back to their homes and laid themselves down on their beds and lived the night, with its scenes and seductions, all through again in the mind, there came to them, because of it, thoughts and imaginations which no pure-minded, chaste-hearted young man should ever indulge. In another city recently I was asked by the young men themselves for a confidential talk.

About 30 of the best young men were there—high school and business college students, clerks and others. I talked to them of the impure thoughts begotten by the dance and of what these thoughts sometimes led to, and I said, "Now, fellows, I've been frank with you and I want you to be just as frank and confidential with me; has this been true of you?" And the hand of every young man in the room went up. Now, if these young men know their own life and experience as they certainly must, then, young women, for their sakes, for the sake of the virtue and character of young men in general who are more strongly tempted in certain directions than you are apt to be, you ought, if you are a pure woman, much more a Christian, to think very carefully before you give yourself to an indulgence with them that encourages the things we have mentioned, even though there could be no possible harm to yourselves. You surely do not mean to say that you are in no wise responsible for the virtue of the young men! If you do, in heaven's name let me ask you, "What is your idea of a Christian, anyhow?"

Testimony of Women.

You say, as a young woman, there is no harm to you; I am not so sure of this. I do not care to argue the matter with you, but it is hard to see how young women can engage in any indulgence without the slightest possibility of danger to them, when it does for young men who give themselves to it that which we have just seen to be true.

Secondly, the testimony of the young women of the world proves the position we have taken and emphatically denies the supposition that there is no harm in its indulgence for them. Many a poor lost girl has been heard to cry in a bitter anguish, "Would to God I had never entered a dancing school."

Prof. T. A. Falkner, an ex-dancing master, of Los Angeles academy, said to 200 abandoned women with whom he talked personally, that while 37 ascribed their fall to various other causes, 163 of them ascribed it to the dancing school and ballroom. The police statistics of this and other countries tell the same sad story. I could simply appall you with what I myself know to be true.

Again, the Roman Catholic Confessional reveals some strong evidence just at this point. A Catholic priest, in defending the confessional, had come just to this point when he said, "Another argument for the confessional is that we at least have the advantage of knowing when our people fall, where they fall and how they fall, and we have found that almost every lapse of female virtue in our community is traceable to the round dance." A noted Catholic archbishop, no other than Archbishop Spaulding, of New York, said recently that this was true of nineteen out of every twenty.

You say you don't believe it. Listen. The facts are all open to investigation, and certainly no one with a true heart would think of denying them without investigation for themselves.

You may repeat again, young woman, that it never has and never can do you any harm, and I repeat again that I will not argue the question with you; but I do ask, altogether apart from your Christian profession, altogether apart from what would be pleading to Him who pleased not Himself; I do ask, have you no womanly interest in womankind?

And now, because all these things are true, for you must bear me witness that this address has not been an abuse but plain recital of facts—because these things are true—could any one be astonished if it should be said that this form of indulgence is inconsistent with the Christian' vows, that solemn vow which says, "Renouncing the world, the flesh and the devil, I take God the Father to be my Father; Jesus the Christ to be my Savior, and the Holy Spirit to be my sanctifier. I take the word of God to be my rule of faith and patience, and the people of God to be my people, and I give myself, soul and body, time and talents, powers and possessions to the service of the Lord. I do this intelligently, deliberately, sincerely, unreservedly, freely and forever." Could anything be more solemn: And because the Christian's vow is what it is and the dance is what it is could any one be surprised to hear that the dance is forbidden by the church?

If anyone, therefore, should ask me to give a single reason why a church member should not dance I would simply say, "Because your church is against it and says you must not." But you say, "Do all churches take this stand?" Yes, all of them! The majority of them through their official utterances, while in the few which are independent in government and consequently have no such official deliverances, you will find the attitude of its leaders quite as pronounced against this indulgence as that of the others.

Dangerous Amusements.

Let us begin with the Roman Catholic, the oldest of all. Assembled in Plenary Council at Baltimore the archbishops put their church on record in the following words:

"In this connection we consider it to be our duty to warn our people against those amusements which may easily become to them an occasion of sin, against those fashionable dances which, as at present carried on, are revolting to every feeling of delicacy and propriety and are fraught with the greatest danger to morals."

Take the Episcopalian church, which is so often charged with being lax concerning this question. But this is true only as it is true of other churches where they are not deeply concerned about bringing the lost to Jesus. But listen! Bishop Hopkins of that church, had this to say "Dancing is chargeable with waste of time, the indulgence of personal vanity, and the premature incitement of the passions; and no ingenuity can make it consistent with the covenant of baptism." Bishop Meade, of Virginia, and Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio, have said the same thing, while Bishop Coxe, whose name has become a household word in the Episcopalian church, says the dance is lascivious and warns those who persist in it "that they presume not to come to the holy table."

The Baptist church in her associations is unsparing in her denunciation of this indulgence.

The General Association of the Congregational church of the State of Iowa passed the following resolution but a few years ago: "Resolved, That in the opinion of this association the practice by dancing members of our churches is inconsistent with the profession of religion and ought to be made a subject of discipline."

While leaving the matter of discipline to each church, the Presbyterian denomination in its general assembly, has said, "We regard the practice of promiscuous social dancing by church members as a mournful inconsistency and the giving of such parties for such dancing, on the part of the heads of families, as tending to compromise their religious profession; and the sending of children by Christian parents to the dancing school as a sad error in family discipline."

Among their other deliverances you will find words like the following; words that ought to cut to the quick the conscience of every guilty member of that church. After speaking of the fashionable amusements of the world, and mentioning especially dancing, it is said of the professing Christian who indulges in it, that he, "furnishes satisfactory evidence that he has not yet put off concerning the former conversation, the old man, which is corrupt, according to the deceitful lusts, not put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness," and that He thus brings dishonor and reproach upon his religious profession, throws a stumbling block in the way of sinners, offends them that are weak, and grievously wounds the Savior in the house of His friends."

The Church of Christ, the Disciple Church, is as pronounced as anyone of its recognized authorities has said, "Dancing is offensive, not to the ignorant, prejudiced and weak people, but to the best informed, the most pious and devout. If there were nothing else against it, that would stamp it with the seal of condemnation."

In the Methodist book of disciplene, paragraph 248, under the head of "Imprudent and Unchristian Conduct," we find that mention is made of attending dancing parties, patronizing dancing schools, and it is there stated that private reproof shall first be given by the pastor or leader, but that upon a second offense the pastor or leader shall take with him one or two discreet members of the church; while upon a third offense, if there be no sign of real humiliation the guilty one shall be expelled.

"Well," you say, "I don't care what my church says; I'm going to do this thing anyhow." And is this your idea of a true church member and a consistent Christian? You, who stood at the sacred altar and before God, before the saints of earth and high heaven, made your vow not only to renounce the world, but to be obedient to the will of your church? Is it possible that you prejudiced your soul, or has it come to this, that you no longer care?

But we are not quite done. We have gathered testimony from every quarter but one. Let us not forget the word of our God.

It does seem from all that we have seen to be true that some of these things, at least the dance, are, as Bishop Meade has said, "Unclean and wrong in themselves," but for fear that there may be some who even yet will not admit so much, I want to ask how many of you are at least willing to admit, in the light of all that has been said, that those things are at least questionable? Very well then. A Christian will certainly listen to God's word, if not to any of the other authorities I have quoted. Let us then see what God's word says about questionable things. He says in plain and unmistakable language that for the Christian they are wrong.

Paul's Distinction.

Paul, in speaking on questionable thing, says in I Cor. 6:12, "All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient," and in telling us why things which are inexpedient just because they are questionable are wrong for the Christian, he makes himself very plain; indeed, so plain that no one who wants the truth can miss it. He explains it first from the standpoint of a man's God, and then from the standpoint of a man's neighbor, and then from the standpoint of the man himself.

First—As concerns God. He says they are wrong because of the danger of misrepresenting Him. By doing these things we sanction a lower tone of Christianity than His approval warrants. In I Cor. 10:31, Paul says, "Whether ye eat or drink or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God." If you conscientiously kneel down and ask God to go with you, it may be right for you to go, if no other question is involved, but unless in that thing to which you give yourself the Holy Spirit can glorify Jesus it is wrong for you to indulge. In any undertaking I should want to know, "Will this please God?"

Calling upon one of his parishioners, a certain pastor inquired concerning the daughter, who was away at college, and the mother said, "I was just reading a letter from her as you came in; part of it will interest you." And she read a part of the letter where the daughter was telling the mother of a dance that was to be given by her class; most of her friends were going and she wanted to go herself very much indeed, but she knew her mother did not approve of it, and for her sake she was going to stay away. "Well," remarked the pastor, "that's very beautiful of her indeed; you must love her very much." "Love her!" replied the mother, as a tear came into her eye, "I wish she were here now that I might put my arms around her and tell her how much I love her." In some such way as that I would like God to feel toward me, and I am sure He will if I am trying in all things to walk "worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing."

Second—Then Paul states the question from the standpoint of the man's neighbor. In I Cor. 8:9, he says such things ought not to be done "lest by any means my liberty becomes a stumbling block to them that are weak." We all know what he means, and in I Cor. 8:13, he says "If meat makes my brother to offend I will eat no meat while the world stands." Although I might engage in this thing without any harm to myself, I am furnishing by my example what others take as their justification for doing it, but who are not so discerning or self-controlled as I, and while I may be spared they may be injured and fall and set their feet in the way that leads to ruin.

Another's Danger.

Two little boys, one leading his smaller sister, were going through the woods. They came to a tree that had fallen across the creek and formed a natural bridge. The first little fellow bounded over and turning said, "Come on, it's easy." But the other gripped his little sister's hand a little tighter and shrank back, saying, "I could, but she might fall." And I say to you that that little fellow had more of the Spirit of Jesus Christ in him than many members of many churches who will not deny themselves some pet indulgence for the sake of some one weaker than themselves.

Third—And then Paul states the matter from the standpoint of the man himself.

(a) In I Cor. 6:42, he says such things are inexpedient, "lest I be brought under their power." If these things or any other things have taken such strong hold upon you as to cause you to prefer them to the approval of God or the honor of Christ; if you are at the place where many a young member of the church has been when they have said, "If these things are inconsistent with my being a member of the church, I shall cling to them nevertheless," then for you these things are an evil in your life.

(b) And in I Cor. 10:23, he says they are inexpedient "because they do not edify." They hinder growth *and fill the church with barren, fruit*less lives. A prominent Christian worker once said, "I never knew a Christian that began to dance who was not soon missed from the prayer meeting." Having loved this world Demas-like, they soon forsake the things of God. It seems there is an incompatibility between the two which experience proves will not abide each other.

And then, say what we will, the lovely characters of this world, in whose lives the very beauty and gentleness of Jesus have shone with resplendent glory, have not been those whose chief sources of amusement were found in the giddy, venturesome whirl of a Christ-ignoring world.

Fourth—And then, as if our duty concerning such matters might not in *some particular instance be sufficient*ly clear, even with such guiding principles before us, Paul in Romans 14:23 sets forth a sample rule that will always point a man to the right side if he has the least desire to do the will of God. He says, "If there is any question about it, don't do it." "Whatever is not faith," he says that is, whatever is not without doubt, without question, "is sin," and "he that doubteth," says Paul, "is condemned if he does it."

And now what more could man or God say to anyone who is honestly seeking the best and highest and purest things of life. Listen to this true story and we will leave you with God to settle this question, if you have hot already done it in the deep place of your own soul.

In one of our Eastern cities there is living a very happy couple today On the fourth anniversary of their wedding the young wife said to the husband:

"Dick, I have been a very happy woman for four years, but if only one thing else could be true I would be the happiest woman in the world."

"Well, Mollie," he said, "what is it? I would do anything for you."

"Dick," she replied, "if you were only a Christian."

"Well, Mollie, are you a Christian?" said the young husband.

"Yes, Dick," came the answer.

"Well, Mollie," said he, "I didn't know it."

Dick waited a while and then said "See here, Mollie, I want to do what is right; you don't swear, do you?"

"Why, no, Dick."

"Well," he replied, "I don't, either, Mollie. You don't gamble do you?"

"Why no, Dick, of course I don't."

"Well," he replied, "I don't either. Mollie," he said, "you don't get drunk, do you?"

"Why, Dick! Why do you ask such questions of me? Of course I don't get drunk."

"Well," said Dick, "I don't, either."

"Now, Mollie," he said, "you drink wine at the receptions, don't you?"

"Oh, yes," said Mollie, "I do that out of courtesy to the hostess."

"Well," said Dick, "I do, too."

"Mollie," he said, "you go to the theatre, don't you?"

"Why, certainly," she replied, "I go quite often."

"Well," said Dick, "I do too."

"Mollie," he said, "you play cards, don't you?"

"Why, yes, Dick, where's the harm in that? I play cards, of course."

"Mollie," he said, "you dance, don't you?"

"Certainly," she said, "there's no harm in dancing; I love it; I dance, of course I do."

"Well," said Dick, "I do, too."

"Now Mollie," said he, "if you'll show me the difference between the kind of life that you are living and the kind I am living I have no objections to my becoming a Christian."

Now I don't suppose there is any one in this audience who is little enough to get mad at the truth, are you? Of course if you are that little, you'll just have to get mad; that's all. But you say, "Mr. Biederwolf, be very sure you speak the truth," and I will. If ever I spoke or shall speak the truth under God's heaven, I will speak it now. It is not a matter of practice, but a matter of principle. It is not a question about eating meat on Friday, or playing golf on Sunday, or taking a carriage ride on Tuesday, or going to a dance or elsewhere at any other time; it is not a matter of practice at all, but of principle, of which I speak. And here is the truth. My dear Christian wife, if the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ doesn't make any difference between the life you are living and the life your unconverted husband is living, it isn't worth recommending to him. Now, you could not get mad at that if you'd try, and so I'm going to say it again. My dear Christian sister, if the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ doesn't make any difference between the kind of life you are living and the kind of life your unconverted brother is living it isn't worth having as a means of saving and purifying the soul.

Now Mollie saw this, just as you see it. Dick started downtown and a few blocks away returned for something he had forgotten, and found his wife on her knees by the couch, her face buried in her hands, and she was weeping. He lifted her up and asked her to forgive him if he had hurt her feelings, but she put her arms around his neck and kissed him and said, "No, Dick, it is I who ought to ask your forgiveness, and with God's help you shall have a different wife from this time on."

Just fourteen months after that time, Dick, a splendid young man, who has since occupied positions of honor because of his sterling worth, stood up in a large religious gathering and said, "For four months I have been a Christian man, won to God by the earnest, consistent, beautiful Christian life of my devoted wife."

ENDORSE ACTION OF MAYOR CALKINS

Mother's Ass'n Approves His Stand Regarding Presentation of Moving Picture.

The Mothers' Association went on Record yesterday afternoon as heartily endorsing Mayor Calkins' letter to the moving picture houses of the city and no doubt will take further action at a later meeting. The gathering yesterday afternoon was in the nature of a lawn party held at the home of Mrs. T. G. Phillips on Kensington avenue, about fifty women attending. Mrs. C. L. Riley, the president, presided during the business session when reports from the various committees were received.

The report of the program committee showed a tentative list of speakers who have been secured for next year, among whom are Rev. Franklin K. Matthews, of New York; Miss Hauser, of New Brunswick, the expert sent out under the State's supervision as an authority on household *administration and domestic econo*my; Miss Addie Parker Jackson, physical instructor in the Plainfield Public Schools, and Dr. J. J. Savitz, of Westfield, the latter to speak of the "Code of Morality for School Children" as set down by the State Board of Education.

Mrs. A. C. Penn, reporting for the lunch committee, told of the work in the Stillman School which is attended by the children of the Franklin, Stillman and Whittier Schools. Begun January 10 of this year, during the seventy-eight days that lunches have been served, 11,605 children were fed and of that number 1,217 were free ticket children, or those who were needy and were supplied free of charge, the cost being taken out of a fund contributed to by the public. On an average 148 2-3 children are fed a day and the average spent by each child amounts to 4 4-5 cents, which is considered an unusual amount for a penny lunch. The need of a large lunch committee to supervise all the lunches in the schools of the city was brought up and the president was given the power to appoint such a committee for next year.

Announcement was made that a musical and physical demonstration will be given by the association in the High School gymnasium on Friday night, May 26. At that time Miss Jackson will repeat several numbers of her recent pageant and Mr. Patch will demonstrate the work of the High School boys in the gymnastic department. The musical will be in charge of Mrs. William Burnet and Mrs. Guy Bender.

Following the business session yesterday the women were served refreshments and enjoyed a social time.

MAY 11 IN HISTORY

1686—Death of Otho Guericke, Prussian scientist, who invented the air pump.

1778—Death of William Pitt, illustrious English statesman, friend of liberty and eloquent in its cause.

1858—Minnesota was admitted into the Union as the thirty-second State.

1867—Treaty signed at London for the neutrality of Luxemburg and the evacuation of the duchy by the Prussians.

1871—Final treaty of peace between France and Germany was signed.

1871—Death of Sir John Herschel, famous astronomer.

1885—Canadian forces defeated the rebel Riel at Batouche.

1891—The Czar of Russia was attacked by a fanatic and wounded at Kioto, Japan.

1914—U. S. Supreme Court reversed the sentences imposed on Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, labor leaders, under the statute of limitations.

1915—THE WAR.

French forces capture 2,000 Germans and make big gains between Carency and Souchez.

Austria claims Russian casualties to be 150,000 in recent fighting in Galicia.

Germans advancing along the Baltic in large forces.

Wilson cabinet decides on demand for German reparation for deaths of Americans on Lusitania, and give guarantees against repetition of offense.

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

LARRY EVANS.

THEN I'LL COME BACK TO YOU

By LARRY EVANS

AUTHOR OF "ONCE TO EVERY MAN"

Copyright, 1915, by THE H. K. FLY COMPANY

SYNOPSIS.

Stephen O'Mara, a homeless and friendless boy, starting from the wilderness to see the city, is welcomed to the home of Caleb Hunter and his sister Sarah.

CHAPTER III.

Three Quarters and Six Eighths.

SATURDAY morning dawned as hot and dry and windless as had been the other days of the week which had preceded it. Caleb Hunter, rising from an uneasy night, blamed his sleeplessness upon the weather. It was fully an hour before his usual not too early hour of rising when he slowly descended the wide stairway, and yet he was but little surprised to find the boy already there before him seated upon the top step of the veranda when he strolled outside.

Chin in palm, elbow upon knee, Steve was gazing fixedly in the direction of Dexter Allison's stucco and timber "summer lodge," and, although Caleb could not have known it, there had been no need for his silence, for the boy's rapt preoccupation was sound proof. Caleb heard voices coming from behind the shrubbery, and just as he, a little perplexed, turned to follow the direction of that fascinated gaze Allison himself squeezed through a narrow aperture in the box hedge and hailed him jovially from the far edge of the lawn. And Caleb Hunter's brows drew together in a bit of a frown when a slender figure in kilted black velvet and bright buckled low shoes, hatless and with thick, gleaming hair bobbed short in a style strange to Morrison in those days flashed through behind him, for Caleb heard the short gasp which came from the boy's lips even before the little girl had paused in her darting advance on tiptoe like a hovering butterfly to wave a slim hand at him.

Caleb heard the boy's breath suck in between tight teeth; heard it quiver unsteadily as she appeared on swift feet—and Caleb understood what had been holding so closely his attention. He understood absolutely and yet, strange as the mood was, at that moment he couldn't help but feel, too, somehow a little sorry for the boy—he could not help but think— His eyes went from Steve's forward thrust head, from the hair, shaggy and unkempt for all its fineness and thickness and wavy softness, across to that dainty vision which, poised in her absurdly short skirt like a point of flame, was already gazing back at the boy upon the steps in open and undisguised amaze.

Caleb caught his first illuminating glimpse of the woman she was to be—of the dainty grace and more than usual beauty which were there in the promise of the years, and he, who was fond of insisting to his sister Sarah that there was many a boy back in those hills who, with his chance, might some day achieve greatness, suddenly realized how long and weary the road would be for just such a one as the fascinated little figure on the steps before he could begin to approach that level which, to a society that Caleb understood, was typified by this exquisite elfin figure, Dexter Allison's daughter.

He was no snob, Caleb Hunter, and yet the little girl's bearing at that moment doubly accented for him the gulf which lay between her and the hills boy, by name Steve. For, though she did pause to stare at his white drill trousers and unbelievable man sized boots with frankly childish astonishment, the next instant she had recovered herself and without another glance preceded her father across the grass. Quite as though Steve had not been there at all, she passed him to hesitate demurely at Caleb's side.

"Good morning, Uncle Cal," she greeted him.

And then quite suddenly Caleb didn't feel so very sorry, after all, for his little visitor. He stopped pitying him. Steve's eyes had not wavered once from the little girl's face, from the time she appeared in the hedge gap until she mounted the steps, utterly oblivious to his nearness. But when she brushed against his elbow the boy rose and stood, hat in hand, gravely quiet, gravely possessed and silently sure of himself.

Even after he had answered Barbara Allison's greeting and turned with his grown up, ponderous courtesy to present the boy to her, only to be left with the words hanging upon tongue tip by her instant disappearance inside in search of Sarah, Caleb caught no hint of the thoughts behind those impassive and steady eyes. And yet he knew that Steve had risen in order that he might bow as he had the night before, when Caleb introduced him to his sister.

Dexter Allison, coming up in less airy fashion across the lawn, surprised Caleb with his mouth still open.

"Well?" said Dexter Allison—and Caleb recovered himself.

"Well?" he countered, and then they both laughed softly and shook hands. It was their unvaried formula of greeting, whether they had not seen each other for twenty-four hours or twenty-four months.

And while they were shaking hands the boy turned quickly and reseated himself upon the top step. But Allison gave him more notice than had his daughter Barbara. He stood with his hands in his pockets, gazing at the averted face, unconcealed and growing amusement in the scrutiny, until Caleb, not yet aware of the boy's woods taught habit of seeing while seeming not to see, was simultaneously annoyed at Allison's fatuous grin and glad of the fact that Steve apparently was looking the other way. After a time Allison raised quizzical eyes to Caleb's face.

"Wel-l-l?" he intoned, and with a little reluctance as reasonable as it was unnoticed Caleb answered the inferred question.

"This—this is a little friend of mine, Dexter," he said—"down from the hills. He's to have a look at the city which you have been so instrumental in arousing to its present state of teeming activity. This is Stephen O'Mara. Steve—this is Mr. Allison, Steve!"

Then the boy turned and again rose to his feet, and at that moment Caleb could have hugged him for his deliberation. The boy inclined his head; he bowed, without a word. And it was Dexter Allison who first offered a hand.

"Glad to make your acquaintance, Stephen," the latter exclaimed with quite violent good humor. "And how are you?"

Steve took the hand and closed his brown fingers hard upon the puffy white ones. For an instant he stood, his eyes, grave and inscrutable, full upon Allison's smaller ones.

"I'm tol-lable," he drawled soberly. "And—haow be you—yourself?"

Allison gasped, stood with mouth agape and then burst into one of his rather too frequent, too hearty laughs.

"Well, I'm"— he began his favorite phrase of ejaculation, and then stopped to look down again into the small face before him. "Well, I'm"— and he stopped to chuckle. Then he turned back to Caleb.

"I suppose, Cal, you know what this early morning call presages?" he suggested.

Caleb recalled himself with an effort from a contemplation of the sudden, prideful something which had warmed him while Steve was shaking hands. He smiled mechanically.

"I suppose it's the usual raid upon the commissary," he answered.

Allison mounted heavily to the veranda.

"Right!" he exclaimed. "Right! You'll notice that Barbara has already gone on ahead. She's the skirmish line—scouts – videttes – whatever you please to call 'em. There's no one up yet—none of the family—over to our place. We are hungry, Cal. I hope this is waffle morning."

Caleb smiled at him, less impersonality in the mirth. It was a regular custom, this truancy of Barbara Allison and her father—one of the little human foibles which Caleb often told himself accounted, in part at least, for his real liking of the man.

"Waffles it is," he said, and he turned toward the boy.

"Would you mind finding Miss Sarah, Steve?" he asked. "Will you tell her, please, that we are to be subjected to another neighborly imposition?"

After the boy had disappeared Caleb followed the larger man to a chair. And this time it was Caleb who met Allison's silence with a challenging, "Well?"

"Where did you get him, Cal?" Allison demanded. "Where did you get him? Those shoes and those trousers—pants, I guess is the word, eh? And, say, how that little beggar did squeeze my hand! Look here!"

He held one soft hand up for inspection. There were faint red welts still visible across the finger joints.

"Friend of yours, did you say?"

Without stopping to think about it, Caleb was not so keen to enlarge upon the boy's obvious "points" as he had been with Sarah. He omitted to mention his thoughts of the night before, and he omitted any reference to Old Tom, except for the most hazy explanation that the boy had no immediate kin. But with an increasing eagerness he dilated upon the small foot traveler's first view of the "city," his breathless reception of Allison's own switch engine and his avowed intention to "look around a trifle" before he located something to do.

"I thought I'd take him down this morning and get McLean to give him a ride in the cab of one of those sheet iron steam relics of yours," he finished.

If Caleb had expected his unadorned recitation of the boy's appearance to make any impression upon his hearer he would have been disappointed. But without any confessed reason for so doing Caleb aimed rather at the opposite effect. And Allison turned from it with a large, matter of fact indifference to rise and bow to Sarah Hunter, who appeared that moment in the doorway.

"Surely—surely," he echoed Caleb's suggestion. "Take him down and give him a ride. McLean 'll be glad of the chance to show some one his pet buzzsaws and things. I'll walk down with you myself after breakfast. I may be away for a day or two, and I want to leave directions for changes to be incorporated while I'm gone."

At the table that morning Caleb noted that there was no hesitation in Steve's selection from the silver beside his plate, no waiting to follow in the lead of Sarah Hunter's choice. He noticed, too, that the boy's eyes did not once lift to those of Barbara Allison, opposite him. And, while the little girl from time to time joined in the conversation, he not once opened his mouth to speak until they were almost ready to rise from their places.

Barbara Allison insisted upon joining the excursion down to the mill that morning. She developed a sudden and unshakable resolve to be one of the party, and after his remonstrances had finally brought stormy tears to her eyes Allison surrendered in perplexity to her whim.

"All right, then," he gave in. "If you want to come as much as all that, but—but you—now, run along, then, with Stephen."

On the way down the hill he voiced his perplexity to Caleb.

"When it comes to dealing with men," he said, "I pride myself upon being able to go back rather incisively to first motives. But the other sex is beyond me. She's always turned up her dainty nose at the noise and dirt before, and—and now she's ready to cry because I suggest that she wait with Miss Sarah until we return."

Caleb's eyes rested upon the oddly matched little couple ahead in the road. The boy was carrying his battered hat in his hand, but Barbara walked with small head up, without a single glance for her escort. Caleb, noting that Steve's head was forward thrust, knew that his eyes must be fastened hungrily upon the town in the valley, and he understood the reason for the disdainful tilt of the little girl's chin, for even at the age of ten Barbara Allison was not accustomed to inattention. Caleb smiled rather covertly for him.

"I never knew but one woman whose motives were absolutely transparent," he mused. "And she—she was the most uninteresting, unsuccessful female person I ever did know."

As Allison had promised, they found McLean, the white haired mill superintendent, only too eager at the prospect of an audience for one of his voluble tours of the premises. But when Caleb had explained the main errand upon which they had come, after a long, keen scrutiny of the boy's face, the burly riverman led the way without a word to a wheezing old two wheeler in the piling yard.

"So you'll be wantin' to take a spin in one av me ingines, is it?" he asked then, and after a moment, "An' do you think you'll be able to hang on whin she gets to r-rollin'?"

Steve's eyes were like bits of polished steel, so bright they were. It was a struggle for him to take them even for a moment from the engine before him.

"I cal'late I kin," he quavered.

"Well, thin, we'll see." McLean looked up and winked at the engineer in the diminutive cab. "It's car-reful you'll be, Misther Engineer," he cautioned, "an' watch your steerin' on the cur-rves!"

He leaned over to lift the boy to the running board, but Steve, with one foot upraised, hung back. He faced toward Caleb and without a glance in the girl's direction said:

"Mebby she—mebby she'd like to go too?"

Barbara Allison, chin lifted a little higher, half wheeled and slipped her hand within that of her father.

"Thank you, but I don't care to," she refused.

Steve caught the little toss of her head from the corner of his eye, and his face went pink. Without another word he clambered up beside the driver, and the engine rolled out of the yard and went clanking down the uneven, crooked track, leaving a dissolving trail of steam behind. When it returned the little face at the cab window was tense and somewhat pale beneath its tan, but the hand upon the throttle beside the engineer's lay steady as a little pine knot.

"Well, an' what do you think av her?" McLean demanded with an assumption of anxiety as the boy dropped to the ground.

Steve turned and patted the footboard with a proprietary hand. As grave of mien as his questioner he bobbed his head.

"She—she certainly kin git up and step," he volunteered. And then, cocking his head judiciously, "I'll hev to be a-gittin' me one of them fer myself some day!"

McLean chuckled—he chuckled in deep delight within his white whiskers—and led the way to the mills. But once there the amusement in his eyes rapidly deepened to amazement, for there were few steps in the processes upon which the boy could not talk as fluently and technically as did the mill boss himself. And he knew timber—knew it with the same infallibility which had even in McLean always seemed to border upon the uncanny.

It was Allison himself who first called attention to an unsawed log which was being discarded.

"That looks like too good a stick to be wasted, doesn't it, McLean?" he asked.

Before McLean could answer the boy spat gravely into a pile of sawdust, his piping voice rising above the shrill scream of the saws.

"She's holler," he stated succinctly. "Dry rotten above the stub!"

And when Allison raised his brows interrogatively McLean dropped one hand upon the boy's shoulder, a bit of pride in the gesture.

"Holler she is," he agreed, and he added, "An' I'll be afther knowin' where to find a riverman av the old school, I'm thinkin', some day whin the need arises."

Steve was most taciturn at the table the following morning. His moody silence puzzled even Sarah Hunter. But when the latter, whose Sunday schedule no storm could alter, came home from church and found Caleb and the boy immersed in a mass of flies and leaders and lines which had been skeined to dry her thorough disapproval loosed the boy's tongue. She stood in the doorway surveying with a frown their preoccupied industry.

"It seems to me, Cal," she commented, "that even if you haven't any regard for the Sabbath you might do better than lead those younger than yourself into doing things which might better be left for days which were meant for such things."

She swished upstairs before Caleb had a chance to answer. But after she had gone Steve looked up from a line he was spooling.

"She ain't particularly pleased, I take it," he remarked.

"Not particularly," Caleb chuckled. "It's funny, too, because I do most of this sort of work on Sunday. You'd think she'd become resigned to it, but she doesn't."

The boy thought deeply for awhile.

"Didn't—didn't the 'postles cast their nets on Sunday?" he asked presently.

Up shot Caleb's head.

"Huh-h-h?" he gasped.

"I sed didn't the 'postles cast their nets on Sunday?" Steve repeated. "Seems to me they did, but I can't just rec'llct now what chapter it was in."

Caleb pulled his face into a semblance of sobriety.

"Seems to me they did," he agreed a little weakly, "now that you mention it. I don't just recollect where it occurred, either, at the moment, but we'll have to look it up, because as a case of precedent it'll be a clincher for Sarah."

He chuckled for a full hour over the thought before he forgot it. The boy, however, upon whom Sarah's disapproval had made a more lasting impression, recalled it to him later.

Allison joined them Monday morning at daybreak. All day they drove through the seeping rain—drove north in Caleb's buckboard, to turn off finally upon a woods trail that ran into the east along the lesser branch of the river. During the ride Steve's bearing toward the third member of the party was too plain to escape notice, for he never looked at nor directed a word to Allison unless it was in reply to a direct question, and then his answers were almost monosyllabic. But Allison, who, as usual, gave his undivided attention to the country through which they were passing, in attitude toward the boy was even more remarkable.

Once when they had halted at noon he pointed out a hillside of pine, black beneath the rain, close clustered and of mastlike straightness.

"There's a wonderful stand of pine, Cal," he remarked. "I'd venture to say that it would cut at least 2,000,000 feet."

Instantly, although the remark was addressed to him, Caleb knew that it was Stephen's comment for which Allison was angling, and hard upon his casual statement the boy's head came sharply around.

"She'll run nigh double that," he swallowed the bait. "She'll run double and mebby a trifle more."

Nor did Allison even smile now.

"What makes you think so?" he asked.

Again there came the boy's pat answer.

"I ain't thinkin'," he said. "It's jest there. They're close set, them trees, and they're clear, clean to the tops. There ain't a stump there that won't run near ten standard."

Allison squinted and finally nodded his head.

"Maybe," he agreed; "maybe."

But later Caleb saw him enter some figures in his small, black bound notebook.

That night the episode was repeated with a bit of variation. They had set up their tent and made camp a little before nightfall. Far below them, hidden by the trees, the east branch cut a threadlike gash through the center of a valley broad enough and round enough to have been a veritable amphitheater of the gods. The whole great hollow was clothed with evergreen, a sea of dripping tops in the semigloom, and Allison, when he had set aside his plate and lighted his pipe, lifted a hand in a gesture which embraced it all.

"If you weren't so lazy brained, Cal," he said, "that sight would stir in you something more than a mere appreciation of what you call the 'sublimity of sheer immensity.' For the man who can look ahead ten or a dozen years there is an undreamed of fortune right here in this valley."

Caleb yawned.

"No doubt," he agreed. "But I didn't coin that phrase for immense fortunes. I guess I'm old fashioned enough to like it a whole lot better just as it is."

Then he became suddenly aware of the tense earnestness with which Stephen O'Mara was listening. And when Allison, thinking aloud, mused that the cost of driving the timber down the shallow stream to the faroff mills would be perhaps prohibitive words fairly leaped to the boy's lips.

"But they—they won't be drivin' that timber by floods when they git to tacklin' these here valleys!" he exclaimed. "Old Tom ses when they really git to lumberin' these mountains they'll skid it daown to the railroad tracks and yank it out by steam!"

That sober statement in the piping voice had a strange effect upon Allison. He leaned forward, a sort of guarded astonishment in his attitude, to peer at the childish face in the fire glow. Then he seemed to remember that it was just a bit of a woods waif who had spoken. But Caleb, who was lazy brained in some matters, sensed that Steve had put into words Allison's own unspoken thought, just as Allison at that moment voiced the question which he was about to utter himself.

"I suppose it was this—this Old Tom who taught you all these things you know about timber?" he said, curious.

Steve pondered the question.

"Wal-l-l, yes," he answered at last. "Old Tom learned me some, but—but most of it I kind of feel as if I always knowed."

The boy was fast asleep, curled up beneath the blankets, when Caleb finally broached that night the matter which had kept him awake the entire night before. And when he had finished Allison sat quiet for a long time before he offered any reply.

"You mean"— he began at length.

"I just mean that I'm going to give him his chance," Caleb cut in. His voice was hushed, but vehement. "Why, man, think what he has this minute to start with—a brain as clear as a diamond, absolutely fresh, absolutely unspoiled or fagged with the nonsensical folderol which makes up the bulk of the usual boy's education of his age, and a working knowledge, for instance, of this north country which most men envy! Why, the possibilities are limitless!"

Allison puffed his pipe in silence.

"No doubt you're right," he admitted. "In ten years, with a technical education to back up his practical knowledge, he might prove priceless to some one who had need of such a specialist, always assuming, of course, that he developed according to promise. But the possibilities are limitless, too, in the other directions, aren't they?"

"Meaning?" invited Caleb.

"Well, you don't know any too much concerning his antecedents, do you?" Allison suggested. "And still"—

"I don't have to," Caleb interrupted, "not after one look at him."

—"and still if you catch a boy young enough," Allison finished serenely, "you can make a fairly presentable gentleman out of almost any material, with time enough and money enough to teach him what to do."

"You can," Caleb came back, "but, no matter how much money you spend, you can't make the sort of a gentleman out of him that knows without being taught what not to do! They—they have to be born to that, Dexter."

And there they let it drop. But the next morning when they were alone upon the brook Caleb, after several false starts, managed to reopen the subject with the boy himself.

"Has it ever occurred to you, Steve," he asked, "that all these things you know about the woods might be valuable some day to—to men who pay well for such knowledge?"

Steve paid no apparent heed to the question until he had landed a trout which he had hooked a moment before. It was a heavy fish, and Caleb had promised to teach him how to handle that fly rod. Then he looked up.

"Once Old Tom sed they'd be paytn' me more'n he ever earned in his lifetime jest to go araound and tell em how much good lumber they was in standin' trees. Is that—is that what you mean?"

"Partly—partly, but not entirely either," Caleb went on. "You said last night that when they got to lumbering these mountains they'd be taking it out by steam. When they do they'll want men who know the woods, but they'll have to know how to bridge rivers and cross swamps too, won't they?"

The boy promptly forgot his fishing. Knee deep in the stream, he faced squarely around toward Caleb, and from that glowing countenance the man knew that he had only repeated something which long before had already fired the boy's imagination.

"They's places where I kin git em to learn me them things, ain't they?" he demanded.

"Yes," said Caleb, "there are places. And you—you were thinking of going to school?"

"Thinkin' of it?" echoed Steve. "I always been thinkin' of it. Why, thet's all I come outen the timber fer!"

"But you said you meant to locate something to do," the man argued, nonplused, "after you had looked around a trifle."

Steve's eyes dropped toward the white drill trousers and big boots, the latter half hidden from sight by the swirling water.

"I got to earn money first," he explained patiently. "I—I jest couldn't git to go to school—in these here clothes."

"Oh!" murmured Caleb. "Oh!" And then, recovering himself, "That'll take a long time," he ventured.

The boy smiled strangely—the first smile of man's sophistication which Caleb had seen upon his face.

"I've always hed to wait a long time fer everything I've wanted," he answered, "but I always git it, just the same, if I only want it hard enough."

Caleb cleared his throat self consciously.

"Still," he argued again, "it would waste some very valuable years. Now—now, what do you think of staying with me, and—and starting in this fall?"

The boy's lips fell apart while he stood and gaped up into Caleb's slightly red face.

"You mean," he breathed; "you mean—jest live—with you?"

"That was my idea," said Caleb.

And then slowly the boy's head dropped again, as it had when he bowed to gaze at his uncouth, begrimed clothes. The man thought that he caught the inference of that moment of silence.

"We can fix up the matter of clothes later," he made haste to forestall any objection in that direction. "That doesn't amount to anything, anyway."

The clear eyes lifted again, steady and wide and very, very grave.

"I always knowed it was comin'," said Stephen O'Mara. "I always knowed it was a-comin'—this chance—even when I didn't know haow it would come. Ner I wa'n't thinkin about my clothes. I reckon I kin learn jest as fast in these as in any. I was jest thinkin' about Miss Sarah. She—she might not like it, hevin' two men folks a-raound the house under foot."

It was Caleb's turn to stand agape.

"Miss Sarah!" he faltered, astonished, and then he remembered. He laughed unsteadily with relief. For an instant he had been inexplicably afraid that the boy was going to refuse his offer.

"Why, you mustn't mind what Sarah said yesterday," he rushed on. "She—she—well, she's a Baptist, Steve, and you know what that means."

He leaned forward a little, his voice quite stealthily confidential.

"But I can fix that all right," he promised. "I can surely fix that. For I'll tell her—I'll tell her you're a Baptist too. Will you—will you stay?"

And after a time solemnly Steve nodded. Later, when alone, Caleb chuckled mountainously over his reply.

"Thet's—thet's what I cal'late I be," he said.

(To Be Continued.)

"MEBBY SHE—MEBBY SHE'D LIKE TO GO TOO."

CONTINUED NEXT THURSDAY

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — MISTER SCOOP—MEET MRS. SCOOP — BY "HOP"

Mono Storage

Warehouse
North Avenue
Opp. Freight House
125 East Front Street

WHEN ITS YOUR MOVE

When you're going to MOVE don't forget that this concern has the equipment and trained men that reduces to the absolute minimum the danger of damage and breakage and the worries and exasperations of this trying time.

OUR SPLENDID EQUIPMENT insures promptness and no delays—our character help and exacting supervision the elimination of roughness and carelessness.

Call 541 and try us.

SEE US — HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS.. MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to
Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS
W. A. SCHORB & CO.
Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold.
120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2296.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms
326 to 330 West Front Street, Corner Grove
Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.
Phone 666.

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS
Floral Design Work a Specialty.
Chas. L. Stanley
Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1126 South Ave. Tel. 331.

Carnations a Specialty
FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE
Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.
We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.
207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 338-J

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2854
J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 5341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 315.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2551 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N. Y. Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising that one?

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

200,000 GARDEN PLANTS

Can You Use Any of the Following?

Roses in Pots—50 Varieties.
Geraniums.
Heliotrope.
Lemon Verbena.
Cannas Salvias.
Sweet Alysium.
Colens, Stocks.
Verbenas, Cosmos.
Petunias Marguerites.
Salpflossis Snaptorafon.
Lobelia Scabiosa.
German Ivy.
Vinckas, Calendulas.
Forget-Me-Not.
English Daisies.
Begonias, Tubroses, Begonias.
Calladimu, Pansies.

Asters in all colors.
Butter, Gladiolas, Cannas, Tuberoses, Calladiums.

Hardy Plants.
Chrysanthemums—250 varieties.
Gaillardias, Phlox.
Fox Glove, Holyhocks.
Larkspur.
Dephiniums.
Grape Vines.

Vegetable Plants.
Cabbage.
Tomato Plants.
Parsley.
Egg Plants.
Peppers.

CHAS. L. STANLEY
159 East Front Street, Tel. 928.
Greenhouses Trolley Terminus, Netherwood.
Open From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

COMING EVENTS.

TODAY.
Meeting Recreation Committee.
Musicale—Hartridge School.

TOMORROW.
Princeton Club dinner — Country Club.
"Jersey Day" exercises—West End Community Center — Washington School.

MONDAY.
Trustee meeting — Netherwood Residents' Association.
Whatsoever Circle, Kings' Daughters, meeting.

WEDNESDAY.
Jr. O. U. A. M. euchre.

REPORT OF THE

Plainfield Savings Bank,

As made to the Commissioner of Banking at the close of business, May 1, 1916.

Resources.

Bonds and mortgages	$ 768,408.43
Other bonds, including premiums on same	596,754.00
Loans on Collateral	1,000.00
Banking House and fixtures	29,500.00
Cash in bank	71,093.35
Cash on nand	2,354.40
Tax advanced	59.01
Interest accrued on bonds	5,680.64
mortgages	17,952.60
Interest acrued on bonds	5,680.64
	$1,492,802.43

Liabilities.

Amount due depositors	$1,375,859.91
Average interest due depositors	16,600.00
Surplus	100,342.49
	$1,492,802.43

State of New Jersey,
County of Union.) ss.

W. F. Arnold, President, and H. A. Pope, Treasurer, of the Plainfield Savings Bank, being duly sworn, depose and say, and each for himself saith, that the above statement is correct and true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me at Plainfield, New Jersey, this ninth day of May, 1916.

A. E. CRONE, Notary Public.
W. F. ARNOLD, President.
H. A. POPE, Treasurer.
5 10 2

CHANCE FOR PRESS ADVERTISERS TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF THE ENTIRE COUNTY.

As the result of an agreement between the Plainfield Daily Press and the Elizabeth Evening Times any advertiser placing a classified ad in the Press may have that same ad inserted in the Elizabeth Evening Times upon the payment of one-half more than is charged for the Daily Press insertion alone. Thus, if an advertisement in the Daily Press costs forty cents, the same advertisement may be placed in the Elizabeth paper for an additional twenty cents.

The Elizabeth Evening Times has a circulation of 9,000 and is widely distributed throughout Union County. Thus if an advertiser places his advertisement in the Plainfield Daily Press and Elizabeth Evening Times he places it before the eyes of thousands of readers at a very small cost.

Most advertisers welcome the opportunity to attract the attention of the whole county to their offerings and with the co-operation of the Elizabeth Evening Times the Plainfield Daily Press is now able to make this possible. The Elizabeth Evening Times has earned a reputation for itself as an advertising medium, especially along the classified line, and it is a well known fact that its influence extends into other counties besides Union.

WAREHOUSEMEN SALE.

Notice is hereby given that household goods stored on account of H. C. Beidelman, A. C. Carpenter, Walter Eldrige, John McGarrigle, A. C. Stutts, Emil Miller, William Gray and K. R. Melton, and freight goods stored on account of J. G. Mellon, H. Kolen, J. Gardner, Century Rubber Co., T. B. Kaufman, Bonne & Down, Walter Ford, L. Williams, Service Auto Co., American Rest. Co., F. H. Cramer, C. Parante, Florence Redd, C. L. Applegate, G. S. Hope, Jula Quinn, A. V. Faber Co., Plainfield Auto Co., J. S. Floto, S. Goldstein, S. F. Opdyke, C. Krausse will be sold at public auction at the Mono Storage Warehouse, North avenue, Plainfield, N. J., on Friday, May 26, 1916, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon to satisfy charges for storage of said goods.

MONO-FIREPROOF STORAGE WAREHOUSE CO.
Dated, May 10, 1916.
5 11-18

DIED.

FORCE—On Tuesday, May 9, 1916, Dorothy A., daughter of Frank D. and Henrietta B. Force, in her 6th year.

Services at the parents' residence, 647 East Seventh street, on Friday, May 12, at 2 p. m. Interment in Hillside cemetery. 5 10 2

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue, Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

FOR SALE—Road or farm horse, cheap. Charles Michaels, Scotch Plains. 3 30 tf tu-th

MERKEL 6 H. P. twin; $50. 555 East Second street; 'Phone 650-M. 5 10 4

FOR SALE—Gentleman's and boys' bicycle, cheap. Call evenings, 217 Watchung avenue, North Plainfield. 5 10 2

SITUATION WANTED—FEMALE.

YOUNG Danish girl wants position as chambermaid and waitress. Call 831 Madison avenue; 'Phone 606. 5 10 3

WHITE woman wishes position as general housekeeper. 682 West Front street. 5 10 3

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

TEN painters wanted. Apply 145 Manning avenue, North Plainfield. 5 10 3

WANTED—A reliable man, married; steady work. People's Ice Co., Scotch Plains, N. J. 5 8 tf

WANTED—One good mechanic and one good laborer. Industrial Service Company, Lincoln, N. J. 5 11 3

DRUG STORE—Good steady position for young man; state age. Address Drugs, Daily Press. 5 11 3

BUTCHER wanted; experienced man to help out Friday and Saturday. 94 Somerset street. 5 11 2

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

230 EAST SEVENTH STREET—Handsomely furnished rooms, with first class board; accommodations for table guests. Mrs. Taggart, late of 104 East Ninth street. 5 10 2

There's a Place on a Pay-Roll For Your Name!

For the man or woman who can do some useful work Well is always needed in this City of Work!

The right place for you may be found—perhaps with little delay—by a campiagn of classified advertising in the Plainfield Daily Press.

So let classified advertising place your name, once more on a pay-roll!

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

IDEAL COUNTRY PLACE
For Sale.

House has 14 large rooms, hardwood floors, gas, water system, bath, etc. Good barn and 5 acres of land. The place is directly on the Rahway River, and has a commanding view of river and beautiful farming country. It can be purchased for less than cost of the house.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
Real Estate Department
5 6 3 eod

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

I WILL sacrifice my house, seven rooms and bath, all improvements; large lot, near trolley and school. Address M. E. S., care Press. th-f-s 4 20 tf

FOR SALE—Lot 40x150, Arlington avenue, near school. J. T. Vail, 177 North avenue. 4 6 tf

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press. 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulvanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. L. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

SITUATION WANTED—MALE.

MAN wishes position as gardener and all around work. Frank Torpeznski, 964 West Third street. 5 10 3

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 26 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

FURNISHED room to let, with all conveniences. Apply 115 West Fourth street. 5 5 6

TO LET—Upper five-room flat, with all improvements. Apply J. Pashin, 647 West Third street, or 'Phone 1580-W. 5 10 4

SIX-ROOM apartment, all improvements. Inquire T. Canter, 204 West Fourth street. 5 11 3

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $25. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—May 1, house 192 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

WANTED—A girl for general housework (white); also a nurse to care for one child. Apply with references to Mrs. Wighton, 721 Watchung avenue. 5 9 3

GIRL for general housework, white; no laundry. Apply 437 West Seventh street. 5 11 tf

WANTED—Experienced girl as waitress. Apply 1106 Park avenue.

WANTED—Colored girl for general housework. Apply 939 Park avenue. 5 11 2

WANTED—Girl for general housework; good wages. 825 Park avenue. 5 11 tf

EXPERIENCED girl wanted for general housework; no laundry; white preferred; wages $30. Call 1004 East Seventh street. 5 10 tf

WANTED — Nurse-waitress; references required. Telephone 2468-W, or apply 945 Cedarbrook road. 5 9 tf

WANTED — General houseworker. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

WANTED—White girl for general housework. Call tonight, 25 Washington avenue. 5 3 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities. 'Phone 1724. tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings; located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T. Vail, Plainfield. 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Onyx pin, diamond shape, with pearl in centre. Reward if left at this office.

Executor, Administrator

Guardian, Trustee

VOLUNTARY TRUSTS

These trusts are operative during life and not after death. Their purpose is to establish an income producing fund for dependent friends or relatives, or for charitable endowment, and are particularly designed to relieve the overburdened business man of the care of his accumulated capital.

Voluntary Trusts are created by mutual agreement, the terms of which may provide for the disposition of the fund at death. This Company is prepared to handle such trusts and our Officers will be glad to answer questions on the subject.

The Plainfield Trust Company

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE.
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL

Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.

KEEP 'EM SHORT.

"THE VAN ARSDALE SHOES"
FOR MEN

Are cutting a wide swath this Spring, bowling over the dressy fellows who seek unusual styles, and more important—there are no better shoes at their price; that's the way we feel about it, and that's what hundreds of our customers tell us.

$3.50 TO $7.00.

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF COMMUTERS

SERVICE

this bank opens its doors for business every business morning at 8:15. Checks may be cashed, deposits made and access to safe deposit box obtained.

The nearness of this bank to the statiton makes it possible for customers to transact business and take the 8:30 train for the City without undue haste.

The New York business man is invited to do business with this company, and may feel certain that nothing will be left undone that will make the relation satisfactory.

3% interest is paid on accounts of $500 or more.
Checks on this company are payable at par.
Checks on points throughout the United States collected at par.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

A NETTLETON
Master Street Boot

$7 and worth it

"THE ARDSLEY"

Bal.—in Black and Tan Calfskin

The smartly refined lines of this model, its thorough finish, its quality-look, all make a strong appeal to the man who seeks dress-value in shoes.

But more; in black calfskin, "The Ardsley" represents the absolute utmost in wear; in tan calfskin, it is almost as durable. Nettleton Shoes are a sound investment and a real economy.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 West Front Street.

Agent—for Nettleton Men's Shoes—the world's finest.

Queen Quality SHOES

Queen Quality Shoes are made right, fit like your gloves, and look good until worn out.

Number 10637, made of patent kid, turn sole; no seam in shoe, and fits to perfection.

Same thing in dull kid and bronze.

$4.50

Fitted Expertly Here.

A. K. WILLETT
107 Park Ave.

FREE DELIVERY

ROTH & CO.

Fresh Fish

Only One Day, extra supply of FANCY LOBSTERS, boiled and alive, lb	23c
FRESH HADDOCK, lb	8c
BOSTON MACKEREL, fancy, lb FRESH SEA BASS, lb WEAK FISH, lb FRESH BOSTON COD, to boil, lb	12½c
FRESH GREEN CHICKEN HALIBUT—
Boil, lb	18c
Steak, lb	22c
3 and 4-lb Bluefish
Fancy Cut Shad	65c-75c
Fresh Fish Cakes, 3 for	5c

Smoked and Salt Fish

Your Insurance Policy Against Moth Eaten Furs

Our experts have the whole summer before them to repair or remodel your furs. They now have the time to do the work right and our even temperature, moth-proof storage plant will take care of your valuable furs until you need them.

WE HANDLE THE BEST FURS IN PLAINFIELD BECAUSE WE DO OUR WORK RIGHT.

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 6.08, 5.40, (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.58, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), 8.52 except holidays), 6.27, 6.55, 7.22, days), 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.55, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29, 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.18, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.05 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (9.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 5.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—3.41, 8.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.20 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.29, 4.45, 4.56, 5.29, 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.45, 6.47 p. m. *Except Mauch Chunk. 5 3 '15

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:38 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 6:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3:50, 5:45 p. m

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:45 a m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, :00, 3:50 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m Close—9:00 a. m 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—2:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

PREPARE YOUR GARDENS AND LAWNS

With Fertilizers Scientifically Prepared.

Remember that Reliable Seeds are the only kind you desire.

Every Gardener should have a Good Spade, Hoe, Fork and Rake.

Preparedness is the keynote of the hour.

A Lawn Roller, Lawn Mower, Spray Pump or Water Can may have been overlooked.

Reliable Garden Hose, a Wheelbarrow or Planet Jr. Plow may be in urgent need.

Every need can be met, for we are prepared to serve you.

H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.

General Hardware and House Furnishings.

Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

TRY A PRESS WANT AD.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.

AT

Swain's
817 W. FRONT STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
810 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

—Until you have canvassed the readers of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS, VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting Station, Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, any Friday between 9 o'clock and noon.

All-year jobs at good pay.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale. Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

PANAMAS
FOR LADIES and GENTS

Are you thinking about having your Panama hat reblocked and cleaned? We will do it for you and add a new band and new leather, to look and wear like new.

No acid, sulphur, talc or numerous other preparations used.

Latest styles you will find here.

BERSEY HAT M'F'G and RENOVATING CO.
130 PARK AVE.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MERSTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2538-J.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY
Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's
Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

ORGANIZED 1875

Comforts and Blessings

Consider the many comforts and blessings your saved dollars will afford you and you will see the advantage of regular deposits.

Now is a good time to start an account with us.

4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts.

CITY NATIONAL BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

ROBERT H. BARNARD
Proprietor of the WOODHULL & MARTIN BAKERY, has placed a full line of his goods on sale in
David S. Campbell's Store
398 North Avenue 5 5 6 Dunellen

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARKHUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 858.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

It is proper that the housewife should know as much about the business of buying for the home as her husband knows about the business in which he earns his income.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Fair tonight; probably frost in northwest portion; Saturday fair; moderate northwest to north winds.
Highest yesterday, 78; lowest this morning, 54.

Established May 10, 1887. SIXTEEN PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1916. SIXTEEN PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

BANDITS AGAIN RAID U. S. SOIL

Three Separate Attacks Follow Quick Upon Conference Failure.

ONE AMERICAN KILLED

Others Captured and Carried Across Border—General Funston Calls for More Cavalry to Protect Lives and Property.

El Paso, May 12.—Three separate raids on American soil, in which at least one American was murdered and others were made prisoners, possibly to be killed later, followed immediately upon news of the breaking off of the conference between Minister of War Obregon and Generals Scott and Funston.

This conference came to a close last night with nothing done. Obregon still insists that the United States Government shall set a time limit for the removal of its troops from Mexican soil, and General Scott was emphatic in declaring that American soldiers entered Mexico on a mission and would not retire until this mission was fulfilled.

General Funston has asked that the Illinois State mounted militia be called out for border duty at once. Raids at Mercedes, Texas, where an American was killed; at Boquillas, where soldiers and civilians were attacked and some possibly killed, and at Deemer, Texas, where one ranch owner was captured and three more American citizens are reported as missing—all within the past twenty-four hours, have demonstrated conclusively that the force now at the disposal of General Funston is inadequate to protect the border. Carranza forces are giving no aid in this important work.

Bandits Attack U. S. Soldiers.

Marathon, Texas, May 12.—Military messengers arriving here from Boquillas, eighty-five miles south, on the Rio Grande, told today of another raid by Mexican bandits night before last, in which American civilians and soldiers were attacked.

The raid was made four miles north of Boquillas at an ore terminal station, behind Major George T. Langhorne's column, which, to that time, had not entered Mexico. After a sharp skirmish the bandits fled.

Later, four bandits fired on a military automobile carrying messages from Major Langhorne to Colonel Fred. N. Sibley at a point eighteen miles north of Boquillas. Five shots were fired at the driver, J. Howard, who escaped.

Kill Farmer on American Side.

Brownsville, Tex., May 12.—Curtis Bayles, an American farmer, was slain late last night near Mercedes, Texas, by a band of Mexican bandits who raided across the river. They escaped later to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

Capture a Ranch Owner.

El Paso, Texas, May 12.—Jesse Deemer, captured in the raid at Deemer, is held for ransom by the bandits it is reported.

William Harris and F. Balsworth, peddlers, and John Woodson, homesteader, all of Boquillas, have been missing since the raid, and are believed to be captives of the bandits.

Mexicans Stone Troopers.

El Paso, Texas, May 12.—A squad of American soldiers on provost guard in "Little Chihuahua," the Mexican section of the city, fired a volley early today over the heads of thirty Mexicans, who jeered and stoned them. The order to fire was given by an officer after his order to the crowd to disperse was not obeyed. None was injured and the Mexicans fled. Further outbreaks are feared.

164th Artillery to Border.

New Orleans, May 12.—The 164th Artillery entrained today for San Antonio, to go on border duty.

No Change Toward Mexico.

Washington, May 12.—There will be no change in the Mexican policy of the Administration for the present at least, it was stated after the Cabinet meeting today. Reports of the imminence of intervention were vigorously denied in official circles. The Cabinet canvassed the entire situation today and determined to allow negotiations between Carranza and the State Department to continue.

MARINE STRIKE IS ENDED.

New York, May 12.—The demands of the marine engineers have been met by F. B. Dalzell, E. E. Barrett and the mutual companies of the Towboat Association and the men returned to work this morning. There are still about 125 men out, according to the statement made by Thofas F. Delehanty, business manager of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association.

Edmund Rushmore and daughter, of Rockview avenue, the borough, leave tomorrow for Porto Rico, where they will spend some time.

Do You Want
to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv.
4 24 tf ***

FRENCH HOLDING DEAD MAN HILL

Violent Assaults Fail to Drive Defenders From Their Positions.

ARTILLERY IS ACTIVE

Gen. Joffre Issues Orders to Hold Verdun or Die—No Retreating at Any Position—Attack on Riga is Being Prepared.

Paris, May 12.—German troops last night renewed their attacks west of the Meuse River in efforts to recapture positions taken by the French at Dead Man's Hill on May 10, but the assaults failed, the War Office announced this afternoon. The Teutons were unable to dislodge the French. The communique also stated that the French positions at Avocourt Wood had been bombarded violently by the German artillery and that there had been great artillery activity in the Woevre region.

Hold Verdun to Death.

Replying to reports that a General of the French Staff at a certain stage of the battle of Verdon contemplated the retreat of the forces from the right bank of the Meuse, an official statement given out last night said:

"At no moment during the battle of Verdun has the chief command given orders for a retreat of the French troops on the right bank of the Meuse. Quite to the contrary, on the morning of February 23 Gen. Langle de Cary ordered the troops on the right bank that every point, even if overwhelmed, that every small position, even if completely surrounded, should be held at all costs, and that the only word would be 'hold on.'"

"On the evening of the 24th the Commander-in-Chief issued instructions 'to hold the front between the Meuse and the Woevre with every means at your command.'

"At the same time he directed Gen. Castelnau to go to Verdun, and the next day Gen. Castelnau telephoned Gen. Herr that the positions on the right bank must be held at all costs. Lastly, on the evening of the 25th, the Commander-in-Chief in sending Gen. Petain to take command, issued the following order:

"'I gave orders yesterday that the right bank of the river to Verdun must be held. Every commander who issues an order to retreat will be court martialed.'"

Paris Says Man Who Sank Sussex Was Rewarded.

Ober Lieutenant Otto Steinbrock, commander of the German submarine U-8, which torpedoed the channel steamer Sussex, has been promoted, says the Echo de Paris. The promotion has been approved by Admiral Von Capelle, of the German Admiralty, despite the fact that Germany had announced in its note to the United States that the commander would be punished.

Prepare to Attack Riga.

Copenhagen, May 12.—The German naval and military forces are preparing for a combined land and sea attack against the Russian fort of Riga, according to reports curreat here today.

Germany Will Not Reply.

Germany will not reply to the latest American note on the submarine controversy, says the Tageblatt. Instead Foreign Minister Von Jagow will confer with Ambassador Gerard.

Turks Get Reinforcements.

Petrograd, May 12.—Turkish troops defending Erzingan have been heavily reinforced, according to despatches from Tiflis, and are offering resistance to the army of Grand Duke Nicholas. The reinforcements are believed to be a portion of the Ottoman army relieved for field service by the surrender of the British army at Kut El Amara. Turkish prisoners have informed Russian officers that Field Marshal Von Mackensen is understood to have command of the Turko-German armies in Asia Minor.

Asquith Goes to Ireland.

Dublin, May 12.—Premier Asquith arrived here this morning to investigate for himself conditions in Ireland following the recent revolt. As a result of his visit it is expected that martial law will soon be ended and civil administration restored.

Try English Officers for Murder.

At a long conference with General Maxwell, commander of the military forces in Ireland, Premier Asquith received complete official reports on the course that the Irish Rebellion had taken and the present situation. It was announced shortly after the Premier arrived that a court-martial had been ordered to try the officer responsible for the execution of F. Sheehy Skeffington, the Irish editor.

Reject Tobacco Tax.

Amsterdam, May 12.—A dispatch from Berlin received here says that a committee of the Reichstag today rejected the proposed tax on cigars and tobacco.

Meat Tickets in Berlin.

Amsterdam, May 12.—Meat tickets will be issued soon in Berlin, according to advices from German sources.

Allies Torpedo Unarmed Ship.

Berlin, May 12 (Wireless).—The Austro-Hungarian passenger steam-

(Continued on page 11.)

MRS. BRAKE AND EXTRACTS FROM HER SERMON

TIMOTHY HARRINGTON BENEFICIARY OF WILL

James Scanlan, An Uncle, Leaves Estate Which is Valued at $32,000.

New York, May 12.—Letters of administration upon the estate of James Scanlan, uncle of Timothy Harrington, of North Plainfield, issued to Michael Scanlan, his brother, of Cedarhurst, L. I., by Surrogate Robert L. Fowler, a copy of which was filed today ,shows that when the deceased died in New York on April 11 last, he left an estate of about $25,000 in personal and about $7,000 in real property.

Mr. Scanlan is survived by the administrator; Anna L. Campbell, a sister, of Far Rockaway; five children of a deceased brother; four children of a deceased sister and eight children of another deceased sister. As no will was left, the estate will be divided into six equal shares, the brother and sister each getting a share, while the issue of the deceased brothers and sisters will take equally the share due their deceased parent.

SANITARY CODE AS TO CARE OF ANIMALS AND FOWLS

The sanitary code governing the care of rabbits, guinea pigs, goats, pigeons, ducks, geese and other fowl provides that they shall not be kept in the city without a permit. The permit dates from March 1 and must be renewed annually, but may be revoked at any time by the Board of Health. Under a recent resolution of the Board the permit fee is no longer required.

The code requirements are that the above-mentioned animals and fowls must be kept confined at all time in a suitable house or runway, any part of which must not be less than 25 feet from the doors and windows of any building occupied by human beings. The house or coop must be kept clean. Offenders against the provisions of the ordinance are liable to a fine of from $5 to $10.

ROBERT N. CRANE IMPROVED.

The condition of Robert Newton Crane, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia for the past week, was reported this afternoon as being slightly improved. The crisis of the disease was passed yesterday and it is now believed his recovery is much more assured.

Belgian Relief Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Belgian Relief Society at 996 Hillside avenue, on Monday, May 15, at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Charles F. Judson, of Philadelphia, will speak of her relief work for the refugees of Belgium.

5 12 2

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

OPERATIC ARTISTS ARE GUESTS OF ELKS

"Mystic Rose" Principals and Chorus Given Reception and Dance.

The principals and chorus members appearing in the Elks' production of "The Mystic Rose" were given a reception by the entertainment committee having the affair in charge at the Elks' clubhouse last night. The attendance numbered about 200 in all. George Warren Scott's orchestra provided the music for dancing and in addition to this diversion, practically all of the numbers in the light opera were repeated during the evening. Mrs. Robert P. Skillings, wife of the composer, acted as accompanist for the different singers. Supper was served by the club's caterer in the grill room at midnight.

The committee which had charge of the performances of "The Mystic Rose" and which arranged the reception last night in return for the gratuitous services of the various participants was composed of William C. Mulvey, Chauncey F. Stout, Joseph C. Martin, Edward J. Harding, Jr., and John H. Cose. Mr. Skilling was also present last night and took an active part in the festivities.

The doings of "The Mystic Rose" will be brought to a conclusion tomorrow afternoon when the three hundred little girls who took part in the ballet of the flowers and butterflies will be the guests of the committee at a special performance in the Plainfield Theatre beginning at 2 o'clock. All children who have not yet received tickets of admission for this occasion may secure them at the theatre tomorrow by making themselves known to members of the committee who will be present.

U. S. WILL BE BANKRUPT BEFORE IT IS READY FOR WAR

Washington, May 12.—"By the time the United States is ready to go to war it will be bankrupt," said Senator Sherman, of Illinoils, who relieved Senator Kenyon in his filibuster against the $43,000,000 river and harbor bill in denouncing preparedness in the shape of pork barrel measures.

ANNUAL MAY WALK.

Among the business transacted at the monthly meeting of the Gesang Turn Verein held last evening was the decision to hold the annual May walk a week from Monday. The committee in charge of the concert to be given on May 30 for the benefit of the war sufferers reported progress. Thirteen members were received into the socity, and four applications wre also received. Other business was routine. A good-sized attendance was present at the meeting.

Our Automobile Repairs give satisfaction because of our equipment of men and machinery.—Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. ***

KNIGHTS PREPARING FOR DEMONSTRATION

Special Train Will Convey Them to Newark for Convention Parade Monday.

A special train leaving Somerville at 6:40 next Monday night will convey Knights of Columbus and their friends to the parade which will be held in Newark that night in connection with the opening of the State Convention of Knights of Columbus. The train schedule will be as follows: Somerville, 6:40; Bound Brook, 6:53; Dunellen, 6:58; Grant Avenue, 7:02; Plainfield, 7:05; Westfield, 7:10; Cranford, 7:15; Roselle, 7:20, and arrives at Newark, 7:48. The same train will leave Newark at 1 o'clock, Tuesday morning, stopping at all the stations mentioned.

The members of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a special meeting Sunday afternoon in their clubhouse on West Front street to which every member intending to go to Newark is requested to be present. Tickets for the trip may be purchased at the North Avenue station.

The Plainfielders will march twelve abreast, their ranks being bordered with young men attired in white flannels while the center marchers will wear civilian dark clothing. All will wear straw hats.

DOG ACTS STRANGELY AND POLICEMAN SHOOTS HIM

Because her dog was acting strangely, Mrs. J. W. Drayton, of 821 Second place, this morning telephoned to the police station and asked that he be killed. Patrolman Martin Welsh went to the Drayton home and shot the dog. There was no indication that it was "mad."

FUNERAL OF ANDREW J. NOLAN.

Following a service held in St. Columbus' church, Newark, this morning, the body of Andrew J. Nolan, the former well known Plainfield resident, who died at his home in Newark, Tuesday, was brought to this city today for interment in St. Mary's cemetery. There were numerous flowers, a number of them coming from Plainfielders. A delegation of local friends who had been associated with Mr. Nolan in political circles for many years was among those witnessing the commitment service at the grace. Six friends from Newark acted as pallbearers.

FIRE AT SANDUSKY.

Sandusky, Ohio, May 12.—Fire is sweeping through the business distrist of this city and is already beyond the control of the fire department. Toledo has been appealed to for men and equipment. The flames started in a four-story building at Wayne and Market streets.

—Try Press want ads.—They pay

MRS. BRAKE TALKS ELOQUENTLY TO CONGREGATION OF 4,500 AND MOVES MANY HEARERS TO TEARS

TELLS THEM SIN IS A GOOD BARGAINER, BUT THAT ITS PRICE IS ALWAYS DEATH—MANY MOVED TO WALK SAWDUST AISLE.

GOD IS GREAT SURGEON OF THE SOUL, SHE SAYS

Sometimes Necessary for Him to Cut Deep to Save Immortal Lives—Careless, Idle Christians Are Sinners as Much as Those Whose Hearts Are Black—She Will Have Charge of Service Again Tonight.

Sin bargains well, and in the shops of the devil everything may be had, said Mrs. Marie F. Brake in her sermon at the Tabernacle last night; but the sinful pleasures of which men and women partake cost much. They cost, she told her audience, disease and remorse and fear and worry and death—and then they cost the crown of stars and a home in Heaven.

Mrs. Brake was in charge of the service instead of Dr. Biederwolf, who has gone to attend his father's funeral in Monticello, Indiana, and she delivered an eloquent and convincing sermon which brought her audience of 4,500 people to realization of the manner in which they were living and of the opportunities in their lives for improvement through the atoning grace of God. At the close of her sermon—for sermon it was—many women and even men in the big pine Tabernacle were in tears and a goodly number walked down the sawdust aisle in response to her plea for a pledge of Christian living and reconsecration to Christ.

To those whose hearts were torn by affliction, and whose faith was turned to doubt through the weight of sorrow and misunderstanding, Mrs. Brake told the story of an operation that she witnessed upon the infant boy of a friend. During the operation, she said, the famous surgeon was grim-faced, stern and apparently cruelly unalive to the sufferings of the child, and for this she despised him. Next morning, after the operation had been successfully performed, she saw him come into the room of the little patient, his face wreathed in kindly smiles, and he played with the boy as a loving father would have done. It is so with God, she said. He was a great surgeon of the soul, and sometimes it is necessary for him to cut, and cut deeply, that we may have life—eternal life.

"If you knew with what trepidation I stand before you tonight," said Mrs. Brake in the beginning, "you would all pray for me and for this meeting. You would pray as you have never prayed before, and were it not for the realization that Christ works mightily through his weakest servants, I would not speak to you at all."

No one is happy who lives in sin, she said, for no matter what the pleasures of the moment, they will find one day that their sin has forged bands of steel that will crush them and from which there is no escaping. She quoted various definitions of sin, but declared that it was a matter of individual conscience, and that sin to the good man or good woman was like a festering sore on a healthy body—it gives them pain and suffering; and this is true, no matter whether the sin is their own or that of a brother or sister. Sin is a serpent that will sting unto death, she said, and is found everywhere—all men and all women are guilty.

Mrs. Brake dramatically related the story of Macbeth and a quotation from "The Vision of Sir Launfaul" as proof from Shakespeare and Tennyson, students of human nature, that sin is foolish and deadly, even in this world.

To those who were not doing their proper work in making the Tabernacle meetings a success she directed a warning. They are sinners, too, she said. Not as much, perhaps, as a drunkard, a card-player, a gambler or others whose hearts are black; but she told them that they would pay for it even though it was the greatest sin. The careless, idle Christian, who sits with folded hands while others all around him are making a desperate fight to save their own souls and might be influenced by a kindly word or a hand of help, is common in Plainfield today, Mrs. Brake said, and for his or her idleness there is awaiting eternal punishment.

Mrs. Brake closed with an impassioned plea for all to come and confess at the foot of the pine pulpit, promising that whatever their individual sins, they would find forgiveness there and strength to fight against it as they journeyed on through life.

Last night was "Young People's night" at the Tabernacle and there were hundreds of members of Christian Endeavor societies and Epworth Leagues present from all local churches. They formed down town and marched to the Tabernacle behind the Dutch Arms band, where they were given a rousing reception. Banners that were conspicuous in the parade were "Wilson Union," "Hope Chapel," "Epworth League, Chapter 10,329," "Trinity," "Temple Baptist" and "Warren Chapel."

The Quartet sang "Riches of Love" and Mr. McEwan sang, by request, "He Died of a Broken Heart." A feature of the service was the singing of "Master, the Tempest is Raging," by the chorus choir.

The Rev. Dr. Randolph offered the opening prayer and the Rev. Dr. Broek read the scripture lesson.

It was announced that Friday night would be "High School Night" in the Tabernacle. A delegation of Boy Scouts will also be present and a collection will be taken for the Plainfield Boy Scout movement.

HERZOG CASE IS STILL A MYSTERY

No further information has been obtained concerning the case of Albert Herzog, of 226 West Second street, who was reported to have been arrested in St. Louis last week on suspicion of being a German spy, and trying to induce two men to come East with him and engage in the manufacture of aerial bombs. Whether he has secured his release is not known here.

Inquiry at his home on West Second street brought the information that Mrs. Herzog left there several days ago, but no information as to her whereabouts was obtainable. A woman in charge of the house declined to talk either about Mrs. Herzog or her husband, and in response to all questions, the woman said, "I do not know."

Whether Mrs. Herzog has gone West to join her husband cannot be ascertained, but it is the belief of some that she has. Mr. Herzog went to St. Louis ostensibly to visit his father, Peter Herzog. He had been absence a few days when news dispatches stated that he had been arrested on suspicion of being a German spy, and was held for Federal action.

Mrs. Herzog, when she learned of her husband' arrest, declared that she believed him innocent of any wrongdoing and was sure that he could promptly obtain his release. Mr. Herzog at one time worked as a clerk for R. J. Shaw, the West Front street druggist, but when he was married to Mrs. David Van Buskirk, of West Second street, about three years ago, he engaged in the real estate and insurance business left by Mr. Van Buskirk upon his death.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

POLICE GET FORD AUTO FOR EMERGENCY CALLS

The new automobile emergency car of the Plainfield police department arrived last night and will be put into service at once. This machine is a five-passenger Ford. It was ordered some time ago, with a Ford patrol wagon. The patrol wagon must have a special body that has not yet been built, and will not be ready for service for some time. Police will use the emergency car in answering surgery calls, transferring prisoners and in many other ways.

STATISTICS.

Thursday.
Attendance	4,500
Decisions	16
Reconsecrations	32
	48
Totals to Date
Attendance	164,500
Decisions	1349
Reconsecrations	2225
Children	264
	3838

GRANTED DECREE NISI.

Chancellor Walker has granted a decree nisi in the application of Mrs. Elizabeth V. Lambert for a divorce from her husband, Isaac Lambert, on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Lambert is given the custody of her two children, Warren D. and Charles Lambert. DeMeza & Crane represented Mrs. Lambert in her action.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

A. E. FORCE & CO.

"THE WHITE STORE"

MAY in her radiant bright blossoms is a happy smiling month. Every day is pleasant and profitable, and the brilliant colors of the spring and summer merchandise bring the beauties of nature into our busy store.

Summer Styles Now Prevail

2.98

In $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00 Trimmed Hats for tomorrow only—

You will find brand new black and white, and navy blue and white, Leghorn Hats and many fabric hats and combinations of fabrics and straws. Notice the picturesque capelines, the use of lighter and more summery effects in ribbons and flowers. Plenty of large sailors, many with soft undulating brims. A little after Easter of some of our untrimmed hats, all good shapes and styles, great variety; excellent values.

Reduced from $1.98 and $1.49 to— 69c

Hats Trimmed Free of Charge.

SHIRTS

Negligee Shirts, in percale and madras, good lines of colors and stripes, 39c, or three for 1.00

LADIES' HOSIERY

Gorden's Silk Stockings, in all the newest spring effects and colors, 39c, 59c, 75c, $1.00 and 1.25

Fine black cotton lisle hose, all sizes, light garter top; 19c, or 3 pair for 50c

Ladies' Silk Lisle Vests

Hand crocheted yoke, and shoulder straps, sizes 36 and 38; regular 50c,3 for $1.00 or, each 39c

WIDE RIBBONS

500 pieces plain and fancy ribbons, all colors, 4 1-2 to 6 inches wide; taffetas and satins, in all the latest spring colorings. Regular 25c, 35c and 39c, Saturday only, a yard 20c

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

Full line of balbriggan and new Sea Island Underwear, garment 50c

MEN'S HOSIERY

Fine Fresh lisle hose, in all sizes, 19c, or three pairs 50c

SHOES

The Perfect Fitting Sorosis Shoes for Spring and Early Summer.

New Spring Colonial Pumps, in patent colt, mat kid and gunmetal calf, with leather Louis heels, $4.00 and 5.00

New Spring Oxford Ties, in gunmetal calf and vici kid, with medium and low heels ... 4.00

Forces Specials in the New Spring and Summer Pumps.

Patent kid, patent colt, mat kid, and gunmetal calf, colonial pumps, in leather Louis, Cuban and low heels, $3.00 to 5.00

White Canvas Laced Boot, with white ivory sole and white Louis heel 4.00

White calf laced boot, with white covered and leather Louis heel; a beautifully fitting spring favorite, $5.00 and 6.00

LADIES' NIGHT GOWNS

Five styles to choose from, lace and embroidery trimmed, fine quality nain sook and long-cloth 1.25

SALE OF 120 Women's & Misses' Spring Suits

CUT $10 PRICE

The most important value-giving event our Women's Suit Department has ever announced. When you call, as you will, and see these beautiful garments you will agree that beyond comparison they are the greatest values ever offered by us or by anyone else. And we have conducted some wonderful sales as you know.

EVERY SUIT PRESENTED IS AN ABSOLUTELY CORRECT SPRING MODEL, as you will recognize by the few which we have in this picture, and which we have selected from the lot. The colors are navy, Copenhagen, black, tan, and green, black and white checks.

Remember This Sale Begins Saturday

J. A. Fass
THE PARIS STORE

NEW FURNITURE

This is the period when of all times of the year your thoughts are turned toward something new for your home, something that will add attractiveness and lessen your labors during the hot summer months which are before us. We invite your inspection of the new patterns in

FURNITURE.		FLOOR COVERINGS.
Buffets	$15.00 to $30.00	Congoleum Rugs	$3.60 to $9.00
Tables	$7.98 to $35.00	Wool Rugs	$5.50 to $30.00
Dressers	$8.98 to $40.00	Fibre Rugs	$4.98 to $10.00
BEDS.		MATTRESSES.
Iron Beds	$2.98 to $18.00	Soft Top Mattresses	$1.98 to $4.00
Brass Beds	$10.00 to $30.00	Combination Mattresses—	$3.50 to $7.00
Iron Cribs	$5.98 to $10.00	Felt Mattresses	$7.98 to $15.00

WINDOW SHADES. Standard makes, all sizes and prices. Estimates given.

VACUUM CLEANERS The housekeeper's best friend— $3.98 to $7.00.

L. B. VAN CAMP
Front and Somerset St.

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting Station, Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, any Friday between 9 o'clock and noon.

All-year jobs at good pay.

It is proper that the housewife should know as much about the business of buying for the home as her husband knows about the business in which he earns his income.

Saturday Special White Corduroy Skirts, real $3 values, at $1.98

ROSENBAUM'S BAZAAR

Saturday Special. Men's 50c Balbriggan Underwear; special at 39c

We Offer These Remarkable Values for Saturday Shoppers

Every Item a Real Honest Bargain

Suit Reduction
FOR SATURDAY

at unusual clearance prices, to give us room for wash goods—

$10 $12.98 & $15

Handsomely tailored wool poplin suits, all silk lined, made up in the best most becoming styles of the season. Formerly were sold from $15 to $21.98; selection of the best colors and styles.

Waists Specials
FOR SATURDAY

Beautiful selection of the newest styles in ruffled effects; values to $3.98; special ... 2.98

STRIPED TUB, JAP SILK WAISTS.

Excellent assortment in fancy novelty styles; also crepe de chine; values to $3; special for Saturday 1.95

Newest novelty styles in voile, organdie and fancy striped waists; all sizes up to 50; best waist values in town, at 98c

Millinery Values
For Saturday Shoppers

At unusual low prices, untrimmed millinery, selection of the most stylish shapes in all colors, values to $2.00, special price 98c

Ready to Wear Panama Hats, in several smart styles, spec. 1.49

Charming styles in Fancy Trimmed Hats reduced to $1.98, $2.98 and 3.98

Formerly sold to 6.50.

House Dresses

Remarkable values offered for Saturday. Selection of the most becoming styles and fast colors, values to $1.50, spec. 98c

Street & Porch Dresses

Values to $2.49, very good styles, special 1.50

Novelty Sport Middies

Newest for sport wear, in rose or green, special at 1.98

Other good styles for sport wear, at 98c and 1.19

Fancy Silk Sweaters

For Ladies and misses, in fancy shades at $3.98 and 5.98

Values to $5 and $7.50.

BEAUTIFUL STYLES IN CHILDREN'S

White Dresses

From 6 to 16, newest and most becoming styles you'll find here at a positive saving. Priced lowest in town from $14.00 to 7.98

New Assortment of

Wash Skirts

White and Fancy striped, from 98c to 3.98

Boys Wash Suits

Remarkable values at 98c, $1.49 and 1.98

New styles that we have just received in pure white, blue, tan and gray, with fancy smocking.

White Goods
AT REDUCED PRICES

Gowns, Petticoats and Chemiee, special at 79c

Values to $1.25.

Factory Prices Drop

A Call To the Thrifty

It's the opportune time now to invest in clothing at the Factory because we've made a big cut in prices on our immense stock of Women's and Misses'

SUITS DRESSES COATS SKIRTS

JUST THINK—A FURTHER REDUCTION IN PRICES THAT ARE ORDINARILY LOWER THAN RETAIL STORES.

No matteer what your tastes may be, you'll find here, at the FACTORY, the largest variety of garments in every style imagineable, from which to make your selection One thing you'll find different here and that's the price—It will enable you to save

One-Third or More

Women's and Misses'

SUITS

Every popular style of the season; all finely tailored. Tailored and semi-tailored styles in poplins, serges, checks, plaids, mixtures, gabardines, etc.

$10

Women's and Misses'

COATS

In white chinchillas, plaids, mixtures, gabardines, striped chinchillas, serges, checks, etc.; all colors. Belted and wide flare models, newest style collars; trimmed with self and other materials. Sizes for all.

$4 and up

DRESSES

A large variety of beautiful dresses. Fascinating models in taffeta, charmeuse, taffeta and serge combinations, crepe de chine and poplin. Every one at a lower price than asked at retail stores.

SKIRTS

New flaring skirts in mixtures and stripes. Fancy checks, corduroy, new sport skirts, white serges, etc.; also a full line of linen wash skirts.

S. KRAUTHAMER

Maker of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Coats and Suits.

400-402 Watchung Ave., Upstairs, Corner 4th St. Trolley Station. Plainfield, N. J.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

TEPPER'S For Laces | TEPPER'S For Dress Goods | TEPPER'S For Silks | TEPPER'S For Wash Goods | TEPPER'S For Infants Wear | TEPPER'S For Dresses

A BIG SAVING WITH EVERY PURCHASE

In This MAY REDUCTION on all SPRING SUITS

Our Summer Wearables Are Coming In, and We Need Room For Them. Our Way of Doing This to Your Advantage Is To Radically Reduce Prices.

You probably admired the handsome garments we offered when we first displayed them. But then the prices perhaps were more than you wanted to pay. Now that they are so low, you can buy the ones you wanted for "best" wear at a cost that makes them economical even for everyday wear!

Come while selection is easiest—NOW!

Low Prices on Suits That Speak for Themselves

Superb garments, made of all the best fabrics in a splendid assortment of styles. Every Spring Suit in our entire stock is included in this sale, making choosing exceptionally easy.

Spring Suits Sold Regularly Up to $17.50 In the newest styles of the season, in colors and fabrics that are most popular. Reduced to— 12.25

Spring Suits Sold Regularly Up to $22.50 Snappy, up-to-date models, in a charming array of styles, materials and colorings. Reduced to— 16.75

Spring Suits Sold Regularly Up to $25.00 A splendid assortment of dressy and tailored models, in taffetas and plain fabrics. Reduced to— 19.50

Spring Suits Sold Regularly Up to $30.00 High grade suits that have won the favor of the best dressed women. Reduced to— 22.50

CONSULT THE SHOW WINDOWS

Low Prices On

Spring Hats

To Rejoice Over

Our Millinery Shop is radiant with hats and shapes of the newest order.

Sailors are very popular this Spring. We have them in a varied assortment—small, medium and large.

You will also find at Tepper's a nice line of Panama Hats. Several shapes of the newest efashion are included. Come in and see them; you will be surprised at the splendid values we offer.

Editorial

It is too late now to correct the little unintentional mistakes of yeserday, but it is never too late to avoid making them a second time. And wisdom whispers gently that we shall turn our errors into profits by making them stepping stones to a betterment of store service in the future.

Our plan is working itself out, slowly but surely. Its scope is broad. The goal is still far in the distance. But with eyes fixed steadfastly ahead, we shall not falter in the way. Tell us our faults as you see them, that we may avoid making mistakes a second time. "It is never too late to learn."

—The Aditor.

CHILDREN'S APPAREL

AT MAYTIME VALUE GIVING PRICES

It is our earnest desire to learn the real wants of the children of this town, and to buy our stocks accordingly. The young folks are beginning to see the value of a department of this kind, and are establishing a confidence in us. They come to the store alone, and delight in the handling of the dainty hats, the pretty dresses, the stylish suits, and they tell our clercks confidentially which they like best. They know full well that no other department is as interested in their wants as that of Tepper's. Come tomorrow, bring the youngsters with you The values are extraordinary.

BOYS' SUITS. In brown and blue mixtures. Two pairs of knickers, with each suit, special for Saturday, $8.50 and 4.50

KHAKI TROUSERS. For boys, in a full assortment of dark and light tan shades. also blue linen, tan linen and grey linen; sizes 6 to 18; prices 59c, 75c, 1.00

BOYS' SPORT BLOUSES. Sizes 6 to 16. A large variety of stripes, in various colors to choose from. Pongee and madras blouses. Prices— 29c 50c 75c 1.00

COATS. A combined lot of coats for boys and girls, sizes from 2 to 6, in black and white checks only; formerly $2.49, special for Saturday .. 1.98

GIRLS' COATS. Sizes 2 to 6 and 6 to 14. Serges and checks, in belted and full flare models. Some are trimmed with white pique collars. Regular $5.00, special for Saturday 3.50

CHILDREN'S DRESSES. White and colored dresses, in voiles, lawns, imported ginghams and stripes; sizes 6 to 14.... 98c to 4.49

WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S

Knit Underwear

Picked qualities of knit undergarments for women and children at splendid price savings. The quality and fit of these garments are well worthy of your notice.

BOYS' RIBBED UNION SUITS. In all sizes; lisle thread 50c

LADIES' UNION SUITS "Lotus Mills" make. Fine quality dainty undergarments, trimmed with lace, or tight knee; French top; lisle thread 75c

CHILDRENS' MERCERIZED VESTS. Light weight, sleeveless garments ... 15c

NAZARETH WAIST, UNION SUITS. For boys and girls. All sizes are included in the lot 59c

SATURDAY BULLETIN for Men

Who Care to Economize In New Furnishings.

SPECIAL VALUE IN SHIRTS. Fine quality, soft bosom negligee shirts, in a big variety of designs, in fine stripes, combination stripes, figures, novelty patterns, etc., soft turnover cuffs. An assortmen tthat merits your attention. Special at 95c

SUMME RUNDERWEAR

ROXFORD WHITE GAUZE LISLE UNION SUITS. Short sleeves, and sleeveless, knee length. An exceptional quality garment, at 69c to 75c

"CORNWITH MILLS" UNDERWEAR. A full line of their best quality shirts and drawers. Short sleeved shirt, full length drawers 39c

CHECKED NAINSOOK SHIRTS AND DRAWERS. Athletic style shirts, knee length drawers. A good durable garment..... 25c

TOMORROW, A STIRRING 98c SALE OF

Gift Jewelry and Silverware

Those of our patrons who can recall the 98c special sale of last season, know full well the values we offered. This is the first sale of its kind this year, and we start it off by giving real good values. Articles sold regularly from $1.25 to $2.00, will be sold tomorrow for only 98c

The following are a few of the items:

- Half dozen Rogers Silver Teaspoons
- Rogers' 3-piece Childs' Set
- Rogers 'Cold Meat or Salad Fork
- Rogers' Berry or Salad Spoon
- Rogers' Sugar Shell or Butter Knife
- Sterling Silver Photo Frames
- Solid Gold Scarf Pins
- Solid Gold Link Buttons
- Solid Gold Tie Clasps
- 1-20 14 Karat Gold Pinky Rings
- Highest Quality Gold Filled Lavelliers
- A Fine Assortment of Brooches
- Reg. $1.25 Alarm Clock, 1 year guarantee

Every article is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded.

Crepe de Chine and Taffeta

Blouses

Made to sell at $3.50
Special for Tomorrow

2.19

We have the same waists, and are selling them regularly for $3.50. But this is a special purchase, and at very low price concessions. We are therefore able to offer the entire purchase for tomorrow only at this price.

A nice line of the season's dainty styles, in crepe de chine, Pussy Willow, taffeta, and silk waists, in the popular colors of white, maize, flesh, rose and peach. All sizes are included.

Let your baby roam around to its heart's content on the front porch, or in a Play-yard. We carry a nice line of Porch Gates and Play-yards at very moderate prices.

Play-yards $2.25

Porch Gates .....$1.98 and $2.25

More For Your Money at Toppers PLAINFIELD ~NEW JERSEY~

SULKIES

A strongly built, durable sulky, collapsible, special 1.98

We have other sulkies either collapsible or non-collapsible at very low cost.

CONG. CAPSTICK TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

Representative of Fifth District Declares That He Has Been Unfairly Attacked.

Morristown, May 12.—Representative John H. Capstick, of the Fifth New Jersey District, composed of Morris and Union counties, will be a candidate for re-election to Congress. Just before the dinner of the Morristown Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night, where former President William H. Taft spoke, Mr. Capstick made known his decision to a reporter.

Mr. Capstick said that he was quite aware that there had been criticism of his vote against the tabling of the McLemore resolution. It seemed to him that he had been singled out for especial condemnation because he was only one of 140 who had voted the same way. A vote either for or against the McLemore resolution did not, in Mr. Capstick's view, reveal how the House of Representatives stood on the main question, which was to warn Americans off belligerent ships in the war zone.

Mr. Capstick pointed out that he had voted for the bill providing for an army of 250,000 men, but said that fact had received little attention. He added that he was not ashamed of his vote on anything that came before Congress and was entirely content to let the people decide between himself and his opponents.

Reports that former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of Union, or former Congressman Charles N. Fowler might be a candidate for Mr. Capstick's place have been prevalent recently, but it is not believed that either of them would run against the wishes of the Republican organization in the district. The organization attitude has been that it will support Capstick if he so wished.

FRELINGHUYSEN GETS ENCOURAGING REPORTS

His Candidacy Said to Be Meeting With Marked Approval in Every County.

Somerville, May 12.—From all parts of the State, it is said, excellent reports are being received regarding the campaign of Joseph S. Frelinghuysen for the nomination for United States Senator. His candidacy is reported to be meeting with marked approval in every county, judging from the letters that are being received at his headquarters here from prominent Republicans, and all classes of people are rallying to his support.

Much favorable comment has been made relative to the platform on which Senator Frelinghuysen is running and there is general satisfaction over his stand on preparedness. He has been highly complimented for his broad-minded patriotism in his declaration that the administration of President Wilson should have the hearty support of every true American citizen in the hour of the crisis with Germany over the U-boat controversy.

Many invitations to speak at Board of Trade dinners, club banquets and other affairs have been received by Senator Frelinghuysen, and it will be impossible for him to accept all of them and he will accept when it is possible to do so. The itinerary for the next month will take in some of the important cities of the State, and everywhere that it is known the Senator is coming to see the voters there is general satisfaction expressed.

In sending out the petitions of Senator Frelinghuysen an attachment is being utilized that has met with instant favor everywhere, and it enables every voter who signs one of the petitions to view the picture of the Senator as well as to read in brief his platform. The attachment has a cut of the Senator in the left hand side, and a synopsis of his platform printed in bold type. When the petitions are returned the attachments are torn off. In order that the idea may not be appropriated by other candidates, it has been copyrighted by C. S. Atkinson, campaign manager for Senator Frelinghuysen.

COMING EVENTS.

TODAY.

Princeton Club dinner — Country Club.

"Jersey Day" exercises — West End Community Center — Washington School.

Building Trades Council.

MONDAY.

Trustee meeting — Netherwood Residents' Association.

Whatsoever Circle, Kings' Daughters, meeting.

A. O. H. euchre—Pythian Hall.

WEDNESDAY.

Jr. O. U. A. M. euchre.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

By request of some of our customers we are making them "Bulgarian Scientific Buttermilk." They have read the story of Professor Metchnikoff, the noted German scientist, and how he developed the kind of buttermilk which helps digestion and prolongs life through old age.

Free sample with description delivered at your home on request.

WOOD BROOK FARMS
Plainfield, N. J.
Phone No. Metuchen 179.

REPORT OF THE

Plainfield Savings Bank,

As made to the Commissioner of Banking at the close of business, May 1, 1916.

Resources.

Bonds and mortgages	$ 768,408.43
Other bonds, including premiums on same	596,754.00
Loans on Collateral	1,000.00
Banking House and fixtures	29,500.00
Cash in bank	71,093.35
Cash on hand	2,354.40
Tax advanced	59.01
Interest accrued on bonds	5,680.64
Interest accrued on mortgages	17,952.60
Interest accrued on bonds	5,680.64
	$1,492,802.43

Liabilities.

Amount due depositors	$1,375,859.94
Average interest due depositors	16,600.00
Surplus	100,342.49
	$1,492,802.43

State of New Jersey,)
County of Union.)ss.

W. F. Arnold, President, and H. A. Pope, Treasurer, of the Plainfield Savings Bank, being duly sworn, depose and say, and each for himself saith, that the above statement is correct and true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me at Plainfield, New Jersey, this ninth day of May, 1916.

A. E. CRONE, Notary Public.
W. F. ARNOLD, President.
H. A. POPE, Treasurer.

5 10 2

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides, with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS
WATCHES
CLOCKS and JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing
217 Park Ave. Phone 1967-J.

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished
S. [illegible]
108 Depot Park. Manb[illegible]
Plainfield, N. J. [illegible]

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT

ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Distributed by the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.

3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it

Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.

EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED

Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles 5c
Up to 300 miles 10c
Up to 600 miles 15c
Up to 1000 miles 20c
For greater distances add postmaster rate for 3 lbs.

Buying for the home cannot be done wisely and economically unless the "buyer" is a student of the advertisements—no more than a store may be made prosperous without advertising.

Your Insurance Policy Against Moth Eaten Furs

Our experts have the whole summer before them to repair or remodel your furs. They now have the time to do the work right and our even temperature, moth-proof storage plant will take care of your valuable furs until you need them.

WE HANDLE THE BEST FURS IN PLAINFIELD BECAUSE WE DO OUR WORK RIGHT.

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

Stirling Silver On Bronze

BOOK ENDS
DESK SETS
VASES AND CARD TRAYS

MAKE ACCEPTABLE WEDDING GIFTS

JOSEPH W. GAVETT
318 WEST FRONT STREET.

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.

Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2588-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:20 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3.50, 5:45, 7:45, 9.00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8.40, 10 45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:18 p. m. Close—6.30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5 30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 6.50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3.50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6.30, 11:30 a. m., 1.30, 5.00 and 9.00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton. Close—6.30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—6:30, 8.40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6.30, 7.45, 10.45 a. m., 12 noon, :00, 3:50 5.45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m. Close—9.00 a. m. 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—2.00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9.30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a6.20, a7.20, 9.00, 11.45, 1.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.10, b6.00, 10.20, 11.15. Sundays—9.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 9.00.

Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.05, 1.30, 3.15, b4.20, 4.20 except Saturday, 5.20, 7.30, b9.30, 10.00, b11.45. Sundays—9.30, 12.15, 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.

Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00, 8.15, f10.00, b1.00, g3.00, 4.15, b6.20.

Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00, 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g4.45, 5.25, g7.30.

Leave Plainfield for Warrenville—d6.45, e6.15, 6.20, f10.00, g3.00, g6.20.

Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40, f11.00, g3.30, g7.15.

Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b2.00, 4.15.

Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8.[illegible], b2.00, 5.15.

(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays, Monday mornings, and mornings after holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave. 'Phone 130 Plainfield.

Owing to the material increase in our business this Spring, we have found it increasingly difficult for our ten teams to cope with our delivery problem. We now have, however, added a two-ton Mack truck to our delivery equipment, and our customers may again expect prompt deliveries as heretofore.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIG Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

BARNARD'S Home-Made BREAD

Try a loaf today and like OLIVER TWIST, you'll want some more.

At your Grocers.

R. H. BARNARD
Baker and Caterer
Woodhull and Martin's
Phones 1560-1561.
tues fri- tf

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Table Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 991.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1327.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW-YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

—Among the readers of this newspaper's classified columns are possible buyers for any desirable real estate in this city.

THE ROTHBERG LABEL ON YOUR CLOTHES IS ALL YOU NEED!

The important thing is, not what label is attached to the garment, but what importance attaches to the label!

Any old label on a Suit will show WHERE you get it; a Rothberg label will show WHAT you got.

The Rothberg label identifies not only the store, but the style.

We are proud of our name because we know what it stands for—and when once you know what it stands for you won't stand for anything else.

Among other things, it stands for reasonable prices, meeting the demands of style without putting a crimp in your pocket.

Suits $12 to $25

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

F. H. FIRSTBROOK
116 W. Front St. Phone 1754

Best Creamery Butter, per lb	37c
Fancy Potatoes, good cookers, 16-qt. basket	75c
H. O. Oatmeal, per pkg.	13c
Baldwin Apples, 4-qt. bas. 25c; 16-qt. basket	75c
N. O. Molasses, extra fancy, per gallon	70c
24-Hour Eggs (one day old, per dozen	30c
Fancy Norway Mackerel, per lb	25c
Small Norway Mackerel, each	5c
California Oranges, 15 for	25c
Extra Large Cal. Oranges, 50c kind, per dozen	40c
Old Dutch Cleanser, 3 pkgs.	25c
Duryea's Corn Starch, 3 pkgs.	25c
Hershey's Cocoa, ½ lb can	15c
Hotel Astor Rice, 3 lbs	25c
Fancy Rice, bulk, 4 lbs	25c
Pearl Tapioca, 3 pkgs.	25c
Tryphosa and Jello, 3 pkgs.	25c
Campbell's Soup, 3 cans	25c
Ritter's Baked Beans, 3 cans	25c
Royal Baking Powder, ½-lb 22c; 1 lb	42c
Franco-American Invalid Broths, per can	13c
California Prunes, per lb	10c
Large California Prunes, 2 lbs	25c
All Kinds Soap, 10 bars	45c
Mueller's Macaroni and Spaghetti, 3 pkgs.	25c
Fancy Seeded Raisins, per pkg.	10c
Pride of Farm Catsup, per bottle	10c
Ritter Catsup, 3 bottles	25c
Snider's Catsup, 25c size, bottle	17c

We Give S. & H. Stamps

Firstbrook's

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S
RYE
E. G. WESTCOTT
115 East Front Street

REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

ARREST POLICE ON RIOT CHARGE

Atlantic City Paraders Mobbed In Street.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

Sympathizers of Riddle, Defeated In Mayoralty Election, Take Offense at Black Coffin Carried by Marchers. Fireman and Politician Also Held.

Atlantic City, May 12.—On charges of rioting, inciting riot and atrocious assault and battery five members of the police department, one city fireman and a politician are under $1,500 bail each as a result of the mobbing of the Bacharach-Kuehnle paraders by several hundred members of the Chelsea Union league, a Riddle political organization in this city.

The arrests were made at the instance of persons who had been injured in the uprising and on warrants issued by Magistrate Sontheimer and Recorder Gaskill.

Fully 3,000 voters took part in the demonstration of the newly elected city commissioners. All along the line of march they were subjected to bitter denunciation by the Chelsea league members. A black coffin containing a picture of Mayor Riddle, which formed part of the parade, finally caused the uprising.

With Mayor Riddle and the director of public safety looking on, the league members, just out of a meeting in which they tore Commodore Kuehnle's picture from the wall, surged through the onlookers, knocked down the "pallbearers" and broke into small fragments the significant coffin.

A riot call was sent into police headquarters, and Sergeant Garrison, with fourteen men, responded. Instead of attempting to break up the mob, however, the policemen, all of whom were Riddle sympathizers, entered into the fray and shoved others in. Traffic was tied up for a square while 500 men and a few women battled over the car tracks in Atlantic avenue.

Finally Police Sergeant Russell, who led a mounted guard of policemen in the parade, galloped up on horseback and quickly quieted what had actually become a serious riot. Many persons were wounded on the head and face, but no serious casualties occurred. Bacharach sympathizers say that more policemen will be arrested.

BIRTH RATE A RECORD.

Vital Statistics Show Infant Mortality Is Low.

Trenton, May 12.—New Jersey's birth rate during 1915 was higher than that of any year since the [illegible]tion of vital statistics in 1879. [illegible] infant mortality rate for last [illegible] the lowest in the history of the [illegible] The death rate for the state during [illegible] was even lower than shown by the [illegible] estimate made some time [illegible]luding all deaths that occur[illegible] state the rate was 13.81 for [illegible]

These facts are contained in a bulletin issued by the state department of health, which has completed the final tabulation of these statistics during the period in question. Excluding 299 deaths of nonresidents from the calculation, the death rate for the year was 13.70. The total number of deaths for the year was 39,734 as against 39,967 for the preceding year. Excluding the 299 nonresident deaths, the total number last year was 39,435.

SILK WORKERS QUIT.

Want Nine Hour Day and Half Saturday Off.

Belvidere, May 12.—All the employees of the Bamford Silk mill here have gone on strike. They demand a nine hour day, with half holiday on Saturday, at the same rate of wages they have been getting.

Superintendent Spears asked them to wait until next Wednesday before going out.

The Bamford mill is a branch of a big Paterson concern, and the firm granted the nine hour day to its Paterson hands, so it was thought there would be no trouble here, except that Mr. Spears would have to have such action approved from the Paterson office.

JUMPS FROM FERRYBOAT.

Captain Rescues Man Who Dove Into Hudson River.

Hoboken, May 12.—In an attempt to end his life James Price, fifty-six years old, of 305 West Nineteenth street, New York, jumped from the upper deck of the Lackawanna ferryboat Musconetcong when the boat was in midstream. He was rescued by Captain B. P. Nichol of the tug Downing and taken to St. Mary's hospital, where he is in a serious condition.

Jersey Troopers Ready.

Newark, May 12.—Intimations from official sources have been received by officers of the First squadron, N. G. N. J., that they might expect a call soon for service in Mexico. Dispatches from the border tell that General Funston has asked for the First Illinois cavalry, and it is regarded here as likely that if any more militia cavalry is asked for the Jersey troopers will go.

THE price of printing cannot be compared with the cost of printing until the wastebasket has been examined.

PLAINFIELD PRESS CO.,
193 North Avenue.

An Array of Price Savings For Saturday

WOMEN'S SHOES—Patent leather oxfords and pumps, high and medium heels; values up to $3.50; Saturday 2.29

WASH SILK SALE—Beautiful tub silks, 36 inches wide, in stripes, plain colors, white and floral effects; 59c and 69c a yd. goods; Saturday 49c

WOMEN'S HAND BAGS—In black moire and fancy silks; the kind with gate tops; good $1.00 values; priced for Saturday 75c

SILK GLOVES—Hall's make, the double tip guaranteed kind; 16 button length in black or white; $1 value; Saturday 69c

WOMEN'S DRESSES—Factory samples, in linen, pique, beach cloth, etc.; white and colors; $5.00 values; special for Saturday 2.98

WOMEN'S READY-TO-WEAR HATS—Hats that are suitable for street, dress or sport wear, in black, white and the newest color combinations; actual $5.00 values; Saturday 1.98

UNTRIMMED HATS—All the very newest shapes and colorings, including back; shapes suitable for anyone; hats that would readily sell for $2.50 at exclusive shops; Saturday 1.00

TROOPER CLOTH—For children's dresses, rompers, etc.; will last longer than any other fabric for these purposes; 32 inches wide; Saturday.. 20c

SILK SWEATERS—Genuine fiber silk, extra heavy quality, with sash, in Copenhagen, rose, green and tan; special Saturday 5.98

MEN'S UNDERWEAR—Otis Balbriggan, short sleeve shirts and ankle length drawers; regular 50c quality; Saturday 42c

CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR—Union suits in fine white cotton and porosmesh; all sizes; specially priced Saturday 29c

TALCUM POWDER — Full pound can, Jergens make, voilet and rose perfumed; special Saturday 16c

WAISTS and MIDDY BLOUSES—A lot of pretty waists including the popular "Fern" Seal-Pac kind; $1.25 and $1.50 values; special for Saturday.... 1.00

OSTRICH BOAS—In black, white, natural color and two-tone effects; extra values, from $5.00 down to 1.39

SILK WAISTS—Georgette crepe and crepe de chine, in white and the popular new spring colors; usually $3.98; Saturday 2.95

CHILDREN'S HATS—Fine straws and braids, prettily trimmed with ribbons, lace and flowers; manufacturers' sample hats and are worth from $2 to $3.00; Saturday 1.00

WOMEN'S STOCKINGS—Superior quality cotton, black or white, full seamless, double soles and tops, high spliced heels; extra value Saturday.. 19c

SILK STOCKINGS—In black, white and colors; all silk and with lisle top and sole; values up to $1.50 in the lot; Saturday 85c

Butterick Patterns

Woodhull & Martin Co.
Profit Sharing Certificates With All Purchases

Butterick Delineator

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS AT CITY HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Ellen Shjarback and Miss Helen Edwards Valedictorian and Salutatorian.

At the New Jersey Day exercises in the Plainfield High School this morning, Principal Lindsey Best announced the scholarship honors for the graduating class by naming Miss Ellen Shjarback valedictorian and Miss Helen Edwards salutatorian. Both young women are students in the commercial department and during their four years have both attained excellent records.

As a part of the New Jersey Day program the students listened to an interesting address by Henry C. White, of North Plainfield. Mr. White is a member of the State Department of Conservation and told many interesting things that he had found out about the State through being a member of that body. He gave a rather detailed outline of the State's place in history and also some instructive data on the place it holds among other States in manufacturing, railroads and other items. The two songs that won first and second prizes in the West End Civic Association contest, Jersey Land, written by Miss Olive Lawrence, a senior, and Hail New Jersey, written by Everett Case, a junior, were sung, and Miss Ruth Voorhees recited "The Jersey Blues." Miss Lyle Smith rendered several violin selections.

RE-ASSESSMENT OF BOROUGH IS LIKELY

State and County Officials Investigate Property Conditions in No. Plainfield.

Frank A. O'Connor, field secretary and clerk of the State Board of Taxation, in company with the Somerset County Board of Taxation, Mayor William L. Smalley, Dr. J. H. Cooley, borough assessor, and Edmund Rushmore, of North Plainfield, made a general inspection of properties in the borough this morning, the result of Mr. Rushmore's appeal to the State Board from what he considers an unjust tax assessment on his property.

When Mr. Rushmore went before the State Board he complained that many properties in the borough were assessed on a 50 per cent. basis, while his assessment was near a 100 per cent. basis. As the result of his appeal the State Board was led to send its representative here to investigate local conditions.

It is reported that in a number of instances the State officials found some properties assessed at a low figure, and it is possible that a reassessment of all borough property may be made. This will be done if such a recommendation is made to the State Board by Mr. O'Connor, as that body has the authority to direct that such work be done.

In justice to the borough taxing official it is said that the proportion of alleged low assessments is not any greater than is to be found in any other municipality of the State. There are many property owners who feel that they are paying the limit in the way of taxes and any increase would prove a hardship.

MRS. E. L. SEYFERT A SPRING BRIDE

Rev. Dr. Loomis Performs the Ceremony at Manor House, Westfield.

Westfield, May 12.—Mrs. Esther Lawton Seyfert, of this place, became the bride of John Bowman Barr, also of Westfield, at 12:30 o'clock yesterday. The wedding took place at Manor House in Elizabeth avenue, the home of the bride. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lawton, of the Sherman Square Hotel, New York city. The bridegroom is a well-known member of the Westfield Golf Club, and he has been a resident of Westfield for the past fifteen years.

Twenty-five guests from New York and Westfield were present at the wedding and breakfast which followed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Barr left on a motor trip.

The wedding took place in the large parlor of the bride's home. The Rev. Dr. S. L. Loomis, minister of the Congregational church, performed the nuptials.

The bride was attired in flesh pink satin veiled with cloth of silver and trimmed with silver lace, offset with pearls and pink tulle. She had three attendants. Her little daughter, Miss Anne Lawton Seyfert, was maid of honor. She wore pink satin trimmed with shadow lace. The matrons of honor were: Mrs. King Etickle Oram, of Rockaway, and Mrs. Frank J. Sparroll, of Westfield, sisters of the bride. Each was gowned in ping satin taffet and lace. George W. Johnston, of New York city, was best man.

After an extended motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Barr will return to the Manor House.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

MASTER BUILDERS WANT TO COMPROMISE

Offer Journeymen 25 Cents Increase in August and Another Raise on Nov. 1.

The Master Builders' Association of the city, it was learned today, has made a proposition to the journeymen carpenters in answer to their request for an increase in wages from $4 to $4.50 a day, offering to given them $4.25 on and after August 1 next and $4.50 on and after November 1 next. Whether the journeymen will accept this proposal could not be learned today.

The journeymen claim that they have not had an increase since 1910 and inasmuch as all the other trades have been given a higher wage, they think they are now entitled to one. There was to have been a meeting of the journeymen carpenters Wednesday night, but what action was taken if any has not been learned.

One of the master builders in discussing the matter today said that he realized that the journeymen were entitled to a raise, but that the bosses did not feel as thought they could afford to make the wage scale at present $4.50. As a compromise it was decided to offer a 25 cent increase after August 1 and the balance in November. This he thought ought to prove satisfactory to the journeymen and he hoped they would accept the offer. He recalled that the carpenters were on strike about a year ago and after losing much time failed to gain their point. He said that this lost time was still being felt by some of the men and he did not believe that they cared for another such experience.

FUNERAL OF DOROTHY FORCE HELD AT PARENTS' HOME

The funeral of Dorothy A. Force, the six-year-old daughter of Frank D. and Henrietta B. Force, whose death occurred Tuesday following an operation, was held at the parents' home on East Seventh street this afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. E. C. Conover, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, where Dorothy was a member of the Sunday-school, and was attended by many relatives and friends of the family, the latter including numerous playmates of the little girl. Two solos, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," were sung by Mrs. E. D. Young.

The flowers were unusually numerous for a child and besides those from relatives included a set piece from the Sunday-school class and another from the Zeek Baking Company employes, of whom Mr. Force is one. Burial was made in Hillside cemetery.

MASKED MEN GET $1,150 IN HOLDUP

Colvin Brothers Were on Way to Buy Automobile With Money.

Bernard and Frank Colvin, of the corner of Front street and Clinton avenue, Plainfield, were held up and robbed of $150 in cash by two masked men on Tompkins avenue at 8 o'clock last night. The brothers had intended to purchase an automobile in South Plainfeeld with the money.

Just as they neared the old race track two masked men stepped out from behind trees and each pointed a revolver under their victim's nose, demanding money. Bernard had the money, and without any hesitation, he dug down in his pocket and handed it over. The robbers then headed toward Clinton avenue.

Word was then sent to Justice Kaine, and he, with Officer Everhardt, arrived on the scene of the robbery in a short time. It was quite dark when the robbery occurred, and the Colvins could only give a poor description of the crooks, thus leaving the local authorities with poor clues to work on. One was exceedingly tall, wore a light coat and a slouch hat. He acted as spokesman. The other man was small and stout. He wore a dark suit and a dark cap. The Colvins claimed that they have no idea who the men are, as they were very careful not to let anybody know they intended buying a car, even keeping the secret from their father. Authorities of neighboring cities were notified to keep on the lookout for men answering this description.

LOUIS V. CREVELING.

Louis V. Creveling, fifty-seven years old, died Tuesday night, at his home, 18 State street, Washington, N. J., following a lingering illness. Mr. Creveling was a machinist, his last place of employment being the American Sanitary Works. Surviving him are a widow and four sisters. These are Mrs. Ernest Carter, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Alice Gardner, of Bloomsburg, Mrs. Jeannette Voss, of Plainfield, and Mrs. Anna Moore, of Washington. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late home. Rev. J. N. Wagenhurst, pastor of the Presbyterian church, that place, will officiate, and interment will be in the Washington cemetery.

—Press want ads. pay.

Astonishing Values

Ladies' & Misses'

SUITS

Worth $22.50 to $25.

NOW

$15.98

In this year of high clothing prices of other stores, OUR TREMENDOUS values stand ALONE. If you would have the UTMOST in style and quality at the LOWEST price — come HERE.

Other Suits for Ladies & Misses, Values $25 to $35 . . . $17.98 to $22.50

Sport Coats & Dresses — $9.98 to $15.95

Distinctive Styles Hand-Tailored

SUITS

For Men & Young Men

$15.95

Full $22.50 Value

Suits that rival the BEST custom made at HALF merchant tailors' prices. Our famous "TRUE BLUE" serge and other stylish fabrics.

Other Suits for Men & Young Men $14.95 to $25. Values $20 to $30

The Biggest Hit Yet In Men's Clothes
The "PINCH BACK" Suit

The style sensation of the season. To be in style you've GOT to have one. Finest assortment and best values in this city.

Generous Credit Terms To All

ADELBERG'S

129 E. FRONT ST.

For Saturday Only

4 BIG SPECIALS

EASY ON YOUR PURSE

NEW SPRING SUITS FOR MEN and YOUNG MEN

$10	$12.98	$15	$18

Every garment sure to satisfy. They comprise all the newest models. The gathered backs and other fancy models for young men, and neat conservative models for middle-aged men. In plaids, stripes, blues, grays and browns. Perfect Fitting Garments. Saving from $2.00 to $4.00 on every suit. Come early and get the best values.

STRAW HATS

All the newest shapes, in Soft and Stiff.
$1.50 and $2.00 for $3.00 quality and $5.00 style.
PANAMA HATS—In all the latest shapes. . $3.00 to $5.00

Don't Fail to Attend

Our 10-day Special on Tailor-made Suits. Suits to your measure and your style, at $14.50 $16 $18 $20 $25

Regular $20.00 to $35.00 Suitings.

THE OUTLET

CLOTHING STORE

140 W. FRONT ST.

The shopper may often reduce the VALUE-GETTING POWER of her dollar to fifty cents—simply through neglecting to read the ads, or to know values—and by buying at "the nearest place."

SINSHEIMER QUARTET DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Talented Artists Present Fine Program at Hartridge Auditorium

A large audience of music lovers attended the musicale given in the Hartridge Auditorium yesterday afternoon by the Sinsheimer Quartet. The large hall was attractively decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, potted plants, palms and ferns, while lighted candles were distributed among the foliage on the stage and throughout the room.

The soloists for the afternoon were Bernard Sinsheimer, first tenor; Robert Toedt, second violin; Arnold Volpe, viola; William Dupieux, 'cello, and Mme. Tozier Hardy, pianist. Each number was enthusiastically applauded, and frequent encores were generously given. Mme. Hardy's piano solos were especially well received, her renditions being given in inimitable manner. The complete program consisted of the following numbers.

"Quartet, F Major," Dvorak; allegro ma non troppo; lento, finale, vivace man non troppo; (a) "Prelude in G Minor," ((b) "Polichinelle," Rachmaninoff, Mrs. Hardy; (a) "Theme and Variations," Schubert, (b) "Scherzo," Ippolitoff-Ivanow, Quartet; "Quintet, A Minor," piano, two violins, viola and 'cello, Foote; allegro giusto—appassinato, intermezzo—allegretto, scherzo—vivace, allegro—giuso.

The recital yesterday was the closing of the musicale seasons of Miss Maude Van Boskerck, and her pupils were guests at the musicale. The women assisting Miss Van Boskerck were the Mesdames Rufus Lincoln, Henry D. Hibbard, J. B. Dumont, J. K. Myers, F. O. Herring, C. B. Tyler, Thomas Van Boskerck and Chapman Fisk.

REV. E. VICARS STEVENSON ELECTED LAY DELEGATE

With the election of members of the standing committees and of deputies to the general convention and the provincial synod, together with the presentation of reports and the transaction of other business, principally of a routine nature, the forty-fourth annual convention of the Diocese of New Jersey closed Wednesday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral, Trenton.

The election occupied the greater portion of the afternoon, several of them being marked by spirited contests, which necessitated a number of ballots. Among the alternates elected as lay delegates was Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace Spiscipal church, this city.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

THE SMALLEST STORE IN TOWN

Is offering the Largest values in made to order suits You can save a TEN SPOT on every suit you have made

Come in and inspect our samples

$15

and np

"LET us SUIT you"

M. J. FRANK & CO
TAILORS
243 W. Front St.
I. Shrager. Mgr.

PARTY LEADERS UNITE ON EDGE

Representatives of G. O. P. Decided to Support Atlantic Co. Man for Governor.

SENTIMENT IS STRONG

Mayor Radcliffe, of Paterson, Presides at a Significant Gathering of Republicans at the Manhattan Hotel, that city List of those Present.

Paterson, May 12.—This city was the scene of a significant movement in State gubernatorial politics today when representative Republicans and party leaders from ten upper counties of New Jersey gathered at a noonday luncheon at the Manhattan Hotel and decided to unite on the candidacy of State Senator Walter F. Edge, of Atlantic ciunty.

The conference was called on the initiative of three Passaic county leaders, State Committeemen George F. Wright, chairman of the Passaic County Republican Committee; Frederick C. Van Blarcom and State Senator Thomas F. McCran, to feel out the sentiment of Passaic, Bergen, Hudson, Monmouth, Morris, Union, Hunterdon, Middlesex, Sussex and Warren counties, and to strive for harmony within the party.

In order to insure an impartial report of political sentiment, Republican State committeemen and the chairmen of Republican committees in each of the ten counties were sent invitations to select county representatives from all sections to gather in Paterson and discuss the situation. No call was sent to Essex, because that county has already endorsed a candidate for the Republican nomination. The presence of a number of representatives of the Essex County Republican organization at the conference, however, seemed to indicate more or less divided sentiment there.

Mayor Amos H. Radcliffe, of Paterson, presided, and prior to calling the roll of the different counties, referred to the semi-official character of the gathering as indicated by the presence of the leading Republican representatives from each county, invited by the various county chairmen and State committeemen. He said that this was gratifying, for the North Jersey counties realized that the best interests of the Republican party could not be served if any of them were to act singly In the matter of gubernatorial nominations without knowing the political sentiment of other counties whose interests were identical. Mayor Radcliffe explained that no call had been sent to Somerset "because this particular conference is to sound sentiment on the gubernatorial situation alone, and Somerset has a candidate of its own for the United States Senatorial nomination, former Senator Frelinghuysen, whose candidacy we were careful not to embarrass."

After more than a score of representatives from the different counties had described home sentiment on the gubernatorial situation, plainly favoring Edge, the conference went on record with a resolution to the effect that "Whereas, it is evident from reports submitted from each county that the candidacy of Senator Edge for the Republican nomination for Governor is receiving substantial support and approval in each of these counties, and whereas it would seem to be to the best interests of the Republican party, without any attempt at dictation, that concentrated effort should be made in the interests of harmony, and whereas Senator Edge, through his long service and constructive legislative record is representing the demand for business men in responsible public positions, it is:

"Resolved, That every effort be made to unite on the candidacy of Senator Edge in order that the Republican party be all the better organized for the contest in November."

Morris county was represented at the conference by County Chairman Edward Ehlers, State Committeeman Daniel S. Voorhees, Senator Charles A. Rathbun, Assemblyman Harry W. Mutchler and George W. Downs, former Senator Edward K. Mills, County Clerk Elias B. Mott and Sheriff Wm. H. Thompson; Union county by County Chairman William Newcorn, State Committeeman Hamilton Kean, Register of Deeds Frank H. Smith, Assemblymen William N. Runyon, C. L. Morgan and Arthur N. Pierson, Senator Carlton B. Pierce, ex-Senator E. R. Ackerman, Mayor Evans, of Westfield, Mayor Simmons, of Rahway, and Mayor Heins, of Cranford; Middlesex by ex-Assemblyman John F. Ten Broeck, County Chairman John Pfeiffer, State Committeeman A. S. March of New Brunswick, John Manson and Mayor Ferd Garretson of Perth Amboy; Monmouth by County chairman S. W. Kirkbride, State Committeeman C. Asa Francis, ex-Prosecutor John S. Applegate, Jr., of Red Bank, County Clerk Joseph McDermott, ex-Assemblyman Peter Vredenburgh, of Freehold, ex-Assemblyman John Thompson, of Avon, Mayor C. E. F. Hetrick and T. Frank Appleby, of Asbury Park; Bergen by M. W. Robinson, of Hackensack, alternate-at-large to the Republican National Convention, County Chairman Peter Kuhn, State Committeeman Edmund W. Wakelee, Joseph H. Broche, delegate to the Chicago Convention, and D. E. Pomeroy; Sussex by State Committeeman Henry C. Hunt, County Chairman Frank E. Armstrong, Geo. L. Butcher, Judge Hunt and John J. Stanton; Hudson by State Committeeman Chris Ritter, County Vice Chairman Abraham L. Wilson, Mayor Pierre F. Garven of Bayonne, alternate-at-large to the Chicago Convention, and William Verdon; Passaic by State Committeeman George F. Wright, County Chairman Fred. W. Van Blarcom, State Senator Thos. F. McCran, County Auditor George F. Schmidt, County Collector John L. Conklin, Surrogate Frederick Beggs, Sheriff William B. Burpo, Clerk to the Board of Freeholders George W. Botbyl, Mayor Arthur Rhodes of Hawthorne, Mayor Lambert Touw of Prospect Park, Mayor Henry G. Hershfield of Pompton Lakes, Mayor of George M. Seger of Passaic, Commissioner John H. Kehoe of Passaic, ex-Assemblyman Edward T. Moore, ex-Senator Wood McKee, ex-Judge William I. Lewis, ex-Judge Francis Scott, ex-Congressman Henry C. Allen, City Treasurer Harry J. Corwin, City Clerk Samuel R. Orcutt and Comptroller William Cooper, of Paterson; Hunterdon by County Chairman B. Frank Barkley; Warren by State Committeeman Charles P. Fulper and others.

This Store is Open Saturday Evenings Until 9:45

HAHNE & Co.

NEWARK

We Give and Redeem Surety Coupons

Misses' Suits, Coats, Dresses and Girls' Coats---REDUCED!

Big reductions have been placed on many of the smart garments for the younger set. The quantities mentioned are those in stock at the time of writing—we cannot say what will be on hand when you come—but the selection will be worth while!

MISSES' SILK DRESSES

5 Dresses were $21.50
14 Dresses were $18.50
18 Dresses were $16.95

Silk Dresses in combination of Georgette and taffeta—in coat effects and box-plaited models with high belt—also crepe de chine in soft pastel shadees—wide variety of colors; choice of $16.95 to $21.50 dresses for . . 14.95

MISSES' SUITS FOR

10 Suits were $24.50
26 Suits were $19.75
23 Suits were $16.95

You will choose from suits of fine serges, poplins, gabardines and checks in this season's best styles and colors—belted or flare models—$16.95 to $24.50 suits for 12.95

MISSES' SUITS FOR

2 Suits were $37.50
11 Suits were $27.50
9 Suits were $24.50

These suits are copies of very high-grade models and include handsome black or navy taffetas, fine serges, gabardines or poplins—also splendid quality velour checks; all the popular colors—$24.50 to $37.50 suits for 19.75

MISSES' COATS FOR

4 Coats were $27.50
3 Coats were $24.50
8 Coats were $22.50
12 Coats were $18.50

And other coats in this lot are our regular $16.95 coats and excellent values at this price. Coats in large and small velour checks, serges, poplins and chinchilla cloth, corduroy, taffeta, in very desirable colors—sizes 16 and 18—choice of $18.50 to $27.50 coats for . 16.95

CHILDREN'S COATS FOR

10 Coats were $10.00
49 Coats were $7.95
15 Coats were $6.95

A wide variety in styles, color and materials — shepherd or larger checks, serges, silk poplin and taffetas. They are trimmed with differently shaped collars of silk half or full belts—choice of $6.95 to $10.00 coats for 5.75

CHILDREN'S COATS, SPECIAL $3.95 AND $4.95

These are shown in excellent quality of serges, poplins and checks—sizes 6 to 14 years—special at only . . . . . $3.95 and $4.95

GIRLS' RAINCOATS FOR $1.98, $2.98

Children's Raincoats in tan, navy and black and white checks and gray mixtures—$3.98 and $4.98 values for . . . . . $1.98 and $2.98

$1.98 GIRLS' RAINCOATS FOR 98c.

They come in sizes 6 to 14, in navy, tan and dark red—choice of this group of $1.98 Girls' Raincoats for 98c

Hahne's—Second Floor

The Prettiest Blouses Moderately Priced

Crepe de Chine Blouses, in white and flesh; come in very effective tailored models, trimmed with tucks; they have convertible collars and long sleeves; excellent quality and well made; special at 3.98

Women's Crepe de Chine and Georgette Blouses, in attractive models; may be had in flesh, white and bisque; fancy and tailored effects; hemstitch finish; special . . . . . 5.00 and 5.98

Women's Novelty Striped Tub Silk Blouses, in various colors; tailored model with white collar or collar of self material, at 2.98

Hahne's—Second Floor

The Y. P. S. C. E. was the only delegation at the Tabernacle last night, but this delegation was a mammoth one. It was headed by the Dutch Arms Band. Every church in this city which has a Young People's Society in it was represented last night. They were given a big cheer and a most hearty welcome by Mrs. Brake.

The Quartet sang "The Treasures of Earth are Not Mine."

Mr. McEwan sang, by request, "He Died of a Broken Heart," with the lighted cross effect, which was very impressive.

Tonight, after the service, there is to be a very important meeting of all the Sunday-school teachers and superintendents.

Tonight is High School night at the Tabernacle. There is to be a banquet at the First Methodist church for the boys and one for the girls at the First Baptist church, and afterward the Dutch Arms Band will escort the students to the Tabernacle.

The Boy Scouts are to be on hand also, and the offering which is to be taken is for the Boy Scout movement in this city.

Mrs. Brake's address last night was of the highest calibre and she is to be praised for the numbers whom she led to Christ.

PERMANENT CHORAL SOCIETY IS FORMED

Clifford A. Braider to Have Charge of Large Chorus for Recreation Committee.

Plans for having a permanent choral society under the auspices of the Public Recreation Committee was discussed at a meeting of the members of that committee last night, when Clifford A. Braider, who has been secured as the leader, succeeding S. Frederick Smith, outlined the work. He stated that a large proportion of the members of the chorus choir now singing at the Biederwolf revival would compose the choral society which is to be formed on a permanent basis. He also announced that the society would have the help and co-operation of an orchestra comprised of members of the Dutch Arms Band under the leadership of Arthur B. Cole.

It is proposed during the coming year to give several entertainments, at which the choral society will sing part songs. No attempt will be made to give an oratorio this year, but perhaps this will be done next year if the proposition is successful.

The committee was enthusiastic over the prospects of having a well drilled choral society which will be an attractive feature of the recreation work, and the members were praiseworthy in their comments over the work of the choir which has been helping to make the evangelistic campaign such a success.

Attention was called to the fact that "New Jersey Day" today, is to be appropriately observed by the West End Community Centre with an entertainment at the Washington School tonight. At that time the prize songs for which the centre offered money prizes, will be sung for the first time in public.

Changes in the constitution were reported, these being made to meet the new work which has been undertaken by the committee recently. The reports showed that all departments of the work are progressing in a satisfactory manner. Chaplain L. Riley, as president of the recreation body, announced the heads of committees for the year.

The extension committee, of which Dr. Henry M. Maxson is the head, is divided into two sections, the initiative with Henry C. White in charge and investigating with Mrs. Harold D. Corbusier in charge. Mrs. G. Stuart Simons is the head of the supervision committee; A. B. Jones chairman of the committee on community centre, and Mrs. Henry C. White chairman of the publicity committee.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

PLAN CIVICO-RELIGIOUS DEMONSTRATION HERE

In connection with the Biederwolf evangelistic campaign now in progress here, a civic-religious demonstration will be held on Wednesday night, May 17. The lines will form on Crescent avenue, above Seventh street, for the following organizations: Commercial College, High School, postoffice employes, Men's Federated Clubs and Bible classes and various lodges which will form the third division. They will report at 7 o'clock that evening to H. W. Marshall, leader.

The divisions will move promptly at 7:45 o'clock for a short march to the Tabernacle. If possible, the members of the organizations are requested to send in the number that will participate by Tuesday night to the leader.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature, as reported today by the State Trust Company, is as follows: 9 a. m., 56 degrees; 11 a. m., 63 degrees; 1 p. m., 67 degrees.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.
—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 198 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Fort, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 12, 1916.

NO KEY TO SUCCESS.

A public speaker took for his text the other day, "The Key to Success." We do not know what he said upon the subject; it may or may not have been interesting. But he chose a poor text, for the simple reason there is no key to success. Success is not under lock and key; it is not sealed up in any way. There are not even any secrets pertaining to it. It is not patented, nor copyrighted.

Success is a matter of hard work—and of keeping oneself fitted for hard work. There are opportunities that come to some which do not come to others. Circumstances over which we seem to have no control may throw us into a channel that leads to success, or into a stream that is too strong for us to stem. But into what ever channel or stream one is hurled, in whatever position one is placed, under whatever surroundings he finds himself in life, hard work is the only handmaid that crowns him with success.

And, if it doesn't come through hard work, it is not success. To be left a fortune, to have honors unearned thrust upon one, as sometimes happens; to gain notoriety or wealth or even fame, is not success unless one hammers it about him with the hard knocks of eternal work.

You may go through the list of really successful men today, and you will not find an idler in the list. You will not find a single man or woman who can be classed as successful who has not worked long and hard and patiently. Genius itself has been defined as perspiration, meaning thereby that it is work which constitutes what we call genius. And all who have come into contact with the geniuses of the world know the statements to be true.

• • • • • •

PRECEDENT NOT SET BY DEMOCRATS.

The New York World is urging that the Republican party nominate Woodrow Wilson as its candidate for President, thus rendering what it declares would be "a noble patriotic service to the United States." The World evidently does not recall that in a similar situation the Democratic party had a like opportunity to cast aside "partisanship," and nominate a Republican.

In the history of the United States there has been no "patriotic crisis" greater than that which confronted this nation in 1864. The greatest man of his time, the supreme and indispensable man for the crisis, Abraham Lincoln, was to run for re-election. Did the Democrats rise to the occasion, and nominate Lincoln? Not a bit of it. They nominated McClellan on a platform declaring that the war and Lincoln's administration was a failure, and urging steps for a peace at any price cessation of hostilities.

If there be any reasons why the Republicans should nominate Mr. Wilson in 1916 they are so infinitesimal as compared with the reasons why the Democrats should have nominated Mr. Lincoln in 1864 that we expect the World's proposal will not get much of a hearing at Chicago.

• • • • • •

The King's Daughters' Day Nursery is conducted the year through, but it is in the summer that it needs more help than at any other time. Then the work of caring for the little ones becomes a greater burden, and financial aid is needed in addition to the amount given by each of the circles. For some years the Daily Press has received subscriptions for this cause and will be pleased to forward any sums sent during the coming hot months. If anyone doubts that the work of the nursery is needed in this city, they can easily dispel these doubts by a visit to that institution, where they can see many happy children, in clean and healthy surroundings, being entertained and cared for while their mothers are at work through the day. There are many women in this city who would be handicapped in securing day's work, which lets them keep their families together, if the nursery was not available to leave the youngsters. If you cannot give a big contribution, send along a little one. A lot of little ones will soon make one big one, and they are just as much appreciated by the women who have the work in charge. The warm weather will soon be upon us, and with it the work of the nursery increases nearly two-fold.

• • • • • •

New York city is all ready for the great preparedness parade to be held tomorrow, in which many Plainfielders will participate. 200,000 or more men and women will be in line, and thousands have applied for permission to march who have been refused. Every band in New York will be in line, and it is said that a few will march the length of the parade, and then double back and lead a section at the end, for the parade begins at 10 in the morning, and will last for at least twelve hours. The demonstration is of a non-partisan nature, and is merely designed as an act of constructive patriotism. The marchers have volunteered as individuals, and will be combined into divisions of professions and trades. It is predicted that fully 25,000 women will be in line. The parade will start at Bowling Green, and about seventy-five divisions will be marching before it advances far up Broadway. At the end the New York State National Guard, 8,000 strong, will bring up the rear, and it is figured that it will be nearly 10 o'clock at night before the last man finishes the march.

• • • • • •

Mothers all over the land will be honored on Sunday, "Mothers' Day." Sons and daughters of all ages will do honor to their mothers in keeping with the custom which has set aside the second Sunday in May for that purpose. Prayers, songs and sermons in many churches will praise the self-sacrifice and love of the true mother. No doubt the mails will be full of letters and postal cards, flowing "back home" to the one that we never forget, and many a mother will hear from children who have neglected to write, perhaps for months or years. The carnation is the official flower of the day, a red one being worn in honor of living mothers, and a white one in memory of those who have passed away. This movement originally started in the United States, but is now said to have spread to Canada, England, Australia, Africa and even to far China and Japan. The custom is a beautiful one, which should be observed by everyone.

• • • • • •

"Booze free at the Tabernacle," says a poster advertising the meeting to be held on Sunday afternoon. This is one of those cases where everybody knows that there can be two meanings.

"JUST PLAIN DOG" SHOW.

Philadelphia, May 12.—The best dog owned by a newsboy, the best one that a colored resident can bring forth, the best owned by a team driver, and the classiest that police officers, firemen, postmen and sailors can show will be the medal winners at the "Just Plain Dog" Show to be held tomorrow. The smallest, the whitest, the blackest, the ugliest, the best trick dog—all will win distinction, regardless of pedigree. There is surely no high-brow in this show, which is becoming an annual affair in Philadelphia.

—Until you have canvassed the readers of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

'Twas Ever Thus.

I tell you what, your friends come round and slap you on the back,
And friends you never knew before give you a hearty whack.
The things they say all make you feel just like you are a king;
They listen and they laugh right out when you say anything.
"There's nothing in the world too good for you," that's what they say;
They tell you that the world will talk about you some fine day;
They go and kill the fatted calf
whene'er you heave in sight;
They spread the pleasant salve on you and surely spread it right;
They'r proud to know you, yes, they are, and flatter as they should.
Your friends besiege you day and night
When you are
Makin'
Good.

You never see a single soul you know from morn till night;
You gaze around quite anxiously, but no one heaves in sight;
You wonder where those friends have gone you used to know so well;
You somehow miss the hearty laugh
when your best yarns you tell.
Nobody slaps you on the back or treats you like a king;
You cannot find an audience; you feel the dreadful sting
Of failure in the atmosphere and cannot tell just why
The flattering friends of yesterday are wont to pass you by.
You miss the glad acclaim they gave,
the ever welcoming shout;
For very few will stick to you
When you are Down and Out.

A Pleasant Time Was Had.

The following report of a society event is given by the White Pigeon News:

It developed before the close of the evening that coincidentally it was also the birthday anniversary of Mr. Lambert, whereupon the male portion of the company undertook to put the host under the bed. They had forgotten, however, to take into account the fact that Mr. Lambert has for several years been a successful instructor in the use of "the three Rs" and the wielder of the hazel. As a result the young man did not go under the bed, but, to the contrary, when the skirmish had ended and the smoke of battle cleared away, it was found he had come off none the worse of wear, while some of the others complained of bruises galore.

Some Railroad.

A traveling man the other day told what he alleged to be his experience on a small railroad. He said he had "made" the towns on the road many times, and the usual snail-like pace of the train was on this trip exceeded for slowness. In a seat near the commercial traveler was an old lady, who was evidently a stranger to the road, and was on the train when Friend Travelingman got on. She was nervous and fidgety, and every time the conductor or brakeman passed her seat she would ask, "Ain't we ever going to get to F——?" Finally the conductor said, in an injured tone, "Please have a little patience, Madam. Why, I have been on this line over two years, and——" Before he could finish what he was about to say, the impatient lady passenger exclaimed: "Have you: Good land! What station did you get on at?"

Do They Exist?

Enormous salaries.
Noiseless autos.
Bashful actors.
Lodge goats.
Reticent women.
Retiring politicians.
Bank rolls.
Square bridge gems.
Trustful fishermen.
Dirtless railroads.
Economical furnaces.

"YOU ARE GOING TO GET A NOTE"

- Proctor's Theatre -

The photoplay offerings at Proctor's today include the huge Paramount success, "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," in which Charles Cherry makes his debut as a picture star. The management of Proctor's received numerous requests for the presentation of this picture and has gone to a great deal of trouble and expense in order to secure it for their patrons. In addition today the last chapter of "The Social Pirates" is shown and a splendid supporting program of excellent features complete the bill. Tomorrow the feature attraction is Grace Elliston, supported by a strong Metro cast in "Black Fear," a picture of compelling interest and one that will hold the spectator spellbound from start to finish by its exceedingly dramatic situations and finely drawn characterizations. Charlie Chaplin will amuse the little and big folks by his comic capers in "The Property Man," the clever child screen stars will be seen in an amusing comedy creation entitled, "A Chip Off the Old Block," and Mutt and Jeff and Musty Suffer will also create outbursts of hilarity by their funmaking antics. Monday starts Mary Pickford week, a week in which this dainty screen star and the most popular of favorite picture actresses will appear in a different one of her successes each day in addition to the regular program of select photoplays. On Monday she will be seen in "Such a Little Queen," Tuesday in "Behind the Scenes," Wednesday in "Cinderella," Thursday in "Mistress Nell," Friday, "A Girl of Yesterday," and Saturday, "Madame Butterfly," which was shown at Proctor's last week, and created such a favorable impression that the management decided to present it again. Another extraordinary attraction next week on Thursday and Friday, in conjunction with Mary Pickford's appearance will be the featuring of Charlie Chapin in his first comedy production under his new $670,000 a year contract with the Mutual Company, entitled "The Floorwalker," the material for which he secured while stopping in New York city this winter. Other stars who will appear in photoplays at Proctor's next week will include Lillian Gish, Vivian Martin, Pearl White, Frank Keenan and Mary Miles Minter.

Charlie Chaplin at Proctor's tomorrow

--Astor Theatre--

Fanny Ward, the brilliant Lasky star who scored such a pronounced success in "The Cheat," will be seen at the Astor Theatre today in the photodramatic version of the famous story, "Tennessee's Pardner." The scenes of this story are laid in the early days of California. Miss Ward is surrounded by a cast of unusual excellence, consisting of such prominent artists as Jack Dean, Charles Clary and a number of other Lasky stars. Tomorrow we will present "The Making Over of Geoffrey Manning,' and "The Pest Vamooser," a personally-picked program produced under the personal direction of Albert E. Smith and J. Stuart Blackton, featuring Harry Morey, Ned Finley and the entire Vitagraph star cast. This feature has been considered one of the best Vitagraph productions in many a day. "The Pest Vamooser," which completes this wonderful drama, is a side-splitting comedy, and brings before the public a cast of funmakers, notable among them being Kate Price and Harry Fisher. In addition to this Vitagraph production we will present "The Girl and the Game," the third episode, which is full of thrills and suspense; including our other film-features will make a novel and interesting program for everyone. Very interesting for the kiddies. Watch for our big features next week: "Nearly a King," "The Great Problem," "He Fell in Love with his Wife," and a great many others—you see them here first. This theatre is no doubt the coolest and most comfortable in the city of Plainfield; plenty of fresh air; an ideal place to spend a hot summer day, out of the dust and heat, in a comfortable seat, with a good show to wile the hours away. The only theatre showing first-run Paramount, Bluebird and other Broadway features. Ask about our family ticket; it will interest you.

.· Plainfield Theatre.·.

Direct from her musical comedy successes and vaudeville engagements at New York's leading theatres, the Countess Olga Von Hatzfeld appeared at the Plainfield Theatre yesterday for the first time, delighting large audiences with her latest playlet. She has the assistance of William Herbert, also a popular musical comedy artist, and their repertoire of songs and dances was a refreshing novelty. The act is beautifully costumed and has a number of features in it that make it one of the best offerings that has been at the Second street theatre this season. The engagement of the Countess is limited to three days, her last appearance being tomorrow night.

Other numbers on the new program beginning yesterday are: Rose and Appel, comedians extraordinary; Cowboy Williams, the Oklahoma wonder, assisted by his own company in the presentation of a novel offering; The Great Franklin, novelty act; Rose and Ethel, classy girls in a refined singing and dancing act, and Dean, Dale and Dean, in the laughable skit, "Just Married."

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

In answer to Councilman Graves' communication in the Daily Press of May 5 in which he defends the purchase of the $32,000 city hall plot, would state for his benefit in regard to his being a slick one, no one who read the article will be of that opinion, according to views I have heard expressed. The juvenile statement about putting gold leaf on his hammer is too much like a nursery rhyme for grownup people to discuss. The statement about the dead one and the cemetery signed by a man named Graves is too spookish to write about.

Since Councilman Graves has brought up the subject about the Mayor giving 75 per cent. of his valuable time to the city, I would like to ask Mr. Graves if the Mayor had given about 5 per cent. of his time to the purchase of the city hall plot and left it to three disinterested commissioners to fix a price on the plot, according to the law governing purchasing property for public improvement the same as they do in Plainfield where the amount involved is $500 or $1,000, but not where the amount is $32,000, if he don't think the city would be $7,000 or $9,000 better off by so doing? Better still, Councilman Graves, if you and the Mayor could not see your way clear to put the city hall where a majority of the taxpayers think it belongs, namely, near the business section, where there is several desirable properties, then why not have built it in the city park, thereby saving $32,000. Splendid plot and I cannot see where a building more costly than our postoffice would have hurt the neighborhood.

Another deal, Councilman Graves, that was "put over" since you have been councilman, if I am not mistaken, and I think the present Mayor was councilman at the same time, was the purchase of the $10,000 sewer farm for $36,000. I base my price on the good farm land that was for sale in that neighborhood for $100 per acre, while the sewer farm was mostly swamp land under water at times. Have you noticed, Mr. Councilman, how much the Middlesex assessors have increased the assessed value since you and the present Mayor voted for that amount to be paid for the land? For fear that it has slipped your mind I will state it here, from $7,000, when the farmer owned it, to $27,000 since you and the Mayor voted to purchase it at that bargain counter price. Why didn't you have it appraised and condemned same as you did for the right of way where only a small amount of money was involved? Lots of taxpayers think we should have gone to tidewater.

Another strange proceedings in regard to that purchase was the fact that the Darling farm had been talked of for two or three years, but the price was kept out of the newspapers until March 5, 1914. Then the price $36,000 was given to the taxpayers and before they got through gasping the Council had a meeting on or about March 1 and paid a deposit of $5,000 on account. Quick work after the price was made public, wasn't it, Mr. Councilman? A large number of taxpayers think you was lead in Mr. Graves by trusting to the judgment of others.

Don't you think, Mr. Graves, it would have taken quite some responsibility off of your shoulders if you had appraised and condemned the land as you had a perfect right to do? I might be wrong as to your being a councilman in 1914. If I am I hereby humbly apologize. I am several miles from Plainfield and have only to trust to memory as to your term of office. Have lots more to remind the officials of, but will close until some one comes back at me. It seems the motto has been changed to "Do It to Plainfield."

F. W. BIRD

Detroit, Mich., May 10, 1916.

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

In newspapers lately I have noticed a common fallacy in regard to the operation of the Stephens' Standard Price Bill—that it will apply to all merchandise. The truth of the matter is that only a small part of a retailer's stock will be affected, as the legislation covers only standard trade-marked goods.

Another mistaken conception which opponents of standard price laws have is that such a system of merchandising would be impractical for goods of a perishable nature. The supporters of this notion overlook the fact that the bill is permissive and not mandatory. No producer need come under the protection of its provisions unless he desires to do so. Undoubtedly much confusion of thought is caused by failure to bear in mind all the time the fact that the Stephens Bill is only expected to specifically cover standard articles of national reputation which are used as "bait" to democratize trade—such articles as a rule have a steady volume of sale.

SAMUEL ROTHBERG.

MAY 12 IN HISTORY.

1621—First weding in the Plymouth Colony took place, uniting Edward Winslow and Susanna White.

1789—Tammany Society was formed in New York.

1809—Napoleon captured Vienna, the capital of Austria.

1820—Birthday of Florence Nightingale, heroine of the Crimea, known as the greatest nurse in history; she died in 1910.

1870—Province of Manitoba formed.

1874—Women admitted to degrees by the University of London.

1894—Torpedo boat Ericsson, first war vessel built in inland waters, was launched at Dubuque, Iowa.

1914—Premier Asquith pledges government to amend home rule bill if measure becomes a law.

1914—Popular elections of U. S. Senators provided in bill passed by U. S. Senate.

1915—THE WAR.

Bryce Commission reported on German atrocities in Belgium.

French retain new positions north of Arras, in face of heavy fire.

Austrians cross the River San and claim Russians in rout.

British battleship Goliath torpedoed and sunk at Dardanelles; 500 lives lost.

British submarine penetrates the straits and sinks three Turkish ships.

General Botha captures Windhoek, capital of German Southwest Africa.

Dr. Dernburg "sent home;" sailed with British safe conduct.

Minneapolis.—Prof. Elmer E. Stoll, of the English department of the University, has been granted a year's absence to allow him to complete a book on Shakespeare. He already has spent several years on the work. Prof. Carleton Brown, head of the English department at Bryn Mawr, is to take his place.

The John Wanamaker Store

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co.

Broadway at Ninth, New York.

Open All Day Saturday---Take Subway Direct to Store

Children's Silk Coats Reduced

Were $25 and $30, now $18.50.
Were $13.50 to $15, now $9.75.

Some of the very smartest silk coats that have been shown this season.

These sweet, simple little taffetas and silk poplins lined with light silk, have been kept in our dust-proof cases and are fresh and new now, just when they are needed for these semi-warm days. All sizes in this collection, 2 to 6 years.

Babies' first short white coats are $3.95 to $15, were $5 to $20.

White cashmeres, silks and crepe de chine. All prettily hand-embroidered

Children's hats down, too; pretty flower and ribbon trimmed hats, quaint and becoming.

Almost every wanted color, $3.50, were $7.50; $5, were $10.
For children up to 6 years.
Third floor, Old Building.

New Clothes for A Lot of Boys

In 7 to 18 years sizes.

Blue serge suits with extra knickers; patch pockets, 3-piece belt; pleated, plain or pinch backs, $7.50 to $15.

Shepherd check suits, $10.50 to $15.
Fancy mixture suits, $7.50 to $17.50.

Long trousers suits in 16 to 20 years sizes, $10.50 to $16.50.

Mixtures, homespuns, $10.50 upward. Blue serge, $11.

Wash Norfolk suits, knicker trousers, $4.50.

Linen crash, white duck, khaki. Palm Beach suits, special, $5.50. Wash knickers, 95c to $1.25. Long trousers, white duck, khaki, $1.50.
Burlington Arcade floor, New Building.

$1 Handbags in New Fashions

Plenty of the much-wanted envelope bags in black or colored morocco.

Soft leather bags with velvet finish; Spring shades and daintily etched frames.

Black morocco bags with same pretty frames.

Good crepe grain shopping, black only.

Pale gray and fawn leather pouch bags. Same model in black silk moire.

Draw-string bags, newest shapes, in black or pompadour silk.

All $1.
Main floor, Old Bldg.

A Rare Offering of 200 Women's Silk Dresses

Newly in today.
Saturday, $32.50 each.

The same sort of dresses we have been selling since May came, at $45 to $67.50.

They are the unavoidable surplus of a large manufacturer who is now busy on summer cottons; a manufacturer noted for detail of finish and for embroideries.

There are lovely taffetas of substantial texture, plain, stripes, over-plaids, panels, checks, combined with crepe Georgette.

The completeness of the work on each dress is remarkable; picot edges, quaint fluting on organdie collar, fine hemstitching, facings—such as this one of rose silk under the hem of a fancy over-plaid skirt; velvet trimmings; metal laces; fancy chiffon; moire ribbons.

To give the color effect desired, one dress has an under-skirt of white charmeuse with panel of orange; over that a blue chiffon skirt; then an over-tunic of navy taffeta, banded, and beautifully flowing.

They are individual dresses, only one or two of a kind. A rare offering.
Second floor, Old Building.

At Last--the May Disposal In the Millinery Salons

Hundreds and hundreds of lovely trimmed hats will be repriced on Saturday. It is impossible to give an idea of the variety, but this we can say.

The hats are so absolutely charming and so different that we cannot imagine a woman's coming and not finding a hat that will be very flattering.

Every shape, of course, large and small.

Colors to match or contrast with any costume.

Flowers, wings, ribbons and novelty trimmings, and all the fashionable straws.

$12 to $15 hats, now $9.
$14 hats, now $8.
$9.50 and $10 hats, now $6.
$7 and $8 hats, now $5.

Moderate-Priced Millinery Salons, First floor, Old Building.

Sale of Charming Frocks for Young Women

150 New Dresses, $20

Our $25 to $35 grades.

Foulards, taffetas, pongee sports dresses with striped skirts, and some novelty chiffon and taffeta models. Odd sizes 14 to 20 years.

The Reduced Dresses

22, now $15.
30, now $17.50.
30, now $22.50.

Broken sizes 14 to 20 years. Suitable for street wear now without a coat, or for afternoon affairs. Some smart crepe de chine coat dresses for country club wear. $22.50.

Other Dresses

Cotton voiles, batiste, net, light colored Georgettes, taffetas and crepe de chine, cotton gabardine, linen and pongee.

Suits at Less

70 suits at $10, were $20.

80 suits at $16.50, were $25 and $28.50.

99 suits at $25 and $29.75, were $32.50 to $39.50.

Broken sizes 14 to 20 years.

Corduroy suits, special $10.

Fillette suits (sizes 12 to 16 years), $12.75 and $15, were $18.75 and $20.

Second floor, Old Building.

The John Wanamaker Store

W. & J. SLOANE

BRUSSELS CARPETS

Easy to Sweep—Durable—Inexpensive

These are the three important characteristics of the Brussels weave that make it such a sanitary, economical and satisfactory floor covering for Spring and Summer use in all the living rooms of the house.

The same quality commends Brussels Carpet for year-round use where exposure to dust and hard wear is inevitable, such as for Halls, Stairs, Bedrooms and Nurseries.

In addition to these practical features, our Brussels Carpets are shown in a Wide Variety of Artistic, New Effects and Colorings which are characterized by a degree of excellence quite unusual in such moderately priced floor coverings.

We exercise the greatest care in measuring, making-up and laying Carpets and guarantee satisfactory workmanship.

Prices $1.25 per yard, upward

FIFTH AVENUE & 47TH STREET, NEW YORK

The shopper may often reduce the VALUE-GETTING POWER of her dollar to fifty cents—simply through neglecting to read the ads, or to know values—and by buying at "the nearest place."

"Shake, shake, hazel tree, gold and silver over me."

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Bluebird Proves to Be a Good Friend.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

"WE'RE all ready, daddy!" cried the children as soon as he set down. So he told them how Ashputtel went to the king's ball on its second night. "When Ashputtel went in, all dressed in her charming frock that her friend, the bluebird, had brought her, the king's son was waiting to dance with her, just as he had the first night. He took her by the hand and led her out on the floor, and when any other prince wanted to dance with her he said, 'Sir, this is my partner!'

"Long after midnight Ashputtel wanted to go home, and the king's son followed her, just as he had the first night. He wanted to know where she lived. But when they reached her father's house she sprang away from the prince. In the garden stood a fine large pear tree full of ripe fruit. Not knowing where else to hide, Ashputtel jumped up into the pear tree without the prince seeing her in the dark. When he could not find her he waited till her father came home from the ball and said, 'The unknown lady who danced with me has slipped away again, and I think she must have jumped up in that pear tree.'

"'Can it be Ashputtel?' thought her father. So they fetched an ax, and the prince helped him cut down the tree. But they found no one in it. And when they went into the kitchen there lay Ashputtel among the ashes, for she had slipped down the pear tree when they went for the ax, carried her beautiful clothes back to her bluebird in the hazel tree and put on her little gray frock.

"The next day her father, stepmother and stepsisters all went to the last day of the king's feast. So Ashputtel ran to her hazel tree and called:

"'Shake, shake, hazel tree,
Gold and silver over me!'

"Then her good friend, the bluebird, brought her a gown even more beautiful than the others she had worn and slippers of gold instead of silver. So that when Ashputtel went to the ball she looked lovelier than any girl there. Every time any guest asked to dance with her the prince said, 'Sir, this lady is dancing with me.'

"When it came time for Ashputtel to go home the prince said, 'I will not lose her this time.'

"But Ashputtel managed to slip away from him when he was looking for something, though in her hurry she dropped one of her golden slippers on the stairs," daddy ended, with a smile.

"Oh, daddy, Ashputtel is Cinderella!" cried Evelyn.

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

Butterflies are Pretty, but Their Utility is Very Doubtful.

"Don't take off your hat. We will have to go to the hotel or restaurant for dinner," exclaimed Ethel Gordon, dropping her book and peeping into the glass over the mantel to give her hair a final pat.

"What are we celebrating today?" asked Ralph, holding his hat in one hand and scratching his head with a puzzled air.

"I don't know; certainly not our independence. The maid on which we leaned has proved to be a broken reed. She took the morning train to Milwaukee."

"What!"

"Ethel, I told you you would lose her if you did not show her more consideration," exclaimed Ralph with heat.

"I would not have believed you would be guilty of saying 'I told you so,' Ralph Gordon," Ethel retorted angrily. "She was an impudent old thing, anyway, and I had rather get along without her than take her insolence."

"You said you could not get along; that you did not know how to cook." Ralph put his hands in his pockets and began pacing excitedly up and down the room.

"I do not believe the species is extinct. I will write to mother to get me a good maid; meanwhile I will have a little girl to wash dishes and——"

"It takes a person who understands housework to train a raw foreign girl." Ralph's tone was gloomy. "And meanwhile we are to eat at that abominable hotel or the still more intolerable restaurant."

"Who was it that insisted on coming to this heathenish place, I should like to know? I protested against it. I wanted to live in a city where I could have the comforts of civilization."

"How childish! One would think I had stubbornly refused to listen to your preference for the city. Most women are intelligent enough to realize that their husbands must go where their business interests call them. Insisted, indeed!" In his march to and fro he approached the hall door and stopped, looking across into the dining room. "I see you have the table set," he remarked sarcastically, as he saw breakfast cups and coffee urn standing where they had been left when they finished the morning meal.

"I expected Mrs. Morton would send the little girl she spoke of. I ran over and told her of my dilemma as soon as Minnie left. Her girl had not yet come, but she promised to let me know as soon as she did what the prospect was. She telephoned not long ago that a little girl would come in the morning. She had sent her maid to find one."

"It was certainly very kind of her," replied Ralph, "but couldn't you even clear off the table and wash the dishes?"

"I could, yes; but I did not see the necessity of doing it. The girl might come any minute. I certainly do not enjoy dabbling in dishwater."

"Oh, I see. You confine your activities to what you enjoy. That is pleasant." The sneer in Ralph's tone was unmistakable.

"I think you are horrid!" flamed his wife.

"Well, if we have to eat at that hotel we must be going. Are you ready?" Ralph seized his hat and they started down the walk in sullen silence.

(To be continued.)

THE WOMAN'S COLUMN

New York—With the great biennial of the Federation of Women's Clubs only two weeks away, the clubwomen of this city are busy completing the details of the elaborate arrangements being made for the great gathering. Reservations have been made by thousands of women, and a record-breaking convention is assured. The formal reception by the clubwomen of New York to their guests will be held in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, Mrs. Charles S. Whitman Mrs. John P. Mitchel, Mrs. William Cumming Story, Mrs. E. H. Harriman and other prominent New York women will be in the reception line.

Chicago—The suffragists will be here in force during the Republican National Convention, and it is certain that they will make a strong bid for recognition in the platform of the party. A monster parade is planned for the convention date, June 7. Whoever is nominated for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency will be button-holed on the suffrage amendment question. The same program will be carried out in St. Louis to impress the Democratic Convention with the strength of the suffrage movement.

Washington—That the Indian of a century and a quarter ago took a more prominent part in the solemn functions of government than do the white women of today was one of the interesting points brought out in connection with a controversy now before the Supreme Court for settlement. The decision of the court will cover the validity of a treaty made with the Seneca Nation in 1798 by John Adams, President of the United States. Thomas Morris, who had charge of the negotiation of the treaty wrote: "It is an ancient custom that when a difference arises among us that it should be referred to the warriors; we, the sachem, have therefore referred this business to the warriors head women." Because "a young king and two squaws are opposed all is at a stand," was another Indian report which he quoted.

New York—Mrs. William A. Gavin, the English woman golf champion, is to compete on American links this summer, and hopes to take the national championship back to England with her next fall. She is perhaps one of the greatest all-round woman athletes in the world. She is a hunter of big game, and often travels through African wilds. She also was the first woman aviator of England.

Detroit—Mlle. Helene Dutrieu, world-famous woman aviator, and one of the few women to wear the decoration of the Legion of Honor of France, is going into the automobile business. She has been here making arrangements to sell Detroit cars in France. Her greatest achievement in the air was the winning of the King of Italy's cup in 1911, when she was pitted against 14 of the most skillful of European aviators.

San Francisco—Driven from two palatial homes in the war zone, Mme. Enrique de Morelos, formerly a Detroit girl, has come to San Francisco to live. She married the secretary of the Spanish Embassy at Washington a few years ago, and has a country home in Hungary and a town house in Paris. So gloomy was it in Paris that she felt she must come to America.

—Going to bend? See Saturday's Press

COOK AND WILSON CIRCUS HERE ONE WEEK FROM TODAY

One of the most interesting experiments ever attempted in the handling of wild animals was recently successfully accomplished in the winter quarters of the Cook & Wilson animal circus at Trenton, N. J. A lioness, known to be of a nervous and excitable disposition, was expected to become the mother of cubs, but owing to her condition it was feared that she would not only injure herself, but also kill the anticipated new arrivals. Dr. Henry Fabian, the veterinarian with the show, who had become greatly interested in the new science of "twilight sleep" in obstetric cases and had given the subject considerable study, determined to utilize the method that had proved so successful with human mothers to alleviate the suffering of the lion mother, and, incidentally, save her offspring from injury.

Fanny, the lioness, was transferred to a small cage where it could be easily handled. The "twilight sleep" was induced just as though the animal was a human mother, three handsome cubs were born, and the mother revived without having created any nervous excitement. For three weeks the lioness and her babies were kept in an isolated cage, where the mother could neither see nor hear anyone except the keeper, with whom she was familiar. As a result, she lost all fear of her babies being taken from her, her natural nervousness was decreased, and today the mother and her cubs are among the most interesting exhibits in the Cook & Wilson zoological display, which will be seen to advantage when this big show exhibits at Arlington avenue and Rose street on Friday, May 19.

It is interesting to learn that, while the Cook & Wilson show is primarily an exhibition of remarkably-trained forest-bred wild beasts, there is also offered a splendid circus performance, with an army of clever acrobats, riders, clowns and other entertainers. A novel street parade will inaugurate the big day.

—Press want ads. pay.

HERR'S SCHOOL
FOR BUSINESS TRAINING
FALL TERM NOW OPEN
Day and Evening Classes
Call, phone (344) or write for full information.
PLAINFIELD BUSINESS COLLEGE
171 East Front Street

OPEN SATURDAY UNTIL 6 P. M.

HEARN

Fourteenth Street New York West of Fifth Avenue

APPAREL AND ACCESSORIES for Women, Misses, Girls and Boys

SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS TOMORROW

A fine large section is devoted exclusively to Babies' Wear in which many needfuls are specially featured for Babies' Week

Coats, Blouses and Dresses for Girls

Always something new—especially a superabundance of the very latest in coats, blouses and dresses....There are most girlish models to suit mother's idea of what her daughter ought to wear, and there are jaunty sport suits and other garments, some a trifle mannish, to meet the girl's own demands when she wishes to assume the dignity of years....All the delightfully girlish, the becomingly tailored, are of the finest materials, and have carefully selected trimmings.

Girls' Spring Coats—navy or new blue diagonal serge—belted box models—shepherd check trimming—sizes 8 to 14 yrs—reg. $6.98.....5.00

Girls' Summer Dresses—pretty combinations of floral and plain color lawn—top blouse, perhaps, plain pink; lower blouse and skirt of a floral pattern; the two joined together in smart triangular design—other favorite colors—belted long-waist models—kilted skirts with plain lawn folds—sizes 8 to 14 yrs.....1.49

Girls' White Lawn Blouses—fine quality—becomingly trimmed with pin tucks and pleated frills—sizes 6 to 14 yrs..... .98 and 1.24

Girls' Bloomer Dresses—Good quality gingham—large or small plaids, or stripes—white repp or pique collars, cuffs and belts—sizes 6 to 12 years.....1.98

Girls' Graduation, Communion and Confirmation Dresses—Fine white lawn, organdie, net or crepe de chine—great variety of styles and trimmings—all have white ribbon sashes—sizes 6 to 14 yrs.....1.98 to 17.98
(Some exceptional models of organdie, lawn or net, at $4.98.)

Girls' Pure Wool Sweater Coats—Rose, old rose, soldier blue, cardinal, golf green, Oxford gray—plain or fancy weaves—sizes 6 to 14 yrs.....2.98

LAST DAY

Manufacturers' Close-Out Purchase

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

for Women and Children.

Make your selections tomorrow if you have not yet filled your Underwear Needs—fabrics, laces and embroideries are growing scarcer day by day, and the time is not far distant when it will be impossible to duplicate values like these:

Corset Covers—nainsook—reg. .29......19
Corset Covers—nainsook or cambric—reg. .39......28
Corset Covers—reg. .59......45
Drawers—muslin and cambric......19
Drawers—nainsook—reg. .49......34
Drawers—reg. .59......46
Night Dresses—reg. .59......38
Daintiest Night Dresses—reg. $1.69.....1.24
Petticoats—reg. .79......65
Petticoats—white or flesh—reg. $1.25......94
Petticoats—some have laces and ribbon—reg. $2.69.....1.94
Envelope Chemises—reg. .59......38
Envelope Chemises—reg. .79......64
Envelope Chemises—reg. $1.29......92
Combinations—nainsook—reg. .98......68
Combinations—nainsook—reg. $1.39......94
Combinations—nainsook—val. $2.69.....1.94
Extra Size Night Dresses—nainsook and cambric—reg. .79......46
Extra Size Petticoats—reg. $1.25......95
Extra Size Drawers—reg. .49......38
Extra Size Corset Covers—round neck—reg. .29......19
Children's Cambric Drawers—emb'y ruffle and tucks—2 to 14 years—reg. .29......18
CHILDREN'S PETTICOATS—cambric—4 to 16 yrs.—reg. .49......38

Saturday Special in WOMEN'S SILK HOSE

Seconds of 98 ct. quality. .59

Black, white and colors—lisle sole and garter top—high spliced heel—slight imperfections, not affecting wear.

Women's White Lisle Hose—double sole, heel, toe and garter tops—.39 or 4 pr. for 1.45

Women's White Silk Hose—double sole, heel, toe and garter tops...1.50

Women's White Silk Hose—black clocks—.98, 1.49, 1.98 and 2.49

Welcome to the comfortable low shoe and pump! You will want the smartest and most serviceable hosiery you can get to wear with them.

Manuf'rs' Close Out of Leather Hand Bags

Styles and Sizes for Women, Misses and Children

Valuues .39 to $1.25—because fo Special Purchase .29

Velvet, Morocco, Goat, Crepe and Seal Grains—Various sizes and styles—Chain, Cord and Leather handles—also in this lot Music Rolls—Black, Tan, Brown and Alligator Grain.

Manicuring ......35
Facial Massage ......35
Women's Shampooing ......50
Children's Shampooing ......25
Childrens Hair Cutting ......25
Hair Tonic .10 extra

By Experts in Special Dep't. on Third Floor, 14th St. Side.

BOYS' EXTRA TROUSERS SUITS—

Values to $12.00—
Our Every-day Price, $9.98—Special, to-morrow.....
9 to 18 years. 8.00

Splendidly Tailored—Patch Pocket Fronts and every other up-to-date model in leading smart fabrics, including Cassimeres, Worsteds, Cheviots, Velours, Homespuns, etc.—all have 3-pc. belts—knicker trousers fully lined—taped seams—Checks, Plaids, Mixtures, Twills, Herringbones and Stripes—the best value to be found anywhere—exceptional display.

Also, These Special Saturday Items:

Boys' Graduation Suits—Pure Worsted Navy Serges—wales of various widths and various shades of Navy—an exhaustive variety of newest and best liked models—some have extra trousers—8 to 18 years.
Our regular $9.98 Suits—every one of them tom'w 8.00

Extra Trouser Suits—Cassimeres, Wool Crashes, Homespuns, Cheviot—newest Stripes, Plaids, Checks and Fancies in fine array of best liked colorings—well lined and very well tailored—8 to 17 years—match this value if you can.
Regularly $7.98—Tomorrow, Saturday..... 6.00

MORNING SPECIALS—Tomorrow, Saturday, Until 1 P. M.

To prevent dealers buying, quantities restricted. No Mail or Telephone Orders.

$6.98 Boys' Suits.....4.95
8 to 18 yrs.—variety of new Spring Norfolk models — smart checks, plaids, mixtures and novelties—wool crashes, homespuns, cheviots and cassimeres—majority with extra trousers.
BOYS' CLOTHING—THIRD FLOOR.

$9.98 Young Men's Suits.....7.65
Two and three button sack styles—cheviots, worsteds, cassimeres, new checks, plaids and fancies—to 37 chest.
YOUNG MEN'S DEPT.—THIRD FLOOR.

79 ct. Men's Soft Shirts......64
Repps, poplins and fancy weaves—neat colored stripes on white grounds—soft cuffs—sizes 13½ to 17 neck.
MEN'S FURNISHINGS—MAIN FLOOR.

Men's Balbriggan Underwear......33
Seconds of 49 ct. quality—shirts, short sleeves—drawers, double seats, strap backs—all sizes.
MEN'S UNDERWEAR—MAIN FLOOR.

24 & 29 ct. Women's Lisle Vests......18
Low neck—sleeveless—neatly finished—regular and extra sizes.
WOMEN'S UNDERWEAR—MAIN FLOOR.

24 ct. Boys' Balbriggan Underwear.....15
Shirts, high neck, short sleeves—knee drawers—also white athletic shirts and drawers—all sizes.
BOYS' UNDERWEAR—MAIN FLOOR.

98 ct. Girls' Tub Dresses......69
Prettiest large and small plaids—smart belted models with kilted skirts—sizes 6 to 14 years.
GIRLS' DEPT.—SECOND FLOOR.

39 & 49 ct. Children's Slip-on Night Dresses......29
Embroidery and lace trimmed—ribbon run—sizes 1 to 14 yrs.
CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR—SECOND FL.

29 & 35 ct. New Ribbons......22
White, black and colors, also pretty Dresdens—satins, plain and moire taffetas—sash or millinery widths.
RIBBONS—MAIN FLOOR.

$16.98 & $19.98 Misses' & Junior Suits....10.75
Wool poplin and checked worsteds smart models in navy, green, rookie, and black and white or black and brown checks—14 to 18 yrs.
MISSES' DEPARTMENT—SECOND FLOOR.

98 ct. Women's Middy Blouses......72
Attractive styles, with blazer stripes—white or plain color—braid trimmed collars and cuffs—with or without belts—well made—sizes 34 to 44.
BLOUSES—SECOND FLOOR.

$3.98 Women's Trimmed Hats.....2.69
Sports and tailored styles of black and most wanted colors—newest shapes—large and small for sports and street wear—latest novelty trimmings included.
MILLINERY—THIRD FLOOR.

$1.94 Untrimmed Hats.....1.25
Milan hemps and lisere straws in best large, small and medium shapes—black, white and colors.
Trimmed free if materials are purchased here.
MILLINERY—THIRD FLOOR.

$1.24 Women's Black Silkstuff Petticoats .77
Lustrous, rustling quality—pleated shirred flounces—all lengths—mfr's guarantee 1 year.
PETTICOATS—SECOND FLOOR.

$1.25 Corsets......84
Light weight coutil—medium or high bust—long hip—19 to 30.
CORSETS—SECOND FLOOR.

$5.98 & $6.98 Pure Wool Blankets..4.50
66x80 in. — white with colored borders, also plaids, in pink, blue, tan or gray and white combinations—also red and black—ribbon binding.
BLANKETS—BASEMENT.

29 ct. Students' University Loose Leaf Note Books....12½
Black covers with red bindings—round nickel rings—110 sheets of paper—very special.
STATIONERY—THIRD FLOOR.

Clock Signs Denote Morning Specials. Look for the Clocks! Look for the Clocks!

The spot-light of full publicity, turned on a store, reveals and places in that full light a store's defects—if it have defects. For example: If high prices prevail, or lines of goods are not kept up to date, the reader of the store advertisements knows it. It follows that advertising "pays" the store that renders real service—and would not pay the other kind of a store.

SPORT TOPICS

Queries--Comment--Answers

Note: Proof that the return to this feature has been a popular one is evidenced by the large number of queries that have come through the mail during the last two days. A big stack is now at hand and every possible effort will be made to answer them as soon as possible. All queries will be answered in the order received and it may take two and possibly three days to secure some of the information desired.

Query—Will you give me the name of the secretary of the New York National League baseball club and his mailing address?—Fan.

Answer—John B. Foster, 200 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Query—How many days off a month do the firemen in Plainfield get? Do they have to sleep at the firehouse the year around, or do they alternate like the policemen?—C. B. H.

Answer—The firemen get one day off, from 8 o'clock one morning until eight the next, every six days. Except on days off and during the summer vacations they are required to sleep at the houses.

Query—Does the city street department take charge of the street sprinkling in Plainfield or does an outside firm do the work?—J. K.

Answer—The work is let out by contract each year.

Query—Does a jitney driver have to have a special car and driver's license to operate one of these cars in Plainfield?—N. M.

Answer—He certainly does. See the mayor before going into the jitney business.

Query—Will Barnum and Bailey show here this year?—H. H.

Answer—Newark is the nearest the Barnum and Bailey show will get to Plainfield.

Query—A says there is no member of the famous "Big Six" Common Council still living. B says there are two. Who is right—K. U. P.

Answer—Neither is right. Arthur Gallup is the only living member.

Query—Will local labor be employed on the contract for the new city hall?—H. T.

Answer—Presumably; but you never can tell definitely about these matters until you see to whom the contract is awarded.

Query—Where will the mass meeting of postmen be held in connection with the annual convention here on May 30?—M. K.

Answer—The Citizens' Committee has a number of sites in view, but the most logical selection is the open air theatre at East Front street and Watchung avenue.

THREE TEAMS HAVE WON ALL TO DATE

City League Standing Divided Into Two Distinct Classes With Wins and Losses.

CITY LEAGUE STANDING.

	W.	L.	Pc.
Netherwood	2	0	1.000
Baptists	2	0	1.000
Hope	2	0	1,000
T. A. B. S.	0	2	.000
Clinton Ave.	0	2	.000
Farmers	0	2	.000

Schedule Tomorrow:

Farmers A. C. at First Baptist; T. A. B. S. at Hope Chapel; Clinton Avenue at Netherwood.

City Baseball Leaguers will start on the third round of their season's schedule tomorrow afternoon, three good contests having been booked up in three different parts of the city. At the present time three teams have clean slates, and three have dropped a brace of contests. In tomorrow's contests three games could be lost and three won, but the standings would remain the same as the trio in the second place are scheduled to line up against the combines having clean records.

The First Baptist, Hope Chapel and Netherwood diamonds will be in use tomorrow afternoon, and it is a foregone conclusion that the program will prove an interesting one at all three places.

"ATHLETICS WORKED WONDERS FOR U. S.," DECLARES "FATHER OF AMERICAN SPORT"

Harry E. Buermeyer.

"Athletics has worked wonders for America; the sport has made our men better physically, morally and mentally. From a weak, under-sized narrow-chested people to a strong, healthy and agile race has been the transformation since the American youth took up athletics fifty years ago." This is the opinion, recently expressed, of Harry E. Buermeyer, "Father of American Athletics," who is hale and hearty at seventy-six.

Seen and Heard on the Street

Unsuspecting boy, victim of a practical joker, making the rounds of the painting contractors yesterday asking for estimates on the probable cost of painting the roof of Mike Shannon's Airdome.

"Ike" Eliott, noticed on Watchung avenue Wednesday afternoon making a powerful attempt not to appear self-conscious in the first cap he had worn in forty years.

Young man from the east end, overbalanced because of his carrying a load of "German Joy," trying hard to mount bicycle at Front street and Par kavenue, a day or two ago. After several unsuccessful attempts he gave it up for a bad job and walked away leading the bicycle beside him.

Enlisted man, home on a furlough, telling the following to a friend on Front street yesterday, when asked what the American soldiers are doing in Mexico: "Spending one hour a day looking for Villa; hunting for water five hours, and spending the rest of the day searching for U. S. aviators, reported among the missing."

Descriptive but somewhat misleading red-lettered poster displayed conspicuously about town serving as a horrible example of what wrongful interpretation can be gained by not inserting periods or commas at the proper place: Hear Dr Biederwolf's masterpiece—Booze—Free at the Tabernacle, Sunday afternoon.

She was a pleasant-faced matron in whose hair the first gray streaks of age could be plainly seen and she was occupying an aisle seat at the Tabernacle a few nights ago. After Dr. iBederwolf had made his plea for "trail hitters," a personal worker, barely twenty-one years old, approached the motherly-looking woman and asked: "Are you a Christian?" "Oh, yes," she replied, with just a shade of a smile spreading over her features, "something like thirty years before you were born."

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS SEND DEFY THIS WAY

Bloomer Girls' Baseball Team Wants to Meet a Local Aggregation.

Here's a challenge received by this office today:

"As we are touring the United States and expect to play near your town, owing to the fact that there are so many ball clubs throughout the country that it would be impossible for us to reach them all by letter, we would ask you to please insert the following in the sporting column of your valuable paper.

"The Metropolitan Bloomer Girls, champion female baseball team of the world, is now ready to book games with any first-class semi-professional male team offering a reasonable guarantee or percentage of the gate receipts. This team is composed of all-star female ball players and the only one in the country with a female battery. Address Martin Grady, manager, 191 Sixth avenue, New York."

NO TROUBLE FOR LEAL SCHOOLBOYS TO WIN

The Leals Juniors had little trouble defeating the Morristown Juniors yesterday, the score of the tussle being 18 to 4. The contending parties lined up as follows:

Leals Juniors—Martin 3b, Davies 1b, Zielie p, Mygatt c, Charles rf, Morrison 2b, Nichols ss, Crossing lf, Iremonger cf.

Morristown Juniors—Grant 2b, La Shelle c, Laurie cs, Plum 1b, Woodbridge cf, Yodd 3b, Condest p, Grawam lf, Bensil rf.

N. P. H. S. FOE SCORES NO HIT, NO RUN VICTORY

Jake Deinzer, the Rutgers Prep pitcher, who is one of North Plainfield High School's hardest foes to face, Wednesday reached the height to which all baseball pitchers aspire and struggle for. Deinzer yielded not a hit to the Pennington Academy team that beat Plainfield High School Saturday, throughout the stretch of nine innings; he backed up this effectiveness with wonderful control, not an opponent reaching first on free transportation. Behind the distinguished pitching of the local boy, the Rutgers Prep nine played errorless ball.

Briefly, not a Pennington man reached first base. In no hit games, sometimes there is doubt existing over a hit or error. But the Prep slinger gave no room for doubt, and he was helped out by his team mates, who strived, and with success, to make the slate clean for the pitcher.

INDIANS MAY BE UNBEATEN.

Fred Tenny, manager of the Newark Indians, received a telegram from Baltimore yesterday saying that Joe Brown, who pitched when Rochester defeated Newark by a score of 10 to 0 last Thursday, has admitted that he is Joe Lebate, under suspension by the Durham Club, of the Carolina League. Jim Rice, president of the Newark Club, has protested the game on the ground that Lebate was not eligible to pitch, and it is quite possible that the protest will be allowed. This would give Newark a clean slate, as only one game has been lost to date.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

TWO QUEEN CITY GOLFERS IN MEET

Wheeler and Liscomb in Qualifying Rounds at Ardsley on the Hudson.

Two Plainfield golfers—C. E. Liscomb and T. S. Wheeler—competed yesterday afternoon in the qualifying round of the invitation golf tourney at the Ardsley Club at Ardsley on the Hudson. Liscomb returned a card of 45-49-94, and Wheeler came in with 49-46-95.

A high wind was the rock on which expectations were shattered.. It was freely forecasted that a seventy-five would win the medal and that there would be any number of scores better than eighty, but as it turned out, the field of 123 was led with a score of seventy-seven, and there were only three in all who had the attachment of a seven to the front part of their totals.

John G. Anderson, of Siwanoy, runner-up last year as well as in 1913 for the national amateur championship title, was the medal winner, his score of 77 being made up of a forty-two for the first nine holes and a thirty-five for the incoming half of the course. By his fine incoming play, Mr. Anderson ousted Gardiner W. White, of Flushing, L. I., from the lead by one stroke, Mr. White having half-way summations of forty and thirty-eight. He had a slice of ill-luck on the sixteenth, and only for his ball bouncing into the rough from a bad "kick" he would at least have tied for the medal.

WONDERFUL RECORD OF FEMININE ATHLETE

Madison, Wis., May 12.—The world's champion woman baseball thrower is a pretty co-ed, and wears the cardinal of the University of Wisconsin. Miss Gladys E. Palmer, of Oak Park, Ill., brought this title to the Badger institution when, in an official test, she hurled a regulation baseball 227 feet 3 inches, or 9 feet 3 inches farther than the best existing mark.

A few days before trying for the world's record, Miss Palmer shattered the intercollegiate mark, formerly held by a student at Vassar, by 14½ feet. She has, in an unofficial trial, thrown a baseball 240 feet.

The new champion is president of the Woman's Athletic Association of the university, and a third-year student in letters and science. She says she is going to be a professional athletic coach.

SCHOTT WILL QUIT HOPE TO PITCH AT HOPEWELL

Dick Schott, who has gained the reputation of being the best hurler in the City Baseball League, will leave Hope Chapel on May 29 to resume his mound duties with the Hopewell semi-professional aggregation. Schott, who is a brother of Adam Schott, the veteran Clinton Avenue and Plainfield Baseball Club outfielder, signed a contract to twirl for Hopewell the latter part of last season and his recall this year indicates that he made good in the initial trials.

While only a youngster, Schott has made an enviable record for himself in local amateur baseball circles and he has proven himself a world of strength in the Chapel fold. He has a choice assortment of curves and plenty of steam and combines good baseball sense with the mixture.

PLAINFIELD WOMEN TAKE INITIAL VICTORY

Golfers Defeat Glen Ridge Team Playing on Country Club's Links.

Cranford defeated Westfield by 9 to 1, Hackensack accounted for Montclair by 7 to 3, and Plainfield won from Glen Ridge by 8 to 3 yesterday in the team competition under the auspices of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association. In each case the home side was successful.

The summary:

CRANFORD.

Mrs. L. L. Blake	3
Mrs. F. D. Ryan	3
Mrs. T. S. Stevens	3
Mrs. Crary	0
Total	9

WESTFIELD.

Mrs. A. E. Matlach	0
Mrs. J. H. Drake	0
Mrs. W. H. Davis	0
Mrs. A. E. Keller	1
Total	1

Played at Cranford.

HACKENSACK.

Mrs. T. F. B. Nielson	1
Mrs. C. F. Uebelacker	0
Mrs. T. H. Thomas	3
Mrs. J. C. Barclay	3
Total	7

MONTCLAIR.

Mrs. F. E. Donohoe	0
Mrs. R. O. Smith	3
Mrs. A. C. Aborn	0
Mrs. R. B. Neff	0
Total	3

Played at Hackensack.

PLAINFIELD.

Miss L. Loizeaux	2
Mrs. U. R. Conrad	0
Mrs. A. MacDonald	3
Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, Jr.	3
Total	8

GLEN RIDGE.

Mrs. J. Sands	0
Mrs. E. C. Koempel	3
Miss M. Masson	0
Miss H. Finckel	0
Total	3

Played at Plainfield.

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.

Elks' Billiard Tourney.

Woodbridge at Plainfield (tennis).

Tomorrow.

N. P. H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

Plainfield A. A. at First Baptist.

T. A. B. S. at Hope

Clinton Avenue at Netherwood

Elks' billiard tourney.

Monday.

Central H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Tuesday.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Wednesday.

Elks' billiard tourney.

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Thursday.

Rutgers Prep at P. H. S. (Parker Field).

Seton Hall Prep at N. P. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

SCHOOL MERMAIDS OF CITY WIN OUT

Athletic Misses of P. H. S. Appear in New Role and Show up Well.

Plainfield High School girls' swimming team started off with a close and well-deserved win over the girls' team of South Side High School, Newark, yesterday afternoon in the local High School pool, by a score of 26 to 23. It was the first time P. H. S. girls have ever had a swimming meet, and, enthused by their success, they are now going to arrange contests with other neighboring schools.

The results were as follows: 20-yard dash—Miny Taylor, P. H. S., first; Gertrude Seigel, S. S., second; Emily White, P. H. S., third. Diving for form—Ruth Thomas, P. H. S., first; Anne Seigel, S. S., second; Helen Smith, S. S., tied for second. yard dash—Miny Taylor, P. H. S., first; Lillian Osterwill, S. S., and Helen Smith, s s., tied for second. Plunge—Miny Taylor, P. H. S., first; Mary Simmonds, P. H. S., second; Margaret Schiller, S. S., third. Diving for object—Ruth Thomas, P. H. S., first; no second or third. Relay, each girl swimming twenty yards—Won by South Side with Helen Smith, Anne Seigel, Lillian Osterweil and Margaret Schiller. Plainfield team was compose of Ruth Hastings, Emily White, Miny Taylor and Ruth Thomas.

Miss Elsa Palmer, who is acting as manager, has already written to North Plainfield asking the girls to meet them in the tank, and other schools will follow.

CONDITIONS RULING KENNEL CLUB TROPHY

Secretary John J. O'Donohue, of the Plainfield Kennel Club, has notified the members of the local organization of the conditions under which the Plainfield challenge trophy at all A. K. C. shows will be awarded. The Plainfield Kennel Club offers its challenge cup, which is valued at $50, for award at 1917 Westminster Kennel Show to the member securing the highest number of winners' points at A. K. C. shows in the Eastern circuit up to and including that fixture.

A. K. C. ratings will govern the competition, and it is expected that a good-sized entry list will be sent from Plainfield. Interest in the classic is just now beginning to "break," and many canines are being groomed for exhibition at the big event.

QUEEN CITY BALLISTS WILL PLAY AT LINCOLN

The Queen City baseball nine will travel to Lincoln Sunday and meet the fast club of that place. Butler, who had the Highlanders baffled three weeks ago, will be in the box for the locals, while Campbell will hold him up. On first will be Davidson, a star first sacker.

The lineup as follows:

Queen City—Campbell, c; Butler, p; Davidson, 1b; Huston, 2b; W. Mullin, ss; V. Mullin, 3b; M. Kline, lf; B. Semer, cf; Porter, rf.

Lincoln—Burke, c; Pervis, p; Murray, 1b; Bedner, 2b; Huffman, ss; Vogel, 3b; Sofield, lf; Rafferty, cf; Vogt, rf.

—That runny fellow Scoop is on the classified pags

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played In National American and Other Leagues.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Chicago—		R.	H.	E.
Boston	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1	1	7	[illegible]
Chicago	1 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 *	3	9	[illegible]

Rudolph, Ragon, Gowdy; Vaughn, Archer.

At Pittsburgh—		R.	H.	E.
New York	0 0 0 0 0 0 3 0 0	3	7	[illegible]
Pittsburgh	0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0	3	3	[illegible]

Perritt, Stroud, Dooin; Kantlehner, Wilson.

At St. Louis—		R.	H.	E.
Philad'phia	0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 0	3	9	[illegible]
St. Louis	2 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 *	4	5	[illegible]

Chalmers, McQuillan, Burns, Killifer; Ames, Snyder.

At Cincinnati—		R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0	2	8	[illegible]
Cincinnati	0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1	3	5	[illegible]

Cheney, Smith, Miller; Toney, Wingo.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	11	5	.688	Cincinnati	12	12	.500
Boston	11	6	.647	Phila'phia	8	10	.444
Chicago	13	10	.565	Pittsburg	9	15	.375
St. Louis	12	10	.545	New York	5	13	.278

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

At New York—		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0	1	3	[illegible]
New York	0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1	2	5	[illegible]

Faber, Schalk; Cullop, Walters.

At Washington—		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	5	[illegible]
Washington	2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 *	2	7	[illegible]

Wellman, Davenport, Severeid; Gallia, Henry.

At Philadelphia—		R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0	2	3	[illegible]
Philad'phia	0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 1	3	9	[illegible]

Covaleskie, Dubuc, Stanage, Baker, Myers, Schang.

At Boston—		R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	1 0 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 0	5	11	[illegible]
Boston	0 1 2 0 1 0 1 0 0 1	6	10	[illegible]

Mitchell, Hagerman, Bagby, O'Neill; Shore, Mays, Cady, Agnew.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	16	9	.640	Boston	12	12	.500
Wash'ton	13	9	.591	Chicago	12	14	.462
New York	12	10	.545	St. Louis	8	13	.381
Detroit	12	12	.500	Phila'phia	8	14	.364

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Newark—		R.	H.	E.
Buffalo	3 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 3	8	7	[illegible]
Newark	2 0 2 2 1 0 1 3 *	11	12	[illegible]

Bader, Haley, Smallwood, Shwert.

At Providence—		R.	H.	E.
Montreal	0 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 3	6	10	[illegible]
Providence	2 3 0 0 0 5 0 0 *	10	12	[illegible]

Cadore, Madden; Skully, Yelle.

At Baltimore—		R.	H.	E.
Rochester	0 6 1 1 0 9 0 0 0	17	17	[illegible]
Baltimore	2 6 0 2 2 0 0 0 0	13	12	[illegible]

Huenke, Casey; Thormohlen, McAvoy.

Toronto	0 0 1 2 0 0 0 1 2	6	12	[illegible]
Richmond	5 1 0 0 0 0 2 0 *	8	12	[illegible]

Herbert, Kelly; Gleason, O'Donnell.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Newark	10	1	.909	Rochester	5	8	.385
Providence	8	3	.727	Montreal	4	8	.333
Richmond	8	5	.615	Buffalo	4	9	.308
Baltimore	9	6	.600	Toronto	2	10	.167

EASTERN LEAGUE.

At Lawrence—		R.	H.	E.
Lawrence	0 0 2 1 2 0 0 0 7	12	15	[illegible]
New Haven	2 0 7 1 0 0 0 1 0	11	12	[illegible]

Shears, Press, Murphy; Corbett, Alsworth, Chapelle, Soper.

At Portland—		R.	H.	E.
Portland	5 0 0 2 3 0 0 1 *	11	12	[illegible]
Hartford	0 0 0 0 5 0 2 1 0	8	11	[illegible]

Pitt, Martin, Sweatt; Smith, Lyons, Skiff.

At Worcester—		R.	H.	E.
N. London	0 1 1 1 0 4 2 0 3	12	19	[illegible]
Worcester	0 0 3 0 2 0 2 1 0	8	15	[illegible]

Hearne, Fish; McGinley, Scanlon, Tyler

At Lowell—		R.	H.	E.
Lowell	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	4	[illegible]
Bridgeport	0 0 0 0 2 0 2 0 0	4	10	[illegible]

Zieser, Hersey, Kilhullen; Martin, Crooks.

At Lynn—		R.	H.	E.
Springfield	3 0 2 1 0 3 3 0 0	12	17	[illegible]
Lynn	0 1 0 1 4 0 1 0 0	7	9	[illegible]

Leroy, Stephens, Williams, Woodman, Carroll.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
N. Lond'n	9	2	.818	Lowell	6	6	.500
Lawrence	7	4	.636	Bridgep't	6	7	.417
Portland	7	4	.636	N. Haven	4	7	.364
Spr'gfield	6	5	.545	Hartford	3	7	.300
Lynn	6	5	.545	Worcester	2	8	.200

TABS' TALLY CARD.

The T. A. B. S. house tournament has the following games scheduled for tonight: James P. O'Keefe and Guinee vs. Monahan and MacDonald vs. Caffery and Lyons.

P. H. S. ASSISTANT MANAGER.

Percey Stelle, manager of the P. H. S. baseball team, has announced that he has appointed Timothy Loizeaux as assistant manager.

—Until you have canvassed the eaders of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property

MARTIN IS KNOCKING 'EM COLD NOWADAYS

Jack Has Counted for Nine Hits Out of Last Sixteen Trips to the Platter.

Jack Martin has at last found his batting eye. Yes, the same one that was knocked from his makeup by Walter Johnson's "bean-ball," when the Plainfield shortstop was pastiming with the Yankees a few esasons ago. Martin stopped one of the "smoke king's" speeders with his cranium and it laid him low. Since then he has shown a noticeable shyness at the plate—that is, up to the last week.

During the last sixteen times at bat in a Milwaukee American Association uniform, the Plainfielder has recorded nine hits. In a game won by Milwaukee yesterday by a 14 to 8 score against "Rajah" Bresnahan's Toledo outfit, Martin was the whole show from start to finish. His work is best described by Manning Vaughan, a baseball writer living in the Brewers' city. Here's what he has to say about Jack:

"Every man on the club was a real Son of Swat, but Happy Jack Martin led the fiery bombardment with four solid swipes. George Stovall started Kaiserling on the road to ruin in the first inning by fumbling an easy grounder from Jim Thorpe's bat. Martin then started his great afternoon's work by poking a hit through Rawlings on a pretty hit-and-run play.

"Thorpe flashed all the way to third on the tap, and scored when Beall clouted a smoking hit past Gardner. Martin took third on the blow and scored while Devore was being thrown out by Rawlings.

"Adams brought a lot of stuff to the box, but the Brewers nicked him for three more in the fourth after a single by Evans and a double by Perring had given the enemy one in their half. Carichen started to put himself in bad by passing Thorpe. Martin followed with a hit to right, and both counted when Beall laced the sphere to the centerfield seats for a homer.

"There was another assault in the seventh. Gardner opened with a single and scored on Wood's double. In the Milwaukee turn, Clark walked, but the next two men went out. Thorpe bunted safely, however, and then stole second. Martin followed with a double that scored the boss and Indian Jim, and he scored himself when Beall banged out another safety."

Out of five times at bat, Martin counted for four hits, one a two-sacker. He scored three runs, made five assists and was charged with a single error. He has made himself particularly conspicuous by working the hit and run game with Jim Thorpe, the Indian athlete who was brought into the big show by Johnny McGraw.

P. H. S. TENNIS TEAMS MADE A CLEAN SWEEP.

Continuing its unbroken record, the Plainfield High School tennis team made a clean sweep over the tennis team of Woodbridge High School on Parker Field courts yesterday afternoon. The visitors did not win a single match in either the singles or doubles.

The summary follows: Case, P. H. S., won from Campbell, W. H. S., 7-5, 2-6, 6-2; Eggie, P. H. S., beat E. Potter, W. H. S., 6-2, 6-4; Carter, P. H. S., beat B. Potter, W. H. S., 6-0, 6-1. In the doubles, Case and Eggie easily disposed of Campbell and E. Potter, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

(OTHER SPORTING NEWS ON PAGE 11.)

Central Bottling Works
Telephone 229. Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts.
HENRY HAURAND, Prop.
Headquarters for High Grade
Beers, Wines, Liquors and Carbonated Beverages
We carry only reliable goods. Goods with a reputation. Goods that we guarantee and recommend.
Try our Leaders—Plainfield Club, (blend); C. B. W. Monogram, (blend); Elkwood Pure Whiskey, (straight); none better made.
We regret to state that we can not deliver goods in Plainfield, but if you consider quality and prices you will find it will pay you to send for them. We call for empty bottles.

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT
the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.
AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.
MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

FISK QUALITY
FISK BICYCLE TIRES
The Best That Can Be Had.
For Sale by
George L. Simon
179 NORTH AVE. OPP. DEPOT.

Keen Kutter Tools

We have them for all purposes. The garden, farm and all kinds of craftsmen. Each tool is guaranteed by us and backed up by the factory, therefore you can't go wrong. 205 Park Avenue is the right place to buy seeds that grow.

Seeds, Garden Tools, Lawn Mowers, Hose, Wheelbarrows and Fertilizers.

F. A. Kirch & Co.

Phone 578.

DECORATION DAY TRIPS

NIAGARA FALLS $11.40 Round Trip

Tickets good on evening trains, Friday, May 26, all trains, May 27, 28 and 29, including The Black Diamond. Return limit, May 31.

Mauch Chunk & Glen Onoko, May 30 $1.50 Round Trip

Bellewood Park May 30 $1.00 Round Trip

Bring the children. Half fare only.

Special all-steel trains for Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and Bellewood, leave South Plainfield 8:56 a. m.

For tickets and further information apply to Verne Arnts, ticket agent at South Plainfield; or J. F. Andrews, Division Passenger Agent, 211 Market street, Newark.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

The Route of the Black Diamond

M12 24.

HARTDEGEN

Newark's Diamond Centre

GIFTS FOR THE GRADUATE

We have kept the Girl Graduate in mind, as well as the June Bride.

Our provision of dainty gift things in Diamond and Gold Jewelry and Silver Novelties is unusually pleasing. So are the prices.

Don't forget that Hartdegen Wedding Rings are equally attractive in quality and price.

At the Clock Corner

Broad St. at West Park

Newark, N. J.

Member N. J. Retail Jewelers' Association.

Saturday Straw Hat Day

This the Day to Put Them On.

SENNET STRAW
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.50.

LEGHORN HATS
$4.00 and $5.00

PANAMAS
$4.00 and $5.00.

J. R. Blair

119 PARK AVE.

Buy a Cabinet Gas Range or Water Heater on Our Service Sales Plan

THINK of it—one of our latest Cabinet Gas Ranges, put on in your home for immediate use, for $2.00 down—$1.50 monthly.

Gas Water Heaters, prices $15.75, $16.75, $18.75—$2.00 down—$1.00 monthly.

5% discount allowed for cash.

They help to pay for themselves, because they save money in fuel costs. When not cooking, or heating water, they are not consuming gas. A coal range burns steadily on.

A Cabinet Gas Range is more convenient, easier to keep clean, looks better, gives longer service and has larger cooking space. The even volume of heat, easily controlled, insures better cooked, more wholesome food.

With a Gas Water Heater, one cent will heat enough water for washing dishes in from three to five minutes; two cents provides for a bath in from ten to twenty minutes and ten cents furnishes enough hot water for a day's washing.

Don't delay your order. The cost of materials will necessitate an advance in price when our present supply is exhausted.

Make your selection and first payment now. If not convenient to call at once, sign and mail the coupon below.

Public Service

Public Service Gas Co.,

Have your representative call and tell how I can save money in my Kitchen—this without obligation on my part to purchase.

Name .....

Street .....

P. O. .....

Hotter weather makes you forget

"HOTTERHEAT" COAL

But it should remind you of our

Certified Natural Ice

WADLEY & GOODENOUGH

208 Madison Ave. Tel. 13

PREPARE YOUR GARDENS AND LAWNS

With Fertilizers Scientifically Prepared.

Remember that Reliable Seeds are the only kind you desire.

Every Gardener should have a Good Spade, Hoe, Fork and Rake.

Preparedness is the keynote of the hour.

A Lawn Roller, Lawn Mower, Spray Pump or Water Can may have been overlooked.

Reliable Garden Hose, a Wheelbarrow or Planet Jr. Plow may be in urgent need.

Every need can be met, for we are prepared to serve you.

H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.

General Hardware and House Furnishings.

Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

Before you have followed the plan of reading the ads for very long you become an EDUCATED judge of values. This education must be kept up to the hour.

SAUNDERS' STAND JARS DEMOCRATS

Announcement He Prefers Frelinghuysen to Martine Upsets Party Leaders.

SENATOR UNAFFECTED

Plainfielder Pays Compliments to His Neighbor, and Says He Was Elected to Exercise His Conscience.

Washington, May 12.—New Jersey Democrats in the national capital were undisguisedly surprised, and also displeased, yesterday at the announcement that William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, vice chairman of the Naval Consulting Board, would support Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Republican, as against Senator Martine, if they are the respective party nominees in the ensuing contest for the seat now filled by Mr. Martine.

It looks very much as if Mr. Saunders had gotten himself into the heretic class, judging from the views aired here, particular exception being noted because he is going to the Democratic National Convention as an alternate. Some go as far as to say that Mr. Saunders ought to get off the ticket if he is not prepared to maintain his party regularity.

Even in administration questions, where there is no hankering for the renomination of Mr. Martine, where he will be accepted as a candidate only as a last resort, the threatened bolt of Mr. Saunders is looked at askance, tinged with resentment. And this notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Saunders justifies his contemplated action on the ground Mr. Martine has been disloyal to the President, who "lifted him (Martine) to his high office."

Secretary Tumulty was shown Mr. Saunders' statement, and after perusing it stated there would be no comment from the White House.

"There must be some mistake," said he, "because it is difficult to understand such a thing as that." And he let it go at that.

There was manifest a disposition to criticise Mr. Saunders for being precipitate. It was declared that he was giving aid and comfort to the opposition before he knew whether the Democratic party would renominate Mr. Martine.

One or two of Mr. Saunders' friends in the Jersey delegation, while deploring that he spoke out at this time, expressed the judgment that his action might turn out to be a blessing in disguise; that it might have the effect of awakening the administration to the necessity of co-operating more energetically with the State leaders in the movement to get a stronger candidate than Mr. Martine.

As for Senator Martine himself, he was just as genial and effusive as ever today. Mr. Saunders' defection did not seem to affect him. He sat himself down in the Senate Chamber, and he dictated this statement:

"I have known William L. Saunders for twenty-five years as a resident and neighbor at Plainfield. He is a most delightful and companionable gentleman. He is a man of fine ability and he has always been my friend. This does not imply that he must support me under all circumstances."

"In this country, thank Heaven," continued Mr. Martine, "it is a freeman's privilege to exercise his own choice. I would be glad and grateful to have his support.

"At the same time, I have no qualification to make to anybody for any vote or any thoughts that I have expressed as a member of this body."

"How about Mr. Saunders' charge that you have not supported the President, that you have been disloyal to the man who made you Senator?"

"I felt, when I was elected a Senator of the United States by the sovereign people of New Jersey, that I was elected to exercise my conscience. This I felt should be my guide. I still feel so.

"I am very grateful for the support given to me by the President in pressing the members of the Legislature to perform their duty. The fact remains that I was the people's choice, as expressed by their solemn vote."

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY

The Photoplay Favorite
FANNY WARD in
"TENNESSEE'S PARDNER"
Founded on the play by Scott Marble
Paramount-Bray Cartoons and others

TOMORROW

Vitagraph Star Attraction—
"The Making Over of Geoffrey Manning"
"The Pest Vamooser"
Something New in Vitagraph Productions.
HELEN HOLMES in
"THE GIRL AND THE GAME"
and other star attractions

MONDAY

The Popular Favorite
JOHN BARRYMORE, in
"NEARLY A KING"
A screaming comedy
Burton-Holmes Travelogue and others

This house is the most comfortable in the city, plenty of fresh air—no artificial cooling plant, but sweet invigorating air. Ask about our family ticket; it will interest you.

We Give Travelstamps.

Baby's Summer Problems Are Chiefly Feeding Problems

Thousands and thousands of little ones, who for some reason are deprived of Nature's own food supply, must be fed on a safe, wholesome substitute for mother's milk.

Gail Borden
EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK
THE ORIGINAL

has stood the grilling test of nearly sixty years. It has been used for three generations, and the mass of conclusive testimony that comes to us from thousands of grateful mothers furnishes the most positive proof possible as to the safety and wholesomeness of Eagle Brand.

"Eagle Brand" is made of carefully selected, rich milk from healthy cows, kept under thoroughly sanitary conditions. It is preserved with pure, high-grade sugar and for nearly sixty years has been chosen by wise mothers as a safe, nourishing food for their babies.

"So easy to prepare"—that is what thousands of mothers are saying who are bringing their babies up on "Eagle Brand." All you do is to boil enough water for one bottle, let it cool to feeding temperature, and add the right amount of rich, nourishing "Eagle Brand."

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE

Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

Today and Tomorrow
COUNTESS OLGA VON HATZFELD AND WILLIAM HERBERT
In a Classy Offering
5 OTHER GREAT ACTS 5
including the Oklahoma Wonder
COWBOY WILLIAMS & CO.
In a great Western Novelty.
Feature photoplays including
EDNA MAYO in the 12th
"MARY PAGE"

SPECIAL TOMORROW
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
In a Screaming Comedy

COMING MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY
The greatest children on the stage with the
JUVENILE REVUE
10 Clever Singers & Dancers.
NOTE—The ages of the cast of the JUVENILE REVUE range from 5 to 12 years.
OTHER BIG SPECIAL FEATURES
BRING THE KIDDIES

FRANKO'S ORCHESTRA

PLAYS AT WILLOW GROVE

NEAR PHILADELPHIA

Sunday, May 21

Splendid chance to visit Musical Capital of America on above date when

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

SPECIAL EXCURSION

Will Leave PLAINFIELD A. M.
Netherwood 9:16
North Ave. 9:21
Grant Ave. 9:24
Clinton Ave. 9.26

Round Trip $1.50
Children 75c

5 12 19

HODGE'S PHARMACY

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

BELLE MEAD SWEETS

Telephone 62.

PROCTOR'S

Continuous 2 to 11.

10c Photoplays 10c

KEEP KOOL—AN INNOVATION

There is a big surprise in store for the patrons who have so loyally and steadfastly patronized PROCTOR'S. It will be in the nature of an ICE PLANT. There has been installed 50 oscillating fans and numerous ice depots in various parts of the theatre where large cakes of ice will be planted with cooling devices that will positively reduce the temperature to any point desired. Even on the hottest days patrons will find the atmosphere cool and comfortable at PROCTOR'S.

TODAY—By Special Request
CHARLES CHERRY
Making his debut on the screen in
THE MUMMY & THE HUMMING BIRD
A wonderful Paramount picture, telling a story close to every human's heart

The Last Chapter of
THE SOCIAL PIRATE
And a specially selected supporting program of splendid photoplay creations

SATURDAY
GRACE ELLISTON
And All-Star Metro Cast in
BLACK FEAR
A distinctive dramatic spectacle, pulsating with vital heart-interest and sympathetic compelling qualifications

CHARLIE CHAPLIN
in
THE PROPERTY MAN

The Clever Juvenile Film Stars in
"A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK"
"MUTT & JEFF" "MUSTY SUFFER"

STARTING MONDAY, MAY 15,
MARY PICKFORD WEEK
See This Most Popular of Screen Favorites in a Different Picture Each Day
In addition to the regular program of wonderful Photoplays

MONDAY
MARY PICKFORD
in
"SUCH A LITTLE QUEEN"
The Second Episode of
"THE MYSTERIES OF MYRA"
'FIT FOR BURNING'
A Powerful Drama that will hold the intense interest of every spectator
Other Select Photoplays

TUESDAY
MARY PICKFORD
in
"BEHIND THE SCENES"
LILLIAN GISH in
"SOLD FOR MARRIAGE"
ROSCOE ARBUCKLE
In
"THE OTHER MAN"
(Keystone Comedy)
Eleventh "MARY PAGE"

COMING SOON

Charlie Chaplin
In His First Mutual Comedy Under His $670,000 Contract, Entitled
THE FLOORWALKER
A veritable hailstorm of hilarious merriment

Sometimes a store will decide to perform a real "stunt" in value-giving on some special line. You may be sure that in all such instances the ad-readers will have earliest knowledge of the details.

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

Miss Anna Costello has purchased a bicycle.

Zarrol Van Benschoten is working for the National Beef Company.

Terrance J. Ronayne has been laid up with rheumatism for the past several days.

John Markey, of Brooklyn, who recently took a position with George Zink, the local baker, is moving today in the Lewis Schneider house on Front street, formerly tenanted by Peter C. Staats.

Mrs. George W. Van Derveer has departed for Syracuse, N. Y., where she will make her son, Karl, a protracted visit.

GIVEN SILVER WATCH.

At its regular meeting last evening the members of the P. O. S. of A. turned in money which they had collected for the benefit of a brother, and Charles Smalley, one of the collectors, was awarded a handsome silver watch. Among other business was the receipt of two proposals for membership.

Miss Ruth Apgar entertained Miss Katherine Wessert, a college chum from Somerville, yesterday.

Mrs. John Reese has been ill.

Miss Eva Schneider entertained Charles Chandler, of Jersey City, recently.

RECEIVES BIG ORDER.

The Hall Printing Press Company has received an order for 100 additional lathes from the Baldwin Locomotive Company.

DR. KRANS TO SPEAK.

The W. C. T. U. has arranged to have Mrs. Clara De Hart Krans, M. D., address a meeting for women in the Seventh Day Baptist church next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to which all young women are especially invited. Dr. Krans is said to be a very interesting speaker.

The members of the Board of Trade are urged to make an effort to attend the monthly meeting which will be held Monday evening.

Mrs. J. F. G. Kinney, who has pneumonia and had a bad turn several days ago, is reported as being much better.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Elston Lowrie, Jr., of New London, Conn., formerly of this borough, are the parents of a baby girl, who arrived on May 8.

David B. Hill, of Plainfield, has purchased and moved into one of the new A. H. Burdick houses on Washington avenue.

REALTY DEAL.

A deal has as good as gone through in which Charles Coriell, Jr., has sold a lot on Washington avenue through the John Fedderman agency to a New York party. It is said that the purchaser buys to build.

Miss Sarah Dayton, the postmistress, his purchased a bicycle.

Miss Anna Beck, who fell and broke her limb several months ago, was able to walk to town for the first Wednesday.

Harvey Biehle has purchased a new automobile.

PROPERTY IMPROVED.

The Calhoun homestead, occupied by George Bunting, has been greatly improved by the removal of the old picket fence and the substitution of a pivot hedge.

PATIENT IS RECOVERING.

Joseph Ahearn, who has been detained at home for the past few days by the serious illness of his son, was able to return to business this morning owing to the boy's condition having materially improved.

Mrs. Foster Sofield is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William H. Tabb, at Port Richmond, S. I.

Peter Dolliver has been employed on the county roads for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Percy Vail and daughter, Miss Virginia, have returned from California, where they spent the winter.

Mrs. Rene P. F. Von Minden leaves tomorrow for a visit with relatives at Peekskill, N. Y.

It is understood that M. Eisemann and family will not summer out here this year as has been the custom for a number of years.

Mrs. William Pizie has returned to her home after a lengthy visit with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Marsh.

Mrs. William Carter has returned from a protracted visit in Michigan.

South Plainfield.

Regular instructions for the first communion class will be held in the Sacred Heart church by Rev. J. F. Baldwin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Robert Ritter and daughter have returned after spending a few weeks with Mrs. Ritter's parents in Mauch Chunk, Pa.

Mrs. John L. McDonough has returned from a visit with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Peter J. McDonough, of Plainfield.

Silas Wilcox, of Westfield, has accepted a position with the Spicer Co. Mr. Wilcox is now making his home with James Leahy.

Joseph Miller, of Newark, was the guest of his father-in-law, Harry Sofield, yesterday.

Antone Phillips has purchased a motorcycle.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling-task to a classified ad.

High Bridge-Califon.

Miss Cora B. Carling, of Glen Gardner, spent part of the week with Miss Elma L. Beaty, of Parsonage Heights, Califon.

Mrs. Louise Hope will move this week from Newark to Anthony.

Elmer Hoffman, of Vernoy, is in a Philadelphia hospital receiving treatment.

Ezra Ammerman, of Califon, sustained Tuesday a gash on his head, caused by a fall on the High Bridge branch railroad tracks. Several stitches were taken to close the wound.

Mrs. Oscar Apgar, of High Bridge, visited this week at Easton.

William Fritts has taken a position with the Taylor-Wharton Steel Company as flagman on its branch railroad at Main street, High Bridge.

Mrs. Edward Smith is ill at her home in East High Bridge.

Jacob Hann, of New Castle, Del., is visiting in High Bridge. He formerly lived at East High Bridge.

Mrs. Eugene Apgar, of East High Bridge, left Tuesday for a Philadelphia hospital for treatment.

After an illness of four months from a fractured leg, Joseph McCurry resumed work Wednesday at the Taylor-Wharton plant at High Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meade, of High Bridge entertained this week Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, of Plainfield.

George Andrews, of Glen Gardner, is suffering from burns on his foot, caused by molten metal at the Taylor-Wharton plant.

Dennis Smith moved Tuesday from Glen Gardner to High Bridge.

Justice of the Peace and Mrs. George Reede, of Spruce Run, were recent visitors to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hockenbury, at High Bridge.

Miss Catherine Conley, of High Bridge, entertained this week, Miss Nancy Murray and Miss Esther Siegfried, of Glen Gardner.

Mrs. Ernest Yentsch, of Califon, visited this week at Dover.

Mothers' Day will be observed Sunday morning at the Lower Valley Presbyterian church. The pastor, Rev. E. H. Bronson, will preach a special sermon.

Mrs. Ida Jordon, of High Bridge, spent part of the week in Hackettstown.

The degree team of Hunterdon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of High Bridge, visited Fidelity Lodge of the same order in Califon, Tuesday night and worked the third degree.

Miss Mae Eakley, of Somerville, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Eakley, of High Bridge.

Middle Valley

Having concluded a visit to Mr. and Mrs. David Lutes, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lutes and children have gone to their home at Easton, Pa.

Mrs. Edith Force has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lindabury.

George A. Lance has returned home from a stay with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Melick, of Clinton.

After spending ten days with relatives here, Mrs. Fannie Lomerson returned Tuesday to Dover.

Frank Hoffman, of this place, and Edward Foley, of Vernoy, have returned from a trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Louise Hope and son, Edmund Hope, of Union, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Beatty, of this place, have rented the Peter Hoffman property at Anthony. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are ill at the home of Mrs. Hoffman's daughter, Mrs. Harvey Duckworth.

Mother's Day will be observed Sunday morning at Lower Valley Presbyterian church and will be followed by the sacrament of the Lord's supper, at which time several members will be received on confession.

Mrs. Esther Z. Bennett, of Rahway, is a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Edwin H. Bronson. Miss Ruth Bronson and brother, Henry Bronson, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bayles, of Princeton, where Miss Bronson is being treated for face trouble.

The Home and Foreign Missionary Society was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Jacob Cregar, of Lower Valley.

Miss Helen Force was a guest this week of Miss Ruth Lindaberry.

The planking on the footbridge is being repaired this week, having been in a dangerous condition several months.

The farmers in this section will be two weeks late in planting their corn owing to bad weather.

Miss Emma Alpaugh, of Cokesbury, will come home today to remain over Sunday with her father, George M. Alpaugh.

New Providence

Miss Lena Wahl Wednesday went to Fanwood, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wahl, formerly residents here. She had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Webster in Springfield avenue, the West End, for several weeks.

Mrs. Frank Oel Duca, of Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Napolitano, in Newark.

Councilman Lyman B. Coddington, is out of town for the rest of the week, recuperating from an illness of several weeks. Mr. Coddington is visiting at Ocean Grove and Pocono Mountains.

Scotch Plains, Fanwood

NO MEETING TONIGHT.

There will no prayer meeting in the Methodist church tonight, owing to the Biederwolf services in Plainfield.

BELGIAN RELIEF MEETS.

The usual weekly meetings of the Belgian Relief Society and Thursday Bible Training Class were held yesterday afternoon at the home of the Misses Kyte, of Martine avenue.

Miss Elsie Rodenbaugh, a former resident of the Willow Grove section of the township, but now residing with her parents at Otsego, N. Y., has been visiting friends here and in Westfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison B. Sammis, of North avenue, are visiting in New York.

LAST REHEARSAL.

The last rehearsal for the entertainment to be presented in the Fanwood firehouse tomorrow night under the auspices of the All Saints' Guild of the Episcopal church was held in the Fanwood firehouse last night. Practically all the tickets for the affair have been sold and a considerable amount for the rectory fund is expected to result. The entertainment will start at 8 o'clock.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLE.

Paul Tuzo, Jr., of Terril road, is nursing a sprained ankle, sustained while playing baseball at School No. 1 a few days ago.

"NEW JERSEY DAY."

"New Jersey Day" was observed by the pupils in the local schools today with appropriate songs and recitations.

Somerville

Mrs. George Vescelius has been spending the week with her sister in Califon.

Ensign Cornelius Flynn, who has been spending the week with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Flynn, returned yesterday to Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Edward L. Keenan is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Carlton Ashell, at Passaic.

The Somerville W. C. T. U. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carrie Amerman in East High street.

Miss Edith Terwilliger, of New York, is visiting Mrs. Richard Dawson at Green Knoll Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Adamson are at their farm north of Somerville for the summer months, having spent the winter in New York.

The Fireside Club closed its season Tuesday by giving a play at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Gaston, in West High street. About sixty persons were present. The board of governors for next year were appointed: Mrs. Guy H. Noble, Miss Cammon, Mrs. John F. Reger, Miss Anna Jamison, Arthur C. Canfield and Charles W. Moore.

Westfield.

The graduating class of the High School this year numbers forty-one. The schools will close June 21.

The annual meeting of the District Nurses' Association will be held Thursday night of next week. A card party for the benefit of the association will be given at the time of the meeting.

Summer uniforms for the police department have arrived and will be worn Sunday.

The contractors of the town will raise carpenters' wages June 1 from $4 to $4.50 a day.

German Valley and Chester.

Mrs. Louise M. Swartz, of Hackettstown, will spend the summer with Archibald P. Down and family.

Robert Bulmer is entertaining Alvah Chamber, of Newark.

Miss Charity Warner, of Caldwell, is visiting Miss Julia L. Swackhamer and Mrs. Annie M. Cool.

Miss Althea Dufford is visiting Miss Mabel Van Camp, of Plainfield.

William Jarvis left yesterday for a four weeks' trip through New York and Connecticut. Mr. Jarvis was accompanied by Amos Naughright.

Mrs. Emma Allen is ill with a sore throat.

A home-made sale of cake and cookies will be held this afternoon by the Presbyterian Missionary Society at the store of Mrs. Margaret C. Miller.

Special services will be held Sunday morning in the Presbyterian and Lutheran churches in observance of Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway W. Dufford are entertaining their youngest son, Cecil Dufford, of New York.

Joseph Larison and sister, Miss Anna Larison, of Easton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George N. McLean.

Mrs. David Emmons has returned from the State Hospital at Morris Plains.

Mrs. John S. S. Rutan has gone to Ocean Grove for the summer.

Mrs. Charles Glessner, of Tenafly, is visiting her sister, Miss Margaret Bodine.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Ellen E. Pierson.

Mrs. Carrie Fox is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swackhamer, of Dover.

Miss Charity Warner, of Caldwell, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alvah H. Van Fleet.

Mrs. Densie Fleming is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. Arthur S. Nunn, of German Valley.

Whitehouse

Mrs. Elmira Kline and daughter, Mrs. Jacob H. Dilts, returned to Whitehouse Station Wednesday after a visit to Mrs. Ramsey Hoffman, of Lebanon.

The Hunterdon County Board of Freeholders have just accepted the Whitehouse-New Germantown macadam road, after a year's maintenance. The Board will receive bids at a meeting next Thursday afternoon for the construction of two small concrete bridges near New Germantown, one at John Vroom's and the other at Henry Craig's.

The children's choir of the Whitehouse Station Reformed church will give an entertainment the evening of May 19 in the lecture room. A play, "The Burglar Alarm," will be presented.

Frank Melick, of Hopkins, Mo., a former resident of New Germantown, is visiting in that vicinity.

Mrs. Frank A. Blackwell, of Pennington, is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William W. Shampanore, at Whitehouse Station.

Rev. and Mrs. William E. Davis, of Lebanon, are visiting Mrs. Davis' nephew, Dr. A. W. Ward, of Demarest.

Rev. C. J. Fingar, pastor of the Lebanon Reformed church, is arranging for special Mothers' Day services Sunday morning.

Augustus C. Durling, of Whitehouse Station, is developing a large stone quarry at Schefer, N. Y., which will give employment to several hundred men. He is endeavoring to secure a number from this section.

The Young People's Union of the East Whitehouse Methodist church will be entertained Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John E. Seals.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the East Whitehouse Methodist church will hold a patriotic sociable the evening of Memorial Day in the lecture room. August 25 has been selected as the date for the annual harvest home.

Russell Hawk, of Allentown, Pa., was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Shafer at Whitehouse Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Riper, of Jersey City, have purchased the two-story bungalow south of Whitehouse Station, which was vacated last winter by Edward Kelley and family, and will move there.

Miss Ellen Ten Eyck, of Whitehouse Station, has returned from a visit to New Brunswick and Metuchen.

A May dance was held last night at the Bungalow in East Whitehouse by the young people.

The Boy Scouts of the Whitehouse Station Reformed church expect to go to North Branch Saturday afternoon for a game with the Boy Scouts of that place.

Mrs. Joseph Smith, of Pottersville, is in Newark. She will visit in Jersey City and New York before returning home.

Edward Quick returned to Whitehouse Station Tuesday after a visit to Newark.

RECREATION NOTES.

The regular activities of the Community Center at Washington School will be postponed this evening on account of the special celebration of "Jersey Day," under the auspices of the West End Civic Association in the Washington School Auditorium.

The municipal dance will be held tomorrow evening as usual.

BRITAIN BUILDS ALLIES' SHIPS

16 of 22 New Vessels to Be Used by Entente Powers.

London, May 12.—Walter Runciman president of the Chamber of Commerce, told the house of commons that forty-two vessels are now being constructed in the United Kingdom for foreign shipbuilders, including sixteen vessels for firms in the entente countries.

E. & W. SCHLOSS

PLAINFIELD'S LEADING GROCERS

We Give S. & H. Trading Stamps Telephone 1000

We Give S. & H. Trading Stamps Telephone 1000

Finest XXXX Patent Flour 24½-lb bag — 85c	Toilet Paper 8 Large Rolls — 25c		Curtice Bros. Blue Label Catsup large bottle — 18c	N. Y. State Corn or Sugar Peas 3 cans — 25c

Choice Teas—Oolong, English Breakfast or Mixed; lb..29c

Fancy Golden Santos Coffee, 19c lb; 5 lbs.....90c

Griffen's Shoe Polish, Black, Tan or White, bottle — 8c	Leggett's Premier Stuffed Olives 10c size, bottle — 8c	Finest Macaroni or Spaghetti, in bulk, lb — 10c; 20-lb box.....$1.50	Peerless or Gold Cross Evaporated Milk, 3 cans — 25c	Marvel Brand Condensed Milk 3 cans — 25c	Huyler's Chocolate Almond Bars 3 5c cakes — 10c

Large Sour or Dill Pickles, a dozen.....18c

Sauerkraut, while it lasts, a lb.....3c

Columbia River Salmon ½-lb flat can....12c; 1-lb flat can.....20c	Red Alaska Salmon 1-lb tall cans — 18c	Choice Pink Salmon tall cans; 3 cans — 25c	Japo Cleanser chases dirt 3 5c cans — 10c	Grand Ma's Borax Soap Powder large pkg. — 12c	20-Mule Team Borax 1-lb package — 12c

Pure Cocoa in bulk, a lb.....22c

Pure Peanut Butter in bulk, a lb.....15c

Royal Baking Powder ¼-lb can.....12c; ½-lb can.....22c; 1-lb can.....42c	Saw-Tay Small jar.....10c; Medium jar.....25c; 5-lb crock.....$1.00	Cut Beets large No. 3 can can — 10c	Bromangalon Jelly Powder, assorted flavors, 3 packages — 25c	Mango Chutney or Waw-Waw Sauce a bottle — 10c	Pride of Farm Catsup a bottle — 10c

Strictly Fresh Country Eggs, a dozen.....29c

Evaporated Pears or Silver Prunes, a lb.....18c

Electro Silicon Cream large jar — 18c	Beechnut Co. Brand Erie Bacon large jar — 19c	Preserved Raspberries No. 2 can; a can — 15c	Quaker Furniture Polish 50 size; a bottle — 35c	Bordens Malted Milk 45c size — 37c	Curtice Bros. Assorted Jams large bottle — 15c

Yuban, Peeks' or Hotel Astor Coffee, 3 lbs.....$1.00

Hotel Astor Rice—3 1-lb packages.....25c

Finest Imported Lentils a lb — 18c	English Walnuts a lb — 19c	Swift's Toilet Soap 3 5c cakes in box — 7c	Swift's Pride Laundry Soap 10 cakes — 32c	Fels Naphtha Soap 10 cakes — 43c	Swift's Borax Soap 10 cakes — 39c

E. & W. Brand Coffee, 1-lb can, 33c; 3 lbs.....95c

Premium Java Coffee, 27c lb; 5 lbs.....$1.15

Leggett's Premier Preserves a bottle — 18c	Fresh Figs in Syrup 2 cans — 25c	Smoked Sardines in Oil 3 cans — 25c	Hawaiian Sliced Pineapple, No. 3 can — 17c; 3 cans.....50c	Burnham's Clam Chowder No. 3 can — 17c	Van Camp's Spaghetti Small can.....8c; Medium can.....12c

Smoked Bloaters, 2 for.....5c

Farina in bulk, 6c lb; 4 lbs.....22c

WHITTIER BALL NINE DEFEATED LINCOLN

Big Innings Gave Victors An Easy Decision Yesterday Afternoon.

In a game featured by heavy hitting, the Whittier School (Dunellen) baseball team defeated the Lincoln School, of that place, by the score of 16-11, yesterday afternoon. Latham, who started the game for the Whittier's, remained on the mound throughout, but Sullivan, his opponent, gave way to Rogers. In an effort to win the game in the last inning, Shaw and Greenhalgh were sent to the bat by the manager of the Lincolns, but they could do nothing.

The scores:

LINCOLN SCHOOL

	R.	H.	E.
Beesynsky, cf	1	0	0
Sullivan, p, ss	4	3	0
Ayers, c	1	2	0
Rogers, ss, p	3	2	0
Smith, 2b	1	1	2
Tiewin, 1b	0	3	3
O'Sullivan, 3b	0	4	0
Jennings, rf	1	0	0
Gary, lf	0	1	0
Shaw	0	0	0
Greenhalgh	0	0	0
	11	16	5

WHITTIER SCHOOL.

	R.	H.	E.
S. Latham, cf	3	6	0
Pernell, 3b	2	4	0
Hipp, lf	2	3	0
Schneiderwind, rf	2	1	1
Hoffman, 1b	3	4	1
Vroom, 2b	2	2	0
Merle, ss	0	0	2
Terry, c	1	5	0
Latham, p	3	5	0
	18	30	4

Score by innings:

Lincoln	3 0 2 2 0 3 0 0 1	11
Whittier	3 2 4 2 0 0 3 0 4	18

$18,000 BEAUTY WHO HAS REACHED THE LEMON STAGE

Larry Chappelle, who came from the Milwaukee team of the American Assocation, where Jack Martin is now

Larry Chappelle.

pastiming, to the big leagues, has been returned to the bushers. Charlie Comiskey, of the White Sox, pail $18,000 for him but during his brief career in the big loop he was rudely jolted.

WAR NEWS

(Continued from page 1.)

sunk by a hostile submarine in the Adriatic Sea, it was announced today. The official report of the vessel's destruction stated that the steamer was unarmed and that it was torpedoed without warning.

English Positions Taken.

Berlin, May 12.—Several English positions east of Hohenzollern Redoubt were taken by storm by German troops, the War Office announced today.

FRESH UNREST IN PARRAL.

Populace Reported Threatening to Drive American Troops Out.

El Paso, Tex., May 12.—The people of Parral, where a fatal clash with United States soldiers occurred several weeks ago, are restive again because of the continued presence of American troops in that district and have made demands upon General Luis Herrera for their removal from Mexico, according to a message received by an American mining man from his Parral manager. The message added that the people of Parral had declared openly that, regardless of what General Obregon, General Herrera or any one else did, they would not tolerate the prolonged presence of the Americans and would drive them out of the district. Parral has long been recognized as a hotbed of anti-American as well as anti-Carranza feeling.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know hat it's for sale?

DEATH SUMMONS HENRY C. SUYDAM

Well Known Attorney Passes Away at His Home in Bound Brook.

BORN IN FLEMINGTON

For Thirty-Seven Years He Was Engaged in the Practice of Law—Had Offices in this City — Wife Survives.

Henry C. Suydam, for the past thirty-seven years a practicing lawyer in Bound Brook and jointly conducting an office in Plainfield since 1902, died at 10 o'clock last night at his home, 305 West High street, Bound Brook. While he had been ailing for the past year, he was not taken seriously ill until about ten days ago, since which time he had failed rapidly. An affection of the heart is ascribed as the cause of his death.

Mr. Suydam was born near Flemington, Hunterdon county, 63 years ago, and after completing his preliminary education in the public schools, studied for five years at Peddie Institute, at Hightstown, graduating from there in 1873 after studying an extra year as a post-graduate. The same year he left Peddie he entered Brown University, from which he was graduated in 1876. Three years later he established law offices in Bound Brook, maintaining them up to the time of his death.

Because of the large clientele he had in Plainfield he opened a branch office in this city fourteen years ago. At the beginning he was located in the Babcock building, but in recent years had a suite of rooms in the Howard building at 109 Park avenue. It was his custom to spend his mornings in Plainfield and the rest of the day in Bound Brook. He was in his local office the forepart of last week and to all appearances was enjoying fairly good health. The seriousness of his condition was hardly realized before his large circle of friends and acquaintances when news of his death was received. The sad intelligence conveyed a deep shock to all who knew him here, and expressions of genuine regret have since been heard on every side. The deceased lawyer had a retiring disposition, but nevertheless knew how to make friends and keep them. He sought no public office or was not affiliated with any fraternal organizations.

Mr. Suydam's only surviving relative is his wife, there being no children and his only brother having predeceased him many years. The funeral will be held at the late home on East High street, Bound Brook, Monday morning at 11 o'clock and will be in charge of Rev. William T. Boult, pastor of the Bound Brook Congregational church, where Mr. Suydam attended service. Burial will be made Monday afternoon in the Prospect Hills cemetery, Flemington.

BRITAIN TO GET U. S. RED CROSS PROTEST

Wilson to Insist on Sending Relief Supplies.

Washington, May 12.—President Wilson will make a vigorous protest to Great Britain against her policy of holding up shipments of Red Cross supplies consigned to the central powers. The president will charge directly that the present British policy is in direct contravention of the Geneva convention, and he virtually will demand that Great Britain permit the forwarding of the Red Cross supplies for humanitarian work in Germany and Austria.

The president will act upon the recommendation of ex-President Taft. Mr. Taft, as chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross—a position to which he was appointed by President Wilson five months ago—has written a letter to the secretary of state urging that steps be taken to ameliorate the attitude of the British government toward the Red Cross work as regards the central empires. Mr. Taft points out that a great accumulation of supplies contributed to the Red Cross for use in Germany and Austria is held up at New York because of Great Britain's warning that she will seize them if they are shipped to the central empires for any purpose other than the support of the American hospital units.

The president concurs in Mr. Taft's opinion that the British policy is inexcusable, and a strongly phrased protest is promised in his behalf.

Life Term For Train Robber.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 12.—William L. Carlisle, found guilty of robbing a Union Pacific passenger train near Corlett Junction, April 4, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Weather Forecast.

Fair and cooler; west winds.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
Albany	62	Clear
Atlantic City	72	Cloudy
Boston	70	Cloudy
Buffalo	54	Clear
Chicago	64	Clear
New Orleans	86	Clear
New York	71	Clear
St. Louis	56	Rain
Washington	74	Cloudy

WILL ASK ABOUT U-BOAT PENALTY

Wilson Would Know Punishment In Sussex Case.

AUSTRIA BROKE PROMISE.

Gerard to Be Instructed to Ascertain That Submarine Commander Was Not Merely Reprimanded — Vienna Promoted Captain Who Sank Ancona

Washington, May 12.—Until the German government proves that the punishment meted out to the submarine commander who torpedoed the Sussex is a real and not a sham punishment the United States will not be satisfied with the announcement that he has been "appropriately punished."

Secretary of State Lansing knows the name of the German submarine commander. He will instruct Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to report on the "appropriate punishment" to which the German note refers.

It is admitted by officials here that the United States will rely on Germany's good faith and that this government has no evidence to show that the German admiralty has not enforced at least disciplinary measures against the submarine commander. On the other hand, Secretary Lansing feels that Germany may consider a routine reprimand sufficient to fit the case, whereas the state department regards the offense as very serious.

Should the "appropriate punishment" therefore not appear sufficiently severe the United States government will at once make representations to Berlin. Furthermore this government will direct Ambassador Gerard to make certain that punishment is rigidly enforced.

It is fully realized at the state department that Germany probably will not relish such action by the United States, but it is becoming increasingly clear that President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have decided to handle the entire submarine controversy henceforth "without kid gloves." No attempt is being made to disguise this fact. The attitude of the administration is anything but conciliatory.

Austria Broke Promise.

Austria promised the United States that the submarine commander who attacked the Ancona would be punished. The state department accepted this and never inquired as to the nature of the punishment. Subsequently it was reported, though not confirmed, that the commander was promoted. Austrian press reports led to the belief that no real punishment ever was meted out to him.

Germany said that the submarine commander who attacked the Arabic had been disciplined and again the United States took no measures to ascertain the details or to verify the fact. Subsequently the U-boat commander was referred to by the German press as a hero. The impression among officials here is that he benefitted in more ways than one by his act of sinking the liner.

There has always been uncertainty about the treatment which the imperial government gave the U-boat commander who sank the Lusitania with her 1,200 victims. British press reports have insisted that he was decorated by the kaiser, but this has been denied in Berlin. A submarine commander, reported to have been the one who sank the Lusitania, was actually decorated some weeks later, but the German foreign office explained that this decoration was for sinking a British battleship in the Dardanelles.

No detailed report has yet reached the state department concerning the attack on the Cymric, which sank this week with a large cargo of munitions bound from New York for Liverpool.

Ambassador Gerard cabled that the last American note has been delivered by him to the German foreign office.

$20,000 ATLANTIC CITY FIRE.

Seven Buildings Destroyed, Including Two Hotels.

Atlantic City, May 12.—In a spectacular fire that destroyed $20,000 worth of Boardwalk property between Florida and Georgia avenues seven frame structures, including the Flischman hotel, owned by Mrs. Mary Flischman of Philadelphia; Litt's hotel, owned by Therese Cohn of New York; a bath house and three one story shops owned by James Bew, former mayor of Ventnor, and two stores owned by Crumble Bros. of Philadelphia were destroyed and the St. Louis hotel was damaged.

All the structures were located in the heart of the old Bowery district. The firemen had a hard task keeping the fire from eating up two squares of beach front when a strong southwest wind got behind the flames.

PRISONERS TO REPAIR ROADS

Short Term Men Will Be Employed to Save State Money.

Albany, N. Y., May 12.—It is planned to employ at least 500 state prisoners in repairing good roads within a large radius of the various state prisons during the coming summer and fall, according to State Superintendent Carter.

"An experiment of putting fourteen men from Auburn prison on road repair work has proved so successful that we will extend the number employed at once," said Mr. Carter.

Want Ads Become Necessary

You lose a job, or you lose an employe—you lose a tenant—you're in a hurry to sell property—you MUST have a backer—whatever the "incident," whatever the upset, whatever the stress, want advertising adjusts things once more in your "personal

We Sell It a Little Lower in Price

We Have Always Done It--It's Our Way

Open Saturday Evening Until Nine O'clock

E. A. KIRCH & CO.

WHAT WE SAY IS SO

Your Purchases May Be Charged

77-79 Market St., Newark

3-Piece Library Suite
LIKE CUT

Special at 26.50

Upholstered in best imitation brown Spanish leather; mahogany finished frame, beautifully polished.

Reed Table
Specially Priced at 3.75

Willow Chair
Specially Priced at 3.98

Large willow armchair, without cushion; deep seat.

Finest quality reed table, strongly constructed.

Our Varieties in Summer Furniture Are the Most Complete

3-Piece Leather Suite
LIKE CUT

Special at 52.50

Massive Colonial frames; finely finished; upholstered best brown Spanish leather. A special among specials—a genuine big value.

Large Size Porch Rocker
Specially Priced at 2.98

High, double woven reed back and double woven seat; broad arms; finished natural; strongly constructed.

It's Economy to Buy a Good Refrigerator
For This Week We Are Featuring the Well-known Glacier Refrigerators
in various styles, all with an 8-wall case, filled with mineral wool and lined with 1-piece seamless porcelain. Prices up from... 25.00 nickel hardware, elegantly finished cases; very economical with ice.

Porch Rocker
Specially Priced at
1.69

Natural finished porch rocker, strongly built; double woven reed seat and broad slat back.

Reed Pullman Carriage
Specially Priced at 14.95

Natural reed, heavy roll on body, sanitary lining, steel tubing frames, heavy rubber-tire wheels.

Couch Hammock
Specially Priced at 8.98

Made of heavy duck with full spring bottom and heavy cotton top mattress.

Complete with windshield and chains.

FIVE-PIECE IVORY BED ROOM SUITE

Specially Priced at 59.50

Five pieces to match; the greatest value we have ever advertised; well made and finished.

Specially Priced at 59.50

Consists of full size bed; large size dresser, chiffonnier and triple mirrored toilet table.

Quartered Oak Buffet
Specially Priced at 25.75

Highly polished; all hand carvings, massive claw feet; unequaled value at this special price.

4-Piece Jacobean Oak Dining Suite
Specially Priced at 92.50 Our Special Price

All quartered oak, well-finished; consists of Buffet, 54 inches wide; China Closet, 44 inches wide; Serving Table, 40 inches wide; Extension Table, 48 inches wide; extends to 6 feet.

Mahogany Rocker
Specially Priced at 3.98

Elegant big rocker; well finished and strongly made.

THIS IS SUFFRAGE DAY IN NEW JERSEY

Two Local Women Are to Go to Republican National Convention

Today is Suffrage Day as well as New Jersey Day! Throughout the State the various local organizations are celebrating it in many different ways. Many suffragists are hanging out the American flag and the "Votes for Women" flag side by side; automobile parades are being held; there are numerous street meetings and in many other way the suffragists are bringing home the fact that "Votes for Women" is still a very live issue in the State. Suffrage deputations from each of the twelve Congressional districts are waiting upon the delegates to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions, with the request that they give their support to the woman suffrage plank which it is proposed to have inserted in the national platforms of both parties. The Progressive party and its leader, Colonel Roosevelt, advocate woman suffrage so strongly that the suffragists feel it is unnecessary to deputize the delegates to that convention. The deputations will be in charge of the twelve Congressional district chairmen, who are:

First district, Mrs. Robert A. Irving, Haddonfield; second district, Miss Lulu H. Marvel, Atlantic City; third district, Mrs. Charles W. Stevens, Jr., New Brunswick; fourth district, Mrs. George M. La Monte, Bound Brook; fifth district, Mrs. Durbin Van Vleck, Boonton; sixth district, Mrs. William H. Peters, Rutherford; seventh district, Mrs. Franklin Van Winkle, Paterson; eighth district, Mrs. George T. Vickers, Jersey City; ninth district, Mrs. Frederic Adams, Orange; tenth district, Mrs. William T. Ropes, Montclair; eleventh district, Mrs. Thomas C. Haight, Jersey City; twelfth district, Mrs. James Billington, Jersey City.

Suffrage enthusiasm will play a conspicuous part at the forthcoming National Conventions. In Chicago, a parade is scheduled for June 7, and thousands of ardent supporters are expected to be in line; suffragists who have won the vote and are already cogent factors in national issues will march beside those who are still fighting for recognition. All workers are sensible of the unusual advantage this opportunity offers to show by their presence that women of this country do want suffrage. Mrs. Harrison M. Brown, president of the Illinois Suffrage Association, has completed arrangements, the details of which will lend picturesque vitality, characteristic of suffrage demonstrations.

The Democratic delegates in St. Louis will be treated to a spectacle fully as effective and pleasing as the Chicago parade. The idea is to surround the Coliseum in which the delegates will assemble "with a human cordon of suffrage gold."

All the States leagues are co-operating with the National in preparation for these events, and the various district branches are similarly active.

Among the New Jersey women who will be present at the demonstration in Chicago are:

Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, Plainfield, president of the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association; Miss Esther G. Ogden, Elizabeth, third vice-president of the National Woman Suffrage Association; Mrs. Frank De Lacy Hyde, Plainfield; Mrs. Joseph H. Marvel, Atlantic City; Miss A. E. Cameron, Glen Ridge.

ANNUAL BRIDGE WHIST PARTY.

Under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League, of Plainfield and North Plainfield, the annual bridge whist party will be held at the Park Club on June 24, at which time an effort will be made to increase the enrollment of the league.

—Press want ads. pay.

C. P. BULL DIES AT CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA.

Former Well Known Plainfielder Was Professor of Medicine in University.

Friends in this city have received notice of the death, last Saturday, of Charles Pinckney Bull, a former local resident, which occurred at the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, Virginia, where he was professor of medicine. Details of his demise are lacking. The interment was made at Aiken, S. C.

Mr. Bull was the son of the late Charles Bull, who resided for many years on East Ninth street, opposite First place. The family removed to New York about 1900 and since then the various members have gone to different parts of the United States. There were four sons—Charles, Lewellyn, George and Edward Bull, all of whom attended Leal's school. Charles was especially active in military matters while at Leals, being the head of the cadet corps, popular at that time, but on entering college he took up the study of medicine and was graduated as a surgeon. He began practicing in the South, and after a few years accepted the professorship of medicine in the University of Virginia.

Of the surviving brothers, Lewellyn Bull, is now in the United States military service in the Philippines, having been fraduated from West Point; George is in Florida and Edward is in New York.

WRECK ON S. A. L.

Raleigh, N. C., May 12.—Two persons were killed and five injured when the Flamingo Special, on the Seaboard Air Line, was wrecked today.

—That funny yellow Scoop is on the classified page.

MOTHERS' DAY PROGRAM FOR SABBATH SCHOOL PUPILS

Mother's Day will be observed by the Sabbath School of the Seventh-Day Baptist church tomorrow morning at 11:45, with the following appropriate program, under the supervision of William C. Hubbard, the school superintendent:

Forward, Superintendent; singing, "Welcome, Christian Mothers," (Jarvis), sabbath school; solo and quartet, "The Rockabye Song" (Wilson), Mrs. John B. Cottrell, Miss Helen M. Rogers, Roy E. Titsworth, Mrs. William C. Hubbard, Charles P. Titsworth; reading, "The Mother Job" (Jane Burr), Mrs. Joseph G. Miller; singing, "Faith of Our Mothers" (Faber), sabbath school; recitation, "His Unlucky Day" (Chicago News), John Reed Spicer; offering for American Sabbath Tract Society; quartet, "My Mother" (Koschat), Dr. Otis B. Whitford, Roy E. Titsworth, Charles P. Titsworth, Ernest C. Whitford; reading, "A Tribute" (Antoinette A. Lamoureaux), Dr. Henry M. Maxson; reading, "The Mother" (Mabel Stevens Freer), William C. Hubbard; singing, "God Bless our Mothers dear" (Bryner), sabbath school; benediction, Rev. Theo L. Gardiner.

SURPRISED MISS MONTROSS.

Miss Augusta Montross, of Richmond street, was given a surprise party at her home last night by a number of her young friends. Several hours were passed pleasantly with a program of music, dancing, games and refreshments. Those present were Augusta Montross, Robert Muir, Maybelle and Warren Montross, George and Robert Blyth, Bertha Laird, Clifford, Norman, Harry and James Montross, Mildred Dover, Grace Farley, May Burke and Angelo Givoirno.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling-task to a classified ad.

The Biederwolf Evangelistic Services

Will revive interest in Bible Reading in Plainfield as never before and regardless of sect, creed or faith. A universal reading of the Bible is bound to make for better citizenship, is bound to make for a plainer, stronger, simpler, honester speech in daily life, and a higher standard of ethics in the dealings of men. A return to Bible reading in these stressful times of world disturbance is needed as never before in our history and is bound to add to the moral and mental equipoise of this entire nation.

To Further Interest Our Readers In Bible Reading the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

HAS SECURED A LIMITED SUPPLY OF

Big Print Red Letter Bibles

All the Words and Sayings of Christ Printed in Red

This Book of Books

This Bible—this miraculous Bible—this Book of All Books—luminous with the light that dwelleth not on land or sea—this noblest and most beautiful Thing in all the world—what is it—whence cometh it—what means it?

It has made and unmade Nations. It has uprooted Kingdoms and Empires. It has diverted the mighty tides of History. It has crumpled ancient Faiths and Superstitions. Because of it fell Pagan Rome. The antique Systems of India and the Far East have bowed their heads to its enlightened sway.

China and the Orient now first awaken from their sleep of thrice a thousand years, and follow their sister nations of the Occident—whose feet are guided by one sole lamp—the sacred flame of which was kindled by the inspired Hebrew Prophets, and fed for all time by the Lord and Master of the Golden Rule.

Only ignorance scoffs at the Bible! The greatest rulers—the greatest statesmen—the greatest scholars—writers—orators—scientists—soldiers—and the untold millions of the Common People, whose collective genius outweighs them all—have thrilled to its Divine Wisdom.

Its lyrics of unfathomable tenderness—its orations of compelling potency—its contemplative prose of preternatural grandeur—have never been equalled. Its emotional depths and its intellectual heights make it the one and only Book of Books, vouchsafed for the guidance of mankind throughout the ages.

Special Features of This Beautiful Bible

ALL THE WORDS AND SAYINGS OF CHRIST distinguished from the context by being printed in red.

All Passages in the Old Testament prophetic of the coming of Christ, marked with a Star.

All the difficult words in both Testaments made self-pronouncing by diacritical marks; made so simple a child can pronounce them.

Hundreds of Helps and References.
Family Register of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
Exhaustive Marginal Annotations.
Index to Parables and Miracles.
Explanatory Heading at top of each page.
Dissertation on the Lord's Prayer.
Proving the Old Testament, by Dr. Wright.
Books of Reference for Students.
Readings of Revised Version collated with King James Version.

Sunday School Teachers' Use of Bible, by Bishop Vincent.
Calendar of Daily Readings of Scripture, by Whittle.
Authentic Bible Statistics and Information.
Harmony of the Gospels.
From Malachi to Matthew, by Dr. Fernie.
Biblical Weights and Measures.
Christian Worker and his Bible, by Whittle.
How to Study the Bible, by Dwight L. Moody.

Wondrously Beautiful Half-tones of Scenes of Sacred History. Text Printed in Large Type, Easy on the Eyes. Eight Tinted Maps of Bible Lands.

EXQUISITE COLORED PLATES OF
Nazareth, Bethlehem, Holy Sepulchre, Garden of Gethsemane, Visitation of Virgin Mary, Modern Jerusalem, After the Crucifixion, Tiberias, Damascus, Gate of Jerusalem, etc.

This Bible Has Been Distributed By Newspapers All Over The Country For a Much Higher Price Than The Offer Made By The Daily Press.

Specially Bound in Genuine Limp Bible Leather Folding Cover, Red Edges, Round Corners, Gold Lettered Back.

Full size 9⅝x6¾ inches.

Mail Orders Filled.

Begin Clipping Coupons on Page 2 today. Act quickly. Bibles can be seen at Daily Press Office, 193 North avenue.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN PRICE TO PRESS READERS OF

Only $1.23 AND THREE COUPONS $1.23 Only

In my opinion nothing is so great a source of annoyance to telephone users, nothing results in so great a loss of temper and time and such general irritability, as the practice of calling a telephone number and then having an office boy or the office telephone girl hold the wire until the deeired party answers. If there's waiting to be done it's the CALLING party's obligation to do it.

An excerpt from one of many letters of protest against a time-wasting practice.

Be Ready To Talk When Your Party Answers

The practice of giving a telephone call to the operator and then allowing the office boy or the office telephone girl to "hold the wire" until the called party answers, may save the time of the calling party—but it wastes the time of the called party.

Numerous letters received on this subject from prominent subscribers and numerous protests clipped from the daily press indicate that the proper way is to

Be ready to talk when your party answers.

NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY

45-B

Ta! Ta! To tailor-made clothes!

No matter what your propositions, we can fit you.

Whether short and stocky or tall and lanky, it's all the same to us.

It is a fantasy that "extremes" must go to custom tailors — pay an elaborate price and lose time and patience in repeated fittings.

With us you see the fit before you order, and prices are but half a good tailor's.

Sizes from 32 to 54 chest.

Everything men and boys wear.

MAIL ORDERS FILLED

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

Broadway at 13th St. | "The Four Corners" | Broadway at 64th St.

Broadway at Warren | Fifth Ave. at 41st St.

NEW YORK CITY

Lawn Mowers?

Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the five cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.

119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.

Two Phones, 5—6.

OUR OUTOMOBILE FIRE AND THEFT POLICY INSURES AGAINST

Loss or damage by FIRE, arising from any cause whatsoever.

Loss or damage (while in the hands of a transportation company) by stranding, burning, sinking, derailment and collision.

Loss by THEFT, of entire automobile or accessories, in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25.00.)

Reimbursement of the assured in consequence of a loss for any reasonable expenses incurred in recovering, saving and preserving the property insured from further damage.

Our rates are the lowest, companies the strongest, and service the best. Place your business here.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS

GEO. M. CLARKE CO. Babcock Bldg. Telephone 208 Plainfield.

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

Your Next Tenant is an "Ad-Reader"

The tenant to whom your property would be most valuable is a reader of the "To Let" advertisements.

If your advertisement is factful, definite and fully informing he will recognize it as meaning OPPORTUNITY to him, and he will lose no time in getting in touch with you.

But if your advertisement should be vague, uninforming and written with a view to "saving space," it might not appeal of any personal interest at all.

THE SERVICE SHOP 193 NORTH AVENUE

WINNING SONGS CHOSEN BY JUDGES

Compositions Will Be Sung at "New Jersey Day" Observance.

The prize song competition conducted by the West End Civic Association with a vice to obtaining a song appropriate to "New Jersey Day" which is being observed today, brought forth a large number of compositions. As stated yesterday, Miss Olive Lawrence, Class '16, Plainfield High School, won the first prize, $5 in gold, and Everett Case, Class '17, was given second honors, $3. The judges were Clifford A. Braider, Lindsey Best and Mrs. Joseph Edgar. These songs will be sung at the "New Jersey Day" observance at the Washington School tonight. The songs follow:

NEW JERSEY SONG.
Tune Auld Lang Syne.

A day to celebrate old times and visit old time friends;
A day to recall childhood and come home to make amends;
To talk of old Dutch settlers, Indians and their rude sway;
To think of Jersey's progress since —this is New Jersey Day.

A land of lofty mountains, purple foothills, forests green.
Where bloom more varied flowers than are elsewhere to be seen;
Of great white sandy stretches, groves of pine, and hemlock hoar;
Of farms and laden orchards and a broad expanse of shore.

Our rich, productive gardens—fields with bloom or fruit agleam;
A landscape far more picturesque than York hire or Blenheim;
The spicy breath of pine woods, sea-lashed peaches, oyster-pearled
Have filled our state with travelers and the tourists of the world.

The ships that leave our harbors bring ten million dollars' worth
Of the products of our cities to the far ends of the earth.
The beauty of our cities is as well and widely known;
Yet none can rival Plainfield with a beauty all her own.
We boast of soil from ocean's floor, by glacial boulders wrought;
We vaunt of valiant history—here Freedom's fight was fought;
Old Rutgers and proud Princeton we shall evermore display;
These glories ours—This is our own New Jersey of today.

OLIVE LAWRENCE, '16,
South Plainfield.

HAIL NEW JERSEY!
Tune—Orange and the Black.

Hail New Jersey!—how we love thee!
Hail Thou, the Union's pride!
With the blood of martyrs flowing,
Who for country bled and died;
Where George Washington once conquered,
In the struggle to be free—
May thy sword be ever raised
In defense of Liberty!

"Save the Union!" came the warcry,
"Forward, march!"—thy sons were true,
And they fought and fell like heroes
For the Red, the White and Blue.
Hail New Jersey! thy proud warriors
Have been ever staunch and brave;
Evermore thy warcry thunders:
"Our Republic guard and save!"

Still in peace thy name is blameless,
And thy fame has reached the sky,
All thy patriots and statesmen
Raise the flag of truth on high.
Still thy children will be loyal,
And thy glorious shield be bright—
Still wilt thou, with God as leader,
Champion "Liberty and Right."

EVERETT CASE, '17,
1126 Martine Avenue.

DR. ALLEN WILLIAMS FORMS REPTILE STUDY SOCIETY

If there is a prevailing thirst for reliable information about snakes and other reptiles it can be easily slaked through the instruction dispensed by the Reptile Study Society, which has been instituted by Dr. Allen Samuel Williams, of No. 782 East 175th street, New York City. The teaching for members at a distance will be mainly through lesson leaves, bulletins and pictures, something on the order of correspondence school methods. The complete course will turn out graduates who, through tabloid education, will be informed about the whole subject of reptiles, lizards, saurians, turtles, tortoises and serpents, and, as an annex, about the smooth-skinned batrachinas, frogs, toads and salamanders.

The director of the society, Dr. Williams, is well-known throughout New Jersey through his lectures on reptiles. Membership in the society costs only twenty-five cents for students under twenty-one years. The society will reply to any questions or inquiries about reptiles from any source, provided a two-cent stamp for return postage be inclosed. The director declares he has borne a disproportionate share of the burden of maintaining Uncle Sam's postal service in answering letters from anxious inquirers about "hoop snakes" and other mythical serpents.

Just received 400 Red Top Fisk Tires, 35 and 40 per cent. off the list. Special offer, 30x3½ non-skids, $7. Double-tread tires is our specialty. We give reliners free. We make good. Watch our weekly specials.

HUDSON DOUBLE TIRE CO.
269 Halsey Street Newark, N. J.
Tu.-Th.-Fri.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 5.08, 5.40 (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.55, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), (9.52 except holidays), 6.27, 4.55, 7.22, 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.52, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.45, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29, 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.15, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.05 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.15, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (9.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—8.41, 9.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—8.42, 9.52 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.46, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.20 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.39, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39, 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.45, 6.47 p. m. *Except Mauch Chunk. C. S. Tf.

AWNINGS

UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES

Frank G. Wikoff

721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

AUTO BUSES

Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc. Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.

SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
210 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

The Prudential

Welcomes You to its Home Office during Newark's 250th Anniversary Celebration AND AT ALL TIMES.

The Prudential
FORREST F. DRYDEN President

The Home of Good Life Insurance.

35 Dozen Fancy Jersey Asparagus at 20c, 25c and 28c a Bunch

WE ARE RECEIVING EACH DAY THE FINEST CUTTINGS OF THIS MOST DELIGHTFUL VEGETABLE THAT CAN BE OBTAINED, AND SO WITH ANY OF OUR GREEN VEGETABLES; YOU WILL FIND THEM AS TENDER AND FRESH AS THOUGH PICKED FROM YOUR OWN GARDEN. AMONG OUR SELECTIONS FOR THIS WEEK-END YOU WILL FIND—

Fancy Green Beans.....20c
Fresh Jersey Lettuce..12c-15c
Crisp Radishes 5c
Fresh Mushrooms 60c
Hot House Cucumbers, 13c, 2 for 25c
Southern Tomatoes, box...15c
New Beets 10c
Oyster Plant 15c
Green Peas 55c
Rhubarb, bunch 4c
Fancy White Celery.....25c
Spinach .....20c and 35c

BUTTER
Prices way down, quality the same, the best in the city.
Elgin Creamery 36c
Rockdale Tub 38c
Rockdale Prints 39c

Fairy Soap, 6 cakes....25c
Ivory Soap, 6 for.....25c
Lighthouse or Babbitt's Cleanser, 6 cans.....25c

COFFEE
It's in the blend, that's what makes our J. and M. blend of coffee so popular; try a pound, you will be most satisfied with your purchase.
lb, 32c; 5 lbs.....$1.50

PUFFED WHEAT
Per pkg. 11c

STRAWBERRIES
We are receiving daily shipments of berries, and will offer for Friday and Saturday an exceptionally fine lot, their quality and flavor being very good.

PUFFED RICE or CORN
Package 14c

STRICTLY PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY, COMB 20c
NEUMANN BROS. EXTRA FANCY MAINE CORN, 2 CANS 25c

Photo Brand Salmon
The finest Columbia River Salmon packed.
½'s, 12c; 1's 20c

The "Sunshine Special Pkg." contains an assortment of their daintiest crackers, each one a pleasant surprise.
Per 1-lb pkg. 25c

Royal Baking Powder
It's results make baking a pleasure.
¼ lbs, 12c; ½ lbs, 22c; 1 lbs, ...42c

Neumann Bros. Company

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY PRESS

STYLES for the BEACH

Hester Winthrop

A Suit of Pink Brocade with an Embroidered Rose on the Waist

A Suit of Blue and Buff Satin with a Red Jacket

A Smart and Very Short Silk Frock Above Tight Little Knee Breeches

The Canoeist will Rejoice in a Costume as Easy to Swim in as This Daring Swimming Costumes Must Have Big Wraps To Cover Them On Shore - Palm Beach Costumes That Set the Style For This Summer - For the Woman of Quiet Taste.

CONVENTION has had to yield a point—and again and again a point—to fashion, in the matter of bathing suits. Not all the horrified ejaculations of Mrs. Grundy; not all the rigid regulations of certain bathing beaches against sensational costume; not all the satirical efforts of the newspapers have been able to banish daring and dashing bathing suits from American shores; though it may be noted that all the daring swimming costumes are worn on ocean shores and not on lake shores. Fashion pronounces the new bathing suits "quite unquestionable," so a humble writer can only make word pictures about them for her readers and leave the latter to form their own opinions.

From a Yacht One Swims as One Pleases.

The most extreme type of bathing suit pictured on today's page will probably not alarm any of the aforementioned old-fashioned beach visitors this season; for it is not a beach swimming costume but a far more exclusive type—a yacht swimming costume. From the privacy of a yacht's deck one may dive into deep water in any costume at all that is satisfactory to the other members of the yacht's party and at most, only ten or a dozen people will take note of your costume.

Very picturesque little swimming costumes go diving overboard from luxurious yachts, and it seems a pity that only Father Neptune and a handful of others have the privilege of seeing them. For a young matron who will spend the summer cruising in Long Island Sound and along the New England coast to Bar Harbor has been designed the very attractive swimming suit with a little jacket and slashed Oriental trousers confined at the hip under a knotted sash. The trousers are of satin in a bright navy shade with facings of buff satin and rows of little blue glass buttons. The sash is of navy and buff satin in folds and the sleeveless bodice is of buff satin with the tiny blue glass buttons down the front. The stockings are of buff-colored silk and laced boots of satin match the trousers. One strong note of color is given in the jacket of shimmering scarlet taffeta with rows of buff soutache at its edge. The cap of navy blue satin is trimmed with rubber daisies in buff and blue.

Bathing Suits Imitate Frocks For Formal Wear.

There is nothing in the least sensational about the little bathing suit of checked taffeta, except that it imitates an ordinary street frock chopped off above the knee to show tight breeches of black satin. If this does not produce a sensational effect, one does not know what would. A bathing suit of the most abbreviated and sleeveless type—but still frankly a bathing suit—could not be half so daring and sensational as this modest, simple little street frock in which one could make afternoon calls, or do the morning marketing with perfect propriety—were it not chopped off above the knee and worn with tight knee-breeches such as George Washington wore on formal, festal occasions. Obviously, sensational features aside—this is a bathing suit for a woman who dreads sunburn and freckles as the plague itself. The sleeves come clear down to the knuckles and the neck is swathed with a high collar. Cut two inches longer in the skirt and worn over ordinary knee-length knickers, this should make a very attractive and practical bathing costume for a woman who freckles or burns easily. of the costume. It might, at first glance, be a smart tailored quatr'corne of silk or velvet intended for street wear—this assists in giving the costume its sensational effect in conjunction with the satin knee breeches; but the hat is for bathing and sand wear only for it is made of rubberized silk, the square brim having wire at the edge. Such a hat will be discarded by an actual swimmer, before a dive into the water; but its advantages on a sunny beach cannot be gainsaid.

And, speaking of abbreviated, street attire worn, in the way of bathing suits, over tight knee-breeches, I must tell you about another model seen recently. Very smart is the upper part of the costume, which is of pale tan shantung with a skirt gathered from a shallow yoke, the latter extending down to the hem in a broad panel at front and back, so that the flare is entirely at the sides. A belt, buttoned with a big pearl button, sets trimly around the waist and above, the bodice is equally trim and smart, fastening toward the left and having a high, soft stock collar, also buttoned with big pearl buttons, and long, close-fitting sleeves buttoned at the wrist. This fetching little bathing dress escapes the knee by five inches, and as the lower garment extends two inches below the knee, seven inches of this lower garment, a sort of compromise between full bloomers and fitted knee-breeches is revealed below the flaring skirt. The full bloomers, also of tan shantung, have cuffs which button tightly over the knee-cap. Tan silk stockings, black satin bathing slippers and a wide black silk bathing hat complete this very chic costume for sand and sea.

The Dainty Type of Bathing Suit.

Rather dainty than smart in character is the slashed suit of shell pink satin brocade whose emblem is an American Beauty rose embroidered richly on the breast. There is something very engaging about this little suit, though its practical qualities must be doubted. Shell pink brocade in the salt, salt sea; shell pink brocade on the blistering sands under the scorching sun; shell pink brocade twisted and tortured in the rusty old wringer of the bathing pavilion and hung out to dry on a wire rope! One does hate to think of these things to be sure.

Bathing Suits For The Conservative.

The woman who will have none of these picture costumes but demands something reasonable and practical yet attractive withal, for bathing wear this summer, may consider with profit the costume of flounced taffeta—plum colored taffeta in the suit pictured—with pipings and buttons in white. Conventional and modest enough to please anybody is this little costume, yet as dainty as heart could wish. The double flounced skirt is full enough for style and grace, but not too full for easy swimming, and the bodice, with its gay pipings, and sleeve to the elbow, is particularly pleasing. The bathing hat is of white taffeta with a plum taffeta facing, the brim being adjustable so that it may be rolled up or down. White silk stockings and canvas bathing shoes accompany the plum frock. Under the frock are plum taffeta knickers ending just at the knee.

One of the best dressed women at Palm Beach this season, wore a bathing suit of striped taffeta in gay colors, the stripes running horizontally on a full, gathered skirt; and vertically on the sleeveless bodice. A square neck was outlined by bands, and a chemsash, twisted twice around the waist to give a trim effect, was also black satin. A bathing cape to match this suit was of black satin lined with the striped silk.

Black bathing suits are not as fashionable as they were and one is likely to see many colors on the sands this summer; but it should be remembered that dyes are very scarce—good dyes especially—and the most charming bathing suit is likely to lose its charm in the water, unless one has paid a substantial price for its fabric. Most women look better, also, in dark bathing dresses—for as a rule it is wise to make one's self inconspicuous when in a costume as doubtfully becoming as a bathing suit.

What the Good Swimmer Chooses.

The woman who goes in for swimming for the pure sport of it as an exercise, spends little thought on the cut or the color of her bathing suit. Her chief consideration is its virtue as a swimming garment. Will it shed water easily? Does it weigh heavily when wet? Will it hamper and impede the movements of the limbs? These are the things she is interested in. There is nothing like a tunic suit of jersey cloth for swimming, but only the slight, rather undeveloped figure looks well in one of these clinging tunic cut off four or five inches above the knee and worn, unbelted above black swimming tights is a most comfortable affair to swim in, but it also is only for lithe and lissome young figures. There are many admirable features about the good swimming costume worn by the girl leaning on a canoe paddle. The tunic should be becoming to any average figure and combination of tunic and full bloomers is perfectly modest and proper because it is well adapted for the sport to which it belongs. This bathing suit is of blue salt water satin with pipings of blue and rose satin.

A Bathing Cape Imperative This Year.

To be thoroughly smart, this season, you must own a beach wrap, i. e., a voluminous cape of silk or some other fabric which may be caught up carelessly and gracefully for the run from bathhouse to beach, and vice versa. A very attractive beach wrap is pictured. It is made of orange and white striped salt water satin with a lining of white satin and the deep, square collar has tassels of black silk. A white satin cap with black rubber tassels matches the wrap.

A Big Cape Covers the Daring Bathing Suit when on Shore

This Little Suit of Plum Taffeta with White Pipings is in Excellent Taste

BLACK AND WHITE FOR THE DINNER TABLE.

THE fancy for magpie decoration seems to have no end. Now the hostess is bedecking her table for smart luncheon or exclusive dinner with black and white decorations. In the center of the snowy cloth is a low bowl of black glass on whose edge teeter two tiny white birds. From the black glass flower-holder in the center of the bowl rise three vivid red roses. Candlesticks of black glass support shades of black and white striped paper. Low dishes, also of black glass, contain ruby red jelly and little red candies. Or the color scheme may have a note of orange instead of red, with flaming double tulips in the centerpiece, and amber jelly and can-

The Bathing Suit has Its Smart Accessories

PRETTY as it may be in itself, the bathing suit is only one item of a smart swimming regalia. Without its correct accompaniment of silk hosiery, satin slippers, coquettish hat, beach parasol and reticule, the bathing suit alone would cut a sorry figure on the sands. Imagine even the most arresting bathing suit, worn with ordinary black cotton stockings, perhaps owning to a pebble-worn hole in the heel and a red cotton bandanna twisted around the head to keep the hair in place! Half of the effect would be lost.

First in importance comes the bathing cap which is as telling an accessory with the swimming costume as a Paris chapeau ever was with a formal promenade costume. Bathing caps have become marvelous things in the last season or two. The very latest style is not a cap at all, but a shady-brimmed hat that shades the face becomingly and incidentally prevents the sun from blistering a charming nose. At Palm Beach this season these bathing hats were the rage. Some of them, made of rubberized silk in soft, gay colors, had shirred crowns which fitted over the head closely and wide wire-bound brims which might be drawn down, mushroom fashion or curled dashingly up at one side in sombrero effect. A big bow of the rubberized silk completed the graceful outline of the hat. Another style was the Mexican hat, with straight, broad brim and high, peaked crown. These hats were worn tipped back on the head and fringed streamers of rubber fell down the back. Becoming as they are, these new bathing hats do not wreck the bank account like millinery for more formal occasions; a wide-brimmed hat in either of the styles described may be had for about two dollars.

Caps cost even less—a ravishingly becoming cap of silk or rubberized cloth may be had for less than a dollar, some as low as half that price, and these caps have all sorts of odd and original shapes. The Dutch style is becoming to some faces; others are suited by a closer cap without the frill and side-rosettes of the Dutch model. There are Turk's caps, too, with a rubber tassel bobbing at the top, and a new shape called the aviator cap has a very practical extension which comes down over ears and neck and ties around the chin.

The real swimmer, however, usually scorns these trifling head coverings which do not—even the best of them—keep the hair dry, and protects her tresses with an ordinary diving cap of gum rubber, knotting over this a square of silk tied as tightly as possible. Most women will risk the chance of slight headache rather than a chance of soaked hair with the ensuing bother of rinsing and drying. Some of the smartest women at Palm Beach—those who went in bathing for swimming's sake—tied over their rubber diving caps large triangles of firmly woven taffeta silk in some gorgeous color—not plain red or blue or green, but some rare shade of cerise, magenta, pansy purple or blood orange—arranging the silk triangle so that a straight edge encircled face and brow and two crisp ends fluttered from a knot behind one ear. This gave a very gypsish effect that was charming.

Silk stockings are almost imperative with the bathing suit; if one wishes to look smart and well-costumed. Only the best quality should be purchased, for thin, poor silk stockings will soon go to pieces in the sole and show unsightly "Jacob's ladders" in the leg portion. Most women will see the good sense of providing good silk hose for bathing wear, even if cheaper ones must be purchased for use with longer frocks. If bathing slippers are worn, a pair of first quality silk stockings should last well through the bathing season; but after every dip in the sea the stockings must be carefully rinsed and hung to dry in the shade.

The most becoming bathing shoes lace well above the ankle. They may be had in satin and in canvas. There are various sorts of bathing slippers, some with a buttoned strap, others with long ribbons that lace around the ankle. These look very smart on the board floor of the bathing pavilion but when filled with wet sand they lose their trim daintiness and good shape. Women who swim well refuse to hamper the feet with bathing shoes at all and plunge into the water stocking-clad. Last summer heelless black kid boudoir slippers with a pompon on the toe were worn from bathhouse to edge of water and left on the sand with other shore belongings during the morning dip. Very likely the custom will prevail again this and the slippers added a finish to the costume as well as a protection to the silk stockings while sands and rough boards were crossed.

It is always well to have a wrap of some sort waiting on the sands for one is apt to become shivery even in the warm sun if there is any sitting about in a wet bathing suit. The bathing cape, made of heavy silk or Terry cloth is fashion's pronouncement of exclusive style in this matter; but girls of the athletic type rejoice in warm, wooly sweaters which are cosily comfortable over a wet bathing suit.

Sash and cap of rubber; the cap a jaunty affair with a rubber

A cap that may be drawn far down in the water, and on shore raised to reveal a curl.

The new rubber bathing belongings achieve marvelous effects. This one imitates a feather.

There are also long scarfs of knitted worsted and of rubber which may be thrown over the shoulders, protecting bare arms and neck from a scorching sun.

Every bathing suit case is stocked with its kit of vanity belongings which include cold cream, sunburn lotion and plenty of talcum powder—a great shaker-top can full of talcum to be sprinkled all over the body to make clothing slip on easily after the salt water bath. The reticule, carried out on the sands may have its smaller vanity kit a bit of face powder to dab on a sunburned nose; a tiny jar of cold cream to rub into arms and neck occasionally so that the sun may not burn into the epidermis, a dry pocket handkerchief to mop salt water out of one's eyes and, above all, a small mirror so one can see what the wild waves have done to one's appearance.

CRETONNE ON THE GUEST ROOM WRITING TABLE.

EVERY necessity for the writing table may now be obtained in cretonne, and these dainty belongings add much to the cosy appearance of a cretonne-furnished guest room. The small writing table—more fashionable just now than a desk—is covered with glass, laid over a strip of cretonne matching the room hangings. On the glass-covered table goes the blotting pad with its cretonne covered corners, the blotter of course is a shade selected to harmonize. A small electric lamp with mahogany standard and cretonne cover stands beside the blotter, shedding an inviting light over the various conveniences for bed-time correspondence; cretonne covered racks for note paper and postcards, boxes for stamps, trays for erasers, etc. These sets come in various attractive cretonnes but the best effect is obtained by having a set made to order from cretonne

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — SCOOP HAD RUN OUT "OF GRANDMOTHERS" — BY "HOP"!

Mono Storage

Warehouse

North Avenue

Opp. Freight House

125 East Front Street

WHEN ITS YOUR MOVE

SEE US

When you're going to MOVE don't forget that this concern has the equipment and trained men that reduces to the absolute minimum the danger of damage and breakage and the worries and exasperations of this trying time.

OUR SPLENDID EQUIPMENT insures promptness and no delays—our character help and exacting supervision the elimination of roughness and carelessness.

Call 541 and try us.

HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS

W. A. SCHORB & CO.

Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold. 120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.

Telephone 2296.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms

326 to 330 West Front Street, Corner Grove

Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.

Phone 666.

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS

Floral Design Work a Specialty.

Chas. L. Stanley

Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928. Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1126 South Ave. Tel. 331.

Carnations a Specialty

FORRISTEL NURSERY

Successor to BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.

W. H. Forristel, Manager.

Tel. 1419.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK Of Every Description

JOHN J. BROWN

Successor to Brown and Gillespie

Fourth and Richmond Streets

Telephone 140.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE

Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.

We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.

207 North Avenue. Opposite R. R. Depot.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 338-J

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2354

J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 815.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave. | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N Y Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising the car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

200,000 GARDEN PLANTS

Can You Use Any of the Following?

Roses in Pots—50 Varieties.
Geraniums.
Heliotrope.
Lemon Verbena.
Cannas Salvias.
Sweet Alysium.
Colens, Stocks.
Verbenas, Cosmos.
Petunias Marguerites.
Salpflossis Snaptorafon.
Lobelia Scabiosa.
German Ivy.
Vinckas, Calendulas.
Forget-Me-Not.
English Daisies.
Begonias, Tubroses, Begonias.
Calladinu, Pansies.
Asters in all colors.
Butter, Gladiolas, Cannas, Tuberoses, Calladiums.

Hardy Plants.
Chrysanthemums—250 varieties.
Gaillardias, Phlox.
Jox Glove, Holyhocks.
Larkspur.
Trephiniums.
Grape Vines.

Vegetable Plants
Cabbage.
Tomato Plants.
Parsley.
Egg Plants.
Peppers.

CHAS. L. STANLEY

159 East Front Street, Tel. 928.
Greenhouses Trolley Terminus, Netherwood.
Open From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MONSTER AUCTION SALE
TUESDAY, MAY 16
10 A. M. SHARP

ONALAKE POULTRY FARM
1061 Rahway Road, Plainfield.

1 horse, 1 mule, 1 6,000 Egg Hall Mammoth Incubator, 175 portable chicken houses, 175 Norwich Automatic Feeders, 1 250-foot brooder house, 1 75-foot brooder house, 300 single comb White Leghorn hens. Farm implements, wagons, articles too numerous to mention.

Sale rain or shine. Terms, cash.

V. W. NASH, JR., Clerk. 5 12 3

GEORGE YORK, Auctioneer.

EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

New York.—Reports received here from Germany, through publications and private advices, show an increase of crime and brutality among the young as a result of the war. The central committee for the care of juveniles in Berlin has published statistics which show that misdemeanors and crimes, especially among young boys, have increased 100 per cent. over the figures of peace years. The alarming change is attributed to the industrial and social conditions brought about by the war. The family life, in a general way, has ceased to exert any moral influence, according to one authority. Many families have been broken up. The mothers, driven into gainful occupations by the necessities of living, leave the children alone or in the care of other children. "It is time," declares Vorwaerts, a leading Berlin paper, "that all who take an interest in the education of the young should come back to themselves and make an effort to draw attention away from the destructive war, in order to direct the children's minds more persistently to the constructive work of peace."

Minneapolis.—That salary is the attraction that brings nearly half of the women teachers to the normal schools is indicated by a unique report of Dean Lotus Coffman of the department of education of the University of Minnesota. Other motives were that they thought they would like the work, wanted the experience, and thought it would be a steppingstone to something better. Salary is the reason given by forty-six per cent. of the women who were asked why they selected teaching as a profession. Only four per cent. of them gave their liking for books and study as the reason. Incidentally, Dean Coffman points out, ten per cent. of the men teachers insist their real motive was "easy hours; no manual labor."

St. Augustine, Fla.—In what was regarded as preliminary steps to test the recently-enacted State law making it illegal for white persons to teach negroes, three nuns from St. Joseph's convent were recently placed under technical charges of arrest. They were allowed their freedom. The charges, it was said, were brought at the instigation of negroes, who seek to test the law. It is indicated that the case probably would be carried finally to the United States Supreme Court.

CHANCE FOR PRESS ADVERTISERS TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF THE ENTIRE COUNTY.

As the result of an agreement between the Plainfield Daily Press and the Elizabeth Evening Times any advertiser placing a classified ad in the Press may have that same ad inserted in the Elizabeth Evening Times upon the payment of one-half more than is charged for the Daily Press insertion alone. Thus, if an advertisement in the Daily Press costs forty cents, the same advertisement may be placed in the Elizabeth paper for an additional twenty cents.

The Elizabeth Evening Times has a circulation of 9,000 and is widely distributed throughout Union County. Thus if an advertiser places his advertisement in the Plainfield Daily Press and Elizabeth Evening Times he places it before the eyes of thousands of readers at a very small cost.

Most advertisers welcome the opportunity to attract the attention of the whole county to their offerings and with the co-operation of the Elizabeth Evening Times the Plainfield Daily Press is now able to make this possible. The Elizabeth Evening Times has earned a reputation for itself as an advertising medium, especially along the classified line, and it is a well known fact that its influence extends into other counties besides Union.

ENAMEL STRIKERS GO BACK.

New York, May 12.—The workmen of the National Enameling and Stamping Company's plant, at Laurel Hill, Long Island, who went on strike a few days ago, have returned to work.

—Press want ads. pay.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue. Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

FOR SALE — Searchlight, 2 33x4 Baker rims, 3 33x4 tubes, Brown engine pump, Stewart horn, $30 shock absorbers, all new, at your own price. Call 217 Watchung avenue, North Plainfield. 5 12 2

FOR SALE—A chicken coop; will accommodate 25. 99 Rockview avenue. 5 12 2

ALL kinds of carriages for sale. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

MERKEL 6 H. P. twin; $50. 555 East Second street; 'Phone 650-M. 5 10 4

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

TEN painters wanted. Apply 145 Manning avenue, North Plainfield. 5 10 3

WANTED—A reliable man, married; steady work. People's Ice Co., Scotch Plains, N. J. 5 8 tf

BOY wanted; permanent position. Apply Schreiner Bros.' pharmacy. 5 12 2

INTELLIGENT boy for office work, preferably not under 16; good opportunity for advancement. Apply in own handwriting, stating age and wages expected under, "Office," Daily Press. 5 12 2

WANTED—One good mechanic and one good laborer. Industrial Service Company, Lincoln, N. J. 5 11 3

BUTCHER wanted; experienced man to help out Friday and Saturday. 94 Somerset street. 5 11 2

HARNESS WANTED.

WILL PURCHASE FIFTEEN SETS OF SINGLE HARNESS IN GOOD CONDITION; STATE LOWEST PRICE. A. SCHINDEL, P. O. BOX 198, NEWARK, N. J. 5 12 3

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

I WILL sacrifice my house, seven rooms and bath, all improvements; large lot, near trolley and school. Address M. E. S., care Press. th-f-s 4 20 tf

FOR SALE—Lot 40x150, Arlington avenue, near school. J. T. Vail, 177 North avenue. 4 6 tf

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press. 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulvanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. H. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

SITUATION WANTED—MALE.

MAN wishes position as gardener and all around work. Frank Torpczynski, 964 West Third street. 5 10 3

SITUATION WANTED—FEMALE.

YOUNG Danish girl wants position as chambermaid and waitress. Call 831 Madison avenue; 'Phone 606. 5 10 3

WHITE woman wishes position as general housekeeper. 682 West Front street. 5 10 3

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—11-room house and barn, choicest location, shade and fruit trees, garden, convenient to depot, trolley, schools and churches. Lamar VanSyckel, 146 Park avenue. 5 10 3 w-f-s

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

TO LET—Upper five-room flat, with all improvements. Apply J. Pashin, 647 West Third street, or 'Phone 1580-W. 5 10 4

SIX-ROOM apartment, all improvements. Inquire T. Canter, 204 West Fourth street. 5 11 3

NEW 5 and 7 passenger car for rent. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $25. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—Modern dwelling, 559 Belvidere avenue, 10 large rooms and 3 bathrooms; hot water heat; parquet floors; open fireplaces. Every modern improvement and convenience. Lot 100x165. May be seen by appointment. The State Trust Company. 3 6 tf eod

FOR RENT—May 1, house 302 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

GIRL for general housework, white; no laundry. Apply 437 West Seventh street. 5 11 3

WANTED—Colored girl for general housework. Apply 939 Park avenue. 5 11 2

WANTED—Girl for general housework; good wages. 825 Park avenue. 5 11 tf

WANTED — General houseworker. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

WANTED—White girl for general housework. Call tonight, 25 Washington avenue. 5 3 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities 'Phone 1724. tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings; located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T. Vail, Plainfield 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm, "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Gold nose glasses. Return to 263 Watchung avenue, North Plainfield.

LOST—Child's sweater on Park avenue, between Fourth and Eighth streets. Reward if returned to 1077 Arlington avenue; 'Phone 2259-W.

LOST—Saturday at Crescent Oval, boy's red sweater; name on pocket. Return to 920 Cedarbrook road, or telephone 2468-J. 5 12 2

Executor, Administrator

Guardian, Trustee

VOLUNTARY TRUSTS

These trusts are operative during life and not after death. Their purpose is to establish an income producing fund for dependent friends or relatives, or for charitable endowment, and are particularly designed to relieve the overburdened business man of the care of his accumulated capital.

Voluntary Trusts are created by mutual agreement, the terms of which may provide for the disposition of the fund at death. This Company is prepared to handle such trusts and our Officers will be glad to answer questions on the subject.

The Plainfield Trust Company

Julia Heinrich

Soprano of the Metropolitan, the find of the year in opera, singing in direct comparison with Edison's Re-Creation of her voice, to illustrate that one is identical with the other.

Miss Heinrich is but one of the many great artists who have thus proven that Edison has accomplished his ambition to re-create music so perfectly that his re-creations cannot be distinguished from the original.

Hear Edison's Re-Creation of Julia Heinrich's sympathetic voice. Hear Miss Heinrich herself at the Metropolitan, in New York, or when she is on concert tour.

Edison's New Art

What does it mean? It means that Edison's new invention re-creates music so perfectly that his re-creations cannot be distinguished from the original. We can furnish you with reprints of critiques from America's principal newspapers, which prove conclusively that this statement is literally true. But you can prove it with your own ears.

Come to us and hear examples of this new art. Edison's new invention does not require a coined trade name. It is known by the name of its inventor. It is

The NEW EDISON

DIAMOND DISC STUDIO

310 West Front St.

OPP. FIRST M. E. CHURCH PHONE 2680

RECITALS DAILY 4 and 8 P. M.

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE.
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL

Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.

KEEP 'EM SHORT.

"THE VAN ARSDALE SHOES"
FOR MEN

Are cutting a wide swath this Spring, bowling over the dressy fellows who seek unusual styles, and more important—there are no better shoes at their price; that's the way we feel about it, and that's what hundreds of our customers tell us.

$3.50 TO $7.00.

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

A NETTLETON
Master Street Boot

$7 and worth it

"THE ARDSLEY"

Bal.—in Black and Tan Calfskin

The smartly refined lines of this model, its thorough finish, its quality-look, all make a strong appeal to the man who seeks dress-value in shoes.

But more; in black calfskin, "The Ardsley" represents the absolute utmost in wear; in tan calfskin, it is almost as durable. Nettleton Shoes are a sound investment and a real economy.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 West Front Street.

Agent—for Nettleton Men's Shoes—the world's finest.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF COMMUTERS

SERVICE

this bank opens its doors for business every business morning at 8:15. Checks may be cashed, deposits made and access to safe deposit box obtained.

The nearness of this bank to the statiton makes it possible for customers to transact business and take the 8:30 train for the City without undue haste.

The New York business man is invited to do business with this company, and may feel certain that nothing will be left undone that will make the relation satisfactory.

3% interest is paid on accounts of $500 or more.
Checks on this company are payable at par.
Checks on points throughout the United States collected at par.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY

CAPITAL $100,000.

Queen Quality
SHOES

Queen Quality Shoes are made right, fit like your gloves, and look good until worn out.

Number 10637, made of patent kid, turn sole; no seam in shoe, and fits to perfection.

Same thing in dull kid and bronze.

$4.50

Fitted Expertly Here.

A. K. WILLETT
107 Park Ave.

FREE DELIVERY

ROTH&CO.

LEGS OF MILK FED VEAL, (short legs), lb	17½c
RUMP OF VEAL, lb ROAST OF VEAL, lb LOIN AND KIDNEY OF VEAL, lb	20c
CHOICE LOIN VEAL CHOPS, lb	22c
VEAL CUTLETS, lb	28c
BEEF LIVER, lb	10c
Fresh Chopped Beef, every ½ hour, (State inspected), lb	15c
FLANK STEAK, lean and tender, lb	16c
Prime Cuts of CHUCK ROAST, weighing 5 to 7 lbs.; lb	17c
Another tank of our New Process PLATE CORNED BEEF, lb	10c

Long Island Ducks Milk Fed Broilers
Fresh Large Squabs

FRESH KILLED FRICASSEE CHICKENS, lb	21c
SMALL FANCY ROASTING FOWLS, special, lb	25c
FANCY BONELESS BACON, special, lb	17c

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.

AT

Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN

Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.

Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale. Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MEIRSTRICH, Prop.

Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR

Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set

J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

A. H. ENANDER

SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Hoagland's Express

W. H. CARRUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 888.

NATIONAL SHOE REPAIRING CO.

EXPERT SERVICE
All Work Guaranteed
RUBBER HEELS 40c
Work Called for and Delivered
Finest Repairing in the City

106 PARK AVE.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS, VARNISHES, ETC.

141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS

C. CONOVER & CO

Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS

Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

NEW SHIRTS

We're showing a most complete line of the newest patterns in negligee shirts, including the latest plaids.

Time to Select Your

STRAW HAT

Our straws are right up to the minute in style. The best hats for the money are here.

SCHWED BROTHERS

Front St., Opp. Park Ave.

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY
Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's

Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

ORGANIZED 1875

Comforts and Blessings

Consider the many comforts and blessings your saved dollars will afford you and you will see the advantage of regular deposits.

Now is a good time to start an account with us.

4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts.

CITY NATIONAL BANK

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

"Stirring news" today—war news, local news, store news

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Generally cloudy tonight and Sunday; north and northeast winds. Highest yesterday, 71; lowest this morning, 49.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

INSPIRING TALKS ON PREPAREDNESS

Dr. J. G. Hibben and Others Speak at Annual Dinner of Plainfield Princeton Club.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Duncan W. Taylor Chosen President to Succeed S. T. Carter, Jr.—Mayor Calkins and former Mayor Stewart Respond to Toasts.

That the college men of the country are awaking up to the fact that the country needs their services and that they are willing to make a sacrifice in such service, was prominently brought out at the annual dinner of the Plainfield Princeton Club held at the Plainfield Country Club last night. "Preparedness" was the keynote of all the speeches of the evening.

The club had for its special guest John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University, while the other speakers included Mayor Leighton Calkins, representing Harvard, and former Mayor Percy Hamilton Stewart, representing Yale. S. M. Shoemaker, Jr., president of the Philadelphia Princeton Society, spoke for the undergraduate body, and W. E. Richardson, Class '10, who was a member of the American Ambulance Corps serving in France, told of "Life in the Trenches."

Interspersing the speeches, the Nassau Quartet, comprising Messrs. Whitlock, Hamilton, Waters and Frederick, sang the Princeton College songs in a way that stirred the heart of every Son of old Nassau present. They were heartily applauded and repeatedly encored. The members of the club also joined in the singing of college songs, Lewis A. Williams, Jr., a Yale man, being at the piano. Samuel T. Carter, Jr., the retiring president of the club, made an excellent toastmaster in introducing the speakers.

President Hibben, the principal speaker, was given a rousing ovation by the graduates and their guests, when he arose to address the club. He touched a popular chord in the hearts of everyone as he told of the noble way in which the college men especially at Princeton, are awaking to the fact that they are called to serve their country, that there is something beside self to live for and are willing to sacrifice themselves in such a praiseworthy cause.

"The need of college men in the country's service is more apparent than ever," declared Dr. Hibben. "This will mean a great sacrifice to many men, but they are responding nobly to the call for preparedness and without a single exception everyone in Princeton stands unreservedly ready to do all he can to render service to his country. Such a fine example cannot help but exert an influence that will be felt from coast to coast and extend into every hamlet and village."

Dr. Hibbon related an interesting incident of a Princeton graduate who a few days ago wrote him saying that he would like to donate a large American flag to the university to be hung in the chapel. Dr. Hibben replied, thanking him and suggested that the flag be displayed in the hall where the Continental Congress sat, but the graduate insisted that the Stars and Stripes be placed in the chapel, believing that to be the proper place, and Dr. Hibben said "that's where the flag will be displayed." He is a member of a board named by Major General Leonard Wood formed to promote the interests of student training at military camps.

Stirred by the patriotic address by Dr. Hibben, former Mayor Percy H. Stewart, the next speaker, gave an interesting resumé of the work of the military training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., where he spent last summer, and he inspired the college men by his detailed description of the preparedness plan.

His remarks were a strong appeal to all ablebodied men to take advantage of this excellent opportunity to be prepared as true American citizens.

Mayor Calkins, in a brief address, said that this was the age when there is a strong call for men to serve in nearly every walk in life, as well as for their country's good. He told of the many ways in which men can render valuable service, service which would be truly patriotic. Mr. Shoemaker spoke more especially on the topic of "Religious and Social Service," telling what progress is being made today in helping boys and young men to lead clean lives. He brought forth hearty applause as he told of the captain of Princeton's football team addressing a company of 700 boys in Newark Thursday night. He said that during the past year a band of forty university men have been visiting all part of the State conducting services and accomplishing much good.

Mr. Richardson's remarks were chiefly stories of "Life in the Trenches" in the European war, and telling of his experience in the American Ambulance Corps service. He said that fatalism seemed to predominate the soldiers engaged in the war. In his opinion the French are the best soldiers, but he was deeply impressed with the accuracy of the German gunners. Throughout his stay abroad he witnessed nothing but long-distance warfare, the fighting all being at long range. He told of the death of a Princeton man who

(Continued on page 9.)

LOCAL WOMEN GO TO WAR CAMP

Three Will Take Two Weeks' Preparedness Course at Chevy Chase.

Three members of the Plainfield branch of the National Special Aid Society for American Preparedness will leave Plainfield next Tuesday for Washington, D. C., where they will take a two weeks' course at the Chevy Chase camps for women. The Plainfield delegation comprises Mrs. William Butler Tyler, Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite and Mrs. Walter L. Righter.

The Chevy Chase camp is composed of several hundred women at present, three hundred of whom are boarders coming from distant points throughout the country to study the problems that confront a nation in war time. Over two hundred of those registered at the camp are day scholars. The large number of women go through drills of various sorts, and, clad in the regulation camp uniform, they are treated to the strenuousness of camp life.

EDUCATION BOARD TO TAKE UP BUDGET

Citizens Will Have Chance to Be Heard on Matter of Expenditures.

The Board of Education will hold a public meeting in the High School auditorium Monday night, when a hearing of the tentative school budget for the coming year will be granted any interested citizen. This budget, as prepared by the Board, shows the estimated expenses for the coming year to be $247,715, and the estimated income, $122,500; the amount to be raised by the district tax, $125,215. The increased price of coal, together with the employment of additional teachers and janitors for the new schools, also results in a larger amount being required for school purposes. The comparative budgets for this and last year are as follows:

	1915	1916
Fuel	$ 5,500	$ 6,400
Exp. Supt., Prin., Supv., etc.	2,900	2,900
Text books	4,500	4,500
Supplies and other expenses	5,700	5,900
Janitors' supplies	900	1,000
Light, water and power	4,200	4,900
Med. inspection	2,900	2,900
Comp. Att'ndance	1,050	1,200
Board of Education and business office	5,000	5,500
Insurance	1,100	1,100
Wages of other employes	300	300
Lectures	300	300
Recreation	2,000	2,000
Summer school	500	500
Evening school	1,500	1,300
Incidentals	650	200
Mortgage int. and payment	1,610	1,565
Cartage	425	375
Freight and express	250	150
Repairs	5,000	5,000
Telephone	700	900
Furniture	250	500
Manual training	10,000	10,000
Laundry	50	100
Contingencies	375	300
Oper-air school	800	850
Interest, temporary loans	—	450
Janitor's salaries	16,140	18,400
Teach'rs salaries	158,250	168,225
Total	$232,850	$247,715

Estimated Income, 1916-17.

State tax (estimated)	$103,000.00
State tax (manual training)	5,000.00
Tuition receipts	9,000.00
Rental of buildings	1,500.00
Estimated cash balance	4,000.00
Total	$122,500.00

Summary.

Estimated expenses, 1916-1917	$247,715
Estimated income, 1916-1917	122,500
Amount to be raised by District Tax	$125,215

FREDERICK WEBER.

Frederick Weber, a resident of this city for the past five years, died last night at his home, 924 West Third street, following a long illness. He was thirty-four years old, and is survived by his wife and three children, Frederick, Jr., Myrtle and Edward Weber, also one brother, John Weber, of Whitehouse. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 1:15 at the late home, and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, of the Monroe Avenue church. Interment will be in the Bound Brook cemetery.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Warnock, of Craig place, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Laura Rayside Warnock, to William C. Begg, of Paterson.

FIGHTING SHIFTS EAST OF MEUSE

German Guns Bombard Avacourt Wood and Hill 304.

FRENCH MAKE GAINS

British Give Way in Belgium Before Drives of Kaiser's Men — Note to England Held Up by Demand of the Imperial Government.

Paris, May 13.—There was severe fighting on both sides of the Meuse River last night. On the West bank the French, after a heavy bombardment, attacked the German positions at hill No. 287 and made further gains. The French War Office in its communique today stated that the Germans have again concentrated their infantry assaults on the eastern side of the Meuse. The big guns thundered all night on the Verdun front. Northwest of the fortress the Germans concentrated their fire on the line of Avocourt and wood and hill No. 304.

British Lines Give Way.

London, May 13.—Masses of German troops stormed and carried the British lines in the neighborhood of Lens, Northern France, but a portion of the lost ground was won back, according to an official statement issued here.

There was desperate fighting in both engagements, and "heavy losses" are reported.

The centre of the struggle was at Hulluch, just north of Lena and south of Vermelles.

Note To England Delayed.

Washington, May 13.—Negotiations with Great Britain over interference with trade with Germany have been delayed by the German note of May 5, in which Germany expressed confidence that in following the concessions made in the submarine issue this government would insist on Great Britain observing the rules of international law in dealing with neutral trade.

Unless this end was accomplished the German government reserved to itself "complete liberty of decision" in the situation. Mr. Lansing, Secretary of State, in reply to a question when the United States would take up this issue again with Great Britain, made this statement: "In view of the apparent conditions imposed in the German note, it is difficult for the United States to proceed at this time with reference to that issue."

LYDIA CHAPTER ENTERTAINS MASONS

"Master Mason" Night is Observed by Auxiliary Body —Banquet Follows.

Lydia Chapter, Order Eastern Star Lodge, of this city, entertained at its meeting last night representatives from all of the local Masonic lodges, as well as those from Somerville, Bound Brook, Westfield and other nearby towns, it being known as "Master Mason" night.

The whole evening was practically given up to business and the conferring of degrees on seven candidates who had previously been elected to membership in the chapter. The women were highly complimented for the proficient way in which they performed the initiatory work. There were about one hundred visiting Masons. After the business of the evening a banquet was served during which there were a number of speeches by the Masons and the officers of Lydia Chapter.

FORMER N. Y. POLICE INSPECTOR IS DEAD

New York, May 13.—Former Police Inspector Moses Cortright, who retired in 1909 after having been on the force for 46 years, died today, aged 76.

REVIEW OF SECOND REGIMENT.

A review of the Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., will be conducted by the Hon. Frederick W. Donnolly, Mayor of the city of Trenton, Thursday evening, May 18, at the armory, that city. The members of Company K will leave here on a special train at 7:20 that evening. Reservations have been secured for any friends of the local company who may care to attend.

PLANS TO REOPEN CAMP.

John B. Cottrell, of West Sixth street, is preparing to leave for Cobbossee Colony, Monmouth, Maine, where he will reopen his camp for the coming season. Mr. Cottrell established this camp last season and it proved a popular place for many of his friends. The camp is located on Lake Cobbosseecontee, the spot being considered ideal for outdoor life.

Special Attention given to repairing of Ford cars. Try us. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. ***

OBSERVANCE OF NEW JERSEY DAY

Pleasing Program Presented by the West End Civic Association.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Miss Olive Lawrence and Everett Case Receive $5 and $3 Respectively for Writing Best Song Appropriate to the Day.

In connection with its monthly meeting, the West End Civic Association conducted appropriate and inspiring exercises in honor of "New Jersey Day" at the Washington School Auditorium, last night. A large and representative gathering was present and the program arranged by the active organization was fully enjoyed. President Thomas C. Vail occupied the chair and hurried through the routine matters in the monthly session, the principal item of business transacted being the election of two new members.

At the opening of the "New Jersey Day" exercises, President Vail addressed himself to Miss Olive Lawrence, of the class of 1916 of the Plainfield High School and in behalf of the association presented her with a first prize of $5 in gold for writing the best "New Jersey Day" song offered in competition with all the High School pupils of the city. President Vail also presented Everett Case, class of 1917 of P. H. S., with a second prize of three dollars. Miss Lawrence's song was set to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" and Master Case's to "The Orange and Black." Both were sung with enthusiasm by the entire audience, Mrs. Joseph Edgar acting as accompanist. Later in the evening the gathering passed a unanimous vote that a copy of Miss Lawrence's song be forwarded to Governor Fielder, which is being done today by Secretary William J. Boyd of the association.

One of the features of the evening was an address given by Henry C. White on "The Beauties and Opportunities of New Jersey," which followed the singing. Mr. White, who is a fluent and pleasing speaker, extolled the "Garden State" in terms that made all the Jersey men present, whether by birth or adoption, feel more proud than ever that they had it as their abiding place. Mr. White pointed out facts and figures about Jersey that few realized or had known before, these including its wonderful beginning in the days of the colonies, its sturdy sons who fought in the Revolution, its great resources, its manufacturing and its standing in comparison with the other States of the Union, nearly all of which are many times larger.

Mr. White ejected a local touch to his address by telling of the origin of "New Jersey Day." He stated that it was the idea of Dr. James R. Joy, of North Plainfield, who first suggested to Governor Fielder the value of setting aside one day in the year for Jerseymen to pay tribute to their mother State.

At the conclusion of Mr. White's address, which elicited a most hearty period of applause, the West End Community Center Glee Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph Edgar, sang a part song entitled "The Miller's Wooing." It was cleverly presented, and the harmony and theme pleased the audience universally and everyone as a whole voted it an excellent feature of the program.

This is the first "Jersey Day" celebration the West End Civic Association has conducted, and its success was so apparent last night that it will probably lead to a much larger observance next year. None of the other civic organizations took up the idea previously, but it is a certainty that the day will become a red-letter one when its importance is fully realized.

FUNERAL OF JOSIAH SMITH.

The funeral of Josiah Smith was held from his late home, 144 East Fourth street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The service, which was conducted by Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends of the deceased. Interment took place in Hillside cemetery. The floral offerings were especially beautiful and many.

JOHN W. APPLEGATE.

John W. Applegate, aged sixty-seven years, died this morning at his home on Codington avenue, following a brief illness. Beside his wife, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. George L. Aller, one brother, Ernest Applegate, of Flemington, and Mrs. George K. Mellick, of Lambertville. The funeral and interment will be at Flemington.

LEALS JUNIORS DEFEATED.

The B. S. S. defeated Leal's, Jr., on Crescent Oval this morning, by the score of 16 to 15. The lineups: Leal's—Davies, 1b; Marchant, 2b; Zelie, ss-p; Nichols, p-ss; Taylor, 3b; Mygatt, c; Ryder, rf; Davidson, cf; Martin, lf. B. S. S.—S. Roome, p-lf; Worth, c; McGee, 1b; Kenworthy, 2b; Shattuck, ss-lf; Fisher, ss-p; B. Roome, cf; Van Hater, rf; Sill, 3b.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature recorded at the State Trust Company today was as follows: 9 a. m., 56 degrees; 11 a. m., 61 degrees; 12:30 p. m., 61 degrees.

FEAR GREATER RAID ON BORDER

Secret Service Men Uncover Plans for Movement of Bandits.

FUNSTON IS READY

Carranza Sends Troops to Clean up Bandits Near U. S. Line—Wilson and Baker Both on Week-end Vacations—No Sign of Agreement.

Washington, May 13.—Fear of a general uprising all along the Mexican border today actuates every move of the War Department, and troops guarding American property and life there are being rushed to and fro to strengthen the weakest points. Despite stirring stories of a concentrated attack on the part of Carranza troops, aided possibly by bandits and Villa followers, General Funston and his aides do not expect such a movement. They do fear that the excited natives will give way to their gringo-hate and attempt a wholesale massacre of Americans.

Secret service men have uncovered plans for raids on American towns that will pale those at Columbus, Glen Springs and Deemer. These are independent movements, however, and General Funston has placed his men so that they will be met with resistance.

The despatch toward the big bend of the Rio Grande, in Southwestern Texas, of an army of Carranza troops is taken by administration officials as indicating a sincere desire of the Mexican de facto government to clean up the bandits on the border. Coming so soon after the completion of the conference at El Paso, it is considered probable that the movement of Mexicans in Coahuila was a point agreed upon at the conference.

The Mexican situation showed no signs of immediate action, as far as Washington officials are concerned, today. President Wilson is cruising on Chesapeake Bay on board the naval yacht Mayflower. He is not expected to return to the capital until late Sunday or Monday. Mr. Baker, Secretary of War, is making a trip to Atlantic City and Newark.

KENYON GARDENS TO OPEN MONDAY

225 Children Will Have a Plot of Their Own to Grow Things.

The Kenyon Gardens Association will open its grounds, lying between Randolph road, Union street and Arlington avenue, Monday, when nearly 225 children of the city will start preparations for a garden of their own. Although it was the intention of the association at first to limit the number of children to one hundred, it has been found impossible to do this with the large number that have applied for plots. The children will be relayed in three divisions during the summer, the first from about April 15 to June 15, the second from the latter date until August 15, and the third from August 15 to October 15. There are six acres of land at this site, and it ultimately is the hope of the association to have a thousand or more garden plots in use, but for the first year much has to be done in preparation. An experienced teacher will be on hand to instruct the children.

The Kenyon Gardens are a memorial to the memory of Miss E. E. Kenyon, the founder of the seminary and the Monday Afternoon Club, and through the efforts of the alumnae of the former and the latter club sufficient funds were gotten to secure the ground and begin the gardens.

WORKING FOR FORD; STRIKE FOR MORE PAY

Washington, D. C., May 13.—Bricklayers and stonemasons employed in constructing a building on Pennsylvania avenue for Henry Ford, to be used as an automobile salesroom, are on a strike for higher wages. The telegraph operators of the Western Union Telegraph Company threatened to strike because eleven of their number were dismissed. The motormen and conductors of the Washington and Old Dominion Railway, an electric line, are also threatening to strike for higher wages.

CONCETTINO FRANCISCO.

Concettino Francisco, the fifteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gieranio Francisco, of Cook avenue, Scotch Plains, died last night. The funeral was held this morning, and interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

DEATH OF DAUGHTER.

Michelina Cerreti, the thirteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guiseppi Cerreti, of 314 Arlington avenue, died last night. The funeral will be held this afternoon and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

YOUNG PEOPLE FILL TABERNACLE TO HEAR MRS. BRAKE PREACH ON GAINING OF EVERLASTING LIFE

ALMOST 500 WALK DOWN SAWDUST AISLE AT END OF SERVICE IN RESPONSE TO HER ELOQUENT INVITATION.

AN AMBASSADOR OF YOUR MOTHER'S GOD

Dr. Biederwolf Will Return Sometime This Afternoon and Will Preach to Women Only at the Tabernacle Tonight—Great Sermon on Booze Tomorrow Afternoon.

"I come to you as an ambassador of your mother's God," appealed Mrs. Brake in her sermon to a crowd of more than 4,000 people at the Tabernacle last night, and those that hearkened to her plea totalled more than 500. It was young people's night and they flocked down the sawdust aisles in scores and hundreds until the front of the Tabernacle was filled with young boys and young girls who were willing to give their lives to God.

"It's all a mistake to think the world will sneer if you stand up for your convictions," Mrs. Brake told her hearers. "It's only when you profess to be something and the world knows you are a contemptible hypocrite that it despises you for what you are. But suppose the world does sneer? Are you afraid because of that? God pity you if that's the kind of stuff you are made of!"

Mrs. Brake declared that she despised a coward who would sell his soul and sell his influence to evil because ill-bred, good for nothing weaklings might laugh, if he stands for what he things is right. Kings have stood for Jesus Christ, she said, and with honor to their Kingdom, and she begged every member of the audience to come forward and consecrate their lives to God.

Mrs. Brake told the story of the conversion of a ball player. "Billy," she called him, but it was easy to see that the man in mind was the Rev. Billy Sunday. He was a member of the Chicago White Stockings, she said, but everyone knew she meant White Sox, and one night in Detroit while he and other members of the team were talking over the game for the coming day they heard the strains of song from the street. The songs were old songs that Mother used to sing, and this ball player was touched. He followed the singers and gave his heart to God, but all through the night he suffered torment because of fear of what his teammates would have to say next morning. When he met them next day one of the roughest was first to speak. He walked up and stuck out his hand, saying "I'm glad you did it, Billy." His partner and chum, the man whose jeers he feared most, also came forward with a hearty hand shake and a word of cheer, and from that time on his path was one of flowers.

"They believed in him," declared Mrs. Brake, "and they will believe in you if you will confess tonight. The world will be glad you have the courage to stand by your conviction."

The remarks of Mrs. Brake were particularly addressed to young people because of the large number of high school students that were present. There were also a large number of Boy Scouts in the Tabernacle, and a collection was taken to aid the Boy Scout movement in Plainfield.

It was announced that Dr. Biederwolf would return this afternoon, and would preach onight to women only. Sunday afternoon he will preach to men only on "Booze."

NEW YORK PASTOR ACCEPTS LOCAL CALL

Dr. D. W. Skillenger, of Richmond Hill, Will Come to Hope Chapel.

Announcement was made by the Session of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church today that Rev. Dr. D. W. Skellenger, of Richmond Hill, N. Y., had accepted a call as temporary pastor of Hope Chapel, succeeding Rev. Frederic L. Greene. Dr. Skellenger occupied the pulpit at the chapel last Sunday and his sermon and personal bearing created such an impression that the call was extended the forepart of the week. The session has been working jointly with a special committee appointed by the West End congregation to fill the vacancy, and several candidates have previously been considered. Dr. Skellenger will be in charge of both morning and evening services at the chapel tomorrow and thereafter exercise the duties of pastor.

Dr. Skellenger comes to Plainfield with many warm recommendations and a record of excellent work done in other cities. His principal pastorates in previous years were at Scranton, Pa., and Washington, D. C. He has been located at Richmond Hill for some time, doing special work. When he preached last Sunday he was greeted by a large congregation, every member of which was enthusiastically in his favor.

Dr. Skellenger is only the fourth clergyman who has occupied the pulpit at Hope chapel since it was organized in 1888. It was not until 1891 that the first incumbent, Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, now of Chicago, was called. He served until 1901, when he was succeeded by Rev. Lawrence Riggs Howard, at present in the Middle West, who also served for ten years. Mr. Howard was in turn succeeded by Rev. Frederic L. Greene, who came to Plainfield from Buffalo, and who returned to the latter city after resigning his charge several months ago.

APPROACHING WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Hazel Huntsman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. R. Huntsman, to D. Cory Adams, Jr., son of Dr. D. C. Adams, will take place at the home of the bride-elect's parents, 826 East Front street, on Thursday evening, June 1, at 7 o'clock.

Belgian Relief Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Belgian Relief Society at 996 Hillside avenue, on Monday, May 15, at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Charles F. Judson, of Philadelphia, will speak of her relief work for the refugees of Belgium.

5 12 2

WOMEN ONLY AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Tonight's meeting at the Tabernacle will be for women only. Dr. Biederwolf will return from Monticello, Indiana, sometime this afternoon, according to schedule, and he will preach tonight. His subject has not been announced but will appeal peculiarly to women. Tomorrow afternoon he will preach to men only.

FOOD AND GARDEN SALE OF ALL SOULS

The food and garden sale conducted in All Souls' church yesterday afternoon by the Women's Alliance of that church was a decided success in every way, all the tables being generously patronized by the attendants. Mrs. J. P. Osgood was chairman of the entire committee of arrangements and she was ably assisted by the following groups: Cake table, Miss Alice Reed, Mrs. Gates Willard and Miss Emily Haff; garden, Mrs. Charles Brownell, Mrs. M. S. Draper and Mrs. J. O. Osgood, Jr.; flowers, Mrs. S. S. Carvalho; candy, Mrs. John Baltsly and Mrs. Frank Petrette; tea punch, Mrs. Charles Riedel.

W. C. T. U. TO HAVE FLOAT.

Members of the W. C. T. U. are preparing a float for Plainfield's civico-religious demonstration to be held next Wednesday evening. Every member desiring to ride with this organization is requested to hand her name at once to Mrs. P. H. Bennett, 98 Duer street, the chairman of the committee on arrangements. The color scheme of the float will be white, and it is desired that members, as far as possible, dress in white. The paraders will meet at the W. T. The paraders will meet at the W. C. T. U. rooms at 6:30 on the night of the demonstration.

STATISTICS.

Attendance	4,500
Decisions	39
Children	4
Reconsecrations	82
	125

Totals to date:

Attendance	171,000
Decisions	1,388
Reconsecrations	2,307
Children	268
	3,963

Do You Want
to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv.
4 24 tf ***

Newark-New Jersey

250th Anniversary Celebration

1666 1916

May Seventeenth is Founders' Day—and the City of Newark will commemorate the City of Robert Treat in 1666—today in 1916, the metropolis of 400,000 citizens.

A gigantic parade will start in motion at 2 p. m. Following the New Jersey National Guard, thousands of marchers will fall in line, representing prominent civic, fraternal and municipal bodies. There will be many gorgeous floats. The parade bids fair to be the greatest ever seen in this State.

At 8 P. M. special religious and historic ceremonies will be held in the First Presbyterian Church. Mayor Thomas L. Raymond, Rev. William J. Dawson, D. D., Governor James F. Fielder, of New Jersey; Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, of Connecticut, and former Governor Franklin Murphy will speak. A special musical program has been arranged.

Upwards of a hundred events of civic, fraternal, educational, social, industrial, sporting, recreative and artistic significance are being offered for the instruction and entertainment of our citizens and our guests during these months of Celebration—and to YOU, the keys of the city are extended.

Remember the great Newark Pageant, May 30, 31 and June 1 and 2.

Partial Program of Events

May 17—Knights of Columbus Banquet.
May 18—Tall Cedars of Lebanon Parade, Ceremonial and Banquet.
May 18, 19, 20—Amateur Boxing Championship A. A. U., Palace Ball Room. Auspices A. A. U.
May 19—Opera under auspices of the Prudential Insurance Company Athletic Association, "The Sultan of Sulu."
May 20, 21—Special Anniversary Services in all Churches and Synagogues.
May 21—Union Jewish Service, Temple B'nai Jeshurun.
May 22—Convention New Jersey State Association Master Plumbers, and Exhibits.
May 22—Banquet and Ball of above.
May 24—Exhibits of above.
May 25—Knights of Pythias Field Day and Parade.
May 25, 26—Golf Championship of the City of Newark, Forest Hill Links.
May 27—3 p. m.—Bohemian Clubs and Lodges Parade.
May 27—2 p. m.—Parade Essex County Junior Christian Endeavor, Annual Rally.
May 28—Open-Air Union Religious Service, Weequahic Park, at Pageant Amphitheater. Capacity, 40,000.

Committee of One Hundred
Newark, N.J.

FANWOOD CHILD LOST.

Considerable excitement prevailed yesterday afternoon when the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones, of Paterson road, became lost. After several hours' search the child was found on Farley avenue, where it had strayed on a tour of exploration.

John Fitzer, of Martine avenue, has been detained from his position with the C. R. R. of N. J., for several days, due to an injury received while at work.

GO TO THE SEASHORE.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bent and daughter and son have removed from their home on North avenue to Asbury Park, where they will spend the summer.

BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES.

The services at the Baptist church will be held at the usual hours tomorrow morning. Bible school, with classes for all ages, will meet at 9:30. At the 10:45 service, Mother's Day will be observed, and the Rev. J. Madison Hare will take as the topic of his sermon, "What a Mother Cannot Do," and Charles Lewis has arranged an appropriate program. All are requested to wear white flowers. The evening service will be in the chapel at 7:30, with the pastor in charge.

Russians Call Us Allies' Friends.

Petrograd, May 13.—The press continues to comment on the surrender of Germany to the demands of the United States. Some of the papers draw a comparison between the attitude of President Wilson and what they describe as the desire of the "representative of American science, politics, law and church" for the eventual triumph of the allies. American public feeling is declared to be the best antidote for the two years of German agitation in the United States.

General Markets.

New York, May 13

FLOUR—Firm.

BUTTER—Firm; receipts, 7,495; creamery, extras, 92 score, 30c.; creamery, higher scoring, 30½@31c.; firsts, 29@29½c.; seconds, 28@28½c.

EGGS—Firm; receipts, 31,933; fresh gathered, extras, 24½@25c.; regular packed, firsts, 21¾@23¼c.; seconds, 20½@21½c.; nearby hennery whites, fine to fancy, 25@26c.; nearby hennery browns, 24@25c.

CHEESE—Steady; receipts, 1,660; state, held, specials, 18¾@19½c.; fresh, specials, 17@17½c.; do, average fancy, 16¾@17c.; Wisconsin twins, held, 18½@19c.

POULTRY—Live, firmer; broilers, 33@38c.; fowls, 18@19c.; turkeys, 22c. Dressed, steady; chickens, 18@32c.; fowls, 17½@22c.; turkeys, 29@38c.

Live Stock Market.

Pittsburgh, May 13.

CATTLE—Supply light; market steady; prime, $9.50@9.60; good, $8.80@9.35; tidy butchers', $8.50@9; fair, $7.75@8.25; common, $6.50@7; heifers, $6@8.50; common to good fat bulls, $4@8; common to good fat cows $4@7.75; fresh cows and springers, $40@90.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Supply light and market strong; prime wethers, $7.90@8.10, good mixed, $7.50@7.85; fair mixed, $6.75@7.40; culls and common, $4@5.50; lambs, $7@10.60; spring lambs, $10@15; veal calves, $10.50@11; heavy and thin calves, $6@9.

HOGS—Receipts, 10 double decks; market steady; prime heavy, heavy mixed, mediums and heavy Yorkers, $10.25@10.30; light Yorkers, $9.50@9.75; pigs, $8.75@9; roughs, $8.75@9.10; stags, $7@7.25.

PROCTOR'S

Continuous 2 to 11.

10c Photoplays 10c

When selecting a place of amusement bear these facts in mind. We present the Worlds Best Photoplays, every one of which is fit for any mother, father or child to see. Our pictures are perfectly projected by means of the most modern equipment and the mammoth Ice Plant now being installed will keep this theatre cool and comfortable throughout the entire spell of hot weather. No feature is too big or too expensive for us to book. Seeing is believing. Come and be convinced.

TODAY—BIG DOUBLE SHOW

GRACE ELLISTON

An All-Star Metro Cast of Talented Screen Stars in

BLACK FEAR

A Distinctive Dramatic Spectacle Pulsating With Vital Heart-Interest and Sympathetic Compelling Emotionalism

CHARLIE CHAPLIN in THE PROPERTY MAN

The Clever Juvenile Screen Artists in "A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK"

Bring the Kiddies to See These Clever Children

"MUTT & JEFF" "MUSTY SUFFER"

STARTING MONDAY, MAY 15,

MARY PICKFORD WEEK

See This Most Popular of Screen Favorites in a Different Picture Each Day

In addition to the regular program of wonderful Photoplays

MONDAY
MARY PICKFORD in "SUCH A LITTLE QUEEN"
The Second Episode of "THE MYSTERIES OF MYRA"
The entrancing series with a punch in every chapter
'FIT FOR BURNING'
A Powerful Drama that will hold the intense interest of every spectator
Other Select Photoplays

TUESDAY
MARY PICKFORD in "BEHIND THE SCENES"
LILLIAN GISH of "Birth of a Nation" fame in "SOLD FOR MARRIAGE"
FATTY ARBUCKLE in "THE OTHER MAN" (Keystone Comedy)
Eleventh "MARY PAGE"

WEDNESDAY
MARY PICKFORD in "CINDERELLA"
VIVIAN MARTIN in "A MODERN THELMA"
A Gripping Fox Feature
The Twelfth Episode of "THE IRON CLAW"

THURSDAY
MARY PICKFORD in "MISTRESS NELL"
FRANK KEENAN in "THE STEPPING STONE"
A Meritorous Triangle Spectacle
CHESTER CONKLIN in BUCKING SOCIETY
Keystone Comedy

2 Days EXTRAORDINARY ATTRACTION 2 Days
Only Thursday & Friday, May 18 & 19 Only
In Addition to Regular Program of Wonderplays

Charlie Chaplin
In His First Mutual Comedy Under His $670,000 Contract, Entitled
THE FLOORWALKER
A veritable hailstorm of hilarious merriment

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

CLIFFORD APGAR INJURED WHILE PLAYING BALL

Clifford Apgar, the eight-year-old son of Postmaster and Mrs. Willard Apgar, was struck over the eye with a bat while playing ball during recess yesterday afternoon and knocked unconscious.

Clifford was catching too close to the bat at the time and the batsman in swinging at a ball struck him. He dropped to the ground in a heap and the cries of his alarmed playmates brought teachers to the scene. He was carried into the school where he was revived in five minutes. This morning he was able to be out and about as usual.

DOLLAR SOCIAL.

The Epworth League will hold a social Monday evening, May 15, in the class room of the church. Those attending are asked to bring a dollar which they have earned. During the evening short stories will be written, telling of each one's experience in earning the dollar. These stories will be collected, mixed up and then read aloud. Games will be played and refreshments served.

Borough Engineer and Mrs. I. T. Churchill are spending the week-end in New York city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pushman.

Guy H. Rentschler is entertaining his sister, Miss Elizabeth Rentschler, of Ringtown, Pa.

Edward Sheehan is visiting his uncle at Whitehouse.

Arthur Bogardus is spending the week-end in Brooklyn as the guest of William D. Winter.

Arthur Gangloff, of New York city, is visiting his sister, Miss Florence Gangloff, over Sunday.

Peter Schneiderdick has severed his connection with the Hall Press Company.

William Vogel is detained at his home with an attack of pleurisy and pneumonia. He is under the care of Dr. Cooley.

Alterations have been completed at the home of Marshal Weimer Snyder and the place presents a very attractive appearance.

WILL PARADE IN NEW YORK.

Among those who will march in the parade in New York city today to aid preparedness are: William T. Piddington, Jr., Lewis T. Churchill, William Gangloff, Russell Brakeley, Benjamin Cole and Edward Maurer.

Miss Ethel Conover is visiting her parents at Whitehouse.

William Schankman has purchased a baby grand piano.

Westfield.

A fire occurred Thursday in a heap of rubbish at the rear of Woodruff's storage warehouse. The fire was put out with but little damage. For a few moments several barns near the storage houses were in danger.

Westfield Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold its annual vesper service Sunday evening at St. Joseph's church, Roselle. Members from Rahway, Elizabeth and Plainfield will join the Westfield Council.

Watchung.

Rev. Mebane Ramsay will have charge of the morning service tomorrow morning in the Wilson Memorial church. The service will begin at the usual hour, 10:45. Mr. Ramsay, who graduated this week from Princeton seminary, will live here for a year as pastor of the Watchung church.

The ladies' aid of the Mery E. Wilson Memorial Union church will hold their regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon in the chapel instead of Tuesday afternoon, because of the Biederwolf campaign.

The monthly meeting of the North Plainfield Township Committee was held Thursday evening in the committee rooms. Among the matters of interest, bids were opened for an extension wall at the upper end of Somerset street. Owing to a technical error in the bids, the respective bidders were asked to put their bids in a different form, as the county expects to put up a guard wall in place of the present fence.

Washington drive, for which an application has been put in by the owners, was formerly accepted as a public road.

The Watchung Indian Legend Players will meet Monday evening in the Improvement Hall. All committees and members of the cast are urged to be present. The sixth annual portrayal will be given on the evenings of June 9 and 10.

Mrs. Charles C. Wheeler, who has been visiting in Providence, R. I., has returned to her home.

Clarence B. Schmidt has returned to his home after a week's stay at Garden City, L. I.

Whitehouse

Miss Elizabeth Oliver, of Hempstead, Long Island, is visiting her brother, Charles P. Oliver, in East Whitehouse.

Vesper Lodge, No. 239, I. O. O. F., and Lebanon Council, No. 193, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Lebanon, at a meeting tonight, will arrange for a Memorial Day celebration, which will include a parade of the lodge members.

Mrs. Ella Pickell and daughter, Miss Alice Pickell, returned to East Whitehouse Thursday, after a visit to Somerville.

Elmer Cooley returned to New York Thursday, after a visit to his sister, Miss Laura Cooley, of East Whitehouse.

Rev. B. V. D. Wyckoff, pastor of the Readington Reformed church, will lecture Sunday afternoon in the Centerville schoolhouse.

Mrs. Thomas W. McPherson returned to Whitehouse Station Wednesday after a visit to her sister, Mrs. John Honeyman, at Readington.

A daughter was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Redhing, of Whitehouse Station.

The Readington Creamery Association has elected the following officers: President, John T. Cox; secretary, John K. Thompson; treasurer, William T. Hageman; trustees, John E. Van Fleet, Frank N. Cole and Alvah T. Bush.

The grammar school baseball teams opened the baseball season here Wednesday at Whitehouse Park when the East Whitehouse team defeated the Whitehouse Station nine by the score of 17 to 11.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Whitehouse Station Reformed church will be entertained the afternoon of June 7 by Mrs. Mary A. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, of Centerville, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Conover at Whitehouse Station.

Joseph Rosania has moved from Newark to the house vacated by George S. Callard, in this place.

German Valley and Chester.

Floyd Wack, of Dover, ended his visit Thursday to his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wack.

Mrs. William Dee is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Carlisle, of Lebanon.

Herbert T. Conover, of Morristown, has concluded his visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Conover.

Alfred DeCamp has accepted a position with the Hercules Powder Company at Kenvil.

The Dairymen's Association will meet today in Kice's hall.

Junior Naughright entered the employ of Sylvester N. Dilts Thursday. He will assist on the farm and at the creamery.

Mrs. Edward C. Welch is entertaining Miss Lucile Landers, of New York.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tussey, of Glen Ridge. Mrs. Tussey was formerly Miss Myrtle Bartley, of this place.

Miss Iva Nunn is ill with quinsy.

The condition of Lyman Kice, who has been seriously ill for two weeks with liver trouble, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Eliphalet W. Howell entertained Thursday her daughter, Mrs. Charles Skellenger, of Chester.

Mrs. Gilbert Dufford is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roberts of Dover.

Scotch Plains, Fanwood

RETURN TO THE BOROUGH.

After a residence of the past four years in Florida, Leonard Lot has returned to the borough with his family and is residing on Forest road. During his stay in the South he was selected to serve a three-year term as Mayor of Seabreeze, Fla., where he owns considerable property.

LEASE PROPERTY.

The Fanwood Lumber and Supply Co. has rented its house on Martine avenue to a Hoboken party, who will take possession the latter part of the month.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.

The Episcopal church entertainment starts in the Fanwood firehouse tonight at 8 o'clock.

The usual Sunday services in the Willow Grove chapel tomorrow will be in charge of William Sisserson.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE

Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

TODAY—LAST TIMES
COUNTESS OLGA VON HATZFELD AND WILLIAM HERBERT
In a Classy Offering
5 OTHER GREAT ACTS 5
including the Oklahoma Wonder
COWBOY WILLIAMS & CO.
In a great Western Novelty.
SPECIAL ADDED ATTRACTION
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
In a Screaming Comedy

COMING MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY
The greatest children on the stage with the
JUVENILE REVUE
10 Clever Singers & Dancers.
NOTE—The ages of the cast of the JUVENILE REVUE range from 5 to 12 years.
5 OTHER BIG NOVELTIES 5 and special feature photoplays.
BRING THE KIDDIES

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
Vitagraph Star Attraction—
"The Making Over of Geoffrey Manning"
"The Pest Vamooser"
Something New in Vitagraph Productions.
HELEN HOLMES in
"THE GIRL AND THE GAME"
and other star attractions

MONDAY
The Popular Favorite
JOHN BARRYMORE, in
"NEARLY A KING"
A screaming comedy
Burton-Holmes Travelogue and others

This house is the most comfortable in the city, plenty of fresh air—no artificial cooling plant, but sweet invigorating air. Ask about our family ticket; it will interest you.

We Give Travelstamps.

PREPARE YOUR GARDENS AND LAWNS

With Fertilizers Scientifically Prepared.

Remember that Reliable Seeds are the only kind you desire.

Every Gardener should have a Good Spade, Hoe, Fork and Rake.

Preparedness is the keynote of the hour.

A Lawn Roller, Lawn Mower, Spray Pump or Water Can may have been overlooked.

Reliable Garden Hose, a Wheelbarrow or Planet Jr. Plow may be in urgent need.

Every need can be met, for we are prepared to serve you.

H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.

General Hardware and House Furnishings.

Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT

ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Distributed by the PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.

3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it

Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.

EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED

Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles 07
Up to 300 miles 10
Up to 600 miles 15
Up to 1000 miles 20
For greater distances add postmaster rate for 3 lbs

"EVERLASTING LIFE"

Sermon by Mrs. Marie F. Brake at the Tabernacle Last Night.

Text—"And Ye Will Not Come Unto Me That Ye Might Have Everlasting Life."—John 5:40.

This is one of those verses that makes it very plain that if you are lost it will be nobody's fault but your own. A freckle-faced, towseled-headed, bow-legged Union county boy can lead a horse to a watering trough, but a college professor with a mortar board and forty-nine diplomas can't make him drink. There's one thing God won't do. He won't coerce your will. He can't do it and you are a responsible moral agent. Your will is supreme. There isn't enough power in hell to send you there if you have made up your mind there isn't enough power in heaven to drag your soul inside the pearly gates if you have made up your mind to reject Jesus Christ.

And so it will be your fault if you are lost. If you go out of this tabernacle tonight and go beyond the pale of mercy you will remember how God came to you here and offered to save you and how you spurned His offer, and when you have run your earthly career through and gone out into eternity, you will think over your life in this world and of the things you allowed to keep you back from Christ. Then you will see your mistake and own that you were a fool when you made it. It's your will that will save or lose your soul.

I read the other day of a raving lunatic who perished in the flames of a burning building because he would no tyield himself to the brave firemen who had come to save him. He had lost his reason, but his will was still his own, and he used it to settle the awful fate that awaited him. If I should say your reason is impaired you would resent it, but what other are you doing than this poor insane creature did when you fight against God and every effort of His Son to Save you from the awful flames of hell?

Why is it that people will not come to God? What is it that stands between them?

With young people there are two thing, I think, especially that keep them from coming.

Kept Back by Pleasure.

The first is pleasure.

A young lady who was a most beautiful waltzer came to Dr. John Hall one day and said, "I want to join the church."

"Well," he said, "you know it is one thing to join the church and another thing to give yourself to Jesus Christ, and I could not consent to the one unless I knew the other to be true. But if you become a Christian there are certain things you must give up."

"What do you mean? Do you mean that if I become a Christian I must give up dancing?"

And the doctor replied: "If you become a Christian and Jesus Christ asks you to give up dancing, you must be ready to do it."

And she said: "Dr. Hall, if it comes to choosing between Jesus Christ and the dance, I will hold to my dancing and let Jesus Christ go."

And the poor girl made her choice and went out into the world.

Listen! To be a Christian does not mean to give up the dance; it does not mean to give up the theatre or to give up this or that. But it does mean to give yourself up to God and then do His will when He makes it clear. But I tell you now that any other woman who prefers the dance or any other thing to Christ is making the fatal mistake of her life, and the time will come when this and every other form of vain and empty Godless pleasure will become to you as the apples of Sodom, full of ashes and bitterness.

You will remember that Mephistopheles, the devil, secured a written contract from Faust, binding himself to give Faust all the pleasures of this world and binding Faust in the end to forfeit to the devil his soul. The devil kept his contract. Faust drank of every cup, but what a price he paid!

Doing Same Thing.

Wretched and disappointed in the end, Mephistopheles, the devil, came and claimed his soul and took it off to hell. You say you would not sign a contract like that and yet some of you are doing that very thing by the life you are living today.

O woman said to a minister: "You must have an awfully dull time."

"Why?"

"Oh, there are so many things that you can't do that we can."

He said: "What are the things that you can do that we can't?"

"You can't dance."

"How do you know?"

She said: "You don't, and you don't play cards; you don't go to the theatre; you must have an awful dull life."

He said: "According to your argument you are happier than I because I deny myself some things that you don't consequently you are happier than I. You think you are because you do some things that I don't. According to your argument there is another strain of mankind lower than you are and they gratify desires that you don't. According to your argument they gratify and are happier than you because they gratify their desires and they don't deny themselves of the things that you deny they are happier than you because they do some things that you don't. But you know that is not so. The fact is a Christian is the happiest being in the universe, and I want you to understand that it isn't indulgences that makes happiness, but denying one's self. You deny yourself some things that the lower crowd don't and you know tyou are happier than they are. I deny myself some things that you don't. I am happier than you are."

Don't Come That Way.

Happiness don't come from card playing or theatre-going or wearing decollette dresses. You've got a mighty small makeup if you can be satisfied with things like these, but if you had an earnest heart and a soul of any size you'd want something better and higher.

You ought to know a certain gentleman, Clarence Strouse by name, a friend of Dr. Biederwolf's. He's the happiest, funniest fellow you ever met. He has more fun than you can imagine. He made up his mind that life was going to be worth living for him. He began with the theatre, and in a certain city the most expensive box in the finest theatre was always filled with Clarence Strouse and his party. He led the applause, and the finest bouquets that reached the stage were always his; but when the curtain went down and the evening was over the was back to his own room, he turned the light low down, dropped his head in his hand and his heart was empty.

And Satan said: "Clarence, the theatre will never do for you; you must have the ball and the german and grand march; with your splendid figure and elegant dress, you can become the leader of Southern society." And Clarence followed his advice. He was easily a leader, and it was not long until it was heralded in all the papers that the grand march at the great annual ball at Richmond would be led by the young Virginian from Salem. He has told me about it and said it was like a dream in its beauty and fascination. The beautiful women were there with their handsome gowns, the perfume, the flowers and the music. And the grand march came with Clarence and his partner in the lead ad thousands of eyes were riveted upon him. Did he do it handosmely? Of course he did. My, but the applause; how it pleased him. And next day, papers said that for elegance and magnificence nothing in that part of the country had ever equaled the march led the night before by the stately young Mr. Strouse, of Salem. But that night, when the ball was over and the lights were turned out and Clarence found himself back in his room at the hotel, between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning he turned the lights low down, propped his head in his hand and his heart was empty, and he said: "Is this all there is in it?"

Fast Horses and Races.

And Satan said: "Clarence, you will never be satisfied with the ball; you want fast horses and the race course." And Clarence took a fortune, for he had plenty of money, and went throughout the South and bought four of the finest and fastest horses of the Southland. Among them he had one, a blazed-faced sorrel, whose name was Walter, that he loved more than the rest. He would go down to the stables and spend a lot of time with him in the stall. He'd feed him a little sugar and rub his nose with it. He said the trouble with the races was not in the races, but in the company the horses had to keep. And I'll tell you boys, many of you would better yourselves a good deal if you got rid of some of your trifling cmpanions and buy yourself a good horse.

Well, the day for the races came and Walter was entered with four other horses. He got a poor start and was the last one off, but in one minute and a few seconds he passed the fourth horse and then the third, and then he comes up with the first two, and they are so close you could almost throw a blanket over them. And now the second horse falls back. They've been once around and are coming in on the home stretch. Clarence is standing on a high fence beside a lot of book-makers, dressed up in his patent leather shoes, well-creased pants, handsome light spring overcoat and a fortune in either hand. Something told him that Walter was going to win. "Watch that big blazed-faced sorrel," he yelled. "Why, it's like finding money." "Go on, Walter," he cried, and the horse seemed to recognize his vice, his ears laid back and his tail was like the tail of a fox running against the wind, and down the homestretch they came. Walter was about a nose length behind, but they shot under the wire together, and Clarence—well, he fell off the fence, rolled over in the dust, sprained his ankle a little, but was and toward the judges' stand when one of his friends cried, "Walter wins. Walter wins." Tears rolled down the cheeks of my friend, and when they brought the horses to the stable he put is arms around Walter's neck and hugged him like a child. Bystanders applauded. And then the rest of the afternoon and especially the night the dissipation, the the revelry! The wine flowed and the money with it. Beautiful girls were there with bewitching eyes and low-cut dresses, and Clarence was king of the night.

His Heart Was Empty.

But when it was over and he was back in his room he turned the light down low, dropped his head in his hands and his eart was empty. Poor, hungry heart, it was still sad and disappointed, for it was too big and too noble to be satisfied with things like that. And the next morning he loaded his horses and took them back to Salem, where his father had built him a private track. That night he walked down the streets of his native town with a heart that was yet unsatisfied, and he came to a tent where John B. Culpepper was preaching the gospel, and he heard the preacher say that if a man would forsake the world and do the will of Christ, he would have a peace that passeth understanding and a joy that would be abiding. And as Clarence stood in the door of the tent he said, "God knows that's what I want," and when the preacher gave the invitation he walked down the aisle—and, my, what a stir it made, for everybody knew Clarence Strouse—and he fell upon his knees in the straw and the tears ran down his cheeks again like the day when Walter won the race, but they were different tears; and he said, "Oh, God, if you will do for me what the preacher said, I will never throw another card; I will never darken another theatre door; I'll never be found on another ballroom floor"—and then the struggle came—it seemed as though he would die—but he said, "Lord, if You will do this for me, I'll give up Walter," and it seemed as though the flood gates of heaven were lifted up and into his soul poured all that was big and pure and abiding. Walter is a family horse in Philadelphia today. And Clarence is a preacher of the gospel; he preached to 4,000 people on Young's Pier, at Atlantic City, just a short time ago. And you ought to hear him laugh. It would do you as much good as the sermon.

Some of you don't understand this—you may not believe it, but there is no joy like the Christian's. Go ask Byron and let him answer; he reveled in the things you love, and at the early age of thirty-three, disgusted and nauseated, he wrote: "My days are in the yellow leaf."

Pride Holds Youth Back.

The other thing that keeps you back is your pride.

The reason why I know your pride is of the devil is because it will allow you to associate with low-down trifling fellows and to give yourself to that which is unclean and never a blush will come to your cheek. And yet it won't allow you to walk down this aisle as a sign that you mean right for fear some trifling and worthless young fellow or some empty-headed, good-for-nothing woman will laugh at you. There isn't a young man in the town worth speaking to, there isn't a young woman worth noticing when you pass her on the street that will sneer at you if you do what you think it right. And yet the Bible never spoke truer when it said: "The fear of man bringeth a snare." "It's a sure thing that what catches you for the devil leads to eternal ruin instead of Christ and eternal life. Suppose they do laugh. He who laughs last laughs best.

Let them laugh, but the day will come when you can laugh if you want to. But I know in that day that you wouldn't laugh; you'd rather pity them. But I can tell you some one who will laugh. The devil will laugh; and I'd a million times rather be laughed at here for doing a noble than than I would to be laughed at by the devils in hell all eternity long because I did a foolish thing and rejected Christ.

But listen—it's a mistake to think the world will laugh and will not respect you if you are in earnest.

No, sir, it's all a mistake to think the world won't admire you if you stand for your convictions. It's only when you profess to be something and the world knows you are a contemptible hypocrite that it despises you for what you are.

But suppose the world does sneer? Are you afraid because of that? God pity you if that's the kind of stuff you are made of.

I despise a coward that'll deny his soul and sell his influence to the devil because some ill-bred, good-for-nothing weakling might laugh if he stands for what he thinks is right. And as a minister of your mother's God, as an ambassador of Jesus Christ, I ask you to come and stand for Christ tonight. Kings have stood for him.

Then will you? And if you will, come without waiting for anyone to ask you, and give me your hand.

The third thing that keeps you back is procrastination. You say you'll do it some day, but realize that tomorrow is not yours. It's God's Oh, how fast time flies. You think it won't be long until your hair is gray, but it won't be long even if God lets you live that long. If I should come back here in fifty years and preach in another tabernacle like this one, it would be just the same as a sepulchre. You and yours and every man and woman in this house would be dead and your little boys and girls would come hobbling down the aisle on their canes with one foot in the grave and just about ready to drop over into your coffins. May God help you to see tonight what you ought to do and do it now. Oh, I beg of you come tonight.

Last night was "High School Night" and it was a grand success. The banquet, given to the boys in the First Methodist church was excellent, and everyone praised the efforts of Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. for making it the dinner that it was. The presidents of each class of both schools gave short talks. Mr. McEwan, master of ceremonies, praised Monroe O'Donnell's speech "To the girls," and said, that of all the talks on that subject, that one "took the cake." Mr. Biddle and Mr. Aungst, of P. H. S., and N. P. H. S., respectively, gave short talks, and the National Male Quartet sang two excellent selections. Cheering was in order, too, and the roof fairly shook when the two schools were cheering at the same time. The girls had a great time over at the First Baptist church. After singing for the boys, the Quartet went over and sang for the girls. The parade was a great sight. Led by the Dutch Arms band, and followed by N. P. H. S. and P. H. S. in double file, the line extended a block and a half long, and the Boy Scouts added their numbers, bringing the total paraders to about four hundred.

At the Tabernacle, Clara Hadley presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Brake in appreciation of her work among the girls. Mrs. Biederwolf and Miss Bowles also received flowers. Then Plainfield H. S. burst into their cheers, led by Monroe O'Donnell. There was a cheer for each member of the party, and, following on the heels of Plainfield's cheers came those of N. P. H. S., led by Willet. As a climax to all this, there was one yell of the combined forces of both schools for the Biederwolf party.

The committees who were in charge of the decorating of the Tabernacle with the pennants deserve a good deal of credit for the attractive way in which the hundreds of banners were arranged.

Tonight Dr. Biederwolf will be back again and will address women only. Mr. Murray urged the women not to forget their purses as the offering which is to be taken is for Mrs. Brake.

Mr. Beals gave a short talk on what the Boy Scout stands for and what they are doing in this city.

There will be no service in the Tabernacle tomorrow (Sunday) morning.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m., Dr. Biederwolf will give his second sermon on "Booze."

In the Churches

On account of the Biederwolf campaign, in the Tabernacle on Giraud avenue, the evangelical churches of the city and borough uniting in this campaign will hold no services tomorrow evening. Services will be held in the morning. The services being held in the other local churches are indicated below.

Seventh-Day Baptist, corner of Central avenue and Fifth street—Pastor, Rev. Edwin Shaw—Preaching service every Sabbath (Saturday) morning at 10:30 o'clock; Sabbath-school at 11:45 a. m.; Junior Society prayer meeting at 3 p. m., Mrs. Edwin Shaw superintendent; Young People's C. E. meeting at 4 p. m., Miss Mary L. Hunting, president; prayer meeting on Friday at 8 p. m. All are welcome to these services.

Mt. Olive—M. W. Vaughan, D. D., pastor—11, preaching; 2:30, Sunday-school; 7:15, prayer and praise; 8:00, preaching.

Calvary—Rev. D. Y. Campbell, pastor—11 a. m., preaching; 2, Sunday-school; 7:45, preaching.

Shiloh—Rev. Edward Roberts, pastor—11, preaching by the pastor; subject, "A Light In Darkness;" 3:00, Sunday-school; 8:00, preaching.

Bethel Chapel—Rev. William Lloyd Imes, pastor—Services at 11 a. m.; 3:30 p. m., Sunday-school; 6:45 p. m., Christian Endeavor; 8 p. m., preaching.

Marconnier—Rev. J. Tucker Lansdale, pastor—9:45, Sunday-school; 11, morning service; 7:45, evening service.

German—Craig place and Due street—Rev. George Hauser, pastor—10 a. m., Sunday-school; 11 a. m. preaching by the pastor; first Sunday in each month. Evening services second and fourth Sundays.

Episcopal.

Grace Church, East Seventh street—Reverend E. Vicars Stevenson, rector—Services, 7:30 a. m., Holy Communion; 10:30 a. m., morning prayer, litany and sermon; (first Sunday, Holy Communion and sermon); 4:30 p. m., choral Evensong; Thursday, Saints' Day and Holy Days, 10 a. m., Holy Eucharist.

Church of the Heavenly Rest, Clinton avenue and West Fifth street, Rev. Cortlandt H. Mallery, rector—8:00, Holy Eucharist; 9:45, Sunday-school; 11, matins and sermon; 7:30 p. m., Evensong and sermon; Fridays and Holy Days, Holy Eucharist at 10 a. m.

St. Stephen's Church, Netherwood, Rev. Henry Mesier, rector—Services, 8 a. m., Holy Communion; 11 a. m., morning prayer and sermon; (Holy Communion first Sunday of each month); Sunday-school, 9:30 a. m. All sittings free.

St. Mark's Mission for Colored People, Masonic building, 722 St. Mary's avenue—Morning prayer and sermon at 11 o'clock; evening prayer and sermon at 8:15 p. m.; celebration of Holy Eucharist every second Sunday at 11 a. m.; Sunday-school at 10 a. m., Grace Parish House. Rev. Chas. S. Sedgewick, deacon, in charge.

Church of the Holy Cross, North Plainfield—Services, 11 a. m., morning prayer and sermon (with holy communion the first Sunday of each month); Sunday-school, 9:30 a. m.; preaching, 7:45.

Roman Catholic.

St. Mary's—Rev. Bernard M. Bogan, rector—Masses, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 11 a. m.; vespers at 3:30.

St. Joseph's—Rev. Father Peter J. Hart, rector—Masses at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school at 2:30; at 3:30; meeting of church societies at 4 o'clock.

Friends.

Meeting-house, Watchung avenue and Third street—Meeting First-day at 11:00.

Lutheran.

St. Peter's—Rev. G. Daeuble, pastor—Grove street and Mercer avenue—9:30, Sunday-school, German and English; 10:30, preaching in English first Sunday in month.

Swedish—East Seventh street—Stated supply, Rev. Karl Anderson—Service at 8 o'clock.

Unitarian.

All Souls, Park avenue—Rev. John Baltzly, minister — Morning service, 10:30.

Not Classified.

Salvation Army—Public services at 10:30 and 8 p. m.; 2:30, Sunday-school; 6:30, Young People's Legion.

Plainfield Rescue Mission—John LeMatty, superintendent—In W. C. T. U. rooms—8:00, gospel service.

Italian Mission, 409 East Third street, Aurelio R. Mangione, pastor—Morning service, 10:30; Sunday-school, English and Italian, 2:30; evening service, 8 o'clock.

W. C. T. U.—Madison avenue—4 p. m., gospel temperance service.

Associated Bible Students—Meetings as follows, at 436 West Fifth street: Sunday 10:30 a. m., Berean Bible study; Wednesday evening, 8:00 p. m., prayer and praise; Friday evening, study of Tabernacle types and their anti-types.

Gospel Hall, 110 Liberty St., near Front street—Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m.; Gospel preaching every Sunday evening at 7:45; prayer and Bible study Wednesday at 8:00 p. m. All are cordially welcomed. Sunday at 10:45 a. m., meeting for believers.

Regular services of the Christian and Missionary Alliance held at German Reformed church, corner Duer street and Craig place, one block from postoffice, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 and Friday at 3:30 and 7:30 p. m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

Christian Science Society, in Plainfield, New Jersey (128 East Seventh street). Services: Sunday, 11 a. m., Wednesday, 8 p. m.; Sunday-school, 9:45 a. m. Reading-room open each week day, excepting legal holidays, from 2 until 5 o'clock. Subject: "Mortals and Immortals." Golden text: Romans 13:14: "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof."

First Church of Christ, Scientist.—Babcock Building, 240 West Front street—Services, Sunday-school 9:45, service at 11 a. m.; Wednesday, 8 p. m.; reading-room open daily from 2 to 5 p. m., except Sundays and legal holidays. Subject: "Mortals and Immortals." Golden text: Romans 13:14: "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ and make not provision for the flesh to fulfill the lusts thereof."

CHRISTIAN FIELD

Sunday-school will meet at Warren chapel tomorrow at 9:45, while the regular church service will be held at 11 o'clock.

Rev. Edward P. Johnson, D.D., of Rutgers College, will preach tomorrow morning at the Congregational church at 10:30 o'clock. Sunday-school will meet at 11:50.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring will conduct the usual morning service tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church.

"A Light in Darkness" will be the subject of the sermon to be preached by the Rev. E. W. Roberts in the Shiloh Baptist church, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternon the pastor will preach the thanksgiving sermon of the Union Lodge Odd Fellows.

Sunday-school will meet in Grace M. E. church tomorrow morning at 9:30, and the pastor, Rev. C. S. Gillespie, will preach at 10:45. His subject will be "The Source of Strength."

All who wish to unite with the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet the Board of Deacons and the pastor, at the close of the morning service tomorrow. The pastor will preach at 11 o'clock on "Religion's Place in Life." Sunday-school will meet at 9:45. There will be no evening service.

The Rev. A. R. Shelander, of Passaic, will preach tomorrow in an exchange with the pastor of All Souls' church.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

MONSTROUS AUCTION SALE
Of HOUSEHOLD GOODS
COMMENCING WEDNESDAY, MAY 17,
Large Store Room Over Gavett's China Store, 318 W. Front St.
At 10 A. M. and Continued Daily Until All Goods Are Sold.

Consisting of 1 88-note player piano, 1 mahogany piano, 1 pipe organ, beautiful gold furniture, settee and chairs; following list of mahogany furniture—Green velvet settee, carved morris chair, round tables, upholstered chair, bookcase, library set, chest, invalid table, davenport, chairs, rockers, piano stool with back, set of 6 white mahogany upholstered dining chairs; following pieces of beautiful curly birch furniture—handsome dresser with large round mirror, chiffonier, stand, chairs and rockers; following pieces of birdseye maple—bed, box spring, hair mattress, chiffonier, writing desk, cheval glass, stands, chair and rocker; following pieces of golden oak—beautiful set of dining-room furniture, consisting of buffet, round claw footed table, crystal closet, china closet, serving table, 6 leather seated chairs, as good as new. Other dining-room furniture consisting of buffet, crystal closet, round table, chairs, serving table, golden oak library table, chiffonier, book shelves, 3 sets of brass twin beds, hair mattresses and box springs, pillows, pillow rolls; other brass and iron beds, springs and mattresses; teakwood tabouret and others; brass and black andirons, 3 deer heads; silver wolf rug with head; porch swings, porch settee, chairs and rockers, reclining porch chair, gas range, pictures, rugs and carpets; large Crex Rugs and other articles too numerous to mention will be sold without reserve. Rooms will be open for inspection on Tuesday afternoon, May 16, from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. 1 flight stairs up to auction rooms. Look for Schorb flags. Terms cash.

D. GAVIN, Clerk. 5 13 3

WM. A. SCHORB, Auctioneer.

Your Insurance Policy Against Moth Eaten Furs

Our experts have the whole summer before them to repair or remodel your furs. They now have the time to do the work right and our even temperature, moth-proof storage plant will take care of your valuable furs until you need them.

WE HANDLE THE BEST FURS IN PLAINFIELD BECAUSE WE DO OUR WORK RIGHT.

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

LINE OF MARCH FOR CIVIC PARADE

Many Delegations Enter for Demonstration Wednesday Night.

All fraternal, social and religious organizations in Plainfield are coming forward for the big Civico-Religious demonstration to be held at 7:45 next Wednesday night, when there will be a parade over some of the downtown streets. Delegations will carry flags and the route of march is to be decorated with flags, buntings, and lights. The line will form on Watchung avenue and will march north to Front street, then down Front to Geraud, and north on Geraud to the Tabernacle.

W. T. Kaufman is chairman of the parade committee. C. W. McCutchen has been named chief marshal and his aides are Arthur T. Goodenough, Donald A. McGee, J. Hartley Melick, J. Rex Shoemaker. Warren Ackerman will be bugler. The formation will be as follows:

Division I—John R. McLaughlin, leader; electric cross, police, band, Biederwolf party, press, ministers, Co. K, Troop D, G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, ushers, women assistants, cottage prayer meeting committee, W. C. T. U., form around triangle between Sixth and Seventh streets, on Watchung avenue.

Division II—George H. Batchelor, leader; chorus choir, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts, Factories, form on Seventh street, between Crescent and Park avenues.

Division III—H. W. Marshall, leader; band, commercial college, high schools, postoffice employes, Federated Men's Church Clubs and Bible classes, lodges, form on Crescent avenue, above Seventh street.

Division IV—E. B. Shoemaker, leader; drum corps, miscellaneous Tabernacle group and visiting delegations, form on Watchung avenue, above Seventh street.

Division V—Judge W. N. Runyon, leader; band, Sabbath schools, floats, etc., miscellaneous floats representing business firms, form on Seventh street, between Watchung avenue and Franklin place.

Division VI—Allan B. Laing, leader; decorated automobiles, form on Sixth street, between Watchung avenue and Franklin place.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

ADVERTISED MAIL MATTER

Plainfield, N. J., May 8, 1916.
A. E. Hoagland, P. M.

MEN—Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Bleecker, John Boles, Hermon Carter, W. R. Dick, Hallek Druminski, W. J. Drake, F. S. Duczrk, Louis H. Du Bois, Stanwood Flitner, Great Western Sugar Company, Carlisle Goodrich, Jr., B. J. Harrell, Howell & Gordon, E. T. Hoffer, Lieutenant Albert Huntington, Peter Kanoulst, Louis Katko, Frank L. Lane, H. Lenord, H. W. Little, Raymond Messinea, Claetus Mulligan, A. F. North, M. Orient, H. Oliver, J. L. Owen, Alex. Allen, Berry Pratt, E. L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Prevost, H. F. Quarterman, Lucius C. Ryce, Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Witt Smith, Charles B. Sammers, the Steward River Lawn Sant., Andrew Santo, Edward B. Smith, Jr., D. L. Sheeton, U. M. C. Co., Heinz Vorm, Hiram Van Dorn, J. F. Williams, William Wilson, Henry K. Woodbridge.

WOMEN—Mrs. R. Armstrong, Mrs. Maria L. Bingham, Mrs. Floyd Broffs, Miss Mabel Bauers, Mrs. Howard Boulton, Mrs. Helen Carman, Mrs. C. L. H., Mrs. A. L. V. Clarke, Miss Nellie Delaney, Miss Mabel Duffy, Mrs. Alice Fish, Mrs. Stanwood Flitner, Mrs. Charlotte Fritz, Mrs. Harding, Miss Anna Heinrich, Mrs. Clarence Heysler, Mrs. G. Ihirsam, Mrs. Harry Jones, Miss Helen Johnson, Miss Katie Kane, Mrs. Alan L. Lovey, Mrs. Josephine Leconis, Mrs. James A. La Vake, Mrs. Owen C. McCushen, Mrs. Frank Miller, Miss Bessie Martin, Mrs J. J. Meyers, Mrs. P. L. Osmun, Miss Warrey Perry, Miss Edna Phillips, Miss Provost, Miss Elizabeth Reynolds, Mrs. W. Smith, W. H. Smith, Miss E. Smith, Mrs. E. C. Spencer, Mrs. Theodore Terry, Mrs. Grace Titus, Mrs. George C. Tewksbury, Miss Thompson, Miss Mary Teery, Miss Fannie Watkins, Miss Dorothy Whitehead.

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS

WATCHES CLOCKS and JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
217 Park Ave. Phone 1967-J.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a5.30, a7.30, 9.00, 11.45, 1.50, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.10, b8.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—9.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 9.00.

Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.05, 1.20, 2.30, b4.20, 4.20 except Saturday, 5.20, 7.20, b9.30, 10.50, b11.45. Sundays—9.30, 12.15, 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.

Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00, a.15, f10.00, b1.00, g3.00, 4.15, b6.30.

Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00, 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g3.45, 5.30, g7.50.

Leave Plainfield for Warrenville—d6.45, e6.15, 6.20, f10.00, g3.00, g6.30.

Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40, f11.00, g3.30, g7.15.

Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b1.00, 4.15.

Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8. 0, b2.00, 5.15.

(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays Monday mornings, and mornings afte holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave 'Phone 130 Plainfield.

MILLWORK

We have recently made arrangements with one of the largest millwork concerns in this part of the State, and are now prepared to furnish millwork of every description.

Allow us to figure on your requirements.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1887.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Table Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 991.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:18 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 5:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3:50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—6:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 3:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, :00, 3:50 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m., 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. BOAGLAND, P. M.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

THE FORUM

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

The following are statements made by Dr. Biederwolf in his attack on the teachings of Pastor Russell, with corrections made by the undersigned:

I.

Dr. Biederwolf: "You will find on every page of the six volumes (almost every page), every chapter, Oct. 1914; 1914."

Pastor Russell: In the whole of the first and the fifth volumes, 1914 is not mentioned at all. In the second volume, "The Time is at Hand," it is mentioned in four out of the ten chapters. This volume deals mainly with chronology. In the third volume it is mentioned about fifteen times; in the fourth, once in one chapter and six times in another; and in the sixth volume, it occurs but once.

II.

Dr. Biederwolf: "In Vol. 1, p. 188, Pastor Russell says God had no right to create Jesus higher than the angels, and then further exalt him to the divine nature, unless he intended to do the same for all the angels and for all men."

Pastor Russell: The proper reference is p. 187 and 188, and the context shows that Pastor Russell characterizes this as "the mistaken idea of some" and condemns it as "a manifest absurdity."

III.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Pastor Russell denies the pre-existence of Jesus, teaching that he was not before all things as the Bible says he was."

Pastor Russell: "These statements respecting our Lord Jesus, that he was the beginning of the creation of God, and that he had, therefore, an existence long before he came into the world as a man, to be our Redeemer, are fully confirmed by various Scriptures, a sample of which is the statement, 'God sent his only begotten Son into the world that we might have life through him.'"—Vol. V, page 88.

IV.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Russellism declares (Vol 1, p. 179) that Christ at His incarnation gave up his spirit being and that while He walked on earth, He was nothing more than a perfect human being. Those are his exact words."

Pastor Russell: This statement is not found in the reference. Pastor Russell does not hold the theory of incarnation, as shown in Vol. V, pages 93 and 94: "The common thought in respect to our Lord's manifestation in the flesh is usually expressed in the word incarnation. This usual thought we believe to be wholly incorrest, unscriptural."

V.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Russell says that while Jesus was on earth He only had one nature and that was human; and in order to become your Saviour and mine He gave up his divine nature."

Pastor Russell: "Our Redeemer existed as a spirit being (not of the divine nature) before he was made flesh and dwelt amongst men. . . . His resurrection not only restored to him a spirit nature, but, in addition conferred upon him a still higher honor; and, as the Father's reward for his faithfulness, made him partaker of the divine nature—the very highest of the spirit natures, possessed of immortality."—Vol. V, page 84.

VI.

Dr. Biederwolf: "This (that it was Jesus' humanity that was sacrificed for our redemption) denies the atonement."

Pastor Russell: John 6: 51 proves that it was Jesus' humanity that was sacrificed for our redemption. Everything in Vol. V. proves that Pastor Russell does not deny the atonement.

VII.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Russellism declares that we ourselves as the children of God, through our sacrifice, are a part of the ransom price of sin."

Pastor Russell: On page 8 of his booklet, "The Sin-Offering and the Covenants," Pastor Russell says, "So far as the Ransom is concerned, the Church is never said to share in the Ransom."

VIII.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Russellism teaches that death always means extinction; the cessation of being; annihilation; and that Christ was annihilated."

Pastor Russell: In his article, "Oblivion, not Annihilation," from Bible Students' Monthly, Vol. VI, No. 2, Pastor Russell says, "The word annihilation would be a very improper one to use in respect to the condition of a man in death, except it be the Second Death. The thought connected with annihilation is that of being absolutely wiped out of existence. Hence annihilation is an improper term in respect to the Hadean condition."

IX.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Russell teaches that such Christians as were raised in 1878 and those raised in 1914 were raised as spirit beings, without a body."

Pastor Russell: There is a spiritual body, as well as a natural (human) body; a celestial as well as a terrestrial, and a glory of the earthly as well as of the heavenly."—Vol I, p. 181.

X.

Dr. Biederwolf: "Russellism teaches that the wicked dead are annihilated, but at the beginning of the Millenium, in Oct., 1914, they will all be re-created."

Pastor Russell: "The Gershom class [representing the world of mankind] . . . will enter its inheritance by that gradual resurrection, or uplifting from death [not annihilation] to life, to be fully attained at the close of the Millenium."—Vol. VI, page 131.

XI.

Dr. Biederwolf: Russell's sole purpose is to give those dying in sin a second chance in the age to come."

Pastor Russell: Reference (Vol. VIII, page 131) is a manifest error, as only six volumes exist. Vol. I, p. 130, may be meant, but does not bear such construction.

We hereby offer the above references as a plain statement of our belief on the points Dr. Biederwolf dealt with in his attack upon Pastor Russell, and append our signatures hereto for that purpose.

C. W. MAREDYDD HARRISON.
G. HARVSY BOGERT.
HOWARD M. COMER.
BENJAMIN BOULTER.

MOTHER'S DAY

Tomorrow is a day that honors the dearest woman in all the world—YOUR Mother.

Honor her by cleansing your heart of all that is wrong and unjust. Go to her side and make her feel that this day, at least, has brought forth an appreciation too often stifled.

And if she has already started on that "journey from whose bourne no traveler e'er returneth," kneel down and in silent benediction, mumble that tenderest of all names in the dictionary of Divinity —"Mother."

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 5.08, 5.40 (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.58, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), 8.52 except holidays), 6.27, 6.55, 7.22, days), 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.36, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.29, 2.55, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29 10.36, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.18, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.05 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (8.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—3.41, 9.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 3.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.42, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m. 1.20 a. m. Sunday 9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.42, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.39, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39, 6.38, 6.47, 8.47, 1.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.46, 6.47 p. m.

*Except Mauch Chunk.

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S
RYE
E. C. WESTCOTT
115 East Front Street

REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

POLITICAL NOTES

Congress is sure to sit during the hot weather this summer, say the Washington dispatches. After the national conventions are over, the members don their linen suits and weather the summer through.

Dr. Percival Lowell, the Harvard astronomer who measures the canals on Mars at his Flagstaff observatory, is urged to run for the United States Senate in Arizona, where he is now a legal resident.

Eugene Debs, of Socialism fame, is a candidate for Congress in Indiana, in the district now represented by Frank Moss. There are ten thousand miners in the section, many of them Socialists.

Pennsylvania, through the Penrose faction, is booming Hon. Philander C. Knox as that State's favorite in the Republican convention. The Brumbaugh boosters are also active.

Senator O'Gorman, of New York, whose term expires next March, will not seek re-election.

Four out of the 28 delegates which Washington State is sending to the St. Louis convention, are women. Each has one-half a vote.

—Press want ads. pay.

ESTATE OF EDGAR HUIDEKOPER MUMFORD, deceased.—Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the County of Union, made on the eighteenth day of March, A. D., 1916, upon the application of the undersigned, as executrix of the estate of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the date of said order, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

ROSE SKEEL MUMFORD, Executrix.

3 25 10cawS Fees $11.10.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Plainfield Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time.

Doan's Kidney Pills is a good remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has acted effectively in many cases in Plainfield. Follow the advice of a Plainfield citizen.

A. K. Mattis, 127 West Fourth street, Plainfield, says: "I confirm all that one of my family said in my favor in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Randolph's Drug Store, some years ago. The cure they gave me has lasted."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Mattis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

—Press want ads. pay.

He Who Wears a Rose Tag Honors Himself

It Is Your Recognized Duty

As a member of a community of civilized persons to see that suffering and pain are banished from that community in so far as human agencies can accomplish that end.

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY BOARD OF MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL, PLAINFIELD NEW JERSEY

Is using all of its resources to assist the Board of Governors in the work of caring for the sick and suffering of this city.

The Extent of Its Resources Measures the Amount of Work It Can Accomplish.

ROSE TAG DAY
SATURDAY, JUNE 17

Is the day upon which the people of Plainfield should consider their responsibilities to the sick, who might suffer unattended were it not for Muhlenberg Hospital.

Therefore Let Your Heart Rule Your Purse

You may concentrate your duty to your fellow men in this regard upon one day, but the Muhlenberg Hospital will spread it out over 365 days in the year.

He Who Wears a Rose Tag Honors Himself

Summer Furniture

HAS BEEN GETTING SO MUCH BETTER AND NICER EACH YEAR THAT OUTDOOR FURNISHINGS ARE NOW AS ATTRACTIVE AND NECESSARY AS THOSE INSIDE. WE WOULD ADVISE EARLY BUYING WHILE THE STOCKS ARE COMPLETE; THE SEASON IS SHORT AND THE BUYING FAST.

Good Refrigerators

Many new improvements, making them more sanitary and your ice bill will be less, too. Prices—

6.98 TO 48.50

Vudor Porch Shades

The one really good shade, does not fade; always pulls easily and wears longer; all regular sizes in stock. Prices

2.50 TO 7.75

OUR AWNINGS AND WINDOW SHADES are RIGHT IN QUALITY and PRICE

Summer Rugs

Most unusual designs and colorings; different patterns on each side; suitable for either inside or porch use; all regular sizes.

2.98 TO 9.98 Each.

Couch Hammocks

Many new designs and novelty stripe coverings; good mattress and guaranteed springs; just what you need for the hot days coming.

Prices.....$6.98 to $19.00 Frames.....$2.75 to $3.98

Reed and Willow Chairs	$2.98 to $10.98
Maple Chairs	$1.25 to $3.98
Tables to match	$2.98 to $6.98
Lawn Settees	98c
Lawn Swings, 4-passenger	$6.00
Green and Natural Porch Screens	$1.15 to $3.50
Screen Doors	$1.25 to $1.75
Window Screens	25c to 60c
Mattings, 3x6 feet, each	49c

SHIRLEY & JOHNSTON

The Quality Home Furnishers
Babcock Building

JOHN S. JOHNSTON, Prop.
WEST FRONT STREET

FOR The Home Builder

HOUSE SHORTAGE STIRS INVESTORS

Several West End Tracts Undergoing Developments for Building Purposes.

ACTIVITIES GROWING

Merchants and Traders Company the Latest to Announce Its Plans—May Put up Fifteen Moderate Priced Dwellings.

As a result of the demand for skilled workmen in the local shops, and the resultant influx of a large number of new families to Plainfield, the coming summer and fall will witness the development of several tracts of ground in the West End and the erection of a large number of workmen's homes. At the present time there is a distinct shortage of medium-priced residences in this section of the city, while the renting of rooms is practically out of the question. Every boarding house west of Plainfield avenue is taxed to its capacity, in many instances it being necessary for men employed in the Clinton avenue district to make long journeys to get located. The industrial boom will undoubtedly continue for a long time to come, and the Plainfield investors have been quick to see their opportunity.

One of the most important announcements in this respect became known the past week, when the Merchants and Traders Realty Company made public its purchase of the Brunson tract at West Front street and Jefferson avenue. This parcel of ground is directly on the western limit of Plainfield and the eastern border of Dunellen, although every part of it is in the city proper. It is convenient to the Ransome Concrete Works, the International Motor Car Company, the Pond shop, the Hall Press Works, the Potter Press Works and the proposed new plant of the American Motor Company, ground for which is soon to be broken on West Front street, near Grant avenue. The Merchants and Traders Company has announced that it will immediately complete plans to build about fifteen houses on the Brunson tract. They will be of a seven-room type and located on a lot big enough to provide a good-sized yard. The investment will, of a certainty, be a paying one, as it is this class of dwelling that is pressingly needed in the extreme west end.

Beside the development of the Brunson tract, work is progressing on the former Talmadge property on West Front street, between Mariners place and Clinton avenue, which is to be developed by the Standard Real Estate and Investment Company. As stated in these columns in a previous issue, the company has built a thoroughfare to be known as Emms street, straight through the tract from Front street to Jefferson avenue. A sewer system, gas and water pipes have been located, and plans are now being carried out to build desirable dwellings on both sides of the thoroughfare. Several of the lots have been purchased by individuals, who propose to have homes built according to their own ideas. This property is another which will help, when fully developed, to relieve the demand for workmen's homes, as it is located conveniently to the big factories.

A third tract in the West End which will soon be developed, is that which was once a portion of the Rocap farm, on West Front street, near West End Park, and which is now a part of the late Halstead Compton's estate. This tract, in company with other portions of the Compton property, on Compton and Myrtle avenues, is to be opened up for building purposes. The details are being worked out by James C. Manning, who is handling it for Miss Mary Compton, who was bequeathed it by her father. The dwellings contemplated are of the higher type than the other mentioned, and will be put up by the individual purchasers of lots, provided the idea of the owner is carried out.

CONTRACTORS' FILES

The following local contracts have been filed at the office of the county clerk in Elizabeth during the past week:

Oscar W. Smith with Conniff Bros., mason work, new building, Prescott Hill, Plainfield, $3,750.

Rosa Frucht with Cohen & Israelsky, entire work new building, Division street, Plainfield, $3,200.

Rosa Frucht with Cohen & Israelsky, entire work new building, Sixth street, Plainfield, $5,200.

Oscar W. Smith with A. M. Griffen Co., plumbing work new building, Prescott Hill, Plainfield, $1,646.

Same with Allen B. Laing Co., electric work, $180.

Same with M. Thompson, carpenter work, $5,210.

Same with O. F. Pearson, painting work, $500.

LARGE ADDITION FOR SCOTT SHOP

Two Story Structure 80 by 200 Feet Will Be Added to Main Building.

PLANS SOON READY

Announcement Follows Report That Pond Machine Tool Company is to Provide More Room—Indications Strong That Boom is to Continue.

Another evidence that the industrial boom Plainfield is enjoying at present is to continue indefinitely has been gleaned through the intention of the Walter Scott Printing Press Company to erect an addition to its present large plant at South avenue and Richmond street. Plans are now being prepared for a structure two stories in height measuring 80 by 200 feet. It is to be placed at the east end of the present machine shop and will be constructed of brick to conform with the older part. It is probable that the plans will be placed in the hands of Inspector T. O. Doane within the coming week.

The Scott Company is the second local industrial concern which is enjoying one of the most active seasons of its career and which has found it necessary to have an increase of floor space. As stated in these columns last week, the Pond Machine Tool Company has felt the need of more room to such an extent that a large new addition for the exclusive use of the erecting department is soon to be erected at the eastern end of the present big plant. While the details are not yet complete it will be at least two hundred and fifty feet long and about eighty feet wide. This will also be of brick the same as the rest of the shop, and will probably be erected by the Flint Construction Company, of Worchester, Mass., which has put up all the Pond buildings.

While nearly all of Plainfield's factories have been working day and night the past year, the rush has generally been credited to large war orders. The decision of the Pond and Scott shops to increase the size of their plant is convincing of itself that the officials believe the continuance of good business is to keep up even if peace is declared in Europe, a belief that exists among manufacturers throughout the country. The Scott Press Works has heretofore confined itself to the manufacture of printing presses but in addition to these has lately been working on orders for shell-making lathes, eventually to be consigned to the British government. The Hall Press Works at West Dunellen is also working night and day on a similar lathe order and the Pond shop has sub-contracts from the Bethlehem Steel Company, which will keep it busy for a long time. Persons making a study of the matter present the statement that if the companies were depending on war orders alone there would be no additions to shops, hence it may readily be understood that Plainfield's active industrial period is to be prolonged indefinitely, all of which portends a consequent increase in business generally and resultant "good times."

A report from the Spicer plant at South Plainfield states that the orders now on hand will keep the day and night force of men busy for at least six months. An addition to the machine shop is now underway and it will permit the company to increase the number of hands from 800 to more than 1,000. The effect of this news can be discerned in the healthy building boom which is in progress in the village. Realty activities have been pronounced throughout the village and surrounding territory and the coming summer will undoubtedly see a large number of moderate priced dwellings put up.

REALTY TRANSFERS

The following local realty transfers were recorded at the office of the county clerk in Elizabeth during the past week:

Henry W. Derres et ux. to Henry Wrage, easterly side Rushmore avenue, 133 feet southerly South Second street, Plainfield $1

Henry J. Derres et ux. to John P. Fenner, easterly side Rushmore avenue, 89 feet southerly South Second street, Plainfield $1

Charles F. Hidlit to Isaac A. Hirlit et al., southwesterly side Hunter avenue, 157 feet northwesterly West Fourth street, Plainfield $100

Camden Safe Deposit and Trust Co. to Wardlaw School, southwesterly side Park avenue, 259 feet corner D. Martine, Plainfield $3,000

It Pays to Secure a Tenant Who Pays.

The uncertain sort of tenant is easy to find. He is always answering the call of the window sign of "To Let." He is easy to please. Even a rather high rental does not frighten him away.

THE OLD STYLE COLONIAL

DESIGNED BY CHAS S. SEDGWICK, ARCHITECT.

THE old style "Colonial" has a distinct charm of its own and many homes are building at the present time that take their inspiration from these old houses.

Our design is a very simple modest house, the size being 34 ft. front and 25 ft. depth. The regulation central entrance with hall and stairway and arrangement of rooms on each side is strictly "Colonial" and the exterior covered with alternate courses of wide and narrow shingles adds another attractive feature.

These wall shingles should be the best quality of heavy cedar or pine shingles and stained with a dip coat of creosote and a second coat given with the brush on completion. A very pleasing combination is a dark moss green for the wall shingles and a light grey stain for the roof shingles, then paint all of the outside trimmings white, including the outside of window sash, also blinds if used.

In this plan the living room is on the left side with a den at the rear, with book shelves and small high up windows, the two rooms are connected by a wide columned opening.

In the center of the outside of living room is a wide projected chimney with fireplace and on the opposite side of house is a corresponding chimney and fireplace, these two chimneys are carried up on the outside in the center of the two end gables and built of a dark oriental brick.

The main central staircase is an attractive feature, with the landing in a curved semicircular end of hall with a pretty niche on each side. The kitchen and dining room arragements are good. The first story is finished in dark oak and second story in pine and enameled white. The cost is $4,000 to $5,000, exclusive of heating and plumbing. A full basement and three good chambers complete a very pretty "Colonial" home.

Build Beauty Into Every Room

Specify Cornell-Wood-Board for the walls and ceilings of the new home. Then the entire house will come up to your ideals of beauty, permanence and economy. Let Cornell designers show you just how it can be done.

Cornell-Wood-Board allows any desired effect in paneling; the quality of every board is guaranteed; the cost is surprisingly low.

Cornell-Wood-Board is an all-wood product, made from pure, tough wood fibre into boards of convenient sizes. Each fibre is sized with water proofing compound and the finished board is surfaced on both sides, which makes it practically moisture-proof and reduces the cost of decorating.

It is a non-conductor of cold, heat and sound. Keeps the house warm in winter, cool in summer. Takes paint or kalsomine perfectly. The best builders and decorators recommend Cornell-Wood-Board.

Cornell-Wood-Board

For Walls, Ceilings and Partitions

Easily and quickly put up; nails right to the studding in new homes or over the walls in old homes.

Write direct to the Cornell Wood Products Co. for free plans, specifications and cost estimate or ASK YOUR DEALER. Send rough dimension sketches or blue prints of the rooms and distinctive plans will be made — just for your home. This service is absolutely free and places you under no obligation whatever.

Guarantee: Cornell-Wood-Board is guaranteed not to warp, buckle, chip, crack or fall.

PRICE: 2½ CENTS PER SQUARE FOOT in full box-board cases.

Manufactured by the Cornell Wood Products Co. (C. O. Frisbie, President), Chicago, and sold by the dealers listed here.

J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Co.

EAST END YARD — MILL — WEST END YARD

No. Av. & Berckman St. Rock Ave. & S. 2d St. Rock Ave. nr. Front St.

Plainfield, N. J. Tel. 1776.

ONLY FIVE PERMITS GRANTED THIS WEEK

Two Dwellings, Two Garages and a Shelter Represent Total Cost of $13,380.

The past week in Building Inspector Doane's office closed with the granting of five permits for local structures. The aggregate total estimated cost is $13,380. Of the five applications, two were for dwellings, two for garages and the remaining one for a frame shelter.

The addition of the $13,380 for the past week to the previous figures show that the building permits granted since the first of the month aggregate $18,338 and since the first of the year $332,084. A description of the last five permits is given below:

The largest permit for the week was issued to H. A. Robinson, for the erection of a dwelling on Kensington avenue, just east of Putnam avenue. This will be of brick construction, having a frontage of 38 feet and a depth of 26 feet. It will be two and a half stories high, with shingled roof and will have a modern up-to-the-minute hot water heating system installed.

The first floor will contain a kitchen, dining room, a living room measuring 25 by 15 feet, a 15 by 10 foot den, and a large reception hall. Four sleeping rooms will occupy the second floor, which will have the added attraction of a balcony. The third floor will contain one sleeping room, an 18 by 15 foot studio, and three store rooms.

Wilder & White are the architects of the building; Tallamy Brothers the mason contractors, and J. N. Wyman & Son the carpenter contractors. The cost of the building has been placed at $10,500.

Dominick Merole has been granted a permit for the erection of a two story frame dwelling on McCrea place, the structure will measure 20 by 26 feet. Fred L. Lancaster is the architect of the building.

Mrs. James DeGroff is to erect a 30 by 18 foot frame shelter for children on Randolph road, between Arlington and Madison avenues. The structure will cost in the vicinity of $800. Joseph Brandt has the mason contract, while the carpentry work will be taken care of by Stahl & Kinney.

William Scott, of 951 West Seventh street, is to erect a 24 by 24 foot frame garage at that address, the cost being placed at $500. R. E. Whitford, of Dunellen, is the contractor.

Henry D. Hibbard, of 114 East Seventh street, is to erect a 12 by 18 foot garage at a cost of $150. William Wood, of Roselle, has the contract.

IN THE SUBURBS

A house and lot on Fairview avenue, Dunellen, built and formerly occupied by Marguerite Gremillot and family, now of South Bound Brook, has been purchased by John Scripko and wife, who have been living there for several years.

W. J. Smith and family have moved from the former Herman B. Eckert house on Washington avenue, Dunellen, to the house of John H. Schneidler on the same street. The house from Mr. Smith moved has been purchased by Carl Marx.

140,000 PARADE IN N. Y. TODAY

Greatest Civilian Demonstration in History for Preparedness.

New York, May 13.—New York city will today register a mighty protest against the country's unpreparedness for war by the greatest civilian parade in the history of the world.

One hundred and forty-five thousand men and women will march.

Twenty thousand women will be in line and the parade will be witnessed by perhaps more than a million persons.

It will take at least thirteen hours for the entire procession to pass the reviewing stand.

BOOM IN BUILDING OF AMERICAN SHIPS

Washington, May 13.—More than 368 merchant vessels aggregating over a million tonnage are now being built or under contract in shipyards in the United States, according to a statement made public by the Department of Commerce. This is the greatest boom the ship building in this country has ever enjoyed.

APPOINTED POSTMASTER.

Hyman Mann, a brother of Solomon Mann, of this city, has been appointed postmaster of sub-station No. 2, New Brunswick, having successfully passed a civil service examination for the registration of mail.

AT PROCTOR'S TUESDAY.

PHYSICIANS TO FORM MILK COMMISSION

Incorporation Will Follow Dinner at Woodbrook Farms Dairy Tonight

Dr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ard, Dr. and Mrs. Frederic J. Hughes, Dr. and Mrs. B. VanD. Hedges, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Murray, of this city, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sinclair, of Westfield, will be guests at dinner at Woodbrook Farms tonight, at which time the physicians will make a study and investigation of the dairy, after which they will form a Medical Milk Commission of Union county, to be known as No. 4.

It is interesting to New Jersey residents to feel that the State is the leader in having the best law in this country on the question of forming medical milk commissions to supervise the production of certified milk. Dr. Colt, of Newark, who originated the idea and formed the first commission in this country, has lived to see it spread over the entire continent, and is felt by the doctors the most important medical service that can be rendered in connection with food.

Milk is about the only absolutely essential raw food, and the doctors have always generously given of their services in this noble work. In fact, under the State law, they are not permitted to make any charge for their services as members of a milk commission. Today the movement has spread so that the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions is country-wide and rules and degulations have been adopted by the State of New Jersey as the minimum requirements of any medical milk commission in the certification of milk. New Jersey has today eight dairies producing milk certified under as many milk commissions.

IRELAND IS STILL BADLY DISTURBED

Connolly and McDermott Are Shot—Asquith Stops Trials.

Dublin, May 13.—James Connolly, the so-called Commander-in-Chief of the Irish Republican Army, and John McDermott, were shot this morning for complicity in the rebellion. The official headquarters announcement regarding the executions is as follows:

"The trial of two prominent leaders of the rebellion, whose names were appended to the proclamation issued by the so-called Provisional Government, namely, James Connolly and John McDermott, took place on May 9. The sentence of death was returned in each case, and the sentences were carried out this morning after confirmation by the General commanding in chief."

Premier Asquith, it was announced today, has ordered postponement of the trials of Irish rebels pending his investigation of the situation here.

It is reported that in all likelihood a proclamation will be issued soon abolishing martial law, the provisions of which have been greatly modified in the last few days.

The situation in some parts of the provinces is said to be still rather disturbed, and it is likely that military control will be continued in these districts several weeks.

APPROACHING WEDDING.

Miss Alice Bedman, daughter of Mrs. Francis S. Bedman, of Woodbine avenue, and Herbert J. Harold, of East Second street, will be married this evening at the home of the bride-elect's mother, by Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 193 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.
Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.
Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 13, 1916.

On Saturdays the editorial column of the Daily Press is conducted, at our request, by citizens who are free to express their own views. The contributing editor for today is William Delaroche Anderson, President of the North Plainfield Township Committee.

PREPAREDNESS.

Preparedness for war is preparedness for peace—

Preparedness for peace is preparedness for war.

In all the present hue and cry for preparedness the average mind pictures the assembling of armies, the building of battleships, the drilling of men, the accumulating of munitions and material and the strengthening of fortresses—a picture absolutely impersonal and material of something "the Government" is about to undertake and in which picture we don't in the least see OURSELVES as having any place. The vital and fundamental essential of PREPAREDNESS in which the least of us have a part is morale and unselfish patriotism—our willingness to give the best that is in us for our country's welfare and to sacrifice selfish interest for the common good. Of what use is the material if the spirit be dormant? Probably the greatest of all items contributing to the success of an army is its morale and that morale is in our hands whether we be butcher, baker or candle-stick maker.

An army moves upon its stomach—where would it be without the butcher and the baker?—or what would it be with poor butchers and bakers? It sounds almost ridiculous to say that a nation is PREPARED because it has efficient butchers and bakers but nevertheless it is a large item in PREPAREDNESS. A cook does not convey to our minds military efficiency—yet how many battles have been won by good cooks! and the farmer?—the Rube, the subject of joke of every comic paper—he is the very back-bone of a nation and of its PREPAREDNESS; and so on down or up the line each of us has our place in the PREPAREDNESS of our country. The soldiery and armament of our country is a branch, a vitally important branch which must be supported and nurtured and invigorated by you and I who are the trunk and roots of the tree of PREPAREDNESS. This then is OUR duty and OUR share in this matter—to so direct our affairs that higher standards may be attained that the tree be strong and able to supply to its protective branches leaves that will shield it from any storm which comes—to keep brightly burning the fires of patriotism within our hearts by making every effort to improve our own efficiency, in whatsoever calling we be engaged, for our country's sake. This is OUR part and it is vitally important and the duty of each citizen to his country; it is the foundation upon which any system of military organization must rest and if it be not well prepared the protective super-structure will be useless. It is in the hearts of the citizens of the country that the country must look for real PREPAREDNESS.

WILLIAM DELAROCHE ANDERSON.

LESS THAN A WEEK TO FIRST CIRCUS OF 1916 SEASON

Cook & Wilson's wild animal circus, one of the largest and most complete exhibitions of the kind in the United States, will exhibit in Plainfield next Friday. This will be good news for all who thoroughly enjoy displays of trained animal intelligence. The Cook & Wilson show, it is announced, is not the ordinary, conventional animal exhibition, made up of a diluted program of tame acts and tamer animals, but a colossal congress of wild beasts, captured in the jungles by intrepid hunters, and taught by equally daring trainers to perform the most astonishing feats.

American circuses, as a rule, carry large or small menageries, as the case may be; but the Cook & Wilson show is credited with being the only circus in America in which every animal in the zoological display contributes to the infinite variety of the performance. While the menagerie in itself is notably interesting and educational because of the number and diversity of the wild animals, its value and interest are enhanced by the fact that, without exception, they have been traind to the limit of animal intelligence. The acts include a lion that rides horseback; tigers and pumas that perform in unison, despite the fact that they are so ferocious as to constitute a perpetual menace to their trainers; a school of remarkably trained and human-like bears; educated leopards and jaguars and hyenas; elephants that betray an almost uncanny intelligence; high-jumping horses and acting ponies and clown donkeys; troupes of acrobatic and bicycle-riding monkeys, and numberless other wonderfully-trained beasts.

But, it is announced, this is not all the Cook & Wilson show offers for the entertainment of the public. In addition to the trained animal displays there is a high-class arenic performance, in which many notable champions of the circus appear. These embrace riders, experts on the flying trapeze, acrobats, ironjaw and bar performers, and many other clever artists. There will be performances at 2 in the afternoon and at 8 in the evening. Doors will be opened one hour earlier to permit the public to inspect the various displays and to enjoy the preliminary concert by Al. J. Massey's big military band. The street parade takes place at 10:30 in the morning.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

POOR POLITICAL SHOOTING.

Commission government has been in effect in some New Jersey municipalities for five years now, but it wasn't until this week that the recall weapon furnished by the Walsh act was taken advantage of in any of thirty-two communities so governed. When this law was passed by the Legislature in 1911 the prediction was made by its opponents that there would be constant elections, in which either the recall or the referendum would be involved. There hadn't been such a special election, however, until that in Bradley Beach on Tuesday, and even there the recall failed to oust Mayor Macdonald, against whom it was aimed.

The recall has been called the gun behind the door, to be used only in case of emergencies. The fact that it has been taken down but once in five years, and that even then it hadn't been properly loaded, would hardly justify anti-commissionites in continuing to express the fear that the general adoption of commission rule would be likely to lead to a lot of reckless political shooting.—Newark Evening News.

COMING EVENTS.

TODAY.
Polish Music School ball—John Sobieski Hall.

TOMORROW.
Mothers' Day.

MONDAY.
Trustee meeting — Netherwood Residents' Association.
Whatsoever Circle, Kings' Daughters, meeting.
A. O. H. euchre—Pythian Hall.

WEDNESDAY.
Jr. O. U. A. M. euchre.

FRIDAY.
Building Trades Council.

MRS. SARAH F. COLBY.

Mrs. Sarah F. Colby, aged eighty-five years, died at 12:15 this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph G. Morse, of 801 Hillside avenue. She had been ill a long time from the infirmities of age. Mrs. Colby was a native of Lowell, Mass., and came to Plainfield eight years ago. Beside her daughter, she is survived only by one son, Russell H. Colby, of Aurora, Ill. The funeral will be held at Mrs. Morse's home tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 and will be in charge of Rev. John Baltzly, rector of All Soul's Unitarian church. Burial will be in the family plot at Leominster, Mass., Tuesday.

Du Pont Buys Bank.

Wilmington, May 13.—Alfred I. Du Pont, the powder manufacturer, of this city, has acquired control of the Delaware Trust company, one of the leading banks here, through one of the biggest financial transactions ever effected in Delaware. The announcement was made by those who carried on the negotiations for Mr. Du Pont. A large New York trust company figures in the transaction.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

The War.

We have read about Scutari until our eyes are weak and lame;
We have read about Prezmysl and the Russo-Austro game;
We have read about Reims, Nancy,
and Koblenz, Aix La Chapelle,
And other funny sounding towns, too numerous to tell.
We have read about old Innsbruck,
Landeck, Meran, Namur,
Prague;
We have read of Stuttgart, Strassburg, Munich, Luneville and The Hague;
We've digested facts and figures till our mind is scrambled, quite,
And we see the columns marching in our dreams most every night.
We have sat and pondered over every paper we could get,
But we don't know a gol-durn thing about the trouble yet.

The Hickeyville Clarion

Airships and politics are the two best things to stay out of that it has every been my pleasure to meet.

Hod Peters has been rather unfortunate regarding his sons. One of them contributes jokes to the comic magazines, and the other one is always writing home for money, too.

They had Irish stew at Hank Tumms Sunday and Hank fished out a wire dishrag, a set of false teeth, and a rattle box. He found almost everything in it but the family Bible, and it was almost as exciting as a grab bag at a Methody church social. We take coffins and tombstones on subscription.

Guess the whole floating populace as well as the floating vote must have been out asking a drink when Hank Tnmms was elected a member of the Village Board. It was the biggest surprise of the day. It is getting so nowadays that anybody can get elected whether he pays his subbscription to the home paper or not. He claims to be a friend of labor. He certainly is, for he just dotes on having his wife take in washing.

A one-armed man selling lead pencils was in our midst Wednesday last. This is getting to be quite a metropolitan place. Enos Hand Tuesdayed at West Hickeyville. A woodpecker has got the hardest face of any bird I ever see. Calling cards printed at this office.

There was quite a lot of excitement in this man's town last Wednesday. A slicker from the city passed a Canadian quarter on the wine clerk at the Golden Nugget. Old Man Purdy lost a large knot out of his wooden leg the other day, and he is now hiring out for a hitching post. He stands in front of Tibbitt's grocery store and farmers coming into town hitch their horses through the knot hole in Purdy's leg. Hank Tumms has the dyspepsia at this writing. Had fresh pork for dinner Eunday and wasn't used to it.

Turning the Tables.

The feminist age seems to have arrived with a vengeance. In Illinois the women can vote, and now they can wear the bloomers while bathing. The official bathing beach consor of Chicago has spoken.

Chicago's male bathers will wear the skirts this summer while the women splash merrily around in bloomers. The municipal bathing costumes will stack up like this:

For Women—Bloomers, length or shortness unlimited; a waist, no stockings.

For Men—Ordinary bathing suits bedecked with a short skirt about the length of a cannibal's grass apron.

There is never any sure way to get a line on the mental attitude of the male population of any city, but if the men of Chicago are not a lot of mollycoddles they will tell the bathing censor to take a jump in the lake or something of that sort. Chicago men owe it to their sex the world over to turn down the skirt idea once and for all.

Pass the Bran Mash, Mother.

Over in Chicago a society woman garnered a great deal of publicity unto herself the other day when she managed to keep from starving to death a whole day on a total expenditure of 33 cents for refreshments. After ten years as a country editor, we can say to the lady that she was all of 12 cents too high.—Pewamo News.

NEWARK AMUSEMENTS

After a month of hard work, during which time scores of carpenters, painters, decorators and florists have made many improvements and beautified Vailsburg Amusement Park, Carpenter and Peterson announce the opening of Newark's popular playground for Saturday, May 20, offering all pleasure-seekers a large list of free attractions.

The management has contracted with some of the most costly attractions on the market. Of course, like all parks, the kiddies will have their fun, for there will be the ferris wheel, the merry-go-round, the flying swing and the roller coaster, while the grown-ups will have the ballroom, which has one of the finest dancing floors in the State. Then there will be the Pike, with its various games and side shows, a bird theatorium, where Niblo's singing and talking parrots will hold forth; the big open-air circus, where many of the greatest European and American acts will be displayed—and last, but not least, Floryn's patent acoustic open-air stage, where an opera company of no less than fifty with a symphony orchestra, will present either a grand or light opera each week.

The management have also provided the wistaria gardens, in which there will be a cabaret performance by high-class vaudeville artists and have built an Old Heidelberg, in which Alpine singers will entertain with their Tyrolean numbers.

The circus bill for the first week includes the Six Flying Herberts, the human propellers; Carlo's trained ponies; Triebor's trained seals; Hampton's dog circus and four other acts. Negotiations are pending for a well-known aviator to make a daily flight from the park, as no birdman has ever made a flight in an aeroplane in Newark.

-- Astor Theatre --

The big attraction at the Astor Theatre today will be the Vitagraph production, "The Making Over of Geoffrey Manning," a four-part drama with a personally-picked program, including "The Pest Vamooser," which is a one-part comedy, with a laugh a minute. "The Girl and the Game," with Helen Holmes, is the added attraction in three parts, including other features. Today will be Vitagraph day, showing all Vitagraph drama and comedy. On Monday, Daniel Frohman presents John Barrymore in "Nearly a King," a screamingly funny comedy. There are many ways of meeting a girl for the first time. One of them is to slide into her stateroom in the middle of the night, while arrayed in pajamas, seated securely, if not very comfortably, on your steamer trunk. There are only a very few young men who have attempted this extremely nuconventional form of introduction, among them John Barrymore, who thus wafts his way into the friendship of Helen, the Princess of Okam, in the Famous Players Film Company's presentation of "Nearly a King," in which the celebrated comedian is starred on the Paramount program. Having thus been thrust into the presence of the lady by a terrific storm at sea, Barrymore attempts to cover his embarrassment and his pajamas by seizing a quilt; but, unfortunately, it is at the same quilt with which Helen is atempting to cover her own embarrassment. This is not the only heart-rending predicament in which Jack finds himself in connection with the delightful Helen. After they have become very deeply intrested in each other, Jack is robbed in London and finds himself penniless. Rather than starve, he takes a job as a cabby. While munching his first meal—pigs feet—he finds himself face to face with Helen, who believes him to be wealthy. He cannot escape, and is forced to drive her about London, in mortal terror of her discovering his identity. After many a near-fatality, Jack finally gets rid of his fare without betraying himself. This is the first time that Barrymore has played two roles in the same production, and those who have enjoyed his previous performances will be doubly delighted with this one. The occasional use of the double exposure brings the comedian on the screen in both characterizations at the same time. It is the most difficult and the most versatile performance which this distinguished actor has yet given the motion-picture public. In addition to this wonderful program, we will show the Burton-Holmes travelogue and other interesting photoplays. Don't fail to see "The Battles of the Nations," a wonderful production of havoc and destruction wrought by the guns of the warring nations in Europe, taken on the battlefield during the seige at Warsaw. This picture is too thrilling for an explanation; it must be seen to be really understood. We are showing this stupendous photoplay at an outlay of a great many dollars, at no increase in prices—matinee 5c and 10c; evening 10c and 15c. This will be the big attraction on Thursday, including many others. Are you interested in our family ticket? If not, why not? Ask about them.

- Proctor's Theatre -

The program selected for presentation today at Proctor's is a varied, as well as a pretentions one, and includes such wonderful photoplay productions as Grace Elliston, with a picked Metro supporting cast in "Black Fear," a gripping drama that will hold one's attention to the very last foot of celluloid; Charlie Chaplin in "The Property Man," one of his former comedy riots that made him famous; the last episode of "The Social Pirates"; the child screen stars who are the talk of the town, in "A Chip off the Old Block"; a comedy that will delight the little as well as the big folks; and Mutt and Jeff and Musty Suffer will complete the bill. Monday starts a big week of glad surprises which will be known as Mary Pickford Week, this dainty and popular screen star appearing in a different one of her greatest successes each day throughout the entire week, in addition to the regular program of wonderplays. On Monday she will be seen in "Such a Little Queen"; on Tuesday in "Behind the Scenes"; on Wednesday in "Cinderella'; on Thursday in "Mistress Nell"; on Friday in "A Girl of Yesterday," and on Saturday in "Madame Butterfly." Not content with offering such an out-of-the-ordinary novelty, the management will also provide during the week such features as Lillian Gish in "Sold for Marriage," the latest of the Triangle plays, which will be shown on Tuesday; Vivian Martin, the daintiest of screen ingenues, who will be seen on Wednesday in 'A Modern Thelma," a delightfully romantic Fox feature; Frank Keenan, the far-famed dramatic star, will make his appearance on Thursday in "The Stepping Stone"; and, to cap the climax, Charlie Chaplin will be presented on Thursday and Friday in his first comedy production under his new $670,000 contract with the Mutual Company, entitled, "The Floorwalker," conceded by all the leading critics to be one of the greatest comedies in which this world-famous comedian ever starred. On Saturday, in addition to "Madame Butterfly," little Mary Miles Minter will be seen in "Dimples," a wonderful five-part Metro production and a supporting program will be introduced throughout the week that will make this one of the biggest events in local theatrical history.

JERSEY'S PRIMARY VOTE.

Roosevelt's Name Written on 1,000 Ballots Throughout the State.

Trenton, May 13.—Official figures of the presidential primaries held recently show that a total of 28,000 votes were cast throughout the state by the Democrats. Of this number President Wilson received 25,000.

The Republicans cast 41,000 votes, of which Roosevelt received 1,066, Hughes 388, Henry Ford 84, Root 67. The Republican ballots contained "no choice for president." Those who voted for Roosevelt, Hughes and the other candidates wrote in their preference.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

NATURE BOOKS
(Part III.)

BIRDS.

Apgar—Birds of the United States east of the Rocky Mountains: a manual for the identification of species in hand or in the bush.
Bailey—Birds of village and field: a bird book for beginners.
Chapman—Bird life: a guide to the study of our common birds.
Chapman—Handbook of birds of eastern North America, with keys to the species, descriptions of their plumages, nests, and eggs, etc.
Cheney—Wood notes wild: notations of bird music.
Doubleday—Bird neighbors: an introductory acquaintance with one hundred and fifty birds commonly found in the gardens, meadows, and woods about our homes.
Eckstorm—Bird book.
Grant—Our common birds and how to know them.
Nuttall—Popular handbook of the ornithology of eastern North America (two vols.).
Reed—Bird book, illustrating in natural colors more than seven hundred North American birds; also several hundred photographs of their nests and eggs.
Reed—Birds of eastern North America.
Stone—Birds of eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, with introductory chapter on geographical distribution and migration, prepared under the direction of the Delaware Valley Ornithological Club.
Wright—Birdcraft: a field book of two hundred song, game and water birds.

TREES.

Apgar—Trees of the Northern United States.
Bouiger—Some familiar trees.
Emerson and Weed—Our trees: how to know them; photographs from nature, with a guide to their recognition at any season of the year.
Fernow—Care of trees in lawn, street and park, with a list of trees and shrubs for decorative use.
Hough—Handbook of the trees of the Northern States and Canada, east of the Rocky Mountains.
Keeler—Our native trees and how to identify them: a popular study of their habits and peculiarities.
Lounsberry—Guide to the trees, with an introduction by N. L. Britton.
Mathews—Familiar trees and their houses, described and illustrated.
Rogers—Tree book: a popular guide to the knowledge of the trees of North America and to their uses and cultivation.
Sargent—Manual of the trees of North America.

SHRUBS.

Apgar—Ornamental shrubs of the United States, hardy, cultivated.
Keeler—Our northern shrubs, and how to identify them: a handbook for the nature-lover.

MAY 13 IN HISTORY.

1520—In the absence of Cortez, Mexican noblemen were massacred by his officers. This treachery brought disaster to Cortez and his army.
1607—First English settlement in America, at Jamestown, Va. It consisted of 105 persons, who strove through appalling difficulties and maintained the colony.
1782—Rejoicing and fireworks in Philadelphia on announcement of birth of the dauphin of France.
1783—Society of the Cincinnati was established, composed of army officers of the Revolutionary War.
1816—The American Bible Society was formally organized in New York.
1846—United States declared war against Mexico; 50,000 men and $10,000,000 authorized.
1861—Meeting at Wheeling repudiated secession of Virginia; project of dividing the State was launched. West Virginia was later made a separate State.
1861—Queen Victoria proclaimed British neutrality in American Civil War.
1884—Congress gave Alaska civil government.
1914—Japanese-American arbitration treaty ratified by Japanese Privy Council.
1915—THE WAR.
President Wilson sends first note on Lusitania affair, demanding reparation, and insisting that submarine attacks on merchant vessels carrying non-combatants stop at once.
England interns enemy aliens for their own and the public safety.
King George strikes Teutons from the rolls of the Order of the Garter.
Allies land reinforcements at the Dardanelles.
Russians turn on foes and win smashing victory in Eastern Galicia.
Salandra ministry of Italy resigns; Premier Salandra later consented to retain his office.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Prince Finds a Slipper On the Stair.

Slipped Her Foot Right into the Gold One.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

"OH, daddy, please tell us a fairy tale!" cried the children.

"I will tell you what happened when Ashputtel dropped her gold slipper on the stairs as she ran away from her prince. The prince took it to her father and said, 'I will take for my wife the lady whose foot this slipper fits.'

"Then Ashputtel's stepsisters were glad, for they both believed they could wear the slipper. The eldest sister went into the room where the slipper was, and when she could not get her foot in her mother said: 'Take a knife and cut off your big toe. When you are a queen you will not need to walk.' So the silly girl cut off her toe and squeezed her foot into the slipper. But on the way home with his bride the prince had to pass the hazel tree Ashputtel had planted. On its branch sat a bluebird that sang:

"'Back again! Back again! Look to the shoe!
The shoe is too small and not made for you!
Prince, prince, look again for thy bride,
For she's not the true one that sits by thy side!'

"Then the prince looked at his bride's foot and saw blood trickling from it. So he took her back home and said, 'Let the other sister try the slipper.' But her heel was too large, and her mother squeezed her foot till it bled. On the way to the palace the prince heard a bluebird singing the same song as before. When he looked down blood was streaming from this sister's foot.

"So he turned his horse back and said to her father, 'Have you no more daughters?' 'There is only little Ashputtel, my first wife's daughter. Surely, she isn't the bride!'

"But the prince wanted to see her. So Ashputtel washed her hands and face, came in with a courtesy and reached for the gold slipper. She took off her clumsy shoe and slipped her foot right into the gold one.

"Then the prince looked at her and cried, 'This is the right bride!'

"So he put Ashputtel on his horse and rode away with her, while her two stepsisters and her hard hearted stepmother stood watching them angrily. And as they rode under the hazel tree the bluebird sang:

"'Home, home! Look at thy shoe!
Princess, the shoe was made for you!
Prince, prince, take home thy bride,
For she is the true one that sits by thy side!'"

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

A Chafing Dish Supper for the Butterfly's Hungry Young Husband.

As Ralph Gordon approached his home his step was slow and dispirited. A great depression brooded over his spirit, smothering all happiness. In his mouth was the taste of ashes. He had been obliged to go to the third-rate hotel—the only one the town boasted—and eat a poorly cooked meal that had disagreed with him, because the maid had left without any notice and his helpless little wife had not felt able to get the dinner. In his ears the words of his mother repeated themselves with irritating persistence: "Ethel is very pretty, and her childishness appeals to you, but believe me, my boy, the time will come when you will realize that the strenuous needs of life cannot be met by a pretty plaything of a woman who has never been trained to face any responsibility." He had been angry with his mother and had assured her that he did not want his wife for the work she could do. What was the matter with him, he wondered. Ethel was as pretty as ever, but the charm had gone from all her childish ways.

"Is it possible that I value physical comfort above the undoubted charm of my wife?" he thought. "But she does not try," he continued, justifying himself. "She seems to think it is no more her responsibility than mine to see that the home is comfortable. She assumes that we are common sufferers and must bear the fate that unworthy servants force upon us.

"Then, too, she is so extravagant," he continued with deepening gloom. "We are spending every dollar I make and are hardly keeping even. I thought with my big salary that we could surely save something toward buying the house. We never can at this rate."

Chewing this cud of bitterness he approached the house. Ethel was swinging in the hammock, her soft white dress swaying back and forth as the dainty foot touched the floor to keep her swaying. She heard his step on the walk and rose to greet him.

"Oh, Ralph, I am so glad you have come. I have a plan for the evening," she called gaily. Ralph felt his spirits lighten as he gazed at the dainty creature.

"What is your scheme?" he asked, trying to enter into her plans.

"First, we will have supper. I have planned a chafing dish supper, and we are to pretend that we are not married and that you have had a real supper and I am serving refreshments, and then you can take me out to get a dish of ice cream." Ethel was radiant with happiness.

"But I have not had a real supper and I did not have a real dinner. I am hungry," was Ralph's disillusioning reply.

Ethel thought a moment. "I can give you any amount of toast and tea, and I will make a welsh rarebit and chocolate."

"That will be a fine spread," Ralph had the grace to say as he stooped to kiss her. They entered the dining room and she pointed with pride to the table. It was cleared. "I washed the dishes, too," she boasted. Ralph took her hands in his and examined them.

"I can't see but they are as soft as ever," he chaffed.

"I used the dish mop. I can't bear to touch dirty dishes." She made a grimace.

"Don't spoil your good beginning by any such confession," said Ralph earnestly. "I think it was a very clever idea, your serving supper. Now we are to plan about our future wedding. Let's plan how you are to learn to cook." Ralph wondered at the sudden lightness of his heart. Would it come out all right after all?

(To be continued.)

The Original Malted Milk. Nourishing Delicious Digestible

The powder dissolves in water. Needs no cooking—Keep it on hand.
Rich Milk, Malted grain extract in powder. For Infants, Invalids and growing children. Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body. Invigorates nursing mothers, and the aged.
The Original Food-Drink for all ages. More nourishing than tea, coffee, etc. In the home, or at Hotels and Cafes. Substitutes cost YOU Same Price

QUEEN OF ENGLAND REWARDS WORKERS

Local Committee of Prince of Wales Relief Fund Remembered With Badges.

A very graceful acknowledgment from her Majesty, the Queen of England, in appreciation of the splendid work that they have done in shipping hospital supplies abroad for the relief of the wounded men in the hospitals at the front, has been received by the local branch of the Prince of Wales' Relief Fund. A sample badge has been forwarded to the chairman of the local committee, to be followed by others for each and every member who wishes to receive them. They are very pretty in design, red and white enamel, with the appropriate emblems, designating the identity of the royal donor and the object for which they are given.

A few words of explanation regarding the work of the Prince of Wales' committee may be of interest to the people of Plainfield, and serve to show them the serious and earnest side of this splendid work. A thought should also be given not only to the relief which they are affording to the suffering across the seas, but to the high state of proficiency which its many members are attaining in one of the required branches of preparedness for women.

Each Thursday morning the workers meet at the Grace church parish house, and from 10 to 12 their busy fingers fly, and earnest thought and energy are concentrated in such a way that the greatest possible amount of work should be acomplished.

Three rooms are occupied by eight long tables, and there can be found the workers, many of them attired in the caps and aprons of the hospital requirements. They make the following articles: rolled muslin bandages, first aid bandages, triangular bandages, many-tailed bandages, gauze rolls, packages of first-aid dressings, body bands, flat gauze swabs, absorbent cotton pads, pillows, and from time to time any other work that may be suggested or required.

Each table has its head, who sees to it that all the work for the day is carefully prepared beforehand, and thus helps on the rapid efficiency of the output.

An average of from two to three thousand supplies are shipped each week; and a total of one hundred and forty-one thousand and nine hundred hospital supplies are now to the credit of the committee's work.

On Thursday, May 25, will close the two months' campaign which has been conducted to raise money sufficient to carry on the work through the summer months. They are striving to raise between four and five hundred dollars which will represent the needed amount, and appeal to all interested and generous people of the community to send their mite towards this end. Send in your donation to the treasurer, Mrs. Edgar Hyatt, 243 South Ninth street, before May 25, designating that it is for the campaign fund, and she will at once send you a grateful acknowledgment. Before doing so, will you not visit our work rooms any Thursday morning and convince yourself of the great good which we are working for these sufferers—and for preparedness.

CONNOLLY, WOUNDED, IS SHOT TO DEATH

Dublin Fears Many Are Arbitrarily Killed.

Dublin, May 13.—James Connolly, the so called commander in chief of the Irish republican army, and John McDermott were shot for complicity in the rebellion. The official headquarters announcement regarding the executions is as follows:

The trial of two prominent leaders of the rebellion, whose names were appended to the proclamation issued by the so called provisional government — namely, James Connolly and John McDermott—took place on May 9. The sentence of death was returned in each case, and the sentences were carried out after confirmation by the general commanding in chief.

Arrests and deportations also are arousing sympathy, especially in cases where persons were arrested merely because Sinn Feiners fired from the roofs of their houses, often without the knowledge of the occupants. It is asserted that no fewer than ten municipal councilors of Dublin have disappeared since the revolt began, and whether they were jailed, deported or killed in the fighting is unknown.

A cablegram from Los Angeles, Cal., to the Freeman's Journal is as follows: "Inform family of Eamonn Ceannt they will be cared for." Ceannt was in the first batch executed.

JURY FINDS DOCTOR GUILTY.

Convicted of Manslaughter After the Death of Woman.

Newark, N. J., May 13.—Guilty, with a recommendation for mercy, was the verdict by the jury in the trial of Dr. John H. Young of Montclair for manslaughter.

He was indicted after the death of Mrs. Emma C. Truesdell, the young wife of Dr. Paul E. Truesdell, a Montclair dentist. She died under an operation. Gross negligence and reckless disregard for life were charged by the state. Dr. Young will be sentenced next Monday.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

The John Wanamaker Store

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co. — Broadway at Ninth, New York.

A VICTROLA Wedding Gift

A Victrola will, through all the years, bear constant reminder of the giver. It is one of the most acceptable of gifts; an untiring dispenser of delight. The Victrola pictured here is the

Victrola XVI at $200

It may be bought on convenient terms. $10 down, and it will be forwarded to any address you wish. The balance may be paid at the rate of $10 each month.

First Gallery, New Bldg.

The Down-Stairs Store Offers Monday

Women's Suits for Little—$8.75

Silk taffeta and silk-and-serge combination suits—a very timely opportunity for the woman who wants a light-weight suit for Summer at little cost. Every suit is cut according to this season's fashion. All coats are lined. One particular style (of which there is a quantity of suits) sold here this season for $15.

Fifteen other styles—equally as good or better—are represented by a few suits of this size and a few of that. Therefore the low price of $8.75. Black and blue mostly; belted and plain models.

Monday in the Down-Stairs Store, Old Building.

Third Week of White Sale

Monday we shall specialize

Underclothes, $2 to $3.75

Nightgowns, envelope chemises and fluffy full, one, two and four-ruffled petticoats.

Tiny sleeves, elbow sleeves and no sleeves at all have the nightgowns.

Touches of handwork include French knots, feather-stitchings and smockings.

There are very lacy, frilly affairs and in sharp contrast styles with no trimming except a wide ribbon modestly veiled in plain stitched casings.

Materials are fine to the touch and sheer.

Blouses, $3.75 to $7.50

New collections of lingerie blouses fashioned of dotted swiss, voile and lingerie cloth. Cool and feminine in their beguilements of laces and embroideries.

Third floor, Old Building.

Printed Voile 25c and 28c Yd.

13,500 yards already here. New shipments arriving daily.

What stripes, checks, plaids, flowered effects, interesting figured designs, building block checks, sports stripes, two-tone checks, and cord hair-line plaids.

There must be 200 different designs and colors at these two prices.

Main Aisle, Main floor, Old Bldg.

Carrara Marble Garden Furniture From Italy

Straight from the Italian sculptors to Wanamaker's have come this Spring two hundred cases of all kinds of garden furnishings made of Carrara marble which is weatherproof.

The war has reduced the force of men who carve these pieces, but our commissioner went to Italy and there secured all the finished work to be found. He had it shipped immediately, and the bulk of it has arrived, giving us the best collection we have ever had.

A flower urn 39 inches high, 29 inches wide, 16 inches at base, $150.

Carrara marble bench with back; 60 inches long, 40 inches high, $200.

Prices will be found most reasonable and no higher than at any other time.

Marble benches, $35 to $275.
Marble urns, $27.50 to $285.
Marble bird baths, $25 to $150.
Marble fountains, $85 to $325.
Marble tables, $75 to $85.
Marble window boxes, $25 to $27.50.
Marble lions, $65 to $125.
Marble sphinx, $275 pair.

Everything is guaranteed for outdoor use.

American Garden Terra Cottas

They are very beautiful, many of these terra cottas. They are made by specialists who copy the fine styles of old Europe. Jardinieres start at $4. Sun dials are $45 to $70.

Second Gallery, New Building.

To Make it Easier to Put the Home in Summer Order

Telephone, write or visit the Wanamaker Helpful Housefurnishing Store on the Sunny Seventh Gallery for—

First—Adjustable window screens to keep out, before they begin to come in, flies, mosquitoes, and June night bugs. These screens are the best and simplest we can find anywhere. Oiled hardwood frames with black wire cloth.

Easily adjustable without any [illegible]anical appliances that might get out of order. The same on b[illegible] no need to hunt for a right or wrong side. Twenty sizes from [illegible]inches high, 20 inches closed, 33 inches wide open at 25c, to one [illegible]inches high, 33½ inches closed, 60 inches wide open at 80c.

Adjustable window screens with metal frames that can be tacked outside the window if desired, begin with one 18 inches high, 20 inches closed, 33 inches open at 35c, and go to one 30 inches high, 26 inches closed, and 43 inches open at 65c.

Screen frames, wire cloth, screen doors, etc.

Second — An electric vacuum cleaner to keep your home clean all the time. Your curtains will stay crisp and fresh. Your wall paper will be as good as new after several years. Incidentally the electric cleaner way is the easy way. Priced $30. Complete set of attachments for special purposes, $7.50.

Third—A tar bag will hold, hanging upon a "hanger," a suit, overcoat or motor coat, and make the risk of Mr. Moth mighty small, 45c, 60c, 75c.

Cedarized moth bags begin at 50c.

Tar sheets in which to wrap rugs or blankets, and for lining trunks and closets, 45c roll of a dozen sheets.

Fourth—If your house is not already equipped with one, certainly this summer it deserves a good economical ice-saving refrigerator, a satisfactory gas or oil range and a water cooler.

Fifth—For the garden a number of things to make the grass velvety and the garden grow apace.

Lawn mowers, $3 to $14.
Lawn rollers, $10.75 to $19.50.
Hedge shears, $1 to $3.
Lawn sprinklers, 45c to $3.25.
Watering cans, 35c to $2.50.
Rubber hose, 12c to 25c foot.
Cotton hose, 14c foot.
Gardening tool baskets with trowel, transplanting trowel, weeder, pruning knife, ball of twine, garden scissors, $5 to $9.75.
3-piece garden sets—spade, hoe, rake—65c upward.

Sixth—A shower bath that can be installed in a jiffy is a four stream needle shower that can be adjusted to any bath tub. It needs no curtains and can't wet the head unless one wishes it to do so; $5.85.

Seventh Gallery, New Building. All Elevators.

There Was a Time when children dreaded to approach the piano, because it took so very, very long to learn how to play it. Yet they were fond of music. They would run out and sing—would follow the organ grinder—would stand and listen open-mouthed to the traveling band. Now, that which children dreaded has been done away with.

Boys and Girls Delight to Play the Player-Piano

The more they play the better their taste in music becomes. They come to know and appreciate Chopin, Chaminade, Saint-Saens and other great composers. And the more they know of music the more interesting becomes their home where the player-piano is.

$395 Will Buy One Model Lindeman Player-Piano

You may pay for it at your convenience, in reason; a small sum down, and a small sum each month. There is no other player-piano so good and sweet and durable, at or near $395.

First Gallery, New Building.

The John Wanamaker Store

Home Care of Food Vital to the Health

Caring for food in the home is one of the most important and perhaps most perplexing of the household duties. Too often the grocer or butcher is blamed for spoiled food that was in perfectly good condition when it left his shop.

As a word of advice in this direction, the United States Department of Agriculture issues a bulletin from which the following statements are given:

"The woman who presides over the household should consider as one of her most important functions the purchase of food in its storage preliminary to use in the kitchen.

"Most families have traditions and well established customs to guide them in the handling and storing of foods, but since the customs of one family may differ widely from those of another, it is well to examine and compare them in order to select the best.

"Scientific investigation has thrown light on many of the processes concerned and the result of such labors should be at the service of the householder. The health and efficiency of the family is the chief object of her care, and it is an end well worth the effort."

Here are a few suggestions given by the Department to prevent the growth of the micro-organisms that cause food to spoil:

Chief Requisite.

"The first requisite is absolute cleanliness. This is not to be obtained by the use of soap and water alone. Fresh air, sunshine and whitewash are important aids.

"The undue use of water should be avoided as moisture is one of the chief requisites of growth. Light and ventilation are important.

"Only foods in the freshest and best possible conditions should be bought, since it is important that the bacteria be prevented from getting a start.

"Fruits, milk and raw meats are especially subject to bacterial action and should be given particular attention. Utensils coming in contact with them should be scalded, or, better boiled.

"Keep pet animals out of the kitchen. The most cleanly cats and dogs are dangerous to health, if one of their hairs get into food.

"Keep cereals and other such foods in glass jars if you have mice or rats in the house.

"Don't put meat and other foods in the icebox wrapped in same paper in which it comes from the market.

"Dried figs, dates and other fruits are very commonly eaten without cooking or even washing, and yet they have been exposed for an unknown length of time to the contagion, brought by dust, flies and dirty hands."

It does not seem necessary to give warning concerning personal cleanliness in the kitchen or preventing flies and dust from reaching the food. Yet the Department of Agriculture thinks that these rules are often disregarded, and are the cause of many contagious diseases.

Sports skirt of brown mixture. Has two pockets, leather trimmed, also bottom of skirt, belt of material trimmed with leather insert, fastens on left side, $9.50.
Courtesy of John Wanamaker, New York.

Sports coat of black and white and rose and white striped wool jersey. Three-quarter length, belt at back and sides. Collar and cuffs of white jersey. Price $25.
Courtesy of John Wanamaker, New York.

Calomel and Castor Oil

A physician speaking of the common usage of calomel and castor oil says:

"Our medical forefathers made quite as many mistakes as we make to-day. Two of their greatest mistakes were calomel and castor oil.

A physician speaking of the common usage of calomel and castor oil says:

"Calomel, theoretically, did something to the liver. It was supposed that calomel increased the flow of bile or facilitated the discharge of bile from the liver into the bowel or something vaguely like that. Practically, there isn't any reason to think calomel increases the flow of bile or in any way affects the liver any more than other laxative drugs. Experimentally, calomel rather tends to diminish the secretion.

"Furthermore, calomel very often nauseates, and occasionally, even in small one-tenth grain doses, salivates the victim.

"Castor oil, the most repulsive of all domestic medicines, is an irritant to the intestines, although it is an oil. It binds the bowel and is, hence, sometimes prescribed in cases of acute diarrhea or summer complaint. But this binding influence makes castor oil unsuitable for a laxative for frequent or regular use. Indeed, one of the commonest causes of constipation in children is a too ready resort to castor oil when a laxative is desired.

"Both castor oil and calomel have been found to produce a marked appearance of red blood corpuscles in the stools—not visible blood, but red corpuscles, which can be seen only with the microscope. Now, a cathartic which does that is objectionable for frequent use.

"The calomel and castor oil habit is only a habit, even among doctors. We know, because we have found that neither remedy is ever necessary. There are invariably less injurious and more agreeable substitutes to use. Of course, if a doctor still harbors the delusion that calomel does some vague thing to the liver, why, he'll go on prescribing it as a matter of choice.

"If he assumes that castor oil is soothing because it is an oil he will still inflict this Egyptian penance upon his patrons.

"Even nurses and doctors sometimes imagine that milk, being a fluid, is easier to digest than, say, bread or steak. That this is not necessarily true has been proved over and over again.

The sweetness of revenge often sours the dispositions.

TRY A PRESS WANT AD.

SPORT TOPICS

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

"CLEAN-UP DAY" FOR SCHOLASTIC WISEACRES.

Today is housecleaning day for the rooters partial to the North Plainfield and Plainfield High School ball nines. Theory will become fact following this afternoon's tilt. It's the first chance we've had offered to us to size up the cup contenders as opponents this year and we're not going to invite trouble by picking a favorite at this late hour. The schoolboys this year have not been staging the calibre of baseball put on in years past; that's an admission they're willing to agree upon. Both have been bumped and bumped hard but who'll get the hardest bumping this afternoon rests strictly between those concerned in the melee. The best talent of both schools is available for the match and that the issue will be decided on its merits is reasonable to expect. At any rate, we're going to witness another annual return of interscholastic competition and that in itself should prove a season bracer.

• • • • • •

MARTIN MAY HAVE SHAKEN HIS JINX, AFTER ALL.

News that Jack Martin is "going great guns" at Milwaukee just now comes as a welcome bit of gossip to his host of friends in Plainfield. As a ball player Jack has been through the mill and if he's going to wind up in the big heap it's pretty nearly time he got started. As a Yankee Martin met "Mis-Fortune" and she's stuck to him pretty closely ever since. The "beaning" Walter Johnson treated him to one day three years ago left a lasting imprint on Jack's cranium and he admits that he's been a little bat-shy ever since. Nine hits in sixteen times at bat, however, does not listen like the record of old man "Afraid-of-the-Ball" and may be taken as an indication that he has shaken the jinx that caused him to be dropped from Pat Moran's fold and relegated to the minors. It's likely that some eagle-eyed scout is keeping an optic or two on Martin's work with the Brewers and he may yet be accorded another opportunity to appear in major togs.

• • • • • •

CHAMPIONS WILL APPEAR NEAR TO HOME.

Now's the time for our younger athletes to begin tuning up for the summer season of track and field sport. Never before has such an opportunity been afforded Plainfield athletes to attract the attention of the sport world as that one which is showing itself down Newark way. Practically all of the big meets will come to the "anniversary town" this summer and a run over there occasionally would prove profitable to those who have aspirations to become a title holder. A look at the talent alone will be well worth while as the collection of champs will be one of the finest ever brought together.

• • • • • •

SOME OF THOSE AMONG THE MISSING.

Although some rumors have been floating around here this spring we've yet to receive correct reports on the location for the summer baseball season of such favorites as Dave Driscoll, Warry McLaughlin, Joe Harter, "Wally" Cosgrove, the Harney brothers, Harry Jennings and a horde of other notables. The season is still young, however, and these old-timers can be counted upon to bloom forth ere long. We've gotten most of the home stock placed and that's a load off our minds at that.

• • • • • •

BASEBALL SLANG SIMPLIFIED.

Oregon Boot—Sprinting like a safe. A right-handed player who runs left-legged.

Beanball—Dusting 'em off. Parting the batter's hair.

Fish—A captain. A John. Looks for Sherman statues in Atlanta and buys all the ice cream sodas for the team.

Horseshoe—Something the other guy always has.

Queries--Comment--Answers

Query—How many fire houses are there in Plainfield and where is each located? Do all companies turn out every time an alarm is sent in, or is the city divided into districts?—Citizen.

Answer—There are four fire houses—the headquarters on East Second street; one on West Second street off Park avenue; one on West Fourth street opposite Darrow avenue, and one near the Netherwood Central Railroad depot. The companies, or houses, turn out for alarms only in their district except when a general alarm is sounded, and the entire department turns out for this.

Anxious—Your query is of a personal nature and will not be answered in these columns. Do your own investigating.—Editor.

Query—Where can I secure a complete list of business enterprises and their locations in Plainfield?—L. L.

Answer—The directory has as near a complete list as is available, although the Business Men's Association or Board of Trade may be able to furnish you with even better information.

Query—How long will the Newark Celebration last? Where can I get a program of events?—B. G.

Answer—The festivities will last five months and a program may be obtained by addressing the chairman of the Celebration Committee, Newark, N. J.

Query—Did "Hooks" Wiltse, of baseball face, ever live in Plainfield?—X. Y.

Answer—While he never lived here he stayed with his brother, Lew Wiltse, who is also known by the nickname of "Hooks," at the latter's apartment in the Madison flats on a number of occasions.

Query—What will be done with the Biederwolf Tabernacle after the revival is over?—C. C.

Answer—The structure is only a temporary one and will be dismantled. Provision has been made for the disposition of the material used.

Query—How many automobiles are there in the city of Plainfield?—J. J. M.

Answer—Acording to Motor Vehicles Agent James J. McCann, the number licensed to date for 1916 amounts to nearly 1,700, and probabilities are that the 2,000 mark will be passed in the near future.

Query—Did any of the European nations try to prevent war between the United States and Spain? Which ones, if so?—N. N.

Answer—On April 7, 1898, the ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Italy and Austria-Hungary called upon President McKinley in a body and urged the preservation of peace.

Query—What is the difference between a planet and a star?—Student.

Answer—A planet is a star revolving on an orbit. A star is any celestial body which appears as a luminous point, which would include a planet, but the word star is supposed to refer to a fixed body. A planet's light is steady, while that of a star twinkles.

Query—What must a bicyclist do before he is eligible to complete on the Newark Velodrome track?—G. G.

Answer—Make application to Walter Bargott, secretary of the Cycle Racing Association, Newark, N. J.

BATTLE ON THE COMMONS.

The P. A. N. S. and the Inner Triangles will cross bats on Hope Common this afternoon. Joe Newell will hurl for the P. A. N. S.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

HARD FACTS KNOCKED FROM THE DOPESTER'S BAT WILL FURNISH SOME 'THOUGHT FIELDING' FOR PLAINFIELD BASEBALL PROMOTERS

Baseball Here Today Not What It Was Twenty Years Ago.

Baseballically speaking the national pastime in Plainfield today is as much like that played here a score of years ago as a vaseline coated ball of quicksilver is like one of "Wee Willie" Keeler's bunts. The national nuisance has taken on a new guise hereabouts and the change resembles to some small degree the same transformation it has suffered in other parts of the country.

Not long ago it was a meal ticket to some few individuals blessed with a little expertness along baseball lines, but those who relied on mere play for a week's holdever a few years ago have since gone to work. The semi-pro pastime hereabouts is a dead issue. You couldn't earn a nickle in Plainfield pitching baseball if you had the head of a Mathewson and the steam of a Johnson.

The City League to some extent spells the cause for this change but some of the responsibility can be shifted to the shoulders of fandom. When we had good semi-pro aggregations playing the game hereabouts they were given only mediocre support. The fans didn't realize what it cost to stage good contests and were satisfied to wander out to the ball park when they felt like it. To be a paying proposition, just one to break even in and not a mint, baseball needs consistent support; support every time a game is arranged.

Twenty years ago in Plainfield baseball was on a higher plane of excellence than it is today and players as well as fans realize this to be true. Some of the best clubs in the metropolitan district came to Plainfield and Plainfield had a team that could stand the gaff of the best that invaded its territor.

The crisis came with the passing away of the Central New Jersey circuit. This included good teams from towns within a few miles' radius of Plainfield, but the moguls couldn't keep the organization together because the fans didn't do their part to assure success. Now we're without a semi-pro league and we've turned our attention to amateur baseball.

Amateurism in one sense of the word is a good thing but we can't expect to get the best to perform for mere love of the sport. Good playing, like skillful work, is worth fair money and who can blame the old-timers who have established reputations for themselves for not lining up with the city loop?

Fandom Has Sent the Semi-Pro Pastime to the Wall

A mechanic would not be satified to work for less money today than he made five, ten or fifteen years ago, especially not if he had been trying to better his work year in and year out. That's the way our semi-pro ballists look at it and when pinned down to hard facts we've got to admit that they have a grievance against local fandom and they're right in refusing to play amateur baseball.

On the other hand we have the City League to look out for and if there's enough simon-pures in Plainfield to keep six good teams together fandom should lend its support. This circuit appears to be the last notch in the ladder of baseball, whose rungs have been carrying the weight in the wrong direction of late years, and if we send this organization to the wall we're going to do some tall hunting for a peep at the nuisance Saturday afternoons in the future.

ON THE LEVEL NOW, WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE GAME OF BASEBALL

How many baseball fans if asked the distance between the home plate and first base or between any other bases would give any other answer than ninety feet? Probably none, yet this is all wrong. The various distances are:

Home plate to first base, 87 feet 9 inches.

First base to second base, 88 feet 1½ inches.

Second base to third base, 88 feet 1½ inches.

Third base to home plate, 87 feet 9 inches.

Home plate to pitcher's box, 59 feet 1 inch.

There are many other figures connected with the construction of a diamond of which fans most commonly are in error.

So widespread is this error that only recently dispatches carried the news that Secretary Heydler had ordered the National League diamonds reconstructed because of faulty measurements. Thus even the ground keepers made mistakes.

Their errors were confined to the methods of locating the pitcher's plate and varied as much as eighteen inches from the proper distance. In many cases, however, the variation was only an inch.

The ground keepers—some of them—made the mistake of supposing that 60.5 feet meant 60 feet 5 inches. It is actually 60 feet 6 inches. Some ground keepers measured this distance from the front of the plate, others from its center, and still others from the rear corner, where the intersection of the lines of the diamond is to be found. The last is correct. As the depth of the plate from front to back is seventeen inches, the variation is considerable. In the case of the maximum mistake in regard to the pitching distance—eighteen inches—it is enough to completely ruin the effect of the "break" used by the hurler under normal conditions. The change also affects the batsman.

The base line distances are almost of equal importance, but a few errors are made here by ground keepers.

First and third base should have their entire extent within the intersection lines of the diamond, while second base should be so placed that only one-fourth of its extent is within the intersecting lines, which meet at exactly the center of the bag.

While the distance between the intersection of the boundary lines of the diamond may be ninety feet, the actual distance is considerably less. Many a runner beats out a hit by less than two feet and three inches, which represents the combined width of home plate and the first cushion, each cushion being fifteen inches, according to regulation, while twelve inches of home plate touches the boundary line of the diamond.

Once on first base, the runner would have to take a lead of twenty-two and one-half inches more than the normal one in order to steal second with the same effort if the bags were all placed outside the diamond, making it necessary to run ninety feet.

These are trifles, but the manager who is looking for the "percentage"—leaders like Stallings, Jones and others—will watch even such details as these.

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played In National, American and Other Leagues.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Brooklyn at Cincinnati, postponed account of rain.

At St. Louis— R. H. E.
Philadelphia..... 1 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 2—5 10 0
St. Louis..... 0 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—4 8 2
Mayer, Rixey, Alexander, Williams; Hall, Meadows, Snyder.

At Chicago— R. H. E.
Boston..... 0 2 2 0 0 1 0 3 1—9 11 0
Chicago..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 0 1—4 5 2
Tyler, Gowdy; Lavender, Prendergast, Pierce, Archer.

At Pittsburgh— R. H. E.
New York..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 1—3 7 3
Pittsburgh..... 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—2 6 6
Mathewson, Benton, Schauer, Rariden, Dooin, Kocher; Marcus, Gibson.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	11	5	.688	Cincinnati	12	12	.500
Boston	12	6	.667	Phila'phia	9	10	.474
Chicago	13	11	.542	Pittsburg	9	16	.360
St. Louis	12	11	.522	New York	6	13	.316

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

At Philadelphia— R. H. E.
Detroit..... 1 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 4—8 17 3
Philad'phia..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 0 1 0 2—6 9 2
James, Boland, Erickson, Dubuc, Stanage; Crowell, Sheehan, Schang.

At New York— R. H. E.
Chicago..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 1 1
New York..... 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 *—2 9 3
Danforth, Russell, Benz, Schalk; Mogridge, Shawkey, Walters.

At Washington— R. H. E.
St. Louis..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 6 4
Wash'gton..... 2 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 *—4 7 2
Parks, Davenport, Severeid; Harper, Henry.

At Boston— R. H. E.
Cleveland..... 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0—3 5 1
Boston..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 8 1
Coumbe, O'Neill; Gregg, Agnew.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	17	9	.654	Boston	12	13	.480
Wash'ton	14	9	.609	Chicago	12	15	.444
New York	13	10	.565	St. Louis	8	14	.364
Detroit	13	12	.520	Phila'phia	8	15	.348

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Baltimore— R. H. E.
Rochester..... 1 0 1 3 0 1 0 0 3—9 13 1
Baltimore..... 0 7 7 0 0 0 2 0 *—16 12 2
Leverez, Hale; Knowlson, McAvoy.

At Providence— R. H. E.
Montreal..... 2 2 4 5 2 1 0 0 2—18 20 1
Providence..... 2 1 0 0 1 2 0 0 0—6 9 8
Colwell, Madden; Baumgarten, Blackburn.

At Newark— R. H. E.
Buffalo..... 0 0 0 3 0 0 0 1 0—4 7 2
Newark..... 0 0 0 2 0 2 0 0 1—5 9 4
Gaw, Onslow; Pieh, Schwert.

At Richmond— R. H. E.
Toronto..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1—3 10 2
Richmond..... 3 1 0 0 1 0 0 1 *—6 9 2
McTigue, Kelly; Humphries, Reynolds.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Newark	11	1	.917	Montreal	6	8	.385
Provi'ence	8	4	.667	Rochester	5	9	.357
Richmond	9	5	.643	Buffalo	4	10	.286
Baltimore	10	6	.625	Toronto	2	11	.154

EASTERN LEAGUE.

At Lawrence— R. H. E.
N. London..... 0 0 1 0 2 0 1 0 0—4 8 0
Lawrence..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 6 2
Fortune, Fish; Pennington, Harris.

At Worcester— R. H. E.
Springfield..... 1 1 1 1 1 2 0 0 0—7 8 6
Worcester..... 0 0 0 3 0 0 2 0 0—5 8 3
Powers, Stephens; Scanlon, Vandyke, Freitag.

At Lynn— R. H. E.
Hartford..... 2 0 1 3 0 6 2 0 0—15 18 2
Lynn..... 0 1 0 2 0 1 0 5 1—10 17 4
Gero, Skiff; Whittaker, Schwartz, Carroll.

At Portland— R. H. E.
Portland..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 5 2
Bridgeport..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 1 1
During, Sweatt; Reiger, Crooks.

At Lowell— R. H. E.
Lowell..... 4 0 3 0 0 2 0 1 *—10 12 1
New Haven..... 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 1 1—5 10 2
Green, Kilhullen; Cook, Hoffman, Wilson, Murphy.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
N. London	10	2	.833	Lynn	6	6	.500
Portland	8	4	.667	Bridgep't	5	8	.385
Lawrence	7	5	.583	Hartford	4	7	.364
Spr'gfield	7	5	.583	N. Haven	4	8	.333
Lowell	7	6	.538	Worcester	2	9	.182

CITY LEAGUE BATTLES.

The City League battles carded for this afternoon are as follows:

T. A. B. S. vs. Hope Chapel (Soccer Field).

Clinton Avenue vs. Netherwood (Emerson Field).

Farmers vs. Baptists (West End Field).

THROCKMORTON WINS.

Harold Throckmorton, the former Rahway High School tennis wonder, yesterday wrested the championship of Maryland from Theodore Roosevelt Pell, of New York, in the challenge round. The scores were 7-5, 6-2, 6-8 and 6-4.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

QUEEN CITY RACERS ON VELODROME CARD

Plainfielders Will Be Supported by Cast of Twenty-five Rooters Tomorrow.

About twenty-five members of the Queen City Wheelmen, a cycling organization of Plainfield, and their friends, will pedal to Newark tomorrow afternoon to be present at the bicycle meet at that place when three speedy cyclists representing the club will compete. Harry Meyers, William Simon and Horgler Mortenson are the racers who have entered the big classic and each will take part in a number of the events on the program.

This trio visited Newark three weeks ago and brought back an attractive array of prizes. On the former ocasion, however, the Plainfielders were handicapped by the lack of track equipment and entered the meet using road material. On the boarded track this proved a drawback of considerable importance and they were not able to show to their best advantage.

A start will be made from the headquarters of the wheelmen, at George Simon's bicycle shop on North avenue, tomorrow morning, and the wheelmen will go directly to Newark, where they will eat dinner and then proceed to the Velodrome. Tomorrow will mark the return to Velodrome racing of Goullet, Grenda and other famous riders who were outlawed recently by the Cycle Racing Association. They have all paid fines and are ready to compete against Champion Frank Kramer once more for the title.

The Plainfielders have been practicing on local roads daily and are in fine fettle for the meet. The prize list for tomorrow is one of the best of the season, and it is expected that at least some of the awards will be brought back home.

EXPECT 75 ATHLETES TO VISIT TABERNACLE

The baseball players of the local City League will attend the Biederwolf services at the Tabernacle in a body tomorrow afternoon, meeting at the Daily Press office at 2 o'clock. The only team that will not be represented at the services will be that of the Total Abstainence Society, popularly known as the Abstainers.

A communication received from Joseph McCue, president of the T. A. B. S., established the fact that the Abstainers would not be among those present at the services tomorrow. The teams that will send representatives, however, are the First Baptists, Netherwood, Farmers, Hope Chapel and Clinton Avenue. It is expected that fully 75 baseball players will be on hand when the roll is called.

JOHNNY ANDERSON WINS; BOTH LOCALITES LOSE

John G. Anderson, of Siwanoy, continued his successful invasion of the metropolitan links yesterday by winning two close matches in the Ardsley invitation tournament. Gardiner White, the Flushing golfer, was Anderson's morning victim, while H. Grantland Rice, sporting authority and Englewood representative, succumbed in the afternoon.

In the fourth sixteen, O. C. Macy, of Sleepy Hollow, defeated C. E. Liscomb, of this city, by default, and E. G. Cornelis, Ardsley, defeated T. S. Wheeler, also of this city, 1 up (22 holes). In the second round, Macy defeated Cornelis.

CALENDAR OF SPORTS

Horse—

The Kentucky Derby, for stake of $15,000, 1 1-5 miles, at Churchill Downs.

Great United Steeplechase, $5,000 purse, 2 1-2 miles, and other races at United Hunts meet at Belmont Park, New York.

Thoroughbred racing at Pimlico, Md., and Windsor, England.

Auto—

Metropolitan Cup race, 150 miles, and shorter races at Sheepshead Bay, New York.

Opening of Ohio-Michigan auto circuit, with 100 mile race at Columbus, O.

Rowing—

Pennsylvania, Columbia, Princeton and Navy in Childs' Cup race, 1 1-2 miles; eleven other races; American Henley Regatta, at Philadelphia.

Tennis—

Finals in Border States championship, Tucson, Ariz.

Gymnastics—

National A. A. U. championships, at Newark, N. J.

Golf—

Finals in Women's Southern Championship, at Chattanooga Country Club.

Invitation tournaments at Santa Ana, Calif., and Ardsley Club, N. Y.

Polo—

Match games at Philadelphia Country Club and Rumson Country Club, N. Y.

Track Meets—

Harvard vs. Yale at Cambridge.

Middle States Intercollegiate meet, at New York.

Yale Interscholastic meet, at New Haven.

Michigan vs. Syracuse, at Ann Arbor.

Louisiana Intercollegiates, at Alexandria, La.

Princeton vs. Virginia, at Princeton.

Cornell vs. Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.

Maine Intercollegiate meet, at Brunswick, Me.

The thirteenth is a bad day in the baseball camps of the major leagues, for the decorations of the Order of the Can are voted on by owners and managers, and on Monday many sad athletes will be en route to the minors.

The bout between Mike Gibbons and Ted Lewis, set for Thursday night in New York, promises to be the star boxing event of the coming week. The St. Paul wonder is the favorite.

Milburn Saylor is back in his old form and is hot for battle. When he takes on Charley White at Cincinnati on the 25th, the fur should fly, for the Chicagoan dropped the Hoosier boxer early in their last encounter.

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.

N. P. H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

Plainfield A. A. at First Baptist.

T. A. B. S. at Hope

Clinton Avenue at Netherwood

Elks' billiard tourney.

Monday.

Central H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Tuesday.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Wednesday.

Elks' billiard tourney.

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Thursday.

Rutgers Prep at P. H. S. (Parker Field).

Seton Hall Prep at N. P. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

—Until you have canvassed the readers of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property

Seen and Heard on the Street

Cop at the corner of Front street and Park avenue making thoughtless autoist come back and go around traffic post on the right side yesterday afternoon.

A promising young American on each side of one of the big pillars in front of the postoffice, evidently laboring under the idea that it was their duty to hold it up.

Man moaning over the shortage in brick while standing within a stone's throw of a supply at North and Park avenues that has been waiting to be taken away for a month past.

Butcher running to fire on Watchung avenue yesterday morning with his white apron rolled up around his waist-line.

Local theatre manager telling a friend how much work he has to do to make a weekly stipend.

At noon yesterday, every taxi-cab had deserted the North avenue depot stand, something that has not occurred before in months.

Local merchant's face falling after reading the Daily Press yesterday afternoon and finding that another day had passed without mention being made of his name in the "Seen and Heard" column.

Near-sport admitting that he had never seen Frank Kramer ride a bicycle, after arguing with a friend for a half-hour trying to convince him that Kramer is "yellow" and a "never-wus."

Sign in North avenue restaurant reading "Stakes to order."

JIMMY McGARRY TO HURL.

The Lincoln Stars feel confident that they will take the measure of Larry McLean's All-Stars at Lenox Oval tomorrow afternoon. McLean has signed up Jimmy McGarry to pitch and expects him to be a thorn in the side of the Lincolns. McGarry is well-known locally, having been the star hurler of the famous McNulty Brothers' baseball team. On more than one occasion "Jimmy," who was then a mere slip of a lad, was a puzzle to the Pets.

DEAN MATHEY TO PLAY.

Watson M. Washburn and Dean Mathey, of Cranford, will play an exhibition game with Charles Bull, Jr., and E. H. Whitney, on the Forrest Hill courts of the West Side Tennis Club today.

HARTER TO PLAY.

Joe Harter will be in center field for the Bushwicks tomorrow, when that team faces the Ironsides, of Newark.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

BASEBALL FANS

GET A CELLULOID PRESS SCORING TABLET

They Are Ready for 1916

This Coupon with three others and Five Cents when presented at the Press office will entitle you to one.

LIMITED SUPPLY GET YOURS NOW

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT

the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.

AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.

MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

FISK QUALITY

FISK BICYCLE TIRES

The Best That Can Be Had.

For Sale by

George L. Simon

179 NORTH AVE. OPP. DEPOT.

MEARA SIGNS WITH LOCAL BALL PLAYERS

Cuban Stars Will Perform at Perth Amboy Sunday Afternoon With Pacers.

Charley Meara will be back in the Perth Amboy lineup Sunday, when the Pacers meet the Pittsburgh Colored Giants. Charley has been all over the U. S. A. playing baseball and has had a chance in the big show. He is still a very fine fielder and can hit like a demon. The only reason that he is not with fast company is that he has a good position in New York city and prefers this work to a career in the big leagues. However, his liking for the national game has caused him to agree to perform with Billy Pfau's Pacers on Sundays and with the Washington Club, of the Schwab League, on Saturdays. Other members of these two teams are Cliff Randolph, Jim Emery, Frank Hand and Tommy Mullin. The Schwab circuit opened up on May 20 and will continue until the early part of September. It is a league that enjoys full recognition and has for its territory that region where the rise in the stock of Bethlehem Steel has been attended by the most beneficial results.

In the game with the Colored Giants tomorrow, it is very likely that Harry Applegate will do the twirling, with Cliff Randolph held in reserve. Of course, if Applegate, who is somewhat of a boxer and who recently met Kid Alberts, of Elizabeth, is not in the best of form, Pfau will be forced to call on Cliff right off the reel.

P. H. S. SLATED TO MEET "NO-HIT" JAKE DEINZER

When the Plainfield High School baseball team meets Rutgers Prep. next Thursday on Parker Field, the local boys will face Jake Deinzer, who recently hurled a no-hit game against the Pennington Prep. team. Inasmuch as the Pennington band had little trouble beating the locals, and inasmuch as Deinzer had less trouble defeating them, quite a little excitement is in store for patrons of next Thursday's game.

Mike Herschman, the Rutgers Prep. catcher, recently attended Erasmus Hall High School and while there handled the delivery of Waite Hoyt, the schoolboy wonder, who has already been signed up by the Giants. Herschman says that Deinzer is every bit as good as Hoyt, and then some more.

BUT WHY CRY OVER MILK THAT HAS BEEN SPILLED?

On the West End avenue grounds yesterday afternoon, the Liberty A. C. defeated the All Arounds, by the score of 7 to 6. According to the data submitted to this paper the Liberty lads won because they had the umpires with them. Our informant, who is presumably an All Around baseball player, states that as soon as one of the arbitrators got tired handing down decisions, he would petition for a place on the Liberty squad and his petition would be granted.

The real reason why the Liberty team won is ascribed to the fact that they assumed a commanding lead which could not be overcome even by the five-run rally indulged in by the All Arounds in the fatal seventh.

Score by innings:

Liberty A. C.	1 0 1 1 2 0 1 1 x—7
All Arounds	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 1—6

Summary: Three base hits, F. Seidel, two base hits, Egan, Butler, Seidel, Callowell, strike outs, by Copper 10, by Cahill 5; umpire, Jenkins.

ALBIN CARLSTROM GIVEN TRAVELING BAG BY MATES

Albin "Jack" Carlstrom was handed a big surprise the other afternoon at Wiedenmayer's Park, Newark, when he was presented with a black leather traveling bag by a delegation of Elizabeth fans, most of whom hail from the Bushtown Athletic Club, with which club Carlstrom made his diamond debut. When Albin made his first trip to the plate he responded with a timely single.

It will be remembered that Carlstrom played with the Plainfield Pets and was one of the stars of the team. He now occupies the clean up position with the Buffalo International League team.

WILL PLAY AT LINCOLN.

The Queen City baseball team will invade Lincoln tomorrow to take on a junior nine of that place.

T. A. B. S. OPEN SEASON.

The T. A. B. S. and the Knights of St. Peter will hook horns on Avon Oval tomorrow.

Weather Forecast.

Continued fair, moderate northwest to northeast winds.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow.

	Temp.	Weather.
Albany	50	Clear
Atlantic City	62	Clear
Boston	60	Clear
Buffalo	44	Cloudy
Chicago	54	Cloudy
New Orleans	90	Clear
New York	62	Clear
St. Louis	58	Cloudy
Washington	68	Cloudy

WAR SECRETARY WILL OPEN SHOW

Wilson's Representative to Touch Button.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL EXHIBIT

Actual Manufacture of Many Products to Take Place In First Regiment Armory In Newark—Two Hundred and Fifty Concerns to Be Represented In Big Exposition.

Newark, May 13.—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, acting as personal representative of President Wilson, will formally open the Newark Industrial exhibition in the First regiment armory. Mr. Baker arrived in Newark in a private car, accompanied by Joseph Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson.

Former Governor Franklin Murphy, Mayor Thomas L. Raymond and men prominently identified with the exposition management met him at the depot. The Essex troop escorted him to his hotel for luncheon.

The opening address of the exposition will be made by Mayor Raymond. He will introduce Secretary Baker, who will press a button putting the exposition in motion. At night the members of the visiting delegation will be guests of the Newark board of trade at its forty-eighth annual banquet.

The industrial exposition is to be one of the chief features of the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the settlement of Newark. The chief purpose of the celebration is to boom the city.

No less than 141 separate line of manufacture are to be represented in the industrial exposition, which will be open every weekday from 10:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. until the close on June 3.

Everything made by some 250 exhibitors from the finest kinds of drawn wire up to ponderous electrical machinery weighing many tons is to be displayed. A large proportion of the exhibits are "running," showing processes of manufacture, and in many instances whole sections of factory departments have been transported to the armory. Not only is the actual manufacturing going on, but sales are to be made and orders booked and filled from many of the exhibition booths.

IRISH IN BAYONNE PROTEST.

Throng Cheers Woman Who Assails British Course In Ireland.

Bayonne, May 13.—A mass meeting attended by 3,500 Irish sympathizers was held here to protest against the execution of the Irish rebel leaders. Among the speakers was Mrs. Marguerite Moore, who says she was the first Irish Catholic woman to take the lecture platform against the British policy concerning Ireland. She vigorously assailed the government's course in the present trouble.

John J. Rooney, formerly chief justice of the court of claims of New York, another speaker, attacked John Redmond for his part in the Irish rebellion amid mingled cheers and hisses from the crowd.

MORE WEAVERS STRIKE.

New Jersey Mill Owners Immediately Give In to Them.

Belvidere, May 13.—The weavers at the Bamford Silk mills who went on strike at 11 o'clock after putting in demands for a nine hour day and an increase of 10 per cent in wages are back at work.

Within a couple of hours after they struck word came from headquarters in Paterson, where the Bamford company has a big mill, that the demand was acceded to. Besides this the firm has granted the weavers $12 a week per three looms. This means that when idle from lack of silk to weave they will get that wage.

SCOUT SIGNAL CORPS.

Verona Troop to Be Taught U. S. Communication Code.

Verona, May 13.—One of the Boy Scout troops in this town has been changed to a signal corps at the suggestion of men interested in the development of boy character.

It is proposed that the regular drill of the United States signal corps shall be used. Boys will be taught to signal by Morse alphabet, both with the wireless buzzer and the flag or lantern wigwag. It is hoped later to procure two heliograph instruments to be located at the brow of the mountains at each side of the town.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

"There appeared in yesterday's issue of the Courier-News an article which indicates that Will Smalley evidently is very much upset over the fact that I appealed to the State Board of Taxes to have my assessment reduced.

"That there may be no misunderstanding in the matter, I wish to state the following:

"In order to show the State Board of Taxes why my assessment should be reduced, I compared the values with other properties of like value to show that I was on a higher basis than these other places. The State Board sent their representative to investigate and make a report to the Board.

"I am not yet in receipt of word from the Board as to a decision in my own case, although yesterday the representative said he understood it had been decided.

"Every effort yesterday was made by Will Smalley, Isaac P. Runyon, Sheriff Sebring and Andrew E. Kenney to discredit me with the State Board representative. Will Smalley even went so far as to say that I had perjured myself at the hearing, when my case was heard, regarding his place. This he knows is not true, and the Board's representative yesterday informed him that what I testified to regarding his place was based entirely on a letter from his agent to a man in New York, who inquired regarding purchasing the place.

"In carrying my case to the State Board I have simply exercised the same right which many others have, and why there should be such misstatements put out concerning it I can not understand, unless it hits certain people rather hard.

"I always supposed the office of mayor carried some dignity with it, and that the incumbent of that office would not so far forget himself as to resort to the statements made directly to me, and also attributed to him in the Courier.

"If it was not for the fact that I have to sail for Porto Rico today on important business, I would give you a much fuller statement, showing up the valuation in the borough, which so many are familiar with and which would be interesting reading. So far as I am concerned I shall not further take up this matter, and should Will Smalley come out with a statement trying to condemn me, I assure you I will not even dignify anything he may say by answering it."

EDMUND RUSHMORE.

IDAHO FEELS SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

Boise, Idaho, May 13.—This city has experienced an earthquake shock which lasted three seconds. Residents ran into the streets in fright.

At Weisler, sixty miles west, the earthquake was of exceptional violence. A new gas well, in which a flow was struck ten days ago, showed remarkable increase of pressure immediately after the shock.

In Boise several brick chimneys were wrecked. The tremor was not felt to the east of Boise. Twenty-five miles north, at Emmett, the earthquake was violent and alarmed the residents. Nappa, to the south, also felt the shock, as did Idaho City, thirty-six miles north.

NO PEACE TALK YET FROM BERLIN--CECIL

Minister Says No Overtures Have Been Made.

London, May 13.—In view of persistent reports that Germany is putting out peace proposals to the allies Lord Robert Cecil unequivocally stated that so far as England was concerned no word of peace overtures had come. Lord Robert reiterated what he said recently, that no suggestion of Germany's supposed peace terms ever had been communicated to England at any time and that Great Britain was unaware that Germany wants peace.

"Taking the references in Germany's recent note to America along with Von Bethmann-Hollweg's statement before the reichstag this week, together with cabled newspaper reports from America," he said, "it might seem that Germany was aiming at peace. But not a word has come to England through any official channel or semiofficial one. In other words, we have not been approached in any way. It is idle to discuss the likely German terms while no proposals are in sight.

"In diplomatic procedure a neutral is hardly likely to make any suggestion of peace terms unless certain they are acceptable to the recipient.

"If Germany should decide to approach us through the medium of the United States the latter would have to use its own judgment as to whether or not to deliver the request."

BATTLESHIPS IN RESERVE.

Six to Be Kept Ready For Any Emergency.

Washington, May 13.—A reorganization of the Atlantic battleship fleet has been begun by putting six battleships of the older type in reserve to provide complements for the new super-Dreadnaughts Nevada, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania will be delivered at Newport News on June 1 and will be fitted out at Norfolk so as to be ready for service on June 25. The reorganized fleet will be composed of sixteen fighting units, with an increase of six destroyers and three submarines.

The battleships placed in reserve are the New Jersey, Virginia, Rhode Island and Nebraska at the Boston navy yard, the Connecticut at Philadelphia and the Louisiana at Norfolk. These ships will, however, be maintained ready for service within four days, and no repair work is to be undertaken that would unfit them for emergency.

BAKER MAY BE "KEYNOTER."

Wilson Answers Cox's Request—Expected to Give Consent.

Dayton, O., May 13.—Former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio received a telegram from President Woodrow Wilson advising him that a letter was on its way to Dayton in answer to a request made by Mr. Cox that Secretary of War Newton D. Baker be allowed to act as temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention to be held June 21. The letter has not been received as yet, although it is probable the president has given his consent.

Mr. Baker has been asked to deliver the "keynote" speech. If he acts as chairman, it is claimed, his speech will indicate the issues which will be championed by the Democrats during the year's national convention.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Winckler and family, of Asbury Park, are visiting relatives in the borough.

B. Altman & Co.

10,000 Pairs of Women's Milanese Silk Gloves

at prices that are unprecedentedly low, in view of the excellent qualities offered, will constitute a Sale of decided importance for Monday. It will comprise in white, black, white stitched with black, and black stitched with white, per pair 75c

WOMEN'S TWO-CLASP GLOVES

WOMEN'S MOUSQUETAIRE GLOVES

(sixteen-button length) in white, black, tan, white stitched with black, and black stitched with white . . . . per pair 85c

A Sale of Summer Suitings (all wool) will afford an exceptional purchasing opportunity for Monday. It will offer White Gabardine; fine Tailor Serge, in white or navy blue; and Imported Black-striped White Serge (all 54 inches wide), at $1.45 per yard

This is an unusually low price for smart Summer suitings of these qualities.

An Important Reduction Sale of White Cotton Fabrics to begin on Monday will comprise Lingerie Materials, Fancy Voiles and Corded Skirtings, and will offer exceptional values.

Longcloth (10-yard piece)

36-inch . $1.45 42-inch $1.65 & 2.50

Cambric (10-yard piece)

42-inch . . . $1.85, 2.25 & 2.45

Fancy White Cotton Voiles

per yard 21c

Fancy White Corded Skirtings

per yard 38c

A Clearance Sale of Travel and Sports Coats to be commenced on Monday, will offer all the remaining Spring models in Women's American-made Outergarments for practical wear (mostly in broken sizes) at the reduced prices of $24.50, 28.00, 42.50, 55.00 & 75.00

The remaining stock of Higher-cost Coats and Wraps (imported as well as American-made), will at the same time be reduced to

$75.00, 125.00, 145.00, 190.00 & 225.00

A Special Sale of Women's Tailor-made Suits to be held on Monday will comprise a choice selection of the most successful of the later Spring styles, marked at less than the regular prices. Included will be

Silk Suits of fine quality . at $58.00

Suits of alpaca or mohair . . at 30.00

Suits of serge, gabardine, checks, etc., 27.50

Women's Ready-to-wear Department (Third Floor)

Misses' Tailor-made Suits

(comprising a variety of attractive models taken from the regular stock) have been subjected to drastic price revisions, and will be offered, commencing Monday, at

$18.50, $22.00 & $24.50

Girls' Tailor-made Suits and Coats

(in sizes up to 16 years) are marked at advantageous reductions from former prices.

Tailor-made Suits, $11.50, 14.50 to 22.50

Coats . . . 6.50, 7.75 to 19.50

The new assortments of Girls' Washable Summer Dresses are now shown, presenting for selection a large variety of simple as well as more elaborate models.

(Misses' and Girls' Dep'ts, Second Floor)

Another Special Offering of Women's Undergarments (American-made) has been prepared for Monday and Tuesday. An excellent opportunity will be afforded for purchasing dainty, well-made garments, fashioned of the wanted materials, at decidedly advantageous prices.

Crepe de Chine Undergarments

Night Robes . . $3.75, 4.85 & 7.25

Chemises . 1.85, 2.75, 3.75 & 4.50

Combinations . . . 3.75 & 4.85

Knickers 2.00

Underbodices . 90c., 1.50, 1.90 & 2.50

(Also an assortment of Washable Satin Undergarments)

Lingerie Undergarments

Night Robes . . 95c., $1.45 to 3.75

Chemises . . 95c., 1.45, 1.90 & 2.85

Combinations . . 95c., 1.45 & 3.75

Drawers . . 65c., 1.00, 1.50 & 1.90

Corset Covers . . 50c., 65c. to 1.90

Petticoats . 1.15, 1.45, 1.85 & 2.90

Thirty-fourth Street Fifth Avenue-Madison Avenue Thirty-fifth Street

TALK ON PREPAREDNESS

(Continued from page 1.)

had been fighting with the Allies.

During a short business meeting the club elected these officers for the coming year: President, Duncan W. Taylor; vice-president, Brown Rolston; secretary, Albert D. Beers; treasurer, Elliot C. R. Laidlaw. The gathering was concluded with the singing of "Old Nassau" and "America."

New Providence

Preparations are being made by the local branches of the Italian-American State League to take part in the parade to be held in Newark, May 30. A special train will convey all the branches from along the Passaic and Delaware branch of the Lackawanna to Newark. There are branches at New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Bernardsville and Peapack and Gladstone.

A birthday party was given Thursday afternoon in honor of the seventh birthday of Miss Wilhelmina Anderson at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, of Springfield avenue. Her classmates in the first grade of the Lincoln School, in charge of the teacher, Miss Helen Armstrong, were guests. The party was continued in the evening, when guests were present from Elizabeth and Summit, as well as this place.

The Berkeley Heights School team Thursday won its second game of the season, defeating a team from the Mt. Vernon School, of Chatham township, by 7 to 4. Bailey Hujber and Raymond Rogers did the twirling for the home team, and Carl Radzio caught.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Luke's Reformed Episcopal church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. O. Bassinger, of Central avenue, Murray Hill, and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Charles Eccles; vice-president, Mrs. Harry Young; secretary, Mrs. Leslie A. Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Bassinger.

Frank Adams and Mrs. Edgar Merritt, of New York, are spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Adams, of South street.

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY TO MRS. JOSEPH CARKHUFF

Mrs. Lydia Carkhuff, wife of Joseph Carkhuff, died suddenly last night at her home, 1229 West Third street. She had been in failing health for a year, but her family and friends anticipated no immediate danger.

Mrs. Carkhuff had made her home in Plainfield for the past thirteen years, coming here from Stelton. She was a woman of exceptionally fine character, beloved by all her friends and enjoying the utmost respect of neighbors and acquaintances. Beside her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Harry Keen, of West Fourth street, and two sons, Wesley Carkhuff of Metuchen and Joseph Carkhuff, residing at the parental home. She also leaves one brother, Fred R. Fisher, of New Germantown.

The funeral will be held at the late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment in Hillside cemetery.

GIRL BREAKS LEG.

Margaret Scauzzio, fourteen years old, of 945 West Third street, was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital, last night, suffering from a broken leg, received in an accident at her home. She was first treated by Dr. Pittis, who advised her removal to the institution.

The Biederwolf Evangelistic Services

Will revive interest in Bible Reading in Plainfield as never before and regardless of sect, creed or faith. A universal reading of the Bible is bound to make for better citizenship, is bound to make for a plainer, stronger, simpler, honester speech in daily life, and a higher standard of ethics in the dealings of men. A return to Bible reading in these stressful times of world disturbance is needed as never before in our history and is bound to add to the moral and mental equipoise of this entire nation.

To Further Interest Our Readers In Bible Reading the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

HAS SECURED A LIMITED SUPPLY OF

Big Print Red Letter Bibles

All the Words and Sayings of Christ Printed in Red

This Book of Books

This Bible—this miraculous Bible—this Book of All Books—luminous with the light that dwelleth not on land or sea—this noblest and most beautiful Thing in all the world—what is it—whence cometh it—what means it?

It has made and unmade Nations. It has uprooted Kingdoms and Empires. It has diverted the mighty tides of History. It has crumpled ancient Faiths and Superstitions. Because of it fell Pagan Rome. The antique Systems of India and the Far East have bowed their heads to its enlightened sway.

China and the Orient now first awaken from their sleep of thrice a thousand years, and follow their sister nations of the Occident—whose feet are guided by one sole lamp—the sacred flame of which was kindled by the inspired Hebrew Prophets, and fed for all time by the Lord and Master of the Golden Rule.

Only ignorance scoffs at the Bible! The greatest rulers—the greatest statesmen—the greatest scholars—writers—orators—scientists—soldiers—and the untold millions of the Common People, whose collective genius outweighs them all—have thrilled to its Divine Wisdom.

Its lyrics of unfathomable tenderness—its orations of compelling potency—its contemplative prose of preternatural grandeur—have never been equalled. Its emotional depths and its intellectual heights make it the one and only Book of Books, vouchsafed for the guidance of mankind throughout the ages.

Special Features of This Beautiful Bible

ALL THE WORDS AND SAYINGS OF CHRIST distinguished from the context by being printed in red.

All Passages in the Old Testament prophetic of the coming of Christ, marked with a Star.

All the difficult words in both Testaments made self-pronouncing by diacritical marks; made so simple a child can pronounce them.

Hundreds of Helps and References.
Family Register of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
Exhaustive Marginal Annotations.
Index to Parables and Miracles.
Explanatory Heading at top of each page.
Dissertation on the Lord's Prayer.
Proving the Old Testament, by Dr. Wright.
Books of Reference for Students.
Readings of Revised Version collated with King James Version.

Sunday School Teachers' Use of Bible, by Bishop Vincent.
Calendar of Daily Readings of Scripture, by Whittle.
Authentic Bible Statistics and Information.
Harmony of the Gospels.
From Malachi to Matthew, by Dr. Fernie.
Biblical Weights and Measures.
Christian Worker and his Bible, by Whittle.
How to Study the Bible, by Dwight L. Moody.

Wondrously Beautiful Half-tones of Scenes of Sacred History. Text Printed in Large Type, Easy on the Eyes. Eight Tinted Maps of Bible Lands.

EXQUISITE COLORED PLATES OF

Nazareth, Bethlehem, Holy Sepulchre, Garden of Gethsemane, Visitation of Virgin Mary, Modern Jerusalem, After the Crucifixion, Tiberias, Damascus, Gate of Jerusalem, etc.

This Bible Has Been Distributed By Newspapers All Over The Country For a Much Higher Price Than The Offer Made By The Daily Press.

Specially Bound in Genuine Limp Bible Leather Folding Cover, Red Edges, Round Corners, Gold Lettered Back.

Full size 9⅝x6¾ inches.

Mail Orders Filled.

Begin Clipping Coupons on Page 2 today. Act quickly. Bibles can be seen at Daily Press Office, 193 North avenue.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN PRICE TO PRESS READERS OF

Only $1.23 AND THREE COUPONS $1.23 Only

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — SOMETHING NEW IN SUMMER RESORTS — BY "HOP"

Mono Storage

Warehouse
North Avenue.
Opp. Freight House
125 East Front Street

WHEN ITS YOUR MOVE

SEE US

When you're going to MOVE don't forget that this concern has the equipment and trained men that reduces to the absolute minimum the danger of damage and breakage and the worries and exasperations of this trying time.

OUR SPLENDID EQUIPMENT insures promptness and no delays—our character help and exacting supervision the elimination of roughness and carelessness.

Call 541 and try us.

HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2803-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to
Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS
W. A. SCHORB & CO.
Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold.
120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2296.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE

Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.

We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.

207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms
326 to 330 West Front Street, Corner Grove

Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.

Phone 666.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St. Opp. First Baptist Church 'Phone 338-J

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2354
J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS
Floral Design Work a Specialty.

Chas. L. Stanley
Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1128 South Ave. Tel. 331.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 315.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Carnations a Specialty
FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N. Y. Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising the car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

200,000 GARDEN PLANTS

Can You Use Any of the Following?

Roses in Pots—50 Varieties.
Geraniums.
Heliotrope.
Lemon Verbena.
Cannas Salvias.
Sweet Alysium.
Colens, Stocks.
Verbenas, Cosmos.
Petunias Marguerites.
Salpflossis Snaptorafon.
Lobelia Scabiosa.
German Ivy.
Vinckas, Calendulas.
Forget-Me-Not.
English Daisies.
Begonias, Tubroses, Begonias.
Calladinu, Pansies.

Asters in all colors.
Butter, Gladiolas, Cannas, Tuberoses, Calladiums.

Hardy Plants.
Chrysanthemums—250 varieties.
Gaillardias, Phlox.
Jox Glove, Holyhocks.
Larkspur.
Dephiniums.
Grape Vines.

Vegetable Plants.
Cabbage.
Tomato Plants.
Parsley.
Egg Plants.
Peppers.

CHAS. L. STANLEY
159 East Front Street, Tel. 928.
Greenhouses Trolley Terminus, Netherwood.
Open From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MONSTER AUCTION SALE
TUESDAY, MAY 16
10 A. M. SHARP

ONALAKE POULTRY FARM
1061 Rahway Road, Plainfield.

1 horse, 1 mule, 1 6,000 Egg Hall Mammoth Incubator, 175 portable chicken houses, 175 Norwich Automatic Feeders, 1 250-foot brooder house, 1 75-foot brooder house, 3 to single comb White Leghorn hens. Farm implements, wagons, articles too numerous to mention.

Sale rain or shine. Terms, cash.

V. W. NASH, JR., Clerk. 5 12 3 — GEORGE YORK, Auctioneer.

AUCTION SALE AT THE AUCTION ROOMS
322 WEST FRONT STREET,
On Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16 and 17, at 10 A. M.

The following goods must be disposed of as the parties are leaving the city: One upright Bent piano, two piano attachments, with a number of records; one organ, three parlor suites, several dining-room tables, round and square; several handsome sideboards, mahogany, cherry and oak bookcases, large variety of piazza rockers and chairs, several Turkish chairs, wardrobes, chiffoniers, bath-room cabinets, two brass beds, several mirrors, white enamel beds, vases, library tables and centre tables, portieres, rugs, carpets, matting, Crex rugs, Japanese porch screens, canopy gas ranges and others; lot of crockery and other articles too numerous to mention. Goods can be seen on Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

R. MURRAY, Auctioneer.
326 West Front Street. Phone 666

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE AUCTION SALE
SATURDAY, MAY 27,
AT 3:30 P. M.

To close the Estate of the late Thos. C. Aldride, of 69 Grove street, in the Borough of North Plainfield. This is one of the most desirable properties in that vicinity; well built, slate roof, part brick and frame. House contains ten rooms and two baths, and has a frontage of 86 feet and 275 feet deep, more or less, with a variety of fruit and shade trees. Picture of house will appear in adv. later. For further particulars apply to the auctioneer.

ROBERT MURRAY,
326 West Front Street, Plainfield. 5 13 17 Phone 666

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

THE price of printing cannot be compared with the cost of printing until the wastebasket has been examined.
PLAINFIELD PRESS CO.,

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Saturday at Crescent Oval, boy's red sweater; name on pocket. Return to 920 Cedarbrook road, or telephone 2468-J. 5 12 2

LOST—Last night, on or near Front street, wheel cap of Peerless car. Reward for return to 455 West Seventh street.

LOST—Gentleman's gray vest. Please return to 120 North avenue.

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

DIED.

WEBER—On Saturday morning, May 13 1916, Frederick Weber, in his 36th year.

Services from his late residence, 924 West Third street, Monday afternoon, May 15, at 1:15 o'clock. Interment Bound Brook, N. J.

COLBY—On Saturday, May 13, 1916, Sarah Fuller, wife of the late Moses D. Colby.

Services at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. G. Morse, 801 Hillside avenue, on Sunday, May 14, at 4:30 p. m. Interment at Leominster, Massachusetts.

CARKHUFF—On Friday, May 12, 1916, Lydia, wife of Joseph Carkhuff.

Funeral services at her late residence, 1229 West Third street, on Monday, May 15, at 2 p. m. Interment in Hillside cemetery.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue. Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

FOR SALE — Searchlight, 2 33x4 Baker rims, 3 33x4 tubes, Brown engine pump, Stewart horn, $30 shock absorbers, all new, at your own price. Call 217 Watchung avenue, North Plainfield. 5 12 2

FOR SALE—A chicken coop; will accommodate 25. 99 Rockview avenue. 5 12 2

AT MURRAY'S auction rooms, 326 West Front street, you can find anything imaginable and a large variety of everything, at any price you can afford. If you have anything to sell send it to Murray's. We buy for cash or sell on commission. Watch for our next large furniture sale and list of articles to be sold. Murray's moves to drug store, corner Grove street. We removed from the Lufburrow building April 1st, and have no connection with the concern located there now. 5 13 2

ALL kinds of carriages for sale. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

MERKEL 6 H. P. twin; $50. 555 East Second street; 'Phone 650-M. 5 10 4

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings, located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T Vail, Plainfield 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—11-room house and barn, choicest location, shade and fruit trees, garden, convenient to depot, trolley, schools and churches. Lamar VanSyckel, 146 Park avenue. 5 10 3 w-f-s

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—High class, substantially erected, residential property; best location; 10 rooms; all improvements. Owner desires to be nearer Evergreen Avenue School. Would consider lots. Address Washington Park, care of Daily Press. 5 13 3

HARNESS WANTED.

WILL PURCHASE FIFTEEN SETS OF SINGLE HARNESS IN GOOD CONDITION; STATE LOWEST PRICE. A. SCHINDEL, P. O. BOX 198, NEWARK, N. J. 5 12 3

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

IDEAL COUNTRY PLACE
For Sale.

House has 14 large rooms, hardwood floors, gas, water system, bath, etc. Good barn and 5 acres of land. The place is directly on the Rahway River, and has a commanding view of river and beautiful farming country. It can be purchased for less than cost of the house.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
Real Estate Department
5 6 3 eod

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

I WILL sacrifice my house, seven rooms and bath, all improvements; large lot, near trolley and school. Address M. E. S., care Press. th-f-s 4 20 tf

FOR SALE—High Grade Building Lots on Evergreen avenue at Bargain prices. W. S. Haselton, Dunellen, N. J. 5 13 6

FOR SALE—Lot 40x150, Arlington avenue, near school. J. T. Vail, 177 North avenue. 4 6 tf

INCOME property for sale, good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press 4 16 t

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulcanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. L. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big nough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

TO LET—Upper five-room flat, with all improvements. Apply J. Pashin, 647 West Third street, or 'Phone 1580-W. 5 10 4

SIX-ROOM apartment, all improvements. Inquire T. Canter, 204 West Fourth street. 5 11 3

NEW 5 and 7 passenger car for rent. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $25. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—May 1, house 402 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

COOKS, general houseworkers, with experience, white and colored, wanted at Mrs. Reed's Employment Office at once. 312 East Fourth street; must have good reference. 5 13 2

WANTED—Experienced girl for general housework. Scandinavian preferred; no laundry. 830 Dixie lane, Netherwood. 5 13 tf

GIRL for general housework, white; no laundry. Apply 437 West Seventh street. 5 11 tf

WANTED — General housework. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

BOY wanted; permanent position. Apply Schreiner Bros.' pharmacy. 5 12 2

WANTED—A good blacksmith on wagon work. Peter Leach, South Plainfield. 5 13 3

THREE bright boys, aged 17, cost department work. Spicer Manufacturing Co.

WANTED—Man over 30 years old to travel for us making Plainfield, New Brunswick, Orange, Bloomfield, Morristown, Somerville, Newark, East Orange, Montclair, Bound Brook, very pleasant line, permanent; big money. Glen Bros., Rochester, N. Y.

INTELLIGENT boy for office work, preferably not under 16; good opportunity for advancement. Apply in own handwriting, stating age and wages expected under, "Office," Daily Press. 5 12 2

WANTED—One good mechanic and one good laborer. Industrial Service Company, Lincoln, N. J. 5 11 3

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities. 'Phone 1724. tf

Condensed Statement of Condition of

The Plainfield Trust Company

As Rendered to the Bank Department of the State of New Jersey
MAY 1st, 1916.

ASSETS.		LIABILITIES
Railroad and other bonds (Market Value, $1,067,325.22)	$1,063,941.55	Capital stock	$ 100,000.00
Bonds and mortgages	1,132,531.98	Surplus and undivided profits	307,980.37
Demand loans, time loans and bills purchased	3,410,990.78	Premium on bonds	17,124.17
Banking House	85,000.00	Interest and taxes accrued	49,746.46
Other real estate	9,454.40	Deposits	6,235,174.63
Accrued interest	41,400.20
Cash and reserve	966,706.72
	$6,710,025.63		$6,710,025.63

OFFICERS:

O. T. Waring, President.
Augustus V. Heely, Vice-President
J. Herbert Case, Vice President
DeWitt Hubbell, Secretary and Treasurer
F. Irving Walsh, Asst. Sec'y-Treas.
A. H. Kirby, Assistant Treasurer

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

Lawn Mowers?
Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the five cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.
119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.

Two Phones, 5—6.

COAL

CONSUMERS COAL COMPANY

EGG, STOVE, NUT
$6.75 Per Ton Pea $5.25
30c discount for Spot Cash
A charge of 25c extra for carrying coal
Hay, Grain and Feed

CONSUMERS COAL CO.

Tel. 66 225 Madison Ave.

OUR OUTOMOBILE FIRE AND THEFT POLICY INSURES AGAINST
Loss or damage by FIRE, arising from any cause whatsoever.
Loss or damage (while in the hands of a transportation company) by stranding, burning, sinking, derailment and collision.
Loss by THEFT, of entire automobile or accessories, in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25.00.)
Reimbursement of the assured in consequence of a loss for any reasonable expenses incurred in recovering, saving and preserving the property insured from further damage.
Our rates are the lowest, companies the strongest, and service the best. Place your business here.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS — GEO. M. CLARKE CO. — Babcock Bldg. Telephone 208 Plainfield.
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

ORGANIZED 1875

Comforts and Blessings

Consider the many comforts and blessings your saved dollars will afford you and you will see the advantage of regular deposits.

Now is a good time to start an account with us.

4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts.

CITY NATIONAL BANK

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2538-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

Corporation Notice.

NOTICE OF SALE OF $30,000 SCHOOL BONDS OF THE CITY OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Monday, the 22nd day of May, 1916, at 8 o'clock P. M., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J., the Common Council of said City will receive sealed bids for the purchase of $30,000 School Bonds of said City, dated May 1st, 1916, bearing interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and maturing serially, $2,000 on May 1st in each of the years 1955 to 1961 both inclusive; and $4,000 on May 1st in each of the years 1962 to 1965, both inclusive. The bonds will be coupon in form but may be registered as to principal only or as to both principal and interest. A certified check for two per cent. (2%) of the par value of the bonds bid for, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield, must accompany each bid.

No bid for less than par and accrued interest will be accepted.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

All proposals or bids must be submitted on forms of proposal especially prepared for that purpose, copies of which may be obtained from the City Clerk or from the United States Mortgage & Trust Co., New York City.

The legality of the issue has been examined by Messrs. Hawkins, Delafield & Longfellow, whose favorable opinion will be furnished to the purchasers.

The bonds will be prepared and certified as to genuineness by the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, of New York City, and the bonds will be delivered to the respective purchasers on Monday, the 29th day of May, 1916, at the office of the City Treasurer of Plainfield, N. J., unless another time be mutually agreed upon.

Bids will be received for all or any part of such issue.

Dated, May 1st, 1916.
By order of the Common Council,
J. T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

5 6 2s

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.

AT

Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET, Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL

Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.

KEEP 'EM SHORT.

"THE VAN ARSDALE SHOES"
FOR MEN

Are cutting a wide swath this Spring, bowling over the dressy fellows who seek unusual styles, and more important—there are no better shoes at their price; that's the way we feel about it, and that's what hundreds of our customers tell us.

$3.50 TO $7.00.

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

A NETTLETON
Master Street Boot

$7 and worth it

"THE ARDSLEY"

Bal.—in Black and Tan Calfskin

The smartly refined lines of this model, its thorough finish, its quality-look, all make a strong appeal to the man who seeks dress-value in shoes.

But more; in black calfskin, "The Ardsley" represents the absolute utmost in wear; in tan calfskin, it is almost as durable. Nettleton Shoes are a sound investment and a real economy.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 West Front Street.
Agent—for Nettleton Men's Shoes—the world's finest.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale. Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MERSTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARAHUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 886.

OF GREAT VALUE TO THE MAN OF BUSINESS

SERVICE

There can be no doubt that a general knowledge of trade conditions throughout the Country, will help to advance your own business interests.

This information is presented in concise form in the monthly Trade Letter issued by this institution.

We will be glad to add your name to our mailing list if you are not already receiving the letter.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

LET US BRIGHTEN-UP YOUR HOME BY PAINTING IT!

WE DO
Paperhanging, Painting and Decorating in all its branches.

WE SELL
Paints, Brushes, Stains, Varnishes, Wallpaper, and in fact everything to brighten up your home.

L. B. Woolston. H. F. Woolston.

WOOLSTON & BUCKLE CO
Painters and Decorators,
143-145 NORTH AVENUE.
Established 1880. 'Phone 1086
m-s tf

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS, VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

Have You Headache?
Do your Eyes burn or itch?
Do they feel tired or strained?
If so, have your Eyes examined;
Your glasses may need changing.

STILES & CO
Philadelphia Eye Specialists
AT 107 EAST FRONT ST.
EVERY THURSDAY.
Hours 10 to 5.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
210 Park Avenue. 'Phone 180

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

Plainfield
Arlington Av. & Rose St.
FRI. MAY 19

COOK & WILSON'S GREATEST WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS ON EARTH

SEASON'S TRAINED ZOO SENSATION!
Fiercely, Ferocious Denizens of the Forest, Performing Feats that Stagger Belief!

SOMETHING NEW—A TRAINING TRIUMPH
Acrobatic Riding Lion
Exciting Equestrianism by an Untamed Jungle-Born Wild Beast

TWO HOURS OF LAUGHS AND THRILLS!!
FOREST-BRED EDUCATED LEOPARDS!
SCHOOL OF TIGERS & PUMAS!
BIG BEAR ACTORS!
ELEPHANTS & PONIES!
GENUINE BOXING KANGAROOS!

$50,000 Group of Black-Maned African Lions
The Only Group of Exclusively Forest-Bred Lions in Existence

Scores of Gymnastic Stars from Everywhere!
AN ARMY OF FURIOUSLY FUNNY CLOWNS!

EARTH'S LARGEST SAFETY-FIRST STEEL ARENA!
3 Rings—2 Stages—Vast Aerial Spaces

EVERY MORNING AT 10:30—RAIN OR SHINE
BIG NEW FREE STREET PARADE
A Spectacular Introduction to the World's Greatest Wild Animal Circus

2 PERFORMANCES DAILY: AFTERNOON AT 2, NIGHT AT 8
Doors open one hour earlier!

ORGANIZED 1868

PLAINFIELD SAVINGS BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is Your Money Doing Its Duty

It is important to place all idle cash promptly to your credit in the bank at interest.

It is not wise to hold it over until you have a large amount.

Your account is invited.

Accounts of $1 and up accepted.

William F. Arnold, President.
Albert C. Stebbins, Vice-President.
Howard A. Pope, Secretary and Treasurer.
H. B. MacDonald, Asst. Sec'y and Treas.

4% INTEREST PAID
ONLY SAVINGS BANK IN PLAINFIELD

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting Station, Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, any Friday between 9 o'clock and noon.

All-year jobs at good pay.

PANAMAS
FOR LADIES and GENTS

Are you thinking about having your Panama hat reblocked and cleaned? We will do it for you and add a new band and new leather, to look and wear like new.

No acid, sulphur, talc or numerous other preparations used.

Latest styles you will find here.

HERSEY HAT M'F'G and RENOVATING CO.
130 PARK AVE.

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY
Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's
Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Unsettled tonight and Tuesday; probably showers; warmer tonight; east to south winds.
Highest yesterday, 59; lowest this morning, 48.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MONDAY, MAY 15, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

CASEMENT IS ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Sir Roger Faces British Charge of Treason Against Crown.

HEARING IS PUBLIC ONE

Germans Shift Activity to British Front—Artillery Duel Before Verdun—French Aviators Raid Bulgar Army Camp.

London, May 15.—The trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason against the Crown in conspiring with Germany to foment revolution in Ireland begins in the Bow Street police court today. The hearings will be public, but only sixty persons can be accommodated in the court room.

Three of England's leading jurists, headed by Lord Chief Justice Baron Reading, will hear the evidence. Sir F. E. Smith, Crown Attorney General, will conduct the prosecution, while George Gavan Duffy will act as solicitor for Casement and Artemus Jones as counsel.

Sir Edward Carson, Ulster leader and former Attorney General, regarded as one of the cleverest lawyers in the United Kingdom, refused to act for the Irish leader.

It is understood the prosecution will last four or five days, an unprecedentedly long time for an English trial. Casement will be conducted in secret to the police court and the public will have no opportunity of seeing him.

Berlin, May 15.—German war statement:

Attacks by both the British and French delivered last night near Verdun and in Artois were repulsed, the German War Office announced today. The British attacked near Hulluch. The French assaults were delivered on the west slope of LeMort Homme (Dead Man's Hill), on the west side of the Meuse. Severe artillery duels were reported from many sections of the line.

French Report Quiet.

Paris, May 15.—Only artillery actions took place on the Verdun front last night, the French War Office announced today. Heavy artillery fire was concentrated on the French positions in Avocourt Wood, west of the Meuse. The communique stated, however, that no infantry assaults had been delivered by the Germans.

Air Raid on Bulgars.

Saloniki, May 15.—French aviators on Sunday bombarded the town of Xanthi, where the Tenth Division of the Bulgarian army is encamped. About four hundred bombs were dropped by the aeroplanes, causing heavy damage. The aviators returned safely.

MEXICAN MUDDLE CLEARS, SAYS SCOTT

Situation Better—Latin America Has Not Asked for Intervention.

Washington, May 15.—Gen. Scott, Chief of the Staff, who returned today from his conference with Gen. Obregon at El Paso, believes the situation is much improved as the result of the Border conferences, although no definite agreement was reached. He is optimistic of a satisfactory settlement of the present muddle.

Do Not Ask Intervention.

Washington, May 15.—Secretary of State Lansing today denied the reports that various Latin-American republics had approved intervention by the United States in Mexico. He said nothing had been heard from them on the subject.

New York Militia Not Called.

New York, May 15.—At the headquarters of the New York State National Guard in the Municipal Building, no word, it was said this morning, had been received as to 10,000 of the State Militia being called on May 27 for duty on the Mexican border, as stated in a morning newspaper.

NEIGHBORHOOD QUARREL AIRED IN POLICE COURT

Mrs. May Deal and Mrs. Kate Smith were arraigned in police court this morning on charges of disorderly conduct preferred against them by Mrs. Laura Morley as a result of a difficulty between neighbors on West Fourth street. Judge William N. Runyon appeared for the defendants and Francis J. Blatz represented the complainant. The women were dismissed on suspended sentences, with orders from Judge De Meza that the complainant stay away from the property occupied by the other two.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

THREE INJURED AS WAGON UPSETS

Mrs. Chas. Berkheiser, Mrs. W. W. Giddes and G. F. Giles Thrown From Runabout.

AUTO FRIGHTENS HORSE

Mrs. Berkheiser Sustains Fractured Leg and is Later Removed to Muhlenberg Hospital for X-ray Examination.

George F. Giles, the Dunellen plumber; Mrs. Charles Berkheiser, his daughter, and Mrs. William W. Giddes, his granddaughter, are all suffering from injuries received when the horse attached to a runabout in which they were returning from this city about 9 o'clock Saturday evening, became scared by a passing motorcycle on West Front street, opposite the factory of the Crescent Color Company, and shied over to the side of the road with the result that the front wheel of the carriage struck a stone culvert and throwing Mr. Giles out.

Mrs. Giddes jumped first and then Mrs. Berkheiser followed. Mrs. Berkheiser had one leg broken in two places. Mrs. Giddes, who was more fortunate, merely received bruises about her limbs and a slightly injured ankle.

Mrs. Berkheiser and Mrs. Giddes made their way to Mr. Giles, who lay unconscious where he had fallen, Mrs. Berkheiser being obliged to crawl there. They spoke to Mr. Giles but he did not answer. Thinking he was dead, both women screamed. The driver of a passing automobile, attracted by the cries of the women, stopped his machine and hastened to their assistance.

In the meantime the horse which had run away was stopped by an unknown man at Jefferson avenue. This man drove the horse back and just as he arrived at the scene of the accident, Mr. Giles came to and arose, saying that he was all right, he got in the buggy and drove home alone. Mrs. Berkheiser and Mrs. Giddes were both taken home in the auto. In the excitement the identity of the owner of the car was not ascertained.

How Mr. Giles, who in the meantime had driven home and put his horse safely away in the barn, was able to do so is a mystery because he was so dazed when he entered his home that he had no recollection of where he had been or what had happened. When he saw Dr. Longbothum in his house he inquired why he was present.

Today he is suffering from pains in the back of his head and in his shoulders and chest. He is suffering greatly from shock and it is feared that he may have several broken ribs. On account of his age his family is greatly concerned over his condition.

Mrs. Berkheiser was taken to the Muhlenberg Hospital at 10 o'clock this morning for an ex-ray examination and treatment.

PLAINFIELD MAN IS STABBED IN ABDOMEN

Henry Hanson Reported to Be Dying in Bellevue Hospital, New York.

Harry Hanson, aged about 25 years, of Lincoln place, North Plainfield, is reported to be near death in Bellevue Hospital, New York, suffering from a stab wound in his abdomen, but he firmly refuses to tell the police how or by whom he was attacked. Aside from telling the police his name and place of residence he would say no more.

Policeman Lenahan found Hanson leaning against a building in Eighth avenue, near Twenty-first street, New York A red stained long bladed knife lay at the man's feet. He was removed to the West Twentieth street police station and later to the hospital. Detectives failed to obtain any statemen from the wounded man.

Hanson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson, of Lincoln place, the borough. He is a mason by trade. The parents were informed today of their son's condition, but have been unable to secure any details of the stabbing affray.

CROSSES COUNTRY IN AUTOMOBILE IN 7½ DAYS

New York, May 15.—E. G. Baker, the veteran automobile transcontinentalist, accompanied by W. F. Sturm an Indianapolis newspaper, who is en rout from Los Angeles to New York, having left the Western city on May 8, passed through Philadelphia in his Cadillac eight at 1:45 this morning. He will arrive in this city about 2:30 this afternoon, when it is expected he will have made the trip in seeven days and eleven hours, bating his own previous record by three hours.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

—When discontent reaches a certain point, the furnished room advertisements become very interesting to some people.

Why----?

HERBERT HAROLD WEDS MISS ALICE BEDMAN

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring Performs Ceremony at Home of Bride's Mother.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frances S. Bedman, of 28 Putnam avenue, when Alice L. Bedman, a daughter, became the bride of Herbert J. Harold, of this city. The ceremony, which was witnessed by the immediate relatives of the couple, was performed by the Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Eva F. Bedman, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Fred M. Harold, brother to the bridegroom, acted as best man. The bride wore a becoming blue silk traveling gown. The ceremony took place in the parlor, which was attractively decorated for the occasion with potted plants and spring flowers, among the latter apple blossoms predominating.

A wedding supper followed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Harold left for a short wedding trip. On their return they will reside at 555 East Second street. Mr. Harold is the organist of the First Presbyterian church, this city, and both he and his bride hold a large circle of acquaintances in both the city and the borough.

PERCY VINCENT ARRESTED FOR ABUSING FAMILY

Percy Vincent, of Watchung, looked too long on the cup that cheers Saturday night and when he reached home he became abusive and is reported to have knocked his wife down with a blow from his fist. In falling the woman struck her head against the edge of the sink, sustaining a severe gash. Dr. Albert Pittis was called and it required a number of stitches to close the wound.

Vincent was arrested by William de La R. Anderson, acting as a special policeman, and taken to the borough lockup where he will be given a hearing tonight before Justice C. E. Neier. This is Vincent's second offense of wife beating and he has been on probation.

Auction Sale.

A large assortment of household goods will be sold at auction tomorrow at the Auction Rooms, 322 West Front street, commencing promptly at 10 o'clock. Parties who owned the goods are leaving town and they must be disposed of. The list of articles is published in the advertisement on another page of this paper.—Adv. •••

Do You Want

to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv.
4 24 tf •••

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

JUST COFFEE FOR LETTER CARRIERS

Strong Protests May Result in Dropping of Plan to Serve Free Beer.

CHURCHES ARE AROUSED

Local Postal Men Are Called to Meet Tomorrow Night and It is Freely Predicted That They Will Reconsider Decision to Buy Intoxicant.

All local letter carriers have been called to meet in the rooms of the association tomorrow night for the purpose of deciding whether or not beer is to be bought for distribution among delegates who attend the annual convention of the State association here May 30.

The question is all important just now in the arrangements for the convention because of the agitation started Saturday night, when a committee composed of the Rev. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church; the Rev. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First Methodist church, and the Rev. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, called on Postmaster Hoagland and Assistant Postmaster Sharp and requested that plans of the committee to buy beer be abandoned. Most of the ministers referred to the subject from their pulpits yesterday morning. In addition to the three named above it was mentioned by the Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel; the Rev. B. S. Hudson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church. At the Park Avenue church a rising vote was taken on the question of buying beer for the visiting postmen and every person present voted against using money for this purpose.

Petitions demanding the return of money contributed to the entertainment fund have been prepared and will be distributed among those who donated if the letter carriers do not decide tomorrow night that coffee and soft drinks will be sufficient to quench the thirst of the mail men.

It was originally planned to have the beer served on Cadmus' lot, which is in North Plainfield, and Mayor William L. Smalley announced yesterday that if the committee would abandon beer he would personally guarantee that the women of North Plainfield would provide coffee and soda enough for every marcher in the parade. This announcement was made by Dr. Biederwolf from the pulpit of the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon and was enthusiastically received. It had been said that beer was to be served because it would be impossible to get together enough coffee and soft drinks.

SHOP MEN GET RAISE.

Omaha, Neb., May 15.—The Union Pacific shop workers have been granted an increase which will amount to $500,000 annually.

CITIZENS AGREE TO CENSOR SHOWS

Volunteer Committee Will Watch Exhibitions and Make Formal Complaint.

A voluntary citizens' committee will look after public morals in the matter of theatricals and motion pictures in the future, and if its members find a show of any kind that is immoral and obscene they will make formal complaint to the mayor and ask that the theatre license be revoked.

Just who will make up this committee has not been decided. It will not be appointed, but will work with the knowledge and consent of Mayor Calkins, although he invests no authority in it whatsoever. A complaint from the committee will have no more weight with him than one from an ordinary citizen, except that the character of the complainants and their motives will be considered. At least one local theatre manager has approved of the plan and has made known his intention of calling on members of the committee for advice when he is in doubt about a show.

Responsibility for the censoring of shows is now up to the exhibitors, as a result of the recent outlining of policy by Mayor Calkins, and proof of exhibition of a show of any kind that will lower the morals of those who attend will result in the revoking of the license to run a theatre in Plainfield.

THINKS TONGUES WERE RUN BY ELECTRIC MOTOR

Recorder Schmidt, according to report, had an exciting time Saturday night, when two respectable "ladies" from a section near Hand's brickyards, were brought before him on a charge of being "D. and D." After hearing the evidence, the recorder imposed a fine of $10, which was suspended on the offenders. The recorder says that he often heard of tongues that hung in the middle and wagged at both ends, but in this case he thinks the tongues were run by an electric motor.

TALK ON "NEW JERSEY."

The final meeting of the Rasores for the year will be held tomorrow at 10:30 with Mrs. W. W. Myers, of Washington avenue, when Henry C. White, of North Plainfield, will give a talk on "New Jersey." Members are asked to be punctual and to remember any unpaid dues.

Automobile Repairing

The kind that pleases. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. •••

—Until you have canvassed the eaders of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property.

YESTERDAY BROUGHT CONVERTS AT BIEDERWOLF MEETINGS TO MORE THAN 4,000—17,500 AT SERVICES

SERMON ON "BOOZE" WAS ELOQUENTLY BITTER DENUNCIATION OF WHISKEY TRAFFIC—PUTS BLAME ON CHURCH MEMBERS.

CITY OFFICIALS WALK DOWN SAWDUST AISLE

Crowd of 4,500 Women at Tabernacle Saturday Evening—Lecture on Christian Science Will Be Given Tomorrow Night, and Big Civic Demonstration Wednesday Night.

The total number of conversions and reconsecrations at the Biederwolf services was brought to over 4,000 yesterday, when more than two hundred walked down the sawdust aisle during Saturday evening, Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening. In those who publicly pledged a Christian life or a life of greater service to Christ there was included every class of citizen, from Mayor William L. Smalley, of the borough of North Plainfield, down to the drunkards and old offenders against the law.

Dr. Biederwolf preached to 17,200 people at the three services. Saturday evening he had a crowd of 4,500 women, and eighty of them knelt in front of the pulpit for the penitent's prayer. Yesterday afternoon the great pine Tabernacle was almost filled with men, and a few women brought the attendance to 6,000. Those who walked the sawdust aisle numbered almost eighty, and last night the evangelist said it was one of the greatest meetings for men only he had ever seen. In the evening the Tabernacle was filled to overflowing, many standing in the rear and others being turned away.

Dr. Biederwolf's sermon in the afternoon was another bitter denunciation of the whisky trade. He said that the power that ran the saloon was the votes of church members and professing Christians, and that the very day they said Stop! no more whisky would be sold in this country.

"Look here, I say to you people that the very minute the churches of this great land get together, the members of the Protestant and Catholic churches alike, and say to the saloon, 'You go back to hell, out of whose black pit you wriggled your slimy carcass!' that minute will this damnable institution cease to curse the earth and crawl back to hell where it belongs, and you know it."

"And a lot of you whisky-voting elders and stewards and vestrymen," he continued, "wont strike hands on the proposition, and I know why. You're sneaking around the house of God with a guilty conscience, because you've got your property rented for a saloon, or got your name on some saloon-keeper's petition; or maybe, drawing your dividends on some brewery stock; and you'd rather pave your streets and support your schools with the blood of your neighbor's boy, and maybe your own, than to do these things with decent dollars."

Dr. Biederwolf pointed out the progress of prohibition in the country, showing that three-fifths of the territory in the United States was under prohibition law. He said that fraternal organizations everywhere were getting rid of the saloon and its influence and that within a short time a saloon-keeper would have to go to hell in order to find someone who would associate with him.

At the end of the sermon he appealed to his hearers in the name of the American flag, in the name of home, and wife and children and in the name of their mother's God, to pledge a temperance life, and a life for Christ and against the saloons. There was an inspiring response to his appeal, and while the penitents stood in front of his pulpit, almost a thousand Christian men crowded around them.

Dr. Biederwolf stopped in his sermon long enough to say that the postal employes or those in charge of the entertainment of the postal carriers convention, were making a serious mistake in buying beer with money raised by public subscription. He believed that this decision would be changed, he said, and hoped that they would not disgrace the fair name of Plainfield by serving free beer to those who march in the parade here May 30.

The evangelist called attention to the big civic-religious demonstration to be held on the streets Wednesday evening, and said that it would be the most dignified, most beautiful, most becoming, most magnificent celebration ever held in Plainfield. He urged all to participate.

Mr. Brunette, of Meadsville, Pa., who was converted in a Biederwolf meeting there almost two years ago, was a visitor at the Tabernacle yesterday and made a short talk.

Cards were passed through the Tabernacle audience pledging signers to support local option and urging the anti-saloon league of the State to secure a signed statement from all legislative candidates in the next election on the question, and make their position public ten days before the election. Many of these cards were signed.

There was a delegation of officials of the City of Plainfield and the Borough of North Plainfield present at the afternoon service, headed by Mayor Leighton H. Calkins and Mayor William L. Smalley, and including a majority of members of both councils. About fifty members of the City Baseball League, headed by President Walter C. Dobbins, was present also, and practically all of the league members walked up in answer to the invitation.

Mr. McEwan sang, by request, "If You Love Your Mother Meet Her in the Skies," and the National Male Quartet sang "The Little Brown Church in the Dell." The author of this song, Dr. William S. Pitts, was present and he received a great ovation when Dr Biederwolf called on him to stand up. The quartet also sang "De Brewer's Big Hosses."

The collection at the afternoon service was asked for by W. D. Murray, and went to charity wards of Muhlenberg Hospital, the Day Nursery and the local Charity Organization.

At the evening service the program for the week was announced by Mr. Heaton and Dr. Biederwolf. There will be no service tonight. Tuesday evening, Dr. Biederwolf will deliver his famous lecture on Christian Science. He urged all friends of the faith to be present, assuring them that the lecture was a careful review. Wednesday night the big civic demonstration will take place, and Thursday night there will be a special service for those who have walked the sawdust aisle at the services. Friday night will be family night, and Mr. McEwan will give a set of books to the biggest family in the audience.

Mr. Calkins asked for the collection at the evening service. He said that it would go to the pension funds of the policemen and firemen, and that there was no more worthy object in all the city.

Tonight Dr. Biederwolf will go to Norristown to preach on "Booze." There is a hot fight on there for a dry town, and while he felt that he needed a rest, he did not refuse an invitation to speak.

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL CONVEY KNIGHTS TO NEWARK

The Plainfield special which will convey the Plainfield members of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, to the big parade to be held in Newark tonight will leave the Grant Avenue station at 7:02, the North Avenue station at 7:05, and Netherwood at 7:09. The final meeting of the local committee was held yesterday afternoon in the West Front street clubhouse and arrangements were made to have a representation of 250 knights in line this evening. A band of fifty pieces will precede the local marchers. The Plainfield men will be the fourteenth division in line, and beside delegations of knights from all over the State, councils of New York and Brooklyn will also send men to parade.

—Hudson Super-Six stock car close third in big 150-mile race at Sheepshead Bay, Saturday. For sale by A. C. Thompson Auto Co.—Rdv. •••

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

The Rev. Mr. Deauble will give a stereopticon lecture on "African Missions" in St. Peter's Lutheran church on the evening of Friday, May 19. Members and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

Hudson Super-Six Stock Car Third in Big 150-Mile Race at Sheepshead Bay Saturday

Against a large field of the world's fastest special racing cars. This is a remarkable showing, especially as the Hudson was the only stock car in the race, and its time being only 5 minutes behind the winning special racing car. The car used was the same car that broke the world's 24 hour record at Sheepshead Bay last week, covering 1,819 miles; averaging 76 miles per hour for 24 hours.—A. C. Thompson Auto Co.—Adv. •••

—Don't forget the inspection tomorrow, Tuesday, from 1 to 4 o'clock, and the sale Wednesday at 10 a. m. sharp, of the mammoth auction sale, over Gavett's china store, 318 West Front street. W. A. Schorb, auctioneer. See adv. on classified page.—Adv. •••

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS

Force's Corset Dept.

Is the Place to Buy

LA RESISTA CORSETS

They are the most adaptible and practical Corsets for the needs of all figures from stout to slender. They have all the style, beauty and elegance so essential in a Corset. It is also in these Corsets that the famous patented "Spirabone" boning is found, which gives such remarkable comfort and is guaranteed Break-proof.

Styles to fit perfectly all figures at $2.50, $3.50, $5.00 and up.

The Flexo form Corsets which have the "Spirabone" boning on the side, thus strengthening the hip, and are sold for
$1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

See our special window display this week of La Resista Corsets.

We have a special corset fitting room and will be pleased to give you a fitting any time

A. E. FORCE & CO.

"THE WHITE STORE"

WE GIVE S & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

DUNELLEN COUPLE OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Barton Entertain Many Guests at Their Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Barton, of 209 Dunellen avenue, gave a reception at their home Friday evening in honor of the seventh anniversary of their wedding. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Byron D. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pendergast, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Longbothum, Miss Emmaline Vail, Miss May V. Day, Miss Gertrude Bunting, Miss Florence Bunting, Miss Nora Bird, Miss Dorothy Richards, Miss Anna Sterbenz, Joseph E. Duffy, Lou Ulmer, Henry Kenny, Robert Ulmer, Michael Carroll, Charles Corlell, Jr., Archie La Rue, Raymond La Pla, Leslie Apps.

The program of entertainment included dancing, games and music. Music for the dancing was furnished by Archie La Rue, of New Market, violinist, and Henry Kenny, of Plainfield, cornetist. They were accompanied alternately at the piano by the Misses Florence and Gertrude Bunting. A quartet composed of Joseph Duffy, of Manville; Robert Ulmer, of Somerville; Michael Carroll and John Ulmer, of Bound Brook, rendered several pleasing vocal selections during the course of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton received many nice presents in honor of the occasion, among the gifts being articles of cut glass, silver, linen and china, as well as pictures and other useful household articles.

Mrs. Barton, whose maiden name was Miss May Sterbenz, and Mr. Barton, who resided with his mother, Mrs. Ascenith Pitt, of Schenectary, N. Y., were married at Hartford, Conn., where Mrs. Barton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sterbenz, resided. Mr. Barton accepted a position with the Westfield Leader and the couple moved to Westfield, where they resided until a year ago last October, when they moved to this borough owing to Mr. Barton having in the meantime accepted a position as superintendent of the John-Manville printing plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton have five children, three boys and two girls.

Mrs. Paul Stryker and Miss Luella Stryker spent the week-end in New York visiting friends.

Mrs. C. D. Gooch entertained the Misses Coddington, of New York city, over the week-end.

Miss Margaret Ryan entertained Miss Edna Connelly over Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas Reynolds visited her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Gallagher at Elizabeth, Sunday.

A new schedule which went into effect at the Levgar Structural Company today gives the men 55 hours' pay for working 52 1-2 hours.

Frank Hennesy spent the week-end in Baltimore visiting his parents.

Paul Dropkin spent yesterday at West Brighton visiting his parents.

CHARLES WILLIAMS IMPROVING.

Charles Williams, who submitted to a third operation to check gangrene Friday afternoon, the operation consisting of removing his leg above the knee, is reported to be doing as well as can be expected. His relatives and friends, however, are very apprehensive.

LEASE PROPERTY.

George Shields and family have rented the new Michael T. Moynihan house on Third street and will take possession the first of June. Mr. Shields is employed as auditor and accountant in the New York office of the New York Telephone Company.

Mrs. Paul Ratti entertained Mrs. Egidio Ambruso yesterday.

Mrs. John Mann entertained her uncle from Paterson yesterday.

John Reese, Jr., was tendered a party by his parents in honor of his twenty-first birthday Saturday evening. Twenty guests were present from Newark, Elizabeth and this vicinity. The evening was spent with games, music and dancing. An elaborate repast was served at a late hour.

SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. E. R. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, announced from the pulpit yesterday morning that the occasion was the seventh anniversary of his pastorate. Some thoughtful members of the congregation who were aware of this fact caused a numeral "7," beautifully worked in flowers, to be placed on a stand alongside of the pulpit before the service began.

Rev. T. E. Gardner, of Plainfield, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church, yesterday morning. He gave an appropriate talk on Mothers' Day.

Arthur Ludovic has purchased a new "5" passenger touring car.

Miss Florence Bunting spent yesterday visiting her sisters, Mrs. Louis Randolph, of South Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. August Leibel, of Port Reading, visited their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Leibel and Mr. and Mrs. William Wingess, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jenner entertained their granddaughter, Miss Evelyn Smalley, yesterday.

Mrs. William Pizie entertained her son, George T. Pizie, from out of town, yesterday.

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

Scotch Plains, Fanwood

PLEASING PROGRAM IN FANWOOD HALL

Presented in Firehouse Saturday Night for Episcopal Church Rectory Fund.

Witnessed by upward of a hundred and fifty people that taxed the Fanwood firehouse to the limit of its capacity, a series of entertaining tableaux and a short sketch, entitled "The Bachelor's Dream," were presented Saturday night by fifty members of the Episcopal church under the auspices of the All Saints' Guild. The proceeds will be used to help swell the rectory fund the church is now raising.

The songs of All Nations was especially well received, it being a series of still pictures of various youngsters garbed to represent the various countries of the world. All of the other numbers were well taken, including the sketch which was supposed to represent the dreams that a young bachelor saw. Following is a list of those who appeared in the sketch or tableaux:

"Songs of All Nations," tableaux, Edith Fancher, Marjorie Tuzo, Marjolte McAneny, Frances Barrett, Dorothy Pandick, Jennie Lambertson, Wilbur McAneny, Raymond Sherwood, Peter Pandick, Helen Miller, Sherman Betts and Gertrude Head.

Illustrated songs consisted of the following cast: Marjorie McAneny, Margaret Barrett, Frances Young, Kathryn McAneny, Florence Meeker, George McAneny, Richard Tull, Howard Kirby, Lamar Tuzo, Stoddard Nichols, Paul Tuzo, Ralph Newell, Kathryn McAneny, Florence Meeker and Mrs. Orr and the infant class of the Sunday school.

The sketch, entitled "The Bachelor's Dream," was acted by the following: Bachelor, S. Dana Townsend; Friends, S. Wright McAneny, Jr., John R. Meggy, George Jespersen, Bradley Barrett and Amando Paul.

The bachelor girls were the Misses Barbara Graham, Vera Pandick, Stella Garsky, Kathryn M. McAneny, Rose Thomas, Emily Garda, Olive Garda, Theresa Lewis, Hannah Lambertson, Ruth Barrett, Mrs. Palmer, Beatrice Head, Helen Head, Gertrude Head and Viola Garda.

LEONARD LOT LOSES FUNITURE IN WRECK

Leonard Lot, who is to reside in the borough again after spending nearly five years in the South, has received word that all of his household goods have been destroyed on the way from Seabreeze, Fla., where he had been living. Loaded in a box freight car the goods were completely ruined when the freight train was wrecked somewhere in the Carolinas and caught fire. Mr. Lot had not taken the precaution to insure the stuff and it will be practically an entire loss. He will be delayed several days in moving into his home on Forest road until he has replaced the loss.

VOTERS TO SOLVE SCHOOL PROBLEM

Meeting Called for Thursday Night to Take Action to Relieve Congestion.

Finding that matters have at last reached the stage where it is imperative that something be done, the Fanwood Township Board of Education has called a mass meeting of the voters of the township and borough to be held in School No. 1 on Thursday night at 8 o'clock. No definite steps will be taken at the meeting, the Board wishing first to find out just what the citizens think of the matter of local school congestion.

Although the building of School No. 3 in the Graceland section about a year ago relieved the congested condition existing in School No. 1 it was not to the extent at first thought and matters have become such that for several months the kindergarten has had to be discontinued so as to make room for the upper classes to hold sessions. Then, too, the time limit has expired that was set by the State authorities allowing the local Board to partition the assembly room of the school into class rooms and that alone means the discontinuing of several classes unless something is done immediately.

Having expended money to erect School No. 3 and because of necessity any steps taken to relieve matters will cause a raise in local taxes to a certain degree, the Board of Education called the meeting to learn how the voters stand on the question before anything was done. The one most feasible solution that the Board has hit upon is the building of an addition on to School No. 1, similar to the one erected some six years ago, and to be of two stories with two rooms on each floor. However, there has been some dissent to the proposition, some thinking that a separate school should be built in Fanwood and some having still other views, and it is to decide this matter to the best satisfaction of everyone that the meeting has been called.

PLAN ANNUAL SCHOOL EXHIBIT AT SCOTCH PLAINS

The annual exhibit of School No. 1 will be held in the school building tomorrow and according to all reports will show that better results have been accomplished during the present school term than in any year past. The exhibit will be throughout the day and the parents are invited, if they wish, to attend while classes are in session and see the actual work being done. The teachers and schools will be about and willing to show visitors about the building. Specimens of the work accomplished by the individual students will be on exhibit in the various classrooms and in the corridors and a special feature this year will be samples of the work that has been done by the girls in the sewing and home arts classes and the boys in the manual training classes. When considering this section of the school work the parents should remember that there are no regular courses for these branches of learning, but that Principal S. Dana Townsend has introduced the work outside of regular school hours and that it is optional with the pupil whether they take them or not.

IN CHARGE AT NETHERWOOD.

John Southard, of Montague avenue, started this morning as the regular station agent at the Netherwood station. After serving an apprenticeship under A. A. Storr, the local agent, for several months, he successfully passed the examination a short time ago and has since been filling in at one of the Bayonne stations.

TAKES POSITION AT ALBANY.

Robert Meggy, of North avenue, has left his position with the P. S. C., and left last night for Albany, N. Y., where he has resumed his position with the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

METHODIST ENTERTAINMENT.

Mrs. Fennetta Sargent Haskill will appear in the Parish House tomorrow night at the Methodist church entertainment. She is a dramatic speaker of ability and as she will devote the evening to an interpretation of James M. Barrie's dramatized novel, "Quality Street," the affair is sure to be worth while.

MONTHLY FIRE MEETING.

The monthly business session of the Fanwood Fire Company for May will be held in the firehouse on Watson road tomorrow night.

ON SOUTHERN TRIP.

Captain C. B. Saunders and son, Guy, of the Valley road, are on a trip to New Orleans, where they expect to stay some time. Mr. Saunders is superintending the building of a number of ships.

REPRESENTED IN PARADE.

Nearly fifty people from the township and borough either took part in or saw the Preparedness parade in New York Saturday. Half of that number were men engaged in various lines of business in the city and marched in the parade, the most important being Mayor William H. Hoar, who, as president of the Garment Salesmans' Association, led a thousand men along the line of march.

MOTHERS' DAY IN CHURCHES.

Mothers' Day was appropriately observed in all of the local churches yesterday, and in the Methodist, Episcopal and Baptist the pastors delivered impressive sermons. At the meeting of the Epworth League in the Methodist church Miss Harriet Reeder led, taking as her topic "Mother," and at all of the churches special music was rendered.

FRANKLIN K. LANE.

Makes Citizens of 170 Sioux Indians.

Photo by American Press Association.

Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, has granted full citizenship rights to 170 residents of the Yankton Sioux reservation. Mr. Lane made an address in which he urged the red men to appreciate the responsibility of citzenship. Title to 30,000 acres of land, which has been held in trust for the Indians, was transfered to them.

IRISH PIN HOPE ON VISIT OF ASQUITH

Premier Modifies Strict Martial Law.

Dublin, May 15.—The great modification in the regulation of martial law gave the people of Dublin a freedom of movement strongly contrasting with the restrictions imposed since the rebellion. All may now come and go as they wish between the hours of 4 in the morning and midnight. During the remaining four hours they must keep within doors.

It is generally understood that Premier Asquith is responsible for this relaxation. The premier's study of conditions and the sentiments of the people apparently convinced him that there was no great element of rebellious spirit remaining.

Mr. Asquith's chief occupation since his arrival in Dublin has consisted in seeking a method for the adjustment of the Irish crisis and in ascertaining whether it would be advisable to return to the former system of government or adopt a change of rule more in accordance with the wishes of the people. The premier has also given some attention to minor factors, these having to do with the disposal of the remaining rebel prisoners and compensation for the material damage done in Dublin.

Neither of these questions has yet been solved, but Mr. Asquith had an opportunity to see and question a number of rebels in the detention barracks and again visited the ruins of the buildings destroyed in various sections of the city. The information he thus obtained may be of great service to him when the subject is brought before the cabinet on his return to London, which is expected at an early date.

ORPET NOW ON TRIAL.

Student Accused of Slaying Marian Lambert.

Waukegan, Ill., May 15.—Will H. Orpet, the twenty-year-old University of Wisconsin student now in Waukegan jail, was placed on trial today in the Lake county circuit court here for the murder of Marian Lambert, the Forest high school girl found dead from poison in the snow in Helm's woods on Feb. 10.

Judge Charles R. Donnelly of Woodstock is presiding. A venire of 136 men has been summoned. Lawyers for the prosecution and defense agree that the trial probably will last a month.

MILLION RAISED FOR JEWS.

Philadelphia Delegates Hear of Work For Sufferers In War.

Philadelphia, May 15.—The central committee for the relief of Jews suffering through the war, according to reports submitted at a national conference held in Musical Fund hall, has raised $1,074,386. Plans were discussed at the conference for raising $1,000,000 a month for the cause.

The first speaker of the afternoon was ex-Congressman Goldfogle of New York. Other speakers were Rabbi Leventhal, Harry Fischel and Leon Kamaiky of New York.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

THINK BURTON COULD RALLY FACTIONS

The candidacy of Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio has been promoted by the feeling that the battle ground of the presidential campaign lies in the middle west. Burton's friends are greatly encouraged by the fact that in the recent Ohio primary Burton got 30 per cent more votes than Wilson.

Burton served in congress twenty-five years and was a leader in legislation in the administrations of three Republican presidents. He has been a conspicuous protective tariff advocate. He declares that industrial independence is an important element in military preparedness. He delivered the longest speech ever made in the senate and for the taxpayers the most valuable, since it saved $33,000,000.

He is especially posted on American diplomatic and military history and in the house was known as the most versatile member, having also written several authoritative financial volumes. Speaker Cannon called him "the ablest man on the floor." A great campaigner, Burton has stumped in every state and is one of the most powerful orators in public life.

Progressive, but not a faddist, it is believed he would rally all elements of the Republican party.

PROCTOR'S

10c Continuous 2 to 11. 10c

We not only present the World's Best Photoplays and filmdom's most popular stars, as a glance at the following program will convince you, but we go farther by presenting them by means of the most modern and up-to-date equipment. Our patrons witness these unprecedented attractions in perfect comfort, fanned by cool and invigorating breezes manufactured by our mammoth Ice Plant.

INAUGURATION OF
MARY PICKFORD WEEK
See the most popular of screen favorites in a different picture each day in addition to the regular program of wonderful photoplays.

TODAY—We Take Pleasure in Presenting
MARY PICKFORD
in SUCH A LITTLE QUEEN
A picture that will prove to be a delight to both young and old
The second episode of
THE MYSTERIES OF MYRA
The Entrancing Serial Masterpiece
FIT FOR BURNING
A Powerful Drama That Will Hold the Intense Interest of Every Spectator
Other Personally Picked Photoplays

TUESDAY
MARYPICKFORD
in
"BEHIND THE SCENES"
LILLIAN GISH
in
"SOLD FOR MARRIAGE"
FATTY ARBUCKLE
in
"THE OTHER MAN"
(Keystone Comedy)
Eleventh "MARY PAGE"

WEDNESDAY
MARYPICKFORD
in
"CINDERELLA"
VIVIAN MARTIN in
"A MODERN THELMA"
A Gripping Fox Feature
The Twelfth Episode of
"THE IRON CLAW"

2 EXTRAORDINARY ADDED ATTRACTION 2
Day and Night Thursday and Friday Days Only

Charlie Chaplin
In His First Mutual Comedy Produced Under His $670,000 Contract.
THE FLOORWALKER
A veritable hailstorm of hilarious merriment
NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT
ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Distributed by the
PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.

3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it

Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.
EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED

Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles 07
Up to 300 miles 10
Up to 600 miles 15
Up to 1000 miles 20
For greater distances will post-master rate for 3 lbs.

No. 1

Little Chats With Telephone Users

HAVE you ever visited a telephone central office? Have you any idea what goes on behind the scenes during those few seconds between the lifting of the receiver and the answering voice of your far-away friend?

There is mutual advantage in a visit to one of our central offices. It makes for better understanding between us. The knowledge you gain of how to use the telephone and of our methods of operation should make the telephone more valuable to you and should aid us in our efforts to furnish the best telephone service of which science is capable.

There are many people who never have seen one of our exchanges in operation, so we are going to take this opportunity in a series of newspaper chats to tell them about these things that we'd rather have them see for themselves.

Next week we are going to tell you about the girl who never told a "fib."

NEW YORK TELEPHONE CO.

GEORGE ENDICOTT, JR., WINS RIFLE SHOOT

Hangs up a Mark of 79—F. O. Nelson is Second With Score of 76.

The weekly shoot of the New Market Rifle Club Saturday afternoon was won by George Endicott, Jr., with a score of 79, Frank O. Nelson was second with a count of 76, and F. Clark and R. Randolph were tied for third place with tallies of 64.

Scores in detail follow:

200-yards rapid fire (10 shots to a man): G. Endicott 43, F. Nelson 38, A. Nelson 36, R. Randolph 32, G. Bennett 32, John Evans 28, R. von Minden 25, F. Clark 22, G. McCullough 21, E. Waller 20, A. Flattery 18, G. Gildersleeve 18, W. Barrett 18, E. Schenck 0.

300-yards slow fire (10 shots to a man): F. Clark 42, F. Nelson 38, G. Endicott 36, A. Nelson 35, W. Barrett 35, R. Randolph 32, A. McCullough 32, G. Bennett 30, J. Evans 27, A. Flattery 24, G. Gildersleeve 23, E. Schenck 14.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD DEFEATS NEW MARKET, 8 TO 5

The South Plainfield Baseball Club won its first game of the season yesterday when it defeated the New Market Field Club by a score of eight to five. The visitors got away with a flying start by piling up three runs in the first inning, but in the following innings Sofield pitched a steady game. After the first inning the local boys played errorless ball. McGuiness, a Metuchen boy, and Friel, who played second base for the Farmers last season, played brilliant ball.

The score:

NEW MARKET.

	R.	H.	E.
Schenck, p.	0	1	0
Zarambia, lf	0	0	1
Carter, 1b	2	2	1
Elliot, c	1	1	0
Fulton, 2b	1	1	0
Bays, ss	0	1	3
Leible, 2b	1	2	2
Lockwood, cf	0	0	0
E. Schenck, rf	0	1	0
	5	9	7

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

	R.	H.	E.
Hamilton, 3b	2	3	1
McGuiness, 2b	1	3	0
Colfax, 1b	2	4	0
McDonough, c	0	2	0
Valard, cf	0	0	2
Sofield, p	0	1	0
Riely, lf	2	3	0
Phillips, rf	0	1	2
Friel, ss	1	1	0
	8	18	5

Score by innings:

New Market	3 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—5
South Plainfield	2 2 1 1 1 1 0 0 x—8

Summary: Two-base hit, McGuiness. Bases on balls—off Sofield, 2; off Schenck, 2. Hit by pitched ball—Sofield (1). Triple play—McGuiness to Colfax. Strike-outs—by Sofield, 3; by Schenck, 2. Stolen bases—South Plainfield, 8; New Market, 4.

—Still-useful furniture may be sold for what it is worth to somebody else—if you give the selling-task to a classified ad.

P. C. C. TURN TABLES ON CRANFORD GOLFERS

In Return Match on Local Course Defeat Visitors by Score of 31 to 3.

The Plainfield Country Club "got even" with the Cranford Golf Club Saturday afternoon, on the local course, when it completely turned the tables on the team from the latter club in a return match. The score was 31 to 3, and the visitors came very near being whitewashed. Wild and Bates, and Kendal and Naught were the only ones that scored points for Cranford, the former pair being held to one point, while the latter scored two points on their opponents.

Senator Carlton B. Pierce and his partner, Ventries, lost to D. H. Rowland and P. B. Wells by one point, which made former State Senator Charles A. Reed smile a broad smile. The summary:

Plainfield—J. Whitney Baker, 0; A. J. Watson and W. M. Alling, 3; W. Lester Glenney and J. R. Shoemaker, 9; S. D. Lounsbury and A. M. Collens, 8; Owen Fleming and Howard Craig, 0; Arthur Murphy and C. E. Lipscomb, 0; J. E. Erickson and H. D. Hibbard, 0; H. L. DeForest and Charles A. Reed, 3; W. H. Rogers and E. T. Perrine, 0; W. T. Kaufman and E. B. Shoemaker, 2; E. A. Lyon and Wylie Brown, 5; D. H. Rowland and P. B. Wells, 1; total, 31.

Cranford — Wild and Bates, 1; Barrow and Hinman, 0; Conrow and Tenelle, 0; Wethereill and Crane, 0; Ryan and Sinclair, 0; Ussing and Emmons, 0; Blake and Coady, 0; Wasson and Miller, 0; Kendall and Naught, 2; Bowie and Frazier, 0; Sloane and Bigoney, 0; Pierce and Ventries, 0; total, 3.

In addition, there was the initial play for the spring cup, 18 holes, medal play, handicap. The leading scores:

P. B. Wells, 98, 21—77; W. Lester Glenney, 82, 5—77; H. D. Hibbard, 99, 14—77; F. O. Reinhart, 84, 6—78; C. E. Lipscomb, 96, 17—79; C. O. Holmes, 103, 24—79. P. B. Wells also won the sweepstakes with a net score of 77.

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.

Central H. S. vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field)

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Tomorrow.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Wednesday.

Elks' billiard tourney.

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Thursday.

Rutgers Prep at P. H. S. (Parker Field).

Seton Hall Prep at N. P. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Golf—Women's handicap match play against bogey at Plainfield Country Club.

Friday.

Tennis—P. H. S. vs. Woodbridge.

Elks' billiard tourney.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

MRS. THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Ex-President's Wife Marches In Parade.

Photo by American Press Association.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt was one of the thousands of women who marched in the great national preparedness demonstration held in New York city.

GERMANY HAS GREAT CRAVING FOR PEACE

Berlin Sees Mediator In President Wilson.

Berlin, May 15.—Now that the question, "Are we going to have war with America?" has been disposed of with a negative answer, "When will the war end?" is again the question one most frequently hears from all sorts of Germans. The peace paragraphs in the German answer to the United States gave a fresh impetus to popular speculation regarding the possible peace terms and how and when the war might end.

There is undeniably a widespread feeling that the preservation of peace with America is a harbinger of a coming world peace, and President Wilson's qualifications for the role of mediator are being more and more debated here, indicating a growing interest in the peace theme. Since the chancellor has spoken out, Germans consider it no disgrace nor sign of weakness to talk peace, particularly in view of the continued strength of the military position.

To the German mind England is now the one stumbling block in the path to peace, and nobody here believes that England will ever consider the possibility of talking peace until it has employed its "new million" armies in one last great general offensive. Not until this greatest offensive has been tried and failed will the peace thought take root in England, most Germans believe, unless America will step forward as a mediator and address herself particularly to England.

ASK JUSTICE FOR FISKE.

American Defense Society Springs to His Assistance.

Washington, May 15.—The American Defense society has asked President Wilson to order an investigation of the "question of veracity" that has arisen between Secretary Josephus Daniels and Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske.

C. S. Thompson, chairman of the executive committee of the defense society, signed the letter which was sent to the president requesting that the matter be investigated. The writer tells the president that an inquiry is due both to Secretary Daniels and Admiral Fiske and directs attention to the fact that the admiral has had forty-two years of honorable service and that his record is without a blot.

TO TRY CASEMENT NOW.

Believed Case Will Consume Four or Five Days.

London, May 15.—According to Reynolds' Weekly, Sir Roger Casement received three friends in the Tower of London and discussed his case with them for nearly an hour. Sir Roger is in much better health than a fortnight ago. He has been permitted to read and has taken regular exercise. It is understood that the case of the prosecution against Sir Roger will last four or five days.

The prisoner will be conveyed secretly to the police court, and there will be no opportunity of seeing him unless admission to the court is gained. There are accommodations for only sixty spectators.

REBELS QUIT SANTO DOMINGO

Heed Warning of United States Minister—Strip Fort of Its Guns.

Santo Domingo, May 15.—The warning of the American minister, W. W. Russell, that the city of Santo Domingo would be taken by force unless it was given up by the rebels not later than Sunday morning resulted in the evacuation of the city.

The rebel leaders, soldiers and rural guards stripped the fort of guns and war materials and withdrew.

LOCAL BOY PLAYED.

Adam Schott, of this city, and "Red" Crimes, of Somerville, played center and right field respectively, for the Easton-Phillipsburg baseball club that was shutout Saturday afternoon by a 3 to 0 score by the Paterson semi-pro players. Grimes had a clean slate for the afternoon in the scorings, while the Plainfielder made two putouts and banged out a hit.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

COLLECTION FOR BOY SCOUTS TOTALS $135

This Will Form Nucleus for $600 Fund Being Raised for Season's Work.

The special collection taken for the benefit of the Boy Scout camp equipment on Friday night netted approximately $135. This will form a nucleus for a $600 fund that is now being raised for the season's work in scoutcraft in this city. Checks may be made payable to the Boy Scout Council, Plainfield, and sent to Field Secretary Allen E. Beals or to Commissioner A. V. Searing, Jr., 235 East Sixth street.

For the big civico- religious parade on Wednesday night all the B y Scout troops will assemble in Seventh street, between Crescent and Park avenues, not later than 7:30. Scoutmasters will report direct to Commissioner Searing.

All scouts receiving special drill instruction by Sergeant Littell will report tomorrow night at 7:45 to Commissioner Searing at Company K armory. This drilling is in preparation for suitably escorting the Grand Army of the Republic to the cemeteries on Memorial Day.

FIRST SERMON BY HOPE'S NEW PASTOR

Rev. Dr. Skellenger Addresses Chapel Congregation on the Theme of "Witnessing."

Rev. Dr. D. W. Skellenger, of Richmond Hill, N. Y., who has ascepted a call as temporary pastor of Hope chapel, occupied the pulpit in this capacity for the first time yesterday morning. A large congregation was present and enjoyed an excellent sermon preached by the new incumbent on the subject of "Witnessing." The text was taken from Luke 24: 48: "Ye shall be witnesses of these things.'

The delivery of Dr. Skellenger is forceful and his remarks were extremely pointed. The main thought was that men should bear witness for Christ by clean living and in so doing exemplify the teachings of the Saviour in a manner that would lead others to the cause. A man who conducted himself honorably, the pastor said, could do more for religion and the betterment of mankind than by simple exhortation or verbal pleas.

Dr. Skellenger has a wide local acquaintance, as he was at one time pastor of the Presbyterian church at Dunellen. This was about twenty years ago. Since then he has had charges at Scranton, Pa.; Washington, D. C.; Hyattsville, Maryland, and other places. He will take up his residence in Plainfield during the coming week.

GEORGE W. OWEN DIES IN 88TH YEAR

Well Known Newspaper Publisher and Author Passes Away at His Home Here.

George Washington Owen, aged 88 years, widely-known as a newspaper publisher, died yesterday at his home, 207 East Front street, from complications. He was born at Little Britain, N. Y., near Newburgh, in the vicinity of which he spent his early life. For thirty years he was proprietor and publisher of the Fishkill Journal and during that time established the Matteawan Journal, now published at Beacon City. In his early life he was also a school teacher.

During his journalistic career in Matteawan, Mr. Owen was identified with all that was enterprising and uplifting to the community, encouraging philanthropic movements and helping every effort for the advancement of those things.

Mr. Owen devoted some time to literary work and was a Latin scholar. He was the author of two works of fiction, "Out of the Cage" and "The Mystery of the Catskills," the latter involving the actions of the old Tweed ring once in control of Tammany Hall. Later he published the Oneida, N. Y., Despatch and the Westfield, N. Y., Star. He had been a resident of this city for ten years. A widow and stepson survive. Private funeral services will be held from the mortuary parlors of Higgins' Brothers, West Fourth street, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, will officiate and the burial will be in the Methodist cemetery, this city.

MRS. PATRICK KANE.

Mrs. Catherine Kane, wife of Patrick Kane, died this morning at her home, 208 Liberty street, following a brief illness. Beside her husband, she is survived by eight children, Martin, Joseph, Thomas, James, William, Noretta, Helen and Esther Kane; also three brothers, Patrick, Martin and James Regan, all of this city. The funeral will be held at the late home Wednesday morning at 8:30 and in St. Mary's church, of which she was a member, at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

ALLIANCE MEETING.

The Alliance of All Soul's Unitarian church will hold its regular monthly business meeting next Tuesday in the church parlor at 3 o'clock.

—Press want ads. pay.

NOW OPEN

250 Separate Exhibits---141 Distinct Industries

Dazzling Illuminations---Gorgeous Decorations

Amazing Manifestations of Electrical Energy

Daily Band Concerts

Watchung.

Miss Margaret E. Eaton, of Woodstock College, Toronto, is home for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Anna H. Underhill has been entertaining Mrs. Stewart Ogilby, of Staten Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Steinberger and family of Jamaica, L. I., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Schmidt.

South Plainfield.

The Sodality of the Sacred Heart church will hold a euchre and dance in Washington Hall on Friday evening, June 2. Music will be furnished by Stuart's orchestra. The Suburban Transit Co. will convey Plainfield people who are expected to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller and son Francis of Newark, spent the week-end with Mrs. Miller's father, Harry Sofield.

John McCaffrey returned home yesterday after spending a week with his aunt, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, of Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bergman, of Bayonne, spent Sunday with Mrs. Bergman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lammers.

Mrs. John McCormick and son William, of Newark, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Delaney.

Mrs. Thomas Brenan and sister, Mrs. Archibald Moore, of Elizabeth, have returned after being the guests of their sister, Mrs. P. F. Kaine, over Sunday.

John Caffrey is spending a few days with his family in Sugar Notch, Pa.

Mrs. Harry Klinger and daughter Hazel, formerly of this place but now of Newark, were the week-end guests of Mrs. Klinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brantingham.

John Ball returned home Saturday from St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Frank DePhillipo, a sailor from the U. S. Arkansas, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis DePhillipo, on South Plainfield avenue.

YEOMAN TO ENTERTAIN.

Queen City Homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, will entertain its members and friends at a box social in Exempt Firemen's Hall, 109 Park avenue, tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. There will be music and dancing.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

PRESBYTERIAN BIBLE SCHOOL PLANS SURPRISE

The scholars and teachers of the First Presbyterian Sunday-school have planned a special surprise feature for the big civico-religious parade on Wednesday evening. A special committee has prepared a display that will be distinctive. Arrangements call for the attendance of all teachers and scholars and all the members of the home department, to be present at the chapel in East Front street at 7 o'clock sharp. All the members of Class 22 will serve as a special guard of honor and will be known as the "Light Brigade." Martin A. Korff, leader of music in the First Presbyterian church, has arranged for the marching music.

The girls and women will be assigned to places by Miss Linda Cave and Miss Leah Hammond and the men and boys will be assigned by George Newell Karner. The procession will move from the chapel sharp at 7:15.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

The recommendation that our citizens protest to our postmaster against the supplying of beer to the visiting postmen at the convention on Memorial Day is highly commendable. But Plainfield has set such a fine example to many cities by restricting the number of saloons, by exacting such high licenses, and in other ways, would it not be an opportune time to set another good example and order all saloons closed for that day.

It was stated from one of our pulpits yesterday "that if any considered it necessary to indulge they could procure it at the saloons." It surely is not "necessary" to their enjoyment to partake of poison even in a small way. When we read of the immense benefit the Russians have obtained by prohibiting the use of alcohol in their army, and at this time, when the spirit of preparedness is so rife throughout the country, it would seem as if anything that will call attention to the advantages in preparedness to be derived from total abstinence should be made the most of. If the Mayor will order the saloons closed on this day, May 30, I will gladly donate the best substitute for beer I know of and supply sufficient coffee for our visitors.

H. S. MALTBY.

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

Amid all this heated talk about "booze," it must be remembered that the great mass of men take a drink when they feel like it, and yet are as keenly alive to the evils of intemperance as any of those who favor prohibition, local option or the Anti-Saloon League. The commonsense view of these men is that the world has always used alcohol and probably always will; that the vast majority of those who use it are not harmed by it, and that real temperance reform will come not from total abstinence, but from the encouragement of the use of beer and wine as opposed to distilled liquor.

These views are set out in a most convincing way in a series of articles recently published in the Atlantic monthly by John Koren. Mr. Koren is probably the most competent student of the liquor question in this country, and reformers who honestly want to accomplish anything, would do well to study his writings.

Mr. Koren shows by reason and experience that prohibition does not prohibit; on the contrary, that it increases the consumption of whisky, and diminishes the use of beer, which is certainly less obnoxious than whisky. In the Times this morning (page seven) I find a news item from Washington stating that 7,500,000 more gallons of whisky have been used in the United States so far in this fiscal year (to end June 30) than ever before, and that the total increases for the year will be about 10,000,000 gallons. During the same period the consumption of beer has fallen off about 60,000,000 gallons, and yet on July 1, 1915, seven States adopted prohibition laws! It is not often that a prediction is so completely verified by results.

ALBERT H. ATTERBURY.

PERSONAL.

Mr and Mrs. Russell E. Vail, of West Sixth street, are the parents of a ten-and-a-half pound boy, born to them Saturday.

Fred Zweifel, of Grant avenue, returned home Saturday after spending a week at Detroit attending a business convention.

Counsellor Robert Newton Crane, who has been confined to his home on Leland avenue with an attack of pneumonia, was reported today as being improved and with his full recovery assured in due time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mills, of West Third street, have gone to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to spend two weeks with relatives.

A. D. Findley, formerly of this city, but now proprietor of a hotel at Madison, is so far improved from his recent severe illness that he is able to be out of doors a short time each day.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature as reported today by The State Trust Company is as follows: 9 a .m., 51 degrees; 11 a. m., 53 degrees; 1 p. m., 57 degrees.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a6.30, a7.30, 9.00, 11.45, 1.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.10, b8.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—8.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 9.00.
Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.05, 1.30, 2.30, b4.30, 4.30 except Saturday, 5.30, 7.30, b9.30, 10.50, b11.45. Sundays—8.30, 12.15, 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.
Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00, 8.15, f10.00, b1.00, g3.00, 4.15, b6.20.
Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00, 9.50, f11.15, b2.30, g3.45, 5.25, g7.30.
Leave Plainfield for Warrenvale—d6.45, e6.15, 6.20, f10.00, g2.00, g6.20.
Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40, f11.00, g3.30, g7.15.
Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b1.00, 4.15.
Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8.[illegible], b3.20, 5.15.
(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays, Monday mornings, and mornings after holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.
R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave
'Phone 130 Plainfield.

MILLWORK

We have recently made arrangements with one of the largest millwork concerns in this part of the State, and are now prepared to furnish millwork of every description.

Allow us to figure on your requirements.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Toble Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 591.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:18 p. m. Close—7:20, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:20 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:05 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50, 5:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:43 a. m., 1:39, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:43 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m., 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

If these Rothberg Spring Suits were just clothes at $15, $18, $20, $25, there would be no more in the message of this column than in that of those that are "like" it.

And therein is the cue for the sensible man in the market for a new Spring Suit—it's the Store, not the story, that merits your investigation.

You are looking for tailoring, not talk; for Personality in clothes, not piffle in print about prices. And we tell you right here and now, that while Rothberg prices have the same Arabic origin as to the ciphers the Fit and Finish of the Suits themselves is what makes them cut a figure at every price!

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
Daniel Frohman Presents
JOHN BARRYMORE, in
"NEARLY A KING"
in 5 Parts
A laugh producing comedy-drama with Burton-Holmes Travelogue and others.

TOMORROW
A Bluebird Photoplay
VIOLET MESEREAU in
"THE GREAT PROBLEM"
A stirring sociological drama in 5 parts, and other interesting photoplays.

WEDNESDAY
Pallas Pictures Presents
FLORENCE ROCKWELL in
"HE FELL IN LOVE WITH HIS WIFE"
In 5 Parts
From the book and play by E. P. Roe. Paramount Pictographs and others.

Note—The above pictures are sixty to seventy days in advance of any other theatre in Plainfield; you see them here first.

Coming Wednesday, May 31, Mary Pickford in "POOR LITTLE PEPPINA," in which she scored a greater success than in "THE GIRL OF YESTERDAY" which was shown at this house Feb. 9 and 10.

The house of first run Paramount, Bluebird and other Broadway features.

We Give Travelstamps.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 5.08, 5.46 (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.55, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.45, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.16, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29, 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.15, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44, (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.06 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.15, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (9.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 9.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—8.42, 9.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.20 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.39, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39, 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.45, 6.47 p. m.
*Except Mauch Chunk. 5 3 '16

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S
RYE
E. G. WESTCOTT
115 East Front Street

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

HONOR MEMORY OF H. C. SUYDAM

Large Gathering at His Funeral Held in Bound Brook This Morning.

IMPRESSIVE EULOGIES

Plainfield Bar Association Passes Resolutions of Condolence and is Represented at the Service—Revs. Boult and Vassar Officiate.

The funeral of Henry C. Suydam, who died Thursday night, was held at his late home, 305 East High street, Bound Brook, at 11 o'clock this morning, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, including a delegation of the Plainfield Bar Association, as well as lawyers from other parts of Somerset and Union counties. The Plainfield lawyers also sent a beautiful floral tribute.

Rev. W. T. Boult, pastor of the Congregational church, Bound Brook, and Rev. Dr. T. E. Vassar, of Elizabeth, officiated at the service, paying a deserving tribute to the departed.

The following acted as pall-bearers: E. A. Lloyd, George Bolmer, Mr. Tiedman, Jacob Byer, William Carr, Louis Kreyling. The honorary bearers were E. R. Fuller, Ransome Lamb, W. H. Brokaw, F. M. Voorhees, W. H. Whiting, W. W. Smalley, W. H. Dunham, P. H. Oakley, M. G. Herbert and R. H. Brokaw. The representatives of the Plainfield Bar Association were William A. Coddington, R. P. F. Von Minden, Asa F. Randolph and Martin B. Stutsman.

The Plainfield Bar Association, of which Mr. Suydam was a member, met in the District Court rooms at 9:30 this morning to take action on the death of the deceased associate. President William A. Coddington presided. Resolutions of regret and condolence were ordered engrossed and forwarded to the bereaved widow, the committee to hav this in charge consists of William M. Stillman, Asa F. Randolph and William A. Coddington.

The president appointed J. Henry Crane, Harry C. Runyon and Charles M. Dolliver, committee on flowers. In conclusion memorial addresses on the life of Henry C. Suydam were delivered by William M. Stillman, Asa F. Randolph, Vincent W. Nash, Jr., R. P. F. Von Minden, Martin Stutsman and William A. Coddington. Following the meeting a delegation from the association proceeded to Bound Brook to attend the funeral service.

Somerville

Mrs. Henry Voorhees and Miss Jennie Voorhees, of West Cliff street, left yesterday for Elizabeth, where they expect to spend a month with Rev. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

week with Brooklyn relatives.

Frank Doland is in Atlantic City for a week.

Rev. James J. Zimmer, of St. Bernard's church is in Bermuda, where he exxpects to spend three weeks.

John Conudo left on Thursday for Chicago, where he expects to make

The Young Men's Hebrew association has elected the following officers: President, Andrew H. Popkins; vice-president, M. H. Burke; secretary, Solly Burke; financial secretary, S. S. Kline; treasurer, Max Schwed.

Mrs. Harvey Major has been spending the week with her grandmother, Mrs. Lucinda Hufff, of Centerville.

Mrs. George Jackel, of Frankfort, is entertaining her mother, Mrs. John Bole, of Pittsburg.

NEWS FLASHES.

Chicago, May 15.—The Chicago Municipal Court today opens an arbitration branch, wherein litigan's, represented by arbitrators, may settle their civil troubles, the judge to decide according to law all cases not agreed upon by the arbitrators. It is said that such a plan has never been carried out in any municipal court.

Washington, May 15.—The Atlantic fleet begins its summer manoeuvres today with steering trials and divisional exercises. The personnel has been vastly increased, and the ships are in their best trim.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 15.—Representatives of many Western and Southern cities have gathered here today at the Conference of Mayors' Committees to discuss an organization for national defense.

Rome, May 15—All able-bodied men in Italy are called to the colors today, ranging from 42 to 57 years of age. There are no exemptions. The older men called will be assigned to clerical work and for home guard duty, and the younger men reporting expect to be assigned to active field work.

Panama, May 15.—The Nation Assembly, which opened a special session today, will take up the codification of laws, and will be asked to vote a new national loan.

Tart Reception.

Hoffman, the German physicist, arrived in Glasgow late one Saturday night and on Sunday morning went to call on Lord Kelvin. The doorbell was answered by a woman servant, whom Hoffman asked if Sir William was at home.

The servant answered, "Sir, he most certainly is not."

Hoffman then asked, "Could you tell me where I could find him?"

"Sir," she answered, "you will find him at church, where you ought to be!"

HOUSEKEEPERS' ATTENTION

Two Big Specials for This Week

Sale of Feather Pillows

See Window Display — 78c — Regular Price $1.25.

These Pillows are full size, 22x28 inches, covered with an extra good quality satin, finished dust proof ticking, and filled with three pounds of high grade sanitary cured mixed feathers. Would cost to buy in a regular way $1.25.

Sale of Floor Cans

See Window Display — 39c — Regular Price 65c

Flour Cans, every housekeeper will want one, will hold a 25-lb bag of flour. Japanned in white, with the word flour neatly stamped thereon; before metals advanced these cans sold for 65c, so that you can readily see what a bargain they are.

Something For Nothing

The Electro Silicon Co. asked us if we'd buy a gross of their "Polishing Cream" provided they give us one of their "Magic Silver Polishing Cloths" to give away with each bottle. We said yes, quick, so this week with each 25c bottle, full 8-ounce, of this splendid polishing cream, made from the famous "Electro Silicon" Powder, we''ll give away free one of these cloths. If you don't like the polishing cream, bring it back and get your quarter and you may keep the cloth; that's what we think of the polish.

Items of Interest From the Millinery Section

Women's Ready-to-Wear Hats—Hats that are suitable for street, dress or sport wear, in black, white and the newest color combinations; actual $5.00 values 1.98

Untrimmed Hats—All the very newest shapes and colorings, including black; shapes suitable for any one; hats that would readily sell for $2.50 at exclusive shops 1.00

Children's Hats—Fine straws and braids, prettily trimmed with ribbons, lace and flowers; manufacturers' sample hats and are worth from $2.00 to $3.00 ..... 1.00

Our Corset Department

Is now showing all the new Spring and Summer models in batiste and coutil, in white and flesh coor. These models are medium high bust and long hip; medium and long skirts, in the following well known makes: Royal Worcester, R. & G., W. B., Nuform, W. B. Reduso, Nemo, Rengo Belt, Bon Ton, Regis, La Reine, C. B., A' La Sprite, Warner's Rust-Proof, Thompson's Glove Fitting and Ferris, all at popular prices.

Do You Want To Save $10

Well, here's your chance. This week we'll sell genuine $35.00 "Keystone Wardrobe Trunks" for 25.00

They are made of three-ply veneer, covered and bound with vulcanized waterproof fibre, brass trimmed and thoroughly riveted, linen lined, and with a full complement of hangers, etc.

Butterick Patterns — Woodhull & Martin Co. — Butterick Delineator

Profit Sharing Certificates With All Purchases

LEG BROKEN WHEN HE HITS AN AUTO

Weed Brothers on Motorcycle Collide With Machine.

Adrian Weed, of 1046 Sherman avenue, sustained a broken leg Saturday night when a motorcycle on which he and his brother, Louis, were riding ran into an automobile at the corner of West Front and New streets. The automobile belonged to A. C. Marsh, of Metuchen, and was being driven by Miss Emma Hoagland, of that city. Miss Hoagland had a permit to drive while in the company of a licensed chauffeur. Weed was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital in the automobile, and after he had been taken care of there Mr. Marsh reported the accident to the police station. The case will be heard in the city court tomorrow morning.

MISS E. S. JONES DIES IN 79TH YEAR

Local Resident Was Descendant of One of Vermont's Oldest Families.

Miss Evelyn S. Jones, a member of one of the oldest Vermont families, and a resident of this city for the past five years, died yesterday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Charles R. Banks, of 1308 Watchung avenue. The infirmities of age are described as the cause.

Miss Jones was born at Cuttingsville, Vermont, seventy-nine years ago and for the past thirty-six years had made her home with Mrs. Banks. Her father was Supreme Court Justice Otis G. Jones, who at the time of his death was one of the most prominent men in the State of Vermont. Miss Jones' ancestors first located in the Green Mountain State in 1559, when one of her forebears was sent to this country by the English crown to act as surveyor of highways. All her relatives in the past century have been prominent in Vermont and have done much for the advancement of the State, politically and otherwise.

Beside Mrs. Banks, Miss Jones is survived by one other niece, Mrs. Edwin D. Burditt, of Rutland, Vt.; one brother, George M. Jones, of Cuttingsville, Vt., and one nephew, Fred F. Holton, of Windsor, Ont. The funeral will be held at Mrs. Banks' home tomorrow night at 7:30 and will be in charge of Rev. E. V. Stevenson, rector of Grace church, of which Miss Jones was a communicant. Interment will be in the family plot at Cuttingsville.

CALENDAR OF SPORTS

TUESDAY.

Horse—
"Rosebud Handicap," at Churchill Downs, Ky.
English race meet, 3 days, at Newmarket.
Gun—
Kansas State trapshoot tournament, 2 days, at Emporia, Kas.
Pennsylvania State championship, 4 days, at Philadelphia.
Polo—
Tournaments open at Bryn Mawr and Philadelphia Country Club.
Boxing—
Ad Wolgast vs. Phil Brock, 10 rounds, at Cleveland, O.

WEDNESDAY.

Horse—
Final events in United Hunts race meet at Belmont Park, N. Y.
Bashford Manor Stakes, at Churchill Downs, Ky.
Rowing—
Harvard invitation regatta, 3 days, at Boston.
Golf—
Invitation tournament, 3 days, at Garden City, L. I.

THURSDAY.

Horse—
Race meet opens at Prospect Park, Baltimore.
Jockey Club race meet opens at Jamaica, L. I.
Kentucky Derby Consolation stakes, at Churchill Downs, Ky.
Boxing—
A. A. U. national championships, at Newark, N. J.
Kid Lewis vs. Mike Gibbons, 10 rounds, at New York.

FRIDAY.

Horse—
Aristides Handicap, at Churchill Downs, Ky.
Tennis—
Invitation tournament ato Tuxed Club, N. Y.
Gun—
New Hampshire State trapshoot tournament, 2 days, at Manchester, N. H.
Track—
N. E. Intercollegate championship, 2 days, at Springfield, Mass.
Thirteen mile road race, from Mill Valley to San Rafael, Calif.

Matter of Sentiment.

"What makes you go in through the kitchen?"

"I don't know your servants very well," replied Mr. Cumrox. "Some way, the front hall seems kind of formal and distant. Around at the kitchen steps they've got an old doormat with 'Welcome' on it."—Washington Star.

Sometimes.

Willis—What is it called when two people are thinking of the same thing at the same time—mental telepathy?

Gills—Sometimes; other times just plain embarrassment.—Judge.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

LOYAL TO TEDDY.

Although no candidates for President had been named by petition, according to law, at the recent primary in this State, some 1,600 Republicans took the opportunity to express their preference. Of these, according to the figures tabulated in the Secretary of State's office, 1,066 named Theodore Roosevelt, 383 Justice Hughes, 84 Henry Ford and 67 Elihu Root. It may be only a coincidence, but the vote for Roosevelt and Taft in 1912 was divided in about the same proportion. If any inference is to be drawn from these scattering votes, it is that the Republicans of New Jersey are no less loyal to Teddy today than they were four year ago, although for the sake of success they might, should necessity require, be willing to accept some other candidate. Or, again, perhaps there is a reflection of the intense personal loyalty that Roosevelt evokes among his supporters as against the less convinced attitude of others.—Newark Evening News.

MAY 15 IN HISTORY.

1778—Congress passed the measure for instituting government by the people.

1797—Extra session of Congress met to consider the strained relations with France.

1847—Daniel O'Connell, Irish patriot and liberator, died in Genoa, Italy.

1861—New York and Rhode Island Rhode Island yachts accepted by government for revenue service, and their owners commissioner as lieutenants.

1862—The famous raider Alabama, built for Confederate service, was launched in England.

1886—Louis Riel, who led the unsuccessful insurrectioon in Canada, surrendered.

1889—London University conferred M. D. for first time on a woman, Mrs. Scharlieb.

1914—Colorado Senate rejected resolution demanding resignation of Gov. Ammons for incompetence in dealing with the coal strike.

1915—Interstate Commerce Commission decided railroads must sell their steamer lines on the Great Lakes.

1915—Revolution against the Castro government broke out in Portugal.

1915—THE WAR:
British First army gains German trenches southeast of Festubert. Germans pressing forward toward Przemysl, against desperate resistance.
Six killed by powder explosion at Carney's Point, N. J.; plot suspected.

—Among the readers of this newspaper's classified columns are possible buyers for any desirable real estate in this city.

PRINCETON WILL ASSIST STATE MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

Princeton, May 15.—A bureau of municipal information is to be established at Princeton University with headquarters in the Chancellor Green Library to co-operate with the State League of Municipalities in forming, in Princeton, a clearing hour for matters of municipal concern. The league was founded last year for the purpose of studying municipal problems and improving municipal administration through organized co-operation, and for maintaining a central bureau for the collection, compilation and distribution of statistics, reports and other information with respect to municipal government.

Since the founding of the league the department of history and politics, of Princeton, has taken a keen interest in the body and has interested the trustees in the idea. The university will appoint an advisory board of nine men, which will give advice and counsel to the bureau of information.

MRS. C. E. HOUSTON.

Mrs. Hetty Wall Whitehead, aged 39, wife of Charles E. Houston, died in Elizabeth this morning. Funeral services will be held at the late residence, 149 Orchard place, Elizabeth, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

THE BEST IN VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

TODAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
The greatest children on the stage with the
JUVENILE REVUE
10 clever kiddies all under 12 years of age.
5 OTHER HIGH CLASS ACTS 5
Including Mrs. Ralph Herz & Co. in
"A DANCE DIVERSION"
Latest Feature Photoplays

WEDNESDAY NIGHT IS AMATEUR NIGHT

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY
In addition to a great new bill of VAUDEVILLE
CHARLEY CHAPLIN in
"HIS PREHISTORIC PAST"
The funniest picture ever produced.

"The liquor traffic is the most fiendish, corrupt and hell-soaked institution that ever crawled out of the slime of the infernal pit."

B O O Z E

SERMON OF THE REV. WILLIAM E. BIEDERWOLF TO MEN ONLY AT THE TABERNACLE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

"And yet some of you devil-deceived, trifling, good-for-nothing church members expect a man to walk up to the polls and vote for an institution like that."

It's very well understood in these days, and always has been, that human nature, in general, is in a somewhat depraved condition . I've got no argument with you today as to whether Adam had anything to do with it or not. The fact is that it's true. You don't need the Bible to tell you that. You can look all about you and see it for yourself. But I guess it's no mistake that some men have a bigger dose of this moral twist in their nature than others.

I read you the story of a poor girl who was possessed with a spirit of divination. Some sort of a demon that had botten hold of her and had debased her nature. As we would say, "She had the devil in her." Paul took pity on her and one day when she was crying after him, in mockery, he turned and said to the evil spirit, "I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her." And His Satanic Majesty dipped his colors before the Son of God and the young woman became herself. And now comes the pathetic side of it; the side that makes you blush for the human race and makes your blood boil to thing of some of the things that men will do for the sake of the money that's in the doing of them. There are men who don't care a tinker's dam (you really educated people know what kind of a dam that is, of course) but they don't care that much for manhood or womanhood, or virtue or honor or anything else just so long as they can prosper themselves and fatten their purse at another's expense.

Some low-browed, bull-necked, brutal, weasen-souled, viper-hearted degenerate rascals had gotten hold of this poor girl and were making merchandise out of her misfortune, and Paul took pity on her and saved her out of their hands. And now, listen: "When her masters saw that their hope of gain was gone," when they saw they couldn't feed and fatten themselves any longer upon her misfortune; when they saw that she would no longer submit herself to the shame and infamy imposed upon her by the heartless avarice of an unprincipled degenerate gang; when they saw that their hope of gain was gone they caught Paul and his friend Silas, who was with him, and commenced to curse and damn. They said, "Look here, you're interfering with our business; we've been making thousands of dollars every year in this way and now what will we do?" But Paul said, "Have you no interest in womanhood? Have you no interest in virtue or honor?" And they said, "Not a bit; we are interested in our business." But Paul said, "Have you no interest in humanity?" "Not a bit," they said. "We're interested in our business; humanity can go to the devil for all we care; we want to run our business."

"We're Not Interested.

That is exactly the position of the saloon today, and it always has been. "Let the mother's heart break, let the drunkard's children starve, let neither youth nor old age be spared, let the drunken father, husband and mother's boy go reeling, spewing home, befouled and brutal, let sin run riot and all hell be turned loose on earth, only see to it that you do not interfere with our business." I say to the saloonkeepers of Union and Somerset counties, "Don't you want to see drunken, sodden men become clean and respected citizens?" And they say, "We're not interested in that; we're interested in our business; we want to sell whiskey." I say, "Don't you want to see wrecked homes re-established, roses come back to the wife's cheek and mother's face light up with joy?" The say, "No, we're not concerned about that; we're only concerned about selling whiskey; that's our business." And I say, "Have you no interest at all in humanity?" And they say, "Not a hit; humanity can go to hell for all we care; we're interested in our business."

The liquor traffic is the most fiendish, corrupt and hell-soaked institution that ever crawled out of the slime of the infernal pit.

Like a red-handed assassin, it has gone through this land dragging our dear ones from the very altars to leave them dying, dead and unburied by the wayside.

Like a body and soul-destroying ogre, it has haunted the hearths of rich and poor alike, gorged itself in unsatiable thirst on the warm life-blood of its victims, dug for them every year 75,000 graves and sent as many souls unsaved to the judgment bar of God.

The amazing thing to me is that the American people have been so long in coming to themselves, that they have been held so long in a strange paralysis of conscience while this hideous octopus of the underworld has struck its deadly coils about our youth, our homes and society and every good thing on God's earth. We have not been in our right mind.

We have at last come to ourselves. And the forces of righteousness have gathered together and are rallying today against the bulwarks of this monster iniquity like the great waves of the deep and angry sea.

All hail, I say to the Southland in its magnificent determination to sweep the infernal curse from its border; they've swept it out of Georgia and out of Tennessee and out of Mississippi and out of North Carolina and out of Oklahoma and out of West Virginia.

The States which prohibit the sale of liquor are: Arizona, Colorado, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and North Dakota.

It's been swept out of Maine and out of Kansas; out of 100 counties in Kentucky, 147 in Texas, and now Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are joining the ranks until today, thank God, three-fifths of all the territory of these United States of America is under prohibitory law.

The curse of God is upon it.

Legislation is becoming more drastic every day.

Fraternal orders are knocking it out. Jr. O. U. A. M., P. O. S. of A., Red Men, Knights of Golden Eagles (not the Eagles), Masons, A. O. U. W., K. of P., Woodmen, Odd Fellows, and Knights of Malta, and other decent lodges have said, "You can't come crawling to us with your dirty carcass," and the door to decent society has been shut in the face of every saloon keeper in the land.

It won't be long until the saloon keeper will have to go to hell to get any one to associate with him.

The whiskey business came out of hell and all heaven and all the decent element of earth are getting ready to celebrate its return.

A man said some time ago that the time was forever past when one good word could be said in favor of the liquor traffic. But that time has never been. It has always despised heaven, laughed at law and made a joke out of virtue.

We've been accustomed to speak of this awful, hell-born traffic as a business. But it is not a business nor can it rightfully in any sense of the word be called a business. It is a crime. And if it were not for the protection the people of this country have chosen to throw around it for the sake of a few dirty dollars of license money whereby we have legalized the damnation of our youth and paved our streets with the blood of our offspring it would be no more legitimate than robbery or murder or any other dastardly crime against good morals and society.

A Menace to Health.

Every supreme court in this land has declared the open licensed saloon to be a menace to health, happiness and morality. If that is so, then listen to what the Supreme Court of the United States has to say. It says: "No legislature can bargain away the public health, the public peace or the public morals." In the light of this declaration by the highest court of our land do you wonder that the best legal authority of this great country is coming rapidly to champion the decision that made Judge Artman famous, namely, that the saloon business is criminal and no Legislature has a right to make constitutional a law to protect it and that the time is not far away when by a decision of our National Supreme Court the right will be denied forever to civil government anywhere in this land of the free and the home of the brave to authorize or consent to or submit to the traffic of this dread destroyer of public morals and the peace and health, this prolific breeder of shame and disgrace and poverty and everything that damns and pollutes and blights.

The saloon has always had a blighting influence on everything it has ever touched.

In the first place, it damns society in general.

The saloon is a cancer eating out the very vitals of the body politic. It is the source of 80 per cent. of our poverty. We have been spending every year at least two billion dollars for strong drink. Converted into silver dollars and laid flat one upon another, they would make a shining mountain 3,868 miles high, and this money ,if spent for bread, would buy loaves enough to make a pavement nearly three feet wide and reaching 800 times around the globe at the equator.

Some Statistics.

You talk about poverty. A richer country God's sun never shone upon. Then what's the matter? Look here. I'll tell you what's the matter. It's this damnable, hell-soaked saloon business that's at the bottom of it. See here!

The total wheat crop last year brought $232,000,000.

The total corn crop brought $751,000,000.

And yet we dumped more than all this added together into the whiskey hole in one year.

What's the matter? "Oh," you say, "we've got an awful public debt." Say, do you know what it is? Last year it was, less the cash in the treasury, a little more than one billion dollars, and yet we poured more than that in the whiskey hole last year and didn't fill it.

We spent last year for liquor just $1,172,493,445 more than the total combined output of silver and gold in the whole world. As long as we've been doing that for all these years and haven't gone to pieces yet, don't you come whining around me like some senseless old mollycoddle, disgruntled about the public debt and then go and vote for a damnable hell-born traffic that robs us of more than a billion dollars every year and brings to us while it does it, 80 per cent. of all the woe and poverty and damnation in general we have ever known.

It's the saloon that's the great enemy of society.

Over 90 per cent. of the children kept out of schools are the children of drunkards.

Sixty-five per cent. of the idiots and imbeciles of this land are the off-spring of intemperate parents.

There are 30,000 alcoholic maniacs in our land today as a result of the rum traffic and we have to spend millions upon millions of dollars every year to take care of the asylums and other institutions into which the whiskey business dumps the victims of its hellish trade.

And yet some of you devil-deceived, trifling, good-for-nothing church members expect a man to walk up to the polls and vote for such an institution like that!

The saloon is the mother of crime and the father of lawlessness. Educators and judges of police courts are absolutely one in their verdict that the saloon is responsible for 75 per cent. of the crime in our land.

It has put a hundred thousand people behind the bars of our jails and penitentiaries every year.

The Chicago Tribune kept track and found that in ten years 53,556 murders were committed by men under the influence of liquor; more victims in a decade sacrificed beneath the wheels of this bloody juggernaut than were laid on the altar of liberty during the bloodiest year of the great Civil War.

Over three thousand wives were murdered last year in the United States by drunken husbands.

I can compare any whiskey town you dare mention with a prohibition town of equal size and show you so quick it will make your head swim that the saloon is the prolific breeder of lawlessness and crime. Or I can take any one individual city, under saloon and without saloons, and show you the same thing.

Take Guthrie, the capital city of Oklahoma, the first three months of 1907, when they had saloons, the police court record showed 251 cases and 71 of them were drunks. The first three months of the next year, without saloons, and the same record showed 152 cases and only 34 of them drunks, and the city administrations was the same both years.

The way to get rid of crime is to get rid of the saloon.

You say, "Men will drink anyhow." Yes, some, if they do it, it will not be because my vote or voice or my influence made it possible. You say, "Men will steal anyhow; men will murder their wives anyhow." Yes, some; but if they do they can never stand before the bar of God and say that my name was on a saloon petition or on a saloon man's bond or my hands dirty with the rental money of a building let to the Godless and hellish business that stands for the manufacture of drunken, vicious murderous brutes.

There is just one great reason why the whiskey business has not been knocked into perdition long ago, and that is the fallacious and rotten argument that the saloon is needed to help business life of a community.

Saloon Not Needed.

You listen to me and if I can't knock the props out from under that rotten fallacy you can carry me out for a driveling idiot, and I'll never open my mouth again against the saloon or the man who keeps it as long as God shall let me live.

I propose, therefore, in the second place, to say that the saloon damns the commercial and industrial side of a community's life.

And now I am going to sail in and prove it.

There are just four things the saloon gang say, and one is just as big a lie as the other.

First. They say the saloon increases the population of a town; they say if you drive it out it will hurt commercial interests, cause buildings to lie idle and the town will be dead and people will move out and others not come in.

And that's lie number one. I defy any whiskey lawyer or any whiskey-voting church member on God's earth to show me one instance where this has been the case.

Prohibition Helps Farmer.

Second. The second thing they say is, that if the saloons are driven out, it will keep the farmer away. He won't come in to trade, but will haul his grain to some other town.

And that's lie number two, and when you say it you insult one of the best classes of men on God's earth.

In Indiana we had township local option and county seat after county seat voted wet. Then a bill was introduced calling for local option, and do you know what the whiskey gang did? They went down to the capital and fought the Legislature to the last ditch to defeat the ball. And why? Because they knew if county local option went into effect and the thing was left to the county to decide, and the country vote was matched against the city vote, the farmers would knock the infernal business into hell the first crack out of the box. And that's what they've done.

Third. The third thing they say is, if the saloon goes out of business a lot of men will be left unemployed. And that's lie number three.

A certain labor organization denounced local option the other day as "fanactical legislation." God pity them in their blindness.

Men complain that they can't get work. Listen and I'll tell you how to get it. Three drinks a day is only thirty cents, but that makes just $109.50 a year, and eight men at it would make just $876. Call it in round figures $800 a year. Now how much of that $800 goes back to the laboring man with the dinner pail? Just $9.84. It costs that much in labor to make $800 worth of booze, whereas the same amount spent for booze means only $9.84 for the laboring man who does the work to manufacture the dirty stuff.

Now let these eight men stop drinking and spend the $800 for food and clothing. In $100 worth of boots and shoes, $20.71 goes for labor; in $100 worth of cotton goods $16.91 goes for labor; in $100 worth of furniture $23.77 goes for labor; to produce $100 worth of woolen goods, $12.86 must go for labor, and so I could go on and take any eight articles of legitimate menufacture and show you that $800 spent for them involves in the neighborhood of $147.73 spent for labor.

How much capital invested in the liquor business does it take to employ one man? Just $885. And you can take any of the ten leading industries you want and you will find that it takes an investment of only $102 to demand the employment of one man. In other words, necessary and decent industry employes three times as many men as the liquor interests do.

Cost of Liquor.

It stands to reason, therefore, if the money spent for booze were spent for shoes and flour and home comforts it would create a demand for more labor in every one of the industries manufacturing them. The trouble with our country is not overproduction; it's under consumption.

This nation has been spending just for dring alone, to say nothing of the court costs and care of asylums, two billion dollars every year. But one billion dollars of booze money, if spent for any twenty of the leading necessaries of life, create demands for five times as heavy on the farmer for grain, raw materials, etc., and so call for the employment of 1,025,472 additional farm hands. And to manufacture the raw material would call for the employment of 372,836 more men (judging on the basis of the number of men employed now), or a total of $1,396,408.

Now, what does that mean? Don't you see. It means that if you'll stop this pauper-breeding saloon and turn the money into the channels of legitimate business the country will have hard work finding enough men to run our farms and factories and shops. The cry will be "give us men" and not the everlasting cry "give us a job," as George Stewart says.

Prohibition Lowers Taxes.

Fourth. But they say the saloons are needed to help reduce the taxes. And that makes lie number four.

And I can take any town or city that ever had a saloon, and then get rid of it, and prove it. I have travelede all over this land of ours, from Maine to the Gulf and from ocean to ocean, and have given a special study to this side of the question, and when you say that the saloon decreased the taxes you do not say the truth. I can cite to you scores and scores of examples and I defy you to cite me to a single exception. Take Cambridge, Mass. Take Atlanta, Ga. Take Guthrie, Okla. Take any city you want to.

Kill the saloon and your taxes will not increase. They'll decrease and it will take only a few years to tell the tale.

Talk about poverty and misery. The most infernal and diabolical deliberations of hell and all the hellish part of earth, combined in conclave for a million years couldn't originate another institution that could begin to touch the hem of the garment of the open licensed saloon in its blighting, blistering, festering, rotting, damning influence on manhood and womanhood ad home and business and society and every good thing on God's earth.

In the third place it damns the individual. It damns him, body, mind and soul; it paralyzes the nerves, weakens the muscles, corrupts the blood, inflames the mucous membrane of the stomach, ulcerates the kidneys, stupefies the liver, produces fatty degeneration ad bloats the whole physical system. That's what it does for the body.

It impairs the brain, expels reason, drowns memory, undermines the constitution and at last transforms the wretch who sticks to his bottle into a senseless, jabbering idiot. That's what it does for the mind.

But this is not the worst. It takes a mother's precious, promising boy, robs him of every scintilla of decency and manhood and transforms him into a profane, worthless, degraded, debauched, drunken sot.

It takes the kind, loving husband and father, smothers every spark of love in his bosom and transforms him into a heartless wretch who will steal the shoes from his starving baby's feet to find the price for a glass of liquor.

It will take your sweet, innocent daughter, rob her of her virtue and transform her into a brazen, wanton harlot and then into a debauched, diseased victim for the potter's field.

If I would do in fifteen minutes to a young man what the saloon does in as many years, the whole neighborhood would rise up and hang me to the nearest lamppost. Here is a splendid young fellow (calling a lad out of the audience to the platform). What promise he has for the future. Now I am going to work on him with some sort of black art, some magic, and I will make out of him in a few minutes what the saloon does in as many years. I will begin by poisoning his blood; I will taint his whole system, ruin his stomach, disfigure his face and defile his whole body with disease. I will now, in some magic way, deaden his brain and rob him of ambition and energy. And now, with another passing of my hand, I will paralyze his conscience and stupefy his sense of morals and let him stand here a maudlin, dirty, driveling imbecile.

Why, you women would faint in the very seat you sit in and you men would rush down here and say to me, "A man like you has no right to live." And you would take the law in your own hands and deprive me of life. And yet just what I have proposed is the very things the saloons of this country have been doing to hundreds and thousands of men every year and yet, oh, my God! for how many years have the American people been content to sit idly by and see this horrible crime go on unmolested before their very eyes?

Work on This Boy.

And now I'll take this boy and in the same way I'll change him into a rum-crazed demon with murder in his heart. I'll put him in a room and at two o'clock in the morning will break through the door and my God! what will we see? On the bed lies his wife, and on the bed post and over the sheets and pillow slips her brains are spattered and her blood runs down on the floor. There is no head on the woman for it is battered into a bloody pulp, while straight into her abdomen where her unborn babe lies, an axe has been driven. And there stands the whiskey-infuriated murderer, axe in hand, with his own hands and the axe handle all be smeared with blood. You say, "Biederwolf, your imagination is running wild." No, it happened just the other day up in New York and I have a right to cry out against a hellish curse that will bring about a thing like that.

Now, I'll work on this boy. I'll do to him what I did to the first one, only I'll work especially on his brain cells and after a while you will find him a sodden imbecile, an idiot grinning and grumbling in one of your inebriate asylums and you can dig down in your jeans and support him with your tax money.

And now I'll begin on this bright little fellow. I'll make quick work of him and in a few minutes I'll put the look of a maniac on his face and leave him writhing in a fit of delirium tremens. His eyes will run water and glare like a wild beast of the jungle, and all around his body I'll wrap a brood of wriggling, writhing snakes, around his legs, around his neck hissing in his face, crawling out of his boots, while he shrieks and groans like a demon from the lowest pit of "Dante's Inferno."

You say, "Biederwolf stop those terrible pictures." Ah, thank God these are only pictures. But just those things the saloon has been doing to thousands upon thousands of boys for all these years and will do to these boys if it gets them in its bloody grip.

What Gin Mills Make.

"I'm a gin mill."

"A gin mill. Well, I don't like the looks of you, and I don't like the way you smell, but what do your manufacture? What's your finished product?"

"Maudlin, blear-eyed, puking, drunken sots."

"And what's your raw material?"

"Boys, mothers' boys, the bright-eyed, promising youth of the land."

"My heavens! do a thing like that with my boy?"

"Yes, I've got to have about 200,000 of 'em a year."

And I turn to you, good people, and say, "Come on, let's furnish boys for this business," and you begin to cry, "Hold on, don't take that boy; he's mine."" "Yes," but I say, "if this business is to run it must have boys." Every fifth family must furnish one, if you don't furnish yours, then your nieghbor's got to furnish two. Come on with you boy." But you say, "No, not mine; he's the joy of my heart and you must not ruin him." All right, but you ought to go farther and say, "Not my neighbor's boy, either."

And I say, "Gin mill, you've got no right to run; you're not a legitimate industry and this hellish business must stop. What's your power?"

"The votes of the church members and professing Christians."

"What did you say?"

"I say the good people of this land give me license to run; the members of the church have got the power in their hands to do with me what they please and the very day they say stop, my wheels will stand stock still and never turn again."

Look here, I say to you people that the very minute the churches of this great land come together, the members of the Protestant and Catholic churches alike, and say to the saloon, "You go back to hell out of whose black pit you wriggled your slimy carcass," that minute will this damnable institution cease to curse the earth and crawl back to hell, where it belongs. And you know it.

And yet a lot of you whisky-voting elders and stewards and vestrymen won't strike hands on the proposition, and I know why. You're sneaking around the house of God with a guilty conscience because you've got your property rented for a saloon, or got your name on some saloon keeper's peition, or maybe drawing your dividends on some brewery stock, and you'd rather pave your streets and support your schools with the blood of your neighbor's boy, and maybe your own, than to do these things with decent dollars.

Plea for the Home.

I say it damns the individual.

And then in the fourth place, it damns the home.

It has turned the memeory of every home it has ever touched into a hideous nightmare of the past. Let the saloon once enter the sacred precincts of the home and where you had peace, you'll have strife; where you had prosperity, you'll have poverty; where you had happiness, you'll have misery; where heaven smiled and love held sway, hell and hate begin to reign.

Let a man go out to his work in the morning with his dinner pail well filled, with a kiss from his wife and little ones and come back a sober, industrious man, with his wages in his hand, to sit with his loved ones about his own fireside, and that is heaven.

But let the husband and father come home a ragged, reeling, foul-smelling, sodden drunkard, give his wife a curse for a caress, his children a blow for a kiss, throw himself on the floor to sleep off his drunken debauch while his starving children cry for bread and his wife sits red-eyed and broken-hearted in her grief, and that is hell.

You talk about poverty. It's the saloon that buries you in the potter's field and turns your home into the bleakest moor of misery the fanged bounds of hunger and despair ever hunted over.

Say, a gallon of whiskey has about 50 10-cent drinks on the average. Now, if you must drink, I'll tell you what to do. Buy it by the gallon and make your wife the bartender and when you want to tank up give her the dime and take your booze and she'll make nearly $3.50 on every gallon you drink and she can lay this away in the bank and when you've become the scum of God's earth, down-and-out, a dirty, red-faced, foul-smelling, inebriate, unable to support yourself, shunned and despised by all decent people, your wife will have enough money to keep your rotting body together until you are ready to fill the drunkard's gave that's waiting you.

But the saloon does more than eat up your money. If that were all it did, it would be bad enough, but it does a million times worse. It eats up your character, robs you of decency and sends you home to your wife and children a maudlin, drunken, vicious wretch.

Following a Dollar.

George Stuart is one of the mightiest champions of temperance our land has ever known. I heard him one time spnd a dollar and I want to show you how it was done, so far as I possibly can.

"My name is Jim and I'm a poor drunkard, with a wife and four children. Here is the last dollar of my wages. I'm going down to the saloon and spend it. I dropped my dollar on the bar. It takes four cents to make a quart of whiskey, but it costs me a dollar to buy it. Here, bartender, give me a quart. Now the saloon's got my dollar and I've got the quart of whiskey.

"Now let's follow that dollar from the saloon end and from the home end. Take the saloon end first. About four cents of it goes back into the legitimate channels of trade. A trifle over a cent of it goes to pay the laboring man who made the booze, about seven cents of it goes to the United States government as revenue, and to the city corporations for license and all the rest of it goes into the pockets of the brewers and saloon keepers. So a big bulk of that money is gone so far as its use to the community and common people is concerned.

"Now, let's take the home end of it. I'm still Jim, the drunkard, and am going home with a quart of red liquor in my stomach. Sallie, sad-faced and heavy-hearted, meets me at the door. 'Hello, Jim, what did you bring home?' 'Just a quart (hic) in my stomach.' Now what's a quart of whiskey in a man's stomach worth to a home? Nothing but wretchedness and sorrow. It beastilizes the man, ruins his little business or trade, unfits him to go on and earn his wages, brings poverty and sorrow to his wife and children and damns the home and the community and everything. There you've got the saloon end and the home end of the whiskey dollar. Do you see where it goes?

"Now, let's go down and spend the dollar again. This time I spend it over the counter of the shoe merchant and buy a pair of shoes for my boy John. Now let's follow that dollar, the store end of it and the home end of it. Take the store end first. A little of that dollar goes to the wholesame merchant, a little of it to the retail merchant, a little of it to the man who made the shoes, a little to the man who tanned the leather, a little of it to the farmer who skinned it, and so all the way from the calf lot to the shoe counter that dollar distributes itself in blessings, like the little brook that flows through the meadow and freshens everything along its way.

Say, boys, suppose I spend that dollar again and suppose all you fellows who have been spending your dollars for booze come and join poor Jim, the drunkard, and spend your money with him. I will spend one-third of it for meat and a third for flour and the other third for calico. And suppose every drunkard in America did the same thing.

Now, I'm going to take the home end of this money spent for meat and flour and calico. I'm still Jim. I've still got a wife and four children, but thank God, I'm no longer Jim, the poor drunkard. I've quit drinking and now I'm going home. I'll take my meat under this arm and the calico under this one.

"Grocer, send the flour down—a 50-pound sack; I live quite a ways out." And now I'm going home to Sallie and the children. No more booze for me. (Strolls out home whistling as he goes, "Be it ever so humble there's no place like home.")

Coming Home Again.

"Hello; there's Sallie at the door."

"Well, Jim, what have you brought what have you got in the bundles?" "Sallie, you've been a good wife to me—as good a wife as any man ever had. And our children are just as sweet as any that ever blessed a home. But I haven't been a good husband to you nor a good father to them. I've taken my wages every Saturday night and given nearly all of it to the saloon keeper; but I've quit and I'm going to be a different man. We are going to have meat at our house now. Here's some tenderloin. A sack of flour's coming and we are going to have nice little biscuits. And here's same calico. Nellie and Maggie need some new dresses and little Jim and John can have some changes of calico waists. And here's the rest of my wages; you take it and buy what you need and save the rest and our home shall be fed and clothed and we'll be happy."

And Sallie puts her arms around me and we sib and cry for joy and I gather the little ones up and kiss them and the little cottage so long desolate and forlorn is home, sweet home once more.

'Home, Home, sweet ,sweet home;
Be it ever so humble;
There's no place like home."

The saloon is a liar. It promises you happiness and send you sorrow. it promises good cheer and sends misery and remorse. It promises you health and sends disease. It promises friendship and when your last dollar is gone it kicks you out and lets you rot in the gutter.

The saloon is a thief. It steals your money and your character; it steals your self-respect and robs you of your friends and your family. It will steal the roses from the wife's cheek, the shoes from the baby's feet and the milk from the mother's breast and leave the child to starve in her arms.

The saloon is a coward. It hides its hellish head behind curtained windows, and stained glass doors. It takes advantage of human weakness and strikes down its victims while helpless. It strikes from behind and in the night and among its victims is the defenseless womanhood and childhood of the land.

A Dramatic Conclusion.

The saloon is an infidel. It has no faith in God and none in humanity. It has no religion. It has no church. It would convert every church in the land into a bar room, hang its beer sign on the abandoned altar and make it the clearing house for moral rot and damnation, poverty, disease and death and hell.

The saloon is an anarchist. Every anarchist plot ever concocted against the government was hatched out over a saloon or in connection with it. It cocks the ruffian's pistol and puts the rope in the hands of the mob. It was a whiskey-smelling assassin that sent the bullet into the GALLEY SEVEN.... ... ... heart of our beloved Lincoln, and whiskey nerved the arm that fired the shots into the hearts of Garfield and McKinley. It was a saloon-keeper, a bartender, that fired the bullet into the breast of Theodore Roosevelt. It is the anarchist of the world. Its flag is a dirty red rag and is crimsoned with the blood of martyred mothers and wives and children.

Down with the infernal saloon!
Down with the liquor traffic!
And down with the dirty flag!

"If you want a flag, I've got it for you. Here's your flag."
the stars and stripes).

Stopped by Cheers.

"Here," said he, "is the flag for you and me," and he unrolled with one sweep of his hand a large silken American flag. The effect was electric. Men all over the vast tabernacle rose and shouted and again Dr. Biederwolf tried to resume his discoure, but was drowned out by the applause. When it had subsided, Dr. Biederwolf closed the address.

"But cannot insult God and every true patriot by prostituting the 'Stars and Stripes' to the infernal use of your hell-soaked liquor business.

" 'My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing
Land where our fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From every mountain side let freedom ring.'

"Freedom from tyranny's galling yoke! The tyranny that makes one man to his brother's vassal! Yes! but worse than all that, the tryanny of rum, and the propaganda of its infernal traffic that enslaves the whole being, soul as well as body, with chains the heaviest and bloodiest the anvils of hell ever forged out.

"And so I propose to fight—to fight this damnable demon of cruelty and crime and arrogance unmeasured, as long as God shall lend me blood for my veins and breath for my lungs! Come on ye cohorts of hell! Rebels against God and decency! I defy you Come on you triple extract of hell's pollution; you giant progeny of the Devil and 33d degree breeder of the Devil's spawn! I ask for no quarter and I give none. And I'm in the fight to stay until the last dram of liquor is poured back into hell and the sun shall cease to shine forever upon an opened, licensed saloon anywhere beneath Old Glory's stainless stars, and the white-winged dove of peace and sobriety spreads her sheltering wings over this land of the free and home of the brave which every loyal American loves with all his heart!"

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 198 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 15, 1916.

ALL PROUD OF NEW JERSEY.

Saturday the citizens of the commonwealth of New Jersey celebrated a day set aside for the realization and publication of the resources, the beauties, the progress and the history of the State, and from reports there was not a hamlet nor a community that did not observe the day. In pointing out the exceptional advantages of New Jersey the Elizabeth Evening Times says:

"New Jersey has the densest organized population of any area of equal size in the world; it overshadows all other States in attracting to it millions of people who make it their home, although their business interests may lie across its boundaries; the resorts of New Jersey attract more visitors than do those of any other State; its cities and towns have grown more rapidly than those of any other eastern State; it ranks second among the States of the Union in the per capita value of manufactured goods and sixth in the aggregate value of such products; New Jersey's farms are feeding the multitudes of neighboring States in increasing numbers, so that it still retains its far-famed name as "The Garden State," although it has attained second place in production of manufactured articles of ten thousand varieties.

"New Jersey indeed has reason to stand forth proudly today, worthy of all her sister States and meriting Uncle Sam's compliments to a ward whose beauty has been enhanced to the utmost by Nature and whose worldly wealth may not be computed in terms of dollars and cents.

"But New Jersey Day has been planned to serve a better and a broader purpose than merely that of showing the State before the world as a preening peacock. New Jersey is justly proud of its past, and enthusiastic over its promised future, but in this display of pride there should be no show of braggadocio.

"New Jersey Day gives promise of realizing the desire of the State Department of Conservation and Development that the people of New Jersey shall take this opportunity to study their State and shall, thereafter, acquaint the world with New Jersey's attractions as the ideal place in which to establish homes or locate manufacturing and commercial enterprises.

"This is a worth while effort; Jerseymen have been too well satisfied with their advantages, most of them have been content to enjoy and grow with a corner of their State and to give little thought to the rest. We have known in a way that New Jersey is great in manufacturing, that it houses many commuters, and that it contains a number of coast resorts; but to many of us it is beyond belief that the State of New Jersey is one of the richest in farming opportunities, that nearly half of it is still forested, that there are hills and mountain lakes as well as ocean beaches. Of course, this is all true, and equally it is a shame that we need to be reminded of the facts. Other States trumpet from the house tops advantages that have far less reality than ours, while we are satisfied to take what comes to us.

"New Jersey's proud record in industrial development is an earnest of what is offered in other ways. It is a State of homes, of pleasure resorts, of high-class farms. It has roads, schools, social life, all highly developed along modern lines. Each section, each community has some special advantage in soil, communications, ocean beach or mountain lake which should attract people to it. The plea is made that every citizen shall study his State and his neighborhood and make known its attractions. The West and the South are lands of opportunity largely because they are far off. The real inducements, for living, for business, for recreation, will be found close at hand. STUDY NEW JERSEY."

• • • • • •

A MAYOR WORTH FOLLOWING.

It was inspiring to see Mayor William L. Smalley, of the borough of North Plainfield, walk down the sawdust aisle at the Biederwolf Tabernacle yesterday and stand up for the biggest, cleanest and best thing in all the world and his constituents are to be congratulated on having a mayor with his courage and manliness, for it took no small amount of courage to thus proclaim his faith. There were other officials of the borough and of the city of Plainfield among the courageous at yesterday afternoon's meeting for men and their example is one worth following.

• • • • • •

The Plainfield people who gave money to a fund for the entertainment of visiting letter carriers in attendance at the annual convention to be held here May 30 are incensed over reports that a part of this is to be used in the purchase of beer, and rightly so. They have a right to demand an accounting of the money, and if it is not used properly, in their judgment, they shall not be denied a refund of the amount contributed. It is hard to understand what manner of hospitality prompts those in charge of arrangements to offer beer to visitors. It seems an uncalled for insult to the thousands of letter carriers that have accepted an invitation to come to Plainfield. Many of them, we believe a majority, would refuse the intoxicant, and to have it publicly offered in the name of the whole city of Plainfield would give this community a reputation that is not deserved and not desired. If letter carriers who are coming here want beer, they will be able to purchase it at the many saloons that will be open. As Dr. Biederwolf pointed out these men are to be the city's guests and a guest cannot expect to dictate the hospitality of the host.

• • • • • •

In the Kenyon Gardens, which are opened to the public today, there is offered to children of the city of Plainfielld an opportunity to learn something of plant life and at the same time to enjoy pleasant moments during the summer months in the healthy outdoors. In other cities of the United States these children's gardens have done more than instruct. They have imbued the boys and girls with a knowledge of the wonders of nature, and knowledge always leads to love where nature is concerned. Those who know the soil and love it cannot help but be better men and women, for it has oft been proven that lovers of nature are better, not only physically, but morally, than others that live in ignorance of the wonders worked through the earth by God. The Kenyon Gardens Association is entitled to the respect and support of every citizen of Plainfield.

• • • • • •

The Nicholls-Lehlbach fight in Washington gives birth to the thought that if some Congressmen were as quick to defend the honor of the country as they are their own, Wilson and what he represents would not be facing an international crisis every other day.

• • • • • •

Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree says that Shakespeare would be quick to grasp the possibilities of the moving picture if he were writing today. If he were, a lot of his immortal drama would be lost to posterity through deletions of the censor.

• • • • • •

Two more daring automobile racers died Saturday, their lives a sacrifice to the insatiate American greed for speed.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

Commencement Time.

I remember, I remember the day that
I quit school,
I got a nice diploma for minding
every rule.
I was the wisest mortal who ever left
the place;
There was no person like me in all the human race.
I had old Homer faded and Solomen
as well;
The real reach of my knowledge would take too long to tell.
And I was downright sorry; it really was a shame
That I should have to go out and teach the world its game,
For I was tender-hearted and could not bear to see
The looks of jealous anger when people heard of me.

The teacher, to assure me, was kind enough to say
The other folks would manage to get along some way.
I couldn't quite believe him. You see that was before
I'd taken my first toddle outside the college door.
Than I set out to conquer the poor old easy world,
With wind and weather charming and every sail unfurled.
'Twas several long years ago, how many, I forget,
But still I don't mind owning the world ain't conquered yet.
I remember, I remember the day that
I quit school;
Since then I have been learning how not to be a fool.

Uncle Abner

If you have a gold watch that will not run you can easily make it do so by melting it.

Amry Tibbs, who is out West, is not expected to live. The jury returned a verdict of "guilty."

There is only one harder thing to listen to than a sopraner with a cold in the head, and that is a phonograph with sand in the grooves.

There will never be a shortage in the crop of funny looking derbies.

There are still a few old-fashioned fellers who try to make both ends meet.

A woman cares more about the price of lace curtains than she does about the price of beefsteak or coal.

A convict out in Minnesota has become a poet. In other words, he has gone from bad to verse.

There is many a man called a merchant prince whe he is in reality a merchant quince.

Whisky will never harm you if you don't swallow it.

It begins to look as if the shiny Prince Albert coat has come to stay.

Lem Higgins says he nearly died of strangulation once when he was a young man, but the Governor's pardon arrived just in time.

Signs of the Times.

There is many a singer in concert who would make a bigger personal hit if she would appear exclusively as yell-mistress of a Vassar football crowd.

It takes the English a long time to see a joke, and yet they see a good many American newly rich society people.

A man with red hair, a wooden leg and a harelip is never much of a success as a fugitive from justice. Even the deteectives are apt to recognize him.

An average of seven oil stoves that won't smell are invented in this country every day.

Talking machine discs can be used as pie plates. This is about the most satisfactory use to which they can be put.

But Truth Gets There Eventually.

Scandal travels 1,000 yards per second, according to Professor Benjamin Snow, head of the University of Wisconsin's physics department. Professor Snow bases his calculations upon observations made at the university.

Flattery has the second greatest speed, the professor finds, traveling from 400 to 500 yards in the same time. Truth, however, he declares, is slowest of all, moving only about two and a half yards per second. The computations, he said, were based on the speed of the sound of an alarm clock, which is zero.

- Proctor's Theatre -

Without doubt the theatre-going public of this city and vicinity are being treated to the most extraordinary photoplay entertainment of late that they have ever had the pleasure of witnessing before, and it has been left to Proctor's local theatre to spring the biggest scoop of the year, starting today, when they present for the entertainment and amusement of their many patrons Mary Pickford Week. This will prove to be a week of glad surprises, indeed, for dainty Mary Pickford, acknowledged to be the most popular and foremost of screen stars, will appear at Proctor's in a different one of her biggest photoplay successes each day in addition to the regular program of wonderful features that are presented daily. One of her most favorite vehicles has been selected to inaugurate this unprecedented booking, and today the Queen of the Movies will be starred in "Such a Little Queen," a story written especially around her personality and giving her plenty of opportunities to display her wonderful talents. In addition to a supporting program of selected photoplays today, the second episode of the peer of all serial creations, "The Mysteries of Myra," will be shown. Tuesday Miss Pickford will appear in "Behind the Scenes," a story entirely in contrast to her first feature, and bringing out in strong relief her remarkable versatility. In addition tomorrow petite Lillian Gish, the dainty Triangle star, will be seen in "Sold for Marriage," a vital drama of the moment, and Fatty Arbuckle, the funniest of Keystone comedians, will appear in the Keystone comedy that served to celebrate the opening of the world's greatest moving picture palace, "The Rialto," New York city, entitled "The Other Man," and the eleventh episode of "Mary Page" will also be included in tomorrow's bill. Wednesday little Mary will be seen in "Cinderella," a part which suits her to a T, and which she assumes with apparent ease. Vivian Martin, another clever and diminutive screen favorite, will star in "A Modern Thelma," and the twelfth episode of "The Iron Claw" will also be presented. The program throughout the rest of the week will be in keeping with that introduced during the first part, and this wonderful list of attraction surely marks a great epoch in local filmdom.

COMING EVENTS.

TODAY.
Trustee meeting — Netherwood Residents' Association.
Whatsoever Circle, Kings' Daughters, meeting.
A. O. H. euchre—Pythian Hall.

WEDNESDAY.
Jr. O. U. A. M. euchre.

FRIDAY.
Building Trades Council.

—Until you have canvassed the eaders of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this nay be a "poor time to sell" that property

HOW FAR WILL THE ROPE REACH?

--Astor Theatre--

"Nearly a King," which was written specially for John Barrymore, gives this celebrated comedian the greatest opportunity of his motion-picture career to display the thousand and one comic sides of his talented nature which have made him a prime favorite since his introduction to the film world by the Famous Players Company. This Paramount picture will be the attraction at the Astor Theatre today. It is a tale of a young American who has the great fortune to resemble the Prince of Bulwana, an adventurous spirit who is just in the throes of being palmed off on a princess whom he has never seen. But the prince loves an actress and determines that he is going to marry her despite reasons of state, which renders it expedient that he espouse the Princess of Okam. No sooned does Jack land in London than he is robbed of every cent he possesses and is forced to become a cabby to keep body and soul together. While he is snatching his first meal—piges feet—bought from a street peddler, Jack finds himself face to face with Helene, who is in search of a cab. Speed and accuracy of hat juggling save him from recognition. It is then things begin to happen so fast that the printed word must give way to the eye alone. Suffice to say that there have not been so many twists developeed in one story in the same space of time as in this delightful tale of romance, comedy and adventure.

The reformers will have their day in Bluebird Photoplays when "The Great Probleem" is exhibited at the Astor Theatre tomorrow with Violet Mersereau playing the role of a graduate pickpocket, direct from the slums and steeped in crime. While this is a subject that infrequently, if ever, gets into films, the purpose of the Bluebird is to shed an encompassing light upon various incidents, phases of criminology, and these incidents form a part of the lesson. Prison reform is the incentive for the photoplay, and the purpose served might be considered a part of the movement for better conditions in institutions of correction. Miss Mersereau, in the character of Peggy, is translated from the slums to a home of luxury, where her character receives the direct application of corrective methods that ultimately show the "great experiment" to be an entire success. So much are the similar situations, discussed in all reform movements, and so much does the future welfare of the criminally inclined enter into the concern of well-intentioned reformers, that "The Great Problem" is timeliness itself in theme, as well as providing gripping entertainment for those who prefer moving pictures as their method of theatrical enjoyment. In addition to "The Great Problem" there will be a biograph production in three parts "The Road of Many Turnings," and other photoplays. The Astor Theatre, the "de luxe" house of Plainfield, shows nothing but first run Paramount and Bluebird features. Get the Astor "habit."

.· Plainfield Theatre.·.

Ten clever singers and dancers, everyone of them under twelve years of age, comprise the "Juvenile Revue," which heads the new vaudeville program at the Plainfield Theatre today. The youngsters have an act that is a refreshing novelty, and they put across their numbers with that kind of a punch that gets the audience right at the start. The song hits are interspersed, and the act is backed up by a beautiful scenic stage setting and handsome costumes.

Five other acts are on the new bill for the first half of the week, the list offering a variety that is sure to please the most staid vaudeville patron. Manager Shannon secures his bookings from the leading New York offices, thus being assured of a splendid bill at all times.

In addition to the the vaudeville portion of the program special photo plays and feature films are given every day, the changes being made daily. Specialties this week will include the Pathe semi-weekly on Tuesday and Saturday, a Charlie Chaplin comedy Thursday and Friday, the serial film, "The Iron Claw" on Thursday, and the serial film, "A Strange Case of Mary Page" on Friday. Wednesday night's big feature is the screamingly funny amateur night, the offering that never fails to pack the house.

FRIDAY WILL BE KIDDIES' DAY; CIRCUS COMING HERE

Cook & Wilson's Greatest Wild Animal Circus is to exhibit here on Friday, at Arlington avenue and Rose street. Although the show is one of the newest among the big American circuses, it has already created widespread interest, and its reputation as the most complete exhibition of its kind in the United States is growing by leaps and bounds. Primarily the Cook & Wilson show is an exhibition of remarkably trained forest-bred wild beasts, and in its particular field is said to be without a rival. In addition to the trained animal displays, however, there is offered what is declared by the press agent to be one of the highest class and most novel arenic exhibitions ever given by an American circus. The combination of these two distinctive forms of entertainment ensure, it is announced, a performance that is without a dull moment from beginning to end.

In the Cook & Wilson show especial stress is laid upon the fact that, without exception, the caged animals utilized in the performance are forest born and bred. Although the audience is absolutely protected owing to the structural strength of the great steel arena in which the wild animal displays are given, the performance is a succession of thrills, and the crowds are alternately astonished by the trained cleverness of the ferocious beasts, or held spellbound by the daring of the trainers, who fearlessly enter the arena and compel their dangerous pupils to go through their remarkable exhibitions. The trained wild animals include lions, tigers, pumas, leopards, jaguars, bears and many other wild beasts. There are also notably interesting exhibitions by schools of elephants, horses, ponies, donkeys and other more familiar beasts. The arenic performance, which is given in the open rings and on the big stages, enlists the services of a notable company of riders, acrobats, aerialists and other experts in the line of athletic endeavor. Cook & Wilson Day in this city will be inaugurated with a street parade, which will leave the grounds about 10:30 and pass over the principal downtown streets. The performances are scheduled for 2 and 8 o'clock.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in oday's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

EXECUTE ARTICLES FOR MILK COMMISSION

Local Physicians Will Incorporate for Supervision of Certified Product.

Following their examination of the dairy of Woodbrook Farms on Satuhday, Drs. Frank C. Ard, Frederick J. Hughes, B. VanD. Hedges and Wm. H. Murray, of Plainfield, and Dr. Robert Y. Sinclair, of Westfield, executed articles of incorporation for the formation of the Medical Milk Commission of Union County, No. 4. As soon as the commission has been organized it will make a contract with the Woodbrook Farms for the certification of its milk.

The doctors were greatly pleased with the results of their investigation and the excellence of the plant of the Woodbrook Farms. In their opinion Plainfield has reason to be proud of the fact that it now possesses a milk supply entitled to be certified which is second to none. It has recently been proved that the greatest source of bacteria in milk after it leaves the cow is from contact with various vessels. In spite of this fact all first-class dairies, in their efforts to cool their milk, have allowed it to come in contact with the milk cooler.

During a recent contest of certified dairies, the prize was given to a dairy which bottled the milk immediately on milking and then cooled it in the bottles to about 40 degrees temperature by means of ice water. But up to the present time this process has never been tried on a commercial basis. Woodbrook Farms is the first dairy in this country to install a specially constructed cooling system in connection with its new refrigerating plant, which makes possible this perfect system.

BIEDERWOLF GOES AFTER NEXT MONDAY

Farewell Service is Planned for Next Monday Night —Concert Tuesday.

One week from tonight, Dr. Biederwolf and members of his party will conduct their farewell service in Plainfield at the Tabernacle, according to present plans. There is scheduled a concert on Tuesday night next week by members of the National Male Quartet, Miss Boals, Mrs. Brake and Mr. McEwan, but Dr. Biederwolf will have no part in it and it will not be a part of the evangelistic campaign.

Next Sunday there will be three services, and W. D. Murray, chairman of the general committee, announced yesterday that the freewill offering for Dr. Biederwolf will be taken then. He explained that the evangelist had not received one cent of the money given in collections so far, and would only receive that given next Sunday at the three services.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. Biederwolf told his audience that he realized with regret his stay in Plainfield was growing short. "Every member of the party is sorry that we are so soon to leave here," he said, "because it has been a wonderful campaign, and we have come to love Plainfield."

Rev. Theodore Gardner will lead the service at the Rescue Mission tonight at 8 o'clock.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

Keen Kutter Tools

We have them for all purposes. The garden, farm and all kinds of craftsmen. Each tool is guaranteed by us and backed up by the factory, therefore you can't go wrong. 205 Park Avenue is the right place to buy seeds that grow.

Seeds, Garden Tools, Lawn Mowers, Hose, Wheelbarrows and Fertilizers.

F. A. Kirch & Co.

Phone 578.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between Mary E. Darby, complainant, and Minnie E. Field, et al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-stated writ of fieri facias to me directed I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the sheriff's office in the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF MAY A. D., 1916,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day. All that certain tract or parcel of land and premises, being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey:—Beginning at a point in the northeasterly side line of Madison avenue, as the same is now laid out and opened, said point being distant ninety (90) feet in a southeasterly direction along said side line from its intersection with the southeasterly side line of West Sixth street; thence north fifty-one degrees and five minutes east (N. 51° 5' E.), and making a new line between the parties hereto, a distance of one hundred and forty-five and twenty-one one-hundredths (145.21) feet to a point in line of property, now or formerly owned by Stimpson; thence along his line south thirty-nine degrees and forty minutes east (S. 39° 40' E.), a distance of twenty-three and ninety-nine one hundredths (23.99) feet to a point, being the westerly corner of property, now or formerly owned by William C. Kinney; thence along his line south thirty-five degrees and forty-eight minutes east (S. 35° 48' E.), a distance of forty-seven and forty-seven one-hundredths (47.47) feet to a point and corner in line of property, now or formerly owned by Frank Rogers; thence along his line south fifty degrees and forty minutes west (S. 50° 40' W.), a distance of one hundred and forty-three and twelve one-hundredths (143.12) feet to a point in the northeasterly side line of Madison avenue aforesaid; thence along said side line north thirty-eight degrees and forty-six minutes west (N. 38° 46' W.), a distance of seventy-two and fifty-five one-hundredths (72.55) feet to the point and place of beginning. Conveying also all the right, title and interest of the party of the first part of, in and to the land lying in front of the above-described premises to the center line of Madison avenue, subject to the easement of the public therein forever as a public street.

GEORGE C. OTTO, Sheriff.

ASA F. RANDOLPH, Solicitor.

mas 4tM EDJ&PDP Fees, $19.72

GLASS OF WATER BEFORE YOU EAT ANY BREAKFAST

Wash poison from system each morning and feel fresh as a daisy.

Every day you clean the house you live in to get rid of the dust and dirt which collected through the previous day. Your body, the house your soul live in, also becomes filled up each twenty-four hours with all manner of filth and poison. If only every man and woman could realize the wonders of drinking phosphated hot water, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

Everyone, whether sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do. —Adv.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The King's Son Dances With Ashputtel.

He Never Let Go of Her Hand.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

"WHEN Ashputtel went to the king's ball in her new fairy clothes, so different from her soiled ones, at first she was shy. She could not dance very well, either, because all her life her stepmother had made her do kitchen work. As she sat shyly by herself the king's son came up to her and invited her to dance. He took her by her hand and led her out, and Ashputtel was so happy that she danced so well he never let go of her hand. When other princes came to dance with her the king's son always said, 'This lady is dancing with me.'

"So they danced till a very late hour at night. Then when Ashputtel wanted to go home the king's son said, 'I shall go myself and take care of you to your home.' You see, my dears," said daddy, "this clever young prince wanted to see where his beautiful lady lived.

"But Ashputtel was afraid to have the prince go home with her lest her stepmother see him. So she slyly slipped away from him and ran off home alone. When she heard the prince following her she jumped into the pigeon house and shut the door.

"The prince waited till her father came along. Then he cried, 'A beautiful maiden who danced at my ball with me has hidden in your pigeon house, my dear sir!'

"So Ashputtel's father got a big ax, and the prince helped him to break open the door. But they found no one inside.

"As they came into the house Ashputtel was lying in the ashes, as she always did, in her dirty frock, her dim little lamp burning in the chimney corner, for she had run as fast as she could through the pigeon house and on to the hazel tree, where she had swiftly taken off her beautiful clothes and left them under the tree. Her friend, the bluebird, had put them away, and she had run into the house and lain down in the ashes in her little gray frock.

"Now, the king's feast was to last three days. So the next day, when her father, her stepmother and two stepsisters had gone to the party again, Ashputtel went out under the hazel tree and cried:

"'Shake, shake, hazel tree,
Gold and silver over me!'

"And the bluebird came with a still finer dress than the one she had worn the night before. When she came into the king's hall every one wondered at her beauty."

Then daddy looked at the clock, and the children kissed him good night.

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

Chafing Dish Suppers Have Lost Much of Their Charm for Ralph.

"Now, I'll go in the house and you ring and pretend that you have come to spend the evening with me." Ethel ran off as delighted as a child with the pretense.

Ralph dutifully rang the bell, wondering why he could not summon the thrill with which he used to wait for her answer to his summons. She came dimpling and smiling as of yore, and he reproached himself for his coldness.

"I knew you would be hungry," began the little hostess, "and I have a cozy chafing dish supper all ready in the dining room." The electric toaster and copper chafing dish were in active service, and he soon was sipping the fragrant tea and buttering slices of toast, while she mixed the cheese and milk for the rarebit.

"I hope I shall have as nice a chafing dish for a wedding present." Ethel was bent on carrying out her pretty pretense.

"After we are married," began Ralph, gaily joining in, "we will have regular meals cooked by my little wife. Chafing dish suppers are all right for unmarried people, but married folks have to work and get hungry and need regular rations."

"Yes, I hope we will have a good cook," said Ethel, getting pink to her ears.

"It's never safe to depend on cooks," continued Ralph placidly. "The good ones get married and the bad ones leave without notice. Besides a servant soon knows whether her mistress is a good housekeeper or not and acts accordingly."

"When I marry I do not expect to do the housework," said Ethel aloofly.

"Not if you can get help; but you must be ready to step into the breach and keep the machinery running between maids. I heard of a family that had two servants. One going and the other coming." Ethel did not laught at the joke. Instead she took out her handkerchief and wiped her eyes.

"It is a great mistake for any woman to feel above keeping a good home." Ralph pretended not to notice the handkerchief.

"If you are looking for someone to do your housework you had better look elsewhere," said the teary little creature, letting her rarebit burn in her distress of mind.

"That's burning, Ethel." Ralph reached over and turned out the blaze. "I do not want my last chance of refreshment to go up in smoke. I had a beastly dinner at that hotel, and——"

"You had as good a dinner as I did, and I am not making a fuss about it either," flared Ethel.

"It is different if you can spend your time swinging in the hammock," retorted Ralph. "I had to work today, and work hard, too, and a man can't keep that up on smiles and kisses."

"It is a pity you had not talked that way when you were really coming to see me. Then you said you wanted 'just me,' with my sunny smile to make your home a heaven." She gulped down a sob.

'No more I would." Ralph looked at the flushed face and tear-filled eyes. "But wouldn't it be possible to have you and have a little efficiency thrown in? Anybody that could get up so dainty a little spread could learn to cook if she set her mind to it."

"I am not planning on being a household drudge." Ethel rose and left the room.

"That is just the trouble," grumbled Ralph, helping himself to the rarebit. "She doesn't want to learn. She doesn't care how mighty uncomfortable she makes me, just so she is free to do nothing."

(To be continued.)

AFTERNOON SERVICE.

There were about 6,500 men at the afternoon service, and at 2:45 p. m., as was agreed on, any seats unoccupied by the men were open for women.

The Quartet sang two selections. De Brewers' Big Horses" and "The Little Brown Church in the Vale."

Dr. Pitts, who wrote the words and the music to "The Little Brown Church" was at both meetings yesterday. Dr. Pitts is a Brooklyn man. He composed this beautiful song fifty years ago, and he is now eighty-five years old.

The offering yesterday afternoon was for the hospital, the Day Nursey and the Organized Charity Society.

A Bible study class is to be formed after this campaign for men in the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Murray is to be the leader.

Dr. Biederwolf gave a big welcome to the delegation of the City Baseball League and the members of the Common Council.

Mr. Poulson, of Newark, spoke in the interests of the Anti-Saloon League and told of the great work this league has done, so that now 75 per cent of this country is dry as a result of 23 years' work.

Mr. McEwan sang "Meet Mother in the Skies."

Dr. Biederwolf held his listeners spellbound for one hour and thirty-five minutes yesterday afternoon. It had been announced that in his first booze sermon he had only been loading the gun and that this time he would shoot it off, and Dr. Biederwolf certainly kept his word.

EVENING SERVICE.

Everyone seemed happy. Mac was capering around the platform, like an Indian, and he said that last night's singing was the best ever heard in that Tabernacle.

The choir sang two special songs by request, "Wounded for Our Transgression" and "Master, the Tempest is Raging."

The Quartet sang "Jesus, What a Saviour."

Tonight, from 7:30 to 8:30, in the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Brake will address the business women.

There will be the regular cottage prayer meetings tomorrow morning.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, of this week, all the business men of the city are asked to meet in the Y. M. C. A. from 12:00 to 12:30 p. m. for a short meeting.

Tomorrow Mrs. Brake wants to meet the Hgh School girls at 2:15 p. m. in the First Baptist church.

Tomorrow night Dr. Biederwolf will give his lecture on Christian Science.

some great sights for weeks, but the firemeen and policemen of this city.

Plainfield has been witnessing some great sights for weeks, but last night there was a sight such as has never been seen before, that of a whole family—total number eleven—come forward and give Dr. Biederwolf their hands.

PRAYER MEETINGS TUESDAY MORNING

Cottage prayer meetings will be held on Tuesday, May 16, at 10 a. m., in the homes of the following:

Mrs. Leopold Wolff, Martine avenue, corner Kensington avenue; Mrs. W. Lippincott, 148 Netherwood avenue; Mrs. G. M. Rittenhouse, 44 Sandford avenue; Mrs. W. F. Williams, 136 Somerset street; Mrs. G. C. Nelson, 29 Somerset place; Mrs. G. J. Jensen, 227 Somerset street; Mrs. A. N. Nielsen, 726 Watchung avenue; Mrs. George Anderson, 55 Laramie road; Mrs. C. P. Leggett, 822 Madison avenue; Mrs. Joseph Doyle, 420 West Second street; Mrs. Edward Baker, Jr., 23 Duer street; Mrs. W. W. Rowley, 78 Linden avenue; Mrs. James Church, 243 Somerset street; Mrs. Edgar Sheppard, 25 Mountain avenue; Mrs. George Karner, 112 Plainfield avenue; Mrs. Ira E. Van Arsdale, 670 Essex street; Mrs. Geo. Fountain, 936 West Seventh street; Mrs. Harry Gardner, 319 Monroe avenue; Mrs. W. L. Pratt, 626 East Sixth street; Mrs. L. A. Laggren, 1406 Putnam avenue.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND" FOR INDUSTRIAL FARM

"A Chapter in Wonderland" will be given by the boys' chapter of the Berkshire Industrial Farm on the afternoon of Thursday, June 1, commencing at 2 o'clock, in the gardens of Mrs. William S. Tyler, 520 West Eighth street. A number of entertaining features have been arranged for the affair, among them being the motion picture film, "Alice in Wonderland."

Should the day prove stormy, rain checks will be provided for the first clear day that follows. Mr. Tyler is connected with the Berkshire Industrial Farm.

MISSING TREASURER SOUGHT.

Charles W. Benton of White Plains Gone Since Wednesday.

White Plains, N. Y., May 15.—Search is being made for Charles W. Benton of 60 Fisher avenue, who has been missing since Wednesday. The last seen or heard from him was on that day when he met a friend at Tarrytown and after a talk with him said, "You will never see or hear from me again."

Benton was treasurer of Hebron lodge, No. 229, I. O. O. F., and was also treasurer of the White Plains lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose.

U. S. DEMAND ON PANAMA.

Asks For Surrender of Arms of the Police.

Panama, May 15.—The United States government has demanded the surrender of the arms of the Panama police. The American minister, William J. Price, is waiting for an answer.

It is learned from authoritative sources that the arms will be surrendered under protest.

Weather Forecast.

Overcast, followed by rain; moderate east to southeast winds.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
New York	54	Cloudy
Albany	58	Rain
Atlantic City	54	Cloudy
Boston	60	Cloudy
Buffalo	52	Clear
Chicago	62	Cloudy
St. Louis	76	Cloudy
New Orleans	80	Clear
Washington	64	Cloudy

STATISTICS.

Saturday Night.
(Women only.)

Attendance	4,500
Decisions	12
Reconsecrations	67
Children	1
	80

Sunday Afternoon.
(Men only.)

Attendance	5,500
Decisions	24
Reconsecrations	44
	68

Sunday Night.

Attendance	6,800
Decisions	51
Reconsecrations	68
Children	16
	135

Totals to date:

Attendance	88,200
Decisions	1,475
Reconsecrations	2,476
Children	295
	4,246

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

SEEK FOR SPIES AT FORT BLISS

Funston Probes Fires Set by Incendiaries.

PASSED NEARBY GUARDS.

Troop Stables, Twelve Horses, Ammunition and Supplies Are Burned. Sharp Brush Occurs Between American and Mexican Soldiers on Frontier—Another Raid Reported Near Columbus.

El Paso, May 15.—Two fires at Fort Bliss, near this city, are the subject of investigations ordered by General Bell, acting under the direction of General Funston. The fires were of incendiary origin, army officers say, and General Funston wants to know how incendiaries could get past the guards and apply the torch without being discovered.

Two troop stables were burned, twelve army horses, a quantity of ammunition in a storage house, besides supplies, and hay and grain were consumed. Both stables broke into flames at practically the same time. Guards were on the picket line not fifty feet away when the fires were discovered.

The alarm was sounded by the discharge of firearms. This alarm followed closely on the discovery of a fire in one of the storehouses of the quartermaster, also supposed to be under guard.

At the time the fires broke out several hundred El Pasoans were dancing in the headquarters room at Fort Bliss, 200 feet from the stable fire. They were members of the El Paso Country club, whose club home, three blocks away, was burned mysteriously three weeks ago. A number of army officers and their wives were living temporarly at the country club when the building was burned.

It is the openly expressed belief of army officers that the two fires at Fort Bliss were the work of Mexicans. This, following the raid on the Fort Huachuca telegraph office, when a number of the secret codes of the army were stolen, is causing the officers to wonder where the next blow will land.

Fight on the Border.

A fight between American guards on the Texas side of the line and a mysterious enemy on the Mexican side of the line seven miles below El Paso took place. For several days a large number of Mexican soldiers have been camped about nine miles down the river from El Paso on the Mexican side.

Valley residents grew so uneasy that a number of private guards were employed to patrol the river since the patrols of American cavalry are scattered considerably. One of these guards was fired on from the Mexican side of the line and returned the fire. Other guards on the American side joined him, and others joined the men on the Mexican side.

For ten minutes there was a lively exchange of shots across the river. The sheriff at El Paso sent deputies to the scene, but quiet had been restored. The American guards said that about ten or a dozen Mexicans had been shooting at them, and they are believed to have been a part of the band stationed about two miles farther down the river. The valley is thickly settled from El Paso east for a distance of thirty miles, and the residents are excited over the exchange of shots with the Carranza forces.

Reports are persistent here that a band of Mexican raiders crossed the line on Culberson's ranch, west of Columbus, N. M., and fired on a band of American cavalrymen, also that they drove off some cattle. The reports were unconfirmed.

NOBEL PRIZE FOR WILSON.

Friends Believe He Should Get the $40,000 Award.

Washington, May 15. — Friends of President Wilson believe that he is in line for the Nobel peace prize of $40,000, if it should be awarded this year. The prize was not given last December because of the war. Supporters of the president's candidacy point out that since December he has passed through several of the most difficult crises ever faced by the United States and has kept the last great neutral from joining the conflict.

If these hopes are realized President Wilson will be the second American president to achieve this distinction. President Roosevelt received the prize in 1906 in recognition of his services as mediator between Russia and Japan. He gave the $40,000 to endow the foundation for the promotion of industrial peace.

CALIFORNIA ASKS FOR RAIN.

First Dry April For a Period of Fifty-nine Years.

San Francisco, May 15.—Most unusual weather conditions have prevailed throughout California. There has not been a drop of rain since March 22. Last month was the first dry April California has experienced since 1857, a period of fifty-nine years.

To make matters worse, unusually warm weather has prevailed during the last month, and there has been frequent north winds, which have dried up the crops.

"Give us rain!" is the prayer of the farmers of California, who two months ago were praying for the rain to cease.

H. C. KREBS TO SPEAK.

H. C. Krebs, superintendent of the schools of Somerset county, will address the Young Men's Bible Class of St. Joseph's church, Wednesday night, in the parish hall. He will take as his subject "Preparedness." The class has issued an invitation to the men of the church and neighborhood to attend the lecture.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

The John Wanamaker Store

Broadway at Ninth, New York.

Season's First Sale

2,168 Men's Light-Weight Suits

$53,444 Worth, Wanamaker Standard Sale Price, $33,426. Savings, $15,018

(In the Main Clothing Store, Burlington Arcade floor, New Building)

722 Suits at $21.50

296 of $27.50 grade 46 of $30 grade
180 of $32.50 grade

414 Suits at $18.50

189 of $25 grade 225 of $27.50 grade

(In the Lower-Price Store, Broadway, Cor. Eighth)

527 Suits at $15.75

174 of $20 grade 195 of $22.50 grade
158 of $25 grade

505 Suits at $13.75

92 of $16.50 grade 217 of $18 grade
196 of $20 grade

Please get it in mind that to hold a sale like this—a sale of good clothing at real savings—just now when cloth is scarce and rising, and everything seems to be going the same way, is a BIG accomplishment.

Eleven manufacturers co-operated with us. We do a regular business with Eight of Them

They work well ahead. They are beginning now on orders for Fall and Winter clothes. Each had a surplus of woolens of the lighter weight for Summer wear. We took our pick and had them made up in our own models, our way, at something under usual price.

The Other Three

manufacturers wanted a share of our business. They were three out of three score and more. They showed us suits finished too late for delivery, suits made up in expectation of re-orders. We liked them. We took several hundred. You will be very agreeably surprised when you see them.

Good Materials

There are more than a hundred patterns in serge weaves, close worsteds—sheared and unfinished—and flannel cheviots.

21 Models

Good colors; grays, plain, checked and mixtures; blues, browns, greens, pepper and salt effects, stripes, soft tartan plaids, herringbone weaves.

How the Young Men

will like the smartly cut coats with short, broad lapels rolling down fairly straight front. The pinch back suits, three-piece suits, with waistcoats; the patch pockets, slant pockets, and 2, 3 and 4-button effects.

Every Suit Is New

Fresh from the makers. First offering of any of them tomorrow.

Tuesday, at Wanamaker's, street floor of New Building; enter on Broadway at Eighth or Ninth Street, or Fourth Avenue at Eighth or Ninth St., or from Astor Place Station of the Subway.

The John Wanamaker Store

PREPARE YOUR GARDENS AND LAWNS

With Fertilizers Scientifically Prepared.

Remember that Reliable Seeds are the only kind you desire.

Every Gardener should have a Good Spade, Hoe, Fork and Rake.

Preparedness is the keynote of the hour.

A Lawn Roller, Lawn Mower, Spray Pump or Water Can may have been overlooked.

Reliable Garden Hose, a Wheelbarrow or Planet Jr. Plow may be in urgent need.

Every need can be met, for we are prepared to serve you.

H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.

General Hardware and House Furnishings.

Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

Buying for the home cannot be done wisely and economically unless the "buyer" is a student of the advertisements—no more than a store may be made prosperous without advertising.

Automobile Page

60-R.

CAR PRODUCTION AS SEEN BY DEALER

"Eddie" Craig Believes Figures Will Be Reduced in 1916.

"There will not, cannot be, as many automobiles made in the coming year as we made in the past year," says Edwin Craig.

"That statement will come as a surprise to most people outside the automobile industry, and will be disputed by a good many inside perhaps," said Mr. Craig. "Nevertheless, I make it in full knowledge of its importance, and with confidence that the future will bear me out.

"If we were to accept the figures that are given out by the various concerns as to their plans for the coming year, and the increased number of cars they propose making, we would conclude that fully twice as many automobiles would be made in 1916 as were made in 1915. That the reverse will prove true I am certain.

"Do not misunderstand me. I do not wish to impugn the methods nor to question the sincerity of those who contemplate large expansion. I do not doubt they intend to, or rather, that they hope to make as many as they say they will, but I think I am pretty closely in touch with the conditions, and I have just concluded a very thorugh investigation of the material and the machinery market, and as a result of that investigation I assert that less automobiles will be made during the coming year than during the past.

"If to will it were to do it, 't would be done.

"If this were a normal year it would be possible.

"Under normal conditions capital could accomplish almost anything. But we have an abnormal condition—in fact, an unprecedented condition, and for that reason I consider it insurmountable.

"Take the raw material market, for example: The European demands are such that it is now impossible to obtain some kinds of raw material in any increased quantities. At this moment aluminum castings cost 85c per pound, as against 40 to 45 cents in normal years. Brass, tin, steel, iron, everything is not only abnormally high, but the output of all the mills has been contracted for, and it is now impossible for a manufacturer to obtain more than that for which he contracted.

"When the owner of a commodity has a customer ready to pay him twice the price at which he contracted to sell the same thing some months ago, he is very liable to "take the cash and let the credit go." In other words, to supply the customer who is willing to pay high and pay cash and let the other customer wait.

"Then take the machinery market: There is perhaps the most difficult situation of all. It is not only difficult, it is impossible.

"How often do we hear the exclamation, "What an opportunity to start a new automobile company!' as people see the tremendous over-demand for our product.

"It would be a great opportunity—if one could get the machinery or the raw materials. But, being unable to get neither, how is one going to start?

"Some of the leading concerns will undoubtedly produce more automobiles during 1916 than they did in 1915. Reo will be one of them—one of the 'lucky' ones—that, having the cash and the credit and the standing plus the foresight, was able to 'cover' on material and machinery a year ago, and is now able to enforce delivery of them Five or six of the other larger concerns are similarly situated, and these, as I have said, will make more than they did last year.

"But concerns who must of necessity buy from month to month their requirements in material, and especially those concerns making assembled cars, who must depend upon others for transmissions, motors, axles bodies, etc., which others in turn must contend in the open market for raw materials, machine tool equipment with European buyers to whom price is no object, will certainly fall far short of their calculations.

"Take the matter of bevel gears, for example. Anyone versed in the business can calculate with absolute accuracy just how many bevel gears it will be possible to make during the coming year. We know just how many machines there are in operation, and we know that it is not possible to get delivery on another machine inside of a year! Why, we only got delivery in December of bevel gear machines that were ordered last May—and our deliveries were made upon schedule, too.

"I could go right through an automobile factory, taking one machine after another and tell you just how long it would be before you could get delivery of another one of them—and the average would be more than six months.

"Taking into consideration all those factors, and the added fact that everything in the nature of a factory that a few monhs ago might have been available and purchasable, has been snapped up and is now running day and night on war orders or supplies for Europe, how can one figure on a greater total production this year than last?

"It cannot be done.

"Although some concerns will make more cars than last year, it must be remembered that several concerns who made a few hundred or a few thousand each last year, are now out of business, and that the smaller one, though full of ambition and encouraged by a ready demand, are yet unable to advance because of the impossibility of obtaining either the tools or the raw materials with which to do it.

"No, I am not elated over the situation, although on the surface it might seem to favor Reo and a few others.

"Fact is, while we will make more cars we will probably not make any more money this year than last for the very good reason that the advanced cost of materials will greatly reduce the margin per unit. So after all the only ones who really benefit are the ultimate consumers."

LIGHTS ON AUTOS.

The new Jersey law provides that lights shall be displayed on all vehicles from one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour after sunrise. The times by days at which lights must be lighted this week are as follows:

Today	7:40 p. m
Tomorrow	7:41 p. m.
Wednesday	7:41 p. m.
Thursday	7:41 p. m.
Friday	7:43 p. m.
Saturday	7:44 p. m.

—Among the readers of this newspaper's classified columns are possible buyers for any desirable real estate in this city

At 101 She Tells "Rules of Life."

Rahway, May 15.—Miss Anne Voorhees, one of New Jersey's oldest residents, has just observed her one hundred and first birthday anniversary. Miss Voorhees, who is the only living charter member of the Ebenezer church of this city, declares that her long life and exceptionally good health are due to a strict adherence to "rules of life" she took from the Bible when she was a child.

Plan New Boardwalk Block.

Atlantic City, May 15. — Improvements involving an outlay of $150,000 in the heart of the old Bowery district, separating Chelsea from the uptown business and hotel district, will follow a fire which wiped out a stretch of Boardwalk structures. City officials will permit owners to make temporary repairs to shops damaged by fire, but with the understanding that the buildings are to be torn down in the fall.

REO

The New Reo "Six"
"The Fashion Plate"

YOU NEED GO NO FURTHER—you need pay no more to obtain all the mechanical excellence, all the beauty, style, finish and luxurious riding qualities in a seven-passenger touring car, that your heart can desire.

FOR WE MAINTAIN that, though you search the world over, you will find no car at any price, that is the superior of this new Reo Six in these essentials.

MECHANICALLY IT HAS NO SUPERIOR—it is not possible to put better materials in a chassis, simply because the science of metallurgy knows no better. Reo uses and always has used the best. The fame of Reo rests on that.

IT IS NOT POSSIBLE to machine parts more accurately—for the Reo factories are admittedly the "Models" among automobile factories and Reo standards are admittedly of the highest.

AND IT ISN'T POSSIBLE to obtain an automobile, in the designing and fabrication of which, more experience has been applied—for the Reo organization is the oldest in the Automobile industry.

AS TO BEAUTY OF EXTERIOR we need only say that when this new Reo Six was announced and its graceful lines shown in the engravings it was instantly hailed by everyone in the trade—rival and friend alike—as the "Fashion Plate" for the coming year.

BUT REO BEAUTY ISN'T on the outside alone—it's in the unseen places as well.

THE SAME STURDINESS—the same wonderful reliability, dependability and economy of upkeep—that have made the four-cylinder Reo world famous, are in this Reo Six.

"50 PER CENT OVER-SIZE in all vital parts," that Reo factor of safety is the reason at the same time for Reo dependability and low maintenance cost.

JUST A WORD ABOUT DELIVERIES. Those who know are unanimous in stating that there will be a tremendous shortage of automobiles the next few months. Can't be otherwise. Shortage of all kinds of materials and of tools to manufacture them—demand greater than ever before.

SO WE SUGGEST that you decide this matter at once and order your Reo immediately. Then you'll be one of "the lucky ones."

TODAY won't be a minute too soon.

Demonstration Upon Request
EDWIN A. CRAIG
Front St. and Central Ave. Phone 2013

$1250

(36-A)

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT

the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.

AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.

MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

CHALMERS

Six-Thirty Touring Car a Wonder on the Hills

Johnston's Drive is one of her achivements ---gains speed all the way up---does not labor but seems to enjoys the task.

You will be delighted with the performance of this car.

CAN WE DEMONSTRATE IT TO YOU

We challenge any car for a friendly hill climbing contest on Dugway Hill or Johnston's Drive.

Stryker Motor Car Co.

140 EAST FOURTH STREET PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Branch: 246 North Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.

Representatives: O. A. REED NETHERWOOD, N. J.
HIRAM FINK, WESTFIELD, N. J.
RUDOLPH WIER, CRANFORD, N. J.

Expert Advice For the Automobile Owner

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

Is it advisable when going down small grades or turning corners to throw out the clutch and let the car coast, or would the added wear on the clutch offset any benefit to the differential? My car has a cone clutch.

Excessively frequent engagement and disengagement of a cone clutch naturally increases the wear on the facing and operating parts, proportionately impairing their condition. It is very improbable that any possible degree of wear on the differential which would be avoided by throwing out the clutch and letting the car coast down small grades or around corners would be sufficiently great to compensate for the increased effort to the driver and the greater rapidity of wear on the clutch facing and linkage resulting from making this constant practice.

Is there more danger of fire from placing the gasoline tank in the coil than if located a greater distance from the engine?

No, because the tank is sufficiently remote from the ignition.

If one or two lifting rods on the intake valves of a six cylinder car are too tight or too loose, is there much loss of power? If so, would this be more noticeable in starting than in regular running? Would it have the same effect on the exhaust side, and why?

When the car leaves the factory the lifting rods and valve stems are adjusted so that the clearance between them is only sufficient to allow for expansion of the metal caused by the heating of the engine when running. As a rule there is only the thickness of a visiting card allowed for this clearance. Naturally the motor operates best with this clearance, and when one or more of the lifting rods are too tight or too loose the power output of the engine is diminished. If the rod on the intake side is too loose the valve remains closed for too long a period and is likely to stick. In either case the amount of the incoming charge of gas is cut down so that the explosion in the cylinder is much weaker than would be the case if the valve clearance were correct. If the rod is too tight the valve cannot close properly, and as a result the incoming charge of gas is not properly injected into the combustion chamber, and when compression and explosion take place the partly open valve makes a bad leak, which, of course, greatly reduces the power of the cylinder. Conditions such as these make starting more difficult, and their effect on the engine is more noticeable at this time than when running. If the lifting rods on the exhaust side are too loose the valves remain closed too long and prevent the scavenging stroke of the motor from driving all the burned gas out of the combustion chamber to leave it ready for the incoming charge of fresh gas. An exhaust valve is also more likely to stick if too loose than if its clearance were only the correct amount. If the lifting rods on the exhaust side are too tight the same conditions obtain as on the intake side. The valve cannot close properly, and it is impossible to secure perfect compression, which is requisite for the development of maximum power. The results of the lifting rods having incorrect clearance on either side are the same in all motors, whether of two, four, six, eight or twelve cylinders, though, of course, the effects would be more apparent in the engines with fewer cylinders.

Will a six volt starting and lighting battery give as brilliant a light with fifteen candle power bulbs as a lighting system operated through a battery from a generator driven by the engine, the same fifteen candle power bulbs being used?

Though a six volt starting and lighting battery will give practically as brilliant a light as a generator system for a short time the intensity of the light will naturally decrease in proportion to the amount of service which the battery is called upon to perform. On the other hand, with a generator system the battery is constantly being recharged and the lights are maintained at maximum brilliancy.

What is the average size, in cubic contents, of the combustion chamber of an internal combustion engine with relation to its horsepower?

The displacement of the motor is no exact measure of its power. As usually figured, it requires 8.5 cubic inches per horsepower at 1,000 r. p. m.

I have had trouble with my generator. The ammeter shows only a slight current. After I clean off the commutator with sandpaper it works well for a short time, but very soon the old trouble returns. What is the matter?

The difficulty is probably due to a rough commutator. Cleaning with sandpaper, while it cleans the bars of the commutator, will leave the mica high, with the result that the brushes make imperfect contact, and the commutator bars soon burn black. The only way to correct this trouble is to remove the armature and have the commutator turned down in a lathe. There is also a possibility that the brushes which you are using are too soft.

When my throttle is at full retard it ordinarily permits enough gasoline to reach the engine to keep it running. Recently, however, my engine sometimes stops. Turning up the needle valve and allowing a little more gasoline to flow the engine would run all right throttled down even after the needle valve was returned to its original adjustment. What is the matter?

A number of solutions are possible. Your motor may not be running as well as it did formerly, with the result that it is more likely to stop when throttled down. It is also possible that the auxiliary air valve in the carburetor sticks occasionally, temporarily rendering the mixture inadequate. Valve trouble or any slight irregularity in operation frequently causes a motor to stop when turning over slowly. You should see that all of these points are checked up and also that the linkage between your throttle lever and carburetor is working properly; that there are no loose set screws permitting the lever to turn on the shaft, etc. Frequently a thorough cleaning and oiling will suffice.

Is thermo siphon cooling as efficient as the circulating pump?

Yes, if properly designed, though there are limitations to the size of the engine to which it is adaptable.

Running at twenty to twenty-five miles an hour over level road, should I retard the spark nearly all the way or move the lever only halfway down as compared with the throttle lever? Would I get the same power or would the engine consume more gasoline than if the spark lever was slightly ahead of the throttle? When should the spark be retarded?

Running over level roads your spark should be kept at nearly full advance, for using a late spark under these conditions and particularly when running from twenty to twenty-five miles per hour tends not only to reduce the power output of the motor and to increase to a surprising degree the amount of gasoline consumed per mile, but also to increase the likelihood of overheating. For ordinary running the best position for your spark lever is two-thirds of the way up the quadrant. The only times when the spark should be retarded are when the engine is laboring under a heavy load, when pulling through sand, mud or other heavy going, when going up a steep hill, which slows down the motor's speed, or when idling. An expert driver has almost perfect control over his car simply by his manipulation of the spark and throttle levers, and more attention would be given to this feature of car operation by many owners if they realized to what extent it promotes efficiency and economy.

Can a steering wheel be changed from stiff to adjustable rake, and how?

The steering wheel itself cannot be changed, but you no doubt refer to the column or post, which can be lowered or raised to any desired position.

When I start my car in the morning I have to crank it for several minutes before it will start. There is also a small charge being furnished by the generator. As soon as the motor starts it will throw a good charge and then drop back to a charge of about five amperes. The connections all seem to be tight. The battery is in good condition, testing about 1,250 to 1,275. At night when the starter is turning the motor the lights become very dim and flicker all the time that the car is going. Can you give some advice?

From the information you have given, the trouble would seem to be in the cut-out relay. When the engine is started and the relay is working properly the generator begins building up its voltage until it gets to about six volts. Then a current passes through the voltage winding of the relay, and a magnetic pull is set up. This overcomes the tension of the spring, which has up to this time held the armature of the relay away from the core of the coil. When the magnetism draws the armature down to the core the contacts on the front of the relay are closed, the act of pulling the armature down serving to bring the points on the other end of the armature against the terminals of the relay. When these contacts are made the circuit between generator and battery are closed, and battery charging goes on until the generator voltage gets below that of the battery. Then the battery current flows out in the reverse direction, this going through the coarse wire winding of the relay. Instantly the magnetic pull ceases, and the spring pulls the armature away from the coil core and also away from the relay contacts, thus breaking the circuit. Obviously, if the relay does not work as it should the generator and battery will not cut in and out as they should, and the trouble is likely to develop as you have outlined.

Please give me the strongest solution to place just in the cylinder jacket, not in the radiator. Would lye do, and how long should it stand to loosen rust and corrosion?

The best way to remove the rust would be to take the cap from the top of the cylinder and scrape the rust from the water jacket space.

Your Next Tenant Is an "Ad-Reader"

The tenant to whom your property would be most valuable is a reader of the "To Let" advertisements.

If your advertisement is factful, definite and fully informing he will recognize it as meaning OPPORTUNITY to him, and he will lose no time in getting in touch with you.

But if your advertisement should be vague, uninforming and written with a view to "saving space," it might not appeal of any personal interest at all.

PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY,
193 NORTH AVENUE

THE S... CE SHOP

CHALMERS PERFORMED ON JOHNSTON'S DRIVE

Walter Stryker and Rudolph Weir Tested Machine on Incline Yesterday.

With a view to putting the Chalmers six-thirty to a rigid test, Walter Stryker, of the Stryker Motor Car Company, accompanied by Rudolph Weir, yesterday afternoon drove one of the machines up Johnston's drive. This is the incline made famous throughout the country by the hill-climbing contest held here in 1909, when Ralph DePalma set what was then claimed to be one of the most remarkable records ever made for this kind of a test. DePalma, in an interview with a Daily Press reporter shortly after the contest, declared that Johnston's drive was one of the best hills for this sort of experiment that he had ever driven on, and advocated its use for other testing meets.

In yesterday's trials the Chalmers took the steep incline on "high" without the semblance of labor. Those who witnessed the exhibition, and even the drivers themselves, marveled at the manner in which the Chalmers performed. So gratifying was the result that Mr. Stryker, in an interview with a Daily Press reporter this morning, stated that he is willink to take on any other local dealer in a friendly competition in hill climbing either on Johnston's drive or on the Dugway hill, in the mountains. Both these inclines have been tried successfully with the Chalmers car, and the results exceeded even the greatst anticipations of the dealers.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON BRANDEIS NOMINATION

Washington, May 15.—Again postponing action on the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to be associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, the Senate Judiciary Committee today adjourned until Wednesday.

SWIFT CO. HELD GUILTY.

Chicago, May 15.—Federal Judge Landis today overruled the motion of counsel for Swift & Co., for a new trial of the case in which a jury on May 3 returned a verdict finding the concern guilty of shipping less than carload lots at carload rates, in violation of the interstate commerce law.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

MAFIA FACTIONS KILL ON NEW ORLEANS STREETS

New Orleans, May 15.—Two Italians were killed, three wounded and thousands of work-bound pedestrians were thrown into a panic this morning in a gun fight between rival Mafia factions in front of one of the largest hotels in the city. Police reserves rushed to the scene and the panic was quelled. Today's battle was the fourth here in three days, during which period eleven have been shot and five killed.

BIG BANKRUPTCY FILED.

New York, May 15.—Mills and Gibb this morning filed in the Federal Court an involuntary petition in bankruptcy. The liabilities are estimated at more than $2,000,000. No estimate of the assets was given.

SUBMARINE COLLIDES WITH BIG STEAMER

Washington, May 15.—A wireless message to the Navy Department today reported that the submarine K-2 collided last night with the steamer Aragon, four miles north of Cape Delaware, while en route from Hampton Roads to the New York Navy Yard. The submarine's bow was severely damaged. The injury to the Aragon and other details were not given. The K-2 was able to proceed on its way to the New York yards.

FIRE ON A STEAMER.

New York, May 15.—Fire broke out on the Hudson River steamer Rensselaer, en route from Albany to New York, today. Officers of the steamer said that the blaze had been confined to the linen locker.

WHAT DO YOU know about the printing of that most wonderful book—the Bible? Read the interesting facts and figures about it given below, and perhaps you will know more!

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

offers the very best edition ever printed for popular use, to its readers, in what might be called a "gift distribution:"

The Big Print Red Letter Bible

This illustration shows exact size

Specially Bound in Genuine Limp Bible Leather, Folding Cover, Red Edges, Round Corners, Gold Lettered Back, Full Size 9⅝ x 6¾ inches.

Fascinating Figures About The Bible

Over 200 million copies of the Bible have been printed. Touching end to end, they would go 'round the world —25000 miles. Piled one on another, it would take 4000 mountains like Mt. Everest, the highest in the world, to reach the topmost book. But this is not all. The public libraries of the entire world could not contain them. It would take two of the largest ships ever built, loaded to the deck, or a hundred freight trains, with 25 cars to the train, to transport them. Stacked in columns, they would make 100,000 Eiffel Towers, the tallest structure ever built by human hands. To print them would require at least 100 billions of pages of type.

The mere physical facts about the Bible stagger the imagination. All the other books ever printed seem microscopic by comparison. The Bible has been read by more people than any ten thousand other books. Today it forms the basis of religion for several hundred millions of the most enlightened peoples of the earth. The greatest war in history began in 1914, and shook the world from center to circumference. As a result, untold millions of people, startled out of their lethargy, took to the Bible to save their sanity and restore their mental vision. The first year of the war saw more Bibles sold than in any other year since it was printed.

It was the consideration of these facts that led this newspaper, in conjunction with all the leading newspapers of the country, to seize upon the psychological moment in which to inaugurate a nation-wide revival of Bible-reading. The edition now offered in these columns is the same as is being offered by the leading papers everywhere—not for profit to themselves—but for the benefit of their readers.

We invite comparison with any other edition of the Bible. We challenge competitive examination; secure in the knowledge that the Famous Red Letter Edition we offer, is easily first —and beyond any ordinary offering by publishers who seek only profit.

Compare It—No Other Bible Like It!

Wondrously Beautiful Half-tones of Scenes of Sacred History. Text Printed in Large Type, Easy on the Eyes. Eight Tinted Maps of Bible Lands.

Exquisite colored plates of Nazareth, Bethlehem, Holy Sepulchre, Garden of Gethsemane, Visitation of Virgin Mary, Modern Jerusalem, After the Crucifixion, Tiberias, Damascus, Gate of Jerusalem, etc.

ALL THE WORDS AND SAYINGS OF CHRIST distinguished from the context by being printed in red.

All Passages in the Old Testament prophetic of the coming of Christ, marked with a Star.

All the difficult words in both Testaments made self-pronouncing by diacritical marks; made so simple a child can pronounce them.

Complete Compendium of Bible Aids and Helps; useful to every Reader. This feature alone is worth MORE THAN the small distribution price asked by this paper.

Special Distribution Price To Our Readers

Only $1.23 and Three Coupons

Our Supply is Limited. Act Quickly. Begin Clipping Coupons at Once.

MAIL ORDERS Filled on Terms Explained in Coupon Printed Elsewhere in this Paper

SPORT TOPICS

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

GOOD PITCHING COUPLED WITH WEAK BATTING.

Supremacy in the pitching box spelled victory for North Plainfield High School in the initial title match with the City High School nine Saturday afternoon. Clever twirling by Oscar Dilts, coupled with heavy hitting at opportune moments, transformed the contest from one of the old time tooth and nail fights into a diamond farce. It was North Plainfield from start to finish; at the bat, in the field and on the benches. Eighteen P. H. S. batters took three healthy licks at the empty ozone and retreated. Weakness at the bat was the outstanding fault of the Plainfielders. This may be said without detracting from the excellent exhibition staged by the borough moundsman. He was at his best but on the other hand he didn't have the calibre of batters to contend with that appeared in the P. H. S. lineup a year ago, two years ago or even three or six years ago. The opposition Saturday was the same that was humiliated by Bill Lance at Pennington last week, not because Lance was the best schoolboy hurler in the country, but simply because the Plainfielders couldn't connect with the ball. North Plainfield deserves all the credit that goes with a clean-cut, well-deserved victory and there's nothing left for us to expect than another walkover when the two meet again unless the local boys get down to hard work and polish up their batting eyes.

• • • • • •

"JAKE" DEINZER HAS SOME TEMPTING BAIT.

When Plainfield High meets "Jake" Deinzer, of New Brunswick, on the ball diamond this week, the local batters will be given a chance to wrestle with some of the choicest curves a schoolboy mound artist ever served up. Deinzer last week scored a no-hit, no-run victory over a team that literally walloped the Plainfielders. He did it without exertion. Just what he will do to the local players remains to be seen but they'll have to do a whole lot more thinking against him than they did against Dilts Saturday if they don't want him to hang up another "perfect victory" at their expense.

• • • • • •

SECOND PLACE NOTCH FORMED BY LEAGUERS.

Now that we've located a second place incumbent for the City Baseball League we're ready for anything they choose to serve up. By dropping games Saturday afternoon the Tabs and Baptists entered into a runner-up partnership and sent the Netherwood champs to the top of the ladder. Can it be that the East Enders have designs on another pennant? The season is still young but now's the time to do the hustling and there will be some sorry souls around these parts early next October if the other five contenders allow the Netherwoods to get too big a jump on them. Go to it while the going is good and show the champs that they'll have to scrap for the pennant this year.

• • • • • •

FIELDS HAS THE MAKINGS OF A HIGH JUMP CHAMPION.

That Westfield-Plainfield High School athletic meet on Parker Field Saturday morning brought to light a new athletic star, one from whom much can be expected in the near future. This new light travels under the handle of Fields and comes from a State where they turn out athletes of championship calibre. While he is a clever all-around performer Field's most noticeable characteristic along athletic lines is his manner of executing the high jump. The same style that attracted world wide attention when attempted by Jim Horine, the national champ, is being practiced by Fields and report has it that the titleholder himself taught the Plainfield youngster the fine points of the art when the latter was a resident of California. A leap of 5 feet 4 inches is nothing to be scoffed at and this mark is one that will make jumpers of rival schools hustle to beat. Not since the days of Franklin Newell, some five years ago, has P. H. S. had a jumper who shows such promise as Fields and with the proper grooming he should be in possession of at least a brace of titles before the present season draws to a close.

• • • • • •

WHY NOT BRING THE MATTER BEFORE THE LEAGUE?

Considerable grumbling has been done during the past two weeks by certain managers on the City Baseball League circuit about umpires. They've been dodging some and soliciting the services of others. Just why this dissatisfaction should exist is a mystery even to the league moguls themselves. Before the season opened up the six managers and six captains agreed on a trio of umpires, all of whom had seen service in the league last year and proved entirely satisfactory. Now three or four team leaders are doing a lot of kicking behind the officials' backs. If there are grievances to talk about why not bring them before the organization through the proper channels and thresh the matter out? This grumbling isn't doing the league any good and it's certainly not proving profitable to the kickers.

Queries--Comment--Answers

Query—In order to settle a friendly dispute will you kindly name the different managers who had charge of the four baseball teams comprising the famous Plainfield City League of 1902?—W. J.

Answer—The managers of the four teams were as follows: Hope Chapel, John H. Cose; Manganese Safe Works, Alexander Muir; St. Mary's, James Monahan; Y. M. C. A., Charles E. A. Heyward. Mr. Cose and Mr. Monahan are still residents of Plainfield, while Mr. Heyward is in England and Mr. Muir is a resident of Harrison.

Query—Was the present Plainfield Theatre on West Second street opened in 1905 or 1906?—H. J. D.

Answer—The Plainfield Theatre was opened by William Counihan on August 24, 1905. The opening attraction was George Ade's comedy, "The County Gentleman," featuring the late George Thatcher as "Sassafras Livingston."

Query—Is the Panama Canal a double track, so vessels going west will go on one side, and vessels going east will go on the other side?—C. H. Y.

Answer—The canal is a single line, its average width being 644 feet and its least width 300 feet, but all the locks are in duplicate, and while one ship is going up another in the opposite direction may be going down. Ships going in opposite directions may pass each other at certain wide places in the canal or in any of the locks. This will be the case ultimately, but at present the canal is obstructed by slides.

Query—What are we to understand by "pork-barrel" as used in politics?—G. O. P.

Answer—The river and harbor and public building bills have long been facetiously called the congressional pork barrel because they usually carry so many appropriations. A member who secures an appropriation is said to have gotten his share of the pork. It is political slang.

Query—How can I make sure of a change in my line of business when the next Plainfield directory is published? They have had my name in the directory listed under the wrong occupation for two years and I want to change it.—L. P.

Answer—Write to W. L. Richmond, publisher, 233 Main avenue, Passaic, N. J.

NETHERWOODS KEEP THEIR SLATE CLEAN

Baptists and Hopes Form Second Place Partnership by Losing One Each.

CITY LEAGUE STANDING.

	W.	L.	P. C.
Netherwood	3	0	1.000
Baptists	2	1	.667
Hopes	2	1	.667
T. A. B. S.	1	2	.333
Farmers	1	2	.333
Clinton Avenue	0	3	.000

SATURDAY'S RESULTS.

T. A. B. S., 8; Hopes, 6.
Farmers, 7; Baptists, 3.
Netherwood, 12; Clinton Avenue, 8.

GAMES NEXT SATURDAY.

Clinton Avenue at First Baptist.
Farmers at Hope Chapel.
T. A. B. S. at Netherwood.

The third round of play in the City League was ushered in Saturday with a genuine surprise in store for all concerned. Reverses were handed to the First Baptists and to the Clinton Avenue and Hope aggregations. The defeat administered to the Clintonians was their third one and makes them the undisputed cellar champions, at least, for the present. The Tabs defeated the Chapel team and the victory was their first one this year. The Farmers also cashed their first win and did so at the expense of Dunc Patterson's Reserves. The victorious onslaught enjoyed by the Netherwood team was one that came as a result of vicious walloping and fast base running.

When the fourth round of battle starts next Saturday the beginning of the end for two or three of the league teams will be initiated. If the Netherwood team keeps up its present rate of speed, the gonfalon can count on floating in the vicinity of Emerson Field again next year.

ABSTAINERS BREAK THEIR LOSING HABIT

Populate the Win Column at the Expense of the Hopes.

The T. A. B. So. won its first league game on Soccer Field Saturday, defeating the Hope Chapel baseball team 8 to 6. The game was any one's up until the last man "beat it" for supper, although the Abstainers made it a point to secure as many runs as possible during the first three frames.

In the opening canto the Tabs rushed over a tally and the Hopes were unable to do likewise although they acted in a threatening manner. In the fatal fourth, the Fourth Street lads began to act. The Dixon, O'Loughlin, Brennan and Denny brothers combination oiled up its bats and things began to get interesting. When the dust cleared away the Tabs were ahead by a safe margin. This lead they held but did not augment to any extent during the rest of the game.

The Hopes became dangerous in the last two innings, although in the eighth nothing unusual transpired. In the seventh and ninth frames the Chapelites registered two runs per inning, but that was as far as they got. And that was not far enough.

The Tabs used a new catcher in the person of one Smith said to come from Bound Brook. He was good and should prove a valuable addition to the Abstainers' forces.

Britt Martin had the unique honor of handling 15 chances with only one slip.

The score:

T. A. B. S.

	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Smith, c	2	3	11	1	0
Clarke, 3b	0	0	0	0	1
Denitzio, 2b	0	1	1	3	0
Rosenson, ss	0	2	3	2	0
Dixon, 1b	2	1	7	0	0
O'Loughlin, rf	1	0	0	0	1
Brennan, cf	0	0	1	3	0
T. Denny, lf	1	0	2	0	0
J. Denny, p	2	2	0	0	0
McCarthy, cf	0	0	2	0	0
	8	9	27	9	2

HOPE CHAPEL.

	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Walls, 3b	1	1	0	2	0
Jaeger, ss	1	1	0	1	0
Miller, p-2b	2	2	1	4	0
Martin, 1b	1	2	15	0	1
Heron, lf	1	2	1	3	0
Luthman, c	0	0	5	1	0
Overland, rf	0	1	1	0	0
Porter, 2b-cf	0	0	2	2	2
Schott, cf-p	0	0	2	4	0
	6	9	27	17	3

Score by innings:

T. A. B. S.	14101000 1—8
Hopes	01100020 2—6

Summary: Sacrifice hits, Clarke, Brennan, Jaeger; sacrifice flies, Brennan; two base hits, Rosenson, J. Denny, Martin 2; three base hits, Rosenson; wild pitch, T. Denny; struck out, by J. Denny 8, Miller 4; base on balls, off J. Denny 8, Miller 1, Schott 1; umpire, Montross.

—Among the readers of this newspaper's classified columns are possible buyers for any desirable real estate in this city.

FARMERS DID HAVE VICTORY IN HIDING

Newcomers Got it Out of Their System at Expense of Baptist Clan.

Registering their first "big league" victory, the Farmer A. C. took the First Baptists into camp Saturday, turning the trick to the tune of 7 to 3. The game was an interesting one throughout and although the issue was not in doubt after the fifth frame, plenty of excitement prevailed right up until the fateful ninth.

The fourth and fifth cantos were the big innings for the victors and in these frames they registered four runs, all told. Errors and bases on balls were directly responsible for the two tallies in the fourth frame but bingles accounted for the trouble in the frame that followed. The losers obtained their first run right off the reel and annexed two more belated tallies in the sixth frame. After that inning the Baptists were never dangerous and in fact, were not as threatening as the weather. And Saturday was a clear day, too.

Duncan Patterson was not hit hard, although Kachelries and Friele garnered two bingles apiece. Kachelries was also spared as far as the Farmers' rod was concerned. He was touched for two bingles each by Terry, Van Norden and Banks. The other batters either got one hit or hit the ozone.

The score:

FARMER A. C.

	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Campbell, rf	1	1	4	1	0
Kachelries, p	2	2	0	1	0
Lord, 3b	0	0	2	1	0
Morley, lf	0	0	1	0	0
H. Anderson, c	1	2	7	1	0
A. Anderson, 1b	1	1	6	1	0
Nichols, 1b	0	0	0	0	0
Randolph, cf	0	0	2	0	0
Mullin, 2b	0	1	4	4	0
Friele, ss	2	0	1	2	1
	7	7	27	11	1

BAPTISTS.

	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Taylor, rf	1	0	1	0	0
Burner, 1b	0	1	6	0	0
Compton, cf	0	0	2	0	0
Terry, 3b	0	2	1	0	1
Gauler, ss	0	1	0	1	0
Stranahan, lf	0	0	1	0	0
Randolph, lf	0	0	0	0	0
Van Norden, 2b	1	2	3	3	3
Banks, c	0	2	12	1	0
H. Terry, p	1	1	0	4	1
Patterson, p	0	0	0	0	0
	3	8*26	9	5
	3	9*26	9	5

*Batted out of turn.

Score by innings:

Farmer A. C.	10022000 2—7
First Baptist	10000200 0—3

Summary: Two base hits, Burner, Banks; three base hits, Van Norden; first base on balls, off Terry 4, off Kachelries 3; struck out, by Terry 8, by Patterson 1, by Kachelries, 8; double play, Lord, Mullin to Anderson; wild pitch, Terry; umpire, Hansen.

THIRTY HITS LINED OUT IN THIS MATCH

Netherwood Champs Get Twenty and Hang Defeat on Clinton's Head.

Wielding their bats with telling effect and fielding in big league style the Netherwood baseball team, last year's City League champions, had little or no trouble defeating the Clinton Avenue team on Emerson Field Saturday afternoon, the score of the battle being 12 to 8.

The game was one in which hits were as numerous as spectators and runs as plentiful as cold storage eggs in winter. It would be difficult to follow out the Netherwood method of registering as their runs were obtained in bunches. However, the Clintonians were ahead up until the sixth frame, although their lead was held but by one run and was lost in the sixth canto. The loss was made all the more irretrievable by the annexation by Netherwood of three more runs in the lucky seventh. These runs came as a result of clean hitting. Freza, the first man up, was an easy out but Earl Moran singled and was followed in the act by Haberman, whose offering was also a single. Eddie Coughlin, the next man up, pounded out a one decker and runs began to register. Not to be outdone by his brother, Matty Coughlin approached one of Johnny Dixon's slants and another single resulted. Terry fanned but Venezia clouted and tallied later. Stewart could not further the cause and was an easy out. However, the damage had been done and three runs were chalked up for the Netherwoods. The big batting stunt pulled off in the seventh did not satisfy the Netherwood appetite for runs and in the eighth two more counters were piled up before the East Enders realized that they had enough. Hits by Frezza, Haberman, Venezia and Stewart were directly responsible for the runs on this occasion.

While they lost, the Clintonians were not lacking in ability to score and obtained their share of the registering variety. Henry, Wilson, Dixon, Emery, Bergen and Alberts were the run getters in the two big Avenue innings, the third and fifth frames.

The feature of the game seems to have been the batting ability of the winning team and inasmuch as all the players were alike capable in this art, the credit cannot be showered upon no one certain individual.

The score:

NETHERWOOD.

	R.	H.	E.
Freza, cf	2	3	0
Moran, c	1	1	0
Haberman, 2b	1	3	0
Slocum, 2b	2	1	0
E. Coughlan, ss	1	4	0
M. Coughlan, rf	1	2	0
V. Terry, lf	1	1	0
Clark, 3b	0	1	0
Venezia, 1b	1	2	0
Hannon, 1b	1	0	0
Stewart, p	1	2	0
	12	20	0

CLINTON AVENUE.

	R.	H.	E.
Gunzelman, cf	1	1	1
Brown, ss	1	1	3
Henry, 1b	1	0	0
Emery, 2b	1	2	0
Dixon, p	2	1	0
Wilson, lf	1	1	0
Bergen, c	0	3	0
Alberts, 3b	0	1	0
Pierce, rf	1	0	0
	8	10	4

Score by innings:

Clinton Avenue	00303010 1— 8
Netherwood	21300132 x—12

Summary: Two base hits, Venezia, Stewart; struck out, by Dixon 6, by Stewart 7; hit by pitcher, by Dixon 1, by Stewart 2; scorer, Dufford; umpire, Malanga.

RAY DUTCHER DEFEATED IN NATIONAL "CHAMPS"

Ray Dutcher, former Plainfield High School all-around athlete, was defeated at Newark Saturday for the national Indian club swinging championship. Dutcher has twice held the national title but yielded the crown Saturday night to J. Leslie McLoud, of the New York A. C., who scored 26.30 points against the Plainfielder's 25.70.

Dutcher, who represented the New York A. C., also held the intercollegiate club swinging title for two years.

IRA VAIL TOOK THIRD IN METROPOLITAN AUTO RACE

Ira Vail, an automobile driver who is well known to Plainfielders, having visited here on a number of occasions with "Vic" Tillotson, the former football star of the local Holy Cross eleven, surprised the thousands of racing enthusiasts at Sheepshead Bay Saturday afternoon by driving a Hudson "stock chassis" car into third place in the 150-mile Metropolitan Trophy Classis. Tillotson did not ride with Vail Saturday.

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played In National, American and Other Leagues.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

At Cincinnati: R. H. E.
Philadelphia..... 00000020 11— 4 11 3
Cincinnati..... 00000020 10— 3 9 0
Bender, Killifer; Schulz, Schneider, Wingo.

At St. Louis— R. H. E.
Brooklyn.. 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0— 3 9 1
St. Louis.. 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 0— 2 9 3
Pfeffer, Miller; Ames, Jasper, Sallee, Snyder, Gonzales.

At Chicago— R. H. E.
New York.. 1 0 3 0 1 0 1 0 0— 6 9 1
Chicago.... 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 1 1— 4 12 2
Benton, Tesreau, Ratiden; Rickard, McConnell, Archer.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	12	6	.667	St. Louis	13	12	.520
Boston	12	7	.632	Cincinnati	12	14	.462
Phila'phia	11	10	.524	Pittsburg	10	16	.385
Chicago	12	12	.520	New York	7	13	.350

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

No games scheduled.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	18	9	.667	Boston	13	13	.500
Wash'ton	15	9	.625	Chicago	12	16	.429
New York	13	11	.542	Phila'phia	9	15	.375
Detroit	13	13	.500	St. Louis	8	15	.348

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Newark— R. H. E.
Newark.... 5 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 *— 7 11 2
Buffalo..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 0— 5 11 1
Smallwood, Schwert; Wilder, Gaw, Tyson, Cooper, Onslow.

At Providence— R. H. E.
Providence.... 2 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0— 4 12 6
Montreal..... 0 0 0 0 0 8 0 2—10 8 0
Schultz, Rockbaum; Goodbred, Wells, Madden.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Newark	13	1	.929	Montreal	6	9	.357
Providence	10	4	.714	Rochester	5	10	.333
[illegible]	10	5	.667	Buffalo	4	12	.250
[illegible]	9	6	.647	Toronto	2	12	.132

[illegible]STERN LEAGUE.

[illegible]— R. H. E.
[illegible] 3 4 0 2 0 1 6 0—16 16 0
[illegible] 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0— 2 7 3
[illegible]nd Tyler; Martin and Smith.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
N. Lond'n	11	2	.846	Lynn	6	7	.462
Portland	9	4	.692	Hartford	5	7	.417
Lowell	8	6	.571	Bridgep't	5	10	.333
Lawrence	7	6	.538	N. Haven	4	9	.308
Spr'gfield	7	6	.538	Worcester	4	9	.308

RIFFERT AT RUTGERS.

When the Swarthmore College baseball team lined up against the Rutgers College forces at New Brunswick Saturday and administered a 6 to 3 beating to the Jersey athletes, Jack Riffert, former all-around star athlete of Plainfield High School, and a resident of Somerville, played right field for the visitors. He went to bat five times, scored one run, one hit and had no chances in the fielding line.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

OSCAR DILTS PILOTS N. P. H. S. ACROSS THE VICTORY LINE WITH 18 STRIKEOUTS

Clever Pitching, Coupled With Borough Team's Hard Hitting, Vanquished City High School Clan on Its Home Lot—Final Score 9 to 1—P. H. S. Lone Tally Came on an Extra Base Hit in the Eighth—First Game of Series for 1916 Title.

With Dilts pitching air tight ball and the team fielding in unison behind him, North Plainfield High School had little trouble in winning the first game of the annual interscholastic series with Plainfield High School on Parker Field Saturday afternoon by a score of 9 to 1. Dilts had the P. H. S. batters feeding out of his hand during practically the entire game and but for two solid stabs in the eighth inning he would have registered a shutout, but as it was he fanned eighteen men for an average of two an inning.

North Plainfield started right off scoring in the initial frame when Townley, the first man to face Davidson, drew a free pass and went to second on Marty McDonough's sacrifice, from where he scored when McDowell fumbled Mair's grounder. Dunham and Mills, in Plainfield's first session, took the count, and after Kyle had made a clean single Apgar flied to Kirch. While Dilts was either fanning the P. H. S. batsmen or making them die on easy taps, the boys from over the brook proceeded to put the game on ice by grabbing another counter in the second; three in the fourth and two in the sixth, as the result of some solid sticking.

After N. P. H. S. got one more in their half of the eighth, Semer started off at the bat for P. H. S. and with two strikes on him whaled a hefty single to left and stole second, from where he scored with the losers' only run when "Box" Apgar swung the only extra base hit of the game, a two bagger, to deep centre. On two other occasions Plainfield men got as far as third base, when Kyle and Noonan made singles and then stole second and third, but the punch needed to bring them in was lacking and the chance went by.

As usual Plainfield's slip-ups were costly, the winners taking advantage of each misplay. A shakeup in the infield resulted in improved fielding for P. H. S., but with the brand of ball the "Canadians" put up they had little chance of winning.

The score:

N. P. H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Townley, 3b	3	2	3	1	2	0
M. McDonough, cf	4	0	1	0	0	0
Mair, 1b	4	0	1	2	0	1
A. McDonough, c	5	0	1	18	2	0
Dilts, p	4	0	1	1	0	0
Dawe, ss	3	2	0	0	0	1
Kirch, rf	4	2	2	1	0	0
Yates, 2b	3	2	2	2	0	0
Van Mater, lf	3	1	2	2	0	1
	30	9	13	27	4	3

P. H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Dunham, rf	4	0	0	0	1	0
Mills, cf	3	0	0	2	0	0
Kyle, 1b	4	0	2	8	0	0
Apgar, c	3	0	1	10	3	1
Linke, 3b	4	0	0	0	3	0
McDowell, 2b	4	0	1	2	3	2
Noonan, lf	4	0	2	2	0	0
Victorsron, ss	4	0	1	3	3	0
Davidson, p	3	0	0	0	3	1
Dealman	1	0	0	0	0	0
Semer	1	1	1	0	0	0
	35	1	8	27	16	4

Score by innings:

N. P. H. S.	11030201 1—9
P. H. S.	00000001 0—1

Summary: Earned runs, N. P. H. S. 7, P. H. S. 1; two base hits, Apgar; first base on balls, Davidson 5, Dilts 1; struck out, by Davidson 6, Dilts 18; left on bases, N. P. H. S. 9, P. H. S. 7; wild pitches, Dilts; first base on errors, N. P. H. S. 3, P. H. S. 3; hit by pitcher, Van Mater; stolen bases, Kyle 3, Apgar, Noonan 2, Semer; umpire, Mullen.

Seen and Heard on the Street

Maltese cat trying to monopolize the limelight on stage at Plainfield Theatre with an exhibition of acrobatic feats while a couple of fair females were seeking the plaudits of a packed house.

Plainfield youth sporting his first silk hat and frock coat getting off a train at the North Avenue depot last night and modestly selecting all the dark alleys en route to his home.

Man with Saturday night "hangover" trying to get a drink of cold water out of an East Front street gasoline pump yesterday morning, mistaking the pump for a watering fountain.

Well known local gentleman parading along Park avenue "decked out" in a new straw hat and heavy winter overcoat.

Fourth street trolley car with big placard reading "Just Married," tacked on the back. Some mischievous youth had found the sign in the roadway and hung it on the rear while conductor was kept busy answering questions for five blocks before discovering the cause.

Fred Dixon making a fuss on North avenue Saturday night about the Plainfield-North Plainfield High School score displayed in front of the Daily Press office after some loyal Plainfield student had mane an "11" out of the "1," thus causing the score to read 11 to 9 in favor of P. H. S., when it should have been 1 to 9.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN WINS WEST SIDE TENNIS TITLE

Playing in the spring tournament at the West Side Tennis Club Saturday, Mrs. Spencer Fullerton Weaver, formerly of Central avenue, this city, teamed with Mrs. T. Casserbeer defeated Miss M. Bjurstedt and Miss Marion Vanderhoef by scores of 6-4, 1-6, 6-2.

This included competition in Class A, Miss Molla Bjurstedt, the champion woman player having previously won the singles. Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Casserbeer won both the semi-finals and finals, capturing the championship.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE FOR T. A. B. S. TOURNAMENT

The schedule for the T. A. B. S. house tournament this week will be as follows:

Monday, May 15—Lawton and Hines vs. M. O'Keefe and Roche vs. Caffery and Lyon.

Wednesday, May 17—James O'Keefe and Tom O'Keefe vs. Scott and Carney vs. M. O'Keefe and Roche.

Friday, May 19—Kyle and Monteferrant vs. Regan and McAfee vs. Monahan and MacDonald.

(OTHER SPORTING NEWS ON PAGE 3.)

BASEBALL FANS

GET A CELLULOID PRESS SCORING TABLET

They Are Ready for 1916

This Coupon with three others and Five Cents when presented at the Press office will entitle you to one.

LIMITED SUPPLY GET YOURS NOW

FISK

FISK BICYCLE TIP

The Best That Can Be Made.

For Sale by

George L.

179 NORTH AVE.

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — THE BEST SYSTEM OF ALL — BY "HOP"

Mono Storage

Warehouse

North Avenue

Opp. Freight House

125 East Front Street

If you want definite confirmation of our claims that we can handle your best, just have us submit, for your investigation, a few names of the many people we have "moved."

MOVING PROBLEM

High grade equipment, careful, trained help, moderate charges.

Call 541.

HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS

W. A. SCHORB & CO.

Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold. 120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2206.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE

Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.

We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.

207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms

326 to 330 West Front Street, Corner Grove

Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.

Phone 666.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 338-J

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS

Floral Design Work a Specialty.

Chas. L. Stanley

Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1126 South Ave. Tel. 331.

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2354

J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 38th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 815.

Carnations a Specialty

FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N Y Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising that car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS.

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

MONSTROUS AUCTION SALE
Of HOUSEHOLD GOODS
COMMENCING WEDNESDAY, MAY 17,

Large Store Room Over Gavett's China Store, 318 W. Front St.

At 10 A. M. and Continued Daily Until All Goods Are Sold.

Consisting of 1 88-note player piano, 1 mahogany piano, 1 pipe organ, beautiful gold furniture, settee and chairs; following list of mahogany furniture—Green velvet settee, carved morris chair, round tables, upholstered chair, bookcase, library set, chest, invalid table, davenport, chairs, rockers, piano stool with back, set of 6 white mahogany upholstered dining chairs; following pieces of beautiful curly birch furniture—handsome dresser with large round mirror, chiffonier, stand, chairs and rockers; following pieces of birdseye maple—bed, box spring, hair mattress, chiffonier, writing desk, cheval glass, stands, chair and rocker; following pieces of golden oak—beautiful set of dining-room furniture, consisting of buffet, round claw footed table, crystal closet, china closet, serving table, 6 leather seated chairs, as good as new. Other dining-room furniture consisting of buffet, crystal closet, round table, chairs, serving table, golden oak library table, chiffonier, book shelves, 3 sets of brass twin beds, hair mattresses and box springs, pillows, pillow rolls; other brass and iron beds, springs and mattresses; teakwood tabouret and others; brass and black andirons, 3 deer heads; silver wolf rug with head; porch swings, porch settee, chairs and rockers, reclining porch chair, gas range, pictures, rugs and carpets; large Crex Rugs, 1 Grandfather's clock and other articles too numerous to mention will be sold without reserve. Rooms will be open for inspection on Tuesday afternoon, May 16, from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. 1 flight stairs up to auction rooms. Look for Schorb flags. Terms, cash.

D. GAVIN, Clerk. 5 13 3 — WM. A. SCHORB, Auctioneer.

MONSTER AUCTION SALE
TUESDAY, MAY 16
10 A. M. SHARP

ONALAKE POULTRY FARM
1061 Rahway Road, Plainfield

1 horse, 1 mule, 1 6,000 Egg Hall Mammoth Incubator, 175 portable chicken houses, 175 Norwich Automatic Feeders, 1 250-foot brooder house, 1 75-foot brooder house, 300 single comb White Leghorn hens. Farm implements, wagons, articles too numerous to mention.

Sale rain or shine. Terms, cash.

V. W. NASH, JR., Clerk. 5 12 3 — GEORGE YORK, Auctioneer.

MONSTROUS AUCTION SALE
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MAY 19, 20, 1916.

Auction Rooms—Corner Park Ave. and Fourth St., Plainfield, N. J.

Consisting of the Following:

Mahogany buffet, teakwood desk and chair, mahogany crystal closet, mahogany dressing table, mahogany chiffonier, mahogany servette, mahogany sewing table, mahogany bed, spring and hair mattress, mahogany davenport, birdseye maple dresser and chiffonier, twin brass beds, spring and mattress, mahogany chairs and rockers, upholstered easy chairs, mahogany frame couch, upholstered in red plush; one extra fine Turkish rug, 12x15; variety of kitchen utensils.

SPECIAL FOR BOOK LOVERS

The finest collection of books by famous authors ever offered for sale in the city of Plainfield; must be seen to be appreciated.

Auction room opened to the public for inspection of the above Thursday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m.

WILLIAM R. TOWNSEND, Clerk. 5 15 5 — GEORGE YORK, Auctioneer.

AUCTION SALE AT THE AUCTION ROOMS
322 WEST FRONT STREET,

On Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16 and 17, at 10 A. M.

The following goods must be disposed of as the parties are leaving the city: One upright Bent piano, two piano attachments, with a number of records; one organ, three parlor suites, several dining-room tables, round and square; several handsome sideboards, mahogany, cherry and oak bookcases, large variety of piazza rockers and chairs, several Turkish chairs, wardrobes, chiffoniers, bath-room cabinets, two brass beds, several mirrors, white enamel beds, vases, library tables and centre tables, portieres, rugs, carpets, matting, Crex rugs, Japanese porch screens, canopy gas ranges and others; lot of crockery and other articles too numerous to mention. Goods can be seen on Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

R. MURRAY, Auctioneer.

326 West Front Street, Phone 666

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

—Press want ads. pay.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that my wife, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her in my name.

HARRY ELLIOTT.
Dated May 1, 1916. 5 1 3 m

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARKHUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 588.

DIED.

KANE—On Monday, May 15, 1916, Catherine Kane, beloved wife of Patrick Kane.

Funeral from her late residence, 208 Liberty street, Wednesday, May 17, at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m., where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery. Please omit flowers. 5 15 2

HOUSTON—At Elizabeth, N. J., on Monday, May 15, 1916, Hetty Woll Whitehead, wife of Charles E. Houston, in her 39th year.

Funeral services at her late residence, 149 Orchard street, Elizabeth, N. J., on Wednesday, May 17, at 3 p. m. 5 15 2

JONES—On Sunday, May 14, 1916, Evelyn S. Jones, in her seventy-ninth year.

Prayers at the home of her niece, Mrs. Charles R. Banks, Tuesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. Interment at Cuttingsville, Vermont. Friends will please omit flowers.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

DRIVER helper, on wagon, strong, sober, references required; steady work. American Express, Plainfield. 5 15 2

BOY wanted; white; about 16 years old. A. M. Griffen Co., East Front street. 5 15 tf

WANTED—Intelligent boy for office work, preferably not under 16; good opportunity for advancement. Apply in own handwriting, stating age and wages expected. Address Office, care Daily Press. 5 15 3

WANTED—A good blacksmith on wagon work. Peter Leach, South Plainfield. 5 13 3

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. H. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities. 'Phone 1724. tf

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

FOR RENT—Modern dwelling, 559 Belvidere avenue, 10 large rooms and 3 bathrooms; hot water heat; parquet floors; open fireplaces. Every modern improvement and convenience. Lot 100x165. May be seen by appointment The State Trust Company. 3 6 tf eod

FOR SALE—High Grade Building Lots on Evergreen avenue at Bargain prices. W. S. Haselton, Dunellen, N. J. 5 13 6

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulcanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue, Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

AT MURRAY'S auction rooms, 326 West Front street, you can find anything imaginable and a large variety of everything, at any price your purse can afford. If you have anything to sell send it to Murray's. We buy for cash or sell on commission. Watch for our next large furniture sale and list of articles to be sold. Murray's, next to drug store, corner Grove street. We removed from the Lufburrow building April 1st, and have no connection with the concern located there now. 5 13 2

FLAGS and lanterns, for parade. Olmsted, 331 Watchung avenue. 5 15 2

ALL kinds of carriages for sale. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

HARNESS WANTED.

WILL PURCHASE FIFTEEN SETS OF SINGLE HARNESS IN GOOD CONDITION; STATE LOWEST PRICE. A. SCHINDEL, P. O. BOX 198, NEWARK, N. J. 5 12 3

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

TO LET—941 Kensington avenue, small house, desirable location. Telephone 123-J. 5 15 3

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

NEW 5 and 7 passenger car for rent. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $25. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—May 1, house 303 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 2 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

COOKS, general houseworkers, with experience, white and colored, wanted at Mrs. Reed's Employment Office at once. 312 East Fourth street; must have good reference. 5 13 2

WANTED—Experienced girl for general housework; $30; no laundry. 715 Belvidere avenue. 5 15 tf

WANTED—A white girl for general housework; country for summer. Call 723 Central avenue. 5 15 3

SMALL girls wanted; four dollars to start; bring working papers. 318 West Front street; Weiser. 5 15 3

EXPERIENCED girl for general housework; no laundry; white preferred; wages $30. 1004 East Seventh street. 5 15 tf

WANTED—Waitress, experienced; white preferred. Apply 1106 Park avenue. 5 15 3

WANTED—A girl for second work, temporarily. Call 531 West Seventh street. 5 15 3

WANTED—Experienced girl for general housework; Scandinavian preferred, no laundry. 830 Dixie lane, Netherwood. 5 13 tf

GIRL for general housework, white; no laundry. Apply 437 West Seventh street. 5 11 tf

WANTED — General houseworker. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings; located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T. Vail, Plainfield. 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—High class, substantially erected, residential property; best location; 10 rooms; all improvements. Owner desires to be nearer Evergreen Avenue School. Would consider lots. Address Washington Park, care of Daily Press. 5 12 3

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 4 16 tf

Condensed Statement of Condition of

The Plainfield Trust Company

As Rendered to the Bank Department of the State of New Jersey
MAY 1st, 1916.

ASSETS.		LIABILITIES
Railroad and other bonds (Market Value, $1,067,825.22)	$1,063,941.55	Capital stock	$ 100,000.00
Bonds and mortgages	1,182,581.96	Surplus and undivided profits	307,980.37
Demand loans, time loans and bills purchased	3,410,990.78	Premium on bonds	17,124.17
Banking House	85,000.00	Interest and taxes accrued	49,746.46
Other real estate	9,454.40	Deposits	6,235,174.68
Accrued interest	41,400.20
Cash and reserve	966,706.72
	$6,710,025.68		$6,710,025.68

OFFICERS:

O. T. Waring, President.
Augustus V. Heely, Vice-President
J. Herbert Case, Vice President
DeWitt Hubbell, Secretary and Treasurer
F. Irving Walsh, Asst. Sec'y-Treas.
A. H. Kirby, Assistant Treasurer

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE,
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL
Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.
KEEP 'EM SHORT.

SERVICE

OF GREAT VALUE TO THE MAN OF BUSINESS

There can be no doubt that a general knowledge of trade conditions throughout the Country, will help to advance your own business interests.

This information is presented in concise form in the monthly Trade Letter issued by this institu -

We will be glad to add your name to our mailing list if you are not already receiving the letter.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2538-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

WE ARE USHERING IN THE GREATEST WHITE SHOE SEASON
ON RECORD

A glance at our windows will give you some idea of what we carry.

Better still, come in and have our salesmen show you the lines.

If you are not one of our regular patrons, we hope to have you added to our list.

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

LET US BRIGHTEN-UP YOUR HOME BY PAINTING IT!

WE DO
Paperhanging, Painting and Decorating in all its branches.

WE SELL
Paints, Brushes, Stains, Varnishes, Wallpaper, and in fact everything to brighten up your home.

L. B. Woolston. H. F. Woolston.
WOOLSTON & BUCKLE CO
Painters and Decorators,
143-145 NORTH AVENUE.
Established 1880. 'Phone 1086
m-s tf

W.B. CORSETS

give style, comfort and superbly fitting gown; are economical because long-wearing, and assure the utmost in a corset at a most moderate price.

W. B. NUFORM STYLE 419 (See large illustration). Medium low bust; elastic inserts. Splendid wearing coutil, embroidery trimmed. . $1.50.

W. B. NUFORM STYLE 440 (See small illustration.) For average full figures. Medium bust. Double hip construction assures double wear, with smooth fit. Long wearing Coutil, embroidery trimmed. . . $2.00
Other W. B. Models $1.00 up.

W. B. BRASSIERES worn with W. B. Corsets, give fashionable figure-lines and add to gown-fit. . 50c and up.

AT YOUR DEALER
Send for Free Illustrated Folder to Weingarten Bros., Inc.
New York Chicago San Francisco

No. 419—$1.50

Lawn Mowers?
Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the live cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.
THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.
119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.
Phones, 5—6.

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.

AT
Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

WALK-OVER

Walk-Over Shoes

Our stocks are now complete with a full line of high and low shoes for men and women.

Prices $3.50 to $5.00.

The season's newest designs.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 W. Front St.
Sole Agency Walk-over Shoes.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS,
VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

ORGANIZED 1868

PLAINFIELD SAVINGS BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is Your Money Doing Its Duty

It is important to place all idle cash promptly to your credit in the bank at interest.

It is not wise to hold it over until you have a large amount.

Your account is invited.

Accounts of $1 and up accepted.

William F. Arnold, President.
Albert C. Stebbins, Vice-President.
Howard A. Pope, Secretary and Treasurer.
H. B. MacDonald, Asst. Sec'y and Treas.

4% INTEREST PAID
ONLY SAVINGS BANK IN PLAINFIELD

Your Insurance Policy Against Moth Eaten Furs

Our experts have the whole summer before them to repair or remodel your furs. They now have the time to do the work right and our even temperature, moth-proof storage plant will take care of your valuable furs until you need them.

WE HANDLE THE BEST FURS IN PLAINFIELD BECAUSE WE DO OUR WORK RIGHT.

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

HERR'S SCHOOL
FOR BUSINESS TRAINING
FALL TERM NOW OPEN
Day and Evening Classes
Call, phone (344) or write for full information.
PLAINFIELD BUSINESS COLLEGE
171 East Front Street

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS

WATCHES
CLOCKS and
JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
217 Park Ave. Phone 1967-J.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale.
Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MEIRSTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

Have You
Headache?
Do your Eyes burn or itch?
Do they feel tired or strained?
If so, have your Eyes examined;
Your glasses may need changing.

STILES & CO
Philadelphia Eye Specialists
AT 107 EAST FRONT ST.
EVERY THURSDAY.
Hours 10 to 5.

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting-room, Watchung Avenue and Fourth Street, Plainfield, any week-day between 8:30 and 10 A. M.

All-year jobs at good pay.

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND
DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY
Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's
Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
210 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

OUR COMBINATION AUTOMOBILE POLICIES INSURE AGAINST

LOSS by fire from any cause, including explosion, self-ignition and lightning, and also theft, if amounting to $25.00 or more.

LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for injuries suffered by any person or persons when caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.

LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for damage to property of others (except property in your automobile) caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.

LOSS by reason of damage to or destruction of your automobile by collision with another object, moving or stationary.

Ask us for rates before you insure elsewhere.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS GEO. M. CLARKE CO. Babcock Bldg. Telephone 208 Plainfield.
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

"Stirring news" today—war news, local news, store-

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

ORGANIZED 1875

It Requires Two Keys

Your valuables when placed in our Fire and Burglar Proof Vault are not only secure, but private. It requires two keys—our key and your key—before the Safe Deposit Box lock will open.

Safe Deposit Boxes for rent
$500 AND UP PER YEAR.

CITY NATIONAL BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange or out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between Charles S. Cook, et al, Extrs. of Robt. H. Cook, deceased, complainant, and Laura Jones, et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-stated writ of fieri facias to me directed I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Sheriff's office in the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, All those certain lots, tracts or parcels of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey. Beginning at a point in the southeasterly side line of Willever street, distant one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet northeasterly from the intersection of the southeasterly side line of Willever street with the northeasterly side line of View avenue; thence southeasterly and along the line of Lot No. 8 ninety (90) feet; thence northeasterly, and along rear lines of Lots Nos. 22 and 28, fifty (50) feet; thence northwesterly and along line of Lot No. 8, ninety (90) feet to the southeasterly side line of Willever street; thence southwesterly and along the line of said street, fifty (50) feet to the place of beginning. Being all of Lots Nos. Six (6) and Seven (7) in Block R, on Plan of Building Lots known as Rockview Heights drawn and surveyed by H. C. Van Emburgh, C. E. Being a part of the same land and premises conveyed to the said Mary E. Crane by deed of The Improved Building Lot Association of N. J. and Pa., dated May 29, 1903, and recorded in Book 417 of Deeds for Union County, on pages 379 &c.

WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF JUNE A. D., 1916,

GEORGE C. OTTO, Sheriff.
CODINGTON & BLATZ, Sol'rs.
ma15 4tM EDJ&PDP Fees, $14.96

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

The shopper may often reduce the VALUE-GETTING POWER of her dollar to fifty cents—simply through neglecting to read the ads, or to know values—and by buying at "the nearest place."

The spot-light of full publicity, turned on a store, reveals and places in that full light a store's defects—if it have defects. For example: If high prices prevail, or lines of goods are not kept up to date, the reader of the store advertisements knows it. It follows that advertising "pays" the store that renders real service—and would not pay the other kind of a store.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Showers tonight; Wednesday partly cloudy; northeast to east winds, becoming variable.
Highest yesterday, 60; lowest this morning 51.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

ELOQUENT PLEA FOR BELGIANS

Mrs. C. F. Judson Tells Local Relief Society of Great Work Accomplished.

$100 GIVEN TO CAUSE

Treasurer Reports $410.50 as Profit From Recent Concert and a Balance on Hand of $578.96—Portable House Enroute.

The Plainfield Belgian Relief Society met yesterday at the home of its chairman, Mrs. Frederic W. Wallace, and after a brief business meeting, had the pleasure of listening to Mrs. C. F. Judson, of Philadelphia, who spoke on present needs in Belgium. Mrs. Judson is the wife of a physician who has been in touch for some years with conditions in European countries.

Since the beginning of the war, Mrs. Judson has worked to send five hundred dollars every month to the Duchess de Vendome, sister of King Albert, and the money constitutes a fund bound by no restrictions which is used by the king and his sister for the most desperate cases that are reported to them daily. The speaker dwelt on the need of a convalescent hospital in Belgium, as the Belgian soldiers have nowhere to go to convalesce, and there are at present beds for only very few. She spoke also of the great desire for remunerative work for many women of the upper class who, having given their all to help their less fortunate countrywomen, are now in a pitiable condition and beg for work, rather than for charity.

Undergarments made by these women will be sold in America. Many children who were rescued from the ruins of their native villages where they had been living on refuse like rats, in caves, are supported only through money sent from the outside, and great numbers of the population are now suffering and diseased because it has been possible to feed them only on starchy foods. Mrs. Judson has worked unceasingly for the little country that has paid so dearly for its refusal to buy peace at the price of dishonor, and her plea for Belgium was eloquent. At the close of the meeting the society voted to give one hundred dollars towards her contributions to the needy cases cared for by the Duchess de Vendome. It also repeated its resolution to confine its work as a society to helping the Belgians.

The treasurer reported that $410.55 had been given by Miss Corey as the proceeds of Miss Ayres' concert, and that there was a balance on hand of $578.96. A meeting will be held soon to decide whether or not the money must be used for clothing or for food. According to a recent report from the Belgian Commission, certain districts are now in danger of starvation. Summer and vacation will come for Americans, but hunger and pain persist in the little land across the ocean that now seems so hard to reach. Even the portable house sent in January is still partly in London, partly in Dunkirk and no one can say accurately when it will reach La Panne. Mrs. Wallace read letters and a cable on the subject from Mr. Thornton, and also a long letter from the Vicomtesse de Rancougne.

Recent contributors to the fund are Mrs. H. D. Corbusier, Mrs. Freedom Shepard, Miss M. A. Mellick and Miss Frederica Mead.

WOMAN IS ACCUSED OF USING INDECENT LANGUAGE

Marion Clark was arraigned in police court today on a charge of using profane and indecent language. She was arrested yesterday, but Judge De Meza passed the case against her until tomorrow morning.

MR. BLATZ A MEMBER OF HOSPITAL GOVERNORS

Francis J. Blatz, president of the Plainfield Common Council, will sit as a member of the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital at the next meeting of that body. Mr. Blatz has been notified by the Board that its membership has been altered so as to include the president of the Council, and that the change is effective at once. He will attend future meetings.

TEMPERATURE TODAY.

The temperature as reported today by the State Trust Company is as follows: 9 a. m., 52 degrees; 11 a. m., 54 degrees; 1 p. m., 54 degrees.

Music That Thrills And Soothes may be heard at Willow Grove, near Philadelphia. Take New Jersey Central excursion, Sunday, May 21. Leave Netherwood 9.16 a. m., Plainfield 9.21 a. m., Grant Ave. 9.24 a. m., Clinton Ave. 9.26 a. m. Round trip $1.50.—Adv.
5 9-16 ***

Do You Want to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv.
4 24 tf ***

FORMAL OPENING OF KENYON GARDENS

More Than 100 Children Gather at Recreation Center and Plan for Work.

The Kenyon Gardens were formally opened yesterday afternoon when more than one hundred children gathered to meet those who have charge as representatives of the Kenyon Gardens' Association. Mrs. James W. DeGraff and the Misses Martin, Lapsley and Lock received the children. All of the work yesterday was of a preliminary nature.

The association has engaged Miss Cecilia Knutzen, of Philadelphia, as supervisor and instructor at the gardens. She received the first prize in her city for having the best garden and comes highly recommended. It will be a part of her duties to teach the children everything about the care of gardens, seeds, the preparation of soil, when to plant and how to care for the gardens and countless other details.

Mr. Cook, the principal of the Washington School, will have charge of a class of boys and they will receive the same instruction as the girls. It is planned to divide the children into classes of twenty-five, it being more convenient for instruction. The Kenyon Cottage, which will be used for the care of tools, etc., is nearing completion. Each child will have a garden which he or she will be expected to care for personally. All of the children are invited to be at the gardens Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, when William D. Murray will give them a talk.

NO OBJECTIONS TO 1916 SCHOOL BUDGET

Public Recreation Committee Denied Additional $200—Coal Bids Rejected.

Champlain L. Riley, president of the Public Recreation Committee, was the only person who appeared at the public hearing on the tentative school budget at the Plainfield High School last night. He was there for the purpose of trying to induce the Board of Education to increase the appropriation to the Recreation Committee $100, but the Board did not feel justified in doing this, especially at this time. The committee will now receive $2,000 in all for its work the coming year.

The entire membership of the School Board, together with the Board of School Estimate, members of the City Council, Mayor Calkins and Dr. Henry M. Maxson, superintendent of schools, attended the hearing. Considerable time was taken up with a discussion of financial matter with Mr. Riley, the latter explaining somewhat in detail what the Recreation Committee has done and hopes to accomplish.

The Board of Education rejected all coal bids received a week ago and decided to readvertise for bids. The reason for this action was that the prices quoted by the three coal dealers who bid for the contract were too high. It is hoped that a more attractive figure will be received next time, whereby the Board may be able to save some money.

As there was no one present last night to offer objections or make protests against any of the items which go to make up the budget, it is believed that it will be finally approved by the Board of School Estimate and so certified to the City Council.

FINED FOR CREATING DISORDER IN HOUSE

John and William Crawford, both colored, were each fined $8 in police court this morning when tried on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were arrested as contributors to a nuisance in the form of a disorderly house, and Judge De Meza fined them in an effort to break up the nuisance.

NEW POSTOFFICE RULES.

As the result of new rules which went into effect at the local postoffice yesterday, the letter-carriers now start on their rounds from a quarter to a half-hour earlier than formerly on their first trip. The change provides that twelve carriers are made what are known as "three trippers," instead of two, covering the readjustment of routes made by the postoffice inspectors as the result of their investigation. No change is made in afternoon schedules.

ALUMNAE TO HOLD REUNION.

The Alumnae of Mt. St. Mary College will hold their annual reunion and banquet, on Tuesday, May 30.

Defiance Tires.
Guaranteed 4,000 miles and lower in price than others. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. ***

—1914 Hudson six, valves ground, carbon removed; good condition. Laing Machine Auto Repair Co.—Adv. ***

INDIAN LEGEND TO BE GIVEN IN JUNE

Performances This Year Expected to Eclipse All Previous Productions.

HISTORICAL PORTRAYAL

W. de LaR. Anderson, Author of the Legend, to Play Leading Role of "One Feather," Chief of Watchung Indians—The Castt.

The Indian legend of Watchung, the monster pageant given each spring by the inhabitants of Watchung, will be presented for the sixth consecutive time on the evenings of June 9 and 10. Preparations for the production are now actively underway and this year's portrayal promises to far eclipse all precious efforts of the participants. The production is dramatized in pantomime from a story handed down by an old settler. W. de La R. Anderson has written the entire legend and he himself plays the leading role, that of "One Feather," chief of Watchung Indians.

The performance this year will excell any of the former performances and the seating arrangements are being greatly extended to accommodate those who will come from all over the State and New York to witness it. Representatives of several historical societies have signified their intention of attending. Work for even better lighting effects will be begun this week and the whole mountain side, opposite Wetumpka Falls, will be aglow with thousands of concealed electric bulbs.

The story reveals in pantomime the trials and hardships of the early settlers of Watchung, their encounters with the Indians and their ultimate freedom through the intervention of a half-breed Indian princess, who befriends the whites. The cast this year will include the following:

"One Feather," chief of Watchung Indians, W. de La R. Anderson; "Blue Wolf," sub-chief of Watchung Indians, E. T. Canning; "Deer Prong," tribal scout, Edward Bodin; "Lame Dog," medicine man, Percy Von Ohl; "braves," Messrs. Spear, Wheeler, Underhill, Gunn, Patte, McQuade, Cleaves, Schmidt, Spicer, Marfing, Triano, Featherstone, Stout, Burnett, and others; "squaws," Mms. Kennedy, Groszmann, Bodin, Titus, Patte, Schmidt, Griffiths, Mlls. Koons, McQuade, Titus, Hance, Eaton and Griffiths; "Indian children," Masters Snoden, Triano, Mobus, Meyers, Mlls. Bartles, Titus and Giddis; whites, "Capt. Michelson," leader of settlers, Lewis Snoden; "Wetumpka," Indian princess, Miss Theresa Schmidt; Mrs. Michelson and Miss McCass; men, Messrs. Groszmann, Herrman, Mobus, Kennedy, Hance, Moldenke, Schmidt, Gunn, Neier and Bodin; women, Mms. Snoden, Wheeler, Mobus and Schmidt; children, Masters Meyers, Mobus, Schmidt, and Mlls. Titus and Meyers. The director of the production is Dr. M. P. E. Groszmann.

LOCAL CHAPTER TO OPEN HEADQUARTERS

Women in Favor of Preparedness Are Planning for An Active Season.

The Plainfield and North Plainfield Chapter of the National Special Aid Society for American Preparedness held a directors' meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of the president of the organization, Mrs. Frederick W. Goddard, on Woodland avenue. Chairman of the following committees were elected: Membership, Miss Margaret Buttfield; home economics, Miss Mary B. Wells; clothing and necessities, Mrs. Lawrence Van Buren; training in case of sickness, Mrs. William W. Coriell; scientific gardening, Mrs. Charles Reed; publicity, Miss Dorothy Lyon; rifle instruction, Mrs. William M. Powell. Plans were then made by the chairmen of these committees for commencing the various classes.

The local chapter will open headquarters in Plainfield tomorrow afternoon at 216 Park avenue. The headquarters will be open every afternoon for the next two weeks from 2 to 5 o'clock, and there any information concerning the organization may be obtained, and members may be enrolled in the chapter or the various classes.

FREDERICK WEBER'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Frederick Weber, whose death occurred Saturday, was held yesterday afternoon at 1:15, from his late home, 924 West Third street. Rev. D. B. F. Randolph, pastor of the Monroe Avenue Baptist church, conducted the service in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The floral offerings were unusually many and beautiful, many set pieces being included in the number. The interment took place in the Bound Brook cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: George Gardner, Arthur Tallman, Frank Tallman and J. W. Mundy.

Notice to Dog Owners.

All dog licenses expire on May 20th, and should be renewed on or before that date.—Adv. 5 16 3 ***

25,000 KNIGHTS IN BIG PARADE

Monster Demonstration on Newark Streets Witnessed by Record Throng.

PLAINFIELD 250 STRONG

Local Delegation Prominent in Opening Event of Convention Program—One Hundred Bands and Drum Corps in Line.

More than 25,000 members of the Knights of Columbus, 250 of whom represented Watchung Council, No. 552, of this city, took Newark by storm yesterday afternoon and last night and gave one of the greatest street demonstrations ever seen in this State. Councils from all parts of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and elsewhere sent delegations of members in characteristic regalia to participate in the opening event of a two days' annual convention at the celebration city.

One hundred fife and drum corps and bands headed the various contingents that paraded up and down Broad street beween the hours of 9 and 12 last night, passing before the elaborately arranged reviewing stand on the steps of the city hall. Visiting knights and their friends began to stream into the city early in the afternoon, special trains on the Central, Pennsylvania and D., L. and W. Railroads arriving at frequent intervals up to the time the parade started. The sidewalks on both sides of Broad street were packed solidly with humanity from curb to building line and parking space for automobiles and other vehicles was at a premium. Every side street and avenue was lined with automobiles and many of those who had come from miles around to witness the monster spectacle couldn't get so much as a glimpse of the paraders.

Although the weather was threatening throughout the early portion of the evening the deluge held off until the fete was brought to a close and the delegations were able to carry out their novel plans of dress and march.

Plainfield knights formed a box, members garbed in white flannel trousers lining the four sides, and the center mass was composed of dark suited marchers. The entire delegation wore straw hats and performed the feature novelty of the night when it stopped in front of the reviewing stand and saluted Mayor Raymond and his fellow judges. Plainfield had the only bugler in line and this also proved a noticeable feature.

Father B. M. Bogan and Father John McDonald, of St. Mary's church, headed the local line of march and were given rousing ovation when they passed the reviewing stand. A band of fifty pieces, composed of inmates in St. John's Home, of Brooklyn, furnished the Plainfield musical program and was accorded round after round of applause along the line of march.

A special train leaving the North Avenue depot at 7:05 last night brought nine full cars of visitors to Newark. This train "made-up" at Somerville and stopped at all stations between there and Roselle. Following the parade the Plainfielders and their friends were entertained by the Newarkers, leaving that place at an early hour this morning.

Those active in the celebration plans this morning stated that to date last night's spectacle was the largest put on and it is doubtful if another such throng as that present last night visits the Jersey metropolis during the remaining five months of festivity. Every thoroughfare was jammed from gutter to putter prior to the parade and it was with difficulty that a big detachment of traffic policemen cleared the way for the participants. Brilliantly lighted buildings and public monuments along Broad street furnished illumination that rivalled daylight and the reflections in the sky could be seen for miles around.

CONGRESS WANTS TO ADJOURN JULY 30

Kitchin Says It Can Be Done if Members Will Work Hard.

Washington, May 16.—The first definite announcement by the Democratic leaders as to the probable date of adjournment was made in the House today during the debate on the rule for the consideration of the administration's shipping bill.

"The Democratic party is in control of this House and is responsible for its legislation," said Mr. Kitchin. "If the Democrats will remain in their seats we will be able to complete the legislative program and adjourn by July 30."

GASTON McNEAL.

Gaston McNeal, colored, aged fifty-six years, died last night in Muhlenberg Hospital. He was admitted to the institution recently from Jerseyland Park.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

REVIEWS HISTORY OF 'TEMPLARISM'

Rt. Eminent Sir Peter McGill Gives Lecture Before Trinity Commandery.

PRESENTATIONS MADE

Handsome Silk American Flag Given to Commandery by Commander R. F. R. Huntsman and Recorder A. D. Honeyman Receives a Charm.

An address of unusual interest by Right Eminent Sir Peter McGill, of Bound Brook, together with several presentations, were features of the conclave of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, Knights Templar, in the asylum in the Babcock building last night. There was a large attendance of members, including three past grand commanders, Peter McGill, Nelson Y. Dungan and Dr. Daniel C. Adams.

The address by Mr. McGill was on the subject of "Templarism as it was 800 years ago, and as it is today," and it proved to be exceedingly instructive to all the Templars present, as it reviewed the notable history of the organization.

One of the surprises of the evening was the presentation of a handsome silk American flag to the commandery by Eminent Commander R. F. R. Huntsman. The presentation was made for Mr. Huntsman by Past Grand Commander Nelson Y. Dungan, in a well-worded speech. This flag will take the place of the one destroyed in the fire which wrecked the Babcock building. The gift was greatly appreciated by the members, who personally thanked Mr. Huntsman for his thoughtfulness.

Still another surprise of the evening was the presentation to Albert D. Honeyman of a Knights Templar charm studded with six diamonds, in appreciation of his untiring efforts to bring the records of the commandery up to date and keeping them in such excellent shape. The charm was presented to Mr. Honeyman by Mr. Huntsman, who took occasion to praise the former for his great work in the interest of the commandery. Mr. Honeyman was completely surprised. He thanked the members for the fine gift.

After the business of the evening, all the knights adjourned to the banquet room, where the entertainment committee provided a "spread." The rest of the evening was spent in sociability.

WAIVED SOCIALIST FLAG IN PARADE

Henry Babcock, Formerly of Fanwood, Gets Into Trouble in New York.

Henry Babcock, son of former Mayor Wright Babcock, of Fanwood, who has been an ardent Socialist for a number of years, gained considerable notoriety during the Preparedness parade in New York Saturday, when he was apprehended for distributing Socialist literature and breaking through the line of march with a Socialist banner.

Babcock is reported to have dashed hither and thither through the police lines carrying a banner upon which was inscribed "The Church of the Social Revolution." Acompanying him were four or five young women, wearing red sashes and distributing anti-militaristic literature. The young man is said to have declared to the police that he was merely exercising his rights as a citizen, and as he was being taken to a police station, the young women with him followed and taunted the police with cries of "Cossacks." When Babcock was taken into custody he gave his present address as 600 West 122d street, New York.

PENN. STEEL COMPANY FILES ITS ANSWER

Trenton, May 16.—The Pennsylvania Steel Company of New Jersey today filed in the Federal Court its answer to the suit of J. H. Brandt, of Philadelphia, to restrain the company from selling its properties to the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

TO COLLECT $12,393,929 FROM WEST VIRGINIA

Richmond, Va., May 16.—Notice of application for execution against the State of West Virginia for $12,393,9292 has been filed on Attorney-General Lilly, of that State, by Attorney-General Pollard, of Virginia. The motion will be made in open court June 5 in Washington. The sum named is the amount awarded by the Supreme Court of the United States to Virginia.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

J. P. MURRAY RESIGNS AS ANTI-T. B. TREAS.

Absence From Town Compels Him to Give up Position. He Has Long Occupied.

After having served several years as treasurer of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, James P. Murray last night tendered his resignation to that organization, as he has been compelled to leave town because of ill health. Mr. Murray has been identified with the organization ever since it was started, and it has been largely due to his efforts that it has been placed on such a firm financial foundation. Malcolm McKenzie, of Watchung avenue, was elected as his successor. In accepting Mr. Murray's resignation, the following minute was passed:

"The trustees learned with sincere regret of the absence of our treasurer from the city, and of the fact that he has felt it necessary to tender his resignation. In accepting the resignation the trustees desire to express their sincere regret to Mr. Murray, and the hope that he may be able to return to his duties very soon. While appointing hi ssuccessor in the meantime, they desire to make record hereby of their deep-felt appreciation of the great value of Mr. Murray's long and faithful service in the office of treasurer, and of the work which he has performed for the league, not only in the matter of its finances, but in all things pertaining to the progress and growth of the Anti-Tuberculosis cause in the city and State. It is resolved that the secretary write to Mr. Murray the sentiments here expressed."

Aside from acting on Mr. Murray's resignation, only business of a routine nature was transacted at the meeting.

MAYOR TO AID IN ENFORCING PEACE

Claybrook and Clay Will Also Attend League Session in Washington.

Plainfield will be represented at the meeting of the League for the Enforcement of Peace to be held in Washington this month by Mayor Leighton Calkins, Richard A. Claybrook and George S. Clay. The league will hold its first meeting May 26 and 27, when a permanent organization will be formed. Mayor Calkins has signified his intention of going and has appointed Messrs. Claybrook and Clay as commissioners from the city of Plainfield. Both have accepted the honor.

The League for the Enforcement of Peace is the result of work on the part of such men as President Lowell, of Harvard, and former President William H. Taft. Mr. Taft is its temporary president. Its idea is to secure the agreement of all nations to a treaty forcing them to arbitrate before war. They are not obligated to accept the decision of the arbitrators, but if they rush into a war without arbitration, other nations in the treaty will fight [illegible] them in the war. The pl[illegible] about deliberation an[illegible]ation before war.

The league does not hope to have any effect on the present war, but to prevent future conflicts.

MISS VIOLA KIRCH GIVEN MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was given last evening to Miss Viola Kirch, of Clinton avenue, by a host of her friends. An enjoyable evening was spent in games and many beautiful and useful gifts were received. Refreshments were served and congratulations offered. The shower was in the nature of a surprise and was arranged by her sister, Mrs. W. H. Stryker, in honor of her coming wedding to William C. Mesner, of this city.

TEST VOTE INDICATES PASSAGE OF SHIP BILL

Washington, May 16.—The first test vote on the shipping bill today indicated that the measure would be passed by a majority of about fifty votes. The vote was taken on a motion of Representative Henry, of Texas, ordering the previous question on the adoption of the special rule.

BIG LINERS COLLIDE.

New York, May 16.—In a dense fog late last night the Italian liner San Giovanni and the Swedish steamer Grekland collided off Sandy Hook while outbound from this port. The Grekland was bound for Scotland with a large cargo and was badly damaged, and returned to port to go into dry dock.

—Compensating vapor plug, $5.00; saves gasoline, increases power. Laing Machine Auto Repair Co.—Adv.
5 16 3eod

PROOF ASKED IN SULLIVAN CASE

Explanation Demanded in British House of Commons.

APPAM CASE DECIDED

Lansing's Note Handed to Von Bernstorff—German Attacks on Hill 304 Repulsed—Austria Prepares For a New Offensive.

London, May 16.—Official explanation of the arrest of James M. Sullivan, former United States Minister to Santo Domingo, in connection with the Sinn Fein uprising in Dublin, was asked today by Timothy Healy, a member of the House of Commons.

Note in Appam Case.

Washington, May 16.—The text of Secretary of State Lansing's memorandum to Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, on the Appam, was made public today. The note makes clear the fact that the American Government holds that the Prussian Treaty of 1799 does not apply to the Appam.

New Austrian Offensive.

Amsterdam, May 16.—Austrian advices stated that many batteries of heavy guns and masses of troops, mostly Austrian, have arrived at Vilna on the Eastern front. Generals Eichorn and Gallwizt have returned there from the Illuket front and a big offensive is expected.

Sink Munition Ship.

Amsterdam, May 16.—An Austrian munition ship is reported to have been sunk by a mine in the Adriatic Sea off Durrazo, Albania.

War Loan is Extended.

Amsterdam, May 16.—The fourth Austrian War Loan has been prolonged until May 23, because hitherto it has been a failure.

Germans are Repulsed.

Paris, May 16.—German artillery continued its bombardment of French positions at Avocourt Wood and Hill No. 304 on the Verdun front last night, but the infantry operations of the Crown Prince's army were confined to a feeble attack on the east bank of the Meuse in the region of Hiaumont farm. This attack, says the communique issued this afternoon by the War Office, was completely repulsed.

Drop Bombs on Porto Lagos.

Saloniki, May 16.—A squadron of British aeroplanes has bombarded Porto Lagos, it was announced here today. Good results were obtained. Porto Lagos is a Bulgarian port on the Aegian Sea, lying west of Dedeagatch.

2 VILLA LEADERS DEAD IN BATTLE

Funston Reports on Fights—Train Wrecked and Americans Killed.

Washington, May 16.—General Funston, in dispatches to the War Department today, confirmed the killing of three Mexican bandits, including Julio Cardena, Villa leader, when they attacked twelve Americans in an automobile under Lieut. George S. Patton near Rubio ranch, Sunday. General Oriles Acosta, Villista leader, who was reported wounded during the clash at Ajo Azules in the fighting on May 5, with Major Howze, was reported to be dead, General Funston stated.

Cabinet Feels Easier.

Washington, May 16.—An informal draft of the forthcoming note on mail seizures to Great Britain was discussed at the cabinet meeting today. It probably will be sent within the next few days. The Cabinet took up the Mexican situation and analyzed the report made on conditions by General Scott, who has just returned from his conferences with Obregon. There is a general feeling that cooperation between Prshing's troops and the Carranzistas is established, and that the situation is easier now than it has been in many weeks.

Bandits Wreck a Train.

Laredo, Tex., May 16.—Passengers who have just arrived here tell of the wrecking of a train between Queratarо and Palma Gonzales, Mexico, last Friday, by Zapata bandits. Twenty-four persons are said to have been killed. The pasengers, including several Americans, were robbed. During the robbery the bandits continually shouted, "Viva Villa!"

The private car of Charles A. Douglas, Carranza"s counsel at Washington, was on the train, but Douglas was not molested. Two of Carranza's army paymasters were robbed of $36,000 in Carranza's new paper money. An American paymaster of the Ol Oro Mining Company lost $33,000 in the same kind of money, while another American passenger named Hill was relieved of $3,000 in gold.

Tremendous Sacrifice of WOMEN'S SUITS and COATS

$12.50

Wednesday

Bargains You Can't Afford to Miss

Rousing values, such as are offered in this Wednesday sale, make historic mile posts in one's shopping experience. Included in the collection offered at this price are superb models in gabardines, poplins, serges and checks, which were taken from our regular line of much higher priced suits and coats to make this event memorable. The styles include all those smart ripple flare effects, straight flare and belted models. In fact the very choicest styles of the season. Everyone in the lot radiates an air of artistic elegance only found in higher priced garments.

J. A. Fass
THE PARIS STORE

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

NARROWLY ESCAPES BEING INJURED ON A TRAIN

Returning home from Allentown, Pa., Sunday evening on the Harrisburg "flier," Le Roy Smith had far from a pleasant experience when a stone came sailing through the window opposite his seat while he was reaching up to get a package out of the rack prior to leaving the train at Somerville, which station the train was approaching. The stone shot past him and dropped in the aisle. But for the fact that he was standing up he would have been pretty badly cut about the face because the glass was literally showered across the front of his coat.

Councilman and Mrs. William G. Castner were sitting in the seat in back of Mr. Smith and Mrs. Castner was frightened. It is believed that the missle was thrown by some boy. The matter has been reported to the Somerville police who are endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the culprit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hamley and Mr. and Mrs. John P. Fenner returned yesterday from Atlantic City, where Messrs. Hamley and Fenner attended the bankers' convention.

An adjourned session of the Mayor and Common Council will be held in the Borough Hall this evening.

John P. Faber has returned to work for the Ransome Concrete Machinery Company, accepting the position of head mechanical engineer.

John McMahon, Owen Mohan, Sr., Peter Mohan and C. L. Wahl, Jr., were among the boroughites who witnessed the Knights of Columbus parade in Newark, Monday night.

Mrs. J. Newton Apgar is detained at home by illness.

Miss Sarah Dayton entertained Miss May Conover, of New Brunswick, Sunday.

William H. Taylor has been laid up with rheumatism for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Todd entertained Charles Mundy and his fiancee, Miss Mabel Low, of Milburn, Sunday.

SIXTY DAYS FOR VAGRANCY.

Arthur S. Allen was arraigned before Magistrate David S. Campbell in the borough court yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having stolen a horse blanket from under one of the sheds of the Park Hotel livery. He was arrested by Marshal Isaac V. Smalley. Evidence was insufficient to convict. The prisoner, however, was given a suspended sentence of sixty days for vagrancy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parrish, of Helena, Montana, have arrived in the borough for a month's visit with Mrs. Parrish's sister, Mrs. S. C. Seal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vail, Blanchard Gardner and Fowler W. Vail spent the week-end at Hackettstown, the guests of Mr. Vail's nephew, Harry Curl.

Charles Doyle, who intends to build an automobile, has purchased a four horse power gas engine.

HENRY GARRETSON IS INJURED IN A FALL

Crossing Lincoln avenue on his way to attend the meeting of the Board of Trade last evening, former Postmaster Henry S. Garretson stumbled and fell over the iron catch basin which has been lying near the curb opposite Campbell's bakery for three or four weeks. An investigation which followed revealed the fact that Mr. Garretson had sustained a bad cut on his shin.

He was assisted home by Clayton Apgar and a physician was summoned. The physician remained with Mr. Garretson an hour in stopping the flow of blood and dressing the wound.

GIVEN TEN DAYS.

Wilson Bellis, of Jenkinstown, Pa., was given ten days by Magistrate Campbell yesterday afternoon for being drunk and disorderly. He was arrested by Marshal Smalley.

VISIT BATTLESHIP.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hunt, of Lincoln avenue, and Miss Edna Hunt, of Philadelphia, who is visiting here, were taken aboard the battleship Florida, Sunday, by Mr. Hunt's father, Dr. Charles Hunt, and shown the workings of a launching device invented by Dr. Hunt and approved by the government. The party had dinner aboard the boat.

Samuel Hoffman and son, Adolphus, were among the throng who witnessed the automobile race and the fatal accident at Sheepshead Bay, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Giddes left for Atlantic City today, where Mr. Giddes will attend the annual convention of the Railway Association as a delegate from the New Jersey Central. Mr. and Mrs. Giddes will stop at the Hotel Traymore. They will not return until Friday.

STRONG EUCHRE TEAM.

Jack McMahon, the manager of the euchre team of St. John's parish, Dunellen, says that his parish will be represented by the strongest team "ever" Thursday evening, when the first sitting of a series of three for a silver cup between his parish and St. Mary's of Plainfield and St. Joseph's of North Plainfield will be held in St. Mary's Hall, this city. His lineup is given as follows: Owen Mohan, Sr., Richard M. Ryan, Owen Mohan, Jr., C. L. Wahl, Sr., Peter Mohan, Henry Levins, Herman Pfeister, Jack Stillger, John Rafferty, John Moynihan, Michael T. Moynihan, Patrick Tarpey.

Watchung.

A special meeting of the Teachers' Committee of the North Plainfield Township Board of Education will be held at the school house at Watchung, this evening at 8 o'clock. Parents and taxpayers who may wish to consult the committee about the work of the coming year are invited to be present. The committee consists of H. B. McDonald, W. S. Shotwell and G. T. Hughes.

Scotch Plains, Fanwood

The weekly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Episcopal church will be held at the home of Mrs. H. P. Robinson, on North avenue, tomorrow afternoon.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Sewing Circle of the Willow Grove chapel will be held in that edifice tomorrow afternoon, when plans will be discussed for the annual festivities to take place in June.

ELIMINATION CONTESTS.

The elimination contests started in School No. 1 yesterday to decide the pupils who shall represent this district in the annual Union county spelling contest to be held at Roselle on Friday, May 26. The contests will continue through the present week before the successful ones are announced, and as there are a number who are making strong bids for places a strong delegation will undoubtedly make the trip.

Edward Meeker, of Martine avenue, has purchased an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Howe moved into the house of Dr. Ray Munger on North avenue that they have leased yesterday.

FIRE COMPANY TO MEET.

M. P. Robinson, president of the Fanwood fire company, has especially asked for a large attendance at the monthly meeting to be held at 8 o'clock tonight as several important matters will be discussed.

German Valley and Chester.

Miss Althea Dufford has returned from a two weeks' visit to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hamley, of Dunellen, and to Mr. and Mrs. Christie Dufford and Miss Mabel Van Camp, of Plainfield.

Miss Lena Nunn has returned from a visit of one week to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ader, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Holloway Ader, of Schooley's Mountains.

Assistant Principal and Mrs. Eugene S. Mills have been entertaining for several days the latter's sister and niece, Mrs. William Littell and daughter, who have concluded their visit and returned to their home at Washington.

Miss Iva Nunn is recovering from an operation on her throat for quinsy.

Mrs. Elizabeth Vescilius entertained over the week-end her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Dellicker, of High Bridge.

Mrs. Lewis Alpaugh, of Califon, visited Saturday Mr. and Mrs. James Anthony.

Mrs. William Cleveland is suffering from a relapse and is critically ill with heart trouble. Her granddaughter, Miss Mable Hoagland, of Newark, was summoned and is caring for her.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Newkirk, of Arlington. Mrs. Newkirk is the eldest daughter of Archibald P. Down and formerly lived here.

Alfred De Camp has leased the George Williams property in George street.

A May blossom supper will be held Wednesday night in the Congregational chapel.

Word has been received here of the serious illness of Alfred Bragg, of Newark.

The last meeting for the year of the Morris County Principals' Association will be held in the High School building, Madison, Saturday afternoon. Dr. J. Howard Hulsart, county superintendent of schools, will speak on "Effective Supervision," and Professor E. A. Reuter, assistant in industrial education, will make an address. New officers will be chosen for the ensuing year.

Floyd Wack, of Dover, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wack.

High Bridge-Califon

Robert Dietrick is ill at his home in East High Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Shurts, of High Bridge, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Russel F. Randolph, of Bernardsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Algernon Tiger, of Elizabeth.

Benjamin Henderson is ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Ladlie, at High Bridge.

Mrs. Peter Sweeney and children, of High Bridge, have returned from Glen Gardner.

Mrs. Ruth Groff, of Lebanon, is with her mother, Mrs. David W. Apgar, who is ill at her home in Califon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alpaugh, of NNew Germantown, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cogland, at Califon.

Mrs. Louise Hope, of Anthony, visited Friday and Saturday at Irvington.

An Epworth League rally will be held in the High Bridge Methodist church, May 21.

Melvin Seals, of High Bridge, has obtained a position with the Ingersoll-Rand Company, at Phillipsburg.

Miss Lydia Allen, of High Bridge, has been engaged by the Clinton Borough Board of Education as a music teacher.

Mrs. Raymond Hughes, of High Bridge, was a visitor the past week to Mr. and Mrs. George Force, at Lebanon.

Samuel Dorland moved last week from High Bridge to Easton, where he has obtained a position in the Taylor-Wharton plant.

Whitehouse

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welch, of Trenton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoffman at Whitehonse Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winberg and daughter Miss Frances Winberg, of South Bound Brook, returned home last night after visiting Mr. and Mrs. William J. Stryker, at Whitehouse Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Bolmer, of East High Bridge, were over-Sunday guests of Mr and Mrs. George W. Dilley at Whitehouse Station.

Miss Marjorie Stryker returned to Whitehouse Station yesterday, after a visit to Miss Grace Shepherd in Somerville.

The Sunday-school at Potterstown has resumed its session for the summer months and has elected the following officers: Superintendent, William E. Haver; first assistant superintendent, Austin Eick; second assistant superintendent, George Voorhees; secretary and treasurer, Garret Ramsey; librarian, John R. Haver; organist, Mrs. Barzilla Conover; first assistant organist, Miss Ethel Conover; second assistant organist, Miss Louisa Haver.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Seals will entertain the Young People's Union of the Methodist church at their home, Willowhurst, East Whitehouse, tomorrow night.

Raymond and Edward Fox and John Sutphen, Jr., of Morrisville, Pa., who are members of Troop No. 7 of the Boy Scouts of Trenton, went through Whitehouse Station Saturday on their bicycles en route to Delaware Water Gap. They are making the trip via Easton.

JAMES BUCKLEY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

James Buckley, aged fifty-six years, died in Muhlenberg Hospital shortly after midnight this morning, following an illness from which he had been ailing for the past six months. Mr. Buckley was born in New York, but his parents were Plainfielders, and he had lived here practically all his life. His father was the first sexton of St. Mary's church, and was a widely known and respected man. The deceased was a molder by trade, working most of the time at the Potter Press Works. His only surviving relative is his brother, Thomas Buckley, of Orchard place, with whom he made his home. Thos. Buckley has also been an employe of the Poter Press Works for many years, serving as traveling erector of the company's presses.

The funeral will be held at Thos. Buckley's home on Orchard place Thursday morning, at 8.30, and in St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

COOK GIVES LAND TO WESTFIELD CLUB

Tract for Drill Ground and Rifle Range for Training Defenders.

Through the interest of Percy A. Cook, of Cook's farm, the Westfield branch of the National Security League now has a ninety-acre drilling and parade ground with an improved rifle range ready for use. The offer of the free use of this property was made by Mr. Cook recently and has been accepted. The tract of land is back of the Cook farm on the Springfield road. It contains ninety acres and adjoins the famous animal and bird farm, where thousands of visitors go each Sunday during clear weather.

The Westfield league was organized only a short time ago, but already has a good membership, and it is believed that the offer of the tract for drills and target practice will bring in scores. In addition to allowing the free use of his land, Mr. Cook will personally aid members of the league in every way possible to prepare for the defense of their country. He is a veteran of the Boer War, having fought under the English flag through that struggle; and his experience will be of untold value to the citizens who would be soldiers when needed.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT NEW JERSEY

Many Things for Which Every Citizen of the State Should Be Proud.

The large audience at the "New Jersey Day" exercises conducted in the Washington School auditorium Friday night, under the auspices of the West End Civic Association, made a lasting impression on people of the city, especially those fortunate enough to hear the splendid address on "New Jersey" delivered by Henry C. White. A large number of facts pertaining to the State, its opportunities, resources and beauties had been collected by Mr. White, many of which were new to the audience or had never been fully realized. Because of this, a number of the most interesting are given, as follows:

"New Jersey gave the first subject in the United States for a daily newspaper;

"New Jersey was discovered on five separate ocasions: First, North American Indians; second, by Hudson; third, by the English; fourth, by the French; fifth, by the Swedes, who built a fort near Elizabeth;

"New Jersey was the first State to set aside a revenue for public schools;

"New Jersey is the first in copper smelting and refining;

"New Jersey is the first in manufacture of silks, sewing machines and talking machines;

"New Jersey is second in zinc, clay products, paint and varnish;

"New Jersey is third in electrical machinery and appliances;

"New Jersey is fourth in soaps and precious metals;

"Washington and Oregon apples blush because they are not equal to Jersey ones;

"New Jersey first used the motto of 'E Pluribus Unum' on coins."

DEMEZA AND BLIMM BUY EAST FRONT ST. BUILDING

Harry G. DeMeza and Harry N. Blimm, of the firm of De Meza & Blimm, have purchased from F. J. Murphy, of Belmar, the three-story brick building at 120 East Front street, the ground floor of which is occupied by Daly Brothers as a grocery. It is the intention of the new owners to make extensive alterations and occupy the premises at the expiration of their present lease with Dr. Albert Pittis, their store now being located in one of his buildings. When the change is made the firm will carry a full line of men's clothing in addition to the general furnishing business they have conducted successfully for several years.

The building at 120 East Front street is a commodious structure and is in the heart of the business district. It was occupied for many years by the City National Bank before its removal to the corner of Park avenue and East Front street and for seven years was rented by the city as headquarters for the police, the department occupying the first and second floors. When the present police headquarters was built at Sycamore and Fourth streets the Front street structure was used for a while as a moving picture theatre, conducted by Mr. Murphy, who purchased the building at the time.

BEFORE AUTO COMMISSIONER.

Howard D. Huff, of 941 West Fourth street, Plainfield, was fined $10.65 when brought before Motor Vehicle Commissioner W. L. Dill at Newark, yesterday, on a charge of auto speeding, while Philip Jahn, of Scotch Plains, was fined $5 for using a trailer without a license. Orrie F. Griffin, of Berkeley Heights, received a suspended sentence for the misuse of manufacturers' numbers.

Morris Bernstein and family, of California, are visiting Mr. Bernstein's brother, Nat. Bernstein, of West Front street. He represents large catering establishments on the Pacific Coast, specializing in sea-food.

We Give S&H Green Trading Stamps. Ask For Them

SPECIAL CUT PRICES FOR WEEK OF MAY 15 TO 20, INC.

FIG BARS, lb 7c

25 S&H Green Trading STAMPS FREE SEE COUPON

COUPON

Cut out this Coupon, present it at our Store this week, and by buying 50c WORTH or more of TEAS, COFFEES, SPICES, EXTRACTS and A&P BAKING POWDER, you will receive

25 S&H Green Trading STAMPS FREE

Besides regular and Extra Stamps Given on Sales.

From Monday May 15, to Saturday May 20 This Coupon Not Good After Saturday, May 20.

EXTRA STAMPS WITH TEAS AND COFFEES

125 Stamps with 1 lb Fancy Crop 70c
100 Stamps with 1 lb New Crop 60c
80 Stamps with 1 lb Fine Family Tea 50c
50 Stamps with 1 lb very good Tea 40c
40 Stamps with ½ lb India Ceylon 25c
30 Stamps with 1 lb El Ryad Coffee 35c
25 Stamps with 1 lb Ambosa Coffee 32c
20 Stamps with 1 lb Sultana Coffee 30c
15 Stamps with 1 lb Iona Coffee 25c
10 Stamps with 1 lb Good Coffee 20c

PEANUT BUTTER lb 11c

A&P PREPARED FLOUR A PKG 13c
IONA BEETS 3 cans 25c
QUAKER CORN FLAKES A PKG 5c

A&P Baked Beans No. 3 Cans 2 cans 25c

Evaporated Apples, a lb 10c
Barley, a lb 4c
A&P Codfish Shreds, a lb 7c
Quaker Corn Meal, a pkg. 8c

10—STAMPS FREE—10

WITH ANY OF THE FOLLOWING GROCERIES

1 can Sultana Spice 10c
1 box Fluffy Ruffles Starch 10c
1 box Shaker Salt 10c
1 pkg. A&P Ice Cream 10c
1 pkg A&P Jelly Powder 10c
1 bottle Kitchen Bouquet 25c
2 pkgs. Anti-Stick, each 5c
1 bottle Salad Oil 20c
1 pkg. Elastic Starch 10c, or 2 pkgs. each 5c
1 can Marshmallow Creme 10c
1 can Globe Polish 10c
2 pkgs. Cocoanut, each 5c
1 can "2 in 1" Kills Bugs 10c
1 bottle Jet Oil Shoe Polish 10c

FREE DELIVERY TO ALL PARTS OF CITY AND BOROUGH

137-139 WEST FRONT ST. TEL 117

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO. — THE LARGEST GROCERY HOUSE IN AMERICA — ESTAB. 1859

Free Delivery

We Give S&H Green Trading Stamps. Ask For Them

NEW FURNITURE

This is the period when of all times of the year your thoughts are turned toward something new for your home, something that will add attractiveness and lessen your labors during the hot summer months which are before us. We invite your inspection of the new patterns in

FURNITURE.
Buffets ..... $15.00 to $30.00
Tables ..... $7.98 to $35.00
Dressers ..... $8.98 to $40.00

BEDS.
Iron Beds ..... $2.98 to $18.00
Brass Beds ..... $10.00 to $30.00
Iron Cribs ..... $5.98 to $10.00

WINDOW SHADES.
Standard makes, all sizes and prices. Estimates given.

FLOOR COVERINGS.
Congoleum Rugs ..... $3.60 to $9.00
Wool Rugs ..... $5.50 to $30.00
Fibre Rugs ..... $4.98 to $10.00

MATTRESSES.
Soft Top Mattresses $1.98 to $4.00
Combination Mattresses— $3.50 to $7.00
Felt Mattresses ..... $7.98 to $15.00

VACUUM CLEANERS
The housekeeper's best friend—
$3.98 to $7.00.

L. B. VAN CAMP
Front and Somerset St.

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT

ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Distributed by the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.

3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it

Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.

EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED

Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles ..... .07
Up to 300 miles ..... .10
Up to 600 miles ..... .15
Up to 1000 miles ..... .20
For greater distances add postage rate for 5 lbs.

TEPPER'S For Suits | TEPPER'S For Waists | TEPPER'S For Gloves | TEPPER'S For Corsets

Big Savings In Wearing Apparel
TOMORROW, AT TEPPER'S

Every Suit in Our Entire Stock Is Reduced

Tomorrow, Wednesday, marks a timely opportunity for women to purchase a new Spring Suit at a generous saving.

Those who have not yet purchased their Spring Suit will find it profitable to secure one at these reduced prices—now—with a good part of the season still ahead. To others it enables you to round out the season with a new suit at lessened cost. We need room for the fastly incoming Summer goods. Hence this remarkable reduction.

NEW SPRING SUITS
REGULARLY UP TO $17.50.

An assortment of very pretty models, some plain tailored, others on more dressy lines; featuring all the newest fashion touches effected on the higher grade suit. Belted and flare models, in poplins, serges, checks, plaids and gabardines; in all of the popular shades worn this season..... 12.75

STYLISH SPRING SUITS
REGULARLY UP TO $22.50.

16.25 Plain tailored and dressy models in a charming assortment of styles and colors. All remarkably good looking and well made. Gabardines, poplins, plaids, serges and checks, in the popular shades of navy, copenhagen, rookie brown, hunters' green, grey and black.

WOMEN'S AND MISSES'
New Spring Suits
Regularly up to $25.00.

Not only are the styles up-to-the-minute, and good looking, but the make, which should never be overlooked, is perfect. Poplins, taffetas, silks, gabardines and mixtures are included in this lot, as well as several pretty combinations of taffetas and serge.

19.50

SILK DRESSES
Regularly Up to $17.50. Reduced for Quick Exit.

A number of very charming garments, of silks, taffetas, crepe de chines, and Georgette crepes. Beautiful combinations of Georgette crepe and crepe de chine or taffeta are also included.

The styles are all very fashionable, and the make is up to the Tepper standard of good workmanship. Colors are green, rose, copen, rookie brown and black 10.98

NEW HIGH GRADE
Spring Suits
Regularly up to $30.00.

This lot includes the most expensive suits in our entire stock. All are new, up-to-the-minute styles, in taffetas, poplins, gabardines and mixtures in all of the most wanted colorings of the season.

22.50

A Few Special Values for Wednesday in Our Children's Wear Dept.

The section of children's wear on the main floor at Tepper's is always at your service with complete stocks of apparel for little tots and grown up children. For Wednesday we are offering several items at reduced prices, which will be of special interest to thrity parents. Read a few of the examples below, and note the values we offer:

Children's Dresses—A new lot of girls' dresses in a most complete assortment of colors and sizes. Chambrays, striped ginghams, galateas and linens; very pretty styles ,some with bloomers. Prices—
89c, $1.49, $1.98 up to $3.98.

Boys' Wash Suits—Norfolk, "Billy Boy" and "Oliver Twist" models; some have the middy effect. Very stylish little suits in Kiddie cloth, Devonshire cloth, white and striped galatea, and plain chambrays. We guarantee all suits to be fast colors. Sizes 2 to 10 year—59c, 79c, 98c up to $7.49.

Children's Coats—An odd lot of pretty models for girls. A few boys' coats also included in the lot. Navy serge and checked models, as well as several coats in other shades; sizes2 to 6, and several up to 14. Sold regularly up to $4.98; special for Wednesday 1.98

Consult Our Show Windows

More For Your Money at Tepper's PLAINFIELD — NEW JERSEY

SOMEWHERE IN YOUR HOME

There's a place that needs FURNITURE and if you wish only a single piece or desire to furnish your home complete you wil find it worth while to see the high grade goods we offer. There's FURNITURE of all kinds here for every place in the home and always at moderate prices.

GOOD VALUES IN WHITE ENAMEL BEDROOM PIECES.

White Enamel Chiffoniers, priced from.....$12.50 up
White Enamel Dressers, priced from .....$16.75 up
White Enamel Chairs, priced from .....$1.85 up
White Enamel Rockers, priced from.....$2.85 up
White Enamel Tables, priced from.....$4.00 up
White Enamel Beds Bath Stools Night Tables Children's Cribs

PORCH AND LAWN.

Attractive and strongly made CHAIRS and ROCKERS for the outdoor season. Every piece is built with the idea of giving comfort and service.

Old Hickory Fibre Rush and Reed.

PORCH COUCH HAMMOCKS

There's nothing that contributes so large an element of comfort through the hot summer days as a COUCH HAMMOCK. They are priced from .....$7.75 to $35.00

Refrigerators Baby Carriages Asbestos Table Mats

POWLISON & JONES
149-151 E. Front St. Plainfield, N. J.

PROPOSE FEDERAL CONTROL.

Washington, May 16.—The Interstate Commerce Commission will begin today one of the most interesting hearings it has ever held, on the proposed rules under the Clayton law providing that the railroads shall advertise for bids for all supplies purchased in excess of $50,000 annually. A tentative draft of the rules to govern the bidding will be submitteed as the basis of discussion. The railroads will present their side of the case by arguments of prominent officials and lawyers. The declared purpose of the act is to prevent the awarding of big contracts to concerns in which the directors may be interested, unless rival concerns [illegible] award their contracts, as p[illegible] by the commission, and open competitive bidding for contracts will be insistel upon.

WATCH VERMONT PRIMARIES.

Montpelier, Vt., May 16—The first trial of the new primary law adopted in Vermont is interesting the voters of the Green Mountain State today. The vote cast today by the Republicans is a clear-cut contest between the Roosevelt and Hughes forces, and will be the truest index of Republican sentiment that it has been possible to obtain. If the Colonel should carry the State, it would go a long way toward modifying the disastrous effect upon his candidacy at the re[illegible] primaries in Massachusetts. No [illegible]er Republican candidates than Hughes and Roosevelt are being considered, and the campaign waged from one end of the State to the other by the rival factions has left the result in doubt. In 1912 Roosevelt got 22,000 in Vermont, against 23,000 for Taft. Hughes is said by the newspapers to have the better chance in Vermont, where the old line Republicans abound.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO MEET.

The Columbian Dramatic Club will hold an important meeting tonight in the West Front street clubhouse at 8:30 sharp. All members are urgently requested to be present.

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

PRAYER MEETINGS FOR WEDNESDAY

Cottage prayer meetings will be held Wednesday, May 17, at 10 a. m., in the homes of the following:

Mrs. John C. Abbott, 820 Carlton avenue; Mrs. E. F. Dorman, 601 East Seventh street; Mrs. Howard M. Cafe, 1135 Thornton avenue; Mrs. W. H. Thorn, 214 Berckman street; Mrs. J. F. T. Fuller, 957 Union street; Mrs. J. P. Kirch, 48 Randolph street; Miss M. Crittenden, 231 East Sixth street; Mrs. D. K. Sutphen, 507 Madison avenue; Mrs. George S. Monck, 111 Grandview avenue; Mrs. C. W. Higgins, 8 Grandview avenue; Mrs. G. Kretzel, 30 Summit avenue; Mrs. A. C. La Boyteaux, 39 Fairview avenue; Mrs. E. B. Ryder, 310 Central avenue, Mrs. I. E. Giles, 35 Grove street; Mrs. William Griscom, 126 Sycamore avenue; Mrs. Frank Woodruff, 109 Duer street; Mrs. Edgar Sheppard, 25 Mountain avenue; Mrs. Chas. Hayes, 114 Lafayatte place; Mrs. G. Lindmark, 740 West Third street; Mrs. G. Bird, 1121 West Sixth street; Mrs. G. Simons, 910 West Fourth street; Mrs. D. C. Harrower, Watchung avenue, near Johnston's drive.

SERVICE FOR MRS. TERRY IN NEW YORK YESTERDAY

Mrs. E. E. Terry, a former well known resident of this city, and member of Grace P. E. church, died in New York city, last Saturday. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. T. Butler, 30 West 76th street, that city, the Rev. E. Vicar Stevenson, rector of Grace church, officiating. During the service, Irving D. Manley, soprano soloist of Grace church, sang two solos in a very impressive manner, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand." The interment took place in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Terry, who was beloved by all who knew her for her loyable character and good works, is survived by five daughters and one son. These are Mrs. E. T. Butler, of New York; Mrs. W. R. Cook, of Greenwich, Conn.; Mrs. William Wright, of Prospect avenue, this city; Mrs. J. C. Welwood, of New York; Mrs. Elma Klingenberg, of Philadelphia, and Walter Terry, of Brooklyn.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS DOROTHY ADAMS

Henry C. Adams, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Braintree, Mass., yesterday announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Dorothy Adams, to R. Kingsland Hay, of Nutley. Miss Adams, who has many friends in society in New York, is a direct descendant of John Quincy Adams. The late J. Howard Wright, of New York, was Miss Adams' great grandfather, she is a niece of Mrs. William C. De Lanoy and J. Dunbar Wright, of New York, and of Mrs. John Hussey, of this city. Her mother, the late Mrs. Adams, was Miss Clara Walton Corlies.

Mr. Hay is a son of James R. Hay, of Nutley, and a grandson of the Rev. Dr. Philip Cortlandt Hay, of Newark.

TRAINMEN SEE VICTORY.

Brotherhood In Convention Believes It Will Win Eight Hour Day.

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—Fully 1,000 delegates of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at the convention here expect that the basic eight hour day and time and a half for overtime will be gained by railway men. The delegates represent 130,000 railway workers, brakemen, flagmen and baggage men.

The actual business of the convention will not commence until Wednesday. The fight to obtain an eight hour day on all railroads will be considered

SUFFRAGISTS END TOUR.

Washington, May 16.—The finale of the Western tour of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage will be staged on the east front of the Capitol this afternoon. On this occasion Congress will be presented with the resolutions passed by the voting women of the West, asking the immediate passage of the Federal suffrage amendment. Preceding this ceremony there will be a reception at the Union Station to the returned envoys and of woman voters chosen at Salt Lake City to carry eastward the message of their enfranchised sisters. The parade from the station to the Capitol will be led by a brass band and escorted by a big delegation of white-gowned suffragists and flower girls.

KNITTERS IN CONVENTION.

Philadelphia, May 16.—The annual convention of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers opened here today. Makers of knit goods from all parts of the country are attending. Woman labor and child labor will be discussed, the dye situation will be threshed out, and the subjects of foreign trade and raw materials will be talked over.

BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 16.—The Northern Baptist Convention opened here this morning with 1,800 delegates attending, including church leaders from all parts of the world. The executive board of the convention, presided over by Dr. Shailer Mathews, gathered early today to determine important convention policies.

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

ANTONIO I. VILLAREAL.

Denies He Inspired the Raids on Texas Towns.

Photo by American Press Association.

Antonio I. Villareal, the Mexican statesman, is accused by Carranzistas with being responsible for the attack on Glen Springs. Senor Villareal, who is now in New York city, declares the accusation is absurd and slanderous.

AMERICANS IN DANGER OF MOB

Tampico Soldiers and Civilians Are Hostile.

RENEW DEMONSTRATIONS.

United States Gunboats Are Held In Readiness to Protect Nationals Three Held In Prison Released by Consul's Efforts — Arredondo Denies Foreign Intrigue Report.

Washington, May 16.—The state department received advices to the effect that Mexican soldiers and civilians at Tampico, encouraged by General Nafarette, the Carranza commander in that district, are renewing unfriendly demonstrations toward Americans there.

In consequence of the growing ill feeling which appears to result from the continued presence of American troops in northern Mexico the Americans are becoming alarmed.

The navy department has instructed the commanders of the gunboats Machias and Marietta, which are in the vicinity, to hold themselves in readiness to render protection to the Americans.

The state department was further advised that through the persistent efforts of the American consul at Tampico three Americans who had been held in prison by the local authorities have been released.

Admiral Cameron McR. Winslow, commanding the Pacific fleet, reported to the navy department that on demand of the commander of the United States cruiser Denver the Mexican authorities at Acapulco, on the west coast, have released three Americans and one Chilean, members of the crew of an American schooner which was burned off the Mexican port. The men were being held on the pretext that they set fire to the vessel.

Senator Phelan Acts.

Senator Phelan, California, enlisted the aid of the state and navy departments in favor of the Americans whose homes are at Oakland, Cal., Two of the Americans are Frank Horn and George Lavollette. The name of the third and of the Chilean are not known here.

Reports to the state department indicated activity on the part of American consuls in Mexico to get Americans out of the country. The consul at Manzanillo advised that trains are running regularly between that place and Guadalajara and that he has advised the consul at the latter place that Americans can leave whenever they desire, as there are steamers scheduled to leave Manzanillo for California on May 25 and June 25. Train service from Guadalajara through Monterey is interrupted.

The consul at San Luis Potosi reported that there are only forty-eight Americans remaining in that district, none of them in destitute circumstances. A strike of railroad men at San Luis Potosi, however, has interrupted train service between there and the border. Monterey and Piedras Negras are reported quiet.

The Mexican embassy got a statement denying published reports that General Carranza has sent emissaries to Japan and Germany to enlist the support of those countries in case of war between the United States and Mexico. It is also declared there is considerable industrial activity in the eastern states of Mexico and that the Mexican government has redeemed and burned about $40,000,000 in Mexican paper currency.

MOTOR KILLS ONE, HURTS TWO

Trenton Driver Surrenders After Running Down Boys.

Trenton, N. J., May 16.—As a result of a motor accident one boy is dead, two others are suffering from injuries and the driver of the car is under arrest charged with manslaughter.

The dead boy, Michael Geiskey, with John Dekaiski and John Yousko, was walking along a road in the outskirts of the city when the car struck the three. The driver, Edward Gilmore, a negro, took the car from a garage without permission and with two companions started for a ride. He escaped after the accident, but surrendered.

—Press want ads. pay.

HAHNE & Co.
NEWARK

Here Is a Natty Sport Suit

It is one of many smart models for women from which one may choose in Palm Beach Cloth and Silverbloom. Smartly made in various jaunty styles—always cool and fresh looking. Priced at $8.98, $10.00, $15.00 to $22.50.

A Specially Attractive Group of Suits at $19.94

Women's Suits in dressy or plain tailored models in a large variety of styles, materials and colors; fitted or semi-fittted, full flare and belted; white detached collars, taffeta collars and cuffs.

Neatly trimmed with braid, buttons and fancy buttonholes. Skirts are yoke, shirred at waist, belted and full flare circular.

Materials are gabardine, poplin, serge, shepherd checks and serge and taffeta combinations; many colors; all sizes.
Price 19.94

Inexpensive Linens for Summer Home
A Group of Exceptionally Good Values Offered Just at the Most Opportune Time

Unbleached Muslin at 6c Yard—38½ inches wide. Not more than 20 yards sold to one customer.

50c Full Bleached Sheets, 39c Each—Size 81x90 inches; snow white bleach; wide hems, center seam. Limit, 1 dozen; no C. O. D. or mail or 'phone orders.

Pure Irish Linen Napkins at $1.95 a Dozen—Size 18½x18½; grass bleached, strong grade of Irish linen damask, in pretty designs.

Pure Irish Linen Table Damask at 79c Yard—64 inches wide; snow white bleach. It seems hardly possible to sell it at this price, but we purchased a quantity, and guarantee it pure linen damask.

Barnsley Crash Towelling at 10c Yard—A heavy absorbent grade that will render unusually good wear; red or blue borders.

Beautiful Linen Pattern Tablecloths—Imported direct to us from Belfast, Ireland.
Size 2x2 yards.....$2.95
Size 2x2½ yards.....$3.75
Size 2x3 yards.....$4.50

24x24-inch Napkins to Match at $4.25 a Dozen—Soft, snowy white linens, that are pleasing to handle; finely woven, in several pretty patterns.

Two Big Huck Towel Values—All white; fine grade of huckaback, with hemmed ends; extra large sizes.
18x38 inches at, each 9c
Dozen $1.00
21½x44 inches, at ea...12½c
Dozen $1.45

Hotel, restaurant or boardinghouse keepers should take advantage of this offering.

Hahne's—Main Floor

Wash Goods You Will Welcome

Isn't it quite unexpected good fortune to find at Reduced Prices—the very materials you are needing for summer dresses and skirts!

Imported Silk Embroidered Voiles, 40 inches wide, in beautiful designs on white grounds; a splendid choice of dainty patterns. Usually $1.59 yard, for 95c

Sport Skirting—The latest fad for skirting, the diamond effect in several shades; yard wide. Usually 55c yd., for 35c

Silk Stripe Voile, 40 inches wide, in a complete line of evening shades; fine imported quality; usually 85c and 95c yard, for.... 65c

Military Corded Voile—36 to 40 inches wide; a very pretty assortment of combination colorings on white grounds; usually 49c.. 39c

Neat & Pretty Blouses, Ideal for Outing Wear

The dainty freshness and easy laundering quality so desirable in blouses for outing wear were never more successfully combined with pretty styles than in the wide variety of new models now shown at Hahne's.

Women's Garden Smocks of linen crash; trimmed with smocking of copen or rose; collars and cuffs to match; ¾-length sleeves; slipover style, with one pocket. Special at 1.50

Women's Middy Blouses, made of genuine Lonsdale jean; some with colored trimming, others all white; some in "co-ed" lace effect; very effective with white skirts. Special at... 95c

Newly arrived and charmingly effective is the smart Russian Blouse; the material is fine voile in awning stripes of rose and copen; the sailor collar and cuffs and pockets are trimmed with white striped voile; very smart. Special at 2.95

Women's Middy Blouses, for tennis, golf and all sport wear; may be had in white with combination trimming on collar and cuffs; made of excellent quality linen, Special at 96c

TOMORROW ONLY
Unrestricted Choice of Any NEW Player-Piano

In Our Warerooms Selling Regularly up to $550, TOMORROW ONLY $410
12 Rolls of Music and Fine Bench with Player
Terms to suit your convenience

A Limited Number of NEW PIANOS $210
Every instrument of reliable make. Each was selected for its tone quality, handsome case design and beautiful veneer.

$1.50 Weekly
Liberal allowance for Pianos taken in exchange

KNABE
WAREROOMS, 5th Ave. & 39th St.
Complete Stock of Victor-Victrolas and Records

If it's advertised today it is likely that it is of timely interest to you today.

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a6.30, a7.30, 9.00, 11.45, 1.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.15, b9.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—9.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 9.00.

Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.05, 1.35, 2.30, b4.30, 4.30 except Saturday, 5.30, 7.30, b9.30, 10.50, b11.45. Sundays—9.30, 12.15, 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.

Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00, 8.15, f10.00, b11.00, g3.00, 4.15, b6.20.

Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00, 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g2.45, 5.25, g7.40.

Leave Plainfield for Warrenville—d6.45, e6.15, 6.20, f10.00, g3.00, g4.20.

Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40, f11.00, g3.50, g7.15.

Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b1.00, 4.15.

Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8.[illegible], b2.00, 5.15.

(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays Monday mornings, and mornings after holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave
'Phone 130 Plainfield.

MILLWORK

We have recently made arrangements with one of the largest millwork concerns in this part of the State, and are now prepared to furnish millwork of every description.

Allow us to figure on your requirements.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Toble Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 891.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:38 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 5:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3.50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, :00, 3:50 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m. 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—2:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A FIT AND A SIZE AT ROTHBERG'S

A size is what OUGHT to fit you—a fit is really what you WANT.

Your size is in any clothing store in this city, but no man with a 36-inch chest can be assured of a perfect fit by calling for a 36 suit of clothes and taking what is handed to him, unless he has a liking for chances.

Rothberg clothes are tailored not alone according to sizes, but according to types, and we have variations in every size we carry, so that a man can be assured of a perfect fit, even tho' he hasn't a perfect figure.

We carry sizes, but we specialize in fits.

Suits $12 to $25

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
A Bluebird Photoplay
VIOLET MESEREAU in
"THE GREAT PROBLEM"
A stirring sociological drama in 5 parts, and other interesting photoplays.

TOMORROW
Pallas Pictures Presents
FLORENCE ROCKWELL in
"HE FELL IN LOVE WITH HIS WIFE"
In 5 Parts
From the book and play by E. P. Roe. Paramount Pictographs and others.

Note—The above pictures are sixty to seventy days in advance of any other theatre in Plainfield; you see them here first.

Coming Wednesday, May 31, Mary Pickford in "POOR LITTLE PEPPINA," in which she scored a greater success than in "THE GIRL OF YESTERDAY" which was shown at this house Feb. 9 and 10.

The house of first run Paramount, Bluebird and other Broadway features.

We Give Travelstamps.

BARNARD'S Home-Made BREAD

Try a loaf today and like OLIVER TWIST, you'll want some more.

At your Grocers.

R. H. BARNARD
Baker and Caterer
Woodhull and Martin's
Phones 1560-1561.
tues fri tf-

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S
RYE
E. C. WESTCOTT
115 East Front Street

AUTO BUSES
[illegible], coaches, hearses, etc.
Carries from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
10 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

OBSERVING 'BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK'

Movement Originated With the American Humane Association.

The response which has come to the appeal of The American Humane Association, which is a federation of all the anti-cruelty societies in the Unted States, with headquarters in Albany, N. Y., has been most gratifying. A majority of societies, from coast to coast, have taken up the movement with enthusiasm and have prepared special programs for the observance. Among the many striking things which have been planned to attract the attention of the public and center its attention on the subject of animal protection is the Common Dog Show which originated last year with the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of Philadelphia, Pa. The only dogs that are eligible to this contest are those without a pedigree. There are prizes given for the largest dog, the smallest dog, the homeliest dog, the dog with the loudest bark, and some twenty-five or thirty other qualifications which will make any yellow cur eligible for competition. The idea is to interest people, especially children, in the better care of pets. Entries to the extent of several hundred dogs appeared last year. The show was held this year on May 13 and a great number of entries were made. One of the big halls of the city was engaged and several thousand people attended this novel show.

Boy Scout organizations, with the official sanction of the national headquarters of the movement, have taken up the movement of "Be Kind to Animals" with a great deal of enthusiasm. One of the Boy Scout laws requires that the Scout shall be kind. In Syracuse, N. Y., the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has started a contest between the different Boy Scout troops of the city. The society has offered prizes valued at $15, $10 and $5 to the troops that turn in the greatest number of points in connection with the special "Be Kind to Animals" contest. Points are being given for doing some special good turn for animals, such as, picking nails or pieces of glass out of the street; smashing down tin cans in which small animals might get their heads fast; reporting genuine cases of cruelty to the Humane Society; or passing the test for "First Aid to Animals" and "Horsemanship."

Work horse parades have been planned for Providence, R. I., Shreveport, La., Tuscaloosa, Ala., Norfolk, Va., and a dozen or more other places.

May 20th is observed generally as National horse day. In a great many cities this day has been set apart as a time when tags are sold for the benefit of the local work of animal protection. Some societies in previous years have raised as much as $5,000 in one day.

Special humane essay contests have been planned in a great many cities for the school children. Humane subjects have been selected on which the children may write and for which the local Humane Society will give prizes for the best essays. Special lecturers with stereopticon and motion picture films, are being sent out to lecture before schools, churches, clubs and other organizations. In a number of places men and women will speak on street corners from automobiles and give short noon hour talks at the factories.

TO GIVE EUCHRE AND "500."

The women of St. Joseph's church held an enthusiastic meeting in the church hall last night, tentative plans being made for a euchre and "500" which they will give on Thursday evening, May 25. Committees were appointed and final plans will be made by individual members. Practically each member of the committee will furnish a table and donate a prize. Refreshments will be served during the evening and at the conclusion of the playing a social time will be enjoyed by all.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

THE BEST IN VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

Today and Tomorrow
The greatest children on the stage with the
JUVENILE REVUE
10 clever kiddies all under 12 years of age.
5 OTHER HIGH CLASS ACTS 5
Including Mrs. Ralph Herz & Co. in
"A DANCE DIVERSION"
Latest Feature Photoplays

WEDNESDAY NIGHT IS
AMATEUR NIGHT

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY
In addition to a great new bill of VAUDEVILLE
CHARLEY CHAPLIN in
"HIS PREHISTORIC PAST"
The funniest picture ever produced.

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

NEWARK

is New Jersey's Industrial and Mercantile Metropolis and commands recognition as such from All the people of Northern New Jersey, who find it convenient, pleasurable and profitable to do their trading in Newark.

Rich in History—Notable in Achievement—Great in Industry—Progressive in Trade—Conspicuous in Enterprise—Newark stands to-day as one of America's foremost cities—now celebrating its 250th Anniversary in glorious fashion.

ALL Jerseymen should demonstrate their appreciation of this great city by bestowing upon it their most generous patronage, by making its great stores greater, by giving them their loyal support—not only when buying the necessities, but the luxuries as well. Newark's stores are always amply stocked with the most desirable merchandise at the lowest possible prices—and they will be unusually attractive with their great displays and supreme values in hundreds of stores during—

BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF NEWARK ORGANIZED 1868 N.J. U.S.A.

BUY IT IN NEWARK WEEK MAY 22-27

Come see the city in its gorgeous celebration garb—see its great Industrial Exposition—see its wonderful stores! All Newark will welcome you with open arms.

Many lines of Steam Railway, Trolley Car Lines, Auto Buses and good automobile roads make access to the city from surrounding towns convenient, speedy and economical.

You Are Cordially Invited to Visit Newark Often During Our Celebration

Newark Board of Trade

PREPARE YOUR GARDENS AND LAWNS
With Fertilizers Scientifically Prepared.

Remember that Reliable Seeds are the only kind you desire.

Every Gardener should have a Good Spade, Hoe, Fork and Rake.

Preparedness is the keynote of the hour.

A Lawn Roller, Lawn Mower, Spray Pump or Water Can may have been overlooked.

Reliable Garden Hose, a Wheelbarrow or Planet Jr. Plow may be in urgent need.

Every need can be met, for we are prepared to serve you.

H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.
General Hardware and House Furnishings.
Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

Stirling Silver On Bronze
BOOK ENDS
DESK SETS
VASES AND CARD TRAYS
MAKE ACCEPTABLE WEDDING GIFTS

JOSEPH W. GAVETT
318 WEST FRONT STREET.

PANAMAS
FOR LADIES and GENTS

Are you thinking about having your Panama hat reblocked and cleaned? We will do it for you and add a new band and new leather, to look and wear like new.

No acid, sulphur, talc or numerous other preparations used.

Latest styles you will find here.

HERSEY HAT M'F'G and RENOVATING CO.
130 PARK AVE.

Your Next Tenant Is an "Ad-Reader"

The tenant to whom your property would be most valuable is a reader of the "To Let" advertisements.

If your advertisement is factful, definite and fully informing he will recognize it as meaning OPPORTUNITY to him, and he will lose no time in getting in touch with you.

But if your advertisement should be vague, uninforming and written with a view to "saving space," it might not appeal of any personal interest at all.

PROCTOR'S
10c Continuous 2 to 11. 10c

We not only present the World's Best Photoplays and filmdom's most popular stars, as a glance at the following program will convince you, but we go farther by presenting them by means of the most modern and up-to-date equipment. Our patrons witness these unprecedented attractions in perfect comfort, fanned by cool and invigorating breezes manufactured by our mammoth Ice Plant.

MARY PICKFORD WEEK
BIG DOUBLE SHOWS

TODAY—We Present
MARY PICKFORD
in BEHIND THE SCENES
A Typical Story of Life Behind the Footlights

LILLIAN GISH
The Heroine of "The Birth of a Nation" in
SOLD FOR MARRIAGE
A Triangle Play Telling a Story Close to Everyone's Heart

FATTY ARBUCKLE in
THE OTHER MAN
Keystone Comedy

11th Episode of "MARY PAGE"

WEDNESDAY
MARY PICKFORD
in
"CINDERELLA"

VIVIAN MARTIN in
"A MODERN THELMA"
A Wonderful Fox Feature

The Twelfth Episode of
"THE IRON CLAW"

THURSDAY
MARY PICKFORD
in
"MISTRESS NELL"

FRANK KEENAN in
"THE STEPPING STONE"
A Stirring Triangle Production

CHESTER CONKLIN in BUCKING SOCIETY
Keystone Comedy

2 EXTRAORDINARY ADDED ATTRACTION 2
Days Only Thursday and Friday Days Only

Charlie Chaplin
In His First Mutual Comedy Produced Under His $670,000 Contract.
THE FLOORWALKER
A veritable hailstorm of hilarious merriment
NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

Buying for the home cannot be done wisely and economically unless the "buyer" is a student of the advertisements—no more than a store may be made prosperous without advertising.

The shopper may often reduce the VALUE-GETTING POWER of her dollar to fifty cents—simply through neglecting to read the ads, or to know values—and by buying at "the nearest place."

"THE HARVEST"

Sermon of the Rev. William Biederwolf at the Tabernacle Sunday Night.

Text:—"The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved."—Jeremiah 8: 20.

If the nations of the world want to learn out of some other experience than their own, that it don't pay to sneer at God, all they've got to do is to look at Israel. If ever a nation made a noose and ran her fool, stubborn head in it that nation was the Jewish one.

The words of our text tonight ring with the hopelessness of the grave. They sound like muffled drums beating through the darkened chambers of a lost soul. Bowed down in gloom, wrapped round, as it were, by the wings of midnight, Israel bemoans her last, lost opportunity to be saved.

They had plenty of warning. The old Jeremiah had pleaded with tears; he had warned them and he said: "You can't trifle with God that way." But Israel was full of sin; sensual and Godless, they didn't seem to care and at last the storm broke over their heads.

Summer time and harvest was the season when nations went to war and Israel was rather expecting war from some of the heathen nations around her. She'd gotten so low down she'd rather trust the Godless heathen than her own God who had saved her so many times before. But by and by the harvest came and with it the sound of the chargers' hoofs in the north, but no help came. You can't depend on the friends of this world anyhow. As long as you've got the dough for a dinner at Delmonico's you're in it, but when you're down and out they'll give you the frozen face.

And the whirlwind came and found the lost nation up in its arms and swept them away. The harvest was past, the summer was ended, and they were not saved. Behind them were the bright days so full of promise; before them the hell of an awful exile.

I'm going to apply this test to the hard individual tonight, but it's mighty hard, in view of exisiting conditions, not to preach a sermon on what the Godlessness of present-day nations may do for us if we don't look out.

Lead the Nations.

I don't want to knock on my own nation. We lead the world in many respects, but I'll declare it looks like we have been leading it recently in Godlessness and crime. When Senator Borah was talking to the Young Men's Republican Club, of New York City, he said: "We are even now, in our youth, the most lawless of any of the great civilized nations."

And then, if any of the other nations can beat us at the game of graft they'll have to get up early in the morning and go some. The American people were robbed last year of $120,000,000 just by stock swindlers.

The story of bribery and fraud connected with most of our state congressional and legislative bodies, is enough to make you hang your head with shame. All sorts of crime seem to be on the increase. We may have universal peace before the millenium, I don't know. But while we are talking peace the nations of the world seem determined to go each other one better in creating a big navy, and a monster standing army and they are fighting a bitter struggle.

No wonder so many Bible scholars who study the Word, and read the signs of the times, think we are living in the last days spoken of in Timothy. And remember that only that nation shall prosper whose God is the Lord.

But it's to the individual I want to apply this text tonight.

God has done everything that heaven could think of to save your soul. You'd be surprised if you'd just sit down and add up the influences that's been brought to bear upon you; the prayers that have been made for you; the tears that have been shed, the sermons you've heard and everything that God can do, or inspire others to do, has been done, and yet some of you, in spite of it all, are plunging on in your sin and your stubbornness, down toward the pit of hell.

But when God tells you to repent and confess Jesus Christ, and then cut the cussedness and all the low-down mean traits, out of your life and disposition, and get busy on the job trying to save somebody else and earn a little piece of glory for yourself, in the life to come, He's asking you to do not only a reasonable thing, but a thing you can do if you want to, and if you won't do it, there is a reason for it, and that's what I want to look into for a minute or two.

Why is it that God can't persuade some of you people to line up on the side of Jesus Christ Well, there are four reasons that I can think of, one or the other of which will answer that question for every unsaved man or woman in this house.

A Sin You Love.

You've got some sin you love, and you're going to hold on to it at the risk of your immortal soul.

I preached in Reading, Pa., one time for thirty nights, and there was one man there under the deepest conviction. He came towards the close of the meeting nearly every night and his face seemed to get whiter each time he came. He was a bartender and had no other trade; he was not strong; he had a wife and several children depending on him. And I'll never forget the night he made the decision. He said: "I must be saved; I can't stand this any longer, but I know what it means, and I told the boss tonight he'd never see me in his saloon again; I'm going to trust God." But you haven't got the manhood to do that. I don't say you won't lose money by the deal, but if your money's dirty, I tell you plainly you can't make it that way and serve God. Many a man will turn his back on Christ for a vile, disgusting sin, and with some of you, if you do not decide for Christ, it is because of that and nothing else.

It may be your belief that's doing the damage. You say you don't believe that Jesus Christ was divine, and you don't believe there is a hell. Well, I can give you scores of good reasons for believing to the contrary and you can't give a single reason for the position you take. Just because they don't appeal to you or you can't understand them, is no reason they are not true.

If you can prove to me that Jesus Christ is not the Son of God and that there is no hell, and all the rest of it, so conclusively as you want me to prove the contrary to you, I'll shut my mouth forever on the subject. But unless you are dead sure that He was not divine, and that there is no hell, you're a big fool for knifing religion as long as there is one single good reason on the other side.

I'm a happier man than you are, anyhow. If religion is a dream, for God's sake don't wake me up; I'm enjoying it too much. And if it is not a dream, I'll be better fixed for the next world than you are anyhow.

Prepare for Possibilities.

You say, "There's no hell." I say to you, "There may be." "Yes," you say, "there's a possibility." Well, then, why don't you have some sense and be prepared for the possibility?

They don't expect a ship to sink, but it may sink, and so they put on lifeboats.

There may be a hell. You don't expect your house to burn, but it may burn, and you exercise good judgment and get it insured, and yet you are willing to risk your own soul uninsured against the possibility of eternal loss, when it don't cost you anything for insurance but a decent life and loyalty to Jesus Christ.

It may be the lure of the world.

You say, "I want pleasure." Your pleasures may be all right, but if you crowd your life so full of them there is no room left for the Christ, you make a fatal mistake. They will never satisfy you.

God pity you, if you are living just for pleasure. Pleasure is a good deal like Cleopatra's wasp, anyway; you know it came in a basket of flowers.

You say, "I want money," and it's all right if you use it right; but God pity you if you get it at the price of your soul.

You say, "I want fame." Yes, but that will never satisfy you.

The man that's got his whole soul wrapped up in the things of this world, whether it's pleasure or fame, or wealth or whatsoever it is, reminds me of the legend they tell over in Russia.

The legend says that in a certain part of the great empire, a man can have all the land he can run across and back between the rising and setting of the sun, but he must get back to the place he started from before the sun goes down.

Preparing to Run.

And one man got ready to run, and just as the old sun started to lift its head above the eastern skyline, the signal was given and away he went over the hills and through the valleys. He ran as if he wore the winged slippers of Mercury. In the distance he saw a little river winding around like a ribbon through the land, and he cried: "That shall be mine." He jumped into it, floundered across and up on the other side. He shot through the meadow and through the forest, and the deer started from the thicket, and the meadow lark from its nest. On before him he saw what seemed to be a mirage, but it proved to be a lake and as he came to it he leaped in a canoe, paddled across and clambered up the bank, and he said, "Ha, ha! that too belongs to me." And on he ran, driven by avarice, and greed and cupidity until at last he lifted his eyes above and cried, "My God, what have I done? The sun has already passed the meridian. I must go back over all the way I've come or lose it all." And he started back. He flew like he was pursued by the Furies. He leaped into the canoe, and shot across the lake; he tore through the meadows, the fields of waving grain and the forests. He leaped far out in the stream and splashed through to the other bank. On he goes with the speed of the wind. He bends every energy but it seems as though he cannot make it. Friends come out to cheer him on. They cry "Hurry, the western skies are afire with the glow of the dying day." He throws away his cap and his hair streams in the winds. "Faster," they cry. The rim of the sun has touched the skyline. And now he's bearing down on the goal; his veins stand out like whipcords; his eyes like Damon trying to save the life of Pythias, are bursting from their sockets. And some fellow cries, "Quick; in ten seconds the sun will be out of sight," and with one last effort he plunges straight across the line and cries, "I have won; all is mine!" But when they picked him up he was dead.

Yes, you can win. You can get it all. But what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?

One of them is on your death bed.

It's a shame the way some people treat God. They'll pass up the word of God in life, and live to please themselves and the devil, and then when death comes in the home, although you're members of the church, some of you, you'll build up a flimsy system of hope of your own.

Some member of your family has been a good-for-nothing, low-down lecherous devil, who denied Christ and spat at the church and died that way, and yet you seem to cherish a sort of hope that he's got a front seat up in heaven, when if you had any sense, even if you didn't have a Bible, you might know he's in hell.

Knifing the Evangelist.

I remember a case of a Godless cuss like that; he was the son of a saloon-keeper and a bartender himself. He cussed me black and blue because I ripped into the saloons. We had a fight on and the city went dry by 222 votes. He lived just across the street from where I was staying. He got sick and one Sunday morning I heard some noise and, looking out the window, I saw some folks running up and down the front walk crying and wringing their hands. I went over—of course, I didn't know whether they wanted me or not, but they seemed to be glad I was there. Pretty soon the priest came and they lit some candles. The man had been unconscious for ten minutes and in five minutes more he was dead. And I don't like to mention this, because I don't want to make stock out of other people's sorrow, but I saw one of the brothers put his arm around his weeping, broken-hearted sister and say to her, "Don't cry sister the priest was in the room when he died."

Great heavens what difference did that make? If all the priests in the universe had been there they could not have saved his soul.

What did Jesus say?

"Come unto the priest?" No.

"Come unto the preacher?" No.

"Come unto the bishop?" No.

"Come unto the church?" No.

"Come unto Me," He said, "and I will give you rest."

And say, people, if you have any friends like that who die, for heaven's sake don't expect the preacher to come and pack his sermon full of lies and preach his soul straight through the pearly gates, when you know he can't do it if he's true to God.

It isn't fair. As the tree falls, that's the way it lies. Don't think you can slip the preacher a big fee and get him to fix you up.

I know that sometimes people will whine around the feet of God, when they are dying, but I haven't got any use for it. I think it is a most miserable, good-for-nothing, unmanly and unwomanly thing to do, to tell Jesus Christ by the way you live that you don't care for Him and then when the devil's got you on your back and the death dews are on your forehead, to send for a preacher and tell him you want to be a Christian. Of course, the preacher will come and do the best he can for you. I have had them call for me all hours of the night and day, dying infidels and dying gamblers, and dying prostitutes, and dying women of culture, and it's all the same story.

Now is the Time.

I don't say God won't save you, but I don't believe one in a hundred is ever saved that way. And it's mighty little business on our part anyhow. And you can go on and say "No" to Christ and leave God out of your life, but when you come down to within a few hours of the hearse, you'll look back over the way you have come through all the golden hours of the harvest time, and the bright days calling you to service, and you'll say, "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and I am not saved."

The next place where your soul may be forced to make this cry is when you've gone too far and slammed the door in God's face for the last time, and fixed your character and your disposition even while you are in your health.

There's many a man and woman in good health right here in your city whose soul is damned now, so far as this life is concerned, just as much as if they were lying in their coffins. If they heard a sermon or listened to a preacher plead, it wouldn't make any more impression on their souls than the beating of a feather on an anvil.

Many a man will get up and boast that he hasn't got any feeling about the matter at all, and he talks as if that was a thing to be congratulated upon.

Well, you're a fool when you talk like that. It's a thing to be alarmed about. Do you know what happens when paralysis begins to set in? Feeling goes out. Do you know what happens to a man when they give him an anaesthetic? Feeling goes out. You can jab a knife in him and he never stirs. Do you know what happens when a man's freezing to death? He gets numb and the feeling goes.

I had a boil one time right here on this hand. I never want to have another one. There's only one good place to have a boil, and that's on the other fellow. I went down to the doctor and said, "Doctor, do something." And he took an instrument about eight inches long and shot a tiny stream of some fluid on it.

And I said, "What are you doing?"

And he said, "I'm going to freeze it."

And it began to cool off and every hair on my hand rose up like a tiny little icicle and when he got through the feeling was gone and the thing that had been jumping with pain that thousand cup power, quieted down thousand cup power, qquieted down like a roaring Numidian lion beneath the magic look of his trainer's eye and he went to work and cut into it, and cleansed it out, and if I hadn't been looking I wouldn't have known he was doing it. When you get a boil have it done like that.

Do you mean to tell me that a man's leg, or his side, or any other part of his body is in a healthy state when you can run a knife into it, and he never feels it? No; and what is true of your body, is true of your soul. And if you haven't got any feeling or concern about this matter, instead of standing up and congratulating yourself over it you ought to be alarmed and stir yourself and get some feeling and get some concern or ask God in some way to give it to you.

Going a Little Too Far.

And that is what I am afraid is ging to take place with some of you in your experience. You can go on and on, but by-and-bye you will have gone a little too far, and although you may not realize it yourself, God will set an indelible stamp on your forehead and seen from the skies it will read, "Doomed forever," and the harvest will be past and the summer ended and you will not be saved.

2. The other time when it will be fitting for some of you to cry out the words of this text is at the close of a meeting like this when you've let your chance go by to come to Christ, and be saved.

I tell you my heart goes out to Plainfield and the people who have jammed into this building night after night. I have preached the gospel all over the country and seen thousands, of all classes, walk the sawdust aisle for Christ, and now for six weeks I have worked and prayed and done my best for you, and it's sad to think of going away and leaving some of you still held by your passions and pride, your self-will and sin. The rich and the poor have come; the educated and those with little learning have come, the moralist and the "down and out" have come. Yes, they've come by the thousands. We're glad, and never have I preached to a more appreciative people than you; but my heart goes out to those who are still fighting against God, and I am afraid if you let this meeting close it will be God's funeral bell for your soul.

What a harvesting time and summer season this has been. It's been God troubling the waters for you, but I'm afraid some of you are going to neglect to step in.

O, God, as I look back through all the years, how many splendid men do I recall who came into the meetings and with whom the spirit pleaded, and who said, "Not now!" And I said, "When do you think you will decide?"

And they said, "Sometime, but not now."

And didn't I say every time, "Oh, God, I'm afraid if you don't decide in these days you never will."

But they said "No!" and the meeting closed.

And as I look back through all the years I find them dead and gone, some of them, and unsaved, and others still living and still outside the kingdom of God.

PROGRAM FOR WEEK.

Tuesday.

10:00—Cottage Prayer Meetings.
12:00—Christian Business Men's meeting, Y. M. C. A.
3:15—High School girls—Mrs. Brake — First Baptist Church.
7:30—Tabernacle Service. "Christian Science."

Wednesday.

10:00—Cottage Prayer Meetings.
12:00—Christian Business Men's Meeting, Y. M. C. A.
7:45—Monster Civico-Religious Parade. Proceeding from Crescent avenue on Watchung avenue to Front street and on Front to Tabernacle.
8:30—Service at the Tabernacle.

Thursday.

10:00—Cottage Prayer Meetings.
12:00—Christian Business Men's Meeting, Y. M. C. A.
3:00—Women only — Tabernacle.
7:30—Tabernacle Service. "Converts' Night." (All converts of the campaign will have reserved seats. Special sermon to young Christians.)

Friday.

(No morning prayer meetings.)
3:00—Union prayer meeting in Tabernacle. Dr. Biederwolf will speak.
3:30—High School boys—Mr. McEwan—Y. M. C. A.
7:30—Tabernacle Service. "Family Night." (Special section reserved for families. Gift to largest family present.)

Saturday.

(No morning services.)
2:30—Children's Meeting—Mr. Sluyter—Tabernacle.
7:30—Tabernacle Service.

Sunday.

(Offerings taken for Dr. Biewolf.)
10:30—Union Church Service in Tabernacle.
3:00—Men only — Tabernacle. Dr. Biederwolf— "The Square Man."
3:00—Women only—First Baptist Church — Mrs. Brake.
7:30—Tabernacle Service.

Monday.

"FAREWELL NIGHT"
7:30—Farewell Service in Tabernacle.

Tuesday.

7:30—Choir Concert. (Silver offering at the door.)

—Press want ads. pay.

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

—When discontent reaches a certain point, the furnished room advertisements become very interesting to some people.

WEST POINT TO GET JERSEY GUARDSMEN

Adjutant General of Regular Army Invites Three Enlisted Men to Take 'Exams.'

Trenton, May 16.—Three enlisted men to be selected from the National Guard of New Jersey will have an opportunity to take examinations for admission to West Point, July 10, next. Governer Fielder has been notified to this effect in a telegram from the Adjutant General of the regular army, requesting him to recommend the candidates for admission.—

Through Adjutant Wilbur F. Sadler, Jr., the Governor has notified the commander of the several infantry regiments, the squadron of cavalry and the batteries of field artillery, requesting them to furnish names of men in their commands fitted to compete. Candidates must be between nineteen and twenty-two years of age, unmarried, and must have served as enlisted men not less than one year on July 10 next when the admission will be made.

The men recommended will be required to report to the commanding officer at Fort Slocum, New York, June 6, for mental and physical examination. Commanding officers are required to submit names of prospective candidates to the adjutant-general not later than next Saturday.

LITERARY

Against the Volunteer System.

"Consideration of the regular army only adds another count to the indictment against the volunteer system. The law of the land allows a total enlisted strength of 100,000; yet not all the alluring posters and recruiting officers have been able to secure this number. Even were Congress to decide to disrupt industry, burden the taxpayer, and menace free institutions by the creating of a large standing army, where would the men come from? The American private is better paid, better fed, and better housed than the private soldier of any other nation, yet the regular service makes no greater appeal than does enlistment in the organized militia.

"Surely, after one hundred and thirty-eight years of earnest effort and enormous expenditure, it will not be urged that 129,000 half-drilled, half-fit men is a result that merits continued reliance upon the volunteer system as a sound basis for national safety, or the showing of a raked-and-scraped regular army of fewer than 90,000 that costs over one hundred millions a year to maintain?

"The truth must be faced that the volunteer system has been attended at every step by waste and failure, draining the national treasury while contributing little or nothing to the adequate preparedness that is now seen as a national need. It is the lesson of history that every great country in every great war has had to resort to conscription because of the cowardice or indifference that hides at home while bravery and patriotism make their sacrifices of blood upon the battlefield. The question for the United States to decide is whether this step shall be taken at the twelfth hour, when precious time must be lost in winnowing and drilling, or now, when years of peace permit a slow, scientific process that contains no menace to democratic ideals or the impairment of the civic virtues."—George Creel, in the May Century.

There is certainly no snobbery in Bonnie May's attitude toward life. Here is her way of looking at things as expressed in Louis Dodge's serial in the June Scribner:

"Who ever heard of a beer-driver being beautiful? And such an enormous creature; and the kind of work he does; and—and such clothes!"

Her brows contracted. "Aren't you prejudiced against him just because—well, maybe, because of the kind of work he does?"

"I think maybe I am. I should think anybody might be."

"I see. You were thinking something ugly about him—so of course he wouldn't look nice to you. You see, I wasn't. I think maybe he does that kind of work because he was never taught to do anything else. If your work isn't lovely, I think you deserve all the more credit if you can be glad while you're doing it."

"But, don't you see—people choose their work—they choose to be what they are."

"Not at all. I didn't. Did you?"

Survival of the "Slickest."

Forty years of Congress! Not many men survive that.

Joe Cannon's birthday, on May 6th, will be the occasion for nothing but praise. Clark, Mann and Kitchin are on the program for speeches.

Having received a large assortment of concrete bricks and vegetable bouquets during three terms as speaker, it is fitting that he now get the gentler and more fragant kind of comment.—Art Young in the June Metropolitan.

GET THREE ON ORPET JURY.

Farmers Try to Evade Serving at Trial of Student For Murder.

Chicago, May 16.—From a courtroom of farmers, fretting to get back to their fields, and Zionites whose religious scruples would prevent them imposing the death penalty, there were chosen only three of the men who will try William Orpet, University of Wisconsin student, charged with ending his love affair with Marian Lambert by murdering her.

Perhaps the most disinterested and yet the most important figure among them was the defendant himself. His face blanched by confinement in jail, he sat huddled between the figures of his father and mother.

SEN. G. E. CHAMBERLAIN.

Will Submit New Army Bill to Senate.

Photo by American Press Association.

Senator G. E. Chamberlain of Oregon will some time this week submit to the United States senate the compromise army bill agreed upon by the conferees of both houses.

ARMENIAN EXILES STARVE TO DEATH

Their Only Food Is Grass, Says Cable Message.

New York, May 16.—Armenian exiles eating grass and dying of starvation by hundreds is the startling cable message received today from Constantinople by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, 70 Fifth avenue, this city. The message says that suffering among the exiles deported from their homes by Turkish soldiers has been greatly increased on account of their refusal to accept the Mohammedan religion, but that in spite of all suffering they are not losing their Christian faith.

The cablegram is dated May 4, but has been delayed. It was received from reliable representatives of the committee in Turkey through the department of state. The minimum sum of money needed in Turkey alone for the relief of destitute Armenians, the cablegram states, is $52,800 a month, and ten times that sum would not meet the full needs.

Mention is made of thousands of orphans and children who are receiving food. In the city of Marash 10,000 Armenians are threatened with deportation. And in Sivas 25,000 destitute refugees, including women and children, have arrived from coast cities.

One of the significant statements in the cablegram is that the work of relief is being supervised by German consuls as well as American consuls.

Samuel T. Dutton, secretary of the American committee on Armenian and Syrian relief, said the cablegram is the first news the committee has received from its representatives for a month and that the message gave much needed information with reference to localities where the suffering is the worst.

The committee now has reliable facilities for reaching the needy, and its commissions in several centers of Turkey, Persia and Syria are under the direction of American consuls and missionaries. Aleppo, Mr. Dutton said, is the distributing center for a broad region in which there are probably 500,000 destitute Armenians.

Subscriptions should be sent to Charles R. Crane, 70 Fifth avenue, New York, the treasurer of the committee.

GUARDS KILL PRISONERS.

Quell Revolt of Austrians In Canadian Camp.

Ottawa, Ont., May 16.—Four Austrian prisoners were killed and fifteen were wounded as a result of an outbreak in the interment camps at Kapuskasing, on the Transcontinental railway, sixty miles west of Cochrane, according to reports which reached the military department.

Major General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, announced that he had sent General Logie, commanding the Toronto military district, to the camps to take charge of the situation.

French Take German Trenches.

Paris, May 16.—A section of trenches 200 meters (217 yards) in length was attacked suddenly by French forces on the heights of the Meuse and was swept clean of German troops before the defenders recovered from their surprise. The French force brought back some German prisoners. Beyond this action there was no infantry activity in the region of Verdun.

Wilder Left $77,325.

New York, May 16.—Marshall P. Wilder, humorist, who died Jan 10, 1915, left a net estate of $77,325, according to the transfer tax report filed in the surrogate's court here. A son and daughter are the beneficiaries.

Concerning Push.

"I want some gasoline, boy," said a wealthy motorist. "So please be quick. You will never get on in this world unless you push. Push is the essential. When I was young I pushed, and look at me now! I am worth thousands!"

"Well, sir," said the boy, "I think you'll have to push again 'cause we ain't got any gasoline in the place."—Chicago News.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

11 ARE KILLED AS BUILDING FALLS

Akron Restaurant Collapses Without Warning.

NINETEEN SERIOUSLY HURT

Due to Dynamite Blast—Walls Weakened by Shock and Ceiling Falls in Upon Those Seated at Tables—Feared Loss of Life May Be Still Greater Than Known.

Akron, O., May 16.—Precisely at the busiest hour of the day the walls and ceiling of the Crystal restaurant collapsed with a roar that could be heard through the whole downtown district.

Eleven bodies have already been dug out of the ruins, and nineteen persons have been sent to the city hospitals, some of them so badly injured that their death is expected. Three persons known to have been in the restaurant are missing, and those in charge of the rescue work doubt if this completes the roll of the missing.

The restaurant was fully occupied at the time of the collapse, and it is thought almost certain that several others are buried beneath the mass of brick and mortar, all that is left of the building, which, although only one story in height, was of broad dimensions, with a two story false front.

The collapse followed the setting off of a dynamite blast in an excavation fifty feet from the restaurant. The charge was so heavy that many windows in the restaurant were broken. This occasioned some excitement among the patrons of the place, but George and Augustus Serris, the owners, went among them and reassured the timid.

Buried by the Collapse.

Ten minutes later, while Main and Quarry streets, at the intersection of which the Crystal was located, were jammed with homegoing thousands, there was a crackling and a roaring and a crashing, when the false front fell back on the roof, bore that down and the combined mass pulled down the side walls.

Then came the screams of the injured. In quick time the police and firemen were at the work of rescue.

The first person extricated from the ruins was Mrs. William C. Lawson, who had been dining with her husband and small daughter. She was bruised and bleeding and almost fainting. As she rested by the curb her daughter was borne out to be sent to the morgue. This prostrated the woman. Five minutes later the body of her husband was carried out, but Mrs. Lawson was too hysterical to be told of it.

Paul Zerbe, a shoe salesman, was among the first survivors to be reached by the rescuers. He was badly injured, but was able to give an account of what happened.

"I was sitting about halfway back," said he, "and was facing the front. The blast came and cracked the big plate glass window in front. It sounded like the report of a large gun. Everybody's attention was attracted. Calmness was restored in a minute or two, and every one was joking about the shattering of the window.

"Then came an even louder report, and the glass cracked again. It seemed to hang there, and the next moment the whole window fell out.

"I saw several persons get up to look. Then before any one had conjectured the possibility of the whole building dropping in on us the ceiling fell down.

"The walls crumbled. I felt a blow on the head, and I could feel myself sinking. I found myself weighed down by what I know was tons of debris. I could barely see a speck of daylight. Then after an interminable time I heard chopping, and presently I was taken out."

SENATE REJECTS RUBLEE.

Nomination by Wilson Held Up Fifteen Months.

Washington, May 16.—After serving fifteen months as a member of the federal trade commission, the nomination of George Rublee was rejected by the senate by a vote of 42 to 36. Senator Hollis changed his vote to be in a position to move to reconsider should later developments disclose a possibility of reversing the action.

The vote is a defeat for the president, who brought every possible influence to bear to obtain Rublee's confirmation.

500 TO LOSE CITY JOBS.

Atlantic City Commissioners to Discharge Riddle's Workers.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 16.—About 500 city employees are said to be slated for dismissal at the initial sitting of the new city commissioners. The axe will fall in the police, fire, street, water and other departments, upon the heads of the employees having taken the side of Mayor William Riddle at the commission government election last week.

Brandeis Vote Near.

Washington, May 16.—The senate judiciary committee will take a vote on Wednesday on the question of reporting the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to be a member of the supreme court. It is understood that the nomination will probably be reported without recommendation. Then will follow a fight on the floor of the senate.

A Spirit of Mischief.

"You should never be cross."

"I can't help it sometimes," replied the small boy. "I like to start an argument between father and mother as to which of them I take after."—Washington Star.

—Among the readers of this newspaper's classified columns are possible buyers for any desirable real estate in this city.

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 192 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 16, 1916.

THE GLORIES OF NEW JERSEY.

United States Senator James E. Martine was in town for a few hours on Sunday, looking hale and hearty, and loud in his praise of President Wilson, whom he is sure will be re-elected. The Senator declared that he is determined to make an active canvass to be returnd to his present office, and he feels confident that he will be successful. There are a lot of people in the State who predict that the "Farmer Orator" has not much chance of being returned. Apparently he will at least have the advantage of having his party united behind him, while there are three or four seeking the honor in the Republican ranks.

One thing is sure. If the Senator goes about the State making stump speeches as interesting as one which he delivered in the Senate last Friday, he will have a most respectful hearing. The speech in question was the Senator's contribution to the observance of New Jersey day, and according to newspaper reports the applause which greeted his efforts is said to have been the only outburst of the kind that ever went unsuppressed by the presiding officer of the Senate. Those reports say that the Senator went back in history to the days of the revolution. Getting down to modern times he spoke of the late Grover Cleveland as "one who had contributed honor and glory to our country." Then he eulogized President Wilson, who as "another painstaking, patriotic son, has by his unselfishness and patriotism honored and blessed our land and placed his name high on the scroll of fame. And the honored position you today fill so acceptably, Mr. President (referring to the Senate presidency), was occupied by a distinguished son of New Jersey, Garret A. Hobart. His genial presence shed sunshine wherever he might be."

Then the Senator turned his attention to the "hives of industry" in New Jersey, and dwelt on "the clang of our anvils and the buzz and hum of our mills," which, he said, "suggest the tune of liberty, prosperity and happiness." His respects were also paid to "the throbbing population of more than 1,200,000 souls."

New Jersey, he said, was "blessed by good legislation" and also "ramified by a superb road system." The waves on the coast, and the "green-clad hills of Union, Sussex, Warren, Morris and Somerset counties," also were remembered. "To this fair-pictured land, New Jersey bids welcome to all seeking health, wealth and happiness," cried Senator Martine. "We bid you come. Our latchstring hangs out and a warm hand will greet you."

All of which goes to prove that the well-known Plainfielder has lost none of his skill as an orator, largely gained at times when he was leading a forlorn hope in this county and Congressional district. "Senator Jim," as Plainfielders will always know him, may not be reelected. There is no disputing that the cards are being stacked against him, but if he is not to be chosen again, the Republicans must bear in mind that they will have to nominate a strong man. Some who are seeking the honor on the Republican side would not begin to be as creditable representatives of the State as is Senator Martine.

• • • • • •

GROCERY STORE RELIGION.

Dr. Biederwolf's great success in his work here can be attributed primarily to the fact that he does not care whom he hits, so long as he tells the ruth. When he sees something wrong he speaks out in a way that the average minister would hesitate to do for fear he would lose his pulpit. But Biederwolf has no one to answer to after his campaign here is over, and he does not care if some of his hearers are offended by what he says, because he knows that he is right, and that while the audiences may disagree with him on some topics, they believe that he is right in practically all he says.

That the tendency among the modern churchgoers is against frank statements in the pulpit by the man whom they listen to Sunday after Sunday may well be illustrated by the experience of Rev. M. G. Johnston, rector of Trinity church in Newark. Mr. Johnston announced on Sunday that he had been asked to resign, because of a disagreement with vestrymen due to his refusal to suppress passages in his sermons calculated to make sinners feel uncomfortable. He declared that he had been assured that everything would be harmonious if he presented nothing but soothing and optimistic interpretations of the doctrines of the church, keeping clear of matter which would give offense to guilty consciences. He said that he had learned that he had angered an influential vestryman by his sermon on "The Right of a Child to a Pure Birth," and his preaching in favor of repealing the Panama Canal Tolls act. He said that another member of the vestry had recently told him that "his idea of running a church was that it should be run just as a grocery store is run, to please the patrons. No one could run a successful grocery store who let his private convictions interfere with his selling his patrons what they wanted—liquor or anything else."

Suppose Dr. Biederwolf tried to preach according to the "grocery store method?" Does anyone think for a moment that mollycoddle sermons of that style would have brought over 4,000 persons to a better way of thinking, and to make a promise that they would strive to lead better lives? And at the same time, if local pastors should preach the Biederwolf type of sermons once in a while, they would undoubtedly be condemned by members of their congregations, and might find that their resignations would be asked for, especially if the displeased persons happened to be largely instrumental in the support of the church.

• • • • • •

Mayor Calkins will have a volunteer board of censors to inspect the moving picture shows in this city. At the same time he says that the judgment of this board will have no more weight with him than will the opinion of any individual citizen who makes complaint. There are all sorts of views as to what is right and wrong with the movies, and if this haphazard method of deciding the question is decided on we fear that things will be worse than they are at present. If there is to be a Board of Censors, they should be a group of sensible men and women, with sane notions, and upon them should rest the responsibility for the showing of all questionable films in this city.

• • • • • •

Norman Hapgood, a mere editor, has been sued for $350,000 in a regular court. He is the first man of his profession to be so highly honored, and news of the suit makes every editor in the country swell up a little.

• • • • • •

On the whole old man Booze seems to bet getting his in first class shape here in Plainfield just now.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

The Silver Cornet Band.

When our town's silver cornet band comes marchin' down the street,
All dressed in gold braid uniform, it surely is a treat.
The folks line up along the walks and drink the music in,
The boys take Susie's "Stars and Stripes" and hit her up like sin.
And every woman who has got some kin that's in the band
Points him out to her neighbors and she says, "My, ain't he grand!"
The boys all march along like kings and hold their heads upright;
They may be shy on music, but they sure look out of sight.
The sour notes pass unnoticed and no one cracks a smile.
Ren Hawkins on the slide trombone kin be heard for a mile,
The bass drum is the only other thing that you kin hear,
And there's no use of any other players bein' near.
Somehow you never notice that the harmony ain't there;
The folks don't seem to listen, but they only stand and stare.
The music is of doubtful sort, we must perforce agree,
But it's the finest LOOYIN' band that we most ever see.

Another Spring Romance.

The winsome bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goff, of Onaway. The Gaylord girls are entirely too slow to let William get away like that. Of course, no one had any idea that William was thinking seriously of a love compact. But then it is in the gentle springtime that the young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love. And while William was "pegging away with his awl" his aesthetic soul was fired with ardent hopes and bright dreams of domestic bliss. We extend hearty congratulations to the bride and groom and trust that the union will bring additions of joy and happiness and prosperity.—Otsego County Advance.

One Lucky Prisoner.

An illiterate Michigan justice of the peace used to consult what looked like a law book, but was really a mail order catalog. One day a negro was haled before the squire on a charge of drunkenness. The squire heard the evidence and then, after opening his book and glancing at it, fined the negro $4.49, to be worked out on the roads at 25 cents per day. As the negro was being led away he said to the marshal, "I sho' is a unlucky nigger!" "Unlucky nothing," said the marshal. "If the squire had happened to open that book at Automobiles instead of Pants, you'd be working on the road the rest of your life."

Back to the Original.

At last the family driving horse and the single buggy have come back into their own as a means of promoting the work of the little god, Cupid, among the young folks of both country and town. For quite a while the faithful Dobbin was turned out to pasture, the buggy relegated to the back shed, while the son and heir of the old homestead took his best girl over a couple of hundred miles of country roads every Sunday in pa's new seven-passenger. But the high price of gasoline came along, and now the old hoss joggs the highways again in peace and contentment, while the young man finds that hanging on to the wheel of a racing car with both hands ain't shucks compared to the old-fashioned way, where you can give her a hug now and then when the proprieties of the occasion and good manners demand it.

Your Chances.

Let the other fellow do the worrying. Think good thoughts, never gossip about your neighbors, do the best you can financially, take plenty of exercise, mow your own lawn, get up at cock-crow, go to bed with the chickens and eat plenty of spinach and you will live to be 115 years old, providing you don't get run over by an automobile, fall off a ten-story building, eat toadstools by mistake, monkey around a pest-house or die a natural death.

- Proctor's Theatre -

It is to the credit of Proctor's local management that they conceived so delightful a treat as that of offering little Mary Pickford, the favorite of all film fans, in a different one of her greatest successes each day, and that they will be well repaid for their efforts to provide their patrons with the best in photoplay entertainment, was evinced yesterday when Proctor's was the mecca for the majority of theatre-goers, who could not afford to miss seeing their popular screen idol in one of her most pleasing productions, "Such a Little Queen." The supporting program was all that could be desired and included that wonderful new serial spectacle, "The Mysteries of Myra." Today's bill is equally if not more well balanced, and includes Miss Packford in "Behind the Scenes," a typical stage story, and containing all the atmosphere of doings before and behind the footlights. In addition today Lillian Gish, the star of "The Birth of a Nation," and now a member of D. W. Griffiths Triangle Company, appears in a character story dealing with the trials of those who live across the sea in Northern Russia, entitled "Sold for Marriage." Fatty Arbuckle is also seen tomorrow in a rip-roaring Keystone entitled "The Other Man," and the entertainment is completed by the presentation of the eleventh episode of "Mary Page." Wednesday Mary Pickford appears in "Cinderella," a story familiar to every child and grown-up, and a part in which Miss Pickford excels; Vivian Martin apears in William Fox's latest production, "A Modern Thelma," and the twelfth episode of "The Iron Claw" is also presented. Thursday "Mistress Nell" will be shown, with Mary Pickford in the leading role; Frank Keenan, the talented character star of both stage and screen, will be featured, together with Mary Boland, in "The Stepping Stone," and Chester Conklin will head a cast of funmakers in the Keystone comedy, "Bucking Society." Friday Miss Pickford will be featured in "A Girl of Yesterday," in addition to other features, and on Saturday she will be seen in "Madame Butterfly." In addition to this colossal photoplay entertainment, on Thursday and Friday Charlie Chaplin, the incomparable, will be featured in his first mammoth comedy produced under his new $670,000 contract entitled "The Floorwalker."

WESTCOTT IS TO MAKE WILSON NOMINATING SPEECH

Washington, May 16.—Attorney General John W. Wescott of Camden will nominate President Wilson at St. Louis. This much was settled at a conference between the President and Mr. Wescott at the White House yesterday afternoon.

POSTPONE EUCHRE PARTY.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. Club, which had arranged a euchre for tomorrow night, has postponed the affair to Wednesday night, May 24, on account of the civico-religious parade and demonstration.

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

AND GOSH, HOW WE DREAD IT

--Astor Theatre--

Would you, gentle reader, take into your home to reform, rear and start anew in life a girl who has been born and bred in crime; a girl who had been raised a pickpocket and arrested when a man felt her hand in the place where he kept his money?

The Bluebird photoplay, in which Violet Mersereau leads a fine company in "The Great Problem," will be exhibited at The Astor Theatre today, and it will tell the story of how the little pickpocket was redeemed, led into a new life and entered upon a happier and more honorable station. Intensely interesting, acted with fine artistry of skillful photoplayers, "The Great Problem" will bring scenes taken from real life to the realization of those who know not "how the other half lives."

"Ninety per cent. of the crimes committed are the result of environment," said a great sociological reformer in a speech one day at his club. To make good his theory the reformer practically adopted a girl pickpocket, took her into his home and reared her the way he thought she should go. Aside from the great moral lesson, there is a story of gripping interest to make more emphatic the purpose of the photoplay. Tomorrow we will offer for your approval, Florence Rockwell in "He Fell In Love With His Wife," from the book and play by E. P. Roe, a stirring dramatic success, produced by the Pallas Pictures Company.

Coming Wednesday, May 31, the "movie" favorite, Mary Pickford, in "Poor Little Peppina," in which she scored a far greater success than in "The Girl of Yesterday," which was exhibited at this theatre February 9 and 10. This pictures was shown at The Strand, New York, and played to capacity at all performances.

Our prices for all our big productions will be at all times, matinee 5 and 10 cents; evening 10 and 15 cents; we never exceed the latter price. First run Paramount, Bluebird and other Broadway features.

Coming Thursday, "The Battle of the Nations," in six parts, showing the actual fighting on the battlefield at Warsaw, the big guns in action, the great loss of life and many other interesting facts of which you read of every day.

The New York American says: "'The Battle of a Nation' begins where all others have left off. They are as thrilling as though one were right in the midst of it all." The Evening World says: "Plenty of actual fighting is seen. As an artistic contribution to the motion picture world they are splendid." For further details of this wonderful photoplay read the papers, The Press and Courier-News.

You see them at The Astor first.

.· Plainfield Theatre. ·.

One of the most attractive vaudeville bills presented at the Plainfield Theatre the present season was seen for the first time yesterday, when the new program for the first half of the week was inaugurated. Every one of the six numbers was worthy of the headline position, and each one registered a hit that will keep it in popularity until the end of the engagement. Encores came in rapid successions yesterday, and last night there were several curtain calls before the audiences were satisfied.

First position on the bill as accorded the "Juvenile Review," an act presented by ten clever kid performers, not one of them over twelve years of age. They sing and dance like veterans of the musical comedy world, and have a scenic setting and costume effect that makes the offering a delightful entertainment. Another good act is presented by Dolly Lewis and company, a man and woman number in which there is plenty of good music from a piano on the stage and pleasing song specialties by both performers. Mrs. Ralph Herz, wife of the famous light opera star, registered a big hit with her "Dance Diversion," an offering of modern dances executed by Mrs. Herz and two clever assistants. Hallowell and company handed out a bunch of laughs with their burlesque sketch on the national topic, "Preparedness," and Jack Dempsey, appearing in a tramp character make-up, gave one of the cleverest single acts Plainfield audiences have had in many months. This program will be repeated in its entirety at all performances today and tomorrow. Supplementing the vaudeville today will be several one and two-reel comedy and dramatic pictures, and the Pathe semi-weekly "Animated Newspaper," depicting the latest happenings in all parts of the country. The big feature tomorrow night will be the introduction of the latest batch of amateur performers, who will compete for the handsome prizes offered by the theatre management. Five local entries have already been received one of them Being Patsy Riccardo, who will offer his own dramatic playlet, "Outwitting Villa," which promises to be the biggest "scream" of the season.

EAGLES AT ELIZABETH TAKE STEPS TOWARD STATE AERIE

Elizabeth, May 16.—Steps toward the formation of a State aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles were taken at the headquarters of Elizabeth Aerie No. 667 Sunday afternoon by ninety-one delegates representing twenty-three aeries. It was agreed that permanent organization will be effected in Newark August 19, which will be Eagle Day of that city's anniversary celebration. The arrangements for the State society were left in the hands of a committee.

This committee consists of John H. Sullivan, of Jersey City; Fred Smith, of Newark Aerie, and William P. Neafsey, of Elizabeth Aerie. Final indorsement of the plans for the organization meeting must come from Grand Worthy President Dr. William E. Grayson, of Savannah.

General Dennis F. Collins was made temporary chairman of Sunday's session, being introduced by President James Desmond, of the local aerie. John C. Coffey, of Passaic Aerie, was elected unanimously as temporary secretary on motion of John J. Trimble, secretary of the Elizabeth Lodge, who had also been named, but withdrew in favor of Mr. Coffey.

While the majority of the delegates seemed to favor a State organization, those from Newark and Camden were divided. When the question was put to a vote nineteen aeries represented favored the plan, while delegates from four did not vote because they were sent uninstructed.

After the transaction of business the visitors were entertained at a banquet on the lawn of the Eagles' quarters. The delegates came from Paterson, Newark, Passaic, New Brunswick, Camden, Wildwood, Somerville, Morristown, Millville, Plainfield, Montclair, Hoboken, Jersey City, Boonton, Harrison, Rahway, Orange, Dover and Trenton.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

On the first of May, through the courtesy of your esteemed paper, I asked Dr. Biederwolf a question which, up to this time has not been answered. What is the matter with the doctor Can it be that the "yellow streak" referred to by Dr. Biederwolf in his lecture, "Confess and Be Saved" manifests itself even in the doctor himself? This can hardly be true of a man who has the courage, before an audience to advise and counsel men to "better neglect your family, better neglect your health than to neglect the way of getting right with God," though I fail to see where neglecting your family or your health would or could in any way help to set a man right with God when it is directly opposite to the laws of God and nature. Therefore I will continue to search your columns for a direct answer from the worthy doctor.

S. C. NEWMARK.

The following letter has been sent to Postmaster Hoagland by William T. Kaufman:

"May 15, 1916.

"Postmaster, Plainfield, N. J.

"Dear Sir: I most strongly protest against what I understand is to form part of the entertainment of the visiting letter carriers on Decoration Day, that is the furnishing of beer to those who may take part in the parade.

"My objections are many; but I urge upon you as an officer of the United States Government, the following:

"1. As a citizen of Plainfield and a taxpayer, I protest against the giving of intoxicants to public servants.

"2. As a contributor to the expenses of the proposed celebration, I protest against having any part of my contribution used in the direction indicated.

"3. As a Christian, I protest against the public encouragement of a habit, the deplorable effects of which on the spiritual, moral and physican man are so well known.

"4. I finally protest in the name of the wives and children of those in the postoffice service who may now be endeavoring to overcome the temptation to drink, which temptation the action of those in positions of responsibility and power will either foster or discourage.

"I appeal to you to use your official position to prohibit the free distribution of beer or any other alcoholic beverage on the occasion referred to."

BISHOP SHAHAN WILL ORDAIN YOUNG PRIEST

Francis Antonius Fox, of Newark, will be ordained a priest of the Dominican Order at the Dominican Chapel tomorrow by the Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University at Washington. Bishop Shahan recently was the guest of David Kenney, of this city, and celebrated mass in St. Mary's church a week ago Sunday.

Father Fox began his education in the parish school of St. James' church and continued under the tutelage of Monsignor Patrick S. Cody, pastor of that church and well known locally. Monsignor Cody, it will be remembered, administered the pledge to the T. A. B. S. on the occasion of their thirty-fifth anniversary, nine years ago.

Wood Brook milk is health insurance. Such milk saves doctor's bills for the baby and may save the baby's health. Your doctor knows these facts. Ask him.

Did you ever taste Wood Brook buttermilk?

It is delicious.

This scientific buttermilk aids digestion.

WOOD BROOK FARMS.
Plainfield, N. J.
Phone No. Metuchen 179.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

To JUDIA C. HOLTON and H. E. HOLTON, her husband:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein William L. Smelley is complainant, and you are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the Bill of said Complaint on or before the third day of July next, or said bill will be taken as confessed against you. The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Ellen Smith and husband to Phoebe M. Sprague, dated July 2, 1897, for Two Thousand ($2,000.00) Dollars, covering lands in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey; and you, JUDIA C. HOLTON, are made defendant because you claim or may claim to own or have some interest in said premises mentioned and described in the said bill; and you, H. E. HOLTON, are made defendant because you are the husband of the said JUDIA C. HOLTON, and by virtue thereof claim to have some lien upon or interest in the said mortgaged premises.

Dated May 1, 1916.

REED & HETFIELD,
Solicitors of Complainant.
203 Park avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
My 16 23 31-Je.

THE ORIGINAL
MALTED MILK
Rich milk, malted grain extract, in powder.
For Infants, Invalids and growing children.
Pure nutrition, upbuilding the whole body.
Invigorates nursing mothers and the aged.
The Food-Drink for all Ages
More nutritious than tea, coffee, etc.
Substitutes cost YOU Same Price

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Little Halmar Gets Acquainted With a Stork. And Flew Away to Its Beloved Africa.

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

"OUTSIDE the rain was just pouring," daddy began the bedtime story. "Little Halmar could even hear it pour in his sleep. Then Ole Lekoie, the dustman, softly opened his window. 'Will you sail with me, little Halmar?' he whispered. 'The water stands up to your window sill, and a beautiful ship lies here to take us to distant lands.'

"Then all at once Halmar found himself on a boat, sailing through the streets, past the church, bound for the open sea. On they sailed past sight of land. Soon they met a flock of storks flying in a long line toward warm countries. One of them was so tired his wings could hardly carry him any farther. He was the last stork and a long way behind the others. With outspread wings at last he sank. Then he touched the rigging of Halmar's ship with his feet and slid down with a big flop on to the deck.

"Then Halmar ran and picked him up and put him in the hen house with the chickens and ducks and turkeys. The poor stork looked quite unhappy among them.

"'What a funny creature!' cackled the hens. The turkey cock puffed himself up and gobbled twice, and the ducks waddled against each other clumsily and went 'Quack, quack!'

"Then the stork told them about sunny Africa and the pyramids and the ostriches running across the hot deserts like wild horses. But the ducks did not understand him and asked, 'Is he an idiot?'

"'He's an idiot!' gobbled the turkey cock.

"Then the poor stork kept still and thought about his beloved Africa.

"'Nice thin legs you've got!' gobbled the turkey cock. 'How much a yard?'

"'Quack!' grinned all the ducks. But the stork pretended not to hear.

"'It was a witty remark. Smile if you want to,' said the turkey cock. 'He's good enough to amuse us,' he added to the rest of them. And all the hens cackled and the ducks quacked.

"Then Halmar went to the henhouse and opened the door. He called the stork, and out upon the deck it hopped. It rested now and seemed to thank him, and when it was all rested it spread its broad wings and flew away to its beloved Africa. But the hens kept on cackling, the ducks quacked, and the turkey gobbled till his head was red as fire.

"'Tomorrow we'll make you into soup,' Halmar told him. But when he woke up the next morning he found himself in his own little bed."

"Wasn't that a lovely trip Ole Shuteyes took him on, daddy?" cried Jack.

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

Olive and Nell Believe That Ethel Is Missing the Chief Joy of Life.

"I certainly feel sorry for Mr. Gordon," said Nell Morton feelingly. "They have gone down to the hotel for dinner every day this week."

"What do they do about the dinner for the little maid you sent them," asked Olive Ellston, fastening the thread on the button she was sewing on.

"Oh, Mrs. Gordon leaves her to get her own lunch, and she is enjoying the freedom of the house, I can assure you. She was in strumming on the piano while they were gone today. She is not starving herself, believe me. She gave Julia, that's my girl, a big piece of cake last night and an orange the night before. Julia likes to talk, and she says the stuff they put in the garbage can is past belief."

"The old saying that a woman can throw out faster with a teaspoon than a man can put in with a shovel is well exemplified in her case, I am afraid. What a pity it is that she cannot see that she is a positive hindrance to her husband. He must walk as he can carrying his burden." Olive's voice was very solemn.

"Dick says he is such a good sort, too. Before they were married he told Dick that he hoped to buy the house they are living in, but he said last night:

"'I am afraid it is beyond me. I had no idea it cost so much to live.' It seems Mrs. Townsend is very anxious to sell, and she will try to find a purchaser by the time the lease is out."

"He must get a good salary, too," commented Olive.

"Oh, yes, he gets much more than Dick did when we first came here. But no salary will be sufficient to stand such waste and mismanagement as goes on over there." Nell drew another stocking over her hand and gazed hopelessly at the big holes in the knee. "It is a good thing she has not Hal to mend for with her ideas. She said the other day that she 'simply could not mend stocking.' When I showed surprise she said: 'I can draw up a little hole, but when they get as big as a ten-cent piece they make a bunch when they are pulled together and hurt Ralph's feet. I simply can't wear a mended stocking. My feet are so tender. I am glad of it, for I hate to mend anyway,' she added light-heartedly, as if she had effectively disposed of the subject."

"What a pity that she does not know she is missing the chief joy of life—the joy of service," said Olive softly.

"I should think that she would want to do things to make it easier for her husband. Can't she see that meals at that abominable hotel are not good for a man working as hard as he is? She does not want to do any work and that settles the whole problem as far as she is concerned. I wonder if she loves him," added Nell after a pause.

"'Love took up the harp of life, and smote on all the chords with might;
He smote the chord of self, which trembling vanished out of sight,'" quoted Olive. "I presume she thinks she loves him, but no one really loves unless he desires to serve. She loves his attentions, his devotion. She would be very much aggrieved if he failed in his services to her. They are her rights as a wife, but she has only to please herself; she has no responsibilities."

"I remember you said once that in most of the marriages you knew of, 'one did the loving and the other consented to be so treated,'" laughed Nell.

"What a pity it is, that it is true, when both could be so much happier if both were serving. Poor little helpless girl," she added, "I presume she is the victim of her training. Some mother has wronged her by making her think life demanded nothing of her, by letting her think she was to be ministered unto by everybody," sighed Olive.

(To be continued.)

Temperance

NEWS AND VIEWS
Conducted by
THE W. C. T. U.

The task of mis-educating the voters in the campaign States on the dangers, difficulties and disappointments of prohibition is proving to be not as easy as in former years. The publicity bureaus of that benevolent institution, the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, find the press of these States giving their generous offers of free news service, plate matter, etc., a cool reception, for the newspapers either outspokenly favor prohibition or are keen enough to realize that in view of the probable victory next November it behooves them to keep discreetly silent on the liquor question.

If the press of South Dakota represents in any large sense the voters of the State, the victory for State-wide prohibition is already won. According to the Sioux Falls Press, almost without exception the weekly papers are opposed to a continuance of the liquor traffic, and among the daily papers there is left only one important spokesman for the liquor interests, with one or two local dailies continuing to resist the temperance reform. The Press explains, moreover, that without a single exception the newspapers still supporting or not actively opposing the liquor interests are those that have been on the losing side in every other important issue or political movement that has engaged the people of the State in nearly a decade, whereas the newspapers of prestige and influence, whether it be State-wide or only local, are arguing on the temperance side, rejoicing in temperance victories, and lending their columns freely to the propaganda of the temperance forces.

While South Dakota may be exceptionally fortunate in this particular, a similar situation apparently exists in the other campaign States. The Bakersfield Echo remarked recently, "The newspaper line-up against the saloon in California must be appalling to the wets. In practically every city the drys have solid journals to spread the publicity of their cause. We can name journals in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Bernardino, Fresno, Stockton, Long Beach, Pasadena, Riverside, Bakersfield and three hundred other cities and towns where the State-wide amendment will receive substantial assistance."

"I drink a lot more than I want to, and I hate the stuff. I haven't got the habit, either." This was the statement of a salesman of Detroit, Mich., in discussing the prohibition question, and telling why he had resolved to vote dry. "I sell a big line," continued the salesman—"that is, if I sell anything at all, it's a matter of several thousand dollars. That means I spend a week at a time on one sale, and, in order to 'land' it, I probably have to spend at least one day of that time drinking with my customer. I don't want to do that, but as long as my competitor does it, I have to." Many other Detroit salesmen will also vote dry, the speaker affirmed; in fact, he had talked to a great many salesmen and they all assured him that they intended to vote against saloons to avoid having to drink with customers.

At the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church now in session in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., when Bishop Hamilton finished reading that part of the episcopal address referring to the liquor question the delegates arose spontaneously and sang "America," as evidence of their determination to carry on the fight against the saloon until national prohibition shall have been adopted. The statements of the bishop which caused the demonstration were as follows:

"With vodka absolutely prohibited in Russia and absinthe in France, accompanied by such remarkable decreases in crime and such improvement in economic conditions as give promise of permanent prohibition; with unusual progress in official condemnation and legal restriction of the traffic in Germany, in the United Kingdom and in other European nations; with nineteen States and large sections of the remaining States under prohibition; with a recognition of the injury of intoxicants to industrial and economic efficiency; with a growing conviction of all great men that it can never be legalized without sin, and even with the supporters of the traffic in a panic over the handwriting on the wall, we call upon our members to press forward with good hope for the submission of a national constitutional amendment and the speedy outlawry of this execrable traffic."

Theta Chi, a college fraternity, at its recent annual convention, passed with much enthusiasm a resolution prohibiting the traffic in liquor in all chapter houses throughout the country.

James A. Toby of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, introduced the resolution, and in a speech supporting it, Frank H. Shrenk, of Philadelphia, evidently voiced the sentiment of the delegates when he said, "It has been found that big business and booze won't mix. Every intelligent man recognizes the trend of the times is toward the abolition of liquor, and the country is looking to the college men to take the first step in all moral and economic issues of this character."

In commenting upon this action, The Monitor of Boston says, "The movement means that liquor at banquets of the fraternity and other functions will be barred in future, and as the action of Theta Chi is being interestedly discussed among members of other fraternities it is thought that other societies of this kind may not be long in falling into line."

BRUCE GOT CALLED ON KISS RECORD

Letters From Plainfield Girls Remind Columbia Senior of Forgotten Incident.

Bruce Conlin, the Plainfield boy who is a senior at Columbia, with nine other seniors there, now admits that he meant he had "hardly ever" kissed a girl, instead of "never," and some of the shame that girl friends in this city have felt is lost. Bruce simply declared himself unkissed for the fun of it, he says, not realizing what a terrible indictment he was placing against his home town. He was honest in his declaration, but has since been reminded of his mistake by young ladies "back home" whose memory is better than his. The New York Herald yesterday morning bared the records of the Columbia seniors in the following:

The ten chaste Columbia students who admitted in giving personal data about themselves for the senior record that they had never been kissed, have to a great extent reconsidered. Their error was rather a trivial one, it seems, for they intended to say "hardly ever," and they without so much as a moment's thought, blurted out the notorious "never." As a result of their carelessness the small town critics have been uttering caustic reviews of New York as a failing wild city.

To begin with, Francis M. Simmonds, who has no standing at all in the senior class except that he is the varsity football captain, a member of the crew and the handsomest man in the last year contingent, has been exposed by a catty Barnard person. Francis, with a great many things on his mind and a natural tendency to overlook trifles, stated that he had never once been kissed, and immediately thereafter the press of the world announced that, whatever else Francis might be, he was frightfully backward.

Yesterday, however, the editor of the senior book of the year, received a communication from somewhere in Barnard which read as follows:

"Dear Editor of the Columbia Senior Year Book—I take it upon myself as my personal duty to inform you that Francis Simonds has participated in an osculatory pastime. Accept this letter as truth, because it comes from one who knows.

"BARNARD."

When confronted with this mail matter the football captain blushed. It was learned through a hardened interpreter that either he had nothing to say or couldn't say it.

Bruce Conlin, editor of the year book, said that he simply declared himself unkissed for the fun of it, not realizing what a gloomy thing it would be if true. Six of the others declared that they had received mail from their home towns that aided their osculatory recollection, and the seventh of the group is said to be married. The last and only remaining member of the unkissed group to still deny the soft impeachment was carefully observed Sunday by a reporter. This man probably is telling the truth.

BUSINESS WOMEN FORM ASSOCIATION

Seventy-five Attend First Meeting at Y. W. C. A.—Miss Mattison President.

The Plainfield Association of Business Women was organized at the Young Women's Christian Association last night, and the following officers were elected: President, Miss Harriet O. Mattison; vice-president, Miss Harriet Squier; secretary, Miss Anna Lee, and treasurer, Miss Julia Olsen. A committee was appointed to formulate a constitution to be submitted at the next meeting of the association to be held in the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening, May 29.

Seventy-five business women of the city answered the invitation to join such an association, and much interest was manifested in the plans for the future. Practically every line of work in which girls are engaged had a representation, the club being for the wage-earning girls of Plainfield, who are free to join. A luncheon will be enjoyed Thursday from 11 to 2 o'clock at the association, to which all business girls are invited. To this all girls are requested to bring their sandwiches or lunch, and hot coffee and soup will be served at the association. On that occasion Mrs. Marie Brake, of the Beiederwolf evangelistic party, will meet with the girls for the last time.

During the meeting last night the girls sang several of the Tabernacle songs, while Miss Helen Boals accompanied on the piano. Mrs. Brake entertained with several delightfully humorous poems.

At present no definite schedule has been planned by the club, but within a short time the president hopes to ascertain just what endeavors the young women wish to enter into. Beside being of an educational nature, it is the aim of the members to co-operate and mutually help one another. The standard is high, so that each attendant will be benefited.

JOE GALLAGHER TO COMPETE FOR HIGH SCHOOL HONORS

Because he won first honors from this district in the elimination contest held in the Elizabeth court house several weeks ago, Joseph Gallagher, a senior in the Plainfield High School, will compete with three others at the court house on June 2, representing as many districts. The affair is being conducted by the High Schools of Union county, and the winner will be acknowledged as one of the best speakers in the county.

In the preliminary contest each one wrote his own address and then spoke it, and will use the same story in the finals. Gallagher wrote on "Withdrawal of the Troops from Mexico." Warren Mumford and Richmond Ritterbusch, two other local High School boys, won second and third places, respectively.

MAY 16 IN HISTORY.

1766—News of the repeal of the stamp act reached Boston.

1795—Batavian Republic formed in Holland, in imitation of France. It survived for eleven years.

1799—Birthday of Honore de Balzac, French novelist.

1806—Blockade of the Elbe and of Brest, a coast of 1,000 miles, with no place invested by land, and before many of the ports no blockading ships.

1841—Constitution of the Republic of Yucatan was published; Yucatan asserted its independence of Mexico.

1854—Santa Anna made triumphal entry into Mexico City.

1860—National Republican Convention at Chicago nominated Abraham Lincoln.

1862—Conscription went into effect in the Confederate States.

1891—Death of Madame Blavatsky, high priestess of Theosophy, aged 60.

1914—Statue of Commodore Jack Barry, "father of the American Navy," was unveiled at Washington.

1915—THE WAR.

Italians demand war with Austria; demonstrations throughout Italy.

British break German lines, making notable progress north of La Bassee.

Turks reported to have massacred six thousand Armenians in Van.

COMING EVENTS.

TOMORROW.

Biederwolf Demonstration.

FRIDAY.

Building Trades Council.

Lecture at St. Peter's Lutheran church.

SUNDAY.

Gesang Turn Verein "May Walk."

THURSDAY.

Annual meeting P. T. A.—Franklin School.

Euchre and "500"—St. Joseph's Hall.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P. dance.

EXHIBIT AT IRVING SCHOOL.

The Baby Welfare exhibit is being held in the auditorium of the Irving School this week every afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock. The exhibit, which is conducted under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of the school, is free to the public. The display will close Friday afternoon.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

JOHN W. WESTCOTT,

Asked by President to Make Nominating Speech.

Photo by American Press Association.

President Wilson has requested John W. Westcott, attorney general of New Jersey, who made the speech nominating him at the Baltimore convention, to undertake the same office at St. Louis. Mr. Westcott has accepted.

PREMIER'S BELFAST VISIT IS A FAILURE

Ulsterites Reported Suspicious of Promises.

Belfast, May 16.—Stubborn disinclination to accept anything in the way of a government which might imply the future subjection of Ulster to home rule was evident on the occasion of Premier Asquith's visit to Belfast, which lasted only a few hours. So far as can be learned the premier's conference with a large body of representative Ulster men was disappointing.

It is understood that the question of the general disarmament of forces in Ireland not authorized by the government was discussed, and, although those present were pledged to secrecy, it is rumored that cold water had been thrown on the proposal. The discussion was very full and frank, but it is asserted that the result was unsatisfactory.

A telegram from Sir Edward Carson to the Ulster Unionist council did not bring about an alleviation of the situation. Sir Edward wired:

I know nothing whatever as to the rumors of the government of Ireland appearing in the press nor as to the foundation of them.

Belfast itself does not show any signs of accepting the compromise which it is understood Mr. Redmond is ready to offer. Ulster's capital was almost entirely unaffected by the recent rebellion, and the provisions of martial law have not been enforced.

Everything is outwardly calm, but the keenest interest underlies the surface appearance, and many Ulsterites declare their determination to have no dealings with the Nationalists. All the newspapers in Belfast advise caution in regard to any promises that the premier may have made, but which are not yet made public property.

Helfferich For Delbrueck's Post.

Berlin, May 16 (via London).—Dr. Karl Helfffrich, the present minister of finance and the youngest member of the cabinet, is the most likely candidate for the post of minister of the interior and vice chancellor, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Clemens Delbrueck.

General Markets.

New York, May 16.

BUTTER—Firm; receipts, 7,907; creamery, extras, 92 score, 30c.; creamery, higher scoring, 30½@31c.; creamery, firsts, 29@29½c.; seconds, 28@28½c.

EGGS—Firm; receipts, 27,367; fresh gathered, extras, 24½@25c.; regular packed firsts, 22@23½c.; seconds, 20½@21½c.; nearby hennery whites, fine to fancy, 25½@26c.; nearby hennery browns, 24½@25c.

CHEESE—Firm; receipts, 777; state, held, specials, 18¾@19¼c.; fresh, specials, 17¼c.; do, average fancy, 17c.; Wisconsin twins, held, 18½@19c.

POULTRY—Live, firm; broilers, 35@37c.; other prices not settled. Dressed, quiet; chickens, 18@22c.; fowls, 17½@22c.; turkeys, 29@33c.

Live Stock Market.

Pittsburgh, May 16.

CATTLE—Receipts, 80 loads; demand fair; market active and stronger on best fat class of steers; others steady; bulls, fat cows and heifers steady; good to choice, $9.50@9.80; good, $9.15@9.40; medium to good, $8.55@9.15; tidy, $8.75@9.25; fair, $7.50@8.75; common, $6.25@7.25; common to good fat bulls, $5@6; common to good fat cows, $4@7.50; heifers, $4.75@8.75; fresh cows and springers, $25@80.

HOGS—Receipts, 50 loads; market 5@10c. higher on all grades; prime heavy, $10.40@10.45; heavy mixed, $10.35@10.40; medium, $10.35@10.40; heavy Yorkers, $10.35@10.40; light Yorkers, $9.75@10; pigs, as to quality, $9.40@9.65; common to good roughs, $8.80@9.25; stags, $7@7.40.

SHEEP AND LAMBS — Receipts, 20 loads; choice quality of sheep and lambs in light supply; demand for this class good; market active and higher on other grades and steady to strong on spring lambs and choice grades; others steady. Receipts of calves, 900 head; market active. Prime wethers, $8.10@8.35; good mixed, $7.75@8; fair mixed ewes and wethers, $6.85@7.50; culls and common, $4.50@6; culls to choice lambs, $8.50@10.75; heavy and thin lambs, $8.50@9.50; spring lambs, $10@15.50; veal calves, $8.50@9.25; heavy and thin calves, $5@8.50.

Methodists Keep Blue Laws.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 16.—An attempt by Chancellor James R. Day of Syracuse university and other members of the Methodist general conference to eliminate from the church discipline the clause which prohibits church members from playing cards, dancing and attending theater failed when the committee on the state of the church decided by a vote of 113 to 43 to recommend the retention of the rule.

POWDER PLANT BLOWS UP; 10 DIE

Du Pont Works at Gibbstown Wrecked.

DOZEN MORE ARE INJURED

Superintendent and Chemist Among Victims—Explosion Completely Demolishes Repauno Chemical Establishment—Shock Is Felt For Many Miles Around.

Gibbstown, May 16.—Ten men are reported to have been killed, a dozen or more others were injured, and five buildings were demolished in an explosion at the Repauno plant of the Du Pont Powder company near here.

Among the known dead are W. F. Lawley of Woodbury, N. J., superintendent of the plant, and George Marsh of Paulsboro, N. J., his assistant. Officials of the company insisted that they have been able to establish the death of only four men in the disaster, but rescuers said at least ten had been killed.

The explosion occurred in a building where trinitrotoluol and tribenzol were manufactured. Fire followed the blast, and several other small buildings were destroyed.

The Repauno plant is devoted to the manufacture of dynamite and other high explosives for commercial purposes. The explosion occurred at one of the busiest hours of the day, practically the entire force of the plant being on duty.

Rescue squads were still searching the ruins for bodies of the victims. As fast as the wounded were recovered from the debris they were hurried to hospitals in nearby towns.

The exact cause of the disaster is a mystery. The authorities are investigating.

The explosion rocked the surrounding country for many miles, shaking the suburbs of Philadelphia. Du Pont officials hurried to Gibbstown from Wilmington and telephoned statements regarding the casualties.

"GAGGED" RECTOR QUITS.

Rev. Johnstone of Newark to Go to Baltimore.

Newark, May 16.—The Rev. Mercer G. Johnston, who has resigned the rectorship of the fashionable Trinity Episcopal church of Newark rather than have the pulpit "tuned" by its millionaire vestry, has announced that he would go to Baltimore when his resignation takes effect next January and probably devote himself to social work in the Episcopal church outside parish lines.

Bishop Murray of the Baltimore diocese is said to be considering the inauguration of work along social lines in which a group of Mr. Johnston's friends are interested.

SHOCKED BY THEIR ANKLES.

So Hello Girls of Paterson Must Hereafter Wear Long Skirts.

Paterson, May 16.—Short skirts must go in Paterson, where pretty telephone operators, like the high school girls, have been notified that fashion's rule must be modified to conform with sober business ideas.

When the operators entered their rest room in the telephone building they found a notice posted outlining the new regulations.

The Paterson high school is under the same restrictions. Powder, short skirts and low waists have been tabooed by Miss Isabelle Hemingway, the vice principal.

WILL TEACH IN JAPAN.

Montclair Society Girl Accepts Appointment by Mission Board.

Montclair, May 16.—Miss Margaret Haven, a society girl here, is soon to go to Japan, where she will be supervisor of music in a Christian school outside of Yokohama. Miss Haven is a graduate of Bradford academy and has studied music in Dresden.

Her duties in Japan will include piano and organ instruction, and she will also lead the chorus and teach field sports. Her appointment is under the Baptist mission board and is for five years.

LOVES LOVE LONG.

New Jersey Pair of That Name Married Fifty Years.

Vineland, May 16.—Mr. and Mrs. William Love, with a number of guests from various parts of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Oklahoma, are celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

They have lived in Vineland since 1863. They have eight children, twenty-one grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, all living near Vineland. Not a death has occurred in the entire family.

Wyckoff Trial Begins.

Flemington, May 16.—William H. Wyckoff is now on trial charged with the murder of his uncle, Richard J. Wyckoff, an aged farmer, and Miss Catherine Ann Fischer, seventy-five years old and his housekeeper. The murder occurred on Feb. 11 last. A jury was selected within an hour. The state excused eleven jurors and the defense three.

Available "Places to "Live" Have An Unfailing Interest for Most "People!"

The great majority of families are not "tied down," nor "tied up" to one particular place to live. "To move," now and then, is the privilege of renters—and their OPPORTUNITY!

The classified ads are of the most direct and practical USEFULNESS to all renters.

SPORT TOPICS

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

ODDS ARE OVERWHELMINGLY AGAINST PLAINFIELD HIGH THIS YEAR.

Same day last year was fair and warm—but a year earlier. On May 16, 1915, we were all taking a keen interest in the race for the interscholastic baseball title between North Plainfield and Plainfield. Today our interest centers around the borough team and what disposition it is going to make of any trophy that may come to light. Seldom has a contest between these two rivals, especially an opening match, been decided by an eight-run margin and that it may be an ill-omen is the innermost belief of those most interested in the contest. Should Plainfield pull itself together before the second meeting and come out in the van at Hyde Oval the victory would serve as an eye-opener and baseball bracer for these parts. As matters now stand North Plainfield has one great big edge stored safely away and little short of the miraculous will even up the score. Too bad such a condition should come into existence just when we were looking upon the interscholastic series as a reviving pill for an otherwise listless season.

• • • • • •

CITY LEAGUE AN INFLUENTIAL ORGANIZATION.

Taking advantage of a course advocated in these columns one day last week a highly representative group of City Baseball League athletes visited the Biederwolf Tabernacle Sunday afternoon. Once the initiative was assumed the leaguers joined the movement with a vim and the number that turned out exceeded by far the highest anticipation of those fostering the novelty. All of this goes to show the calibre of the organization as a guardian of youthful athletes in this city and this is only one of the examples that it can wield a wonderful influence for good or bad among the younger generation of future Americans hereabouts. There are other occasions where organized effort can be put to good use and it is to be hoped that those directing the league will take advantage of every opening that presents itself to send the big force in any special direction.

• • • • • •

MARTIN HAS MADE GOOD WITH "BREWERS."

Scanning the Milwaukee newspapers from day to day those interested in the future of Jack Martin have been forced to give way to a little optimism recently. Martin is playing the kind of ball he never played before—in the field, at the bat, and on the bases. In Milwaukee he has come to be a favorite but this portion of the news chronicling is not "real news" to Plainfielders. Wherever Jack has wielded a bat or kept a glove warm he has been popular. It is safe to conclude that if he keeps up the present gait he'll soon be back on the major circuit for the American Association is one of the leagues that is being watched daily by eagle-eyed scouts and it has been said on more than one occasion that more big league talent is plucked from this organization than from any other circuit of bushers in the country.

• • • • • •

OLDFIELD MAY QUIT.

Adelina Patti and Sarah Bernhardt are popularly supposed to be among our most prominent little "farewellers," but neither of these great artists has anything on Barney Oldfield, the dean of the automobile driving profession, who once more announces his final retirement. Oldfield, however, attaches a hawser to his declaration. This great racing expert says that if his machine goes back on him in the Chicago races, June 10, he is through forever. As he is the sole judge of how his machine acts, his ultimate retirement may still be considered a matter of conjecture. We cannot help thinking that Oldfield would better profit by the experience of some of his racing friends. He, among the great drivers, almost alone, has lived to hear and tell of his prowess and he would do well were he to retire at once. It is almost a cinch that if he keeps at it he will follow in their way. The wise automobile driver—although there never has been one—is he, who, having attained to a fair reputation, quits while he is yet alive.

Press Amateur Dep't

As a pitcher of the first order, Sam Davidson is coming along in creditable style. If it were not for the emergency into which the Plainfield High School team was suddenly thrown, Sam would never have asserted his claim to a hurling berth. It is true that he had done some pitching for juvenile teams but his reputation in those circles was never that of a "Walter Johnson." In fact, it was nothing short of true school spirit that made Davidson come out for the P. H. S. mound job and his efforts are gradually being crowned with success.

Sidney Butler, who was the sensation of junior baseball circles last year, has advanced a step and is now pastiming with faster company. Up to the present time, he has not found the going too fast for him and it is not likely that he will find it so. Butler has more speed than any pitcher of his size in this city. Rival batters have always claimed that he accompanies his speed with a choice assortment of curves.

Sam Semer is a rather small lad with a detailed knowledge of the national game. This year Sam is a "sub" on the P. H. S. team. When not performing with the schoolboys, Sam hustles around the keystone sack for the Queen City outfit. And he hustles around in a regular Collins fashion, too.

Not long ago we requested the managers of junior teams in this vicinity to submit a little data about their charges. Well, we received a few replies from energetic leaders but it was left to Joe Mack to furnish the sensation. Joe, so the story runs, aspires to be a poet. This aspiration led him to write a verse, which was highly complimentary to his galaxy of stars. Under the guise of "Green Rime," the poetry was submitted to us and published. While we do not ordinarily favor poetry, we have to take our hats off to this youthful "Bard of Avon" (Oval).

Young Yates, who is handling all things at second for N. P. H. S., is rapidly forging to the front as a "find" of the first order.

"Bunny" Dealaman, who showed up very well in the tilt with Roselle in the early part of last week, demonstrated to his many friends that as a pitcher he can be ranked with the best of them.

That P. A. N. outfit is keeping rather busy. Manager Cyril Poling is having little trouble arranging dates and is sidestepping no one in his efforts to make his team one of the best in this vicinity. Only last week the Pans visited Westfield and "brought home the bacon." Joe Newell is the team's best bet in the box and he had little trouble setting back the Westfield clan. Joe is a rattling good twirler and no one realizes that fact more than the opposing batters.

While we think of it, it might be well to announce to the parties concerned that Bill Reasoner, acting for a fast nine of junior artists, states that the Pans have not been overanxious, in the past, to mingle with really "strong" teams of this vicinity. In other words, Manager Poling can arrange a good attraction by merely consulting with Bill, who may be seen anywhere at any time.

Joe Cashin, manager of the Public Service team of Newark, is still on the lookout for games with local teams. Get busy, boys.

TWO MORE VETERANS SHOWN THE LIGHT

Warry McLaughlin and Norman Barnes, "Holdouts," Join City League Clubs.

"Warry" McLaughlin, he of Dunellen fame this year, handed in his name for registration on the T. A. B. S. City Baseball League list last night at a meeting held in the Daily Press office. McLaughlin has been a well-known figure in local pitching circles for the past ten years, and at one time held down a twirling berth on the Pittsburgh team of the National League. He is recognized as one of the best of the veterans and demonstrated last year that he is still too good to be counted out and classed with the "has-been" faction.

The acquisition of McLaughlin bolsters up the pitching staff of the Tabs' outfit to a degree that puts it on the level with any in the league. McLaughlin's appearance also assures the fans of some more good twirlers' battles for McLaughlin and Lou Slocum, who captains and pitches for the Netherwoods, has been one of his keenest rivals on more than one occasion and the games in which these two meet will be especially interesting.

"Mac.," as he is familiarly known, attempted to put Dunellen on the baseball map this year, but his name in the City League indicates that he has given the task up as a bad one. There was a movement on foot to get Dunellen into the league, but no formal application was made and the object fell through.

Norman Barnes, who was a prominent figure at first base for the old Clinton Avenues and Plainfield Pets, and who was formerly a teammate of McLaughlin's, handed in his name to replace Stranahan on the Baptist nine. Barnes played two years ago with the Baptists on several occasions and is recognized as a clever initial sacker.

PLAINFIELD WOMEN IN TENNIS DOUBLES MATCHES

In the drawings for the doubles' matches of the women's metropolitan championship tourney at the West Side Tennis Club yesterday, Miss Edna Willey, of Plainfield, and Mrs. Raymond drew Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Pennington as opponents for today's games, and Mrs. S. Fullerton Weaver, formerly of Central avenue, and Mrs. R. Wood will play Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Chapin. Neither local player entered the doubles' competition yesterday.

The biggest list of entries that has been seen in many years started play yesterday, sixty-six women turning out. Standing out in the list, of course, was Miss Molla Bjurstedt, the Norwegian, who a year ago won about every title in the country worth while acquiring. Then there was Miss Marie Wagner, who has been the indoor champion more than once, and always a hard contender in championship affairs. Mrs. Edward Raymond and Mrs. C. Green, who were topnotchers in the days before marriage, when they were Miss Adelaide Browning and Miss Louise Hammond, were also in the list, and there was promise of some sizzling contests on the course before the week is ended.

N. P. H. S. SCHEDULE FOR WEEK IS HARD ONE

Fresh from their victory over Plainfield High School, North Plainfield High School team will enter upon a strenuous part of its schedule, encountering four school teams this week. With the exception of Kearny High School, all the teams have already met the boroughites. The only out-of-town trip will be Wednesday afternoon, when the locals take a trip to New Brunswick, to face the High School aggregation from that city, which they previously deefated 4-2.

The contest against the Seton Hall Reserves will test the borough boys, as they were given a severe beating by this team in their first game of the season.

Owing to the number of games scheduled, a new arrangement will have to be made in the pitching corps. Dilts, who has pitched the majority of games, will only be able to pitch two of the coming four, and a new man will have to be found.

P. H. S. POSTPONEMENTS.

Inclement weather caused the postponement of Plainfield High School's baseball game scheduled with Central High School, and the tennis meet with Roselle High School was called off.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

We succeeded in another 1,000 best standard tires. Will sell at 40 per cent. off standard lists. We guarantee all tires and make good. Special price on 34x4, $9; 37x4½, $16.75. Open Sundays.

HUDSON DOUBLE TIRE CO.
269 Halsey Street Newark, N. J.
Tu.-Th.-Fri.

EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY, BUT THIS MITE ALSO HAS HIS OWN IDEAS

"King Charles," that's his name and he's only a dog; but he has his own ideas about dieting and no one can convince him that certain things he has crossed off his menu are essential to good health and longevity. Peculiar as it may seem for three pounds of dog flesh to be so particular about his choice of food stuffs, "King Charles," during his two years in this world, has shown a marked partiality to meals selected by vegetarians and his mistress, Mrs. Stalter, of Somerville, is kept busy from day to day providing him with eatables that tickle his palate.

"King Charles."

He has a leaning toward grapefruit, cantaloupe, garden vegetables and sweets. His roly-poly appearance—for he's only a small ball of silky brownish black hair—belies his appetite. His fickleness demands quality, not quantity, and while he compels his owner to provide luscious little dainties, he takes them only in small "doses," and his meals are more suitable to the appetite of a jelly-fish than a lively little four-legged bow-wow.

"King Charles" has a pedigree that would reach from here to Somerville if put down in black and white. His parents were recognized as a pair of the best pomeranians in the country and his owner has already refused large sums of money for him. He is little bigger than a good-sized, well-fed rat, but his intelligence ranks well above that displayed by the ordinary canine pet. The little mite makes friends readily; but once insulted, he remembers it and is very particular in picking his associates both among animals and humans.

Mrs. Stalter's "pom." visited the Daily Press office yesterday and was shown through the plant, taking a special interest in relieving a young lady of chocolate cream drops. He acknowledged the gifts with a yelp worthy of a dog of many times his size, and this led his mistress to explain that he is a valuable watch dog as well as a beauty specimen. Each afternoon he takes a beauty nap and retires and arises at regular hours each morning and evening.

Taken all in all, this frolicsome forty-eight ounces of fur is more than a mere dog. He is a companion, vegetarian and protector in the eyes of Mrs. Stalter.

PLAINFIELD MAN ONE OF THE FIRST TO USE PRESENT CODE OF SCORING

Few baseball fans know anything about keeping baseball scores, and still fewer stop to realize that an unusually complicated system of what might be rightly termed "bookkeeping" is required to furnish the "newspaper rooter" with a correct account of each player's doings during the course of a nine-inning contest. "Newspaper rooters," that class of enthusiasts who play the part of stay-at-homes and dodge ticket sellers by reading sport writers' accounts of baseball games, seldom stop to realize the exact amount of work necessary to record the hits, errors, putouts, assists, runs, etc., of a nine-inning diamond battle.

Plainfield has a man—yes, many of them; but one in particular—who can tell you about the national nuisance when it was played exclusively on the baseball lot and fans who wanted detailed accounts were compelled to walk a mile and pay a quarter. How many present-day followers of the game know that John Murray, of West Fourth street, probably one of the city's best-known residents, introduced the present code of scoring to Central New Jersey, and possibly the whole State? Nevertheless he did, and his modesty has caused him to keep this little bit of news to himself as well as other creditable acts he has personally performed in the interests of the sport hereabouts.

When a student at Yale College in '76, before the days of baseball gloves and catchers' masks, Mr. Murray's brother scored for some of the greatest diamond stars Old Eli has turned out from its "athletic factory." Some baseball enthusiast possessed of more than his share of gray matter, invented a code of scoring that at that time was so complicated that few could master it. Old-timers scoffed at the idea of "playing a game on paper," and declared that good old-fashioned baseball was good enough for them.

Nevertheless, Mr. Murray saw through the "invention" and mastered the style. When he returned to Plainfield he taught his brother, and the latter introduced it locally, keeping a tabulated account of some of the old Crescent Baseball Club's games that proved an interesting feature in Plainfield and nearby towns. He was beseiged with queries from baseball writers from all parts of the State, and taught a number of them, among the first being Fred Demarest and Walter C. Dobbins, both of whom were employed on local papers at that time. Demarest mastered the code in the late seventies, and Dobbins came along in the early eighties.

Although different in many respects from the code used today, that introduced by Mr. Murray was alike in its main features. Instead of numbers, letters were used. The positions were designated as follows: Catcher (hinder), h; pitcher, p; first base, a; second base, b; third base, c; shortstop, s; right field, r; center field (middle), m; left field, l. Thus, if a pitcher retired a player via the first base route, the scorebook read P-A, instead of 1-3 as is used today.

Aside from being the father of the scoring art hereabouts, Mr. Murray is also well-known to old-time players as a catcher of exceptional ability. He caught for the Crescents in the days when broken knuckles and nailless finger-tips were diamond scars that indicated star ball players, for he used no glove and caught some of the speediest of old-time pitchers without a mask.

Queries--Comment--Answers

Query—What course should I take to secure registration in the Amateur Athletic Union? Will I have to be registered to take part in the Newark celebration games? What is the fee? J. K.

Answer—Write to A. A. U. Secretary, 21 Warren street, New York city. You will certainly have to be registered to participate in the Newark games and the fee is twenty-five cents.

Inquirer—Consult the advertising columns of the Daily Press for the information you desire.—Ed.

Query—Don't you think that gasoline supply depots are becoming altogether too numerous along the business streets of Plainfield?—I. B. H.

Answer—We're not venturing any opinions in this column, but if you believe they are why don't you take the matter up with the Common Council? That is the proper channel through which to fight an issue of this kind, and you'll soon be given a reason for the presence of the depots.

Query—What do the letters "S. T. P." mean when following a name?—G. G.

Answer—Sacrae Theologiae Doctor or Professor of Theology.

Query—Is it proposed to make the local merchants observe a half-holiday on the date set for the Letter Carriers' Convention? I have heard that a petition is being circulated for this purpose.—Merchant.

Answer—Decidedly not. No petition has been circulated, at least with the authority of the Citizens' Committee. You probably know that this will fall on Decoration Day, which is recognized as a holiday, and some merchants will probably follow the usual custom of closing down for the day. Others will take advantage of the presence of hundreds of outsiders in Plainfield.

The spot-light of full publicity, turned on a store, reveals and places in that full light a store's defects—if it have defects. For example: If high prices prevail, or lines of goods are not kept up to date, the reader of the store advertisements knows it. It follows that advertising "pays" the store that renders real service—and would not pay the other kind of a store.

Seen and Heard on the Street

"Gene" O'Reilly, without whom a few years ago no dance in Plainfield was complete, rolling down Park avenue in a new limousine, looking fat and "sassy" and yelling to friends how fine and dandy everything was at the "Old Meeker Inn."

Two West End young men, puffing and blowing from their exertions in trying to crank up an automobile, and then giving it up as a bad job without noticing that the switch was off.

Colored woman, boarding a Fourth street trolley car at Plainfield avenue, and when she found she had to go back home for something she had forgotten, insisting that the conductor should give her a transfer good for the next car.

Group of young men standing on West Front street, Sunday afternoon playing the latest gambling game called "auto Poker." It consists of making bets as to what combination can be made from the license number of the next car to pass before the players.

"Dave" Rogers, treasurer of the Plainfield Theatre, calling on friends to corroborate his statement to a near-sighted old lady that he was not one of the Rogers brothers she had seen in the musical comedy, "In Panama," at the Plainfield Theatre eight years ago.

Facetious conductor on a Union car handing a flip young fellow a clothes pin and telling him it was the new kind of transfers the company is soon to adopt because "They are good on any line."

EASTERN BOTTLING CO.
2ND ST. AND CENTRAL AVE., PLAINFIELD, N.J.

Distributors of Reliable
WINES--LIQUORS--WHISKIES
Both imported and domestic.
Selected vintages which you will be proud to serve to your guests. Even our lowest priced goods are chosen with care.
We Feature
BALLANTINE'S ALES & BEERS
that sparkle with quality and savor of flavor.
Tel. Plainfield 190

Central Bottling Works
Telephone 229. Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts.
HENRY HAURAND, Prop.

Headquarters for High Grade
Beers, Wines, Liquors and Carbonated Beverages

We carry only reliable goods. Goods with a reputation. Goods that we guarantee and recommend.

Try our Leaders—Plainfield Club, (blend); C. B. W. Monogram, (blend); Elkwood Pure Whiskey, (straight); none better made.

We regret to state that we can not deliver goods in Plainfield, but if you consider quality and prices you will find it will pay you to send for them. We call for empty bottles.

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT
the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.
AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.
MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

BASEBALL FANS
GET A CELLULOID PRESS SCORING TABLET
They Are Ready for 1916
This Coupon with three others and Five Cents when presented at the Press office will entitle you to one.
LIMITED SUPPLY GET YOURS NOW

FISK QUALITY
FISK BICYCLE TIRES
The Best That Can Be Had.
For Sale by
George L. Simon
179 NORTH AVE. OPP. DEPOT.

If you are a student of the "ads" you KNOW WHAT IT OUGHT TO COST.

The store's advertisement is the store's daily message to you—and there is not often a day in which there is not something new and interesting in that message.

MARTIN LEADING IN ALL RECORDS

Plainfielder Has a Batting Average of .294 and Tops Entire Team.

According to the official averages of the American Association Baseball League, issued by the secretary yesterday, Jack Martin is leading the Milwaukee team in every department of the game, except stolen bases, this latter honor going to "Indian Jim" Thorpe, formerly of the Giants, with the remarkable total of ten for nineteen games.

Martin has a batting average of .294 with twenty hits, including a pair of doubles, out of sixty-eight trips to the plate. He has played in eighteen of the nineteen games to date and has scored five sacrifice hits, nine runs and three stolen bases. Martin's work is being lauded to the skies by the Milwaukee fans, and that he is going at top-notch speed is indicated by the records.

Josh Devore has a batting average that figures exactly the same as Martin's, but he has played in only eleven games and has tallied only twelve hits to the Plainfielder's twenty. Thorpe, who heads the Brewers' line-up as lead-off man, has made seventeen hits out of eighty-two trips in nineteen games. His collection includes four two-baggers and the same number of triples.

Martin occupies second place in the daily batting order, having gained considerable attention as a hit-and-run expert with Thorpe. This pair have been working wonders together, and to separate them would probably cause a big shakeup in the whole team.

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played In National, American and Other Leagues.

At Cincinnati— R. H. E.
Philad'phia 0 1 3 0 0 0 0 3 0—7 10 2
Cincinnati 0 0 0 1 0 1 1 1 0—4 9 4
Rixey, Demaree, Killifer; Toney, Knetzer, Moseley, Clarke.

At St. Louis— R. H. E.
Brooklyn 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2—4 11 0
St. Louis 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—2 4 0
Smith, Cheney, Miller, Meyers; Meadows, Ames, Snyder, Gonzales.

At Chicago— R. H. E.
New York 0 1 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—3 8 1
Chicago 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 6 4
Perritt, Dooin; Vaughn, Archer.

At Pittsburgh— R. H. E.
Boston 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—7 14 2
Pittsburgh 4 0 0 3 0 1 0 0 *—8 13 4
Rudolph, Ragon, Gowdy; Cooper, Harmon, Wilson, Gibson.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	13	6	.684	St. Louis	13	13	.500
Boston	12	8	.600	Cincinnati	12	15	.444
Phila'phia	12	10	.545	Pittsburg	11	16	.407
Chicago	13	13	.500	New York	8	13	.381

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago at Boston, postponed on account of wet grounds.

At New York— R. H. E.
Cleveland 3 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0—6 8 2
New York 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 1 0—4 11 1
Morton, Bagby, O'Neill; Markle, Caldwell, Love, Nunamaker.

At Washington— R. H. E.
Detroit 0 3 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—5 12 2
Washington 0 0 0 2 0 0 3 0 0 0 1—6 8 1
Covaleskie, Dubuc, Stanage; Boehling, Ayers, Johnson, Henry.

At Philadelphia— R. H. E.
St. Louis 2 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—4 5 6
Philad'phia 1 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 *—5 9 1
Plank, Hartley; Bush, Meyer, Schang.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	19	9	.679	Detroit	13	14	.481
Washington	16	9	.640	Chicago	12	16	.429
New York	12	12	.500	Phila'phia	10	15	.400
Boston	13	13	.500	St. Louis	8	16	.333

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Newark at Toronto, postponed on account of wet grounds.

At Rochester— R. H. E.
Providence 0 2 0 0 1 0 3—6 14 3
Rochester 0 0 0 1 2 0 1—4 10 1
Game called; rain.
Billard, Yelle, Ritter, Hale.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Newark	13	1	.929	Montreal	6	9	.400
Richmond	10	5	.667	Rochester	5	11	.313
Providence	10	5	.667	Buffalo	4	12	.250
Baltimore	11	6	.647	Toronto	2	12	.143

EASTERN LEAGUE.

New London at Lynn, Hartford at Worcester and New Haven at Portland postponed on account of rain.

At Lowell— R. H. E.
Lowell 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 1
Springfield 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 6 0
Zeiser, Lohman, Kilhullen; Powers, Stephens.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
N. Lond'n	11	2	.846	Lynn	6	7	.462
Portland	9	4	.692	Hartford	5	7	.417
Spr'gfield	8	6	.571	Bridgep't	5	11	.313
Lawrence	8	6	.571	N. Haven	4	9	.308
Lowell	8	7	.533	Worcester	4	9	.308

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.
Elks' billiard tourney.

Tomorrow.
Elks' billiard tourney.
N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Thursday.
Rutgers Prep at P. H. S. (Parker Field).
Seton Hall Prep at N. P. H. S.
Elks' billiard tourney.
Golf—Women's handicap match play against bogey at Plainfield Country Club.

Friday.
Tennis—P. H. S. vs. Woodbridge.
Elks' billiard tourney.

Saturday.
Rutgers Freshmen vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field).
Kearny H. S. at N. P. H. S.
Hope Chapel at T. A. B. S.
Netherwood at Clinton Avenue.
First Baptist at Plainfield A. A.

Monday.
N. P. H. S. at Cranford.

Y. W. C. A.

Members of the association will enjoy a walk to Washington Rock Saturday afternoon. All who wish to go are asked to meet Miss Mann at the association at 2:30 o'clock.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

BOROUGHITES TORMENT HIGH BRIDGE HURLER

Slam Out Ten Hits and Pull Seven Runs Over in Seven Round Match.

North Plainfield High School annexed another win yesterday afternoon on Hyde Field when it took High Bridge High School into camp by the score of 7-5, thus giving North Plainfield a clean sweep of the series. The boroughites earned their victory in a decisive manner, knocking out hits when runs were at stake, while they also fielded their positions cleverly. The strong clouting of the team continued, six hits coming in one inning, being converted into five runs, while three of the hits went for two bases.

In order to give Dilts, who had been pitching in every game, a rest, Townley vacated third base to go on the mound. Four hits were garnered from his delivery, three of which came in the seventh session, which was the last. Newt. Mair continued his wonderful hitting by connecting safely three out of four trips to the plate.

The score:

HIGH BRIDGE H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Henderson, lf	3	0	0	1	0	0
Martin, 3b	4	0	0	1	1	0
Conover, cf	3	1	1	0	0	0
Green, c	4	1	1	4	0	0
Cough, ss	3	1	0	2	2	0
Waldron, 2b	3	0	0	2	2	0
Spillane, 1b	3	0	1	8	0	0
O'Rourke, 1b	2	0	0	0	0	0
Dorland, p	3	1	1	0	3	0
	28	4	4	18	8	0

NORTH PLAINFIELD H. S.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Townley, p	3	0	1	0	1	0
M. McDonough, 3b	3	0	0	0	4	0
Kirch lf	3	1	0	1	0	0
Mair, 1b	4	2	2	9	0	0
Dilts, ss	2	1	1	2	2	2
Stewart, ss	1	0	0	0	0	0
A. McDonough, c	2	1	2	8	0	0
Seidel, cf	2	0	1	0	0	1
Yates, 2b	3	1	1	1	0	0
Van Mater, rf	2	1	1	0	0	0
	24	7	10	21	7	3

Score by innings:

H. B. H. S.	0	0	0	2	0	0	3—5
N. P. H. S.	0	1	1	0	5	0	x—7

Three-base hit, Green. First base on balls—off Townley, 3; off Dorland, 5. Two-base hits—Mair, Van Mater, Yates, A. McDonough. Struck out—by Townley, 8; by Dorland, 4. Stolen bases—Townley, Dilts, Cough. Scorer—Roll. Umpire—Mullin.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS COMPETE IN SHOT-PUTTING CONTEST

Angelman won the eight-pound shot-put event in the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Department Indian League athletic competition yesterday afternoon, tossing the iron ball twenty-seven feet, six inches. Alexander, a teammate, was second, six inches behind.

The records follow:

Angelman, Sioux	27—6
Alexander, Sioux	27
Neilson, Wawayanda	26—6
Goerz, Iroquois	25—7
Enander, Wawayanda	25
Gates, Iroquois	24—3
Willett, Wawayanda	23—7
Sutphen, Omaha	23—3
Thorp, Iroquois	22
Fuller, Iroquois	21—7
Leahy, Iroquois	21—7
Emmons, Omaha	20
Krausse, Wawayanda	19—6
Boyle, Wawayanda	18—9
Thorpe, Iroquois	18—7
Williams, Sioux	18
Scribner, Omaha	18
Platts, Sioux	17—8
Cose	17—3
Van Pelt, Wawayanda	16—9
Bush, Wawayanda	16—8
Goldberg, Iroquois	16
Reynolds, Wawayanda	14—8
Muldowney, Wawayanda	14—8
Keiderling	14—6
A. MacDonald, Sioux	14
Vail, Sioux	13—9
E. Wilson, Iroquois	12—8
Jones, Omaha	12—8
Gunn,, Omaha	12—4
Noe, Wawayanda	11—7
Richards Sioux	11—4
Stites	11

RECREATION NOTES.

The Zephyrs and Athenians will meet in the High School gymnasium tonight.

Tomorrow night the High School swimming pool will be open for men and women. Instructions will be given by Mr. Keen and Miss Ragland, to the men and women, respectively, the latter using the pool first. Dry land exercises and calisthenics will be held for the men in the gymnasium prior to their using the pool.

Weather Forecast.

Local rains, probably followed by fair; moderate east and southeast winds.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
Albany	58	Cloudy
Atlantic City	60	Cloudy
Boston	47	Cloudy
Buffalo	68	Cloudy
Chicago	66	Clear
New Orleans	82	Cloudy
New York	55	Cloudy
St. Louis	68	Cloudy
Washington	72	Cloudy

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

MAIL MEN TO CAN BEER SUGGESTION

Realize Plainfield Will Not Swallow It—Meet Tonight.

Whether or not the dust from Plainfield streets that marching postmen gather as they parade here May 30 is to be washed down by beer will be decided when local letter carriers meet tonight. The meeting was called to act on objections made to the purchase of beer with money contributed by Plainfield people as a result of publicity given this plan in many of the pulpits of Plainfield churches Sunday morning. There is every indication that the postmen will decide to accept the offer of North Plainfield women, as made through Mayor "Bill" Smalley, to furnish coffee and soft drinks on Cadmus' lot after the parade. One influential member of the local organization said this morning that he would oppose going against evident public sentiment and he knew the organization as a whole would not defy the church members of Plainfield. A prominent local citizen this morning notified Postmaster Hoagland that he would send a check for $50 for the entertainment fund as soon as it was decided not to buy beer with any of the money. Mr. Hoagland told him to have his check ready tomorrow.

MAY BE LAST WEEK AT THE TABERNACLE

Effort Will Be Made to Persuade Biederwolf to Remain, However.

Tonight's service at the Tabernacle begins the sixth and probably the last week of the Biederwolf evangelistic services. While all members of the party are much pleased with Plainfield and the results obtained here, and are not anxious to leave, they are planning a farewell service next Monday night. Plans may be changed, however, for it is believed that they would remain another week if persuaded by the committee in charge, and steps are being taken to bring about a seventh week of the services.

Tonight Dr. Biederwolf will deliver his lecture on "Christian Science." It is believed that the Tabernacle will be crowded to hear him. Wednesday night will be featured by the big civico-religious demonstration on the downtown streets. If the weather is fair it is expected that more than 6,000 will take part in the parade. Thursday night will be convert's night and those who have become converts during the services are requested to sit in the center section of the Tabernacle. Friday night is family night, when a prize will be given the largest family at the Tabernacle.

If plans are changed and the campaign is to last another week the farewell service and concert scheduled for Monday and Tuesday evening of next week will be postponed one week.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

BETTER COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

Two more counties are soon to vote on the question of adopting the Strong act for small boards of freeholders—Warren next Tuesday and Union probably next month. There is good reason to anticipate that the majority of the voters will favor the change.

Warren County can see for itself what the small board plan can do by consulting its neighbors on the south and north. Hunterdon has been operating with a small board since 1902 and has turned away from the scandals and extravagances that marked the career of the big board. Sussex has not had so long an experience with the new form, but it has made good. Both of these counties are better governed than they ever were before, and have inaugurated public improvements long needed that had previously been impossible of attainment because of sectional bickerings.

The movement in Warren is not a class one or sectional. It was started among the granges of the county, and it has been given an impetus by the Board of Trade of the largest community in the county—Phillipsburg.

Union county voted once for a small board, but that body had only begun its official career when the courts stepped in and killed it with a legal technicality. The return of the big board to power discouraged the small board advocates, and the uncertainties of the law prevented them from returning to the assault promptly. Now that the law has been untangled and an issue has developed in county affairs, there is every reason why Union should return to the form that in the past received the indorsement of the majority of the voters.

Still, neither county need expect an automatic improvement in its affairs by merely voting for the small board. That act would simply provide the way whereby the people could center responsibility for the conduct of the county government. Then it would still be up to the voters to be alive to their own interests and hold the officials responsible for any delinquencies. They can do this if they so desire, and the plan is worth trying.

—Newark Evening News.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

—When discontent reaches a certain point, the furnished room advertisements become very interesting to some people.

Y. M. H. A. TO HAVE ATTRACTIVE HOME

Ten Days' Building Campaign to Be Held Beginning June 1.

WANT TO RAISE $15,000

Foulks Younkers, of New York, Will Be in Charge of Special Work—New Structure to Be Erected on Washington Avenue.

Enthusiasm ran high at a meeting of the Young Men's Hebrew Association last night when announcement was made that a committee appointed some time ago had selected June 1 as the date to commence a vigorous campaign for the purpose of raising $15,000, part cost of a handsome and commodious community building which the organization proposes to erect on Washington avenue, just north of West Front street. A suitable site for the purpose, 60x160 feet, has been donated by the president of the society, Samuel H. Schwartz, and plans for the structure are now being completed by a committee under the supervision of a consulting architect. At the present time it is believed that a total of $25,000 will be needed toward the building and its equipment.

It was stated last night that a mass meeting would be held in Columbus Auditorium June 1, at which time prominent speakers would explain the object of the campaign and outline the good that could be accomplished by the establishment of such a gathering place as the Y. M. H. A. contemplate.

It will not only be a meeting place for the association members, but every one of Hebrew faith in the city. The promoters desire a gymnasium, auditorium, library, class rooms where children may be taught Hebrew and incidental studies and in short make the place a community center.

The ground donated by Mr. Schwartz is situated admirably for the purpose, being close to the center of the city and convenient to the main line trolley. The need of such a place has long been felt by the Y. M. H. A., which originally started out as a social organization primarily but which has kept broadening its work until at the present day it has become an important factor in the lives of many of Plainfield's citizens, especially those of the Hebrew faith. With the permanent home and with such accommodations as it will afford it will be enabled to increase its work many fold.

The financial campaign as planned will be directly in charge of Faulks Younkers, who is connected with the National headquarters in New York and who has had considerable experience in this direction. He will be in Plainfield within the next few days to consult with the captains of teams which are to be appointed and make all other arrangements previous to beginning active work. An invitation is to be extended to all the city officials to attend the mass meeting on June 1, many of them having already given their consent to be placed on the speakers' list. The campaign itself will be limited to ten days, at the conclusion of which it is generally believed the $15,000 will be secured.

BORO COUNCIL PAYS CONTRACTOR $2,000

Somerset Street Commissioners Will Make Complete Report on June 2.

An adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield Council was held last night for the purpose of authorizing the payment of $2,000 to Contractor Puglia, who had part of the borough sewer work, and which was held up pending a settlement of some other matters. According to the contract he will receive up to within 5 per cent of the total amount due him, that sum being withheld for a year. The Council had a small bill against the contractor, and that was settled last night.

The Somerset street widening commissioners were present last night and reported progress. It was stated that their report would soon be ready for publication. The fact that Judge W. R. Codington, who represents some of the property owners, has been ill, has delayed the matter somewhat. The report will be made public on June 2. Mayor W. L. Smalley and all members of the Council, excepting Mr. McGee, attended last night's session, the latter being out of town.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CARKHUFF.

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Carkhuff, whose death occurred Saturday after a long illness, was held yesterday afternoon at her home on West Third street, near Clinton avenue. It was conducted by Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, and was attended by many relatives and friends. There were numerous floral tributes, several of them being large set pieces. Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

RASORES' FINAL MEETING.

The final meeting of the Rasores was held this morning at the home of Mrs. W. W. Myers, on Watchung avenue. Henry C. White, of the borough, addressed the members on the subject of "New Jersey." Reports were received from the two delegates who attended the State Federation held at Asbury Park last week. The Rasores will resume their meetings in the Fall.

THE ONLY HOPE

Help in Sight.

VAST WEALTH UNLOCKED BY SANITARY CONQUEST OF PANAMA

COL. GOETHALS and U.S. ENGINEERS INSPECTING CANAL

The United States army at Panama has shown the way for the sanitary conquest of the tropics and the unlocking of tremendous stores of natural riches, according to Surgeon General William C. Gorgas. The remaining problem for the utilization of this wealth, he says, has to do with its fair distribution after it has been produced.

"We have successfully combatted every tropical disease," he says, "and have shown that the man from the temperate zone can live and work near the equator with a fair degree of comfort and entire safety, if he follows reasonable precautions.

"Our success is certain to turn attention to the tremendous agricultural possibilities of certain regions that have heretofore had scanty development, owing to the white man's fear of climatic diseases. Two tropical valleys, those of the Amazon and the Congo, are capable of producing more foodstuffs than is now produced in the entire world.

"While modern sanitation can solve the question of labor for the development of the tropics, I doubt if such enterprise would be worth while under prevailing systems of land ownership. The worker and the consumer would benefit little, if any, by abundant production. The land owner would get the lion's share.

"Low wages in themselves create problems of sanitation. Feudal conditions of land tenure in the tropics are quite as responsible for disease as is the climate. If I were to prescribe the best sanitary measure for any locality, I would say to double wages. A tax on land values big enough to prevent land speculation and stop individuals and corporations from getting rich out of ground rents, is the best means that I can suggest to increase the worker's share."

LANTERNS TO BE FURNISHED.

Lanterns complete, including candles and sticks, to be carried in the civico-religious parade tomorrow night will be furnished to the members of the Loyal Daughters' Class, of Hope chapel, who meet at the chapel at 7 o'clock. It is urged that every member of the class report at the appointed hour to take part in the parade.

BOROUGH COURT CASE.

John McGinn and John Haberle, who reside in the township near Hand's brickyard, were fined $10 and $5, respectively, when arraigned before Recorder Hand in the borough court this morning, charged with being drunk and disorderly.

A Hard Problem.

A certain debating society is discussing the question as to which is the angrier, the husband who goes home and finds that the dinner is not ready or the wife who has dinner ready and whose husband does not come home. It is believed that the debate will end in a draw.

Immune.

"Don't bring that paper you are about to read too near to me. It looks a little soiled, and they say paper readily carries germs."

"Well, you won't find anything catching to you in this paper. It has only germs of thought."—Baltimore American.

Easy to See.

Brown—The boss says that when he was a boy on the farm they had a mule that was just like one of the family. Jones—Yes, and I know which one.—Judge.

Ambition is very often the assassin of happiness.

CHAMPION CORN GROWER GREATER THAN FOOTBALL STAR, SAYS GOV. WILLIS

"Dewey Hanes is my hero," said Governor Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, in a speech before 2,800 farmers at Farmers' Week recently. He said that the champion corn and wheat grower who raised 153.7 bushels of corn per acre ranked far above the football hero or the baseball star. Young Hanes had to tell his story twice to accommodate the crowds that wanted to hear how he raised 153.7 bushels of corn on one acre. Hanes attributed his success to the use of fertilizer and manure, good seed and proper cultural methods.

"Stirring news" today—war news, local news, store news.

Before you have followed the plan of reading the ads for very long you become an EDUCATED judge of values. This education must be kept up to the hour.

The Biederwolf Evangelistic Services

Will revive interest in Bible Reading in Plainfield as never before and regardless of sect, creed or faith. A universal reading of the Bible is bound to make for better citizenship, is bound to make for a plainer, stronger, simpler, honester speech in daily life, and a higher standard of ethics in the dealings of men. A return to Bible reading in these stressful times of world disturbance is needed as never before in our history and is bound to add to the moral and mental equipoise of this entire nation.

To Further Interest Our Readers In Bible Reading the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

HAS SECURED A LIMITED SUPPLY OF

Big Print Red Letter Bibles

All the Words and Sayings of Christ Printed in Red

This Book of Books

This Bible—this miraculous Bible—this Book of All Books—luminous with the light that dwelleth not on land or sea—this noblest and most beautiful Thing in all the world—what is it—whence cometh it—what means it?

It has made and unmade Nations. It has uprooted Kingdoms and Empires. It has diverted the mighty tides of History. It has crumpled ancient Faiths and Superstitions. Because of it fell Pagan Rome. The antique Systems of India and the Far East have bowed their heads to its enlightened sway.

China and the Orient now first awaken from their sleep of thrice a thousand years, and follow their sister nations of the Occident—whose feet are guided by one sole lamp—the sacred flame of which was kindled by the inspired Hebrew Prophets, and fed for all time by the Lord and Master of the Golden Rule.

Only ignorance scoffs at the Bible! The greatest rulers—the greatest statesmen—the greatest scholars—writers—orators—scientists—soldiers—and the untold millions of the Common People, whose collective genius outweighs them all—have thrilled to its Divine Wisdom.

Its lyrics of unfathomable tenderness—its orations of compelling potency—its contemplative prose of preternatural grandeur—have never been equalled. Its emotional depths and its intellectual heights make it the one and only Book of Books, vouchsafed for the guidance of mankind throughout the ages.

Special Features of This Beautiful Bible

ALL THE WORDS AND SAYINGS OF CHRIST distinguished from the context by being printed in red.

All Passages in the Old Testament prophetic of the coming of Christ, marked with a Star.

All the difficult words in both Testaments made self-pronouncing by diacritical marks; made so simple a child can pronounce them.

Hundreds of Helps and References.
Family Register of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
Exhaustive Marginal Annotations.
Index to Parables and Miracles.
Explanatory Heading at top of each page.
Dissertation on the Lord's Prayer.
Proving the Old Testament, by Dr. Wright.
Books of Reference for Students.
Readings of Revised Version collated with King James Version.

Sunday School Teachers' Use of Bible, by Bishop Vincent.
Calendar of Daily Readings of Scripture, by Whittle.
Authentic Bible Statistics and Information.
Harmony of the Gospels.
From Malachi to Matthew, by Dr. Fernie.
Biblical Weights and Measures.
Christian Worker and his Bible, by Whittle.
How to Study the Bible, by Dwight L. Moody.

Wondrously Beautiful Half-tones of Scenes of Sacred History. Text Printed in Large Type, Easy on the Eyes. Eight Tinted Maps of Bible Lands.

EXQUISITE COLORED PLATES OF

Nazareth, Bethlehem, Holy Sepulchre, Garden of Gethsemane, Visitation of Virgin Mary, Modern Jerusalem, After the Crucifixion, Tiberias, Damascus, Gate of Jerusalem, etc.

This Bible Has Been Distributed By Newspapers All Over The Country For a Much Higher Price Than The Offer Made By The Daily Press.

Specially Bound in Genuine Limp Bible Leather Folding Cover, Red Edges, Round Corners, Gold Lettered Back.

Full size 9⅝x6¾ inches.

Mail Orders Filled.

Begin Clipping Coupons on Page 2 today. Act quickly. Bibles can be seen at Daily Press Office, 193 North avenue.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN PRICE TO PRESS READERS OF

Only $1.23 AND THREE COUPONS $1.23 Only

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — SOME STYLES LOOK LIKE AN ACCIDENT — BY "HOP"!

Mono Storage

Warehouse
North Avenue
Opp. Freight House
125 East Front Street

If you want definite confirmation of our claims that we can handle your best, just have us submit, for your investigation, a few names of the many people we have "moved."

MOVING PROBLEM

High grade equipment, careful, trained help, moderate charges.

Call 541.

HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to
Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS
W. A. SCHORB & CO.
Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold.
120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2296.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE

Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.

We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.

207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms and Storage Ware Rooms
326 to 330 West Front Street, Corner Grove

Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.

Phone 666.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 338-J

All Seasonable PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS
Floral Design Work a Specialty.

Chas. L. Stanley
Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1126 South Ave. Tel. 331.

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2354
J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 315.

Carnations a Specialty
FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N Y Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

—Going to build? See Saturday's Press.

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising that car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

MONSTROUS AUCTION SALE
Of HOUSEHOLD GOODS
COMMENCING WEDNESDAY, MAY 17,
Large Store Room Over Gavett's China Store, 318 W. Front St.
At 10 A. M. and Continued Daily Until All Goods Are Sold.

Consisting of 1 88-note player piano, 1 mahogany piano, 1 pipe organ, beautiful gold furniture, settee and chairs; following list of mahogany furniture—Green velvet settee, carved morris chair, round tables, upholstered chair, bookcase, library set, chest, invalid table, davenport, chairs, rockers, piano stool with back, set of 6 white mahogany upholstered dining chairs; following pieces of beautiful curly birch furniture—handsome dresser with large round mirror, chiffonier, stand, chairs and rockers; following pieces of birdseye maple—bed, box spring, hair mattress, chiffonier, writing desk, cheval glass, stands, chair and rocker; following pieces of golden oak—beautiful set of dining-room furniture, consisting of buffet, round claw footed table, crystal closet, china closet, serving table, 6 leather seated chairs, as good as new. Other dining-room furniture consisting of buffet, crystal closet, round table, chairs, serving table, golden oak library table, chiffonier, book shelves, 3 sets of brass twin beds, hair mattresses and box springs, pillows, pillow rolls; other brass and iron beds, springs and mattresses; teakwood tabouret and others; brass and black andirons, 3 deer heads; silver wolf rug with head; porch swings, porch settee, chairs and rockers, reclining porch chair, gas range, pictures, rugs and carpets; large Crex Rugs, 1 Grandfather's clock and other articles too numerous to mention will be sold without reserve. Rooms will be open for inspection on Tuesday afternoon, May 16, from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. 1 flight stairs up to auction rooms. Look for Schorb flags. Terms, cash.

D. GAVIN, Clerk. — WM. A. SCHORB, Auctioneer. 5 13 3

MONSTROUS AUCTION SALE
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MAY 19, 20, 1916.
AT 1 P. M. SHARP
Auction Rooms—Corner Park Ave. and Fourth St., Plainfield, N. J.

Consisting of the Following:

Mahogany buffet, teakwood desk and chair, mahogany crystal closet, mahogany dressing table, mahogany chiffonier, mahogany servette, mahogany sewing table, mahogany bed, spring and hair mattress, mahogany davenport, birdseye maple dresser and chiffonier, twin brass beds, spring and mattress, mahogany chairs and rockers, upholstered easy chairs, mahogany frame couch, upholstered in red plush; one extra fine Turkish rug, 12x15; variety of kitchen utensils.

SPECIAL FOR BOOK LOVERS

The finest collection of books by famous authors ever offered for sale in the city of Plainfield; must be seen to be appreciated.

Auction room opened to the public for inspection of the above Thursday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m.

WILLIAM R. TOWNSEND, Clerk. — GEORGE YORK, Auctioneer. 5 15 5

PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION.
Prposals for Fuel for Public Schools.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of Plainfield, N. J., in the board room, High School building, West Ninth street and Arlington avenue, on Wednesday evening, May 31st, 1916, at 8:15 o'clock, for fuel.

Said bids shall be made in accordance with a schedule of requirements and specifications as to quality, which may be obtained at the office of the Clerk or will be mailed upon application.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

A. A. TILNEY, Secretary.

M16 18 20 23 25 27 31.

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

There's a Place on a Pay-Roll For Your Name!

For the man or woman who can do some useful work Well is always needed in this City of Work!

The right place for you may be found—perhaps with little delay—by a campiagn of classified advertising in the Plainfield Daily Press.

So let classified advertising place your name, once more on a pay-roll!

BOROUGH NOTICE.
In the Matter of the Widening and Improvement of Somerset Street.

Notice is hereby given that the report of the Commissioners of Assessment showing the assessment for damages made by them in the matter of the widening and improvement of Somerset street pursuant to ordinance of the Borough of North Palinfield, entitled, "An Ordinance for the widening and improvement of Somerset street from the center of Jackson avenue northwesterly to the center of Johnston's drive," approved March 3, 1916, is now on file and may be seen in the office of the Borough Clerk, and that the Mayor and Council of said Borough will meet at the Council Chambers in Fire Headquarters building thereof on Friday, June 2, 1916, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering such report, and may at that or any subsequent meeting adopt and confirm the same with or without alterations.

All persons having any objections to said report should appear before said Mayor and Council and make such objections known at the time and place aforesaid, otherwise forever after hold their peace.

FREDERICK A. MARTIN, Borough Clerk.

Dated May 16, 1916.
M16 23 31.

NOTICE.

Division No. 1, A. O. H., Ladies' Auxiliary, will meet tonight, corner West Third and Liberty streets, at 8:30 p. m., to go in a body to the home of our late charter member, Mrs. Catherine Kane, 208 Liberty street.

MISS CATHERINE POWERS, Pres.
MRS. MAURICE OWENS, Sec.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to relatives and friends for their many kind expressions of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings during the illness and funeral of our husband and father.

Signed, MRS. FREDERICK WEBER AND CHILDREN.

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
125 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARKHUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 554.

DIED.

KANE—On Monday, May 15, 1916, Catherine Kane, beloved wife of Patrick Kane.

Funeral from her late residence, 208 Liberty street, Wednesday, May 17, at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m., where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery. Please omit flowers. 5 15 2

HOUSTON—At Elizabeth, N. J., on Monday, May 15, 1916, Hetty Woll Whitehead, wife of Charles E. Houston, in her 39th year.

Funeral services at her late residence, 149 Orchard street, Elizabeth, N. J., on Wednesday, May 17, at 3 p. m. 5 15 2

BUCKLEY—Suddenly, on Tuesday, May 16, 1916, James Buckley, aged 56 years.

Funeral from the residence of his brother, Mr. Thomas Buckley, 431 Orchard place, Thursday, May 18, at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m., where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery. 5 16 2

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

DRIVER helper, on wagon, strong, sober, references required; steady work. American Express, Plainfield. 5 15 2

BOY wanted; white; about 16 years old. A. M. Griffen Co., East Front street. 5 15 tf

WANTED—Intelligent boy for office work, preferably not under 16; good opportunity for advancement. Apply in own handwriting, stating age and wages expected. Address Office, care Daily Press. 5 15 3

WANTED—A good blacksmith on wagon work. Peter Leach, South Plainfield. 5 13 3

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. H. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Between Sandford avenue and the Lincoln School, a gold and choral pin. Reward if returned to this office.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

FOR SALE—High Grade Building Lots on Evergreen avenue at Bargain prices. W. S. Haselton, Dunellen, N. J. 5 13 6

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press. 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulvanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten up your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, domes, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

FOR SALE—Road or farm horse, cheap. Charles Michaels, Scotch Plains. 3 30 tf tu-th

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue, Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

FLAGS and lanterns, for parade. Olmsted, 331 Watchung avenue. 5 15 3

ALL kinds of carriages for sale. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

FOR RENT OR EXCHANGE

FOR RENT or exchange for board, 104 Summit avenue. 5 16 3

WANTED—TO RENT.

WANTED—Medium sized unfurnished room for light housekeeping for man. Address B. O., care Press. 5 16 3

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities. 'Phone 1724. tf

SITUATION WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—Day's work housecleaning and washing at home. 536 West Third street. 5 16 3

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

TO LET—941 Kensington avenue, small house, desirable location. Telephone 123-J. 5 15 3

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

NEW 5 and 7 passenger car for rent. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $26. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—May 1, house 307 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

WANTED—Experienced girl for general housework; $30; no laundry. 715 Belvidere avenue. 5 15 tf

WANTED—A white girl for general housework; country for summer. Call 723 Central avenue. 5 15 3

SMALL girls wanted; four dollars to start; bring working papers. 318 West Front street; Weiser. 5 15 3

WANTED—Waitress, experienced; white preferred. Apply 1106 Park avenue. 5 15 2

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Mrs. T. W. Reid, Hunter avenue, Fanwood. 5 16 6

CHILD'S nurse, white, with good reference. Apply 434 West Seventh street. 5 16 3

WANTED—A girl for second work, temporarily. Call 531 West Seventh street. 5 15 3

GIRL for general housework, white; no laundry. Apply 434 West Seventh street. 5 11 tf

WANTED — General houseworker. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FARM for sale or rent, 30 acres land, good house and outbuildings; located 1½ miles from Clinton Avenue station, Plainfield. Apply, J. T. Vail, Plainfield. 1 8 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—High class, substantially erected, residential property; best location; 10 rooms; all improvements. Owner desires to be nearer Evergreen Avenue School. Would consider lots. Address Washington Park, care of Daily Press. 5 13 3

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

FOR EXCHANGE.

EXCHANGE unencumbered corner plot Netherwood, for equity in house or farm; improvements. What's offered? Commuter, Renton, 395 Broadway, New York. 5 16 3

Condensed Statement of Condition of

The Plainfield Trust Company

As Rendered to the Bank Department of the State of New Jersey
MAY 1st, 1916.

ASSETS.		LIABILITIES
Railroad and other bonds (Market Value, $1,067,325.22)	$1,063,941.55	Capital stock	$ 100,000.00
Bonds and mortgages	1,132,531.98	Surplus and undivided profits	307,980.37
Demand loans, time loans and bills purchased	3,410,990.78	Premium on bonds	17,124.17
Banking House	85,000.00	Interest and taxes accrued	49,746.46
Other real estate	9,454.40	Deposits	6,235,174.63
Accrued interest	41,400.20
Cash and reserve	966,706.72
	$6,710,025.63		$6,710,025.63

OFFICERS:

O. T. Waring, President.
Augustus V. Heely, Vice-President
J. Herbert Case, Vice President
DeWitt Hubbell, Secretary and Treasurer
F. Irving Walsh, Asst. Sec'y-Treas.
A. H. Kirby, Assistant Treasurer

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

Lawn Mowers?
Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the five cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.
THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.
119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.
Two Phones, 5—6.

YOUR FURS NEED REMODELING
LET OUR EXPERTS DO IT.

Why not have your furs brought up-to-date for next Fall? Now is the time to have it done when our skilled fur handlers are not rushed. Insure them against moths by placing them in our even-temperature storage plant.

Our Repairing Suits the Best People
Results Speak for Themselves

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St.

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY
Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's
Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

ORGANIZED 1875

It Requires Two Keys

Your valuables when placed in our Fire and Burglar Proof Vault are not only secure, but private. It requires two keys—our key and your key—before the Safe Deposit Box lock will open.

Safe Deposit Boxes for rent
$5.00 AND UP PER YEAR

CITY NATIONAL BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2538-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES, DAINTY MIRRORS AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.
AT
Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET, Plainfield, N. J.
Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.
Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale.
Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MEIRSTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS
WATCHES
CLOCKS and
JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
217 Park Ave. Phone 1783.

REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

Harvey R. Linbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
127 NORTH AVENUE.
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL
Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.
KEEP 'EM SHORT.

WE ARE USHERING IN THE GREATEST WHITE SHOE SEASON
ON RECORD

A glance at our windows will give you some idea of what we carry.

Better still, come in and have our salesmen show you the lines.

If you are not one of our regular patrons, we hope to have you added to our list.

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

Walk-Over Shoes

Our stocks are now complete with a full line of high and low shoes for men and women.

Prices $3.50 to $5.00.

The season's newest designs.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 W. Front St.
Sole Agency Walk-over Shoes.

Have You
Headache?
Do your Eyes burn or itch?
Do they feel tired or strained?
If so, have your Eyes examined;
Your glasses may need changing.

STILES & CO
Philadelphia Eye Specialists
AT 107 EAST FRONT ST.
EVERY THURSDAY.
Hours 10 to 5.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

SERVICE

OF GREAT VALUE TO THE MAN OF BUSINESS

There can be no doubt that a general knowledge of trade conditions throughout the Country, will help to advance your own business interests.

This information is presented in concise form in the monthly Trade Letter issued by this institution.

We will be glad to add your name to our mailing list if you are not already receiving the letter.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

Queen Quality
SHOES

Queen Quality Shoes are made right, fit like your gloves, and look good until worn out.

Number 10637, made of patent kid, turn sole; no seam in shoe, and fits to perfection.

Same thing in dull kid and bronze.

$4.50
Fitted Expertly Here.

A. K. WILLETT
107 Park Ave.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS, VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 8.03, 5.40 (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.56, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), 8.52 except holidays), 6.27, 6.55, 7.22, 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.24, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.45, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.36, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29, 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.29, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.54 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.18, *9.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.06 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (3.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—3.41, 9.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.29, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.46, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.20 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.29, 9.57, 10.29, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.29, 4.45, 4.56, 5.29, 6.29, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.45, 6.47 p. m. *Except Mauch Chunk.

5 3 '16

It Is Pleasing To Know

The fact that with a few exceptions OUR PRICES OF MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING this season are NO HIGHER than they were last year.

The standard of our make is so well known that our friends and patrons will not question it. Prices of Men's Suits—

$12.00, $15.00, 16.50, $18.00, $20.00, $25.00.

Boys' Suits, Famous Sam Peck make; prices—
$6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00 and $10.00.

Made to measure Clothing at the same old prices.

SCHWED BROTHERS
Front St., Opp. Park Ave.

Hotter weather makes you forget
"HOTTERHEAT" COAL
But it should remind you of our
Certified Natural Ice

WADLEY & GOODENOUGH
208 Madison Ave. Tel. 13

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting-room, Watchung Avenue and Fourth Street, Plainfield, any week-day between 8:30 and 10 A. M.

All-year jobs at good pay.

OUR COMBINATION AUTOMOBILE POLICIES INSURE AGAINST

LOSS by fire from any cause, including explosion, self-ignition and lightning, and also theft, if amounting to $25.00 or more.

LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for injuries suffered by any person or persons when caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.

LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for damage to property of others (except property in your automobile) caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.

LOSS by reason of damage to or destruction of your automobile by collision with another object, moving or stationary.

Ask us for rates before you insure elsewhere.

REAL ESTATE
LOANS
RENTS

GEO. M. CLARKE CO. Babcock Bldg. Telephone 208 Plainfield.
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

KILLS PEDESTRIAN WHILE DRIVING AUTO.

A man high up in the affairs of a neighboring city, while learning to operate a new car, last week, ran down and killed a man.

Mr. Auto Owner, your car may be the next in such an accident and a policy from this office will protect your liability.

FREDERICK A. MARTIN CO.
(Successor to Elston M. French and J. C. Pope & Co. Insurance Agency)
171 NORTH AVENUE Telephone 2304
Insurance Mortgages Real Estate
The Oldest Insurance Agency in This City.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Generally fair tonight and Thursday; strong northwest winds.
Highest yesterday, 57; lowest this morning, 51.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

FOURTEEN BANDS BUT NOT A BEER

Letter Carriers Adopt a New Slogan for Big Parade of May 30.

WILL USE TABERNACLE

Ministers Report Success of Committee Work—New York Will Send 1,800 Visitors no Matter What is Served—Autos Needed for Ladies.

"Fourteen Bands and Not a Drop of Beer" is to be the slogan of the thousands of New Jersey and New York letter carriers who march in the annual parade of the New Jersey State Association at the convention in Plainfield May 30.

By unanimous vote members of the local branch of the association yesterday afternoon decided to reconsider their plans to furnish free beer for the visitors, and they made it a dry convention. It will be the first of its kind in almost twenty-five years, according to one veteran letter carrier who has been attending conventions of the association since he was a youth.

When it became known that no beer was to be served the committee in charge of the Biederwolf Tabernacle arranged the sale of that building so that delivery could be made June 1, and tendered the use of the building for all business sessions. Instead of the big parade breaking up in a beer party on Cadmus' lot in North Plainfield the marchers will go direct to the Tabernacle and there they will find coffee, sandwiches and soft drinks awaiting them. These will be served by women. C. R. Maltby will donate the coffee, which will be prepared in the Tabernacle and served hot.

The decision not to buy beer was made "in deference to public sentiment," Postmaster A. E. Hoagland said this morning in reporting action of the letter carriers yesterday. It was explained that about $100 had been contributed by liquor dealers to the entertainment fund and the pastor's committee that called on mail carriers pledged this amount in case the contributors should ask that it be returned. Dr. Strong, who was chairman of the committee that brought about the decision not to serve beer, last night reported to the congregation at the Tabernacle the result of efforts of that body. He said that just before supper three very happy men had called at his home to bring the news, and that, if they represented sentiment among the letter carriers, the local organization was to be congratulated. He thanked the local press for co-operation in the movement and commended the postal employes for their stand.

There was nothing personal in the work of the committee, Dr. Strong said, but he declared that every minister in Plainfield will strike at "booze" on every opportunity and that they felt they had won a victory here. Dr. Strong called the attention of Plainfielders to the arrest Saturday night in a neighboring city of two girls, one fifteen and the other sixteen, who were publicly drunk. He did not name the city but it was New Brunswick. This might have happened in Plainfield, he said, and may happen here so long as open saloons are allowed to run. Now is the time, he declared, to drive whisky out of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Rev. Mr. McKelvey, another member of the committee, also made a report at the Tabernacle. He told of the commendable spirit in which the mail carriers had acted when the matter was clearly put up to them and in offering them the use of the Tabernacle said that there went with it the good wishes of all the right living and right thinking people in Plainfield.

New York delegates are coming 1,800 strong, beer or no beer. The following letter received last night shows their attitude:

"Mr. J. R. McCormick,

"Dear Sir and Bro.—The time now drawing near for our visit to Plainfield, I am writing giving the following facts. We leave New York, first division at 12:45 p. m., second division at 1 p. m., which will bring our entire delegation into Plainfield about 2 p. m. The response from our members has been very good, 1,500 signified their intention of going up to date. The weather being favorable we expect to have at least 1,800 men in line on May 30. We also expect to have with us on that day 100 women.

"There is but one note of discord, and that is on account of an article which appeared in the New York World of May 15. Enclosed you will find the clipping. Several of our men resent the inference it implies, yes, a few look upon it as an insult. We have visited and taken part in several parades during the last fifteen years in New Jersey and at no time have we ever left ourselves open to criticism. Futhermore I want to assure you and the brothers at Plainfield, that when we visit your city on May 30, by our conduct we will demonstrate to the clergy and citizens of Plainfield that we never have and never will disgrace any city which we visit, as implied in the clipping. This is not written in any spirit of anger but a plain statement of how some of our men feel about the matter.

"Therefore rest assured that we will be with you on May 30 and 1,800 men in line no matter what the refreshments may be. With best regards to yourself and all the brothers of Branch

(Continued on page 2.)

$10,000 BEQUEST FOR MUHLENBERG

Hospital Will Receive This Amount Through Will of the Late Max Munger.

HAS NO RESTRICTIONS

Money Can Be Used as Board of Governors Sees Fit—Donor Died on January 21, From Effects of Typhoid Fever.

Through the will of Max Munger, a prominent Plainfield resident whose death occurred on January 21 last, Muhlenberg Hospital is to receive the splendid bequest of $10,000. This amount was stipulated by the devisor of the document recently probated and the fact was made known by the executors to the executive committee of the hospital board of governors at its meeting Monday night. No restrictions are attached to the legacy and the institution officials are free to make use of it to the best advantage. The many friends of the hospital will be pleased to hear of the generous donation and coming as it does reflects honor on both the donor and the recipient.

Mr Munger was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Raymond Munger, of Washington avenue, the borough, and died at his home on West Seventh street from the effects of typhoid fever. The disease was contracted either in England, where he had been on a business trip, or on ship board during the return trans-Atlantic voyage. His illness became apparent shortly after his ship made its departure westward. Mrs. Munger was with him and when New York was reached his condition had grown so serious she arranged for his removal to Plainfield at once.

During his long residence in either the city or borough, which was practically all his life, Mr. Munger had maintained a keen interest in local institutions. He was especially attracted to Muhlenberg Hospital and frequently aided its work. He was also an active worker at Hope chapel, where his father taught the Men's Bible class for many years and where he did much for the social betterment of the young men. The bequest of $10,000 is one of the largest Muhlenberg Hospital has received in several years and will materially aid the board of governors in meeting the financial requirements of the institution.

BAPTIST MISSION SOCIETY TO MEET HERE FRIDAY

The thirty-ninth annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the East Association will be held in the First Baptist church on Friday, May 19. Mrs. William H. Dawden, the president, will preside. The morning session will begin at 10:30 with a basket luncheon at 12 o'clock. The afternoon session will commence at 1:45. One of the speakers who will be present will be Dr. William H. Roberts, of Dhamo, Burma. During the meeting reports will be read, officers elected and committees appointed.

PRINTERY AND MEDICAL MILK COMMISSION INCORPORATES

Elizabeth, May 17.—Papers of incorporation for the Phoenix Printing Company, newspaper publishers and general printers, were filed yesterday in the Union county clerk's office. The offices are at 332-334 Leland avenue, Plainfield. The incorporators are Lewis Thompson, of Yonkers, N. Y.; Samuel O. Rush, of Plainfield, and William J. Trembath, of North Plainfield. The capital is $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares at $100 each. The concern will commence business with $30,000.

Physicians of Plainfield and Westfield are the incorporators of the Medical Milk Commission, papers for the incorporation of which were filed yesterday in the county clerk's office. The milk, it is set forth, will be of a high grade and chiefly for infants. The incorporators are Dr. Frederick C. Ard, Dr. Benjamin Van D. Hedges, Dr. William H. Murray, all of Plainfield, and Dr. Robert R. Sinclair, of Westfield.

GASTON McNEIL FUNERAL.

The funeral of Gaston McNeil, who died in Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in Bethel chapel. Interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

Big Automobile Auction Sale Next Saturday, 2 p. m.

At Thompson's Garage, the following desirable cars taken in trade will be sold to highest bidders regardless of price: 1916 Hudson touring, 1916 Dodge touring, 1914 Stutz roadster, 1914 Studebaker "4," 1913 Premier light six, 1913 Studebaker touring, 1913 Pilot light six, 1913 Studebaker coupe, 1913 Westcott touring, all electric lighted and started; 1911 Chalmers pony-tonneau, 1911 Cadillac roadster. These cars have all been gone over, some repainted, and are far better purchases than low priced new cars. Any of these cars will be sacrificed or exchanged prior to sale Saturday.—Adv. 5 17 3 •••

Do You Want

to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv. 4 24 tf •••

MARTINE AGAIN WITH OPPOSITION

Votes Against Rublee, of New Hampshire, Because of Senatorial Courtesy.

IN FAVOR OF WILSON

Cannot Understand Why Anyone Should Question His Motives in Exercising His Conscientious Judgment—Will Support Brandeis.

Washington, May 17.—Senator Martine put a little more of the reverse English into support of the Wilson administration by voting in the Senate to reject the nomination of George Rublee, of New Hampshire, as Federal Trade commissioner.

Of course, the Senator does not wish it understood he is against President Wilson; perish the thought!

The Senator was simply exercising that conscientious judgment which he always exercises, whether voting for or against the administration. So dragging that ancient idol known as Senatorial courtesy from its dusty shelf and making obeisance thereto, Mr. Martine joined with his good, old, standpat friend, Senator Gallinger, and voted to throw Mr. Rublee out of his job.

In explaining why it again happens that he is counted with the administration opposition, Mr. Martine retiterated it was altogether a case of Senatorial courtesy toward Mr. Gallinger. It happens that in 1912 Mr. Rublee had the audacity to manage the Senatorial campaign against Mr. Gallinger, and did some things that, in Mr. Gallinger's mind, disqualified him from holding a position of honor and trust in the Federal Government.

Mr. Gallinger said Mr. Rublee was "personally obnoxious," and pleaded the rule of Senatorial courtesy to have him rejected. "I have never

(Continued on page 9.)

WAGE INCREASE FOR P. S. C. EMPLOYES

The Raise Will Aggregate $262,000 and Affects All Departments.

Announcement was made by the directors of Public Service Railway Company at their meeting held yesterday afternoon of an increase of wages for employes which is to take effect July 1. The raise will mean about $262,000 a year on the basis of present business, which sum will increase as the service grows. Not only will motormen and conductors profit by the raise but other employes of the transportation department will figure in the company's action.

The decision of the directors was entirely voluntary and is in keeping with the company's fixed policy of treating its men as liberally as the condition of the business will permit. July 1 was fixed upon as the date for the new scale becoming effective because it marks the beginning of the company's half-year.

Few, if any, street railways in the country have a better record for treatment of employes than Public Service and this latest is one of several raises in wages made since Public Service was formed in 1903. Only two and a half years ago, on January 1, 1914, a wage scale ranging from twenty-three cents to thirty cents an hour and involving an addition of $200,000 a year to the payroll was put in effect. That action was also voluntary and the men got their first intimation of yesterday's decision when bulletins were posted in the car houses this morning. The new rate will give the men from twenty-five to thirty-two cents an hour, the minimum being paid to beginners and the rate increasing with length of service.

An increase was also authorized in the minimum wage to be paid extra motormen and conductors. Heretofore the rate was $12 per week and after July 1 the extra men will be enabled to earn $14 a week if they report for roll calls and perform such duties as may be assigned to them.

JUDGE DEMEZA BRINGS A FAMILY BACK TOGETHER

Marion Clark, arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct, agreed to take a position and re-establish her home. Her husband promised to take the three children out of the home where they are now beink kept and Judge De Meza paved the way for the family reunion by dismissing all charges against the wife and mother, but still requiring her to report to the probation officer.

GRANTED ABSOLUTE DIVORCE.

Chancellor Walker, of Trenton, today granted an absolute divorce decree to Mrs. Sarah Block, of North avenue, this city. She was the wife of Morris Block and the decree was passed on statutory grounds. It also entitles her to the use of her maiden name.

THOUSANDS WILL MARCH TONIGHT

Big Religious Demonstration to Surpass Anything Yet Seen Here.

MAYOR IN FIRST AUTO

Fraternal and Social Organizations, Churches, Factories and Clubs to Be Represented—Will Move at 7:45, Weather Permitting

Weather permitting, Plainfield will tonight witness the greatest civic demonstration in its history when thousands of men, women and children parade the downtown streets under the flag of Christianity.

Acceptances received by the committee in charge of the event, which is a part of the big Biederwolf evangelistic campaign, already run into the thousands. Practically every fraternal and social organization, lodge, factory and civic association in the city will be represented.

Mayor Calkins will lead the parade in an automobile, with other city officials, and with him will ride the Rev. William E. Biederwolf. Then will come the Dutch Arms band, heading church delegations and Sunday-school pupils. There will be a big automobile section and many owners are today decorating their cars for use in the parade tonight. All participants are urged to be in line by 7:15. They will form on Watchung avenue, excepting the automobile section, which will form on Sixth street, between Watchung and Richmond. Everyone is expected to be ready to march at 7:30. The parade will start at 7:45.

"It will start on time, remember that!" said Mr. Heaton last night. "No matter if there is nobody there but me and the band, the parade will start at 7:45."

The line of march will be down Watchung avenue to Front street, then down Front street to Geraud avenue and thence to the Tabernacle. All those in the parade will carry Japanese or Chinese lanterns on sticks. The doors of the Tabernacle will not be opened until the marchers reach there, so that all who parade are assured of a good seat.

W. T. Kaufman is chairman of the parade committee. C. W. McCutchen has been named chief marshal and aides are Arthur T. Goodenough, Donald A. McGee, J. Hartley Melick, J. Rex Shoemaker; Warren Ackerman will be bugler. The formation will be as follows:

Division I—John R. McLaughlin, leader; electric cross, police, band, Biederwolf party, press, ministers, Co. K. Troop, D. G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, ushers, women assistants, cottage prayer meeting committee, W. C. T. U., form around triangle between Sixth and Seventh streets, on Watchung avenue.

Division II.—George H. Batchelor, leader; chorus choir, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts, factories, form on Seventh street, between Crescent and Park avenues.

Division III—H. W. Marshall, leader; band, commercial college, high schools, postoffice employes, Federated Men's Church Clubs and Bible classes, lodges, form on Crescent avenue above Seventh street.

Division IV—E. B. Shoemaker, leader; drum corps, miscellaneous Tabernacle group and visiting delegations, form on Watchung avenue, above Seventh street.

Division V—Judge W. N. Runyon, leader; band, Sabbath schools, floats, etc., miscellaneous floats representing business firms, form on Seventh street, between Watchung avenue and Franklin place.

Division VI—Allan B. Laing, leader; decorated automobiles, form on Sixth street, between Watchung avenue and Franklin place.

MRS. F. A. WEEKS GIVES DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON

A delightful luncheon was given today by Mrs. Frank A. Weeks, of West Seventh street, at the "Vandermark," the home of Mrs. F. C. Mitten, 137 Crescent avenue. The dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms, pink snap dragon and yellow flowers the arrangement being by Charles L. Stanley, the florist.

Covers were laid for six, those present bein Mesdames J. V. Beekman, Frank H. Smith, H. V. Hubbard, Thomas F. Hylan, Mrs. P. B. Cregar and Mrs. Frank A. Weeks.

WILL PARADE IF IT IS CLEAR AT 6:30.

If it is clear at 6:30 p. m. today and from then on until time for the big civico-religious demonstration to form and march for a few minutes over downtown streets, the parade will be held. At 2 p. m. indications were that rainfall had ceased for the day, but even though it rains late in the afternoon and clears before 7 p. m. there will be no reason for calling off the demonstration, it was announced.

MAY BRING PEACE NOTE OF KAISER

American Attache Said to Be On Way Here With Autograph Letter.

REPORT IS NOT DENIED

Casement Trial Ends Today—Will Hold Sir Roger—Turks Turn Men Against Russian Army—Air Bombs Are Dropped on Venice.

Washington, May 17.—Reports that the German Emperor is sending an autograph letter to President Wilson on the subject of peace met neither with affirmation nor denial from the State Department officials today. It is reported that an attache of the American Embassy at Berlin is returning to the United States bringing such a letter with him. Nothing is known of the matter at the State Department, it is said.

Report Strong Note to England.

Washington, May 17.—Referring to statements that the American Government would send a vigorous note to Great Britain shortly on the subject of the German blockade, Secretary Lansing today said: "I cannot be held responsible for statements of that sort. I will not comment upon them."

Turks Turn to Russian Front.

London, May 17.—Twenty thousand Turkish troops have been withdrawn from the British fronts east of Kut-el-Amara, presumably to meet the Russian advance on Bagdad, according to dispatches received here today.

The Turks are recruiting all native tribesmen capable of bearing arms, and moving them northward to the defense of Mosul. Prolongation of the Tigris floods has made it possible for the Turks to strip their lines around Kut-el-Amara without fear of an immediate British advance.

(Continued on page 9.)

MAYOR AND COUNCIL TO OPPOSE LICENSE

Borough Authorities on Record Against Renewal to Morris Latzko.

Mayor William L. Smalley and the Borough Council has gone on record as opposed to a renewal of the wholesale liquor license now held by Morris Latzko, of Somerset street. This action was taken in an informal way just before the Council adjourned its meeting Monday night, it being proposed by Mayor Smalley who wanted to get an expression of opinion.

All of the councilmen with the exception of Clifford McGee, who is out of town, said that they were opposed to a renewal of the license when it expires in September. It is understood that there is a prospective buyer of the business, but this seemed to make little difference in the minds of the Mayor and Council. Of course, the disposition of the license is up to the Somerset county court, but it is realized that public sentiment would have considerable weight in the matter, and this now appears to be opposed to a licensed place where Latzky is located.

FINED $25 FOR HITTING AGED GREEK IN FIGHT

Charged with assaulting Trephou Zacharopus, an aged Greek, with his first, Loteros Cocals, proprietor of a restaurant on Front street, was this morning fined $25 in police court. The aged complainant showed two loose teeth and a bruised face as evidence. He was also accused of fighting but the case against him was dismissed by Judge De Meza.

DR. DAVIS WILL AID "PREPAREDNESS MOVEMENT"

Wishing to render some assistance in the general movement of "preparedness," Dr. Charles G. Davis, the Park avenue dentist, today offered his services in a professional way to any man who by reason of mouth conditions has found it impossible to enlist in either the army or navy. Of course, it is understood that service is offered to any worthy man who is anxious to join in the defense of his country and who cannot afford to pay for such dental work.

Dr. Davis is greatly interested in the "preparedness" movement and he conceived the idea of being able to help someone who because of faulty condition of the teeth would be rejected for that reason if he attempted to enlist in the government service.

JUDGE FINDS A WALLET.

Judge William De Meza this morning found a large black wallet. It is at his office on Park avenue, and the owner may have same by calling for it and proving his claim of ownership.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

BIEDERWOLF CALLS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE A "FRAUD," SAYS MRS. EDDY WAS A "LIAR," OR CRAZY

QUOTES FROM LETTERS, TEACHINGS AND HISTORICAL WRITINGS TO PROVE HIS CRITICISMS OF HER CREED.

CROWD OF ALMOST 4,000 BRAVES HARD RAIN

His Only Purpose to Get at Truth, Evangelist Declares, and Offers $100 to Anyone Who Will Prove He Misquoted or Even Garbled Words of Famous Thought Healer.

That instead of getting her so-called Christian Science as a revelation from God Mrs. Mary Baker, Glover Patterson Eddy "stole" it from Dr. B. P. Quimby, a one time metaphysical healer up in the State of Maine, was declared by the Rev. William E. Biederwolf in his lecture on "Christian Science" at the Tabernacle last night. The evangelist called Christian Science a "fraud" and Mrs. Eddy either a deliberate liar or an insane person.

"This is proven," he said, "by her own lips and by her own writings," and he quoted freely from letters to friends, statements in newspapers over her signature and her published works as proof of his assertion.

There were many followers of the teachings of Mrs. Eddy in the audience at the Tabernacle last night. To them Dr. Biederwolf said that his criticism was kindly; that it was all in good faith, but that he would gladly present a check for $100 to any person who would prove that he made any wrong historical statement or misquoted Mrs. Eddy, or even garbled her words in any way so as to lose the meaning they were intended to convey." We only want to get at the truth," he said. "That is what I want, and I believe it is what you want, too."

Dr. Biederwolf spoke calmly throughout the entire lecture. His tone was dramatic only when he denied some of the teachings of Christian Science that conflicted with the Bible and in his most serious indictments of the creed he criticised he stopped to explain again that he was but seeking to find and expose the truth.

Dr. Biederwolf did not give his entire lecture on Christian Science. He was prevented from doing this by the small amount of time available, but he selected what he considered the most important parts. The lecture as found in another part of the Press of today is as it was spoken from the pulpit at the Tabernacle last night.

Although rain poured through all the afternoon and evening, and was falling heavily for an hour before time for the service to begin there was a crowd of almost 4,000 at the Tabernacle. The audience was as large as can be comfortably cared for on a wet night. Because of the noise from raindrops pattering on the tarpaper roof the human voice cannot be heard clearly in all parts of the house, and then there are numerous places throughout the Tabernacle where water is allowed to pour in through defective roofing.

Two young ladies in the chorus choir protected themselves for a short time when the rainfall was heaviest and a stream of water poured in on them, by raising an umbrella and calmly sitting huddled underneath it in full view of the audience.

Reports that it had been decided not to serve beer at the Letter Carriers' Convention here in June were received with great applause. Dr. Biederwolf said that as he was crossing Broad street in Philadelphia at noon yesterday a friend hailed him to express his joy over hearing that Plainfield would give the letter carriers a "dry" convention. He told those present they ought to be glad they were living in a town that would not stand for such a thing, and asked members of the pastor's committee to personally thank the local letter carriers for him.

There will be two afternoon meetings this week, it was announced last night. One will be held Thursday afternoon at the Tabernacle when Dr. Biederwolf will speak to women only on "As a jewel of gold in a swine's mouth so is a fair woman without discretion." Friday afternoon the big cottage prayer meeting session will be held. All who have attended cottage prayer meetings in Plainfield are urged to attend and others are invited.

A large delegation of members of the Women's Aid and Missionary Society of Warren Chapel was present.

Dr. Anderson offered the opening prayer.

The National Male Quartet sang "Remember Me, O Mighty One" and there were two solos that were especially pleasing. One was by Henry VanBlake, of the colored churches of Plainfield, who sang "I Love to Hear My Savior's Voice," and the other by Elmer D. Cutting, who sang "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

In thanking his audience for such good attendance on a rainy night Dr. Biederwolf said it was "fine weather," because all weather that the Lord sends is "fine." He once knew a man, he said, who said he was glad when he woke up in the morning to see any weather at all.

The evangelist called attention to news reports of the day which told that Methodists in conference at Saratoga Springs had refused to lift the ban on the dance. He predicted this several nights ago in his sermon on the dance. Dr. Biederwolf then made another prophesy. It was that he would receive a telegram this morning telling him that Norristown has gone for temperance in the election there yesterday.

"I am getting to be quite a prophet," he said. "I can tell you who will be the next President of the United States. Want to know? Well, it will be Woodrow Wilson—or some Republican."

CHARITY LAWN PARTY IN AID OF YOUNG GIRL

One of the coming events for the week is a charity lawn party to be held at Wynwood, 1332 Prospect avenue, on Thursday afternoon, May 25, if clear and if not the first fine day following. The feature of the affair will be a sale of choice high-bred tea rose bushes and seedlings and beautiful garden accessories, such as hats, baskets, vases, birdsticks, etc. Special attractions will be provided for the children. Ponies to ride and drive, inexpensive toys and a little fairy tulip garden, which has sprung from the earth, each tulip holding a hidden prize. Tea and home made ice cream and cake will be served under the trees.

Everything may be bought at moderate prices and the proceeds will be used to educate a young girl in our local business college so she may support herself and help care for her widowed mother and several other children. A charming afternoon is promised to all those who love a few hours in a garden.

Give a penny or a dime
Give a dollar and your time
To the workers on Rose Tag Day
And do your share to make life gay
JUNE 17.

Does Your Motor Pound?

This may be caused from carbon. We can remove the carbon without dismantling the engine. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. •••

Notice to Dog Owners.

All dog licenses expire on May 20th, and should be renewed on or before that date.—Adv. 5 16 3 •••

—Press want ads. pay.

POLICE TO REPORT ALL FOWL IN CITY LIMITS

Plainfield policemen have been ordered to report all persons on their beats who keep pigeons, chickens or other fowl within the city limits. Chief Kiely yesterday ordered that a written report be made to him in each case so that the department could co-operate with the Board of Health in seeing that fowl are properly cared for if kept in the city limits.

SENT ON HIS WAY HOME.

William Addie, of Newark, on his way to Pennsylvania, was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. He said he wanted to get to his home, and Judge DeMeza turned him loose so that he might be on his way.

DELEGATE TO ASSEMBLY.

C. M. Hummer left today for Atlantic City to attend the General Assembly meeting of the Presbyterian church as commissioner from the Presbytery of Elizabeth.

General Manager, N. Y. Hudson Service and Repair Department, Now in Charge of Thompson's Service and Repair Department.

Thompson Auto Co. has been very fortunate in securing Mr. J. E. Keeler to take charge of their service and repair department. Mr. Keeler has been in charge of the Hudson Motor Car Co.'s service and repair department for the past two years, previous to that time Mr. Keeler was in charge of the Alco service and repair department for eight years. If you encounter any serious trouble or you wish the kind of work that until now could only be handled in New York, do not fail to consult Mr. Keeler.—Adv. 5 17 3•••

We Give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With All Purchases.

A. E. FORCE & CO.
"THE WHITE STORE"

It Will Pay You to Visit Our Floor Covering Dept.

Where we now have on display large assortments of Rugs, Linoleum, Grass and Straw Matting.

In Our Upholstering Dept.

You will find an exceptionally fine line of Cretonnes and Silkolines, also Genuine Red Cedar Chests which are very low priced. If you are contemplating new Shades we would be pleased to furnish samples and estimates.

A Very Special Sale of Soaps

Hardwater Castile Soap . 5c ck., 2 for 6c
Hardwater Castile Soap . 10c ck., 2 for 11c
Palmolive Soap . . . . . 3 cakes 25c
Armour's Toilet Soap . . . . 6 cakes 25c

We Give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With All Purchases.

We Give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With All Purchases.

We Give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With All Purchases.

called by that body to be held in School No. 1 tomorrow night. They suggest that instead of the proposed addition being built on School No. 1 that a separate school be erected, preferably on the south side of the C. R. R. of N. J. railroad tracks. The meeting will start tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and from present indications there will be many citizens there.

The Rev. Raymond E. Marshal, pastor of the Methodist church, has been attending the Methodist convention at Saratoga, N. Y.

The Thursday Afternoon Bible Training Class will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of the Misses Kyte on Martine avenue.

There will be no prayer meeting in the Baptist church tonight owing to the fact that many will attend the Biederwolf services in Plainfield.

MUSICAL CLUB GIVES ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM

Members Entertain Guests at Home of Mrs. John B. Dumont.

The final meeting of the Musical Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John B. Dumont, of Stelle avenue. The meeting was largely attended, and the program was one of the most enjoyable given by the club during the past season. The music room was attractively decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and potted plants.

The program comprised the following numbers:

"Intermede" (two pianos, four hands) .....Chaminade
Miss Maude-Van Boskerck, Mrs. Adele De Leeuw.
"Impromptus," Nos. 1 and 3 (two pianos, eight hands) ..... Schumann
Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard, Mrs. Noel G. Evans, Mrs. LeRoy Gates, Miss Eva Mall.
"The Star" .....James Rogers
"Sylvelin" ..... Sinding
"The Nightingale Has a Lyre of Gold" ..... Whelpley
Mrs. Guy Bender.
"Aufschwung" ..... Schumann
"Warum" ..... Schumann
"Grillen" ..... Schumann
Mrs. Lorenzo Dilks.
"Evening Shardes"....Goring-Thomas
"Swing Song" .....Herman Lohr
Mrs. Guy Bender and Mrs. Tugwell.
"Gavotte" ..... Bach-St. Saens
"Barcarolle in F" .....Rubenstein
"The Erl King" .....Schubert-Liszt
Mrs. Lorenzo Dilks.
"Waltz" .....Von Wiln
Mrs. Harry McGee and Mrs. A. H. Atterbury.

At the annual meeting of the club, held on May 1 at the home of Mrs. J. Kirkland Myers, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. J. K. Myers; vice-president, Miss Maude Van Boskerck; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Edmund Lee. The program committee for next year consists of Miss Van Boskerck, chairman; Mrs. Lorenzo Dilks, Mrs. Harry McGee and Miss Edith Mellick.

WILL ORGANIZE BOY CLUB IN WEST END

Community Center Promotes Activities for Employed Youth of the City.

The West End Community Center is organizing a club for the boys of the west end. Any boy over sixteen years of age may be elected to membership. Any employed boy over fourteen years is eligible for membership. The club is to be self-governing and will take up such recreational and educational activities as meet the requirements of the members. Choral singing, debating, baseball and gymnastics are among the activities being considered. An invitation is extended to the boys of the west end to attend the business meeting of the club tomorrow evening at the Washington School. It is expected that an interesting evening will be spent. Addresses will be made by some of the citizens of the community and discussion of a proposed constitution will be held.

Entertainments will be arranged for each month when the boys may invite their friends. Next fall more extensive plans will be made for physical training and educational features.

The West End Community Center is accomplishing a great deal toward bringing the people of the neighborhood into closer harmony and greater co-operation for the purpose of neighborhood betterment. Not until all the people of the community take a hand and bring their experience, their brains, their culture, their labor, their broad sympathies and their spiritual influence into the Community Center will the purposes of the center be accomplished. The public is cordially invited to visit the Community Center in the Washington School at any time.

FOURTEEN BANDS; NO BEER

(Continued from page 1)

396.

"Fraternally yours,
"O. W. JACKSON,
"P. O. Station F.
"New York."

It is asked that those who can furnish their automobiles for the use of visiting women on May 30, send their names to the committee at once.

The W. C. T. U. this morning expressed its willingness to render assistance in furnishing and serving coffee or lemons at the letter carriers' convention.

TRAVELSTAMPS
PAY YOUR FARE EVERYWHERE

Travelstamp Advantages No. 3

Highest Cash Redemption Value

CUSTOMERS prefer to save Travelstamps because these trade-tokens have a higher cash redemption value than any other stamp or coupon in circulation.

It is therefore quite natural that the buying public should largely confine its purchases to the stores that give Travelstamps.

Travelstamps are issued in stamp or coupon form—and are interchangeable at any redemption station of Travelstamps, Inc.

TRAVELSTAMPS, Inc.
115 Broadway - - - New York

THE FOLLOWING STORES GIVE TRAVELSTAMPS

ASTOR THEATRE
235 West Front St.
RANDOLPH'S PHARMACY
Prescription Druggist, 143 W. Front St.
JOHN DOUGHTY
Sporting Goods, 142 North Ave.
CARL SILBERT
Jeweler, 255 W. Front St.
FRANK LINKE
Wines and Liquors, 227 W. Front St.
J. MATTHEWS
Ladies' Tailor, 62 Somerset St.
PARK AVE. MEAT MARKET
M. R. GILES
Meats and Vegetables, 104 W. Second St.
L. B. VAN CAMP
Furniture, 101 E. Front St.
NEUMANN BROS. CO.
Grocers, Watchung Ave. and Fifth St.
GERTRUDE ENANDER
Millinery and Hosiery, 123 Watchung Ave.
ROBERT GARDNER
Merchant Tailor, 325 Watchung Ave.
WALSH'S CENTRAL PHARMACY
Drugs and Perfumes, Watchung and North Ave.
STANDARD HARDWARE STORE
184 E. Front, near Watchung Ave.
LINCOLN MARKET
Meats and Vegetables, 94 Somerset St.
ESTIL'S BOOK SHOP
Stationer and Bookseller, 111 Park Ave.
JAS. C. HANSEN
Painters' Supplies, 141 East Front St.
PLAINFIELD AUTO TIRE CO.
Auto Supplies, 407 Watchung Ave.
OSMUN'S MEN'S SHOP
Haberdasher, 214 Park Ave.
J. L. BENNETT
Grocer, 257 W. Front St.
W. W. GALLAWAY
Pharmacy, 200 Grant Ave.
STADLER'S CLOTHING STORE
128 E. Front St.

Plainfield Office and Redemption Station, Daily Press Building, 193 North Ave.

U. S. CRUISER IS GROUNDED ON SHOAL

Eight Sailors Are Reported Washed From Decks of the San Francisco.

Boston, May 17.—Eight men are reported missing from the United States cruiser San Francisco, which ran aground on Great Round Shoal, on Vineyard Sound, early this morning. Wireless reports of grounding of the cruiser have been received, but details are lacking. The cruiser is believed to have ran aground in a fierce gale that was blowing, and the sailors were probably washed out to sea. A number of boats, including the battleship New Hampshire, are rushing to the side of the San Francisco. At noon it was reported that the San Francisco had been floated.

PRAYER MEETINGS THURSDAY MORNING

Cottage prayer meetings will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in the following homes:

Mrs. Chas. P. King, 627 East Seventh street; Mrs. J. Frank Raymond, 946 Kensington avenue; Mrs. C. MacKillop, 147 Somerset street; Mrs. S. S. Swackhamer, 109 Summit avenue; Mrs. C. E. Mager, 86 Grandview avenue; Mrs. A. M. Korff, 1484 Watchung avenue; Mrs. R. C. Treadwell, 821 First place; Mrs. Edward V. Cox, 150 East Seventh street; Mrs. Ella Serrel, 931 Union street; Mrs. Hans Nelson, 1231 Cameron avenue; Truell Inn, Park avenue and Eighth street; Mrs. John Corey, 527 West Front street; The Day Nursery, 502 West Front street; Mrs. Walter Smalley, 145 Duer street; Mrs. J. Emmons, 16 Washington avenue; Mrs. J. L. Love, 27 Duer street; Mrs. Wm. E. Runyon, 252 Somerset street; Mrs. Geo. S. Dufford, 675 West Front street; Mrs. Geo. Meyer, 720 West Third street; Mrs. Fred Dixon, 805 West Fourth street; Miss Zelpha Williams, 1039 West Sixth street.

"MOTHERS' DAY" AT RARITAN.

An interesting item of news is sent to the Plainfield Daily Press concerning an unusual happening at Raritan on "Mothers' Day," May 14, when four births were recorded between 7.30 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. One was an American, one a Hungarian, one an Austrian and the fourth an Italian. All but one of the quartet were boys.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

FOUNDED · 1856

The distinction bestowed upon our Spring clothes by the rapidly multiplying thousands of old and new customers, tells a tale of first-preference rarely equaled by the clothing world.

Among our customers are many men and young men who came to us skeptical of our ability to meet their demands.

That they have become regular patrons is ample proof of their unqualified endorsement of our clothes and our service.

BROKAW BROTHERS
1457-1463 BROADWAY
AT FORTY-SECOND STREET
NEW YORK

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

BOROUGH COUNCIL ACCEPTS REPORT

Assessments Will Now Be Levied on Madison Ave. Property, Dunellen.

TOTAL COST IS $5,479

Citizens Object to Poor Drainage System and Protest is Made Against Allowing Socialist Meetings in the Borough.

The report of the commissioners in connection with the installation of the Madison avenue storm sewer or drain was considered and accepted at the adjourned meeting of the Dunellen Council last night. The next step will be the levying of the assessments fixed by the commissioners which total $5,479. The propertyowners will have five years in which to pay the assessments.

During a preliminary hearing to voice objections, Vincent Manahan wanted to know why the drainage system didn't carry off the water in front of his place after heavy rains.

Stephen T. Kennedy and William Llenau explained that water which formerly collected in front of their places now disappeared, which led Mr. Monahan to say that he guessed it all collected in front of his place.

In the opinion of Barthomolew Kelly the local sewer work was the first large contract of the Corbin firm and that it was doing poor work. He said that he was formerly engaged in similar work and knew a good job when he saw it. He then pointed out what he considered defects in the present work, but Mr. Corbin, who was present, denied some of the statements.

George Crandall wanted to know why some lots were being assessed more than others. He was told that this was due to the varied foot frontage.

The only definite objection came from James Tarpey by letter. He said:

"I object to the report because the Madison avenue drainage is doing us no good on West Front street. Therefore I don't see why we should have to provide any cost towards such improvement."

The Public Service Railway, in a communication, said it refused to oil the portion of North avenue covered by their tracks as they had done two years ago, when they contributed $75 a mile per track. In view of the fact that they had stood its portion of the expense before, Mayor Latham instructed the chairman of the street committee to get after them in more strenuous fashion.

A communication in connection with the intention of the borough to change the grade of Dunellen avenue, west of Madison avenue, was received from H. E. Giddes. He said that this would close the outlets of pipe which drain the cellars of houses owned by him and Patrick Tarpey, and as a remedy he suggested that a line of pipe be run from in front of Mr. Tarpey's house past his to the Madison avenue drain, so that this water can be taken care of. The matter was laid on the table.

W. W. Tappen expressed his appreciation of certain improvements made by the borough in the Equator development. He said that he hoped the development would continue to grow so that the borough will not regret the expenditure.

A petition presented by Jacob Haulner, asking that the Sovak Falcon organization, which is to hold a field day at Dewey Park on Decoration Day, be allowed to parade through the borough with a band Decoration Day morning was granted.

H. K. Corbin requested that he be released from paying the borough sewerage inspectors, which he has done since the time-limit originally given him for constructing the sewerage expired. He said that labor conditions, etc., and not his firm, were responsible for the work not being completed on time, as there was a great quantity of extra work. He, therefore, thought that the borough should take its turn in sharing in this extra expense, but the Mayor didn't appear to think so.

Another communication was received from Samuel Schwartz in regard to opening Sanford avenue for traffic. He said that the open sewer trench at the head of this thoroughfare was damaging his property and that if the condition was not remedied that he would sue the borough as threatened. The letter was dated May 6, and the Mayor said that he had called up Mr. Schwartz since then and in a frank heart-to-heart talk had explained why it was impossible to remedy conditions there at present. This, the Mayor said, had revealed conditions in a different light to Mr. Schwartz, and he was satisfied.

Upon the recommendation of the sewerage engineers, the H. K. Corbin Co. was granted an extension of time in completing the sewer from May 1 to September 1.

An anonymous letter was received in connection with the Slovaks holding a Socialistic meeting in the borough. The writer said they had come to this free land from a country where they are oppressed; and, instead of serving the country as loyal citizens, they became so proud that they take matters in their own hands. He said that these meetings are a menace to citizenship and religion, and should not be permitted. Councilman Ryan said he didn't see what the borough could do about the matter. He said, however, that other places had ordinances making it necessary for those desiring to hold dances to get a permit from the Mayor and he thought that an enactment of such an ordinance might be a good thing for Dunellen.

An aplication for permission to erect a barn was received from Louis Boudois, the local butcher, and another one for permission to erect an addition to his house on Prospect avenue, was received from George H. Richter. Both were referred to the fire and water committee with power to act.

The condition of Mrs. J. F. C. Kinney, who has been ill with pneumonia, is such that she was removed to the hospital for an operation this morning.

Charles Coriell, Jr., has returned to his duties in New York, following an attack of bronchitis.

Miss Beatrice Cameron, who has been laid up with a sprained ankle, is able to be out and about.

Scotch Plains, Fanwood

ANNUAL SCHOOL EXHIBIT.

Wet weather interfered with the attendance at the annual school exhibit held in School No. 1 yesterday, especially in the evening. Those who did attend, however, were pleased with the specimens displayed of the work accomplished so far this year. The exhibits of the basket work, sewing and carpentery classes were also favorably commented on.

PRESENTS "QUALITY STREET."

Mrs. Fenetta Sargent, who on several previous occasions has successfully entertained local audiences, delighted a large number of local people in the Parish House last night in her clever presentation of the dramatized novel by James Barrie entitled "Quality Street." If anything she was better than on her previous appearances. The entertainment was held under the auspices of the Sunday school of the Methodist church.

PAINT FIRE HYDRANTS.

The monthly business meeting of the Fanwood Fire Company was held in the firehouse on Watson road last night and was attended by about twenty members. Aside from the paying of the usual bills, it was reported that the fire hydrants about town have been painted by the water company. Contractor Alberts has been awarded the work by the company of removing the old supports under the floor of the firehouse and replacing them with new ones.

FAVOR NEW SCHOOL.

A number of petitions are being circulated about the township and borough today to be presented to the Board of Education at the meeting

Do You Want a "Guest-Tenant?"

When you rent a room of your home to someone, you secure a "guest-tenant." Your "roomer" is a guest of your house, on a business basis—but still a guest, somewhat in touch with your home, and this makes it highly important that the person should be of the right sort.

In advertising a furnished room it is a simple matter to indicate that the tenant-to-be must have reasonably convincing credentials as to character. You will thus have applications from a desirable class of people while a door sign or window card would merely bring to you the chance passer-by. The man who has a diploma from the School of Experience is pretty well fixed.

PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY,
193 NORTH AVENUE

THE SERVICE SHOP

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT
ILLUSTRATED EDITION

Distributed by the
PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE

3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it

Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.

EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED

Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles 07
Up to 300 miles 15
Up to 600 miles 15
Up to 1000 miles 20
For greater distances add postage rate for 3 lbs.

The STEINWAY

To own a Steinway is to own the instrument that has virtually made the piano industry an art. And the pride of ownership is comparable only to the surpassing beauty of the instrument—both are supreme. For the Steinway is the perfect expression of loftiest ideals.

And yet you can have one of these magnificent pianos for your very own for as small a sum as $500. That is the price of the new upright—and the grands run from $750 upward. It seems impossible to realize that the Steinway costs very little more than other instruments—for that little difference is the distinction between "good" and "best." Payments if desired.

ALSO Kranich & Bach
Hallet & Davis
Conway Virtuolo
Virtuolo, Player-Pianos
Strich & Zeidler

STEINWAY REPRESENTATIVES

GRIFFITH PIANO CO.

238 WEST FRONT ST., Plainfield, Babcock Bldg.
In Newark, 605 Broad Street

"LET US BE KNOWN BY THE QUALITY OF PIANOS WE SELL"

Try A Press Want Ad.

CABINET SPLIT OVER BRITAIN

Blockade Question Cause of Controversy.

POLITICS AFFECT MATTER

Some Believe President Should Take Into Account Sentiment of Irish and German Element Here—English Ambassador Gives Promise of Concessions.

Washington, May 17.—The president's official advisers are at odds over the course the United States should pursue in the diplomatic controversies now pending with Great Britain.

State department officials, having publicly said that they would not permit Germany to force the United States to proceed vigorously against the British naval blockade and that treaty obligations limited this government's action to diplomatic protests, are in favor of continuing the British negotiations on an even keel.

They are convinced that all injuries suffered by Americans will be adjusted fairly and in due course and see no reason for unduly pressing for immediate decisions or for using sharp language in the diplomatic correspondence between the two governments.

But other of the president's advisers are apparently becoming concerned about the political effect which the pursuance of this policy may have, especially with regard to the pro-German and Irish vote.

They point out that the president has an excellent opportunity to deal with the British question now from the viewpoint of "home consumption." A sharp note to Great Britain, they add, would doubtless find much support, especially in the south and west, where the British policy has been the cause of great financial losses.

Take Different Positions.

There is already a wide divergence between the position which Secretary Lansing has assumed on the general subject of the British negotiations and the position which other advisers believe this government should assume. From the state department the news comes that the United States will continue the negotiations less vigorously and less expeditiously than if Germany had not attempted to make vigorous action a condition upon which will rest continuance of the abandonment of illegal submarine warfare.

From other official sources, however, come statements that the United States will act with great vigor against Great Britain and that the president is planning sharp action in connection with the British blockade.

Published statements that the United States proposed to send a vigorous demand upon Great Britain within the next twenty hours on the question of mail seizures by the British naval authorities brought Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, to the state department.

The ambassador was surprised to learn that no note on mail seizures had been prepared and that there was little prospect of any communication on this subject going to Great Britain this week. He was informed that the United States regarded this issue as independent of the blockade and that it was a matter of [illegible] importance to American business interests that it should be satisfactorily adjusted.

The ambassador explained to Counselor Polk that the British government was ready to make every concession in favor of American interests that would not involve permitting Germany to use the mails fraudulently for sending of supplies or contraband or for other illegal purposes. Sir Cecil believes that the two governments will have no difficulty in reaching an agreement on this matter.

SAY SOLDIERS KILLED THEM.

Jury's Verdict In Case of Two Dublin Victims Found Under Debris.

Dublin, May 17.—The coroner's inquest into the deaths of two men named Bealen and Healy, whose bodies were found buried under the debris of a saloon, seemingly illustrates the difficulty of fixing the responsibility for casualties in the recent fighting in Dublin, owing to the conflict of the evidence adduced from military and civil witnesses.

No testimony was brought forward at the hearing to show how the men met their deaths or came to be buried in the cellar, but the jury returned a verdict that the men had died from shock and hemorrhage, the result of gunshot wounds inflicted by a soldier or soldiers.

Death Ends $100,000 Suit.

New York, May 17.—Thomas Johnson, plaintiff in a $100,000 suit against the East Coast Transportation company, succumbed to the injuries for which he sought to recover while his action was being fought out in the United States district court. Because of his death Judge Charles M. Hough dismissed the suit.

Hughes Leads In Vermont.

Montpelier, Vt., May 17.—Justice Charles E. Hughes of the supreme court had a lead of about 2 to 1 over ex-President Theodore Roosevelt in the Republican presidential primaries, according to the returns available at a late hour.

"AFRICAN MISSIONS."

The Rev. Mr. Deauble will give a stereopticon lecture on "African Missions" in St. Peter's Lutheran church on the evening of Friday, May 19. Tickets may be secured at the door on Friday night.

—When discontent reaches a certain point, the furnished room advertisements become very interesting to some people.

The Hahne Club Plan makes it easy to buy Furniture, Rugs and Carpets.

HAHNE & Co.

NEWARK

We Give and Redeem Surety Coupons

A Clearaway of Women's Suits, Formerly $29.50 to $22.50 Now Reduced to $19.50

Many of the smartest styles of the season are embraced in this collection of suits now marked to close out at a special price.

Some are plain tailored, others in dressy styles; newest models, with flaring coats, belted at sides and front—fitted or semi-fitted; finished with white detached collars; some neatly trimmed with braid and fancy buttons; others with taffeta collar, cuffs and bands on bottom of coat; all lined with peau de cygne or fancy silk.

The skirts are in yoke effect, shirred at waist, belted and full flare circular.

The materials are Serges, Shepherd Checks, Jetter Cloth, Poplin, Wool Velour, Gabardine and plain taffeta; also taffeta and serge combinations—shown in all colors and all sizes. Formerly $22.50 to $29.50; now $19.50

Sport Skirts in Great Variety

Women's Sport Skirts of Awning Stripe, Silverbloom, Palm Beach Cloth, Serges, Corduroys, Cotton Gabardine and Linen; well made, serviceable styles, with fancy shaped pockets and detached belts, button trimmed. Some in striped designs of various colors. All sizes in waist and length. Priced at.... $1.69, $1.98, $2.50, $2.98, $3.98 to $5.00

Hahne's—Second Floor

Indestructible "Old Rustic Cedar"

Shown on the Third Floor

You can buy "Old Rustic Cedar" furniture with the certainty that it will defy the action of sun and rain and give years of service under the hardest use.

The children may climb on it, tip it over and generally knock it around, but it is built of Heavy Natural Cedar Logs bolted together with iron rods.

It is attractive in appearance, comfortable in design and moderate in price. We e are sole Newark distributers for "Old Rustic Cedar"—see the display on the third are sole Newark distributers for "Old R

Arm Chair or Rocker (as illustrated) deep seat, broad arms, 4.75

Settee (as illustrated), 51 inches long, 39 inches high, seat 20 inches deep. 8.00

Round Table (as illustrated). 6.50

Small Chair or Rocker (as illustrated) 3.75

Hahne's—Third Floor

UNCLE SAM'S PLIGHT

Some Bands a Business Administration Would Unloose.

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a5.20, a7.20, 9.00, 11.45, 1.00, 3.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.15, b6.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—9.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 9.00.
Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 9.30, 12.00, 1.30, 3.30, b4.30, 4.20 except Saturday, 5.20, 7.30, 10.30, 10.50, b11.45. Sundays—8.30, 12.15, 1.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.
Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00, 8.15, f10.00, b1.00, g3.00, 4.15, b6.20.
Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00, 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g3.45, 5.25, g7.30.
Leave Plainfield for Warrenville—a6.45, 8.15, 6.20, f10.00, g3.00, g4.20.
Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40, 9.00, f11.00, g2.20, g7.15.
Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b1.00, 3.14.
Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8.00, b2.00, 5.15.
(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays, Monday mornings, and mornings after holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.
R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 316 Park Ave
'Phone 130 Plainfield.

MILLWORK

We have recently made arrangements with one of the largest millwork concerns in this part of the State, and are now prepared to furnish millwork of every description.

Allow us to figure on your requirements.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET
Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Table Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
27 Somerset St. Tel. 991.

WEINMAN'S CAFE
GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 5:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.
SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:38 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.
PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50, 5:50, 9:00 p. m.
THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45 p. m.
DIRECT THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.
PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.
ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 5:20 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.
NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—6:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.
WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m., 5:30 p. m.
WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—9:00 a. m.
SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
A. E. ROAGLAND, P. M.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD, WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL, TELEGRAM, AMERICAN, BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

LOYALTY

A common noun—an uncommon trait.

We find it in the Middle Ages when men walked to the stake for an idea. We find it also today when stores flirt with failure for an ideal.

LOYALTY! The word has a beautiful ring to our ears! We rate it second to nothing in considering our own success.

LOYALTY! What rewards you offer to those who march under your banner. ROTHBERG'S is a LOYAL store with LOYAL friends.

Somehow one is alway found with the other.

Suits $12 to $25

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

DECORATION DAY TRIPS

NIAGARA FALLS $11.40 Round Trip

Tickets good on evening trains, Friday, May 26, all trains, May 27, 28 and 29, including The Black Diamond. Return limit, May 31.

Mauch Chunk & Glen Onoko, May 30 $1.50 Round Trip

Bellewood Park May 30 $1.00 Round Trip

Bring the children. Half fare only.

Special all-steel trains for Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and Bellewood, leave South Plainfield 8:56 a. m.

For tickets and further information apply to Verne Arnts, ticket agent at South Plainfield; or J. F. Andrews, Division Passenger Agent, 211 Market street, Newark.

Lehigh Valley Railroad
The Route of the Black Diamond
M12 24.

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
Pallas Pictures Presents
FLORENCE ROCKWELL in
"HE FELL IN LOVE WITH HIS WIFE"
From the book and play by E. P. Roe. Paramount Pictographs and others.

TOMORROW
The German Side of the Great War
"THE BATTLES OF A NATION"
Showing the battle at Warsaw, actual fighting scenes, in 6 parts; also a 3-part Vitagraph drama.

FRIDAY
The Distinguished Lasky Star
CHARLOTTE WALKER in
"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"
in 5 parts; an all-star cast including THEODORE ROBERTS
Paramount-Bray Cartoons and others.

OUR PRICES
Matinee—5c and 10c.
Evening—10c and 15c.
We never exceed the latter price. Always a clean and moral show for young and old. Bring the kiddies.

We Give Travelstamps.

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S
RYE
E. C. WESTCOTT
115 East Front Street

FLOORS
HARDWOOD AND PARQUET
Old Floors Refinished.
S. E WARD & CO.
108 Depot Park. Manning Building.
Plainfield, N. J. 'Phone 470.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

CAN PRESIDENT COME TO SHORE?

Long Congress Session May Prevent Vacation.

NO DEFINITE PLANS MADE

Shadowlawn May Be Occupied by Wilson's Family Even if Executive Is Unable to Leave Washington—Tumulty to Occupy Asbury Park Cottage.

Long Branch, May 17.—President Wilson's occupancy of Shadowlawn as the summer White House depends pretty much on the situation in congress after the national conventions, according to information from Washington. The outlook for extended summer vacations this year is so uncertain at this stage that the White House establishment has not been able to make definite plans.

The most optimistic prediction as to adjournment places it between Aug. 15 and Sept. 1. It will be remembered that in the 1912 campaign congress sweltered in Washington until the last days of August, and there was much less controversy at that time than there is now. There were no preparedness bills, no shipping bills, no revenue raising legislation, no Mexico—such as there is now—in fact, everything was tranquil as contrasted with the present disturbed state of domestic and international affairs.

Whether the president's family will come to the shore while he stays in Washington with congress is unsettled. It is quite likely that this course will be followed, with the president spending week ends on the coast. The proximity of the Jersey shore to the national capital will make it much easier for the president to make week end trips than was the case when the summer White House was at Cornish, N. H.

The accessibility of the shore to New York, where national campaign headquarters will be located, will be another factor. The week end visits of the president will give the party managers opportunity to confer with him without journeying to the national capital.

Secretary Tumulty will probably have a cottage at North Asbury Park, while Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, son-in-law of the president, is understood to be negotiating for a place at Spring Lake.

WORKERS FORM COMPANY.

Lodi Factory Men Organize For Military Drill.

Passaic, May 17.—A military company of fifty employees of the Gregg company, limited, of Lodi has been organized by William Gregg, president of the concern. Several rifles supplied by the United States government for target practice have arrived at the factory and will be used at drill.

A rifle range has been built at the rear of the factory, and the men will have time off each week, with pay, in which to practice.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

THE BEST IN VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

TODAY
The greatest children on the stage with the
JUVENILE REVUE
10 Great Children all under 12
5 OTHER BIG ACTS 5
Including Mrs. Ralph Herz & Co. in
"A DANCE DIVERSION"

TONIGHT IS
AMATEUR NIGHT
Don't fail to see the "CAPTURE OF VILLA," produced by Plainfield's greatest actors.

TOMORROW, FRIDAY, SATURDAY
Stageland's wonderful kiddies, held over by special request
THE JUVENILE REVUE
5 OTHER GREAT ACTS 5
Including America's greatest "single"
JULES JORDAN
Late star 'Potash & Perlmutter'

Extra Added Attraction
THURSDAY & FRIDAY
CHARLEY CHAPLIN in
"HIS PREHISTORIC PAST"
The funniest picture ever produced.

SPECIAL THURSDAY
Pearl White in 12th
"IRON CLAW"

ESTATE OF JANE ANNE DOBSON COLE, Deceased. Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the County of Union, made on the twenty-fourth day of April, A. D., 1916, upon the application of the undersigned as executrices of the estate of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscribers under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from the date of said order, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscribers.

MARGARET THOMPSON,
REBECCA DOBSON,
Executrices.
Swackhamer & Bird, Proctors,
Plainfield, N. J.
4 26 9w. Fees $11.10.

GENERAL BADEN-POWELL.

Denies He Is Either Dead or Prisoner.

Photo by American Press Association.

Lieutenant General Sir Robert Baden-Powell issued from the headquarters of the British Boy Scout association a denial of the rumors in circulation n this country that he had been executed as a spy or at least was held prisoner in the Tower of London.

INDICATIONS ARE PENROSE HAS LOST

Early Pennsylvania Returns Point to Brumbaugh.

Philadelphia, May 17.—Indications from early returns from the state wide primaries are that the ticket of delegates to the Republican national convention backed by Governor Brumbaugh in opposition to the slate of Senator Penrose has won.

It is estimated that the Brumbaugh ticket has a lead of 15,000 votes in Philadelphia, and reports from Allegheny county give it a lead of 5,000. Returns from up state counties are unusually slow in coming in, not half of the sixty-seven counties having reported at midnight. Whether the Penrose ticket can upset the lead gained by its opposition in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties is doubtful.

Of the twelve delegates at large to the Republican convention it is likely there will be a split between the Penrose and Brumbaugh elements, the latter probably gaining eight delegates.

The Philadelphia transit and general improvement loans, totaling $114,000,000, which met with opposition from Penrose, were carried.

With A. Mitchell Palmer leading as a candidate for re-election to his party's national committee the Palmer-McCormick administration Democrats, or "reorganizers," as they were formerly called, seem to have made a primary cleanup in the state. Congressman Michael Liebel of Erie, with twin machine backing and liquor support, was Palmer's opponent.

The Palmerites nominated Samuel B. Philson of Somerset county over James M. Cramer of Westmoreland county for state treasurer and James B. Murrin of Lackawanna county over John F. Lenny of Delaware county for auditor general. Apparently the Palmer element has captured the majority of the national delegates at large, but the slate may be cracked in a few places. The bulk of the delegation will be with Palmer in the national convention.

The Democratic party was the only party to elect a national committeeman at the primaries, the rules of other parties providing for different methods of election.

CONVICTS TO BE NEWSBOYS.

Ohio Prisoners Will Sell Their Own Papers on Streets.

Columbus, O., May 17.—Penitentiary convicts may sell the Ohio Penitentiary News on High street Thursday morning to advertise the Penitentiary-Standard Oil baseball game to be played Thursday afternoon at Nell park for the benefit of the Children's hospital. Warden Thomas said he was seriously considering this innovation.

"I've studied these men and I know I am taking no chance in sending them outside," said Warden Thomas.

Weather Forecast.

Rain, with easterly gales, followed by clearing.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
Albany	56	Rain
Atlantic City	56	Cloudy
Boston	46	Rain
Buffalo	44	Rain
Chicago	52	Cloudy
St. Louis	62	Clear
New Orleans	78	Clear
New York	57	Rain
Washington	68	Cloudy

Not Baby's Color.

"I was rather surprised when the doctor told me not to give baby any blue milk."

"Why?"

"Of course baby is a brunette, and blue is not her color. But I didn't suppose that musty old doctors knew about such things."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—Press want ads. pay.

HINTS U. S. WILL ARRANGE PEACE

Wilson Says Solution Will Be Difficult.

GIVES OUT PRESS CLUB TALK

Declares He Has Been Through Fire. Must Act as if He Knew What People Wanted—German Crisis Was Terrific Strain—Asserts America Loves Peace.

Washington, May 17.—President Wilson in the speech delivered at the National Press club indicated that if the United States became involved in the European war there would be no nation left to find the solution of the great problem confronting the world when the war shall end.

His remarks in this connection strongly suggested that this government would not be as able to help in the adjustment following hostilities if it became a participant in the struggle. The whole tenor of his statement conveyed the opinion that the belligerent nations would not be able to make the adjustment themselves, but would have to obtain the help of neutrals.

"If somebody does not keep the processes of peace going," said the president, "If somebody does not keep their passions disengaged, by what impartial judgment and suggestion is the world to be aided to a solution when the whole thing is over? If you are in a conference in which you know nobody is disinterested how are you going to make a plan? I tell you, gentlemen, the only thing that saves the world is the little handful of disinterested men that are in it."

The speech was delivered with the understanding that it was a confidential talk not to be printed textually, but the president revised the transcript of it, and it was decided to give it to the press. Part of the speech was devoted to some personal touches, as, for instance, how the entire population of a town turned out when the president appeared there and how the president had seriously thought of renting a pair of whiskers to serve as a disguise.

Turns to Serious Things.

After he had talked in a humorous vein along this line the president spoke of the serious things with which he has had to deal lately. It was a great strain trying to interpret the spirit of the country, and a greater strain to decide when the time came whether to do something in a way that "we would prefer not to do it."

This was an evident reference to the recent crisis with Germany. It had been "up to him," he said, to choose when the time came, and he asked, "Can you imagine a thing more calculated to keep a man awake at nights than that?" He had the most imperfect means of finding out what the people thought, "and yet I have got to act as if I knew." That was the burden of it, he added.

The president said there were two reasons why the chief wish of America was for peace. One of them was their love of peace. The other was that since the rest of the world was mad, as it had been expressed to him, "why should we not simply refuse to have anything to do with the rest of the world in the ordinary channels of action?" The burden of the president's remarks was that by keeping out of the war the United States would be in a superior position to help make peace.

"I have come through the fire since I talked to you last," said the president. "Whether the metal is purer than it was, God only knows; but the fire has been there, the fire has penetrated every part of it, and, if I may believe my own thoughts, I have less partisan feeling, more impatience of party maneuver, more enthusiasm for the right thing, no matter whom it hurts, than I ever had before in my life."

COMPULSION BILL PASSED.

Commons Votes, 250 to 35, In Favor of the Measure.

London, May 17.—The compulsion bill passed its third reading in the house of commons by a vote of 250 to 35.

The compulsion bill was introduced by Premier Asquith in the house of commons on May 3 last. It becomes effective a month after its passage. The government is authorized by the measure to call to the colors all males, whether married or single, between the ages of eighteen and forty-one. The bill also provides for the establishment of an army reserve for industrial work to which the government may assign as many men as industrial conditions demand.

OBREGON TO REPORT.

Carranza Will Act on Border Situation After Conference.

Mexico City, May 17.—Minister of Foreign Affairs Aguilar declared that officials here would not take action on the international situation until General Obregon arrives. He is now at San Luis Potosi en route to Mexico City with his staff and party. The minister says that Obregon will hold conferences with him and General Carranza, reporting minutely on the proceedings at the frontier conference.

Public opinion took a more optimistic turn regarding the international situation, as the pessimistic reports of the preceding days are discredited by banks and others well informed.

Oldest British Colony.

Bermuda now ranks as the oldest of Britain's colonies, the English flag having been hoisted there in 1612 by a party of colonists from the Virginia company who stopped at the islands on the way to the mainland, went on to Virginia, found Virginia in a state of starvation and returned. A previous explorer, Juan de Bermudez, gave the group its name.—Exchange.

—Press want ads. pay.

We're proud of their ancestry!

Our suits of "Forefathers" Cloth"!

Cloth just like the Pilgrims wore.

Wools from the same County in England.

Reproduced in the same simple tones so characteristic of those early days.

Butternut brown, olive green, grey and black.

Sizes from 32 to 46 chest.

Everything men and boys wear.

MAIL ORDERS FILLED
ROGERS PEET COMPANY
Broadway at 13th St. "The Four Corners" Broadway at 34th St.
Broadway at Warren Fifth Ave. at 41st St.
NEW YORK CITY

PROCTOR'S
10c Continuous 2 to 11. 10c
MARY PICKFORD WEEK
TODAY—BIG DOUBLE SHOW
MARY PICKFORD
in CINDERELLA
VIVIAN MARTIN
in
A MODERN THELMA
12th Episode "THE IRON CLAW"

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
Extraordinary Attraction
CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN THE FLOORWALKER
His First Comedy Produced Under His Famous $670,000 Contract With the Mutual Co.

ADDED FEATURES
THURSDAY
MARY PICKFORD
in
"MISTRESS NELL"
FRANK KEENAN in
"THE STEPPING STONE"
BUCKING SOCIETY
Keystone Comedy

ADDED FEATURES
FRIDAY
MARY PICKFORD
in
A GIRL OF YESTERDAY
Other Splendid Attractions

COAL
CONSUMERS COAL COMPANY
EGG, STOVE, NUT $6.75 Per Ton
Pea $5.25
30c discount for Spot Cash
A charge of 25c extra for carrying coal
Hay, Grain and Feed
CONSUMERS COAL CO.
Tel. 66 225 Madison Ave.

Do You Want a "Guest-Tenant?"

When you rent a room of your home to someone, you secure a "guest-tenant." Your "roomer" is a guest of your house, on a business basis—but still a guest, somewhat in touch with your home, and this makes it highly important that the person should be of the right sort.

In advertising a furnished room it is a simple matter to indicate that the tenant-to-be must have reasonably convincing credentials as to character. You will thus have applications from a desirable class of people while a door sign or window card would merely bring to you the chance passer-by. The man who has a diploma from the School of Experience is pretty well fixed.

PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY,
193 NORTH AVENUE
THE SERVICE SHOP

Sometimes a store will decide to perform a real "stunt" in value-giving on some special line. You may be sure that in all such instances the ad-readers will have earliest knowledge of the details.

"Chirstian Science"

Sermon by the Rev. William E. Biederwolf at the Tabernacle Last Night.

If Christian Science were only content to pose as a philosophy, false as its philosophy is known to be, or even as a system of healing, it might be tolerated with some degree of charity as the former and applauded with some degree of enthusiasm as the latter; but Mrs. Eddy was a shrewd woman, and she soon saw the impossibility of retaining any superior place for herself or of building up an organization of any size or degree of permanency on mere philosophy or on a science of healing, and knowing what everybody knows to be true that nowhere is humanity so gullible as in religion, she forthwith proclaimed Christian Science as a revelation from God, and declared that God who nineteen hundred years ago had revealed Himself in a man had now revealed Himself in a woman and that the Almighty who had once before indited the Bible had now through her indited another book to be known as "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

In some respects Mrs. Eddy had a keen mind whatever may be said about her character or her sanity. It was, however, a wholly untrained mind. She says she was a graduate of Sanborn's Academy at Tilton, New Hampshire, but people living there say there never was any such academy. I challenge any Christian Scientist in your city to furnish any evidence that Mrs. Eddy ever possessed a graduation certificate from any university, college, academy or even a high school. That's no disgrace, but to make the claim is to be the author of a lie.

She says: "At the age of twelve I was taken into the Congregational church."

Does Not Tell Truth.

She tells how she disputed with the pastor and officers about some of the doctrines, and Christian Scientists, in their hasty zeal to champion Mrs. Eddy's pretended equality with Jesus Christ, have made great stock of this information and compare her with Jesus Christ at the same age, when He argued with the doctors of the temple.

But Mrs. Eddy's statement does not tell the truth. The official record taken from the clerk's book of the Tilton Congregational church is as follows:

"1838, July 26. Received into the church, Stephen Grant, Esq., John Gilly and his wife Hannah, Mrs. Susan French, wife of William French, and Miss Mary A. M. Baker by profession, the two former receiving the ordinance of baptism.

"GREENAUGH McQUESTION,
"Scribe."

Mrs. Eddy was born July 16, 1821. Subtract for yourself, and you will see that she was seventeen and NOT twelve when taken into the church.

Strange, Mrs. Eddy couldn't remember any more nearly her age at so important an event in her life.

Now what is Christian Science? Well, it's a good deal more than most Christian Science lecturers admit it to be. I have heard a few lectures on the subject and read a good many more, and as a rule they say very little that could not be preached from any orthodox pulpit. They talk of the beautiful things they find in it, but it's absurd, it's hideous and unchristian side they leave in the background.

Christian Science is a system of healing based upon the old philosophical concept of the NON-EXISTENCE of matter. Its leading principle is that there is nothing material in the universe; matter does not exist. "Mind is all; matter is naught." (Page 109, Edition 1904.)

You are interested today more in what I claim to be the unchristian aspect of this hideous thing, but I want just for a moment to notice its philosophy.

Christian Science as a Philosophy.

It is a lie here. In the first place, it is not Mrs. Eddy's philosophy at all. She says Christian Science came as a revelation from God, but this part of it most surely never did. The unreality of matter is the old basic concept of Berkeley's idealistic philosophy and Christian Science from the philosophy side of it is nothing more or less than Berkeley's Idealism gone mad and pushed to the most assinine and absurd conclusion.

For anyone to say that disease does not exist and then to be continually talking about lung trouble, typhoid fever and other physical ailments is too absurd to call for comment.

Cold, she declares, is a thing of the imagination. (Page 78 in 164th edition.) Why then did Mrs. Eddy brave the New England winters in heavy wraps?

Thirst, she says, is only imaginery. (Page 383 in 164th edition.) Why then did she drink?

Sight, she says, is not a thing of the eye; the eye is a delusion and its disease a vain imagination. (Page 250 in 164th edition.) Why then did she wear spectacles?

Christian Science is warranted to grow teeth at ninety. (Page 143 of 164th edition.) Why then did Mrs. Eddy go to the dentist herself?

"Food," she declares, "neither strengthens nor weakens the body." (Page 118 in 164th edition.) Yet she says, "until a more perfect day of understanding it would be foolish to stop eating." (Page 387 in 164th edition.)

She says, if it were not for mortal mind, "You may gash the body with an ax, pound it to a pulp with a club and experience no more pain than a wounded tree." (Page 384 in 164th edition.)

But the acme of absurdity appears when she declares that Christian Science is able to replace a man's lost leg—listen, "not with an artificial one, but with the genuine one"! (Page 485 in 164th edition.)

She says there is no power in a drug but only in the belief about the drug. Why then does poison—for instance, morphine—kill a man when he takes it, believing it to be quinine? Why should it kill a dog who has no belief about the matter at all?

Mrs. Eddy explains this (Page 177, edition 1904) by saying that although the man believes the morphine he takes to be harmless quinine, the "majority opinion" the world over believes morphine to be poison and so it kills the man in spite of his own belief! And the dog, too!

Christian Science is nothing more than a one-sided philosophy carried out to false and absurd conclusions and every bit of matter in the universe, every aching tooth and throbbing pain and every grave dug into the soil of this earth brands it as the most "baseless of all unsubstantial assertions."

Christian Science as a System of Healing.

And now just a word about Christian Science as a system of healing.

It is a lie here, at least in big part, as every sensible person knows. Such cures as have been effected have been nearly altogether disorders of a nervous character and most of the others claimed are pure fiction.

Mrs. Eddy says in the New York Sun, December 16, 1898:

"I have healed at one visit a cancer that had so eaten the flesh of the neck as to expose the jugular vein so that it stood out like a whipcord."

You may believe that to be the truth. Before God, I believe it to be a deliberate lie. She says she cured bones so carious they could be dented by the finger and consumptive victims whose lungs were mostly consumed.

Mrs. Eddy, over her own signature, in a letter from Pleasant View, dated March 21, 1896, said that while she was in a suburban town of Boston she brought out one apple blossom on an apple tree in January when the ground was covered with snow. Mirabile Dictu! I suppose when Mrs. Eddy began to fix her thought on the soil about that tree that there was a strange stirring in the roots and the sap must have gone leaping and rushing up through the ice-covered trunk and, picking out the particular branch upon which this marvelous woman had fixed her mind, broke out through the ice in one beautiful apple blossom. It's a wonder she didn't say she caused one icicle to form on the eaves of a building in August.

Now, so far as healing is concerned, the fact that the mind has power over the body to heal it is a truth for the discovery of which this world is not indebted to Mrs. Eddy, nor any other modern pretender. This is a truth that was recognized long before old Hippocrates ever introduced medicine into the healing of disease. Plato said, "The physicians cure the body with the mind, but the mind which is sick can cure nothing." The ancient Orientals believed it and their philosophy is full of it.

There you've got it; that's the whole thing so far as a system of healing goes and it doesn't take much sense to see it, and this thing they call Christian Science, so far as its theory of healing is concerned, is hoary with age; it had long, gray whiskers way back in the time of Socrates, and was so old that it had to hobble on crutches when Athens of Greece was only a little cluster of huts. And for this woman, who declares herself inspired of God, to claim that this came as a revelation to her from God himself is not only the acme of absurdity but a pretention so monstrous, so irreverent and blasphemous as to compel every right-thinking individual to look upon her either as a miserable old fraud, or as a pitiable example of mental unbalance.

Christian Science as a Religion.

But Christian Science wouldn't be so bad if it stopped at philosophy and at its claim to heal, but it is when you investigate its religious claims that it's hideous and horrible character reveals itself.

If there ever was a lying imposture, it is Christian Science on its religious side. It is out and out, through and through, absolutely and altogether unchristian.

I.—It is Unchristian in its Pretended Origin.

Mrs. Eddy stole her ideas from a mental healer up in Maine, and then ascribed them to the voice of God in her own ear. She says:

"In the year 1866 I discovered the science of metaphysical healing and named it Christian Science. God has been graciously fitting me during many years for a final revelation of the absolute principle of scientific mind healing."

As a fake religion Mrs. Eddy is the sole proprietor and no one disputes her claim, but as a science of metaphysical healing not one jot or tittle of it belongs to her and its pretended revelation from God is, by the easiest possible demonstration, the sacrilegious lie of this woman's machinations.

And now for the demonstration. A man ought not so to talk unless he can deliver the proof for what he says.

In October, 1862, Mrs. Eddy, who was then Mrs. Patterson—(You know this woman, who calls marriage "legalized lust," was herself married three times, and some sa four times. When twenty-two she married G. W. Glover, a bricklayer. He died in three months. Later she married one Daniel Patterson, an itinerant dentist. He deserted her and Mrs. Eddy got a divorce. She declares herself opposed to divorce except on scriptural grounds, but the Salem, Mass., court records prove her divorce was granted on the ground of desertion.

January 1, 1877, she tried it again and this time became Mrs. Eddy. In the record her age is given as forty, but if she was born in the year she says she was, she was then a blushing bride of fifty-six instead of a winsome young thing of forty, as the record claims. One great trouble with Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Patterson Eddy was she didn't know how to tell the truth. I don't know how hard she ever tried to tell it, but she seems never to have succeeded. To her relation with Mr. Frye after Mr. Eddy's death I will not refer, but will call your attention to what we started to say)—in October, 1862, she put herself under the treatment of one P. P. Quimby, a mental healer of Portland, Maine.

She says over her own signature in the Portland Evening Courier, November 7, 1862:

"Three weeks ago I quitted my nurse and sick room enroute for Portland. The belief of my recovery had died out of the hearts of those who were most anxious for it. With this mental and physical depression I visited P. P. Quimby, and in less than one week from that time I ascended by a stairway of one hundred and eighty-two steps to the dome of City Hall and am improving ad infinitum. This truth which he opposes to the error of giving intelligence to matter and placing pain where it never placed itself, if received understandingly changes the currents of the system to their normal action and the mechanism of the body goes on undisturbed. (There is Christian Science in a nutshell.) That this is a science capable of demonstration, becomes clear to the minds of those patients who reason upon the process of their cure. The truth which he establishes in the patient cures him and the body, which is full of light and no longer in disease.
(Signed) Mrs. Mary M. Patterson."

Now notice, Quimby died in 1866, the very year Mrs. Eddy says she discovered Christian Science.

Mrs. Eddy wrote some verses about him entitled:

"Lines on the death of Dr. P. P. Quimby, who healed the sick as Jesus did."

Well, if Jesus was a Christian Scientist as they claim he was, this substantially makes P. P. Quimby pretty much of the same thing, and substantiates what we said a moment ago. And if Christian Science is a revival of healing as Jesus healed, as Mrs. Eddy and all Christian Scientists claim it is, then she here admits over her own signature that it was from P. P. Quimby she got her whole system of metaphysical healing, and not by revelation from God at all.

Unparalleled Ingratitude.

Now she says Quimby's "healing was never considered anything but mesmerism." Then she wrote, he "healed the sick as Jesus did." In these days she speaks of him in terms of slight and says that what he wrote was scribblings. In those days she spoke of the "solemn trust" committed to her and others by this good man. Now she says her own thoughts were far in advance of his. Then she said she walked tremblingly, "where his footsteps trod."

After such manifest fraud and such unparalleled ingratitude some of us would find it hard to believe Mrs. Eddy even if she took an oath that she told the truth.

In the Christian Science Journal, June, 1887, she says that before her visit to Dr. Quimby in 1862 she knew nothing of the science of mind healing.

In the Boston Post, March 7, 1883, she says, "We made our first experiment in mental healing in 1853."

In Retrospection and Introspection, page 38, she says, "It was in Massachusetts, in February, 1866, that I discovered the science of definite metaphysical healing, which I afterwards named Christian Science."

In Science and Health, edition 1875, she says, "We made our first discovery that science mentally applied would heal the sick in 1864."

1862; 1853; 1866; 1864; Which?

But how does Mrs. Eddy claim she discovered Christian Science. Two weeks after Dr. Quimby died she fell on the ice and injured herself.

In her autobiography, page 38, she says:

"My immediate recovery from the effects of an injury caused by an accident was the falling apple that led me to the discovery how to be well myself and how to make others so."

Of this recovery the Christian Science Publishing Company of Boston has the following to say:

"The skilled physicians declared that there was absolutely no hope for her and pronounced the verdict that she had but three days to live. Finding no hope and no help on earth she lifted her heart to God. On the third day, calling for her Bible she asked the family to leave the room. Her Bible opened to the healing of the palsied man (Matt. 9:2). The truth which set him free she saw. The power which gave him strength she felt. The life divine which healed the sick of the palsy restored her and she rose from the bed of pain healed and free."

In a letter written in 1871 to W. W. Wright, she says, "Dr Cushing, of this city, pronounced my injury incurable, and thought I could not survive three days because of it."

To make nothing of the fact that Dr. Alvin M. Cushing, the doctor who attended her, declares on oath that he never believed her injury fatal and never said it was and that the record of his books shows that he called upon her and gave her medicine a number of times in August, she seems to have forgotten, when in later years she claimed she was restored from her pain and set free on the third day after the accident, which occurred on February 1—she seems to have forgotten, I say, that on February 15, two weeks after the accident, she addressed a letter to Julius Dresser, a part of which I here insert:

"Lynn, Mass., Feb. 15, 1866.

"Mr. Dresser:

"Sir, I enclose some lines of mine in memory of our much loved friend. I am constantly wishing that you would step forward into the place he has vacated.

"Two weeks ago I fell on the sidewalk and struck my back on the ice and was taken up for dead. The physician attending me said I had taken the last step I ever should, but in two days I got out of my bed alone and will walk, and yet I confess I am frightened. Now, can't you help me? I believe you can. I think I could help another in my condition if they had not placed their intelligence in matter. This I have not done and yet I am slowly failing. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary M. Patterson."

Her Claim Fraudulent.

It is quite evident that Mrs. Eddy did not discover Christian Science the way she says she did and that her claim is wholly and absolutely fraudulent as well as sacrilegious.

This woman, this strange perverter of the truth, further says that immediately after her recovery she "withdrew from society about three years to ponder my mission and to search the Scriptures, etc."

The fact of the matter is that for these three years she was living by invitation in the home of Mrs. Sally Wentworth, at Stoughton, Mass., and while there was teaching Mrs. Wentworth Dr. Quimby's system of mental healing. This she taught from a manuscript entitled, "Extracts from Doctor P. P. Quimby's Writings." A copy of this same manuscript is now in the possession of Horace Wentworth and a comparison of it with Mrs. Eddy's Christian Science of this age will reveal the fact that they are absolutely, so far as every fundamental concept is concerned, one and the same.

And so instead of getting her so-called Christian Science as a revelation from God, it is as clear as daylight that she appropriated it bodily from the writings and manuscript of good old Dr. Quimby, a one time metaphysical healer up in the State of Maine, who called his system of healing Christian Science as early as 1863, although Mrs. Eddy says she discovered it in 1866 and called it Christian Science.

By her own lips and by her own writings and by the most patent and indisputable historical evidence Christian Science is thus proven to be a fraud in its pretended origin.

God is not the author of Christian Science. It is the product of Dr. P. P. Quimby, copied and copyrighted and commercialized, by Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Patterson Eddy.

But what will doubtless interest you most is the fact that Christian Science is unchristian in its teaching.

First. It is unchristian in its ethical teaching.

There is Not Sin.

1. Christian Science teaches that there is no such thing as sin. Sin has no reality. Over and over and over again its non-existence is affirmed, its actuality denied.

Well, if that be true, Christian Science teaches that you can commit adultery, robbery, murder or any other of the numerous crimes we have always thought to be sinful and not be guilty of sin at all!

Whatever these iniquities and others equally heinous may be they are not sin. Heaven pity us if our intelligence endorse such ethics as truth.

2. Christian Science teaches that marriage is "synonymous with legalized lust."

If you find it hard to believe that Mrs. Eddy could ever have given utterance to such disgusting and contemptible opinions, look in the Christian Science Sentinel for June 16, 1906, and in the Christian Science Journal for July, 1906.

This many times married woman puts a ban on this sweet and holy ordinance of God. Children, she calls, "sensual and mortal beliefs." (Page 561 in 75th Edition, revised.)

Her teaching is an insult to every virtuous wife and mother in the world. Was Mrs. Eddy insane or what was the matter with her?

So far as I know no marriage has ever been solemnized in a Christian Science Church.

She actually says that generation does not rest on a sexual basis. Impossible, you say, is such an utterance from the lips of a sane and self-respecting woman! Then read the following:

"Until it be learned that generation rests on no sexual basis, let marriage continue." (Page 274 in 75th Edition, revised.)

"To abolish marriage," she says, "at this period and maintain morality and generation would put ingenuity to ludicrous shifts, yet this is possible in Science."

Generation Without Marriage Possible in Science.

Think of that!!!

She says, "Proportionately as HUMAN generation ceases the unbroken links of eternal harmonious being will be spiritually discerned."

In June, 1890, Mrs. Woodbury, one of Mrs. Eddy's most noted followers, gave birth to a son who she claimed and who her followers believed was the result of an IMMACULATE CONCEPTION and an exemplification of Mrs. Eddy's theory of mental generation. Mrs. Woodbury never permitted the child to call her husband "Father," but taught him to call her husband, "Frank." She named the child, "The Prince of Peace," and baptized him at Ocean Point, Maine, in a pool which she called Bethsaida.

After Mrs. Eddy and Mrs. Woodbury had the usual falling out Mrs. Eddy wrote Mrs. Woodbury a letter which was read in court, in which she accused Mrs. Woodbury, and said, "You tried to make people believe that that child was an immaculate conception."

As the war between the two women became more intense, Mrs. Woodbury, in an attempt to explain how she had been led to make such an extraordinary claim, and with a revengeful desire to make Mrs. Eddy sponsor for her own teachings with the censure she knew would naturally attach to them in the minds of decent and respectable people, declared that Mrs. Eddy taught that "women may become mothers by a supreme effort of their own minds." "Women," she says, "of unquestioned integrity, who have been Mrs. Eddy's student, testify that she so taught," and "Girls," she said, "were terrified by the doctrine that they might be made pregnant through the influence of a malign spirit," or the workings of a maliciously disposed mind.

Heaven deliver the American home from such teaching! God save our pure girls from its blight!

A charming doctrine this for people of self-respect! And yet thousands, if they are true to "Science" make it a part of their life's ideal.

3. Christian Science teaches that a maliciously disposed person can bring the power and influence of his or her mind to so bear upon another as to cause "arsenical poison in the blood or stomach," to cause in fact any form of sickness and even the most terrible deaths.

This is Mrs. Eddy's damnable doctrine of what she calls, "Malicious Animal Magnetism."

She says:

"One of the greatest crimes practiced in, or known to the ages is mental assassination," and declares that the person who murders another by it should be hung or electrocuted.

Here is what she says:

"The time has come for instructing human justice so that these secret criminals shall tremble before the omnipotent finger that points them out to the human executioner." Christian Science Journal, February, 1889.

Is it true?

It don't make any difference whether it is true or not. For anybody to believe it is true is to be harrassed by the dread of it and to be affected by it.

And all this in the name of God!

But this alone is enough to prove it is from the Devil.

Mrs. Eddy not only taught this doctrine, but after calling it one of the greatest crimes she brings just damnation upon herself by stooping to the practice of it.

"It was years," he said, "after we were personally attacked before we taught our students self-defense:"

This "self-defense" consists in hurling back upon the maliciously disposed person the cancer, the consumption or whatever it may be which the said maliciously disposed person is trying by mental power to inflict upon his victim.

She gathered her students about her in the parlor after meals and mentally took up the enemy, treating them, as she said, so as to cause their "old beliefs" (former diseases) to return and prostrate them once more.

Attacked Her Enemies.

She would say, for example, "Treat Kennedy," (one of her former friends and practicing partner. "Say to him, 'Your sins have found you out. You are affected as you wish to affect me. Your evil thoughts react upon you. You are bilious, you are consumptive, you have liver trouble, you have been poisoned by arsenic, etc.'"

To incur the hatred of Mrs. Eddy was to become a sure victim of this method of mental attack on the part of this woman and her students.

She formed a dislike for one D. H. Spofford. She sued him for the money due on one of the teaching contracts which he had signed as a student and which she claimed he never paid. The court rendered a verdict against her. Indeed, so far as I have been able to ascertain, she lost every case which she dragged into court to wring out of her students the exorbitant fee she imposed upon them for the privilege of becoming a disciple of this copyrighted Gospel which was to prove such a blessing to the world.

She also caused suit to be brought against this same Mr. Spofford as a practitioner of Malicious Animal Magnetism, but the judge threw the case out of court.

Not being able to worst the said Spofford through the courts she was not without another weapon to mete out justice to this unfortunate offender. She could fire mental bullets at him and in this method of attack she had her friends and students to fight the battle with her.

But after the failure of these concerted mental attempts to hurl disease into this apparently invulnerable Spofford one would naturally suppose that hostile proceedinsg would be at an end.

I do not mean to say this implacable woman tried to carry her revenge any further. I only know her husband, Asa G. Eddy, was indicted for conspiracy to murder the said H. D. Spofford, the indictment, a copy of which any one can procure from the court records, reading that with one E. J. Ahrens, he "hired one James L. Sargent, for a certain sum, to-wit, five hundred dollars," to kill and murder the said D. H. Spofford.

How any one without some form of mental aberration can follow all this history of fraud and greed and insult to motherhood and revenge, the veracity of whose history no Christian Scientist dare challenge, and honestly profess belief in either the woman or her abhorrent imposture is one of the wonders of the present day.

SECOND. It is unchristian in its doctrinal teaching.

As a Christian, you want to know whether it contradicts the Bible and your Christian faith. If it does and you know it, you'll never leave your church for such a thing as that, and if you have left it you will come hurriedly back.

The vast majority who leave the church for Christian Science have absolutely no idea of the pernicious doctrines they are espousing and becoming sponsor for.

I add then most emphatically that Christian Science in its theological teaching contradicts every fundamental doctrine of the Bible and of the Christian faith.

Christian Science denies the personality of God.

Mrs. Eddy says, "God is principle, not a person."

Mrs. Eddy says, "God is not a person who can say 'I' or be addressed as 'Thou.'"

Think of it! No one to whom the soul can say, "Help thou me, Oh God." No one to say, "I am he that forgiveth thy transgressions."

The Bible says, "I am the Lord thy God, the holy One of Israel, thy Saviour. Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine." Isaiah 43:1:

Could there be a plainer denial of the personality of God?

Christian Science denies the existence of sin.

Mrs. Eddy says, "Man is incapable of sin." (Page 475, Ed. 1904.)

The Bible says, "If we say we have not sinned we make God a liar." I John 1:10.

Mrs. Eddy says, "If soul could sin Spirit would be material instead of spiritual." (Pg. 204, 151st Edition.)

The Bible says, "The soul that sinneth it shall die." Ezekiel 18:4.

Could there be a plainer denial of the existence of sin?

Christian Science denies the Holy Spirit.

Mrs. Eddy says, "The Comforter I understand to be Divine Science." (Page 513, Ed. 1888.)

Mrs. Eddy says, "John the Baptist declared that Jesus was the Messiah who would baptize with the Holy Ghost—Divine Science." (Page 513, Ed. 1888.)

The Bible says, "I will pray the Father and He will send you another Comforter, even the Spirit of Truth; ye know him for he dwelleth with you and he shall be in you." John 14:16.

Could there be a plainer denial of the Holy Spirit?

Christian Science denies the privilege and power of prayer.

Mrs. Eddy says, Prayer to a personal God "is an error that impedes spiritual growth." (Page 2, Ed. 1902.)

The Bible says, "After this manner pray ye, Our Father who art in heaven." Matthew 6:9.

Mrs. Eddy says, "God is not influenced by man." (Page 7, Ed. 1902.)

The Bible says, "If ye abide in me and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what you will and it shall be given unto you." John 15:7.

Could there be a plainer denial of the privilege and power of prayer?

Christian Science denies the doctrine of the forgiveness of sin.

Mrs. Eddy says, "Sin is not forgiven; we cannot escape its penalty." (75th Edition-revised, page 311.)

The Bible says, "If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." I John 1:9.

The Bible says, "If any man sin he has an advocate with the Father in Jesus Christ the righteous." I John 2:1.

Could there be a plainer denial of the forgiveness of sin?

Christian Science denies the Second Coming of Christ.

Mrs. Eddy says, "The second appearance of Jesus is unquestionably the spiritual advent of the advancing idea of God in Christian Science." (Blasphemy.) (Autobiography, page 96.)

The Bible says, "This same Jesus shall so come again in like manner as ye have seen Him go." Acts 1:11.

Could there be a plainer denial of the second coming of Christ?

Christian Science denies the Final Judgment.

Mrs. Eddy says, "No final judgment awaits mortals." (Page 291, Ed. 1902.)

The Bible says, "It is appointed unto men once to die and after this the Judgment." Hebrews 9:27.

The Bible says, "For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ." Romans 14:10.

Could there be a plainer denial of the final judgment.

Christian Science denies the Atonement of Christ.

Mrs. Eddy says, "One sacrifice, however great is insufficient to pay the debt of sin." (Page 23, Ed. 1902.)

The Bible says, "Once in the end of the age hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself." Hebrews 9:26.

Could there be plainer denial of the Atonment of Christ?

Christian Science denies the Divinity of Christ.

A prominent Jew, who has accepted the Christian Science religion has declared, "that a Jew can consistently adhere to and become connected with the Christian Science faith and church without relinquishing any part of the fundamentals of his old faith."

If this statement had appeared in some secular newspaper we might say, "Oh, well, that is only his opinion; you can't hold that against Christian Science."

But what would you say if it appeared in the official organ of the Christian Science cult? And that is just exactly where it did appear!

The Christian Science Sentinel, parading the confession of this somewhat prominent Jew, gives his testimony as follows:

"When we understand that the Christian Scientist is continually held up to the contemplation of, the worship of and allegiance to the one God and the manifestation of his attributes we clearly see why a good Jew can consistently be a Christian Scientist. Christian Science sees Jesus not as God but as divinity expressed in the ideal man."

Oh, God! What treacherous betrayal of thy blessed Son!

Humble and intelligent follower of Jesus Christ in the Christian Church, can you stand for that?

What need to go any further?

The trouble is the average Christian Scientist has never dreamed these awful things were true of his belief. Anyone who knows these things and then espouses them is disloyal through and through to Jesus Christ and the Christian faith.

If the intelligent Christian Scientist, the Christian Scientist who knows these things, is not lost, then there can be no condemnation for the soul.

Christian Scientist, once a humble follower of Jesus and defender of His deity, come back as you value your immortal soul.

In Coulson Kernahan's "Dream of a Christless World," there is this story. A woman is dying in despair. By her side sits an old man with a flowing beard and with a ponderous volume under his arm.

She says, "I was once a Christian, but I read your book and it came between me and Christ. I went far away. And now I am dying and for the soul of me I cannot believe that He will forgive me. I have sent for you, Sir; you are so wise; it was your book that destroyed my once pure faith, and now I ask you what comfort you have to give to a dying, depairing woman who has lost her faith and hope in Christ?"

The old man shook his head, and when the dreamer looked again, the woman was dead and the wise man with his book was gone.

ARIZONA FEARS RAID BY VILLA BANDITS

Appeals For Troops to Guard the Frontier.

Washington, May 17.—A telegram was received by Senator H. F. Ashurst of Arizona appealing for troops to guard the 200 mile stretch from Nogales to Yuma. The message insisted that the calling out of the Arizona national guard for service with the federal forces has left 2,500 defenseless men and women living along the Arizona border at the mercy of Mexican outlaws.

A copy of the telegram was sent by Senator Ashurst to Secretary of War Baker, who directed that it be forwarded to General Funston for whatever action the latter could take.

The telegram came from the chamber of commerce of Tucson and complained that General Funston himself had ignored a similar appeal made direct to him.

Appreciating the difficulty of attempting to patrol the entire border effectively with the limited number of troops at his disposal, General Funston has recommended to the war department the creation of a corps of forty-eight motorcycle scouts with thirty tandem outfits and eighteen single machines.

It is his purpose to make El Paso the base of operations for the motorcycle scouts, who with the facilities for covering ground quickly will enable the officers along the border to keep in more constant touch with isolated sections along the international boundary. Secretary Baker has approved the recommendation, and the machines will be assembled at once.

N. P. H. S. NOTES

Members of the Senior class have received invitations from Rutgers College to participate in the annual scholarship examinations to be held at New Brunswick, June 1, 2 and 3.

The Senior class has changed the date of the class day exercises until the Tuesday evening before graduation at Debele's Auditorium. It was decided to hold a playlet at that time and a committee comprising Emily Pleydell, Gladys Sullivan and Martin McDonough have been appointed to select it.

The students in the physic laboratory are rapidly completing their experimental work. A hundred and fifteen experiments were required of the pupils which is the largest number the students have ever done previous to this year.

Arrangements are being made by the student body to be present in the parade this evening, a meeting was held this noon to complete the plans.

Mr. Earley has received a reply to the protest which he sent to Rutgers College, stating that the time limit had been violated during the past oratorical contest. The reply acknowledged the truth of the protestation and said that it was too late to make amends, but provision would be made against the repetition of such an event next year.

CAPLAN JURY DISAGREES.

Was Out Seventy-two Hours—Stood 7 to 5 For Conviction.

Los Angeles, May 17.—David Caplan's trial for murder in connection with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building ended when the jury reported a hopeless disagreement and was discharged. The jury had been out seventy-two hours. They said the vote was seven for conviction and five for acquittal. The trial lasted a month and a day.

Deaf to Hear Through Bones.

Hartford, Conn., May 17.—Joseph A. Danis of Burlington announced here the successful completion of an acousticon which operates by touching any bone or nerve of a deaf person. He says he intends to ask the opportunity of trying it on Helen Keller.

General Markets.

BUTTER — Firmer; receipts, 10,094; creamery, extras, 92 score, 30½c.; creamery, higher scoring, 31@31½c.; creamery, firsts, 29½@30c.; seconds, 29@29½

EGGS—Firm; receipts, 20,227; fresh gathered, extras, 24½@25c.; regular packed, firsts, 23@23½c.; seconds, 20½@21½c.; nearby hennery whites, fine to fancy, 25½@26c.; nearby hennery browns, 24½@25c.

CHEESE—Firm; receipts, 1,777; state, held, specials, 18½@19½c.; fresh, specials, 17½c.; Wisconsin twins, held, 18½@19c.

POULTRY — Steady; broilers, 32@37c.; others not settled. Dressed chickens, 18@22c.; fowls, 17½@23c.; turkeys, 29@35c.

Live Stock Market.

Pittsburgh, May 17.

CATTLE—Supply light; market steady; prime, $9.65@9.80; good, $9@9.50; tidy butchers', $8.75@9.25; fair, $7.90@8.50; common, $6.75@7.25; heifers, $8@9; common to good fat bulls, $6@8.75; common to good fat cows, $4@6.25; fresh cows and springers, $40@90.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Supply light and market steady; prime wethers, $8.30@8.50; good mixed, $8@8.25; fair mixed, $6@7.25; culls and common, $4@6; lambs, $7@10.75; veal calves, $11@11.50; heavy and thin calves, $6@9.

HOGS—Receipts, 20 double decks; market lower; prime heavy hogs, $10.40; heavy, mixed and mediums, $10.35@10.37½; heavy Yorkers, $10.35@10.50; light Yorkers, $9.65@10; pigs, $9.50@9.65; roughs, $8@8.25; stags, $6@7.65.

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 198 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 17, 1916.

EDUCATING CLERKS.

A new type of retail grocery store has appeared in the East, and is spreading by the hundred through the big cities of the country. All the stores are under one management. And one feature of that management is mighty interesting, as indicating a new tendency in American business.

If you're buying a pound of prunes, ask the clerk where they came from. To your surprise, he can tell you, right off the bat. He may add a few interesting bits of information regarding the prune business in general—how the fruit is raised and cured, the precautions taken for its cleanliness and preservation, the route by which it reached this store, and even the best way to cook it.

Pursuing your inquiries, you may find that the clerk also has a similar stock of information about rice, grape fruit, granulated sugar, strawberry jam and vinegar. And when you hazard a question about his store's organization and business methods, then he waxes eloquent. He knows all about it. Although only a small cog in the mechanism, he understands the working of it and can explain it like a manager or director.

How does he happen to know all these things? It is the idea of the man at the top that everybody in the organization should be a vital, intelligent part of it. And so there are schools of instruction provided in every store. At stated hours the doors are locked, and the employes gather around for instruction in all phases of their business.

It isn't dry, meaningless instruction. It is food for their brains and their ambition. They know it makes them competent, offers them a chance to get ahead, and they enter into it with zest. They feel that they are getting an education. And they are.

The old method was to ignore the novice making no effort to teach him anything about the business, at least outside of his own job. Progress was left to individual initiative, and individual initiative was not encouraged; it was even frowned on. But all that is changing. Modern business recognizes the value of instruction. It seeks to train the young man or woman for its own purposes, almost as a soldier is trained for war. It seeks to arouse latent resources and ambition, to give full scope for talent, to develop the employe and bind him to the business.

And in this fact lies hope and promise for young Americans. Such opportunities may, indeed, compensate for the crowding out of the small independent business man by the growth of big business.

• • • • • •

INCOME TAX FOR EVERYBODY.

Former President Taft would like to see the income tax extended to much smaller incomes, taking in at a moderate rate those even as low as $1,000 a year.

Not that he wants to impose any hardship on the poor man, or the man in moderate circumstances. There would be a full equivalent, he thinks, for the added expense. "The man who earns $1,500 a year would be a better citizen for paying $3 a year to the government."

There's a good deal in that view. Most of us are not fully conscious of our part in the federal machinery except once in two years, when we vote for a president or congressman. The rest of the time we think rather vaguely of "the government" as a machine down in Washington that runs itself—and does it, on the whole, rather unsatisfactorily.

If the payment of a small tax to help defray the government's expenses would make us more conscious of our citizenship, and more alive to our responsibilities and opportunities, it would be a good investment. Our improved knowledge of public affairs, alone, might be worth the cost. And then, too, we might save as much as the tax amounted to by helping to influence congress in the direction of economy and efficiency.

• • • • • •

While it is to be regretted that the people will vote on the question of a small Board of Freeholders in June, thus putting upon the taxpayers the expense of an extra election this year, the plan is a good one and should be adopted by the people of the county. There are objectionable features in the present law, the most important one being that the small board has to be elected by the county at large, but even in spite of that fact the change should be made. Whether it will or not is somewhat of a problem, as many people look on the move as a purely partisan one, made by the Democrats. But that the small board, or commission form of government is the modern and up-to-date method, no one can dispute. With the present system there is entirely too much log-rolling by the members to get improvements for little subdivisions of the county which are not entitled to them, and which are really furnished at the expense of the larger communities. We hope that between now and June 13, when the election will be held, a large number of the people of the county will have their interest aroused in the matter. Had the election come in November, when there will be great interest in all the candidates, there would have been a much better opportunity to decide it favorably than will be the case next month.

• • • • • •

Few people, other than those who have been closely associated with him in the work, know of the splendid service which has been given by James P. Murray to the Anti-Tuberculosis League, from which position he resigned on Monday. Mr. Murray has made this work one of his hobbies, and through his efforts has played an important part in placing the League on the splendid financial footing that it has been placed. He will be much missed by those who direct the work of the organization.

• • • • • •

The new postoffice begins to assume definite form, and Plainfielders can get some idea of the splendid building which Uncle Sam is erecting here. If work continues at as rapid a pace during the next few months as it has done in the past week, it is reasonable to believe that the building will be ready for occupancy in November as was originally promised.

• • • • • •

It certainly is galling for the automobilist who pays a license to the State, primarily for the purpose of keeping up the roads, to ride over some of the highways in their present condition. The road from here to Metuchen is a disgrace to every municipality through which it passes.

• • • • • •

"All Saloons Are Shut at Midnight," says a headline in Newark paper, referring to last Saturday night. What a horrible thing in a city trying to celebrate its 250th anniversary!

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

The Only Real Fan.

You can talk about your aged oaken bucket,
That mossy one that dangled in the well;
The old farm house you used to love so dearly,
The daisies that grew in the bosky dell.
But there's one other spot that we can mention,
For which our love was mightily intense;
It lingers in our memory forever—
That little old round knothole in the fence.

Caught on the Fly.

There is said to be a leak in the Navy Department, but we haven't heard of any battleships sinking.

Why not call the Mexicans greasers? If they are all like Villa, they are certainly slippery enough.

The trouble with efficiency is that too many people spend all their time talking about it.

The Bethlehem Steel Company offers to lay its cards on the table. Is it possible the company has been holding a bob-tailed flush all this time?

Doesn't look as though there is ever going to be a Democratic administration that is going to suit Colonel Roosevelt.

President of Vassar says beautiful girls are sometimes brainy. But it doesn't matter whether they are brainy or not, so long as they are beautiful.

High authority says the navy today is a great machine shop. We would much rather it would be a great machine.

Emma Goldman has been arrested for lecturing on sex control. Emma belongs to the sex that cannot be controlled.

The civilian Secretary of the Navy surrounded by naval experts looks a good deal like Daniel in the lions' den.

Nothing new to see the Colonel's hat in the ring. It has never been out of the ring.

Front! Gentleman Going Down.

The Pewamo News says: "Having your office upstairs may be inconvenient at times, but it has its advantages in times of peace as well as war. The first thing we done when we moved in our new home over the baker was to go into executive session with the village carpenter and commission him to rebuild the stairway on the plan of the old-fashioned window shutter, which could be controlled with a lever just inside the sanctum door. Now when we see a bill collector approaching from afar we don't stand in fear and trembling like we used to. No, siree! With all due solemnity for the occasion we assume our position, and just as he approacheth nigh unto the top, over goes the lever, the stairs present a perfect plane and down goes the collector. Being a collector, the first thing he does is to collect his scattered personality. Then he gazes around, sees the steps in position, concludes he must have stepped on a banana peel, and up he goes again. We have had some of the more persistent ones try it as high as four and five times before the great light dawned and they concluded to wander forth far into the reaches of the distance, where stairs are stable and the hard-hearted printer sojourneth not."

Yes, It's a Deadly Habit.

A certain Dr. Pease insists that the Pittston (Pa.) woman who passed away at 106, was cut off in her prime through the use of tobacco, having smoked a death-dealing pipe for ninety years.

BOTH—"I THOUGHT I HEARD HIM KNOCKING"

- Proctor's Theatre -

MARY PICKFORD IN "CINDRELLA," AT PROCTOR'S TODAY.

The introduction of a Mary Pickford Week at Proctor's local theatre is a great success, and hundreds of enthusiastic film fans and admirers of little Mary's pleasing personality and wonderful talents flock daily to Proctor's to witness their favorite in a different picture each day. Miss Pickford has already appeared there in "Such a Little Queen" and "Behind the Scenes," and today she will be featured in "Cinderella," one of the most delightful of her characterizations, and a picture that alone is well worth the price of admission charged. But in addition to this wonderplay, the management provide today dainty Vivian Martin, the petite Fox Star, assisted by Harry Hilliard and a capable Fox cast in "A Modern Thelma," a picturization of one of the greatest love stories ever written. Then there is the twelfth episode of "The Iron Claw" today, and a supporting program of personally picked smaller subjects. Tomorrow and Friday, in addition to the regular big double show, the management have added another big treat in the form of "The Floorwalker," Charlie Chaplin's first picture produced under his new $670,000 contract, and which is acknowledged by all critics to be one of the greatest of his comedy creations. Mary Pickford will star tomorrow in "Mistress Nell;" Frank Keenan, the famous character stage and screen actor, will be seen in support of Mary Boland in "The Stepping Stone," a new Triangle play, with a new and original theme, and Chester Conklin will be seen in an uproarious Keystone comedy entitled "Bucking Society." On Friday, in addition to Charlie Chaplin in "The Floorwalker," Mary Pickford will be featured in "A Girl of Yesterday," one of her most pleasing vehicles, which made such a furore among local film fans not very long ago, and there will be several other meritorious features. On Saturday a big triple program will be presented, which includes Mary Pickford in "Madame Butterfly;" Little Mary Miles Minter, whose delightful mannerisms and acting has won her thousands of friends will be seen in "Dimples," and Charlie Chaplin will star in "His Prehistoric Past," and the child screen stars will please the kiddies by their grotesque actions in "Chip's Elopement."

--Astor Theatre--

The big offering at the Astor Theatre today will be the Palias-Paramount five-reel feature, "He Fell in Love with His Wife," from the book and play by E. P. Roe. The big feature for tomorrow will be "The Battles of a Nation," the newest war movie, depicting the German side of the European conflict, which will be given its first public presentation at the theatre. "The Battle of a Nation" is the last word in cinema bulletins of the great war. Despite the influx of war pictures depicting the German side of the war, this set depicts the very latest engagements of the warring nations. They take one to the great battlefields, and without the deafening din of the roaring cannon visualize the capture of Warsaw and other great events that have long since consumed columns of space in the newspapers throughout the world. They are as thrilling as if one were right in the midst of it all. The advancement of the films and the daring of Dawson, the noted war correspondent, have been instrumental in bringing the most important incidents of the great war to our very door, but shorn of its horrifying effects. Read what the following newspaper has to say in regard to this wonderful production, which is 6,000 feet long and furnishes a clear idea of the magnitude of the strife now in progress: "The storming of the Park Theatre by enormous crowds last night was a fitting prelude to "The Battles of a Nation," shown on the screen inside. Thousands had to depart disappointed, for all the seats were occupied and every bit of standing room was taken early."—New York Evening Sun.

Plainfield Theatre.

The excellent vaudeville bill which has been at the Plainfield for the past two days will again be shown in its entirety this afternoon and tonight, and tonight will be supplemented by the big Wednesday night "scream," the amateur night. For the latter there have been eight entries, one of them being Patsy Riccardo, a well-known Italian youth, who will present his own dramatic playlet, "Outwitting Villa." He will be assisted in its presentation by Frank Fallaniro, who also believes he is possessed of the histrionic talent from which great men like Alexander Salvini were made. The other amateur numbers promise to be equally meritorius.

The juvenile revue, composed of ten talented "kids," has been given the top place on the regular bill, and continues to make a bigger hit at each performance. Five other numbers are on the program in addition to this act, and there are also numerous photoplay features. Another of these screamingly funny Charlie Chaplin comedies will be shown tomorrow and Friday, and tomorrow will mark the continuation of the serial film, "The Iron Claw." The other Plainfield Theatre serial success, "The Strange Case of Mary Page," is shown every Friday, and the Pathe semi-weekly is presented each Tuesday and Saturday.

UNUSUAL TRAINED WILD ANIMAL ACTS IN CIRCUS

The near approach of Friday, the Cook & Wilson show day in Plainfield, serves to accentuate the extraordinary character of this thoroughly up-to-date exhibition. While it is fundamentally an exposition of remarkably-trained wild animals, every one of which has been captured in its native wilds, it is also a modern circus de luxe, and the very diversity of its performances appeals to the lover of high-class entertainment.

Cook & Wilson, it is said, have been particularly fortunate in securing the services of some of the most famous and expert trainers, not only of this country, but also of Europe. In this they have, of course, been more or less aided by the great war, which has permitted several of the great Hagenback and other world-famous trainers to come to America owing to the closing of so many of the great European zoological exhibitions. The results are seen in the distinctively novel offerings of the Cook & Wilson trained animal circus. The lion groups, the trained bears, the wonderful performances given by a great company of tigers and pumas, the seal numbers, the leopard act, the school of elephants, and the "bits" in which more familiar animals like monkeys, dogs, horses, donkeys and ponies appear, are all such as to stamp the show as novel, unique and unusual.

The features of the performance do not stop with the wild animal displays. The Olympian sports and the exhibitions of daring cleverness in the arena engage the services of what are credited with being the most expert acrobats, arialists, riders and other circus performers in the United States. And, by way of merry diversity, there is a small army of clowns who contribute their share toward giving the show snap and "go." Friday will be Cook & Wilson Day in Plainfield.

COMING EVENTS.

TODAY.
Biederwolf Demonstration.

FRIDAY.
Building Trades Council.
Lecture at St. Peter's Lutheran church.

SUNDAY.
Gesang Turn Verein "May Walk."

WEDNESDAY.
Jr. O. U. A. M. euchre.

THURSDAY.
Annual meeting P. T. A.—Franklin School.
Euchre and "500"—St. Joseph's Hall.
Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P. dance.

FRIDAY.
Building Trades Council.

NETHERWOOD IS PROMISED BETTER MAIL FACILITIES

A report from A. L. Seidler, chairman of the mail and telephone committee, was the most important matter coming before the monthly meeting of the Netherwood Residents' Association trustees Monday night. Mr. Seidler has been devoting a great deal of time during the past month to directing the attention of the government authorities to the need of better postal facilities in Netherwood and he was able to state at the session that his labors are now bearing fruit. Inspectors have been looking the territory over with the result that Netherwood has been given a guarantee that in the future there will be two deliveries of mail every week-day, one new letter box installed and the servic bettered generally.

The postoffice inspectors informed the committee that they had devised a scheme for re-routing Plainfield as a result of the inquiries directed by the Netherwood Residents' Association and in so doing had not only hit upon a plan that would help the city generally but give Netherwood the especial improvement needed. Mr. Seidler's report was very compact and was received by his fellow members with considerable commendation.

Numerous other matters were discussed at the meeting, which was held at Mr. Seidler's home in charge of Mr. Wardlaw, but most of them were of a routine nature. The suggestion of another Fourth of July celebration, similar to the one devised and conducted by the association two years ago, was discussed but afterward left for final action at the quarterly meeting to be held on Monday, June 12. A large amount of business which has been accumulating will be taken up at this time and it promises to be one of the most important sessions the association has yet had.

MAY 17 IN HISTORY.

1803—Patent granted for first American contrivance for reaping by machine.
1814—Norwegians declared their independence of Sweden; resulted in a constitution as free, independent, indivisible state, united to Sweden.
1829—Death of John Jay, American statesman, first justice of the Supreme Court, aged 84.
1838—Death of Prince Talleyrand, distinguished French statesman and diplomat.
1861—Confederate Congress authorized issue of $50,000,000 of bonds, payable in 20 years, at 8 per cent.; also $20,000,000 in treasury notes.
1894—General Coxey sent to jail for invading the capital with a tramp army.
1900—Relief of Mafeking, after holding out since previous October against the Boers.
1902—King Alphonso was enthroned in Madrid.
1915—Chagas became Premier of Portugal and was shot by a Senator and seriously wounded.
1915—THE WAR.
French and British make gains in joint advance north of Ypres.
Cunard liner Transylvania, warned by Germany that she would be sunk, arrived safely at Liverpool.
Russians claim victories in Eastern Galicia; have offset reverses further west.
Zeppelin attacked Ramsgate, English coast town, killing two; was driven off and crippled by aeroplanes.

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

Free!

Upon receipt of a postcard request, we will send FREE to any address a sample copy of the cleverest satirical weekly ever printed in this country.

Don't miss it; write today.

Puck

210 Fifth Ave., New York

Saturday Straw Hat Day

This the Day to Put Them On.

SENNET STRAW
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.50.

LEGHORN HATS
$4.00 and $5.00

PANAMAS
$4.00 and $5.00.

J. R. Blair
119 PARK AVE.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure, for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

HERR'S SCHOOL
FOR BUSINESS TRAINING
FALL TERM NOW OPEN
Day and Evening Classes
Call, phone (344) or write for full information.
PLAINFIELD BUSINESS COLLEGE
171 East Front Street

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
916 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

Off They Drove to the Mouse's Wedding.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — How Halmar Went to a Mouse's Wedding.

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

"ONE night just as a little boy, Halmar, was going to sleep," daddy told Jack and Evelyn, "Ole Lukoie, the dustman, came and sat down on the edge of his bed. 'Don't be afraid,' he said, 'and I will show you what I have in my hand. It's a little mouse that has come to invite you to go to its wedding. Two nice little mice live under the floor of your mother's larder. It's a delightful place to live.'

"'How can I go through a mouse hole in the floor?' asked Halmar.

"'I'll make you small enough,' said Ole Shuteyes. Then he touched Halmar with his wand, and quickly he grew smaller and smaller till he was only as tall as Jack's thumb. 'Now, as it's always nice to go to parties dressed as a soldier, you'd better borrow the tin soldier's clothes,' said the dustman.

"'Yes, indeed!' cried Halmar. And in a minute he was dressed like the grandest tin soldier.

"'Be so good as to be seated in your mother's thimble so I may have the honor of drawing you,' said the little mouse in Ole's hand.

"'Are you going to take all that trouble, young lady?' said Halmar. And off they drove to the mouse's wedding.

"Down through the floor they went into a long passage just wide enough for them to drive through. The whole passage was lighted up with touch wood.

"'Isn't there a delicious smell here?' asked the mouse. 'The passage has been smeared with bacon fat. Nothing could be nicer for my wedding.'

"Soon the thimble arrived at the bridal hall. Here little lady mice stood on the right whispering and giggling, and over on the left stood gentlemen mice stroking their whiskers with their paws.

"In the middle of the room in a hollow rind of cheese stood the bridal pair kissing each other affectionately before all the guests. More mice friends poured in till the mice guests almost crushed each other to death. The whole room was smeared with bacon fat, but there were no other refreshments except a pea dessert. On this pea the bridesmaids and best men had bitten the initials of the bridal pair. It was really quite handsome.

"Then a minister mouse stood up and married the loving pair. Everybody said what a delightful wedding it was and how brilliant the conversation had been. And then Halmar drove home again, this time all by himself. He had been to a grand mouse wedding, but in order to go he had been obliged to shrink wonderfully, small enough to get into a tin soldier's uniform." So daddy ended the bedtime story.

Marrying a Butterfly

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

The Future Looks Dark and Gloomy to Ralph Gordon.

"Well, mother has found me a good maid," announced Ethel cheerfully as her husband came in the door, fagged and dispirited.

"Thank Fortune!" he ejaculated fervently. "Now if anyone dared hope that you could by any means keep her, life might seem worth living again."

"Before I would make a god of my appetite!" There was a scornful toss of the elaborately combed head. "Men are so wedded to cooks."

"I most emphatically wish I was wedded to a cook," exclaimed Ralph, grinning. Ethel curled her lips in scorn. "If you wish to bind me to you with hoops of steel, learn to cook."

"If it comes to keeping my husband's love by tickling his appetite, it can go."There was cold disdain in Ethel's tone.

"All joking aside, little girl, you would be so independent if you could do your own cooking. One can always get some one to do the heavy work, but when you have to depend on servants for the food you eat, the situation is often desperate, and you positively refuse to even try." Ralph's tone was reproachful.

"After all you used to say about not caring whether I knew about housework or not, Ralph Gordon, I certainly feel disappointed in you, and I have reason to." Ethel rose and, walking over to the piano, began strumming a waltz.

During a pause in the music Ralph asked: "When is this Godsend of a maid coming?" Ethel did not deign to answer, but launched forth into another lively dance.

During another pause in the music Ralph still more abraded his wife's nerves by asking: "Did your mother say this paragon of a maid could cook?" His tone challenged.

She lifted the end of her nose in disgust as she glanced over her shoulder; still she said nothing. All the lustre had faded from her conception of their love. He had asked her to learn to cook. He wanted her to be a common drudge, she thought bitterly to herself.

Seeing that he was to get no answer to his questions he retreated behind his paper and waited for his resentment to cool. When she left the piano he ventured:

"Are we to forego our usual light evening refreshments? After that dinner I must say I am in a state of collapse." She stalked scornfully into the kitchen and poured boiling water into the tiny teakettle that was to be kept hot on the chafing dish lamp. Ralph followed her and carried in the kettle and turned on the electric toaster.

Ethel brought in the peaches.

"Peaches! Good!" he exclaimed brightly. She handed him his tea with a martyred air, and the meal was eaten in silence.

Marriage is a strange affair. All his plans were awry. He could foresee nothing but trouble. Nothing had occurred, absolutely nothing, but all the future looked dark and troubled. He sat and smoked in brooding silence till the clock struck ten. When he went into the bedroom she lay with averted face, and did not turn and speak as he moved about the room preparing for bed. He leaned over and kissed her goodnight before he lay down, but it was a meaningless kiss. Wearied with the long day's work he soon fell asleep. She could not sleep, but lay thinking the same thought over and over. "He has no right after all he said, absolutely no right—I never bargained to be his cook, and that is what he expected evidently. It's unfair! Me a drudge!"

(To be continued.)

PREPARE YOUR GARDENS AND LAWNS
With Fertilizers Scientifically Prepared.

Remember that Reliable Seeds are the only kind you desire.

Every Gardener should have a Good Spade, Hoe, Fork and Rake.

Preparedness is the keynote of the hour.

A Lawn Roller, Lawn Mower, Spray Pump or Water Can may have been overlooked.

Reliable Garden Hose, a Wheelbarrow or Planet Jr. Plow may be in urgent need.

Every need can be met, for we are prepared to serve you.

H. E. Gayle Hardware Co.
General Hardware and House Furnishings.
Tel, No. 398. Front St. and Park Ave.

OUR COMBINATION AUTOMOBILE POLICIES INSURE AGAINST
LOSS by fire from any cause, including explosion, self-ignition and lightning, and also theft, if amounting to $25.00 or more.
LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for injuries suffered by any person or persons when caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.
LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for damage to property of others (except property in your automobile) caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.
LOSS by reason of damage to or destruction of your automobile by collision with another object, moving or stationary.
Ask us for rates before you insure elsewhere.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS
GEO. M. CLARKE CO. Babcock Bldg. Telephone 266 Plainfield.
INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

"Stirring news" today—war news, local news, store news.

Before you have followed the plan of reading the ads for very long you become an EDUCATED judge of values. This education must be kept up to the hour.

GOOD BACKS FOR BAD.

Plainfield Residents Are Learning How to Exchange the Old Back for a Stronger One.

Does your back ache, feel weak and painful?

Do you suffer headaches, languor and depression?

Is the urine discolored, passages irregular?

The kidneys may be calling for help.

Weak kidneys cannot do their work.

Give them the help they need.

To cure a kidney backache you must cure the kidneys.

Use a tested and proven kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.

Convincing proof of merit in Plainfield endorsement.

Mrs. C. B. Coriell, 60 Manning avenue, Plainfield, says: "I suffered from kidney disorders for years, and the principal symptom was a severe backache. Since I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I have taken them off and on, and they have always acted like magic, giving me prompt relief."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coriell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

MISS MARY COLTHAR DIES IN 75TH YEAR

Well Known Resident of North Plainfield Passed Away Today.

Miss Mary E. Colthar, a resident of the borough for the past fifty years, died at 5:45 this morning at her home, 33 Manning avenue, following an illness of about a week. Although she had been in delicate health for several years she was always able to be about until ten days ago when she contracted a cold. Complications developed but yesterday and last evening she felt so much better she insisted on being allowed to be out of bed for a few hours. She was in the act of retiring at 11 o'clock when she was taken with a fainting spell and continued to sink rapidly despite the efforts of a physician.

Miss Colthar was born at Springdale, Somerset county, seventy-five years ago, her parents being David Colthar and Phebe French. Her father died shortly after the Civil War and the family removed to North Plainfield, previously disposing of a fine farm which had been worked by the elder Colthar. Most of the time during her local residence, Miss Colthar made her home on Chatham street, opposite Warren chapel, but at the death of her mother and sister within seven weeks of each other seven years ago, she went to live with her cousins, the Misses Emma and Anna Smalley, of Manning avenue. Miss Colthar's mother was a sister to the late Phineas M. French, whose fine old colonial home still stands at Somerset and Pearl streets and who was the proprietor of French's Mill.

Miss Colthar joined the First M. E. church in this city when a young woman and as long as her health permitted was a devoted worker in all its branches. She was a teacher in the Sunday-school for a long time and in after years was connected with the various women's organizations. She was possessed of a strong Christian character and enjoyed the friendship or acquaintance of hundreds of people in the two Plainfields. Her only near surviving relative is one brother, John M. Colthar, of Millstone. Beside the Misses Smalley, with whom she lived, there are a number of other first and second cousins living in this vicinity.

The funeral will be held at the late home on Manning avenue Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson. Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery.

WILL PICTURE CRUISE ON NORWEGIAN COAST

The members of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein and the Vaterlandshilfe will give an illustrated lecture under their joint auspices in Saengerbund Hall tomorrow night. The subject of the lecture will be "A Cruise Along the Norwegian Coast" and the speakers for the occasion will be Commodore Hans Ruser and Captain A. Heissler, of the Hamburg-American line steamer "Vaterland." Commodore Ruser personally took the pictures which will be shown and both he and Captain Heissler are intimately acquainted with the country of which they will lecture. The proceeds of the lecture will be for the benefit of the suffering people of the Central Powers.

RECREATION NOTES

There will be swimming classes for men and women at the High School tonight under the supervision of Mr. Keene and Miss Ragland.

The Social Club will meet tomorrow night at the Washington School. The library will be open for games.

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

ASK FOR and GET
HORLICK'S
THE ORIGINAL
MALTED MILK
Cheap substitutes cost YOU same price.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

Will Be Oldest Delegate at Chicago Convention.

Photo by American Press Association.

Chauncey M. Depew, when saying that he will be the senior of the delegates to the Republican national convention, added, "I have never seen a convention where bosses—great personalities—did not control."

DEEMER RELEASED BY U. S. TROOPS

Bandits Routed in Running Fight—Chinamen Are Murdered.

Marathon, Texas, May 17.—Jesse Deemer, rancher and storekeeper at Deemer, Texas, who was captured by bandits in a raid a few days ago, was released yesterday when a squad of hard-riding United States cavalrymen caught up with the bandits and defeated them in a running fight. With Deemer was liberated Monroe Payne, a negro boy, who had been taken prisoner in the raid on American soil. The rescue was made by Major Langhorne's troop of the Eighth Cavalry, who started in pursuit of the bandits soon after the raid. No deaths are reported in the fighting.

Bandits Murder Ten Chinese.

Columbus, N. M., May 17.—Stories of the murder of ten Chinese merchants at San Antonio, Mexico, by bandits, were brought here today by returning truckmen. The Chinese had been selling supplies to the Americans and were killed immediately after the withdrawal of the United States troops.

Mexicans in the occupied district have been warned they would be killed if they dealt with the Americans.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE WILL GIVE BRIDGE WHIST PARTY

The women of New Jersey who feel that a share in government is theirs by right, are doing quiet but telling work these days. Each one armed with an enrollment sheet is making it her business to get the names of her women friends, acuaintances and neighbors placed thereon. They feel that they are going to prove that the vast majority of the women of New Jersey do want the vote. This enrollment is a simple and inexpensive way to prove their point.

The State Association, however, has to have some money to keep things going, so each league is assessed. The Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield plans to raise the money for its assessment, in part at least, by giving a card party. It is to be at the Park Club on Wednesday, May 24, at 2:30. Tickets can be secured from Mrs. A. E. Lipscombe, or Mrs. I. Schwed, through whom groups can arrange to play together.

JACOB GLASSLOPPER.

Jacob Glasslopper, the five and a half months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Glosslopper, of West Third street, died this morning. The funeral will be held this afternoon, and burial will be in the cemetery at Samptown.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Reformed church will meet tonight at 8 o'clock.

It Pays to Secure a Tenant Who Pays.

The uncertain sort of tenant is easy to find. He is always answering the call of the window sign of "To Let." He is easy to please. Even a rather high rental does not frighten him away.

There's a Place on a Pay-Roll For Your Name!

For the man or woman who can do some useful work Well is always needed in this City of Work!

The right place for you may be found—perhaps with little delay—by a campiagn of classified advertising in the Plainfield Daily Press.

So let classified advertising place your name, once more on a pay-roll!

ARTHUR M. COLLENS RETIRES FROM BOARD

Miss Louise H. Thompson Succeeds Miss Cann as Directress at Hospital.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital the resignation of Arthur M. Collens as governor and treasurer was tendered, and with much regret accepted.

Mr. Collens has been treasurer of Muhlenberg Hospital for the past three years, and during this period he devoted a great deal of time to the duties of his office; his acquaintance with financial accounts enabled him to direct most intelligently all the accounting work of the hospital, and his services have been very greatly appreciated. Mr. Collens' resignation was made necessary by the fact that he is changing his home to Hartford, Conn.

Noah C. Barnhart, by unanimous vote, was elected a governor to succeed Mr. Collens, and also elected treasurer of the hospital. Mr. Barnhart, who resides at 970 Hillside avenue, has a large acquaintance in Plainfield, and will be a very valuable addition to the Board of Governors.

At this meeting announcement was made of the choice of a successor to Miss Jessie Cann, directress of nurses, who resigned a month ago owing to ill health. Miss Louise H. Thompson, R. N., has been chosen as directress of nurses at Muhlenberg Hospital, and assumed her new duties within the last few days.

Miss Thompson is a Canadian by birth, and after graduating from school her first responsibility was that of a teacher in a county school for over one year, and in 1904 came to the United States to enter the Worcester City Hospital Training School, and after her three years' course in this training school graduated from there in 1907. Miss Thompson has come to Muhlenberg very highly recommended, and is a woman who, by reason of her experience, should be a valuable addition to the nursing force. Her experience has been varied—after graduation, one year as head nurse in obstetrical department at Worcester City Hospital, then one year in Morton Hospital in Taunton, Mass., as assistant superintendent, then for four years at the Highwood Memorial Hospital at Gardner, Mass., acting there in the last part of her stay as head nurse and superintendent of nurses.

The work of Muhlenberg continues to be growing in importance. During the last week on two different occasions 96 patients were in the hospital and the work seems to be constantly on the increase, and it is therefore believed Miss Thompson will find it an interesting instituton to be associated with.

SUES FOR $25 HE SAYS IS OWED ON DIAMOND RING

The suit of Edward Koechlein against Raymond Harvey was on trial this morning in the local district court. Koechlein asked to recover $25 which he charged was due him as part payment on a diamond ring. He sold the ring to Harvey for $40 in 1910, he said, and received $15 then, but no more. Harvey insisted that he paid $15 in 1910 and $15 later, but admitted that he borrowed $10 from Koechlein after that. The two men were good friends. Harvey also presented a counterclaim against Koechlein for $20.55. This, he said, was due him for expenditures made in going to New York for his friend and for fixing screen doors at the Koechlein home and putting in an electric bell. Francis J. Blatz represented the defendant and Martin B. Stutzman the complainant. Judge Hetfield reserved his decision on the case.

WAR NOT TO INTERFERE WITH CANADIAN VISITORS

The war will not be allowed to interfere in any way with those Americans who want to spend their summer vacations in Canada. Many reports have come to the States regarding the scrutiny given visitors by the Dominion officials, but this will not apply to American pleasure seekers, according to word just received from W. T. Scott, superintendent of Cnandian Immigration at Ottawa, by local representatives of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

"The Candian government welcomes tourist traffic as in previous years," he writes. "Out of the thousands who visited this country last year I think few, if any, had reason to complain of their reception or treatment. All bona fide tourists being citizens of the United States or subjects of allied or neutral countries are welcome to visit Canada. Passports are unnecessary and conscription does not exist. Persons naturalized in the United States should carry their naturalization papers as a means of identification."

HELP IS SCARCE.

The Hall Press Works at Dunellen is so rushed with work that it is experiencing difficulty in getting help enough, and today an ad appears in this paper for molders.

DEATH OF INFANT DAUGHTER.

Vara Nenivioric, the infant daughtre of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nenivioric, of South Plainfield, died yesterday afternoon. The funeral will be held at the parents' home at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and a later service will take place in the Russian Orthodox church at Perth Amboy at 4 o'clock. Interment will be in Perth Amboy.

MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

To Lead Suffrage Parade at Chicago Convention.

Photo by American Press Association.

Thousands of suffragists, led by their president, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, will march through Chicago and make a great demonstration for their cause when the Republican convention meets in the Coliseum.

ORPET'S DEFENSE IS NOW REVEALED

Contends Lecture Caused Girl to Kill Herself.

Chicago, May 17.—The secrecy surrounding the defense of William H. Orpet, on trial in Waukegan for the murder of Miss Marian Lambert, his schoolgirl fiancee, has been pierced for the first time.

It developed that the defense will be that auto-suggestion induced Miss Lambert to take her life by drinking cyanide of potassium in Helms Woods Lake forest because she knew she had lost the love of Orpet.

That a lecture on the uses of cyanide of potassium given by Professor A. E. Traego, instructor in chemistry in the Highland Park High school, at the psychological moment when the girl was waiting the passage of hours to keep her tryst with Orpet started her mind on the trail which led to her death will be the contention of the defense.

Professor Traego will testify, it was said, that the day before Miss Lambert met Orpet in the woods he gave a lecture before his chemistry class, of which the girl was a member, on the fatal effects of cyanide on the human system.

His testimony will show how Miss Lambert, seated in the front row of seats, listened intently to the lecture, seemingly under a spell, as the professor revealed the characteristics of the poison.

Another important part of his testimony will be that poisons were kept in a case which was open much of the time and that any student could obtain possession of cyanide of potassium without difficulty.

TAKE ATLANTIC CITY RULE.

New Commission Headed by Harry Bacharach as Mayor.

Atlantic City, May 17.—The new city commissioners, elected by the Kuehnle-Bacharach forces, have taken over the city government for the next four years.

The new commission will be headed by Harry Bacharach as mayor. He will take over the board of health and the department of supplies as new departments to that office. Charles D. White will become highway commissioner, succeeding Dr. J. B. Thompson, who will have the department of public works and parks. W. Frank Sooy will be the new commissioner of public safety. Albert V. Beyer, Sr., retains the office of finance commissioner. Health Officer Dr. Edwin M. Coward, resigned, is to be succeeded by Dr. Talbot Reed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KANE.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Kane, wife of Patrick Kane, whose death occurred at her home on Liberty street, Monday morning, was held in St. Mary's church this morning at 9 o'clock. The requiem mass said by Rev. Father McDonald was attended by an unusually large number of relatives and friends, and many beautiful floral tributes were in evidence. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: William Flatley, Thomas Flatley, Michael Harrington, William McCarthy, Patrick Disken and James Golden.

GYPSIES ARRESTED.

Twelve gypsies, members of a fortune telling troupe, were rounded up this afternoon in various parts of the city by Captain John J. Flynn and Patrolmen Welsh, Bebout and Messmer charged with panhandling. They will be arraigned before City Judge William G. De Meza late this afternoon.

NEW SINGERS ENGAGED.

Miss Dicie Howell, of Brooklyn, soprano, and Henry Rowley, of Utica, N. Y., baritone, have been engaged to succeed Mrs. E. H. Franw and William Holmes in thet First Baptis church choir.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Harry Hanson, of 20 Lincoln place, who was stabbed Saturday in a hotel entrance in New York city, is in a very serious condition in the Bellevue Hospital. Blood poisoning is feared.

—Press want ads. work wonders.

SPORT TOPICS

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

MAY BE CHAMPIONS IN THE MAKING.

Few people interested in athletics stop to glance at the records being established in a program of indoor competition by the younger athletic element at the Y. M. C. A. these days. Only yesterday a mite of a youngster tossed an eight-pound shot twenty-seven feet and one day last week another youthful Hercules leaped four feet, seven inches in the running high jump. While these are not world beating marks they may represent the ability of a champion in the making and taking the age and size of the contenders into consideration they are remarkably good. It might be said at this time that a majority of the best athletic performers who have come to light here in recent years began their career in the gymnasium of the East Front street institution and those interested will find it highly profitable to keep an eye on the talent now at hand. The kind of supervised training in the finer points of jumping and running the competitors are getting at the Y. M. C. A. is the kind that brings gradual improvement and puts the individual in a fair way to reaping laurels in high school or college days.

• • • • • •

WARRY'S ENTRANCE WELCOMED BY CITY LEAGUERS.

Warry McLaughlin's admission into the City Baseball League puts a finale on the rounding up of outlaws. "Mac" is the last of the old timers, really worth an invitation, to hand in his registration and that he will prove a fine drawing card for the Tabs as well as a pillar of strength is reasonable to expect. McLaughlin is a good sportsman as well as a good baseball player and his influence with younger element on the circuit is bound to make itself felt. His experience will profit the team he is with much along advisory lines and it will make the league savor a little more of the red hot rivalry of old. He has weathered a good many diamond battles but has never given way to dissipation and today he is twice as good in the box as many of our younger phenoms who have never been taught the art of using their think-tanks while twirling.

• • • • • •

THEN, TOO, THERE'S NORMAN BARNES.

While speaking of McLaughlin it would be no more than right to dwell a few minutes on the career of Norman Barnes. This long and lanky first station guardian is a relic of the Clinton Avenue ball club and was a power of strength to the Plainfield "Pets" in the days of the Central New Jersey League. Norman at one time had no peer as a first sacker in local baseball and those interested in inducing him to enter the City League claim he is as fit as ever and is still able to scoop 'em in and swat 'em out. At any rate, he's a veteran of the old school and that's what we want to make this loop a success.

• • • • • •

When North Plainfield High School ball players trimmed the well known Dorland, of High Bridge diamond fame, Monday afternoon, they added another notable feather to their collection. The victory over Plainfield Saturday afternoon has certainly spurred the boroughites on to further efforts along the win line and they're out to make a clean-up conquest of it now. More power to 'em and here's hoping they retrieve some of the early season reverses and put themselves back in the light of a formidable adversary with some of the schools that conquered them in April.

• • • • • •

If the unsettled weather conditions of the past few days continue to prevail those Plainfield High School ballists will never get a chance to smooth off the rough edges brought to the surface in the initial league battle Saturday. Some grooming is surely necessary but the coaches have a big problem on their hands in serving up regular doses of practice when "Jup" Pluvius insists on monopolizing the attention of the universe.

• • • • • •

Spring is here, at least the straw hat part of it is, and we still receive daily returns from bowling enthusiasts. The alley sports are evidently taking advantage of the unseasonable weather in staging unseasonable sports but who knows but what the winter months may be tardy in arriving; and the pin-knights are not taking any chances on not getting their share of the exercise when the time falls due.

• • • • • •

Once more it is definitely settled that Bound Brook, Somerville and Scotch Plains will not turn out representative ball nines this summer. But who knows when the atmosphere of rumor will cloud up once more and produce a get-together combine that will stage games under the name of any one of these three places? Baseball in Somerville, Bound Brook and Scotch Plains of late has been as uncertain as the weather and while there is a healthy bunch of fans ready to back any undertaking the initiative is an unknown quantity and until they get a starter they'll never have a ball club.

• • • • • •

Each day one or more letters come to this office containing information concerning the playing ability of one or a group of City Leaguers. We are only too glad to publish these communications but the name of the writer will have to accompany each for some of them savor of a vivid imagination possessed by the sender. It is not necessary that we publish the names of the writers but we would like to know who takes interest enough to send them.

• • • • • •

The Daily Press has secured another supply of celluloid scoring tablets and they are now ready for distribution among readers of this page. Every baseball fan knows how hard it is to keep tabs on a ball game and probably every rooter has at one time or another wished for something of this sort. The tablets are of the latest design and supply all the information a fan desires on the side lines.

Seen and Heard on the Street

Boy holding bulldog's tail in order to be propelled on roller skates along West Ninth street sidewalk.

Frank J. Shattle, erstwhile Democratic political leader, daubing a West End garage with brilliant red to prove to a prospective buyer the paint he sells is the best in the market.

Prime and precise school teacher, stepping off the 1:15 trolley at Darrow avenue and Fourth street, Monday, walking on her tip-toes to keep out of the oil just sprinkled, only to lose her balance and fall directly into the terrible mess, much to the delight of a crowd of pupils who had evidently at some time or other felt the strictness of her discipline.

Milkman's balky horse blocking trolley on Putnam avenue.

"Dutch" Van Nest, the shortest chauffeur in the city, sitting in a North avenue beanery with his legs twined around a stool to prevent himself being blown over every time someone opened the door and allowed a draught to pass through.

Flock of sparrows securing breakfast from a loaf of bread left by the baker's driver on a Richmond street porch.

N. P. H .S. CLOUTING AT WHIRLWIND CLIP

Boroughites Have Averaged 13 Hits in Last Three Games.

With a team average of .301 North Plainfield High School players are slugging the ball at a lusty gait. Seven of the players are hitting above the coveted .300 mark, while Mair is in a select class being the only member to populate the .400 class.

Commencing the season with a combination that was both inefficient in fielding and batting, a radical change has been obtained and the locals are far above par in their present stride, having obtained thirty-nine hits in the last three contests or an average of thirteen per game, one of the games being a seven inning one.

A new man on the team, Mair, has shown wonderful ability to connect with the ball hard and safely and is now hitting .432, while four of the regulars are high in the .300 class.

The records:

	AB.	H.	Ave.
Mair	37	16	.432
Townley	33	12	.364
A. McDonough	32	11	.344
Dilts	38	13	.342
LaPorte	3	1	.333
Kirch	26	8	.308
Yates	39	12	.308
VanMater	21	5	.238
M. McDonough	34	8	.235
Seidel	18	4	.222
Dawe	34	5	.147

BASEBALL.

Results of Games Played In National, American and Other Leagues.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Boston at Pittsburgh, postponed account of rain; New York at Chicago, postponed account of rain.

At Cincinnati—										R.	H.	E.
Philad'phia	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—	4	6	1
Cincinnati	0	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—	3	6	1

Mayer, Killifer; Schulz, Knetzer, Clarke.

At St. Louis—										R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	0—	4	8	3
St. Louis	3	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	1—	5	6	3

Marquard, Dell, Miller; Jasper, Snyder.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	13	7	.650	Chicago	13	13	.500
Boston	12	8	.600	Cincinnati	12	16	.429
Phila'phia	13	10	.565	Pittsburg	11	16	.407
St. Louis	14	13	.519	New York	8	13	.381

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Cleveland at New York, Chicago at Boston and St. Louis at Philadelphia, postponed on account of rain.

At Washington—										R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	0—	3	11	2
Wash'gton	9	2	0	0	0	2	2	0	*—15		15	3

Boehler, Boland, Erickson, Stanage, Baker; Gallia, Henry, Charrity.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	19	9	.679	Detroit	13	15	.464
Wash'ton	17	9	.654	Chicago	13	16	.429
New York	18	12	.520	Phila'phia	10	15	.400
Boston	13	13	.500	St. Louis	8	16	.333

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Baltimore at Montreal, Providence at Rochester and Newark at Toronto, postponed on account of rain.

At Buffalo—										R.	H.	E.
Richmond	1	0	4	0	0	0	0	0	0—	5	10	0
Buffalo	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—	2	6	3

Rhoades, Reynolds; Bader, Haley.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Newark	13	1	.926	Montreal	6	9	.400
Richmond	11	5	.688	Rochester	5	11	.312
Prov'dence	10	5	.667	Buffalo	4	13	.235
Baltimore	11	6	.647	Toronto	2	12	.143

EASTERN LEAGUE.

Springfield at Lowell, Bridgeport at Lawrence, Hartford at Worcester and New London at Lynn, postponed on account of rain.

At Portland—										R.	H.	E.
New Haven	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	0—	2	6	2
Portland	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—	0	2	3

Alsworth, Soper; Durning, Sweatt.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
N. Lond'n	11	2	.846	Lynn	6	7	.462
Portland	9	5	.643	Hartford	5	7	.417
Spr'gfield	8	6	.571	N. Haven	5	9	.357
Lawrence	8	6	.571	Bridgep't	5	11	.312
Lowell	8	7	.533	Worcester	4	9	.308

SPORT COMING EVENTS.

Today.

Elks' billiard tourney.

N. P. H. S. at N. B. H. S.

Tomorrow.

Rutgers Prep at P. H. S. (Parker Field).

Seton Hall Prep at N. P. H. S.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Golf—Women's handicap match play against bogey at Plainfield Country Club.

Friday.

Tennis—P. H. S. vs. Woodbridge.

Elks' billiard tourney.

Saturday.

Rutgers Freshmen vs. P. H. S. (Parker Field).

Kearny H. S. at N. P. H S

Hope Chapel at T. A. B. S.

Netherwood at Clinton Avenue.

First Baptist at Plainfield A. A.

Monday.

N. P. H. S. at Cranford.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

Twenty-five Years Difference In Ages of City League Players

"Warry" McLaughlin blows into the City Baseball League and establishes a record before he plays a game. Other local notables have performed in three contests to date, and haven't even scored a round of applause. Warry is the age champion of the circuit, his forty milestones making him the daddy of the league talent.

Today the City League has on its roster baseball handlers ranging in age from sixteen to forty, and nearly every age between the two marks is represented. If a reasonable age limit was to be established there would be some who would fall down for the count, and right here it may be said that the ineligibles would be some of the lights of the loop.

Warry McLaughlin, Norman Barnes, Billy O'Loughlin, Britt Martin and several other stars were pastiming in long trousers when a yard of cloth would have made a suit for the rest of the leaguers. This quartet is especially ancient, and yet it is capable of wielding a big influence in the field of competition. They have all seen better days on the diamond, but each one of the above four have sworn not to recognize the theory of old "Doc" Osler, and they're going to keep right on frolicking in baseball togs until they're crowded out of the limelight. At present there doesn't seem to be very much of a chance of any of the "vets" being "canned," and they are looked upon by their respective teams as pillars of strength in each case.

Hence we have ball players on our local loop who have been taught and profited, while there are some who are just discarding their childishness and are beginning to realize that the old-timers are capable of teaching them a few points in baseballology.

Nearly twenty-five years' difference lies between the milestones piled up by the oldest leaguer and those collected by the younger element. Some are still juveniles in amateur sportdom, while others have taken the gaff of some of the best managers the game has ever known in these parts and lived through it all.

Britt Martin is a close rival to Warry for the age championship. In fact, some of the league moguls believe that he has "it on" McLaughlin, but both gentlemen shy at the question, and we'll have to use our own judgment. "Pop" Martin, as he is familiarly known to his kid understudies on the chapel team, is grooming a couple of young Martins to step into the shoes of "Ty" Cobb and "Big Six" Mathewson, when these two favorites pass beyond the stage of youthfulness.

Keen interest should be manifested in the performance of the younger and the older element in the league this summer, and when the season blows over statistics will show us just which extreme makes the best player.

LOOK TO PLAINFIELD FOR ATHLETIC MEET

High Schools of Union Favor Parker Field as the Site for Annual Competition.

Union county High Schools are anxiously awaiting word from Plainfield High School's athletic management relative to the plans for a 1916 county High School track meet. Last year the event was run off successfully on Parker Field, nearly every High School in Union county being represented in the entry list. To date nothing definite has been done regarding the matter, although the popular date, Decoration Day, is rapidly approaching, and something will have to be stirred up in the immediate future if we're going to have one this spring.

It is practically out of the question to attempt to bring High School athletes together in a competition of this kind after Decoration Day, for the early part of June, up to closing time, is a busy one in the life of a High School student, and the necessary time would not be available.

The success of the meet on Parker Field last year makes it the popular choice for another such event, and little urging would be necessary to force the other schools of the county to agree to hold it here once more. Athletics at Plainfield High School are carried on with a greater degree of supervision and better management than at any other High School in the county, and this is another point in favor of holding it here. The men at the helm of P. H. S. athletics know their business, and are thoroughly competent to handle the managerial reins of such an enterprisee.

Owing to weather conditions the track athletes of every school have been greatly inconvenienced in getting in regular practices so far this spring, but the meets held to date indicate that material is plentiful, and with hard work it would be rounded in form by May 31. Battin High School and Pingry High School, of Elizabeth, Westfield, Rahway, Cranford and Roselle High Schools stand ready to enter into the movement as soon as it is broached, and it seems likely that the initiative will be taken during the next week or so and a meeting held to make preliminary arrangements.

LOCAL DOG FANCIERS ATTEND BIG SESSION

Abram G. Hooley and A. Clinton Wilmerding Among Delegates in New York.

Abram G. Hooley, of North Plainfield, was elected chairman of the associated delegates, and A. Clinton Wilmerding, president of the Plainfield Kennel Club, was elected a delegate at a meeting of the officers and delegates of the American Kennel Club, who met in quarterly session yesterday at the offices of the organization in New York. That the conditions must be made stricter to preserve the highest valuation of the championship title, was the concensus of opinion among those present. However, the only definite action taken was to refer the whole matter to the rules committee, of which A. G. Hooley is chairman, to report at the next quarterly meeting.

The discussion hinged on a set of resolutions presented at the annual meeting by John F. Collins, delegate of the Long Island Kennel Club. These consisted of proposed changes to the present Rule 3, which states victory in a winner's class at a show benching 1,000 actual dogs or over, shall count five points, etc., and that wins at specialty shows, irrespective of how few dogs are benched, shall count four points.

Failing to reach a decision on this, the membership committee, of which Charles R. Wood is chairman, did not report at yesterday's meeting as instructed, and the general discussion ensued. The substitute rule submitted by Collins has the following three clauses:

(1) A percentage system of fixing the show championship points, five points to be limited to exhibits having an actual benching of 1⅔ times of all dogs benched at all shows during the previous year; or an excess of that total, with similar drastic percentages to determine the four, three, two and one point shows.

(2) To give specialty shows a championship rating based on similar percentages of actual dogs benched, but the limit to be three points for shows otherwise allowed four or five points.

(3) No championship points awarded in any winners' class unless there are three or more dogs eligible to compete in such class; or unless competitions in other classes has been between three or more dogs.

The object is to make it more difficult to gain the title of champion for a dog by putting a ban on the practice of sending a dog to shows where it will gain points without a real contest.

OFFICIAL DATES FOR 'MET' GOLF TOURNEY

Secretary Barnes Names Time for Both Junior and Senior Events.

E. Mortimer Barnes, secretary of the Metropolitan Golf Association, has sent out the official notices of the metropolitan amateur and junor championships: The amateur championships will be played at Nassau, June 7-10. On Wednesday, June 7, there will be a qualifying round of thirty-six holes, with thirty-two to qualify in the championship division, and a third and fourth sixteen to compete for suitable prizes. On Thursday there will be the first round of match play for the championship, and the defeated sixteen in the championship division will begin their competition for the President's Cup.

The finals will be played on Saturday, and will be at thirty-six holes in all divisions. There are twelve prizes to be won at the tournament, including a silver cup for the winner of the Motropolitan Handicap on the final day, and team trophies for the teams in the club pairs four-ball matches on Friday.

The junior championship for boys of 19 years old and under, who are members or who have playing privileges at clubs belonging to the M. G. A., will be held at Englewood, June 27 and 28. There will be an 18-hole qualifying round on the first morning, the players to qualify in flights of eight. The match play rounds will be at 18 holes, and there will be prizes for five eights. There will also be a driving contest and a metropolitan junior handicap at stroke competition on the final day.

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

Queries--Comment--Answers

Query—When did Joe Wood, the pitcher, join the Boston Americans and where did he come from? A says he was a native Jerseyite; if so, where did he play ball around here? —T. O.

Answer—Joe Wood joined the Boston Americans in 1908. He is a Westerner, having been born in Kansas City, Mo., October 25, 1889. He played semi-pro ball in Kansas, and was signed by the Hutchinson Club, of the Western Association, in 1906. In 1907 he went with Kansas City, of the American Association, and then to Boston. He never played a game on Jersey soil, so far as we know.

Query—Would it be possible at this late stage to reorganize the Central New Jersey Baseball League for 1916? In your opinion would there be enough interest to support the league if started at this time?—N. M.

Answer—While it is not too late to start the league, the city circuit is pretty well under way, and it would be difficult to attract attention to another such organization locally. Towns that were previously on the circut have no clubs this year, and it would requre considerable time to bring them together.

Query—Which order is the larger, the Freemasons or the Odd Fellows? —K. U.

Answer—The Freemasons. The total enrollment of the Freemasons is 1,760,277, and the Odd Fellows have 1,622,100.

Query—Is there such a town in New Jersey as Cinnaminson?—L. L.

Answer—A town of that name lies in Burlington county and has a population of 1,585.

Query—To whom should a fraternal organization apply for the use of Parker Field? Will any special event be held there on May 30?—H. Y.

Answer—Apply to George W. Wriston at the Plainfield High School. As far as we know no special event is booked for Decoration Day.

Query—Where can I secure a copy of the Fish ad Game Laws for New Jersey this year?—T. R.

Answer—Write to the Fish and Game Commission at Trenton. They are now ready for distribution.

Query—Is there an ordinance governing the construction of frame structures in Plainfield? Under this ordinance is it legal to build a frame porch on a house?—J. K.

Answer—A "fire zone" has been established in the central part of Plainfield, and it is illegal to build frame structures in this district. Get a copy of the building code from Building Inspector T. O. Doane, and it will enlighten you on the points you wish.

EASTERN BOTTLING CO.
2ND ST. AND CENTRAL AVE., PLAINFIELD, N.J.

Distributors of Reliable
WINES—LIQUORS—WHISKIES
Both imported and domestic.
Selected vintages which you will be proud to serve to your guests. Even our lowest priced goods are chosen with care.
We Feature
BALTANTINE'S ALES & BEERS
that sparkle with quality and savor of flavor.
Tel. Plainfield 190

GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO IT

the repairing of an automobile is in many cases as delicate a piece of work as that of fixing a watch. It takes skill, experience and proper tools and facilities. We have them all and can therefore guarantee first class work every time.

AUTOMOBILES REPAINTED.

MARTIN AUTOMOBILE CO.

BASEBALL FANS

GET A CELLULOID PRESS SCORING TABLET
They Are Ready for 1916
This Coupon with three others and Five Cents when presented at the Press office will entitle you to one.
LIMITED SUPPLY GET YOURS NOW

FISK QUALITY

FISK BICYCLE TIRES
The Best That Can Be Had.
For Sale by
George L. Simon
179 NORTH AVE. OPP. DEPOT.

Your Next Tenant Is an "Ad-Reader"

The tenant to whom your property would be most valuable is a reader of the "To Let" advertisements.

If your advertisement is factful, definite and fully informing he will recognize it as meaning OPPORTUNITY to him, and he will lose no time in getting in touch with you.

But if your advertisement should be vague, uninforming and written with a view to "saving space," it might not appeal of any personal interest at all.

PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY,
193 NORTH AVENUE

THE SERVICE SHOP

WHO'S RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PIPE DREAM?

McLaughlin, Like Benny Kauff, Says He's Still "on the Fence" Today.

After the meeting of the Dunellen Baseball Club last evening Manager Warry McLaughlin issued a statement in which he denied that he has joined the Tabs of the City League and that Dunellen will have no representative baseball team this year.

Warry said in part, "It is true, I believe, that the Tabs have added my name to their roster but they did so without my consent. As for giving up the idea of giving Dunellen a representative baseball team such a thing never entered my head for I believe that conditions are unusually ripe in that borough for a baseball club. The team that I will place on the field there will be one of the best that ever performed in these parts. The teams that I am booking are the strongest obtainable and the calibre of ball will be such that Maurer Oval, Dunellen, should be taxed to capacity every Saturday by fans not only from Dunellen but also from Bound Brook, Somerville and this city. We will open our season a week from Saturday."

PLAINFIELD CONCERN IN AEROPLANE MEET

Sloane Company One of Those to Have Machine in Transcontinental Fly, Sept. 2.

Although the transcontinental aeroplane competition was announced only last Sunday and the date of September 2 arranged on Monday, sixteen entries, including that of the Sloane Manufacturing Company, of Plainfield, already have been promised, according to a report issued by the Aero Club of America yesterday. Many more entries are expected for the race across the country for more than $100,000 in cash prizes and a trophy.

The aeroplane construction companies which have asked to be permitted to enter two aeroplanes each are the Wright Company, of New York; the Curtiss Aeroplane Company, of Buffalo; the Glenn L. Martin Company, of Los Angeles, and the Federal Aircraft and Motor Corporation, of New York.

The other companies desiring to enter one aeroplane include the Burgess Company, of Marblehead, Mass.; Thomas Brothers Aeroplane Company, Ithaca, N. Y.; Gallaudet Company, Norwich, Conn.; L. F. P. Aeroplane Corporation, Toronto; L. W. F. Engineering Company, Long Island City; Andermat Aeroplane Company, San Francisco; Christmas Aeroplane Company, Washington, and the New Jersey Aeroplane Company, Paterson.

Among the noted aviators who have expressed their intention to fly are Oscar A. Brindley, A. J. Jaquith, Baxter Adams and Robert Fowler. The latter made the first transcontinental flight in 1911.

COYNE FINISHED STRONG BUT VOORHEES WON OUT

Although he won only three out of the eight games rolled in the final series of a twenty-one game match at New Brunswick last night, Voorhees had previously annexed enough decisions to win the bowling match between himself and Coyne, this being his second victory over the latter. Three games went to Voorhees last night, while Coyne won five. Last week, on the borough alleys, Voorhees won eight out of eleven. The scores last night:

Voorhees.	Coyne.
154	193
180	214
188	233
184	182
256	234
184	198
171	190
196	194

SELECT AUGUST 26 AS DATE FOR TITLE MEET IN NEWARK

The senior championship committee of the Metropolitan A. A. U., at a meeting held last night at 21 Warren street, selected August 26 as the date for its annual track and field championship contests. This will be two weeks before the national titular meeting, which will be held at Weequahic Park, Newark, N. J., and will constitute trials for these games.

Herman Obertubessing, chairman of the senior committee, was unable to attend the meeting, and John J. Walsh, of the Pastime Athletic Club, presided in his stead. All the clubs in the metropolitan district were invited to bid for the championship sports, and the first to offer its field was the New York Athletic Club, which for the last two years has conducted the games at its Travers Island grounds. The IrishAmerican A. C. will also enter a bid on behalf of Celtic Park, but it would not be surprising if the N. Y. A. C. offered the best inducements.

Prior to the meeting of the senior championship committee, Frederick J. V. Delany presided over a meeting of the Junior Metropolitan Titular Board, at which officials for the junior championships, to be held in New Brunswick, were appointed.

BAYONNE HERE TOMORROW.

Manager Percy Stelle, of the P. H. S. baseball team, has announced that the game scheduled with Bayonne High School for this afternoon on Parker Field has been postponed until tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

MARTINE WITH OPPOSITION

(Continued from page 1.)

seen Mr. Rublee, nor do I know him," said Mr. Martine, "but everything he stood for I have stood for for many years."

And yet Mr. Martine voted against the man who has stood for "his own principles, not because he was unfit for the job, but because the billiken of Senatorial courtesy was dragged into the fight."

"My only prompting in voting as I did was because of that unwritten law of courtesy to the Senators," continued Senator Martine. "Senator Gallinger, while he disagrees with me in policies, asserted to me that the confirmation of this nomination would be most obnoxious and offensive to him. On that assurance I voted against Mr. Rublee."

In the question as to his reason for his vote Senator Martine had been asked if he was friendly to the President, why did he vote in the negative?

"I am perfectly friendly to the President," he said, "and can see no reason why this interrogatory should be put to me in that way. I have most friendly relations with the President and I am most unqualifiedly and unequivocally in favor of him as the candidate for our next President, and will do all in my power to bring about that end. Many who voted against Mr. Rublee were prompted by the same motives that actuated me.

"I have been asked since if my vote was indicative of my position as to the confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis for justice of the Supreme Court; to this I say 'No.' I have known Mr. Brandeis quite well for twelve years, and I believe him to be infinitely capable, absolutely honest, and I know he is brave, and he shall have my unqualified support. I believe he would be a great addition to the Supreme Court bench."

Asked further as to his respect for Senatorial courtesy, Senator Martine replied:

"I believe it to be infinitely valuable to the Senate. I think we are a stronger body in recognizing it. It may be sentimental, but on the other hand imagine the feelings of a Senator who has foisted on him a man who has belittled and slurred and opposed him in his home. A Senator may not amount to any more than any one else, but at least he is entitled to such recognition and respect for his feelings."

In his opposition a year ago to the nomination of George Hampton for collector at Camden, Senator Martine was sustained by several of his colleagues on the ground of Senatorial courtesy, and he believes it's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.

WAR NEWS

(Continued from page 1.)

It is believed in Petrograd that Grand Duke Nicholas has cut the Bagdad Railway and that the Russians are at Mosul, where ancient Ninevah once stood. Mosul is on the Tigris, 200 miles north of Bagdad.

A delayed dispatch from Tiflis announces that the Turks have abandoned Rivandouza, or Rowandus. This town is only seventy-five miles from Mosul. It is thought that since that dispatch was sent the Russians have covered that distance.

Will Hold Sir Roger.

London, May 17.—Sir Roger Casement will know late this afternoon, it is thought, whether or not he shall stand trial on a charge of treason against the crown. The case against him before the committing magistrate has about been made out by the prosecution, and Sir Roger's attorneys have announced that his defense will not be made public at this time. There can be no doubt of the outcome of the preliminary hearing. Sir Roger will be held for high treason.

Dutch Steamer Blown Up.

London, May 17.—The Dutch steamer Batavier was blown up with a loss of four lives on Tuesday morning. A Lloyds dispatch from Great Yarmouth states that the vessel was destroyed while bound from London to Rotterdam with a general cargo. The surviving members of the crew were landed.

Air Raid on Venice.

Rome, May 17.—Austrian aeroplanes raided Venice at 9 o'clock last night, bombarding the city heavily with bombs. However, only one house was damaged, while two civilians were killed and some wounded in the adjoining city of Mestre.

Attempt to Kill Queen.

Rome, May 17.—It is reported here today that Austrian air raiders on Monday attempted to attack a train on which were Queen Helena and the children of the royal household.

The attack failed and the air raiders were put to flight by Italian airships.

Italians are Defeated.

Vienna, May 17.—A surprise attack by huge forces of Austrian infantry, supported by extremely heavy artillery fire, resulted in the capture of a number of important Italian positions in the Tyrol, southwest of Trent, according to the Austrian War Office statement issued today.

In the attacks about 2,500 Italian prisoners were taken, including sixty-five officers.

—Not many of the readers of this newspaper buy unadvertised things—either chattels or real estate.

Summer Furniture

HAS BEEN GETTING SO MUCH BETTER AND NICER EACH YEAR THAT OUTDOOR FURNISHINGS ARE NOW AS ATTRACTIVE AND NECESSARY AS THOSE INSIDE. WE WOULD ADVISE EARLY BUYING WHILE THE STOCKS ARE COMPLETE; THE SEASON IS SHORT AND THE BUYING FAST.

Good Refrigerators

Many new improvements, making them more sanitary and your ice bill will be less, too. Prices—

6.98 TO 48.50

Vudor Porch Shades

The one really good shade, does not fade; always pulls easily and wears longer; all regular sizes in stock. Prices

2.50 TO 7.75

OUR AWNINGS AND WINDOW SHADES are RIGHT IN QUALITY and PRICE

Summer Rugs

Most unusual designs and colorings; different patterns on each side; suitable for either inside or porch use; all regular sizes.

2.98 TO 9.98 Each.

Couch Hammocks

Many new designs and novelty stripe coverings; good mattress and guaranteed springs; just what you need for the hot days coming.

Prices.....$6.98 to $19.00 Frames.....$2.75 to $3.98

Reed and Willow Chairs	$2.98 to $10.98
Maple Chairs	$1.25 to $3.98
Tables to match	$2.98 to $6.98
Lawn Settees	98c
Lawn Swings, 4-passenger	$6.00
Green and Natural Porch Screens	$1.15 to $3.50
Screen Doors	$1.25 to $1.75
Window Screens	25c to 60c
Mattings, 3x6 feet, each	49c

SHIRLEY & JOHNSTON

The Quality Home Furnishers

Babcock Building

JOHN S. JOHNSTON, Prop.

WEST FRONT STREET

CAPSTICK'S HEART IN RIGHT PLACE?

Joins Preparedness Parade, While His Secretary Enlists in Encampment.

Washington, May 17.—Correction of an error of his head has been made by Representative John H. Capstick's feet, and he hopes he has shown his constituents that his heart's in the right place by marching in the preparedness parade in New York last Saturday. Moreover, mayhap, on the theory that a hint is as good as a kick, John E. Nicol, his secretary, announces that he will enlist in one of the "Plattsburg encampments" and show of what stern stuff the Fifth District of New Jersey is composed.

Thus, the militancy of the Congressman and his right-hand man will answer, in a concrete negative, the assertions from the Fifth district that Mr. Capstick's vote for the McLemore resolution stamped him as a pacificist and a pro-German.

Still smarting under the sting of letters from his district in condemnation of his vote on the McLemore resolution, Mr. Capstick determined to answer the criticism in a way that no one could misunderstand—that would prove to all elements in his district that he was in favor of preparedness and was a neutral of the neutrals, "an American first, last and all the time." So, from "the green-clad hills of Morris," as Senator Jas. E. Martine poetically paints the scenery of that section, Mr. Capstick hied him to New York Saturday and sought a place in the great parade.

Into the ranks of the wholesale grocers he pressed, and at the command stepped off on his left foot, as proper in all military performances. For estimate of the many miles he covered see route of the parade, for he stuck to his place from start to finish and pulled up as strong as the best of 'em. Now, if any one in the Fifth district suspects that Mr. Capstick is a pacificist or pro-German, or anything but pro-Uncle Sam, said constituent is referred to the record of the march and to the badge which Mr. Capstick wore.

NORWEGIAN INDEPENDENCE.

Minneapolis, May 17.—The Norwegians, who form a large and important part of the population of the Northwest, are celebrating their Independence Day with parades, popular gatherings and patriotic exercises today. The celebrations commemorate the great event of May 17, 1814, when representatives of the people met and promulgated their constitution and asserted the independence of the land. To avoid a bloody war a union was formed with Sweden, under a free government plan. This union was dissolved in a peaceful manner in 1905.

Miss Willie G. Flowers, of this city, has been called to Scottsville, Va., by the serious illness of her father.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

HOW WILL YOU BE RATED ?

PROMPT

FAIR

SLOW

OR

NO PAY

THE CREDIT EXPERIENCE GUIDE OF PLAINFIELD, N. J., AND VICINITY

Now being compiled. So call upon any merchant or professional man that you owe a dollar past due account and settle in full or in part so that you will get your proper rating.

PUBLISHED BY

THE MERCHANTS MERCANTILE AGENCY

PITTSBURG, PENN.

Inc. 1889

TRY A PRESS WANT AD.

The Biederwolf Evangelistic Services

Will revive interest in Bible Reading in Plainfield as never before and regardless of sect, creed or faith. A universal reading of the Bible is bound to make for better citizenship, is bound to make for a plainer, stronger, simpler, honester speech in daily life, and a higher standard of ethics in the dealings of men. A return to Bible reading in these stressful times of world disturbance is needed as never before in our history and is bound to add to the moral and mental equipoise of this entire nation.

To Further Interest Our Readers In Bible Reading the

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

HAS SECURED A LIMITED SUPPLY OF

Big Print Red Letter Bibles

All the Words and Sayings of Christ Printed in Red

This Book of Books

This Bible—this miraculous Bible—this Book of All Books—luminous with the light that dwelleth not on land or sea—this noblest and most beautiful Thing in all the world—what is it—whence cometh it—what means it?

It has made and unmade Nations. It has uprooted Kingdoms and Empires. It has diverted the mighty tides of History. It has crumpled ancient Faiths and Superstitions. Because of it fell Pagan Rome. The antique Systems of India and the Far East have bowed their heads to its enlightened sway.

China and the Orient now first awaken from their sleep of thrice a thousand years, and follow their sister nations of the Occident—whose feet are guided by one sole lamp—the sacred flame of which was kindled by the inspired Hebrew Prophets, and fed for all time by the Lord and Master of the Golden Rule.

Only ignorance scoffs at the Bible! The greatest rulers—the greatest statesmen—the greatest scholars—writers—orators—scientists—soldiers—and the untold millions of the Common People, whose collective genius outweighs them all—have thrilled to its Divine Wisdom.

Its lyrics of unfathomable tenderness—its orations of compelling potency—its contemplative prose of preternatural grandeur—have never been equalled. Its emotional depths and its intellectual heights make it the one and only Book of Books, vouchsafed for the guidance of mankind throughout the ages.

Special Features of This Beautiful Bible

ALL THE WORDS AND SAYINGS OF CHRIST distinguished from the context by being printed in red.

All Passages in the Old Testament prophetic of the coming of Christ, marked with a Star.

All the difficult words in both Testaments made self-pronouncing by diacritical marks; made so simple a child can pronounce them.

Hundreds of Helps and References.
Family Register of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
Exhaustive Marginal Annotations.
Index to Parables and Miracles.
Explanatory Heading at top of each page.
Dissertation on the Lord's Prayer.
Proving the Old Testament, by Dr. Wright.
Books of Reference for Students.
Readings of Revised Version collated with King James Version.

Sunday School Teachers' Use of Bible, by Bishop Vincent.
Calendar of Daily Readings of Scripture, by Whittle.
Authentic Bible Statistics and Information.
Harmony of the Gospels.
From Malachi to Matthew, by Dr. Fernie.
Biblical Weights and Measures.
Christian Worker and his Bible, by Whittle.
How to Study the Bible, by Dwight L. Moody.

Wondrously Beautiful Half-tones of Scenes of Sacred History. Text Printed in Large Type, Easy on the Eyes. Eight Tinted Maps of Bible Lands.

EXQUISITE COLORED PLATES OF

Nazareth, Bethlehem, Holy Sepulchre, Garden of Gethsemane, Visitation of Virgin Mary, Modern Jerusalem, After the Crucifixion, Tiberias, Damascus, Gate of Jerusalem, etc.

This Bible Has Been Distributed By Newspapers All Over The Country For a Much Higher Price Than The Offer Made By The Daily Press.

Specially Bound in Genuine Limp Bible Leather Folding Cover, Red Edges, Round Corners, Gold Lettered Back.

Full size 9⅝x6¾ inches.

Mail Orders Filled.

Begin Clipping Coupons on Page 2 today. Act quickly. Bibles can be seen at Daily Press Office, 193 North avenue.

SPECIAL CAMPAIGN PRICE TO PRESS READERS OF

Only $1.23 AND THREE COUPONS $1.23 Only

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — THE TROUBLE IS FOUND BUT NOT LOCATED — BY "HOP"

Mono Storage

Warehouse
North Avenue
Opp. Freight House
125 East Front Street

If you want definite confirmation of our claims that we can handle your best, just have us submit, for your investigation, a few names of the many people we have "moved."

MOVING PROBLEM

High grade equipment, careful, trained help, moderate charges.

Call-541.

HAND'S EXPRESS CO.

ORGANIZED 1864.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PLAINFIELD

A COMMERCIAL BANK WITH SAVINGS and SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENTS

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Classified Advertisements for insertion in the Plainfield Daily Press can be filed with the following authorized agents at regular office rates:

SCOTCH PLAINS.
H. C. Flannery, Park Avenue, (Phone 1478-W.)

FANWOOD
Walter VanHosen, North Ave., (Phone 1227)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD
P. F. Kaine (Phone 2082-M-2)

DUNELLEN
Robert Bogardus, New Market Road. (Phone 2808-W)

HIGH CLASS MONUMENTAL WORK
Of Every Description
JOHN J. BROWN
Successor to Brown and Gillespie
Fourth and Richmond Streets
Telephone 140.

AUCTIONEERS.

THE LEADING AUCTIONEERS
W. A. SCHORB & CO.
Also Dealers in Second Hand Furniture—Bought and Sold.
120 Madison Av., Jackson Bldg.
Telephone 2296.

STAMP and COUPON EXCHANGE
Beautiful presents given in exchange for all kinds of Trading Stamps, Soap Wrappers, Milk Labels, Tobacco Tags, United Coupons.
We also buy, sell or exchange for stamps and all kinds of coupons.
207 North Avenue.
Opposite R. R. Depot.

ROBT. MURRAY'S Auction Rooms
and Storage Ware Rooms
326 to 330 West Front Street,
Corner Grove
Large and small rooms. Household Furniture, Trunks, etc., at very low rates.
Phone 666.

L. L. MANNING & SON
STEAM GRANITE WORKS
Corner Central Ave. and West Front St
Opp. First Baptist Church. 'Phone 338-J

Estab. 1868 Tel. 2854
J. J. & C. A. HIGGINS
UNDERTAKERS.
Private Funeral Chapel
109-111 West Fourth Street
Auto Cortege for Long Distance.

All Seasonable
PLANTS AND CUT FLOWERS
Floral Design Work a Specialty.
Chas. L. Stanley
Store 159 E. Front St. Tel. 928.
Greenhouses and Nurseries, 1126 South Ave. Tel. 331.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
402 Park Ave. Telephone No. 40
Office open day and night.
Office of Hillside Cemetery.
New York Office 14 East 39th Street
Telephone Call 8341 Murray Hill
New York Embalmers' License 4699
New York State Registered License Undertakers No. 315.

T. A. MOORE
UNDERTAKER
612 E Sixth St.
Tel. 741-R

Carnations
a Specialty
FORRISTEL NURSERY
Successor to
BELLEVIEW AVE. NURSERY CO.
W. H. Forristel, Manager.
Tel. 1349.

Established 1872.
P. CASEY & SON,
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Office 100 North Ave | Telephone 2331 | Residence 417 W. 3rd St
N Y Office, 10 E. 22nd St. Tel. 2094 Gramercy

Want to build? See Saturday's Press.

—Most of the readers of this newspaper know a bargain when they read about it. Are you advertising that car?

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

The Stepping Stones to Opportunity
Where Small Ads. Bring Big Results
The Public Eye is on This Page

WHEN ANSWERING WANT ADS., MENTION THE PRESS

Phone 3000 :: :: :: :: We Do The Rest

CLASSIFIED RATES.

One cent a word first insertion, one-half a cent a word thereafter. Fifty cents a line for one month. Double charge for Capitals. Minimum 10 cents. No display or black face type used.

The Plainfield Daily Press cannot give information regarding advertisements for which answers are to be sent care of the Press. Persons replying must furnish answers as stated in advertisement.

MONSTROUS AUCTION SALE

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MAY 19, 20, 1916.
AT 1 P. M. SHARP
Auction Rooms—Corner Park Ave. and Fourth St., Plainfield, N. J.

Consisting of the Following:

Mahogany buffet, teakwood desk and chair, mahogany crystal closet, mahogany dressing table, mahogany chiffonier, mahogany servette, mahogany sewing table, mahogany bed, spring and hair mattress, mahogany davenport, birdseye maple dresser and chiffonier, twin brass beds, spring and mattress, mahogany chairs and rockers, upholstered easy chairs, mahogany frame couch, upholstered in red plush; one extra fine Turkish rug, 12x15; variety of kitchen utensils.

SPECIAL FOR BOOK LOVERS

The finest collection of books by famous authors ever offered for sale in the city of Plainfield; must be seen to be appreciated.

Auction room opened to the public for inspection of the above Thursday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m.

WILLIAM R. TOWNSEND, Clerk. 5 15 5 GEORGE YORK, Auctioneer.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE AUCTION SALE

SATURDAY, MAY 27,
AT 3:30 P. M.

To close the Estate of the late Thos. C. Aldride, of 69 Grove street, in the Borough of North Plainfield.. This is one of the most desirable properties in that vicinity; well built, slate roof, part brick and frame. House contains ten rooms and two baths, and has a frontage of 86 feet and 275 feet deep, more or less, with a variety of fruit and shade trees. Picture of house will appear in adv. later. For further particulars apply to the auctioneer,

ROBERT MURRAY,
326 West Front Street, Plainfield. 5 13 17 Phone 666

COLLIER HAS COLLECTION OF SING SING MONEY

Paul R. Collier, on East Front street, has a complete assortment of money used by members of the Mutual Welfare League in Sing Sing prison on exhibition at his store. The money was loaned to him by a friend who recently did some contracting work at the prison. It includes every coin and bill from one cent to $5. The coins are made of aluminum and are colored to represent silver and gold. The paper money is printed on ordinary paper, on one side only. Each bill carries the motto, "Do Good—Make Good." This money is given to members of the Mutual Welfare League in Sing Sing for good work and is used there in buying articles of food, clothing or books not a part of prison fare. It can also be exchanged for currency, several dollars for one, at the expiration of a prison term.

DISCUSS CORPORATION LAW.

Committee Appointed to Draft Revision Is Organized.

Trenton, May 17.—The joint committee of the legislature appointed to draft a revision of the corporation law held its initial meeting and organized by selecting Senator Charles A. Rathbun of Morris as president and Assemblyman Edmund B. Randall of Passaic as secretary. The commission may be somewhat handicapped in the important task assigned to it by the fact that no appropriation was made to cover its expenditure.

The members of the commission discussed informally the scope and character of the proposed investigation and agreed that each member should prepare an outline of his own views, which will be considered at the next meeting to be held here, June 6. It was not definitely decided whether public hearings will be given or some other means adopted for a general interchange of views.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all our friends and also the lodges who so kindly offered their help and sympathy during our late bereavement.

FRANK D. FORCE AND FAMILY.

CHANCE FOR PRESS ADVERTISERS TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF THE ENTIRE COUNTY.

As the result of an agreement between the Plainfield Daily Press and the Elizabeth Evening Times any advertiser placing a classified ad in the Press may have that same ad inserted in the Elizabeth Evening Times upon the payment of one-half more than is charged for the Daily Press insertion alone. Thus, if an advertisement in the Daily Press costs forty cents, the same advertisement may be placed in the Elizabeth paper for an additional twenty cents.

The Elizabeth Evening Times has a circulation of 9,000 and is widely distributed throughout Union County. Thus if an advertiser places his advertisement in the Plainfield Daily Press and Elizabeth Evening Times he places it before the eyes of thousands of readers at a very small cost.

Most advertisers welcome the opportunity to attract the attention of the whole county to their offerings and with the co-operation of the Elizabeth Evening Times the Plainfield Daily Press is now able to make this possible. The Elizabeth Evening Times has earned a reputation for itself as an advertising medium, especially along the classified line, and it is a well known fact that its influence extends into other counties besides Union.

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections
126 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CARKHUFF, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST
Telephone 888.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

DIED.

BUCKLEY—Suddenly, on Tuesday, May 16, 1916, James Buckley, aged 56 years.

Funeral from the residence of his brother, Mr. Thomas Buckley, 431 Orchard place, Thursday, May 18, at 8:30 a. m., and at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m., where a high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery. 5 16 2

McNEIL—On Tuesday, May 16, 1916, Gaston McNeil,.

Funeral services Thursday, May 18, in Bethel chapel, corner Fifth and Washington streets, Plainfield, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends respectfully invited. Interment Hillside cemetery.

COLTHAR—On Wednesday, May 17, 1916, Mary E. Colthar, in her 75th year.

Funeral services at her late residence, 33 Manning avenue, North Plainfield, on Friday, May 19, at 3 p. m. Interment in the Evergreen cemetery. 5 17 2

HELP WANTED—MALE.

MESSENGER boy, 16 years old, with bicycle; salary $25 monthly; excellent opportunity for bright boy. Western Union. 3 17 tf

FOUNDRY laborers wanted; steady work; 24 cents per hour. Hall Printing Press Company, Dunellen, New Jersey. 5 17 2

STOCK CLERK—Bright young man wanted in stock room of large manufacturing concern; answer in own handwriting and state experience. Address P. P. H., care Press. 5 17 2

FIREMAN, reliable man familiar with steam boiler and anthracite gas producers. State age, nationality, experience and wages expected under, "Fireman," P. O. Box V. 5 17 3 w-th-s

WANTED—Two strong boys to learn plumbing trade. Apply Arthur F. Newman, 600 Spooner avenue. 5 17 3

BOY wanted; white; about 16 years old. A. M. Griffen Co., East Front street. 5 15 tf

WANTED—Intelligent boy for office work, preferably not under 16; good opportunity for advancement. Apply in own handwriting, stating age and wages expected. Address Office, care Daily Press. 5 15 3

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE.

WANTED—Canvassers; state experience and references; good money for right party. Address W. C., care Daily Press. 3 22 tf

SITUATION WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—Day's work housecleaning and washing at home. 536 West Third street. 5 16 3

FOR RENT OR EXCHANGE

FOR RENT or exchange for board, 104 Summit avenue. 5 16 3

WANTED—TO RENT.

WANTED—Medium sized unfurnished room for light housekeeping for man. Address B. O., care Press. 5 16 3

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Large white cat, yellow eyes. Reward return to Mrs. Giles, 121 East Fourth street.

FOR EXCHANGE.

EXCHANGE unencumbered corner plot Netherwood, for equity in house or farm; improvements. What's offered? Commuter. Renton, 395 Broadway, New York. 5 15

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

BUILDING lot for sale; good location. "Reasonable," care Press. 1 18 tf

LOTS FOR SALE—Clinton avenue and Fourth street—Choicest lots in Plainfield; streets macadamized, flagged and curbed; $50 cash secures any lot, balance terms to suit, or will take back mortgage at 4 per cent. interest. Will help you build. Den. J. Galbraith, 605 Darrow avenue. 5 5 tf

FOR SALE—High Grade Building Lots on Evergreen avenue at Bargain prices. W. S. Haselton, Dunellen, N. J. 5 13 6

FOR SALE—Stelle avenue, near Plainfield avenue, plot 150 foot front, 200 foot deep; cost $5,250, will sell $3,600, less than $25 per front foot. Address "Bargain," care Press. 5 17 6

INCOME property for sale; good paying investment. Address Investment, care of Press 4 16 tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

WALTER L. SCRIVEN, carpenter and builder, 203 View avenue, Plainfield, N. J., jobbing a specialty, city or country. 4 18 3mos

TIRES and tubes repaired and vulcanized; improved methods; prices right; work guaranteed. Rear, 15 Somerset street. 4 19 tf

H. M. CLARK, carpenter and builder, 60 Grandview avenue; jobbing a specialty. 5 4 1mo

WHY NOT brighten your home? We have a full line of gas and electric portables, showers, stoves, semi-indirects, store fixtures and gas and electric supplies, at the lowest prices in the city. Naylor & Naylor, 128 North avenue. 12 13 tf

INSURANCE—ALL BRANCHES. AGENT FOR NATIONAL SURETY CO. J. T. VAIL. tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cedar wood for fences, arbors, rustic work, etc. John Mobus, P. O. Box 320, City; 'Phone 2538-J. 4 1 tf

J. W. PITTS, florist, 51 Leland avenue, Geranium plants, $1 a dozen; tomato and cabbage at wholesale and retail; cut flowers for funeral work. 'Phone 2689-J. 5 10 1mo

FLAGS and lanterns, for parade. Olmsted, 331 Watchung avenue. 5 15 3

ALL kinds of carriages for sale. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES.

READ THIS—Murray's Employment Registry, 326 West Front street, near Grove, for reliable help; fees reduced, and very moderate. 'Phone 666. 2 13 tf

MRS. KELLER'S Employment Agency, 22 Somerset place, all nationalities. 'Phone 1724. tf

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. J. T. Vail. tf

MONEY TO LOAN—First mortgage security; property centrally located. L. A. Clement, attorney, Babcock building. 3 9 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. H. H. Linbarger, 197 North avenue; phone 955 tf

MONEY TO LOAN on mortgage. Manning & Curtis, 106 Depot Park. tf

MONEY TO LOAN on bond and mortgage. Mulford, opposite depot. tf

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—439 West Sixth street, 10 rooms; all improvements; $35. Inquire F. J. Hubbard, 109 West Fifth street 3 16 tf

FOUR rooms to let. 321 Park avenue. J. Manley, storage. 4 4 tf

OFFICE, 321 Park avenue—J. Manley, trucking, expressage and moving. 3 25 tf

FOR RENT—Three rooms, gas and city water. Inquire 311 New street. 4 24 tf

MOVING PICTURE OR STEREOPTICON SHEET FOR RENT, big enough for the largest hall. Apply Daily Press office. tf

MODERATE front office to let. Inquire Silbert's jewelry store. 4 18 tf

TO LET—941 Kensington avenue, small house, desirable location. Telephone 123-J. 5 15 3

LIGHT six-room apartment, all improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, electricity and gas. Apply Neumann Brothers Co., Watchung avenue and Fifth street. 4 25 tf

NEW 5 and 7 passenger car for rent. Plainfield Cab Co. 5 12 1mo

FOR RENT—Modern dwelling, 559 Belvidere avenue, 10 large rooms and 3 bathrooms; hot water heat; parquet floors; open fireplaces. Every modern improvement and convenience. Lot 100x165. May be seen by appointment. The State Trust Company. 3 6 tf eod

FOR RENT—Apartment, 609 Watchung avenue, 3 rooms and bath. H. G. Johnson, 720 Watchung avenue; 'Phone 1887-W. 5 3 tf

TO LET—7-room house, all improvements, near Saurer's plant; $26. M. F. Gano, 315 Watchung avenue, opposite Fourth street. 4 22 tf

FOR RENT—May 1, house 102 West Eighth street, corner Madison avenue, all improvements; 3 bath rooms; hardwood floors; in A-1 condition; hot water heat. W. F. Arnold, City National Bank. 2 3 tf

STORE to rent, corner Watchung avenue and Fifth street. Apply, Neuman Brothers Co. 12 20 tf

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED OPERATORS ON BUTTON AND BUTTONHOLE MACHINES; ALSO A FEW GIRLS ON ZIG-ZAG MACHINES. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 3 14 tf

WANTED—Help to wash dishes and assist in kitchen. 433 East Seventh street. 5 3 tf

WANTED—Experienced girl for general housework; $30, no laundry. 715 Belvidere avenue. 5 15 tf

WANTED—White cook, with references. Mrs. Atterbury, 315 West Seventh street.

WANTED—Experienced chambermaid and waitress; colored. 143 Crescent ave. 'Phone 1351-W. 5 17 3

WANTED—Chambermaid and waitress; white; references required. Call 441 West Eighth street. 5 17 tf

WANTED—A white girl for general housework, country for summer. Call 723 Central avenue. 5 15 3

SMALL girls wanted; four dollars to start; bring working papers. 318 West Front street; Weiser. 5 15 3

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Mrs. T. W. Reid, Hunter avenue, Fanwood. 5 16 6

CHILD'S nurse, white, with good reference. Apply 434 West Seventh street. 5 16 3

WANTED—A girl for second work, temporarily. Call 531 West Seventh street. 5 15 3

GIRL for general housework, white; no laundry. Apply 434 West Seventh street. 5 11 tf

WANTED — General houseworker. Call 346 Franklin place. 5 9 tf

OPERATORS; EXPERIENCED. NAT LEVY & CO., 339 WATCHUNG AVENUE. 1 3 tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Modern house, eight rooms and bath; all improvements; good location; might exchange for farm. "Owner," care Press. 3 18 tf

ROOMS AND BOARD.

APARTMENTS with private bath; also single room. 312 East Seventh street. 7 16 tf

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANT to borrow $2,000 on a plot of 26 lots located on the McDonough tract, near Clinton avenue, and also a corner plot on George street for a period of one year; extra good security. Address Security, care Daily Press. 5 16 3

Condensed Statement of Condition of

The Plainfield Trust Company

As Rendered to the Bank Department of the State of New Jersey
MAY 1st, 1916.

ASSETS.		LIABILITIES
Railroad and other bonds (Market Value, $1,067,325.22)	$1,063,941.55	Capital stock	$ 100,000.00
Bonds and mortgages	1,132,531.98	Surplus and undivided profits	307,980.37
Demand loans, time loans and bills purchased	3,410,990.78	Premium on bonds	17,124.17
Banking House	85,000.00	Interest and taxes accrued	49,746.46
Other real estate	9,454.40	Deposits	6,235,174.63
Accrued interest	41,400.20
Cash and reserve	966,706.72
	$6,710,025.63		$6,710,025.63

OFFICERS:

O. T. Waring, President.
Augustus V. Heely, Vice-President
J. Herbert Case, Vice President
DeWitt Hubbell, Secretary and Treasurer
F. Irving Walsh, Asst. Sec'y-Treas.
A. H. Kirby, Assistant Treasurer

$875 MODEL 17

40 H. P. 7 Pas. STUDEBAKER

The world's greatest automobile value. A sweet, quiet, easy riding, luxurious, beautifully finished car at from $250 to $400 less than any comparable car.

Let us demonstrate this to you.

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.
TEL. 1510, PLAINFIELD. 5 8 1mo

Lawn Mowers?
Right This Way!

True to our policy of the best of everything, we offer you the "GRIFFEN ORANGE" Ball Bearing Mower as the highest product of mechanical skill. Easy running, easy adjusting, the five cutter blades insure a smooth, even lawn. Get the best.

We still carry the old favorites in the Coldwell Lawn Mowers. All sizes, in prices to suit everyone. The best for their price.

The old genuine "PHILADELPHIA" remains a favorite with many people. We have them and can recommend them.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED and repaired. Called for and delivered promptly.

A. M. GRIFFEN CO.
THE BEST OF EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE.
119-121-123 E. Front St., Plainfield.
Two Phones, 5—6.

YOUR FURS NEED REMODELING
LET OUR EXPERTS DO IT.

Why not have your furs brought up-to-date for next Fall? Now is the time to have it done when our skilled fur handlers are not rushed. Insure them against moths by placing them in our even-temperature storage plant.

Our Repairing Suits the Best People
Results Speak for Themselves

CHARLES KURTZMAN
178 East Front St-

THE NEW STATEN ISLAND DRY CLEANING and DYING COMPANY
Has Removed to
110 Watchung Avenue
Next to Marchant's
Fancy Dying a Specialty Telephone 1913
BETTER QUARTERS MEAN BETTER SERVICE
And We Have the Best in Plainfield.

ORGANIZED 1875

It Requires Two Keys

Your valuables when placed in our Fire and Burglar Proof Vault are not only secure, but private. It requires two keys—our key and your key—before the Safe Deposit Box lock will open.

Safe Deposit Boxes for rent
$5.00 AND UP PER YEAR

CITY NATIONAL BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

No exchange on out-of-town checks. Our checks collectible at par through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and New York Clearing House.

COAL AND WOOD DEALERS.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Prompt Deliveries. Orders received at
89 SOMERSET STREET
JOHN MOBUS
P. O. Box 320. Telephone 2538-J.

N. Meyers & Sons
COAL
COKE AND WOOD
Office tel. 1152-W. 121 Watchung Av.
Yard Tel. 1911.

AWNINGS
UPHOLSTERING
WINDOW SHADES
Frank G. Wikoff
721 W. Fourth St. Tel 1746.

Established 1868.

CHOICE PICTURES,
DAINTY MIRRORS
AND UNIQUE PICTURE FRAMES.
AT Swain's
317 W. FRONT STREET,
Plainfield, N. J.

Assortment larger than ever and prices very reasonable.

Artists' materials, Regilding, etc.

JOHN S. HASKARD
'Phone 420.
Cash buyer of scrap, iron scrap, metals, rags and paper stock scrap, rubber, old automobiles and auto tires. New and repaired auto tires for sale.
Yard
WEST 3D AND McDOWELL STS.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING COMPANY
H. MEISTRICH, Prop.
Stores, Offices, Private Residences, New Buildings Cleaned, Scrubbed and Oiled. Office, 121 Liberty St.; Tel. 1945.

L. MORALLER & SONS
WATCHMAKERS AND JEWELERS
WATCHES
CLOCKS and
JEWELRY
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
217 Park Ave. Phone 1783.

REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
MANNING & CURTIS
106 DEPOT PARK

B. GORKIN
43 SOMERSET STREET
Phone 544
PLAINFIELD'S ONLY SPECIAL GLASS MAN
Mirrors re-silvered, Plate Glass furnished and set; Mirrors of all kinds.

Harvey R. Limbarger
REAL ESTATE
INSURANCE
197 NORTH AVENUE.
Telephone 953.

SHORT SKIRTS ARE YOUTHFUL
Short skirts are practical. Make them permanent. The smart woman of today wears her skirts at least six inches from the ground.
KEEP 'EM SHORT.

WE ARE USHERING IN THE GREATEST WHITE SHOE SEASON
ON RECORD

A glance at our windows will give you some idea of what we carry.

Better still, come in and have our salesmen show you the lines.

If you are not one of our regular patrons, we hope to have you added to our list.

Van Arsdale's
127 E. Front St.

Walk-Over Shoes

Our stocks are now complete with a full line of high and low shoes for men and women.

Prices $3.50 to $5.00.

The season's newest designs.

M. ABRAMS
229-233 W. Front St.
Sole Agency Walk-over Shoes.

Have You Headache?
Do your Eyes burn or itch?
Do they feel tired or strained?
If so, have your Eyes examined;
Your glasses may need changing.

STILES & CO
Philadelphia Eye Specialists
AT 107 EAST FRONT ST.
EVERY THURSDAY.
Hours 10 to 5.

EXPERT TREE DOCTOR
Trimming, Spraying, Filling Cavities, and Curing Tree Diseases Scientifically.
Trees Removed and Re-Set
J. P. COSTELLO
17 MANNING AVENUE.
Phone 879.

WHY NOT HAVE YOUR BATHROOM TILED?
Bathroom, laundry and kitchen work a specialty.
Fireplaces, porches and vestibules tiled.
THOMAS H. ROSS
THE TILER
208 Watchung Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.
Telephone Connection

Look For Green Taxis
PHONE 2418.
GASOLINE 24½c.
FORD TAXI COMPANY
159 North Avenue.

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

SERVICE

OF GREAT VALUE TO THE MAN OF BUSINESS

There can be no doubt that a general knowledge of trade conditions throughout the Country, will help to advance your own business interests.

This information is presented in concise form in the monthly Trade Letter issued by this institution.

We will be glad to add your name to our mailing list if you are not already receiving the letter.

THE STATE TRUST COMPANY
CAPITAL $100,000.

Make Your Home Inviting

Nothing adds so much to the attractiveness of your home as

HARDWOOD FLOORS

Our Eureka Brand "AMERICA'S BEST" Oak Flooring is just what you have been looking for. You'll never appreciate the value of Hardwood Floors until you have them. Let us show you samples and talk it over.

J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Co.
EAST END YARD MILL WEST END YARD
No. Av. & Berckman St. Rock Ave. & S. 2d St. Rock Ave. nr. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J. Tel. 1776.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

James C. Hansen
DECORATOR
Dealer in
PAINTS, OIL, GLASS,
VARNISHES, ETC.
141 East Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Distrubtor of John W. Masury & Son's Pure Colors, Ready Mixed Paints, Etc.

1916 WALL PAPERS
IMPORTED and AMERICAN GOODS
C. CONOVER & CO
Decorators, Painters and Paper-Hangers, Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Place. Tel. 1145.

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 5.08, 5.40, (7.26 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.52, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), (8.52 except holidays), 6.27, 6.55, 7.22, 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.25, 2.39, 2.55, 3.11, 4.01, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.30, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.53, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.23, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—5.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.05 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29, 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.13, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.39, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.13, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.36 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.18, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 5.44 (6.59 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.59, 5.44, 7.05 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (8.52 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (3.11 Red Bank only), 4.13, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.13 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—3.41, 9.52 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.43, 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.46, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.20 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.43, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.46, 3.42, 4.29, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39, 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.46, 5.46, 6.47 p. m.

*Except Mauch Chunk. 5 3 '16

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

—Until you have canvassed the readers of this newspaper on the matter, do not decide whether or not this may be a "poor time to sell" that property

---

ORGANIZED 1868
PLAINFIELD SAVINGS BANK
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is Your Money Doing Its Duty

It is important to place all idle cash promptly to your credit in the bank at interest.

It is not wise to hold it over until you have a large amount.

Your account is invited.

Accounts of $1 and up accepted.

William F. Arnold, President.
Albert C. Stebbins, Vice-President.
Howard A. Pope, Secretary and Treasurer.
H. B. MacDonald, Asst. Sec'y and Treas.

4% INTEREST PAID
ONLY SAVINGS BANK IN PLAINFIELD

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting-room, Watchung Avenue and Fourth Street, Plainfield, any week-day between 8:30 and 10 A. M.

All-year jobs at good pay.

KILLS PEDESTRIAN WHILE DRIVING AUTO.

A man high up in the affairs of a neighboring city, while learning to operate a new car, last week, ran down and killed a man.

Mr. Auto Owner, your car may be the next in such an accident and a policy from this office will protect your liability.

FREDERICK A. MARTIN CO.
(Successor to Elston M. French and J. C. Pope & Co. Insurance Agency)
171 NORTH AVENUE Telephone 2304
Insurance Mortgages Real Estate
The Oldest Insurance Agency in This City.

It is proper that the housewife should know as much about the business of buying for the home as her husband knows about the business in which he earns his income.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.
Beginning April 29 and until further notice, the Daily Press will be issued at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

THE WEATHER.
Fair, continued cool, tonight and Friday; west to northwest winds. Highest yesterday, 60; lowest this morning, 42.

Established May 10, 1887. TWELVE PAGES PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1916. TWELVE PAGES Two Cents a Copy, $5 a Year

ROSE TAG DAY FOR MUHLENBERG

Woman's Auxiliary Board to Make Its Appeal June 17, Beginning at Sunrise.

TO COVER ENTIRE CITY

More Than 500 Collectors, Armed with Boxes, Will Solicit Aid from Public for Helping Poor Who are Sick.

On Saturday, June 17, the Women's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital, through more than 500 volunteer workers in the cause of the poor who are sick and the sick who are poor, are going to make its appeal for financial support from all residents and visitors in the city limits.

They are going to have a "Rose Tag Day." This especial sort of a tag day has been worked very successfully in London, Eng.; Toronto, Ont., and Ottawa, Canada, but it has never been taken up in this country. Early that morning the volunteer staff of 500 collectors will take their posts in 50 assigned districts and from 7:30 in the morning until 10:30 at night they will try and beguile the pennies, dimes and dollars from all they meet. As a receipt for a contribution, whether small or large, they will present the giver with a rose, which should be worn in the lapel of the coat or pinned on the dress to show that that person has been "tagged."

The volunteer workers will all be dressed as trained nurses. The Women's Auxiliary hope to be able to make this tag day an annual affair.

To those who do not know what the Women's Auxiliary is, it might be well to tell them that it is the helping hand to the Board of Governors of the hospital. The women in the auxiliary assist the governors in the work of caring for the sick and suffering of this city. They assist them in furnishing fruit, jellies, delicacies, etc., to the ward patients. They buy appointments for the children's ward.

In 1915, the Twigs, a subsidiary of the Women's Auxiliary composed of 175 women, gave their time and energies to working upon materials, furnished by the Women's Auxiliary, and making nearly 6,000 articles, such as bandages, sleeping garments, towels, sheets, etc., for the hospital.

All of these delicacies, materials, etc., cost a lot of money and the extent of the Auxiliary Board's resources measures the amount of work it can accomplish.

It is one of the most worthy, helpful organizations in Plainfield and it is hoped, that by means of the Rose Tag Day on June 17, to raise in the neighborhood of $5,000, which amount would give the Board more latitude in assisting and helping the sick and suffering of this city.

It is to be hoped that Plainfielders will generously respond on "Rose Tag Day."

MISS JANET RICHARDS WILL RETURN NEXT YEAR

Miss Janet E. Richards, of Washington, the noted lecturer, who has appeared in this city for the past number of winters with a series of talks on "Current Event" topics of the day, will again favor Plainfield on her 1916-17 schedule. Her talks will again be delivered in the Hartridge Auditorium and the dates she will come here are the following: Thursdays, November 2, November 23, December 7, January 11 and 25, February 8 and 22, March 8, 22 and 29.

The coming season promises to be one of varied and unusual interest, national and internationally, and Miss Richards' many enthusiastic admirers here are pleased that she has decided not to leave Plainfield, as seemed at one time possible in view of urgent demands from other towns for the dates she gives to Plainfield.

TO MEET AT Y. W. C. A.

The girls from the city and borough High Schools will meet Mrs. Marie Brake, of the evangelistic party in the Y. W. C. A. parlors tomorrow afternoon at 3:15, instead of at the First Baptist church.

Big Automobile Auction Sale Next Saturday, 2 p. m.

At Thompson's Garage, the following desirable cars taken in trade will be sold to highest bidders regardless of price: 1916 Hudson touring, 1916 Dodge touring, 1914 Stutz roadster, 1914 Studebaker "4," 1913 Premier light six, 1913 Studebaker touring, 1913 Pilot light six, 1913 Studebaker coupe, 1913 Westcott touring, all electric lighted and started; 1911 Chalmers pony-tonneau, 1911 Cadillac roadster. These cars have all been gone over, some repainted, and are far better purchases than low priced new cars. Any of these cars will be sacrificed or exchanged prior to sale Saturday.—Adv. 5 17 3 ***

—Compensating vapor plug, $5.00; saves gasoline, increases power. Laing Machine Auto Repair Co.—Adv. 5 16 3eod

Do You Want

to be up-to-date? Buy a Chalmers. Stryker Motor Car Co.—Adv. 4 24 tf ***

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

CONVENTION FUND NEEDS BOOSTING

Dollar Contributions Particularly Acceptable to Citizens' Committee.

OBJECT MARK IS $2,000

Want as Many Plainfielders as Possible Represented on Contributing List—Entertainment Will Be Fitting But Not Expensive.

With plans for the twenty-sixth annual State convention of the New Jersey Letter Carriers' Association rapidly nearing completion the local citizens' committee having the preliminary details in charge finds itself still without sufficient funds to successfully carry out the elaborate program contemplated. To date about $1,300 has been contributed by public-spirited Plainfielders, while from $1,600 to $2,000 must be obtained within the next week in order to assure the committee that a deficit will not exist on May 30, when all details have been completed.

The citizens' committee will meet again tonight and transact an accumulation of business. It is the desire of those in charge that as many Plainfielders as possible be represented among the contributors, and the committee wishes it made plain that small contributions are particularly acceptable. Letters have been sent to several hundred local residents who have not as yet replied, and if this number will enclose the dollar contributions requested the aim of the workers will be realized. One dollar is the popular figure, but sums either larger or smaller than this are, of course, appreciated.

In order that the 3,000 or more outsiders who come to Plainfield on Decoration Day may be entertained in a fitting manner and in a way that will make a favorable impression of Plainfield hospitality on them, the committee needs a $2,000 fund, and needs it badly. It is to the interest of every Plainfield citizen to have the visitors here on that date, as it will no doubt prove one of the greatest advertisers the city has ever had.

Acceptances received from departments in New York city, Paterson, Elizabeth, Somerville, Perth Amboy, Amboy, New Brunswick, Hoboken, Jersey City and elsewhere fotetell a wide representation and interest in the big convention. While the scale of entertainment will not be an expensive one, it will befit the occasion, and a reasonable amount of money is needed to defray the cost.

TOMORROW'S THE DAY! CIRCUS WILL BE HERE

Cook and Wilson Show Only One Coming to Plainfield This Spring.

Cook & Wilson's Wild Animal Circus is to exhibit at the corner of Arlington avenue and Rose street tomorrow. Interest is accentuated by the unusual reputation the show has achieved, not only for magnitude, but also for the remarkable character of its performances. Instead of the conventional circus exhibition familiarized by many tent shows in recent years, Cook & Wilson announce an absolutely new departure in the line of wild beast displays. Two characteristics of the exhibition are especially accentuated. The animals selected are all young and exceptionally intelligent specimens, while, without an exception, they are forest-born and bred. This, it is declared, ensures a performance full of life and vim, with all the thrilling peril to the trainers inseparable from a performance given with untamed beasts. No more exciting exhibition, it is said, has ever been given in a trained animal arena. The trained animal numbers are said to include astonishing acts by lions, tigers, pumas, bears, leopards, jaguars, monkeys and many other curious creatures from Jungle Land, the more dangerous of which are displayed in what is said to be the largest steel arena and portable platform ever constructed. The rings are utilized for exhibitions by great herds of reason-endowed elephants, horses, ponies and other familiar animals.

The trained animal displays, clever as they are, do not, it is announced, exhaust the entertaining features of the big show. In addition to the trained beasts there is a high-class circus performance, utilizing the services of scores of the world's greatest acrobats, aerialists, riders and other arenic stars. A great company of clowns serve to give a comedy touch to the program.

Circus Day will be inaugurated with a free street parade. The parade is said to be a full mile in length and is credited with being one of the most novel and brilliant displays of the kind ever offered the American public. The performances follow at 2 and 8. The doors will, however, be opened an hour earlier to afford the public an opportunity to inspect the various displays and to hear the preliminary concert by Al. J. Massey's military band, a musical organization of world-wide reputation.

8,000 MARCH FOR CHRIST IN BIGGEST DEMONSTRATION PLAINFIELD HAS EVER SEEN; HUNDREDS TURNED AWAY FROM TABERNACLE

12,000 Cheered as Paraders Moved Over Down Town Streets Last Night.

WAY BRIGHTLY LIGHTED

Took Thirty-five Minutes for Procession to Pass Given Point—All Local Churches and Many Other Organizations Represented.

While 12,000 Plainfielders stood crowded along Watchung avenue, Front street and Geraud avenue, more than 8,000 men, women and children last night paraded local streets behind a brilliant cross in a demonstration for Christianity.

It was by far the biggest demonstration of any kind that Plainfield has ever known, and those who took part pronounced it by far the best thing Plainfield has ever done.

Not all of those whose hearts were in sympathy with the cause were in the formation, for all along the line of march men and women waved flags and banners, and children burned red fire that the way of those who walked might be made clear. The demonstration ended at the pine Tabernacle, where almost every human soul that could be packed into the big barn-like structure, now hallowed by good deeds and better decisions, heard a wonderful sermon by the Rev. William E. Biederwolf. In response to his appeal they came forward to pledge a life for Christ until the space in front of the pulpit was filled and it was necessary to have them stand on the platform while they followed the evangelist in the penitent's prayer, which begins "O God, be merciful to me a sinner."

"Will you ever forget it?" were the first words of Dr. Biederwolf after the parade had ended and the marchers were crowded into the Tabernacle, and Plainfield sincerely voted that it never would.

Dr. Biederwolf's civico-religious demonstration began to take shape shortly before 7 o'clock last night, although Mr. Heaton, Mr. Kaufman, Mr. McCutcheon, Mr. Laing and many others had labored many hours making it possible. At 6:30, Lieut. Morris Higgins reached the crescent on Watchung avenue with a squadron of Plainfield's finest, and soon after the policemen came men, women and children, each one carrying a flag or a lantern. Many minutes before dark this part of the city was lighted by the flickering sparks that darted about like so many fireflies. But for ingenious and careful planning and supervision the parade would have become hopelessly entangled in its own bigness and would never have started except as a chaotic mass of excited individuals. Promptly at 7:45, Bugler Warren Ackerman sounded "March!" and the Dutch Arms' band began to play a sacred song.

C. W. McCutcheon was grand marshal and, with the assistance of Arthur T. Goodenough, Donald A. McGee, J. Hartley Melick and J. Rex Shoemaker, who acted as aides, he handled the thousands in line with perfect despatch.

Behind the band was a flaming cross. It was mounted on a truck of the Public Service Corporation. Allen B. Laing fitted out the cross. It contained scores of electric lights, and the power was from batteries carried on the truck. Following the cross came Lieut. Higgins with his squad of patrolmen, and after them the automobile that carried Dr. Biederwolf, Mayor Calkins, Mrs. Biederwolf, Mrs. Brake and others of the party. In the next automobile rode Judge William De Meza, Councilman Graves, Smink, Booth and other city officials, and behind them came representatives of the two local newspapers in a machine. All the ministers of Plainfield—and it was said that not a one was missing—marched next. They trudged along in the dust and gasoline fumes from the automobile of the reporters, waving

(Continued on page 7.)

BIGGEST THING EVER IN PLAINFIELD, SAYS MAYOR.

I have been in other parades in our city and I have attended big meetings, but I do not think I have seen anything like last night's parade in Plainfield before. Since Dr. Biederwolf has been here I have had people of different walks of life say to me: "What do you think of it all, and do you approve of it?" Let me say that I do approve of the purpose for which these remarkable meetings have been held. The object I believe to be wholly praiseworthy and deserving the support of all good people, even though they differ on many points among themselves. We need not be in agreement on all matters in order to support heartily a worthy cause, the aim and purpose of which is to awaken our better impulses as men and women and rouse us to the things in life that are really worth while. I did not know that Dr. Biederwolf was going to call on me to speak last evening, but I am glad that he did, so that I might congratulate the people of Plainfield on the great demonstration of approval of all honest effort for good. The crowds that have thronged the Tabernacle day after day for five weeks show what the people of the city think of the campaign. And I congratulate Dr. Biederwolf also, and those who have worked with him, because I think they deserve this tribute, and I am sure it must be very gratifying to them. I think Plainfield will be the better for the work they have done here.

"Will You Ever Forget It?" Dr. Biederwolf's First Words From Pulpit.

CROWD ANSWERS "NO!"

Many Walk Sawdust Aisle at End of Glorious Day—Mayor Calkins is Enthusiastic Over Showing Made by Local People.

MRS. J. M. ATWOOD DIES IN 78TH YEAR

Former Plainfield Woman Passes Away at Wellsleett, Mass.

Mrs. Jennie B. Atwood, wife of James M. Atwood, and a former well known resident of this city, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Wellsleet, Mass., following a lingering illness, through which she had been a patient sufferer. News of her demise came to Capt. and Mrs. William C. Smith, of Grandview avenue, the borough ,today, by telegram. The funeral will be held at Wellsleet, Mass., Saturday afternoon and burial will be in that city.

Mrs. Atwood was seventy-eight years old aud until twenty years ago lived on East Second street, this city. Last September she and her husband visited friends in Plainfield and at that time her fatal illness first became apparent.

Although she was personally known to hundreds of Plainfielders her acquaintanceship was broadened largely through her affiliation with the Women's Relief Corps. She was the first provisional president in New Jersey and organized the New Jersey department. She occupied the position of first department president for many years and during her stay in Plainfield organized the Plainfield post of the Women's Relief Corps. She was a woman of rare executive ability and beloved by all who knew her. Beside her husband she leaves one sister, who resides at present in California. Capt. and Mrs. Smith, of the borough, will leave this city tomorrow to attend the funeral in Wellsleet, Saturday afternoon.

MOYNIHAN AND FIKE TURN STATE'S EVIDENCE

Michael T. Moynihan and Arthur C. Fike, both of Dunellen, who were indicted with Francis W. Holbrook, president of the Home Ice and Products Company, and Raymond E. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Roosevelt Trust Company, for conspiracy to defraud the bank, turned State's evidence at Holbrook's trial before Justice Osborne, in Newark, on Tuesday.

The indicement against Fike and Moynihan, who were secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the ice company, was severed Monday when the trial started. Raymond E. Smith was the principal witness for the State. Smith, Moynihan and Fike related the manner in which the ice company was to be floated by money drawn from the Roseville Trust Company, although they had none on deposit there. It is alleged they got $25,000.

RICHARD A. CLAYBROOK NAMED BY GOVERNOR

Made Member of State Board of Managers for Feeble-Minded Males.

Former Councilman Richard A. Claybrook, of Grant avenue, was yesterday named by Governor Fielder as a member of the Board of Managers of the State's Colonies for Feeble Minded Males. It is expected he will be the chairman of the committee, the other members of which are Daniel W. Bishop, of Florence; Ephraim Morristown, of Newton, and George Armour, of Princeton.

The fact that Mr. Claybrook has received the above appointment is pleasing to his many friends here who recognize his ability to serve either his city or State.

MISS MOLLY FANCHER LEAVES ESTATE OF $3,500

The will of Molly Fancher, the invalid who died February 11, last, after spending fifty years in bed at her home on Gates avenue, Brooklyn, was filed yesterday. It bequeaths the estate estimated at $3,500, to a nephew, W. Claude Heaton, at Watertown, N. Y., with the exception of two small bequests to friends. Mr. Heaton has indicated that he will not accept the bequest, and it was said that part of the estate will go to the Molly Fancher Memorial for Cripples and to endow a "Molly Fanchor Room" at the House of St. Giles the Cripple in Brooklyn. Miss Fancher was well known at Fanwood, where she has relatives.

STORM AT GALVESTON.

Galveston, May 18.—A northerly storm with a wind velocity of from forty to sixty miles per hour was today sweeping the Middle and West Gulf States. The precipitation in Galveston in the last twelve hours has been 1.06 inches, and at San Antonio, 1.36 inches.

STATISTICS.

Wednesday.

Attendance	7,000
Decisions	50
Reconsecrations	61
Children	11

Totals to date:

Attendance	195,800
Decisions	1,536
Reconsecrations	2,558
Children	307
	4,401

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

PLEDGE LOYALTY TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Knights of Columbus in Annual Convention Endorse Chief Executive.

By holding practically a continuous session and rushing work, the State Council of the Knights of Columbus, in convention in Newark, in the absence of any important contests for offices, was able to finish its labors and adjourn Tuesday night. In recent years the annual sessions have generally continued two days. Included in the business of the body was the adoption of a resolution of loyalty to the President. The business of the day was closed with a salute to the flag.

The pledge of loyalty to the President was adopted by a rising vote of not only the accredited delegates but all the alternates as well. The resolution was as follows:

"The Knights of Columbus of New Jersey, in convention assembled, pledge their loyalty to the President of the United States in his efforts to uphold the honor of our people and in his determination to preserve the peace of our country amid the existing world crisis."

In the staff of officers two changes were made. Eugene J. Sullivan, of Newark, was elected State secretary, succeeding Joseph H. Manley, of Paterson, and A. J. McElhone, of Gloucester, was chosen treasurer succeeding Albert H. Marple, of Camden. Other officers elected were: John F. O'Neill, of Jersey Ctate, State deputy; Francis A. Coan, of South Amboy, State advocate; H. P. Greenwood, of Plainfield, State warden, and Rev. Joseph A. Ryan, of Millville, State chaplain. The last four were re-elected.

General Manager, N. Y. Hudson Service and Repair Department, Now in Charge of Thompson's Service and Repair Department.

Thompson Auto Co. has been very fortunate in securing Mr. J. E. Keeler to take charge of their service and repair department. Mr. Keeler has been in charge of the Hudson Motor Car Co.'s service and repair department for the past two years, previous to that time Mr. Keeler was in charge of the Alco service and repair department for eight years. If you encounter any serious trouble or you wish the kind of work that until now could only be handled in New York, do not fail to consult Mr. Keeler.—Adv. 5 17 2 with your automobile become large ones unless attended to. Better let us look your car over. Martin Automobile Co.—Adv. ***

Small Troubles

Notice to Dog Owners.

All dog licenses expire on May 20th, and should be renewed on or before that date.—Adv. 5 16 3 ***

U. S. CONSULS TO HAVE CONFERENCE

Called to Meet for Comparing of Notes on the Mexican Situation.

OBREGON IN DENIAL

Says He Never Said Nice Things About President Wilson—Carranza Sends 10,000 Men to Protect Border.

Washington, May 18.—All the United States consuls stationed throughout Northern Mexico are to hold a conference in the United States somewhere along the border within the next few days. It was learned at the State Department today that there officials will get together for the purpose of comparing notes on the situation in their respective territories.

This action comes after the recent order to consuls to call again the attention of American residents in Mexico the long-standing State Department recommendation that they abandon their colonies and keep out of the country.

These orders have been issued at intervals during both the Taft and Wilson administrations, but, except in isolated districts, have never caused a general exodus of American residents. It is explained that the order calling out Mr. Fletcher and possibly other consular representatives was occasioned by the difficulties of telegraphic communication from the interior. All is reported quiet at the Chihuahua State capital.

Officials here were keenly interested in the reports from Mexico City that the Carranza cabinet was considering a project to oust several large American landowning corporations from Northern Mexico. Since no action has been taken in this regard by the Mexican de facto government no representatives are likely to be made. General Obregon's statement in denial of his quoted expressions in compliment to President Wilson caused much speculation here.

The Mexican Secretary of War is quoted in a despatch from Mexico City as having declared:

"Please deny the report that I have made a public declaration of confidence that President Wilson does not contemplate war with Mexico. I have made no declaration, public or private, regarding international relations since leaving El Paso.

10,000 Men to Border.

Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico, May 18—General Jacinto Trevino is on his way today to Chihuahua City to take personal command of the Mexican expedition. He is moving northeast toward the Texas border to cooperate with troops of the American patrol in eliminating the banditti from the frontier country. Before leaving for the north he explained his campaign as follows:

"I am going to Chihuahua with 10,000 fresh men, making, with the 7,000 now on the frontier, a total of 17,000 troops. These will be distributed at all important points, both inland and on the frontier, to prevent further raids into the States and finish up Villa bandits quickly. I am arranging special motor truck service to the isolated garrisons in order to supply provisions."

DEATH ENDS ILLNESS OF POPULAR YOUNG MAN

Following an illness of several months from an acute attack of diabetes, death came early this morning to John Gray, a well known and popular local young man. The demise occurred at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Gray, 910 West Fifth street. His residence previous to the time his illness began was at Watchung avenue and East Fifth street.

Mr. Gray was twenty-four years old and had resided in Plainfield practically all his wife. After completing his studies in the Plainfield High School he was employed for a time in New York, but more recently was located at the Neumann Bros. store, in a managerial capacity. While he was affiliated with no fraternal organizations he had the faculty of making and keeping friends and his untimely death has occasioned deep regret. He was a member of the Monroe Avenue Methodist church, at one time serving as treasurer of the Sunday-school department. Beside his mother, he is survived by his wife, a sister, Miss Gertrude Gray, and a half brother, James Dodd.

The funeral will be held at the mother's home on West Fifth street Saturday afternoon at 2:30 and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph. Interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

ADDRESS ON ALLIES' BAZAAR.

Prof. Harper, of Princeton University, who has recently returned from Belgium, and Mrs. Trowbridge, also of Princeton, will speak tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. Frederick W. Wallace, of Hillside avenue, at 11 o'clock on "The Bazaar for the Aid of the Allies" to be held in New York. Members of Plainfield societies interested, particularly those of the Prince of Wales committee and the Belgian relief committee are especially invited to be present.

FRENCH CLAIM TO HAVE ADVANCED

Say They Took Strong Positions Last Night on Hill 304.

DENIAL FROM BERLIN

Germany Apologizes to Switzerland for Sussex Sinking—England Organizes Aerial League—Fighting on Italian Front.

Paris, May 18.—French war statement:

Important gains were made by the French on the west side of the Meuse last night, General Nivelles' forces carrying a German trench north of Hill No. 287 and also capturing a redoubt on Hill No. 304. These successes were announced in this afternoon's communique of the War Office, which also stated that German attacks in Avocourt Wood were repulsed.

Germans Deny Defeats.

Berlin, May 18.—Three separate attacks were delivered by the French against the German position on Hill No. 304 this morning, but all of them were repulsed, the German War Office announced today. The assaults followed a vigorous bombardment of the German positions by French artillery. Infantry fighting has become extremely violent on both sides of the Meuse river in the Verdun sector.

Casement Trial Soon.

London, May 18.—Demands by counsel for the crown for a speedy trial of the high treason charges against Sir Roger Casement and Daniel J. Bailey, led to the belief that the plotters will be arraigned in the High Court of Justice within a fortnight.

Vatican Opposes U-Boats.

London, May 18.—The Vatican has made representations to Germany in an effort to have Germany abandon her submarine warfare, it was announced in Commons today by Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary.

Activity on Italian Front.

Vienna, May 18 (via Berlin, wireless).—Artillery duels are reported from the entire southwestern front. The War Office announced today that the Italians delivered strong attacks on Drpberdo plateau, and in the sector of Dolomites, but were repulsed.

Must Obey U. S. Laws.

Washington, May 18.—The German Government, through Count Von Bernstorff, Ambassador here, today informed all Germans and persons in any way connected with that empire to observe strictly the laws of the United States.

Apology to Switzerland.

Geneva, May 18.—Germany has apologized to Switzerland for the death of two Swiss killed aboard the Sussex when the channel steamer was wrecked by a torpedo from a German submarine. She also offers indemnity to the families of the victims.

Reinforce on British Front.

Amsterdam, May 18.—Twenty thousand fresh German troops have been sent to reinforce the Teuton line in the region of Bethune, where hard fighting between the British and German forces has been in progress for some time.

British Aeriel League Formed.

London, May 18.—Sir Horace L. Smith Dorrien, recently commander of the British forces in East Africa, was today appointed a member of the Aeriel Board, headed by Lord Curzon. The Board held its first session today, taking evidence by which it hopes to improve the aviation service.

$1,000,000 Loss in Ship.

Amsterdam, May 18.—Destruction of the Dutch steamer Batavier V, which was sunk Tuesday with the loss of an American passenger, resulted in a monetary loss of more than $1,000,000. The ship carried $50,000 in gold in fourteen cases containing $25,000 each, 7,500 bags of rice and a large supply of coffee and piece goods.

Asquith in Cork.

Cork, Ireland, May 18.—Premier Asquith arrived here from Dublin today. The premier is making a complete investigation of the situation in Southern Ireland.

FUNERAL OF JAMES BUCKLEY.

The funeral of James Buckley, of Orchard place, whose death occurred Tuesday morning, was held this morning in St. Mary's church this morning in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Mass for the repose of his soul was offered by Father Hennessey, the recently appointed curate. The many floral tributes included a handsome set piece from the deceased's brother, Thomas Buckley, bearing the inscription, "Brother." Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, the pallbearers being four friends, William Smith, Andrew McClelland, Frank Day and John Bowman.

—An inefficient office helper may serve to turn the tide against you in many a possible business transaction.

Scotch Plains and Fanwood

EXPECT ROUSING 'FEELING' MEETING ON SCHOOL ISSUE HERE TONIGHT

With a whole week of discussion and planning to help, a meeting of the voters of the township and borough will be held in School No. 1 tonight at 8 o'clock to listen to the Board of Education's plan to relieve the congested conditions existing in the Scotch Plains school. No vote will be taken or definite announcement made, it being a meeting more to find out if the citizens agree with the proposition of the Board or, if not, what plan they have hit on to solve the problem. From the interest that has been fanifested in the coming meeting during the past few days the indications are that the meeting will approach in size the one held back in 1889, when a hearing on the trolley question was held in the township committee rooms.

The building committee of the Board of Education has had tentative plans drawn that will be presented at the meeting tonight. The Board favors the building of an eight-room, two-story addition to School No. 1. If one were constructed it would probably be of the same material as the main building—brick and cement. Such an addition would nearly double the capacity of the school and make room for six hundred youngsters.

Whether this plan is going to meet with favor from all sides or not remains to be seen, but from previous experiences of the same kind it is likely that some people, at least, will have other views, and it is to find out what these are that the meeting has been called.

Town Topics

The residents of Fanwood and Scotch Plains are going to have to pay dearly for relief from dust the coming summer, according to reports that have been received by the local street departments. Last year the cost of oil per gallon was approximately two cents, and now it has risen over a hundred per cent. and will now cost in the vicinity of five cents a gallon. When it is considered that the borough and township use at least fifteen thousand gallons of oil, the item will be considerably increased.

In regard to that mass meeting of voters of the township and borough to be held in School No. 1 tonight to discuss local school problems, it seems clear that it is the duty of every citizen who has any public pride at all to be on hand to thoroughly discuss the question from all angles and points. It does not do any good, as has been the case on several previous occasions, to wait until the thing is all over and then come out and complain. If there are things the voters do not like, it is up to them to be at the meeting and say so. That is the only way matters can be so arranged as to please the greatest number. It is clear, also, that things have reached that stage in the local schools that makes it imperative that something be done to relieve the congestion, and with that idea in mind the voters should attend the meeting tonight with the object of convincing the Board of Education what that thing is that will do the most good.

We take this chance to congratulate Charles Sheelen on reaching his seventeenth milestone as collector of Fanwood borough. Probably more valuable than any other local public official, Mr. Sheelen has given a great deal of his time for many years filling the office as it should be filled. To attain a record of a hundred per cent in collections for that number of years is something that does not occur in this large country throughout its length and breadth once in a lifetime, and Mr. Sheelen has received queries from various public officials and publications asking how he went about to obtain the record.

Just a word might be said in reference to the gypsy case that the borough solved several weeks ago. The ordinance under which the band of wanderers was taken into custody and later forced to leave town was adopted but a short three months before it was needed. If there had been no such ordinance the borough officials would have had to wait until the gypsies had created some real disturbance before taking a hand; but as it was, they had hardly landed in town before they had wished they were miles away.

The incident should act as an example to the governing bodies of both the township and borough in making haste to pass new ordinances that will cover heretofore unprotected spots.

TOWNSHIP FATHERS MEET.

A meeting of the Township Committee is scheduled to be held in the Excelsior Hall rooms tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

—That funny fellow scoop is on the classified page.

THE SEASON'S TREAT
Bock Beer
Equal to Any—Superior to Many
All Kinds of Bottled Beer on Hand
Try it at
Ye Olde Historic Inn
H. J. FROWERY, Proprietor
Wholesale and Retail Liquor Dealer
Deliveries to All Parts of Township
RESTAURANT
Dinner a la Carte at Reasonable Prices.
Tables Reserved for Families and Parties
One Block From Trolley, Scotch Plains, N. J. Get off at Park Ave.
Telephone 1470 Fanwood.

THE PARK AVENUE MARKET
(Clarence E. Sharkey)
Swift's Hams
Fresh and Smoked Meats
Highest Quality
Telephone 1218-J. Scotch Plains

PLAINFIELD NURSERY
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
EVERGREENS, RHODODENDRONS, ROSES, TREES, ETC.
We plant and deliver everywhere
Cut Flowers a Specialty Phones 1451—1218 W. Fanwood.

LET EXPERTS DO YOUR REPAIRING
AT
The Scotch Plains Garage
(Schiffel and Frazee)
Repairs—Supplies—Storage Open day and night
Auto Bus to Hire
Bicycle Accessories
Corner Park and Mountain Avenues SCOTCH PLAINS
Telephone 1466

CENTRAL MARKET
(Charles Michaels)
Best Place in Scotch Plains to Buy High-Grade Meats, Fresh and Smoked, and All Kinds of Heinz Pickles.
Phone 1478-M. SCOTCH PLAINS

17 YEAR RECORD SETS PRECEDENT

Collector Charles Sheelan Has Established Notable Mark in the Office.

HAS TRIED 250 CASES

As Borough Recorder He is Without a Rival for the Office and is Wanted for Years to Come—Receiving Congratulations today.

After completing his seventeenth year as collector of Fanwood Borough, Charles Sheelan, of North avenue, is receiving the congratulations today of his many friends and acquaintances for the record he has established during that time. Each succeeding year, as he has maintained his one hundred per cent. record he has passed other collectors throughout the State, until today it is said that he has a longer perfect record than any other in New Jersey, and as he is not yet through with the office, it is safe to say that by the time he retires he will have established a mark that may be "shot at" by aspirants for years to come.

When Mr. Sheelen took hold of the financial reins of the borough on May 18, 1899, at the earnest request of the late George Kyte, who was then mayor, things were in a truly deplorable state. Since the incorporation of Fanwood, three years before, there had been three collectors—Walter L. Force, O. B. Lightowler and George Carter—all resigning after one year apiece at the job. When Mr. Sheelen first took office there were a majority of accounts on the books that dated from the day of the borough's birth, and Mr. Sheelen started off by collecting all back taxes in three months. In so doing he created more enemies than friends, and some of those who sought his election tried to get him out of office.

With things on a stronger financial basis than they had ever been before, he incorporated a system into the office and succeeded in having taxes levied more evenly than before, with the result that some who had been paying large amounts had the pleasure of seeing the previously favored ones doing it. Since that time the valuation in the borough assessible has increased about ten times and is now approaching the million mark.

Of the taxes for the current year, Mr. Sheelen has collected all but a few hundred dollars; and, to use his own words, "With the money bringing the borough eight per cent. interest, nothing will be done until the fore part of June, when things will start moving."

Not content with seeing that the financial end of the borough moved along smoothly, Mr. Sheelen has been the recorder and head of the law end of the governmental reins for going on eleven years, being the only one to hold the office. He held the first court in Fanwood and since that time has presided at nearly two hundred and fifty cases of all sorts and descriptions. Two cases have been appealed to higher courts, but no decisions have ever been reversed.

Besides presiding at trials of evildoers that have chanced into the grasp of the minion of the law, he has "tied a considerable number of knots," some having regular romances attached to them.

The pressure of his own business has tempted Mr. Sheelen in the last few years to resign from both offices, but as it is evident to everyone that the two departments he heads would go "to smash" in that case, there is not a great deal of likelihood that residents will allow him to retire without bringing an awful lot of pressure to bear upon the subject.

IMPROVEMENT OUTLOOK BAD.

After rising brightly on the horizon of local automobilists and drivers of other vehicles, visions of a passable Westfield road are slowly beginning to fade. Just when the borough and township street officials had reached an agreement to repair the road, which forms the boundary line between the two places, the owners of horses and wagons who had offered their services free so as to hasten the improvements have backed down, and it now looks as if another summer would pass before anything is done.

COMING EVENTS.

TONIGHT.
Mass Meeting in School No. 1 at 8 o'clock.

FRIDAY.
Lend-a-Hand Society — Baptist Church.

SATURDAY.
Saturday Night Club—Fanwood Firehouse.

SUNDAY.
Union County Sunday-school Conference.
Afternoon Meeting—Baptist Church.
Night Meeting—Methodist Church.

MONDAY.
Special Evening Service—Methodist Church.

TUESDAY.
Special Services—Methodist Church.

WEDNESDAY.
Special Services—Methodist Church.
Ladies' Aid Society (P. E.)—Mrs. Frederick Sherwood.

THURSDAY.
Special Services—Methodist Church.
Jr. O. U. A. M.—Excelsior Hall.

—Have the facts about that property you want to sell been given, fully and repeatedly, to the readers of this newspaper?

BASEBALL SCORES ON VIEW EACH NIGHT

Flannery's Store Will Be Supplied by the Daily Press With Accurate Returns.

In order that the numerous baseball fans of Scotch Plains and Fanwood may be supplied with the returns of big league contests each afternoon the Plainfield Daily Press has arranged to furnish them to H. C. Flannery at his store on Park avenue. Daily Press score sheets will be on display each afternoon about 6 o'clock and those interested may get the results by calling at the store or by telephone.

For a number of years the store Mr. Flannery now conducts has been the gathering place for Scotch Plains and Fanwood sporting men and at this time of the year all eyes are turned toward baseball. He has been supplying his patrons with the returns as best he could in the past but within the next two days the Press will have at the store a big supply of score sheets which will make the scores easy to read and they will be accurate, being furnished to the Plainfield office by wire.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Fanwood Township Delegates Will Convene Next Sunday.

The Fanwood Township Sunday-school conference will be held Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church and in the evening at the Methodist church. The following program will be followed: Afternoon—3:00, devotions led by the local pastor; 3:15, elementary work in the county, Miss Sue Valentine, county superintendent; 3:45, "The Growing Teacher," Isaac P. Burgess, general secretary; 4:30 ,"A Relic From Eden," Rev. F. W. Johnson, secretary Lord's Day Alliance; 5:00, closing.

In the evening—7:15, song service and devotions; 7:30, missions, "World Outlook," Miss H. R. Halloway, county superintendent; 8:00, "Co-operation and What It Means to the Sunday-school," Isaac P. Burgess, general secretary; 9:00, benediction.

GATHERED AT RANDOM

The May meeting of the Ladies' Sewing Circle of the Willow Grove chapel was held in that edifice yesterday afternoon, when plans were made for the annual festival of the circle to be held next month. The June meeting will be held, following the annual custom, at the home of Mrs. William Sisserson, the president, when an election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

There will be no prayer meeting in the Methodist church tonight owing to the Biederwolf services in Plainfield.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Episcopal church held its weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry P. Robinson, of North avenue.

Felix Korn, of Martine avenue, has received a patent from the Government for a gas heater to be attached to steam heat.

A meeting of the Lend-a-Hand Society will be held tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the Baptist church.

Clarence Slocum, of Martine avenue, is on a business trip to Massachusetts.

Beginning with Sunday and continuing for about two weeks there will be special services in the Methodist church each night. A section of the Biederwolf choir will be present and other plans are being made.

High Bridge-Califon.

Mrs. Bloomfield Apgar, of High Bridge, visited this week at Hampton.

Mrs. Minnie Apgar, of Dunellen, visited at High Bridge this week.

Mrs. O. A. Farley, of Lebanon, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Potter, at Mountainville.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Bulmer, of East High Bridge, this week visited Mr. and Mrs. George Dilley, at Whitehouse Station.

Mrs. Peter Scully and children, of High Bridge, are visiting at Phillipsburg.

Raymond Conover, of High Bridge, spent part of the week at Lebanon.

An Epworth League rally will be held Sunday at the High Bridge Methodist church.

Warrenville.

The Misses Elizabeth and Rose Zipsf, of Irvington, have been visiting their parents.

William Kuntz, of Dover, has been visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hahr, of Springdale, entertained a number of friends Monday evening.

Miss Pierson has been visiting her parents in Newark.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of Coontown, will meet tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mantz.

Victor Possien has returned from an extended visit in the West.

Miss Clara Lauber has returned from a visit in Passaic.

Irving Roddy has been visiting Alfred Willett, in North Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Toms will remove to Whitehouse this week.

German Valley and Chester.

William Alpaugh, of Newark, ended Monday a visit to Reuben L. Savage.

Several auto loads of Tall Cedars of this village will attend the round-up tomorrow night in Newark.

Miss Minnie Donovan, of Morristown, is visiting Mrs. James Donovan.

Mrs. Dora Hartwell, who has been ill for several months, has suffered a relapse.

Rev. Lewis F. Sauerbrunn and family are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Emmet M. Hockenbury. They will leave shortly for North Branch, where Rev. Mr. Sauerbrunn has accepted the call to the Reformed church.

The street and sanitation committee of the Woman's Club has named next Saturday as general clean-up day for the streets of the village. All the citizens of the village have been asked to aid.

Miss Eudora Naylor is visiting in Somerville.

David Swartz left yesterday for an indefinite stay at Lake Hopatcong, having taken employment there with Floyd T. Woodhull.

Eliphlet W. Howell presented Lyman Kice with some choice apples Tuesday that he unearthed, having buried them last fall in his garden. They retained their flavor and were as sound as when picked from the trees.

Floyd Bird is critically ill. Mr. Bird went in bathing a few weeks ago and took a heavy cold, which has resulted in serious lung trouble.

John Pfeiffer and Roy Munn have arrived home from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., having concluded a stay of several months.

Mrs. David Swartz and son, Lyndon Swartz, will visit today Mrs. Swartz's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah S. Runyon.

James Stephens, of Woodglen, will succeed John Lance at the hotel sheds. Mr. Lance has resigned to take employment with a telephone company.

Mrs. Floyd Lance, of Parker, is visiting Mr. Lance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lance.

Miss Carrie A. Wiley, teacher of the primary department, is ill with sore throat, and Miss Althea Dufford is substituting for her.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Naughright are entertaining Amzi Lake, superintendent of the Masons' Home at Burlington.

Mrs. Mame H. Sutton will entertain the card club at her home tonight.

Mrs. Eugene S. Mills, of Pleasant Valley, was entertained Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John C. Welsh.

South Plainfield.

The funeral of Charles, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newikove, was held yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in the Greek cemetery in Perth Amboy.

Daniel Sofield has returned to his home in Metuchen after being the guest of his son, Harry Sofield.

Mrs. Anthony Madrone has returned home after undergoing treatment in Muhlenberg Hospital.

Miss Anna Hamilton was yesterday bitten on the right leg by a dog owned by George Rolande. The animal has always been chained but yesterday when Miss Hamilton was passing the holande home, the chain broke, giving the dog its liberty. Dr. F. J. Hughes, of Plainfield, treated the young woman.

Miss Clara Bradbury, who is confined to her home with scarlet fever, is reported as improving.

MRS. M. A. LEWIS,
Millinery
Untrimmed Hats from 75c to $3.00
New shapes each week
Flowers from 10c to $1.50 each
Best quality black velvet ribbon, per yard—No. 7, 19c; No. 9, 25c; No. 12, 29c
Bring in your own materials and have them made like new FRONT STREET SCOTCH PLAINS

'Phone Your Order for
HORTON'S ICE CREAM to
JOSEPH ALBERT
Paper Plates and Spoons Furnished Free for Parties.
Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobacco
Scotch Plains. Phone 1485-W.

FORD TAXI COMPANY
Montague Ave., SCOTCH PLAINS
Tel. 1239 Fanwood
Satisfactory Taxi Service—Once a mere dream—now a dream come true.

G. S. RAINIER
Martine Avenue. Phone 1210
BOROUGH REAL ESTATE
Mirror Candies
Crane's Philadelphia Ice Cream

SHEELEN BROTHERS
FANCY GROCERIES
All Kinds of
FRUITS, ORANGES
FANCY TABLE APPLES
Fresh String Beans, Cauliflower, Celery, Boston Lettuce and other vegetables in season.
TRY OUR
HOTEL ASTOR COFFEE
Ceylon and Mixed Teas
White Rose and Mistletoe Brand Canned Fruits and Vegetables. Rockdale Butter.
Telephone 1224—1209-R.
SOUTH AVENUE FANWOOD

MEYER BROTHERS
FINE GROCERIES
GENERAL MERCHANDISE
Coffee Coupons Given With Each
CASH PURCHASE
SEED POTATOES GARDEN SEEDS
POULTRY and MOSQUITO NETTING
SCOTCH PLAINS Tel. 1432-R

A. D. MACAULAY
Carpenter and Builder
JOBBING
1204-M.
FIELD AVE. SCOTCH PLAINS

H. C. FLANNERY
Castle's Ice Cream
Sanitary Napkins, Spoons and Plates Furnished Free
Telephone 1478-W.
Free Deliveries
PARK AVENUE SCOTCH PLAINS
POCKET BILLIARDS

BEST WORK AT THE BEST PRICE
GEORGE Mc VOY
FRONT STREET SCOTCH PLAINS
Plumbing Heating
Phone 1218-M.

PLUMBING TINNING
S. B. MACAULEY
SCOTCH PLAINS PHONE 1204-M.
Steam and Hot Water Heating a Specialty.
Satisfaction Our Object.

J. B. GUTTRIDGE
PHONE 311. NETHERWOOD
CHOICE MEATS—BEST GROCERIES
Two Deliveries to Scotch Plains and Fanwood Daily
Buy From the Big Store—Save Money.

RED LETTER BIBLE COUPON BIG PRINT
ILLUSTRATED EDITION
Distributed by the
PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
Clip three of these coupons bearing consecutive dates and present them together with our advertised price of $1.23 at our Main Office and receive your Copy of the BIG PRINT RED LETTER BIBLE.
3 Coupons and $1.23 Secures it
Description Limp Leather, overlapping Covers, red edges, round corners, gold lettered back, numerous beautiful colored plates, maps and biblical scenes, family record and many useful helps.
EVERY WORD JESUS SPOKE PRINTED IN RED
MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED
Add for Postage:
Up to 150 miles 07
Up to 300 miles 10
Up to 600 miles 15
Up to 1500 miles 20
For greater distances add postmaster rate for 3 lbs.

Daily Delivery & Call Service by Motor
Mail and Phone Orders Promptly Filled.
Phone Market 5640

NEWARK

OPPENHEIM COLLINS & CO

Broad and William Streets, Newark

America's Foremost Specialists

Greatest Suit Sale of the Season

High Grade Tailored Suits

For Women and Misses

The season's "best selling" models, taken from the regular stock, of Gabardine, in tan and gray; also a variety of smart Velour and Shepherd Checks

Formerly sold at $29.75, $35.00 and $39.75

15.00

Higher Cost Silk Suits

At Greatly Reduced Prices

Women's and Misses' Suits, of Chiffon Taffeta and Faille Silk; attractively trimmed with self material, in Navy, Black and other fashionable colors

29.75 35.00 39.75

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day in Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

BOARD OF TRADE PLAN TO CELEBRATE JULY 4

A special meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the borough hall tomorrow evening to consider the matter of having a Fourth of July celebration this year. At the recent meeting of the Board of Trade, when the matter was tentatively discussed, it was the concensus of opinion that fireworks sould be omitted this year owing to the high price of powder. If it is decided to have a celebration it will probably consist of a parade, speaking, and an athletic meet.

DUNELLEN ACCIDENT VICTIMS ARE IMPROVING

George F. Giles, who was thrown out of his runabout Saturday evening when his horse became scared by a motorcycle, as he was on his way home from Plainfield, appears to have practically recovered from the effects of the accident. He is able to be out and about his yard, and as soon as the weather becomes settled he will resume attending to his plumbing business.

Mrs. Charles Berkheiser, who was in the carriage and broke her limb in two places when she jumped out, is doing well. She was brought home from the hospital today, where she was taken Monday, to have an X-ray photograph taken of the fractures.

SATURDAY TO BE "CLEAN UP DAY" IN DUNELLEN

The Board of Health has set this Saturday as "Clean-up Day" and has caused the following notice to be spread broadcast through the borough:

"Clean-up Day, Borough of Dunellen,
"Saturday, May 20, 1916.

"Clean up and remove all rubbish from back yards and stables.

"Clean all cesspools and closet vaults if filled or overflowing.

"Fill in or properly drain all stagnant pools so as to avoid mosquitoes breeding and malaria.

"Pour at least a gallon of kerosine in each cesspool or water-closet vault.

"Rubbish, excepting manure and ashes, deposited in boxes or barrels and placed at your curb will be promptly removed by the street department."

William Bernard has accepted a position with the Hall Printing Press Company.

Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder are entertaining Mrs. H. Cowhart, of Mercerville.

THOMAS PERRINE IMPROVED.

Thomas Perrine, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perrine, who has been in the Muhlenberg Hospital since last winter, when he sustained injuries as a result of a prank of a schoolmate, is expected home from the hospital this week.

John English injured his hand while working at the Hall Printing Press Company yesterday.

Peter Stelpa, of the borough, has resigned his position at the Hall Printing Press Works.

Mr. and Mrs. John Markey, from Brooklyn, moved into the Lewis Schneider house, formerly owned by ex-Postmaster Peter Staats, yesterday.

James Craig is having alterations made about his home on Front street.

Mrs. Peter Apgar is recovering from injuries sustained when she fell down the steps of her home.

M. Kedars has resigned his position at Hall's and accepted a position at Levgar's.

DONALD SNYDER INJURED.

Donald Snyder, son of Marshal and Mrs. Weimer Snyder, sustained injuries about the head when he fell while playing around his home the other day. He was carried into his home in a dazed condition by playmates. Yesterday he was able to return to school.

REALTY DEAL.

Title to a lot on the corner of Washington avenue and Penfield place has passed from Charles A. Corlell, Jr., to Mrs. Elizabeth Rodney Allen, of New York city, who will erect a family residence here at once.

TO GIVE A RECEPTION.

Invitations are out to a reception which Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Kelly, of this borough, will give in celebration of the tenth anniversary of their wedding at McCormick Hall, Plainfield, Monday evening.

UNDERGOES OPERATION.

Mrs. J. F. G. Kinney, who was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday, submitted to an operation at 10:30 this morning. It was said this morning that the operation was not of a serious nature.

Terrance J. Renayne, who has been suffering from rheumatism, is much better.

WOMEN TO BOWL.

A team composed of the following women will bowl a team from Bound Brook on the Presbyterian alleys tomorrow evening: Mrs. Fred S. Vail, Mrs. Emmett Dice, Mrs. George Apgar, Miss Josephine Dealaman and Miss Ruth Voorhees. A large crowd will undoubtedly witness the match.

PRACTICAL JOKER.

Raymond Tynan, of Dunellen, would like to ascertain the identity of the party who took his Saxon automobile which he had left standing in front of the home o fa friend ing in front of the home of a friend ning and hid it as a practical joke. When Tynan came out of the house and perceived that his car was gone he sounded a general alarm. The car was not found until this morning. It was hidden among bushes in a field not very far away from where it was taken.

TO IMPROVE AVENUE.

Lewis Schneider, a prominent member of the Dunellen Board of Trade, has instituted a movement to improve South avenue, Dunellen, with the object of relieving the congestion of traffic on North avenue, Dunellen's main thoroughfare. Mr. Schneider brought the matter up at a meeting of the Dunellen Board of Trade this week. He spoke of the danger to traffic owing to the fact that the trolleys run along North avenue, and that automobiles and every other manner of vehicle must use the thoroughfare in order to get in and out of the borough. He gave a vivid example of this danger when he mentioned the accident in which George F. Giles, his daughter and granddaughter were involved Saturday evening, which was due to congestion of traffic as a trolley car, a motorcycle and Mr. Giles in his carriage were about to pass abreast when the horse became scared and shied over in to the gutter with the know result. In making this improvement Mr. Schneider advocated the acceptance of the offer of the Ransome Concrete Machinery Company to pave the thoroughfare with its new concrete mixer and spreader if Dunellen would put the street to grade and furnish the material. The matter was laid on the table until the next meeting of the Board of Trade to ascertain the cost of the material.

—Do the available household workers of this city, who read the classified columns of this newspaper, know that you need a good servant?

SENATOR JOHN W. KERN.

Anxious About American Citizens in Ireland.

Photo by American Press Association.

Senator John W. Kern introduced in the United States senate a resolution directing Secretary Lansing to ascertain the status of Americans in the court martial area of Ireland. With the destruction of civil authority and civil courts, Kern's resolution declared, the rights of these Americans might be dangerously impaired before aid could reach them from the United States.

AVIATOR WILLIAM THAW IN NARROW ESCAPE

American Birdmen Raid German Lines.

Paris, May 18.—The American aviators who have been in the service of the French army for the last year and who were recently brought together to form a flotilla under the name of the Franco-American flying corps took part in an expedition over the German lines for the first time as a separate unit. They sustained particularly heavy shelling as they crossed the front.

The machine piloted by Lieutenant William K. Thaw of Pittsburgh lost part of its tail piece and the propeller was damaged by a shell, but Lieutenant Thaw brought it safely back to camp.

Corporal Victor Chapman's machine was also hit and driven out of its course, returning so late to its base as to cause anxiety regarding Chapman's fate.

Corporal J. M. McConnell of Carthage, N. C., was flying at a height of 12,000 feet, but German shells burst all around him, showing that the range of the German anti-air craft guns has been lengthened.

The flotilla started at daybreak and spent nearly two hours reconnoitering under sustained fire, but encountered no German machines, and no one was wounded. Sergeant Elliott Cowdin of New York, Corporal Kiffen Rockwell of Atlanta, Ga.; Sergeant Norman Prince of Prides Crossing, Mass., and Sergeant Hall of Galveston, Tex., also took part.

$50,600,000 TO STOP FLOODS

House Passes First Bill of New Control Project.

Washington, May 18.—The flood control bill authorizing the expenditure of $45,000,000 within five years for raising the levees of the lower Mississippi and $5,600,000 for improvement of the Sacramento river was passed by the house by a rising vote of 180 to 53.

The bill as amended provides that a third of the cost of the Mississippi river project shall be borne by the levee districts and half the amount expended on the Sacramento be borne by the state of California. The measure is the first to be reported from the newly created committee on flood control of the house.

General Markets.

BUTTER — Firmer; receipts, 19,349; creamery, extras, 92 score, 31c.; creamery, higher scoring, 31½@32c.; firsts, 30¾@31½c.; seconds, 28½@29½c.

EGGS—Firm; receipts, 38,020; fresh gathered, extras, 24½@25c.; regular packed, firsts, 22½@23½c.; seconds, 21@22c.; nearby hennery whites, fine to fancy, 25½@26c.; nearby hennery browns, 24½@25c.

CHEESE—Firm; receipts, 4,148; state, held, specials, 18¾@19½c.; fresh, specials, 17¼c.; do, average fancy, 17@17¼c.; Wisconsin twins, held, 18½@19c.

POULTRY—Live, firmer; broilers, 32@36c.; asking 20c. for fowls; others not settled. Dressed, firm; chickens, 18@32c.; fowls, 17½@22c.; turkeys, 29@38c.

Live Stock Market.

Pittsburgh, May 18.

CATTLE—Receipts light; market steady; good to choice, $9.50@9.80; good, $9.15@9.40; medium to good, $8.85@9.15; tidy, $8.75@9.25, common, $6.25@7.25; common to good fat bulls, $5@8; common to good fat cows, $4@7.75; heifers, $4.75@7; fresh cows and springers, $25@80.

HOGS—Receipts, 14 loads; market slow; prime heavy, $10; heavy mixed, $10.10@10.15; medium, $10.05@10.10; heavy Yorkers, $10.05@10.10; light Yorkers, $9.70@9.85; pigs, as to quality, $9.50@9.60; common to good roughs, $8.70@9.10; stags, $7@7.40.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts, 3 loads; market strong on choice grades of sheep and lambs, other grades steady; prime wethers, $8.30@8.50; good mixed, $8@8.25; fair mixed ewes and wethers, $7@7.75; culls to choice lambs, $4.50@6; heavy and thin lambs, $7@10.75; spring lambs, $8.50@9.50; veal calves, $9@11; heavy and thin calves, $8.50.

BRYAN NOW REPORTER.

Will Attend St. Louis Convention as a Mere Scribe.

Lincoln, Neb., May 18.—William Jennings Bryan will attend the Democratic national convention not as a delegate, but as a reporter.

He said he would not act as alternate from Nebraska, despite his election, nor would he accept offers to go as delegate or proxy from any other state.

GERMAN SPIES IN CANAL ZONE

Kaiser's Agents Cover Isthmus, Says Report.

FORTS ARE WELL GUARDED

Many Aliens In Troops—Desertions Frequent Among Teuton Members of Army—Information Bureau Headed by German Officers Known to Be In Existence.

Panama, May 18.—That the Panama isthmus has been pretty thoroughly searched out by German agents in the past year is the prevalent belief in army circles.

They can be found in all parts of the interior and, although ostensibly representing other vocations, have interested themselves to an unusual extent in the lay of the land.

It is a fact that members of the German crews of four interned ships in Colon harbor have been allowed to scatter without an effort being made to keep them under surveillance. Army officials admit that German agents have been seen on trails and military roads and while making reconnaissances.

Fortification sites are well guarded, and no one is permitted to enter the reservations except by permission of General Goethals. Searchlights are used freely at night, but no restraint whatever has been placed on the activities of these agents elsewhere in the canal zone or the republic of Panama.

Anonymous reports have been received from time to time of the efforts of German agents to gain access to the interior fortifications unobserved, and these reports have been religiously hunted down, generally without result.

That the Germans have an efficient information bureau on the isthmus, with headquarters in this city, is no secret either in military or civilian circles, and at least two or three agents are officers of the German army.

Many Foreigners There.

General Edwards, head of the American military forces on the isthmus, when interviewed on this subject would not speak for publication beyond saying that the matters referred to had undoubtedly been reported. From other sources it is learned that the estimate of 25 per cent as the proportion of foreigners in the troops on the isthmus is about right, with from 10 to 15 per cent of Germans, some of whom are naturalized American citizens.

It is understood that there have been a number of desertions among the German contingent. It cannot be learned that any part of the defense work is directly under the charge of a German, but it is understood that in canal or railroad work there are one or two foreigners with pronounced German sentiments.

The erection of floating cranes by a German concern was in progress here at the outbraek of the war, and its men were marooned on the isthmus and scattered about. It is the belief in army circles here that Washington has been fully posted on the situation, and it is regarded as a mystery here why no attempt has been made to correct the existing laxity.

ASQUITH IN COUNCIL.

Sworn In as Member of Irish Executive Body.

London, May 18.—Premier Asquith has been sworn in as a member of the Irish privy council, thus becoming a member of the Irish executive body.

The Dublin correspondent of the radical Daily News interprets the event as being equivalent to the premier's assuming the duties and responsibilities of chief secretary for Ireland, as he assumed those of the war office when Colonel John E. B. Seely resigned. The correspondent indicates that the premier is determined to see the present trouble through and adds:

"There is no doubt of the need of a restraining hand in the administration of Ireland. Looking back over the events of the past ten days one shudders to think what would have been the state of affairs in Ireland to lay but for the premier's visit."

MICE REFUGEES ARRIVE.

Sent From London to Dodge Bombs From Zeppelins.

New York, May 18.—The Crocker cancer research laboratory at Columbia university has received from London four carefully screened boxes containing four mice which are valuable for scientific purposes as they are the offspring of mice into which, one generation after another, tumor germs have been transplanted for about fifteen years.

During the last Zeppelin raid over London a bomb was dropped near the laboratory where the mice were housed and, fearing that a bomb dropped in a future raid might destroy the work of years, the laboratory officials decided to ship the mice to America.

CHICAGO TO PARADE JUNE 3.

Invites Twenty-five Other Cities to Hold Preparedness Marches.

Chicago, May 18.—Chicago's great preparedness parade will be held on Saturday, June 3.

The organization committee that selected this date decided at the same time that June 3 should be observed as national preparedness day. The committee has forwarded an appeal to hold parades to the mayors of the twenty-five largest cities in the United States excepting New York and Baltimore, which already have staged demonstrations.

—Find the "likely-looking" ads. in today's classified columns—and solve that problem of yours.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH

Condemns National Guard as Extravagant in Speech.

Photo by American Press Association.

Denunciation of the national guard for its "extravagance" and its "tendency toward militarism through a combination of military power, political power and power of corporate interests" was made in the senate by Senator Borah of Idaho when the army bill came up for consideration. Mr. Borah said he would vote against the bill wholly because of the provisions it makes for the national guard.

CAPERTON ASKS AID IN SANTO DOMINGO

Five Hundred Marines Thought to Be In Peril.

Washington, May 18.—The situation in Santo Domingo is giving so much concern to the navy department that nine American warships have been dispatched to waters of Dominican ports, and the force of marines in Santo Domingo City is to be speedly strengthened. Advices have been received showing that the present force of marines might be hopelessly outnumbered and seriously endangered unless re-enforcements are sent without loss of time.

Rear Admiral Caperton asked that the 500 American marines in Santo Domingo City be re-enforced at once. The navy department authorized the dispatch of additional marines from Haiti. The Panther, flagship and tender to the first and second destroyer divisions and in command of Commander Harris Laning, has arrived at Santo Domingo City.

Though no detailed report of the threatened Dominican uprising has been received, the chief cause of alarm is that the little American force of marines might be outnumbered ten to one in case of serious disturbances. The only re-enfocements at hand would be from the destroyers now in Dominican waters, and this would not materially assist any American party inshore.

The navy department has been quietly dispatching vessels to Dominican waters to meet any threatened emergency, and it is probable that more ships will go. Additional marines may also be sent from the United States.

Mount Lassen Again In Eruption.

Redding, Cal., May 18.—Mount Lassen, California's intermittent volcano, has renewed its activities, according to reports. Ranchers declared the snow about the peak was covered with ashes for a distance of ten miles. The last extensive eruption of the mountain was Nov. 22, 1915.

Pope Recalls Nuncio to Brussels.

Rome, May 18.—Pope Benedict has recalled Mgr. Tacci, papal nuncio to Brussels. It is probable that Mgr. Tacci will be succeeded by Mgr. Locatelli, former papal nuncio at Buenos Aires.

COLONEL GEORGE POPE.

Wants Employers to Form "One Big Union."

Photo by American Press Association.

At the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers in New York city Colonel George Pope, president, urged that all employers, irrespective of their lines of business, combine into one organization to combat the presence of the various organizations of workingmen and women.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

A Cabinet Gas Range Will Cut Down Your Household Expenses.

IF you still cook with a coal range, ask yourself if there is one good reason why you shoud continue to do so. Cooking with coal is expensive. You must either let the fire go out or keep on consuming coal when you don't need the heat.

With a coal range, the volume of heat cannot be depended upon. A frequent result is burnt or underdone food.

A coal range also means dust—carrying coal and ashes.

Compare this waste, unpleasantness and uncertainty with the economical, easy and reliable way of cooking with a Cabinet Gas Range.

Have our representative call and show you a type of Cabinet Gas Range adapted to your particular needs.

Cabinet Gas Ranges can be bought for $25.50 and upward, on monthly payments.

Gas Water Heater prices are $15.75—$16.75—$19.75. Terms $2.00 down, $1.00 monthly.

5% discount allowed for cash.

Owing to the cost of material, the prices of Cabinet Gas Ranges and Water Heaters are constantly increasing. Save money by Purchasing now.

The coupon below is for your convenience. Use it today.

Public Service

Public Service Gas Co.,

Please have your representative call.

Name .....

Street .....

P. O. .....

PROCTOR'S

10c Continuous 2 to 11. 10c

The Home of Paramount, Triangle, Metro and Fox PHOTOPLAYS

Pictures that are fit for any Mother, Father or Child to See.

MARY PICKFORD WEEK

TODAY and FRIDAY
Attraction Extraordinary

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN THE FLOORWALKER

His First Comedy Produced Under His Famous $670,000 Contract With the Mutual Co.

ADDED ATTRACTIONS
TODAY
MARY PICKFORD in "MISTRESS NELL"
FRANK KEENAN in "THE STEPPING STONE"
BUCKING SOCIETY
Keystone Comedy

ADDED FEATURES
FRIDAY
MARY PICKFORD in A GIRL OF YESTERDAY
One of the most delightful of Little Mary's Screen Portrayals.

SATURDAY—BIG DOUBLE SHOW
MARY PICKFORD in MADAME BUTTERFLY
MARY MILES MINTER in DIMPLES

OUR COMBINATION AUTOMOBILE POLICIES INSURE AGAINST

LOSS by fire from any cause, including explosion, self-ignition and lightning, and also theft, if amounting to $25.00 or more.

LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for injuries suffered by any person or persons when caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.

LOSS from the liability imposed upon you by law for damage to property of others (except property in your automobile) caused by reason of the ownership, maintenance or use of your automobile.

LOSS by reason of damage to or destruction of your automobile by collision with another object, moving or stationary.

Ask us for rates before you insure elsewhere.

REAL ESTATE LOANS RENTS

GEO. M. CLARKE CO. Babcock Bldg. Telephone 205 Plainfield.

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS.

Buying for the home cannot be done wisely and economically unless the "buyer" is a student of the advertisements—no more than a store may be made prosperous without advertising.

Suburban Transit Company

Leave Plainfield for South Plainfield—Week days—a6.20, a7.30, 9.00, 11.45, 1.00, 2.00, 4.00, 5.00, 6.15, b6.00, 10.30, 11.15. Sundays—9.00, 12.00, 2.00, 4.00, 6.00, 9.00.

Leave South Plainfield for Plainfield—Week days—a7.00, a7.45, 8.30, 12.05, 1.30, 2.30, b4.30, 4.20 except Saturday, 5.30, 7.30, 10.30, 10.50, b11.45. Sundays—8.30, 12.15, 2.30, 4.30, 5.30, 9.30.

Leave Plainfield for Watchung—7.00, .15, f10.00, b1.00, g2.00, 4.15, b6.20.

Leave Watchung for Plainfield—8.00, 9.50, f11.15, b2.20, g3.45, 5.25, g7.30.

Leave Plainfield for Warrenvale—a6.45, e6.15, 8.20, f10.00, g3.00, g6.20.

Leave Warrenville for Plainfield—7.40, f11.00, g3.30, g7.15.

Leave Plainfield for Stirling—8.15, b1.00 4.15.

Leave Stirling for Plainfield—8, 9, b2.30 5.15.

(a) Except holidays.
(b) Saturdays only.
(c) Except Saturdays.
(d) Daily except Sundays, holidays Monday mornings, and mornings after holidays.
(e) Monday mornings and mornings after holidays.
(f) Sundays and holidays only.
(g) Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

R. W. CAMPBELL, Mgr., 310 Park Ave 'Phone 130 Plainfield.

MILLWORK

We have recently made arrangements with one of the largest millwork concerns in this part of the State, and are now prepared to furnish millwork of every description.

Allow us to figure on your requirements.

BOICE RUNYON CO.
Established 1837.
Park at North Avenue
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

MAGIC Straw Hat Cleaner 10c

Cleans the hat in a few minutes, without removing the band. Easy to use.

Each package contains enough to clean 2 to 3 hats, any kind of straw.

You can get the above only at

Schreiner Bros.
Prescription Pharmacy
Park Ave. and Second St.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF

HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
144 EAST FRONT STREET.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-room.

HOTEL SOMERSET

Newly Papered and Painted throughout. Table Board and Rooms by Day or Week.
Piel Bros. and Kruger's Beer on draught.
W. G. FEASTER, Proprietor.
97 Somerset St. Tel. 901.

WEINMAN'S CAFE

GENERAL NEWS TICKER.
Stock quotations.
Up to the Minute.
'PHONE 1527.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS AT PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

NEW YORK MAILS. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 8:40, 11:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:00, 6:30, 8:30 p. m., 12 midnight. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:00, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, 2:00, 3:50, 5:45, 7:45, 9:00 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON. Arrive—8:40, 10:45 a. m., 12:45 and 7:08 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45 a. m., 1:30, 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:00, 9:40, 11:45 a. m., 12:30, 2:30, 7:00 p. m. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 3:50 5:50, 9:00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST. Close—12 noon, 200, 3:50, 5:45 p. m.

DIRECT THROUGT FAST MAIL FOR WEST. Close—6:30, 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00 and 9:00 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton. Close—6:30 a. m., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:00, 6:30 p. m. Close—7:45, 10:0 a. m., 12 noon, 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct. Arrive—5:30, 8:45 a. m., 1:30, 2:30, 5:30 p. m. Close—6:30, 7:45, 10:45 a. m., 12 noon, :00, 3:50 5:45, 9:00 p. m.

WATCHUNG. Arrive—1:00, 6:45 p. m. Close—8:00 a. m 5:30 p. m.

WARRENVILLE. Arrive—1:00 p. m. Close—2:00 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS. Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

A. E. HOAGLAND, P. M.

ADVERTISEMENTS
—FOR—
NEW YORK HERALD,
WORLD, TIMES, SUN, JOURNAL
TELEGRAM, AMERICAN,
BROOKLYN EAGLE, GLOBE
—AND—
NEWARK EVENING NEWS
RECEIVED
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS
No Telephone Orders.
Cash Must Accompany Copy.

HODGE'S PHARMACY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
BELLE MEAD SWEETS
Telephone 62.

You know we often say—satisfaction guaranteed. We say it not because we are afraid you WON'T be satisfied, but because we are sure you WILL be.

The excellence of our merchandise warrants such a guarantee as we give; 100 per cent satisfaction; good values that we're sure of; and your money cheerfully refunded whenever you feel that you haven't got the satisfaction you expected.

SUITS
$12, $15, $18, $20 to $25

Rothberg's
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

F. H. FIRSTBROOK
116 W. Front St. Phone 1754

Best Creamery Butter, per lb	37c
Fancy Potatoes, good cookers, 16-qt. basket	75c
H. O. Oatmeal, per pkg.	13c
Baldwin Apples, 4-qt. bas. 25c; 16-qt. basket	75c
N. O. Molasses, extra fancy, per gallon	70c
24-Hour Eggs (one day old, per dozen	30c
Fancy Norway Mackerel, per lb	25c
Small Norway Mackerel, each	5c
California Oranges, 15 for	25c
Extra Large Cal. Oranges, 50c kind, per dozen	40c
Old Dutch Cleanser, 3 pkgs.	25c
Duryea's Corn Starch, 3 pkgs.	25c
Hershey's Cocoa, ½ lb can	15c
Hotel Astor Rice, 3 lbs	25c
Fancy Rice, bulk, 4 lbs	25c
Pearl Tapioca, 3 pkgs.	25c
Tryphosa and Jello, 3 pkgs.	25c
Campbell's Soup, 3 cans	25c
Ritter's Baked Beans, 3 cans	25c
Royal Baking Powder, ½-lb 22c; 1 lb	42c
Franco-American Invalid Broths, per can	13c
California Prunes, per lb	10c
Large California Prunes, 2 lbs	25c
All Kinds Soap, 10 bars	45c
Mueller's Macaroni and Spaghetti, 3 pkgs.	25c
Fancy Seeded Raisins, per pkg.	10c
Pride of Farm Catsup, per bottle	10c
Ritter Catsup, 3 bottles	25c
Snider's Catsup, 25c size, bottle	17c

We Give S. & H. Stamps

Firstbrook's

ASTOR THEATRE

TODAY
The German Side of the Great War
"THE BATTLES OF A NATION"
Showing the battle at Warsaw, actual fighting scenes, in 6 parts; also a 3-part Vitagraph drama.

TOMORROW
The Distinguished Lasky Star
CHARLOTTE WALKER in
"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"
in 5 parts; an all-star cast including THEODORE ROBERTS
Paramount-Bray Cartoons and others.

OUR PRICES
Matinee—5c and 10c.
Evening—10c and 15c.
We never exceed the latter price. Always a clean and moral show for young and old. Bring the kiddies.

We Give Travelstamps.

—A good many of the readers of this newspaper are "probable buyers" of your property. Do they know that it's for sale?

RECREATION NOTES

Miss Scarborough's class will meet in the Washington School tonight. The Social Club will meet in the auditorium and the newly organized Boys' Club will meet in the kindergarten room. The latter organization will consider a constitution which will be submitted by a committee. The library will be open for games of various kinds.

Tomorrow night the Dunbar dance will be held in the Washington School.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEETING

The last meeting of the Grammar School Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the High School Auditorium on Monday afternoon at 2:30. At that time, Lindsey Best, principal of the High School, and Mr. Starry, principal of the Grammar School, will address the gathering.

WANTED

Red-blooded, manly boys who are fond of outdoor sports, boating, camping, gardening, mechanics, gymnastics and reading.

ROOM FOR 25,000 MORE

The New York Globe is now organizing a

REAL BOYS' CLUB

All young Americans over twelve and under eighteen are eligible. It costs nothing to join, except a desire to become a better citizen and to swell the ranks in the national movement of

PREPAREDNESS

If you join at once you will be in line to enter a big membership contest, which will start very soon. Apply at this R. H. B. Club Station. Get your own application blank here, and as many for your pals as you wish. Come in today!

ROTHBERG'S
"Things Men Wear"
Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes.
206 W. Front St.
Plainfield, N. J.

PLAINFIELD THEATRE

THE BEST IN VAUDEVILLE
Matinee Daily—5c and 10c.
Evening, 7 to 11—10c, 15c, 25c

Today, Friday, Saturday
Stageland's wonderful kiddies, held over by special request
THE JUVENILE REVUE
5 OTHER GREAT ACTS 5
including WALTER PEARSON in "THE GREEN DRAGON" IS HE A CHINAMAN?
and America's greatest single, JULES JORDAN
late star Potash & Perlmutter

Extra added attraction today
CHARLEY CHAPLIN in
"HIS PREHISTORIC PAST"
The funniest picture ever produced.

Pearl White in 12th
"THE IRON CLAW"

SPECIAL TOMORROW
Edna Mayo in 13th
"MARY PAGE"

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

TRAINS LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

For New York—2.10, 3.41, 6.08, 5.46 (7.36 except holidays), 7.41, 7.44, (7.55 except holidays), 7.55, 8.12, 8.30 (except holidays), 8.36, 8.42, 8.59, 9.29, 9.53, 10.26, 11.27, 12.12 p. m.; 12.34, 12.58, 1.49, 2.20, 2.26, 2.39, 2.45, 3.11, 4.01, 4.12, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.27, 9.50, 10.15, 10.36, 11.43 p. m. Sunday—2.10, 3.41, 5.40, 7.23, 7.58, 8.52, 9.34, 9.40, 10.37, 12.12 p. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.15, 2.55, 3.17, 4.29, 5.34, 6.57, 8.14, 8.12, 8.27, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.20, 10.36 p. m.

For Newark—6.08, 6.27, 6.55, (7.06 through train to Newark), 7.41, 8.36, 9.29 10.26, 11.27 a. m., 12.34, 12.54, 1.49, 2.39, 3.11, 4.12, 4.36, 5.39, 6.25, 6.47, 7.41, 8.27, 9.30, 10.36 p. m. Sunday—7.23, 8.52, 9.34, 10.37 a. m., 12.29, 12.58, 1.17, 2.09, 2.55, 3.17 4.29, 5.34, 7.14, 8.12, 8.35, 8.39, 9.27, 10.34 p. m.

For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—6.15, *8.20, 9.44, 11.27 a. m., 2.00, 5.24, 6.44 (6.50 to Easton) p. m. Sunday—5.19, *9.44, 10.57 a. m., 1.58, 5.44, 7.06 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.18, 9.44 a. m., 5.44 p. m. Sunday—5.19, 10.57 a. m., 5.44 p. m.

For Red Bank, Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—3.41, 8.12, (8.53 a. m. Red Bank), 11.27 a. m.; 12.34 Saturday only), (12.58 Red Bank only), (2.11 Red Bank only), 4.12, 4.36, 6.25, 8.27, 11.43 p. m. Sundays—3.41, 8.52 a. m., (9.40 Red Bank only), (2.15 Red Bank only), 3.17, (8.12 Red Bank only), 8.35 p. m.

For Atlantic City—3.41, 8.53 a. m. (12.34 Saturdays only), 3.11 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 2.15 p. m.

For Philadelphia—6.38, 7.39, 9.02, 10.42 11.54 a. m., 12.42, 1.54, 2.45, 4.45, 5.13, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.48 p. m., 1.29 a. m. Sunday—9.02, 9.39, 9.57, 10.39, 10.42, 11.41 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.39, 4.45, 4.56, 5.39 6.39, 6.47, 8.47, 9.46, 10.55, 11.54 p. m., 1.20 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington.—Daily 9.02, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 5.45, 6.47 p. m. *Except Mauch Chunk

HEADQUARTERS FOR GIBSON'S RYE
E. G. WESTCOTT
116 East Front Street

WYCKOFF TRIAL NEARS ITS END

Defense Calls Daughter of Defendant.

PRINTS IN SNOW FIGURE

Defendant Attended Funeral on Day Murder Was Committed—Several Witnesses Testify Money of Slain Woman Was Found Tucked Away In Strange Places.

Flemington, May 18.—The state having completed the presentation of its testimony in the trial of William Henry Wyckoff for complicity in the murder of Richard J. Wyckoff and the latter's housekeeper, Catherine Ann Fisher, the defense opened its case. The courtroom was crowded and spectators began arriving an hour before the time set for the trial to be resumed.

Mrs. Ira Snook, daughter of the defendant, was the first witness called by the defense. She said her father had made his home with her for the last seven or eight years. On the day of the murder Mrs. Snook, as well as the defendant, attended a funeral in the neighborhood. She returned from the funeral about 3:27 o'clock in the afternoon, and her father left her home about 3:45 o'clock. When she saw him last in the afternoon the defendant was crossing a field in the direction of Edward Sloff's.

Howard Quick, one of the state's witnesses, testified as to the fall of snow on the day of the double murder. The snowfall was light and tracks about the buildings were made before or during the storm. Frank J. O'Brien of Trenton testified that he was at the Richard J. Wyckoff farm Feb. 18, and again Feb. 22. Upon his first visit he saw Thomas Cashel, he said, another Mercer county official, examine the closet where the defendant is said to have declared he found Mis Fisher's money.

Feb. 22, when they again visited the property, Mr. O'Brien said, Wyckoff told of finding the murdered woman's money and designated where it had been discovered on the shelf in the closet. There were two small purses and a small tin box, which were in a muslin bag. Charles Holcombe, a Ringoes undertaker, testified that the defendant delivered to him some time after the funeral of the victims some cash which Wyckoff told him was Miss Fisher's that had been found in the house. Mr. Holcombe said he counted it and there was $59.16 and a half dollar with a hole in it. The witness said he turned the money over to Detective Hann.

Edward H. Wilson a member of the firm of Wilson & Holcombe, undertakers, testified that when he was caring for the body of Wyckoff the morning following the murder a pocketbook with about $18 in a muslin bag was found under the victim when some blankets were removed from beneath the body.

SUIT AGAINST DU PONTS.

Pompton Lake Woman Starts Demand For Dissolution.

Trenton, May 18.—Charging that stockholders of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Powder Company of New Jersey were induced through misrepresentation to assent to the transfer of $35,000,000 of assets to E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., a corporation of Delaware, without adequate consideration, Hetty L. Henry of Pompton Lakes has begun suit in the court of chancery to establish the former status of the Jersey company.

Vice Chancellor Howell has granted a rule to show cause, returnable in Jersey City next Monday. In the meantime his order restrains the directors of the company from disposing of any of the property of the company.

PATERSON WOULD BE READY.

Big Preparedness Demonstration Is Planned For "Fourth."

Paterson, May 18.—Paterson's safe and sane Fourth of July celebration this year will take on the character of a demonstration for preparedness.

There will be a big parade, led by the Fifth regiment, the Boy Scouts and other uniformed organizations and followed by all others who may desire to parade, whether organized into societies or not.

At the conclusion of the parade the marchers will form at the courthouse, where Americanism will be the keynote of exercises. Later there will be athletic games, and in the evening there will be community celebrations in six parts of the city.

CAN'T EVEN HAVE BEER.

Plainfielders Want to Make Sure Citizens Have None.

Plainfield, May 18.—A decision to have no beer at the state convention of letter carriers' associations May 30 was reached at a meeting of the local carriers.

They voted to defer to the feelings of the townspeople, who for four weeks have been listening to the sermons of Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, a revivalist. Word was received from New York that the delegation of 1,800 that will come from the metropolis will make the trip even if there isn't any beer.

Available "Places to "Live" Have An Unfailing Interest for Most "People!"

The great majority of families are not "tied down," nor "tied up" to one particular place to live. "To move," now and then, is the privilege of renters—and their OPPORTUNITY!

The classified ads are of the most direct and practical USEFULNESS to all renters.

Newark's 250th Anniversary----May to October

BAMBERGER'S
"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"
MARKET, HALSEY & WASHINGTON STS.

Another Wonderful Group Of Women's Suits on Sale at $16.75

In every fine detail they are up to the very high standard we set for this sale of sales.

Women will be delighted to find crisp, very good quality taffeta suits made up with full, flaring skirts and belted or semi-belted coats, rippling smartly as 1916's coats MUST RIPPLE, if they are to be considered truly correct.

These are suits that you will want all summer.

For outings, train trips, shopping, calling and all occasions where dress attains a measure of formality, they are exactly what you will need.

In addition to the taffetas there are high quality, dependable gabardine, French serge, men's wear serge, wool poplin and a wide assortment of regulation-shepherd and larger wool checks.

PLENTY of navy blue and black, an extraordinary phase of this sale, because blue and black dyes are growing more precious every moment.

Also black and white and color checks, and a goodly number of tan and other desirable shades. Coats are lined with excellent peau de cygne.

They feature fashion's most effective styles, and are worth a great deal more than this extraordinary sale price, 16.75.

BAMGERBER'S THIRD FLOOR

SOMEWHERE IN YOUR HOME

There's a place that needs FURNITURE and if you wish only a single piece or desire to furnish your home complete you wil find it worth while to see the high grade goods we offer. There's FURNITURE of all kinds here for every place in the home and always at moderate prices.

GOOD VALUES IN WHITE ENAMEL BEDROOM PIECES.

White Enamel Chiffoniers, priced from	$12.50 up
White Enamel Dressers, priced from	$16.75 up
White Enamel Chairs, priced from	$1.85 up
White Enamel Rockers, priced from	$2.85 up
White Enamel Tables, priced from	$4.00 up

White Enamel Beds Bath Stools Night Tables Children's Cribs

PORCH AND LAWN.

Attractive and strongly made CHAIRS and ROCKERS for the outdoor season. Every piece is built with the idea of giving comfort and service.

Old Hickory Fibre Rush and Reed.

PORCH COUCH HAMMOCKS

There's nothing that contributes so large an element of comfort through the hot summer days as a COUCH HAMMOCK. They are priced from ..... $7.75 to $35.00

Refrigerators Baby Carriages Asbestos Table Mats

POWLISON & JONES
149-151 E. Front St. Plainfield, N. J.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

To: James Robertson, Mrs. James Robertson and Richard Hayes.

By virtue of an Order of the Court of Chancery made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein The Plainfield Trust Company, is complainant, and you are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the Bill of said Complaint on or before the twelfth day of June, next, or said bill will be taken as confessed against you. The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by the Construction & Securities Company, a corporation, dated April 23rd, 1915, for Four Thousand ($4,000.00) Dollars, covering lands in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey; and you, James Robertson, are made defendant because you are the present owner of said property; and you, Mrs. James Robertson, are made defendant because you are the wife of the said James Robertson, and by virtue thereof claim to have some lien upon or interest in the said mortgaged premises; and you, Richard Hayes, are made defendant because you are the maker of the note, the payment of which is secured by the mortgage above referred to.

Dated April 10th, 1916.

REED & HETFIELD,
Solicitors of Complainant.
203 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
4 18 5th.

—When discontent reaches a certain point, the furnished room advertisements become very interesting to some people.

Steady Work for Good Men

A limited number of men can secure positions as motormen or conductors on Public Service Railway by applying at Waiting-room, Watchung Avenue and Fourth Street, Plainfield, any week-day between 8:30 and 10 A. M.

All-year jobs at good pay.

Sometimes a store will decide to perform a real "stunt" in value-giving on some special line. You may be sure that in all such instances the ad-readers will have earliest knowledge of the details.

BEHOLD I STAND AT THE DOOR AND KNOCK

Sermon by the Rev. William E. Biederwolf at the Tabernacle Last Night.

Text—Rev. 3:20. "Behold I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear My voice and will open the door, I will come in and will sup with him and he with Me."

"If any man hear my voice." By the word "any" He means you. It makes the text more personal than if your own name were written in it. If your name were written there you might think the message was for some one else in the world with a name like yours, and if your own address were given you might still be in doubt. But by "ANY" the Son of God names you. And so it's up to you to let Him in or to keep Him out. If you let Him in, out will go the things that curse and damn and blight your life and make it a garden of weeds full of serpents when it might blossom like a rose and be full of beauty. If He comes in, out will go jealousies and strifes and slandering and backbiting and malice and hatred. If He comes in He will change the font of your life from bitter to sweet. If you are a drunkard, you will become sober; if you are a thief, you will be honest; if you are a liar, you will begin to tell the truth. The adulterer will become pure, and if you've got skulduggery and trickery in your business, you will put it on the square and be honest with God and your fellow men.

Where now there is cursing and profanity there will be reverence for your mother's God and respect for the name of Christ. If He comes in He will not only save your soul and keep it out of hell when you die, but He'll put a new meaning on the life you're living now and use it to keep some other soul out of hell.

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If any man will open the door, I will come in." If you will, He will. Religion lies in the will. You are here tonight because you willed to come. Your will is supreme, your will is sovereign. Religion lies in the will; not in the sniffling of the nose. You do because you will to do. You don't because you will that you won't. The Christian says, "I will do God's will," and the sinner says, "I won't do God's will."

The Debt of Gratitude.

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man will open the door, I will come in."

Who is it that's knocking? It is one to whom you owe a great debt of gratitude. It is one of whom Napoleon Bonaparte said, "I know men, and I tell you Jesus Christ was not a man." One whom the great historians and the great biographers, and the great philanthropists, and the great reformers, and the great sociologists, and the great educators, and the great artists, and the great physicians, and the great heroes have been pleased to call their Redeemer. One who was wounded for your transgressions, bruised for your iniquity; upon whom the chastisement of your peace was laid and by whose stripes you may be healed. One who so loved you that He gave Himself for you. One who turned aside from the infinite riches of heaven and set at naught the pre-eminence of uncreated beings to become despised and rejected of men that we, through His poverty, might become rich, and through His humiliation might have placed upon us the high title of sons of the Most High God. One who, being in the form of God, thought it not a thing to be grasped at to be equal with God, but emptied Himself and took upon Himself the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of a man and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

He does not knock at every man's life in the same way, and some people are always disappointed because they are always looking for another man's experience. God reaches people in peculiar ways. It took an earthquake to convert the Phillippian jailer; it took a great light from heaven to make Saul of Tarsus yield; Zaccheus had to climb up a tree and the thief was found dying upon a cross. I have a friend who was preaching from the text, "What will you do in the end?" and he told the people that even though they forgot the sermon and the text, there were two words he would like to have them remember, and the words are "Eternity; Where?" A man went home from the meeting with those words ringing in his ears. One step would say Eternity and the next step would say Where? He threw himself upon his bed, but the old clock was ticking upon the wall, and as it ticked it talked. You know how a clock can talk when it ticks? One swing of the pendulum said ETERNITY and the other swing said WHERE? The man could find neither rest nor peace. He arose and stopped the clock and threw himself down again upon his bed. But though the pendulum had ceased to swing he could still hear the old clock ticking those awful words—Eternity; Where?—and not until he arose and fell upon his knees by the side of his bed and made his peace with God and gave to Him the care of his soul could he find any comfort or rest for the night, and the next morning he came to tell my friend of his new-found joy in the Lord.

Now you may never have an experience like any of these, but in one way or another the Son of God will never cease to knock at the door of your life until you will let Him in, or until you grieve Him forever away and then you'll never hear Him knock again.

Christianity Will Not Down.

There are just three way that God knocks at the door of every man and woman.

1. He knocks by the very presence of Christianity and Christian institutions in the world. You can't think for one minute of the humble rise of the religion of Jesus Christ and its steady progress around the world in the face of the most bitter and awful opposition that hell has ever hurled against any creed the world has ever known until it girdles the world today and is the recognized religion of every civilized nation on the face of the earth. I say, you can't think of this for one single minute without at the same time stopping to think of its claims upon your own soul.

Caesar tried to burn it out; Julian tried to argue it out; Celsus tried to laugh it out; Porphry tried to sneer it out; a whole tribe of infidels, from Voltare to Ingersoll, have tried to curse it out, have fought it and spit their venom at it; but it stands today mightier than a million Gibraltars with science, philosophy and the brains of the world worshipping at its shrine.

His Only Enduring Religion.

There's nothing enduring but the religion of Jesus Christ. The day will come when Gibraltar will fall, when the pyramids of Egypt will crumble away, when the sphinx with its weather-eaten nose will become dust and be blown about by the desert winds like the sands which now lie at its feet; when Baalbec and the coliseum with their still stately grandeur will be no more and Mars Hill will be but a memory in the minds of generations long gone; but Christianity and the gospel of Jesus Christ will still live and be the same. Customs may change; society may change; two by four, slack-twisted, man-fearing, sail-trimming preachers may change; but the church of God will never change, and the gospel of Christ will be the same, yesterday, today and forever. And every time you see a church steeple, every time you hear a church bell ring, every time you see a Bible, whether in the hand of a preacher or of a passing Christian, or on the center table of the home, it is a call of God to think about the concerns of the soul and of the life to come. Behold, I stand at the door and knock.

The Consistent Life.

2. He knocks by the power of a consistent Christian life.

I tell you, Christian people, the world's got its eye on us, and somebody has rightly said that the world's got an eagle's eye for anything that's inconsistent in the life of a Christian.

If the church expects to win the world for Christ, she must be right with Christ herself. It isn't enough to profess to do; it's the doing that counts. You can tell more about a man's religion by the way he trades horses on Friday than you can by the way he shouts in prayer meetings on Thursday. And the reason why the world is so slow in coming to Christ is because the life and the activity of the church has been paralyzed by the wine-guzzling, card-playing, theatre-gadding decolette crowd that sells its Christ like Judas to the godless gang—this good Lord, good devil sort of truck that thinks you can live just like the world and be a Christian too. But you can't, and the world's disgusted with you.

If I had a thousand tongues working day and night, and each tongue speaking a different language in a different key, I could not do justice to the chaos and the spiritual havoc wrought in the church by its thousands of members of that kind—and you've all got a lot of 'em—and you know it, too. So don't get mad at me for telling you. But I thank God there are a lot of the other kind, too—Christians, and many of them who so let their light shine before men that others seeing their good works glorify their Father in heaven. There are ten times as many good people in the church in proportion to its members, as there are on the outside. So don't you worldlings get to feeling too good!

A Testing Time.

There was one time a certain theological professor who was known to have a very beautiful and saintly Christian character, and he had a brother-in-law, a physician, who was likewise noted for being a pronounced skeptic. This unbelieving doctor was one time heard to say, in a public place, that all Christians were just alike, and that all any of them needed to make them go wrong and commit sin was to have enough temptation put in their way. One of those who stood by asked him about his brother-in-law and if he thought he was justified in making such a statement concerning him, and the doctor replied that he thought he was and that the old man never was very seriously tempted, and that he was ready to wager ten dollars that he could make his brother-in-law lose his temper and become exceedingly angry. The wager was accepted. Now it happened that the doctor had some business transactions with the old professor a few days later, and he purposely so falsified his accounts and did the mean thing that at last the saintly old man did lose his temper, and rising in a fit of anger, he said: "You're a liar, and I don't want to have anything more to do with you; get out of my house"; and he drove him out. The doctor went on his way chuckling to himself that he had won the wager, and congratulating himself, not for the wager's sake, for that was nothing, but that he had been right in his estimate of the Christian faith, and yet sorry that he had caused the downfall of so good a man. And the old professor went to bed, but not to sleep. He tossed upon his pillow in great agony of soul, until finally he arose in the middle of the night and went through the bitter cold at the risk of his feeble health to the home of his brother-in-law, the doctor, and woke him from his slumbers. When the doctor came to the door he saw the old gentleman standing there with tears raining down his face as he stretched out his hand and said: "My brother, I have come to ask you to forgive me. I did not have the spirit of Jesus when I spoke to you in the manner I did, and I am sorry that I so misrepresented Him to you. Will you not forgive me?" The doctor could hardly control his emotion as he put out his hand and drew him into the house, and after a few moments he said, "I wish you would pray with me. I think I would like to be a Christian."

There's power in a life like that. I'd a thousand times rather lose my temper and say a wrong thing than I would to be so contemptibly stubborn and bullet-headed as not to apoligize for the wrong after I had said it. No, sir, I tell you what all the sermons from all the pulpits in the world won't do, a Godly and consistent Christian life will accomplish.

Now, my friend, I'm perfectly willing to admit that we've got some pretty poor sticks in the church, and we can't do anything with them, but we got them all from your side, and don't you think it's rather mean after palming off that sort of material on us to blame us for having it?

Another Reason He Knocks.

3. He knocks by means of misfortune and affliction. There are lots of people in heaven tonight because their hearts were broken on earth. God had to come to some people and bring to naught their plans and let them stand with broken idols in their hands. He has taken away their store, and take away their health and send bereavement before they will think of God and let Him have the proper place in their lives.

Listen! God knocked in a dozen ways at your life, but you kept the door shut in His face. And then He had to come and pull at your heart-strings with the tug of a little baby's fingers. And He has knocked at some of your doors like that and you are still away from God. He may knock again. Behold, I stand at the door and knock.

4. He knocks in the great danger moments of life. Just as long as you can clip your coupons and run your automobile and have red corpuscles in your blood, you give God the go-by; but when the devil's got you in trouble, then you ask God to get you out and promise God to obey Him. It's contemptible to treat God like that; there's not one scintilla of manhood or one spark of womanhood about it. But listen! I can tell you something a great deal worse, and that is to make a promise to God in a time like that and then be cowardly enough to forget it when the danger is over.

I knew a man of fifty in an eastern city who knew for years that he ought to be a Christian, but he was a prominent club man, had been mayor of the city, and because of his place of prominence in society, he said he lacked the moral courage to take a stand for Christ. But the time came when the doctors said the operation would be fatal, and it was then that he looked to God and promised the surrender of his will.

If Only His Life Were Spared.

But God can do what human physicians can't do, and contrary to what they expected the man's life was spared and he came out all right. And you thought I was going to say the contemptible ingrate and miserable coward forgot his vow and went back on God, didn't you? But he didn't. He remembered it and dealt on the square with God, and is today an earnest Christian man. But there are some of you here tonight who have sickness and trouble of various kinds, and you called on God and promised to obey Him if the sky would only brighten, and then when the clouds had rolled away and the sun commenced to shine, you forgot the vow you made, and you're living just as you please today, with Christ shut out of your life and God given the cold shoulder, all forgotten. It was God knocking and you promised to let Him in, but you didn't do it. Some of you serve the devil till you're old and wrinkled and your eyes are dim and you're about to head in and then you turn to God. You ought to be in Hell for treating God like that after what He's done for you, instead of sittin[illegible] there with your life spared li[illegible] me preach.

You ask m[illegible] many questions I can't answer. [illegible]re is one thing I do know. I know this, that God has appointed a day in which He will judge the world. You who live in sin may laugh and sneer at God, but God will judge you in that day. In that day you will stand before God and God will touch the secret spring of your life, and your past will all live before you again. Some people spend a lot of money having their lives written up, but God has a perfect record of every man's life, and everything you've ever done has been written down. Did you steal? God put it down. Did you swear last night? It's written down. Have you ever told a lie? You will face it in the judgment. Did you commit adultery in your heart? God has it written down, and you will have to face it if you don't let Christ forgive it.

Man, don't be unreasonable, and stubborn, and insane tonight. Let Christ save you tonight. If you will, Christ will.

If I could prove this was your last night on earth, and this message was your funeral sermon, you'd be a whole lot more concerned about this matter than some of you are now.

The big civico-religious parade last night surpassed anything Plainfield has ever seen before. Dr. Biederwolf said that of all the parades he had ever witnessed, the one in Plainfield was the most magnificent. Mayor Calkins expressed his opinion, saying also that Plainfield had witnessed many parades, but none like last nights. West Front street was lined on both sides from Watchung avenue to Madison avenue with people waiting to see the procession pass. When the parade arrived at the Tabernacle thousands were waiting to go in, but those in parade went in first, and the greater part of those who were not in the parade did not get into the service.

Almost every organization in Plain- Almost every organization in Plainfield had a delegation in the parade, and coupled with fine banners, torches, floats, placards and two bands, the whole affair was most inspiring. The Scouts, especially, had fine banners—they had six large silk ones which made a great showing. Some one of the High School pupils became ambitions and began to climb the poles of the building with his pennant in his hand. Then it seemed as if every pole in the building became alive with climbing boys. Boy Scouts climbed up and put Old Glory near the top; North Plainfield placed theirs in an enviable position. Some P. H. S. students got a ladder and one of them climbed this and put the red and blue on one of the crossbeams, higher than anyone. Co. K, not to be outdone, climbed the same ladder and put the American flag at the highest point possible—at the pinnacle of the roof, and the same High School student placed the Plainfield High School flag directly beneath the red, white and blue.

As soon as the crowd quieted down the quartet sang "Saved by His Grace."

Mr. McEwan sang "Plainfield for Christ."

Tonight there will be a delegation of the Daughters of Scotia and a prohibition delegation. The latter will meet in the Y. M. C. A. at 7 p. m.

Tonight is "Converts' Night." All of those who have "hit the trail" should be present. The center section is to be reserved for you, and Dr. Biederwolf has a special sermon.

FOUNDERS' DAY IS OBSERVED IN NEWARK

Military and Civic Parade, and Religious Exercises Features of Big Celebration.

Founders' Day was celebrated yesterday in Newark as part of the 250th anniversary of the landing of Robert Treat and his little band of Puritans from Connecticut May 17, 1666. There was a military and civic parade in the afternoon and in the evening historic and religious exercises were held.

The parade took place at 2:30 o'clock and was composed of the whole of the First Brigade of the National Guard of New Jersey, in command of Brig. Gen. Edwin W. Hine, the First Battalion of the Naval Reserves of New Jersey, and many civic and fraternal organizations of Newark and surrounding towns typefying the life and activity of the city. The grand marshal was Representative R. Wayne Parker.

A dinner was given last night in the Robert Treat Hotel to Governors Holcombe and Fielder and their staffs by the members of the Committee of One Hundred in charge of the celebration. Later the party attended the historic exercises in the Old First Presbyterian church. The Rev. Dr. William H. Dawson, pastor, of the church, delivered the oration of the day. Addresses were made by Governors Holcombe and Fielder, ex-Governor Franklin Murphy, and Mayor Thomas L. Raymond, of Newark.

At the close of the historic ceremonies an informal reception was held at the Robert Treat Hotel.

JONAS LIE EXHIBITS HIS RECENT PAINTINGS

Seventeen recent paintings by Jonas Lie, formerly of this city, have been placed on exhibition at the Knoedler galleries, No. 556 Fifth avenue, New York. Much versatility is shawn, the subjects varying from "Winter Afternoon," a most realistic impression of an icy landscape, with cold pool, snowy earth and green firs, to "The Rhapsodie," which is an arrangement of flowers in which the artist aims successfully at obtaining a color music effect. One of the finest pictures is "Driftwood," showing fisherfolk on the Massachusetts coast gathering debris from the shore in the teeth of an approaching northeaster.

—Try Press want ads. They pay.

Neumann Bros. Company

It's not the price you pay that makes an article of food what it should be, it's the article itself. Everything we sell is delivered with the understanding that should it fail to give its standard value we are most ready to make it so.

Prompt and courteous treatment, with a rapid and efficient delivery service make buying here a pleasure.

Fresh Jersey Asparagus, per bunch.....25c, 28c, 30c
It's Different—that difference is in its goodness—Premier Salad Dressing, bottle....10c & 25c
Little Boy Blue Macaroni or Spaghetti (made in America); 3 pkgs for 25c
33c Makes 30 perfect cups of Coffee—If you say "WHITE LABEL."
Kellogg's Corn Flakes ..... 10c Kellogg's Krumbles 10c
Strictly Fresh Eggs, per dozen 30c

VEGETABLE DEPT.

Our home grown vegetables are being added every day. Fine collection at all times. You'll find them most pleasing.

Fresh Jersey Lettuce
Green Beans, quart.....15c
Jersey Spinach, 4 qts,...20c
Peck 35c
Beet Greens, 4 qts.....25c
Peck 45c
Fresh Tomatoes, quart..15c
Radishes, bunch 3c
Green Onions, bunch.....3c
Cucumbers 4c, 5c, 6c
2 for 25c
New Beets, bunch 10c
New Carrots, bunch 8c
Romaine, 13c, 2 for.....25c
Green Peas, ½ pk.....50c
Oyster Plant, bunch....15c
New Potatoes, Bermuda, a pk. 70c
New Potatoes, Florida, a pk. 65c
Egg Plant.....15c, 18c, 20c
Mushrooms, lb 65c
Celery, hearts 15c, bunch 25c

Goodness and Sweetness go together in that 1-lb box of Assorted Chocolates of ours..39c

Pleasing people is one of the biggest assets in our business; our selection of Teas have brought us many friends; perhaps we can please you, if you haven't found just what you want in the finest Oolongs, Ceylons, Gunpowder, Young Hyson.

35c, 50c, 60c, 75c lb.

FRUIT DEPT.

Any selection you may make here you will find to be perfect in quality.

Maryland Fresh Strawberries
Red Bananas, doz.....60c
Yellow Bananas, doz....30c
Fancy Pineapples, each, 15c and 20c
Florida Grapefruit—4 for 25c; 3 for 25c; 2 for 25c
Florida Oranges—doz.....35c, 40c, 45c, 50c
California Oranges—doz.....35c, 40c, 45c, 50c
California Cherries, lb..45c
Fancy Table Pears, ea...8c
Table Apples, Winesaps, dozen 50c
Baldwin Apples, bsk..$1.00
Greening Apples, bsk..$1.25
Winesap Apples, bsk...90c
Alligator Pears, each....30c

GYPSY BAND COMES TO CLEAN UP TOWN

Spends Few Hours Here and Then Departs in a Big Hurry.

Plainfield looked like good pickings to a band of gaily-bedecked gypsies whose caravan reached here about noon yesterday, but their bright hopes were soon o'ershadowed by dark clouds of doubt when two by two they were rounded up and taken to the police station, to be completely obliterated a short time later when they stood before City Judge William De Meza and heard him say, "and if you ever stop in this city again I will make it $50 for each one of you."

There were six men and five women in the band. All the women were fortune tellers, of course, and the men—well they had money enough to pay the fine of $5 each assessed by Judge De Meza, although there is a blank space where their occupations should have been written on the police register. It was a prosperous band. There were four wagons, a Ford automobile and eighteen children, all the common property of the six men and five women—including the children. All denied that they had ever gone through the formal ceremony of marriage.

No formal complaints of larceny were made against the women when they were tried before Judge DeMeza yesterday afternoon, but there were several Plainfielders there to tell of "irregularities" in their methods of doing business. Just as soon as the band hit Plainfield the women started out to "clean the town." They would rather tell fortunes, but they could also tell hard luck stories and when a man was not looking. One of them went into the Martin automobile company shop and offered to swap glowing promises of future wealth for a dollar, but when Mr. Martin refused to trade she calmly opened the cash register and took out a roll of bills. Mr. Martin made her put the money back, but when he counted it later there was a dollar missing. One young man was approached by a member of the band on the street. She talked to him for a few minutes, and when she walked away his bankroll was missing. He refused to make a complaint, because there was only twenty cents in his bankroll. Many other stories of similar robberies are coming to light today, but for the most part the victims do not care to talk about their loss.

AUTO DAMAGED WHEN IT HITS BIG DELIVERY TRUCK

Ira Guernsey, of Metuchen, while driving an automobile along Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, collided with a big truck owned by a New York delivery concern. The accident was reported to the police by Mr. Guernsey. His automobile was badly damaged but no one was injured.

—That funny fellow Scoop is on the classified page.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

SUMMER FURNITURE

In selecting your Summer Furniture it is your place to see that you get the latest styles and the best made for the least money. We are showing a very large stock of Summer Furnishing from which it is very easy for you to make your selection.

Porch Hammocks

Heavy duck sides and wind shield. Nice tufted mattress and good strong spring seat.
Prices.....$6.25, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12.50, $14
Iron Hammock Stands .....$3.25 and $4.00

Porch Rockers

High Back, Double Reed Seats.....$2.50
High Back, Double Reed Seat and Back.....$3.50
Low Back, Double Reed Seat and Back.....$2.65
Low Back, Double Reed Seat $2.25
Other Chairs and Rockers.....$1.15, $2.00 to $8.00

Porch Screens

The latest in Porch Screens; the kind that will give the best service; sizes 6x8 feet; prices.....$3.50 to $4.50

See Our Complete Line of Porch Rugs.

Why Not Get a Nice Gas or Oil Stove?

Our Easy Payment Plan

Enables you to furnish your room or house at a very low price without paying for it all at once. All we ask is a little down and a small payment each week.

Come in and get our prices and terms before you select your goods elsewhere.

MIRON & LIFSON
134 E. FRONT ST. PLAINFIELD, N. J.
165 First St., Elizabeth
STORE OPEN EVENINGS FREE AUTO DELIVERY

PLAINIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Prposals for Fuel for Public Schools.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of Plainfield, N. J., in the board room, High School building, West Ninth street and Arlington avenue, on Wednesday evening, May 31st, 1916, at 8:15 o'clock, for fuel.

Said bids shall be made in accordance with a schedule of requirements and specifications as to quality, which may be obtained at the office of the Clerk or will be mailed upon application.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

A. A. TILNEY, Secretary.

M16 18 20 23 25 27 31.

—Press want ads. pay.

A. H. ENANDER
SANITARY PLUMBING, GAS FITTING, STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING.
Contractor for Sewer Connections.
225 WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Hoagland's Express
W. H. CAMMANN, Successor.
FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING
OFFICE, 124 WEST SECOND ST.
Telephone 666.

Plainfield Daily Press

Published Daily except Sunday, by the PLAINFIELD PRESS COMPANY, 193 North Avenue.

Entered at the Plainfield, N. J., Postoffice as second class mail matter.

Leslie R. Port, Managing Editor.

TELEPHONE PLAINFIELD 3000.
Private Branch Exchange connecting all departments.

Two cents a copy. Ten cents a week. $5.00 a year in advance. Delivered by carrier or by mail. No extra charge for papers mailed to points in the U. S. and Canada.

Any subscriber failing to receive a single issue will confer a favor by notifying the business office.

Advertising rates mailed on application. Copy for change of advertisements to ensure change for same day must be at the office by 9 a. m.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MAY 18, 1916.

A WONDERFUL DEMONSTRATION.

Plainfield has never before seen such a demonstration as that of last night, and it will probably be many years before it sees another. It took forty-five minutes for the hosts of Christian men, women and young folks to pass a given point along the line of march, and they were parading six abreast, in close order and at a rapid pace. That Dr. Biederwolf has made a lasting impression upon the great mass of the people of the community could not have been demonstrated in a better way than was done last night. There were mighty few residents of this city and vicinity who did not either participate in the parade, or line the streets through which it passed. Members of the Biederwolf party declared that it was the largest outpouring of people that have ever participated in a similar demonstration in any town that the evangelist has visited. Plainfield was a bit slow in awakening to the good which the services are doing, but the great host of marchers of last night prove that its success exceeds the fondest expectations of those who arranged the meetings.

• • • • • •

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

Who will be the next President of the United States? That is a question which is agitating a lot of people nowadays, and yet the answer is simple. It will not be Woodrow Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt, Charles E. Hughes, Elihu Root, or any of the other men who are mentioned as candidates. Robert Lansing is the man, unless he resigns as Secretary of State. No, we're not crazy. The calendar is responsible, combined with a provision of Congress that in case of the death, removal, resignation or inability of both the President and Vice President to serve, the Secretary of State shall act as President.

March 4, 1917, will fall on Sunday, and the inaugural exercises will not be held until noon March 5. President Wilson's term commenced on March 4, 1913, and the Constitution says that his term of office shall be four years, and even if he succeeds himself he cannot be sworn in until March 5. As the same thing applies to the Vice President, Mr. Lansing will get the job. According to reports the brief term of office is not a mere formality. It carries with it all the powers of the President, including the right to occupy the White House, issue pardons, to attend to all other executive business, and to ride to the capital on Inauguration Day, should he so desire, as the outgoing President.

What is more, this is the first time in the history of the nation that a Secretary of State has had the honor bestowed upon him, and the second time in 140 years since the existence of the nation that the office has been held by any other than the President or Vice President.

Mr. Lansing will hold over as Secretary of State by virtue of the tenure of office act of 1867, which provides that anyone holding civil office "shall be entitled to hold such office during the term for which he was appointed or until the appointment of a successor in his place." The commission issued by the President to Mr. Lansing specifies no term whatever, although it contains the phrase "during the pleasure of the President of the United States for the time being." The reasons for this saving clause are quite apparent, and the mention of the name of William Jennings Bryan in the message of the President to the Senate causes one to wonder whether the Commoner was aware that, if he remained in office until March 4 next, he would be the twenty-ninth President of the United States—if only for a day.

• • • • • •

BEER AS A TROUBLE-MAKER.

Beer has causedy trouble for a lot of people in this world, in spite of the fact that experts claim that it is not intoxicating. The Plainfield postmen have been subjected to much criticism because it was proposed that beer be served to the guests who will be here for the convention of carriers to be held on May 30. Much of this criticism has been unjust, although the principle which resulted in the complaint was right.

Some narrow minded people have made statements regarding the letter carrier which are unjust in every way. Postmen everywhere are a group of sober, clean living, honest, hard working men. So far as they are personally concerned the subject of anything to drink at the convention could be entirely forgotten. They did not care whether beer was to be served or not. The idea of the committee in charge of the entertainment was merely to follow the precedent set in other places where they have been held, and to have beer for those who wanted it among the visiting guests.

Letter carriers as a type, are clean-cut citizens, who attend to their own business, and serve the patrons on their routes in as capable a manner as they know how. We believe that if a vote were taken of all the visitors here on Decoration Day it would be found that a large majority of them would not care anything about the beer. This is proven by the letter from the representave of the New York carriers, who wrote to the local hosts that they resent the imputation that the beer is needed to make the day complete. The whole trouble seems to have come about as a result of a lot of loose talk. It is a good thing that it has come up now, instead of after the gathering is over, for Plainfield could not well afford to be heralded broadcast as a community where the serving of beer is a true barometer of the opinion of its citizens as to what constitutes a "good time."

• • • • • •

JEWS AND THE WAR.

One of the men decorated with the Victoria Cross by the king the other day was Sergeant Issy Smith, of the Manchester regiment, whose conspicuous bravery near Ypres in April last won for him the coveted decoration. Smith is a Jew, and the honor that has been conferred upon him revives interest in the part that the Jewish people all over are playing in the great war. According to Lord Rothschild, there are 230,000 Jews in the united kingdom, and out of this number at least 17,000 are now in the British army and navy, while it is stated that over half a million of Jews are fighting in the several armies of the allied forces and shedding their blood with the bravest and best of their comrades in arms. Great numbers are in the ranks of the Russian army, and such bravery have they displayed that very many of them have been awarded commissions, as well as being decorated with the most coveted honors. Sergeant Smith's decoration is not the only one that has come to the Jews in the British army, as previous to his daring exploit a member of the R. F. C. was raised from flight lieutenant to commander and awarded the D. S. O. for bravery, while several others have been included in the lists of D. C. M.s and other honor lists that have from time to time been published.

On the Spur of the Moment

by Roy K. Moulton

The Robin.

The robin that sings in the spring, tra-la,
Has nothing to do with the case;
He is a deceiving young thing, tra-la,
With a perfectly innocent face.

Heed not his uproarious song, tra-la,
Believing that summer is nigh,
But cling to your heavy ones long, tra-la,
At least till the Fourth of July.

The Hickeyville Clarion

Polite society turned out en masse last Thursday evening at the home of Deacon Stubbs to attend the marriage of his daughter, Mrs. Anastasia Stubbs Perkins Peabody Pringle Pettibone, to Mr. Ezra Hand, our popular village constable, also notary public with seal, lawn mowers sharpened, signs painted, real estate and conveyancing and calling cards wrote with neatness and dispatch. The bride was given away four times before, but she came back every time. Mendel & Sons wedding march was played by Miss Pansy Tibbitts, who presided at the piano, and the fatal words were spoke by the Rev. Hanks, of the Hardshell church. The Rev. made the service very short, as the fee was only a $2 bill. The bride wore the family jewels and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and didn't catch cold.

The presents were numerous and costly, consisting of 47 little gold mantel clocks and 179 glass pickle boats. Little Lutie Bibbins acted as ring bearer and the entire ladies' aid acted as tale bearers.

The happy couple left the house for the railroad depot amid a shower of rice and old shoes, during which the bride received an abrasion behind the left ear and the groom was struck five times on the nose. Mrs. Hand is one of our most successful spring brides and her husband is one of our astute business men. Both were wished many happy returns of the day. Extensive refreshments, consisting of red and pink peppermint wafers were served. Ye editor and wife were not among those invited. After the honeymoon the couple will probably reside with the bride's father, if they reside at all.

Our Own Recipe Book.

Musical Comedy—Take two dozen fresh chorus girls and add a handful of ribbon clerks who know how to wear dress suits. Scramble thoroughly and add one joke every five minutes until done. Add one naval lieutenant with a tenor voice, one prima donna and a light comedian who can balance a feather on his nose and repeat at intervals: "She is beautiful, is she not? Yes, she is not." Mix a bit of spice in the shape of a dance that will make the public sit up and take notice, one song about moonlight, also an automobile, a bathing scene and one spotlight. Stir the whole thoroughly and serve it hot. If it is at all underdone the critics will roast it to a turn. Then it will probably be one of the successful productions of the season.

Undesirable Citizens.

A blooming jay
Is Charley Hewitt;
Just hear him say,
I see you do it.
—Pittsburgh Post.

Provoking guy
Is Howard Brame;
Just hear him say,
"The train has came."
Butler Citizen.

We hate the gink,
Till hate is spent,
Who mourns, "Where Has Maggie went?"

Concerning Opportunity.

Opportunity knocks at your door not only once, but many times; but you needn't think that Opportunity is going to be a locksmith, buy a skeleton key, unlock your door, come upstairs and pull you out of bed, dress you, wash your face, carry you downstairs and put you in a 60-horsepower automobile just in order to start you on your way.

PROGRESS! THE KIND WE HAVE HAD ENOUGH OF.

Uncle Sam: "I am going to cut loose from him and put a business-like engineer on the job."

- Proctor's Theatre -

Today and tomorrow are big days in local theatricals for Charlie Chaplin, the peer of all screen and stage comedians, is presented at Proctor's in his latest comedy production, "The Floorwalker." This feature is the first one produced by Chaplin under his famous $670,000 contract with the Mutual Company, and is conceded by critics to be the best and greatest laugh-provoking comedy in which he has ever appeared. There is a laugh every second in this two-reel bit of hilarity, and Chaplin is afforded innumerable opportunities to display his eccentric ability. In addition to this colossal attraction today, Mary Packford, the queen of the screen, appears in "Mistress Nell," one of her most popular vehicle, and is seen in all her accustomed glory and winsomeness. Other features today include Frank Keenan in a powerful and intensely interesting Triangle production entitled "The Stepping Stone," and Chester Conklin, the funny Keystoneite, will head a clever cast of funmakers in "Bucking Society." Tomorrow, in addition to "The Floorwalker," little Mary Pickford will be seen in "A Girl of Yesterday," in which she appeared at Proctor's a short while ago, and created such a favorable impression among her hundreds of admirers that the management decided to present this charming picture the second time. On Saturday the photoplay entertainment will feature two of the most popular of screen stars, Mary Pickford appearing in "Madame Butterfly," many of the scenees for which were taken right in this city, and little Mary Miles Minter will be featured in her greatest screen production, "Dimples." Among the prominent attractions booked for next week are Monday, Victor Moore, in "Chimmie Fadden Out West," a wonderful Paramount offering; De Wolf Hopper, one of the greatest of stage stars, in "Sunshine Dad," and Edna Goodrich in "Armstrong's Wife," and Wednesday, program will consist of William Farnum in his latest Fox feature entitled "A Man of Sorrow," adapted from the stage success, "Hoodman Blind."

.· Plainfield Theatre. ·.

Because of the great success scored by the juvenile revue, which has been at the Plainfield Theatre since Monday, scores of patrons have asked Manager Shannon to retain the act for the last half of the week, and because of this arrangements have been made to hold the youngsters over. They will again present their clever singing and dancing offering this afternoon, and will be seen at all performaces up to and includig Saturday night. Ten little girls are in the company, none of them over twelve years of age, and they have several tots, barely more than five years old who give solo numbers like veterans past middle life.

Another big number which will be on the bill commencing today is Walter Pierson and company, presenting Mr. Pierson's latest novelty "The Green Dragon." This production is described as a Chinese fantasy, and permits Mr. Pierson to portray his marvelous impersonation of a Hop joint Chinaman. He was seen here early in the season with a burlesque show and made a wonderful impression. His impersonation is described is being the cleverest "Chink" character act in vaudeville. Jules Jordan, the popular monologuist, will also have a place on the bill, and there will be three other fine acts to support the headliners.

The thirteenth episode of "The Iron Claw" will be on the picture program today, and the twelfth episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page" is scheduled for tomorrow. There will also be a Charlie Chaplin comedy at all performances today and tomorrow.

--Astor Theatre--

According to the advance sale of seats, "The Battles of a Nation" will be well attended today at the Astor Theatre. Crowds were turned away from the Park Theatre in New York on the presentation of this wonderful photoplay, which is no doubt one of the most interesting war productions ever placed before the public. It shows the battle at Warsaw in all its horrifying details, plenty of actual fighting is seen. As a motion picture contribution "The Battles of a Nation" are more than artistic. The picture is in 6,000 feet of film thrilling from beginning to end—not a dull moment.

Tomorrow there will be presented "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," with the distinguished American actress, Charlotee Walker. It was in the dramatic version of this beautiful story of the Cumberland Mountain that Miss Walker scored her greatest triumph on the speaking stage. The story was secured especially for her by the Lasky Company. It is a Paramount picture. The dress that Miss Walker wears throughout the entire production has a peculiar history in itself. It is a cheap, red, cotton affair, torn and dilapidated. Miss Walker wore it during the three years she starrted in the production and later loaned it to Miss Marjorie Rambeau, who followed her in the part. Miss Rambeau, when she had finished with the dress, was about to throw it away when she happened to think Miss Walker might want to keep it as a souvenir of her greatest stage triumph. Miss Walker placed the costume in the bottom of her trunk in her New York home and promptly forgot what she had done with it. She had reached Hollywood before it was definitely decided that she was to appear in her famous play. She immediately wired East for the dress, but it was two weeks before her trunks could be ransacked and the costume found. The story of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" has to do with the love of a young internal revenue officer hunting for illegal moonshine whiskey stills in the remote mountain section of Virginia. There he meets "June," the beautiful daughter of old Judd Tolliver, head of the moonshiners. How the two fall in love, although enemies, how the moonshine traffic is broken up and the young officer wins over the Tolliver family must, naturally, be seen to be appreciated.

Cecil B. De Mille, director general of the Lasky Company, was personally in charge of the production of the photodrama and has maintained a wonderful atmosphere of the mountains and the peculiar characteristics of the uneducated mountaineers throughout the entire production. In the cast supporting Miss Walker are such famous artists as Theodore Roberts, Thomas Meighan and other well known stars of the film, well known to the Plainfield public. In addition to this wonderful photoplay we will show the Paramount-Bray Cartoons, Tribune Weekly No. 37 and other interesting film. Always a good show at the Astor Theatre, the house of first run Paramount, Bluebird and other Broadway productions. You see them here first. Coming May 31, the queen of the film, Mary Pickford, in "Poor Little Peppina," a pronounced success greater than "The Girl of Yesterday," which was shown here. Ask about the family tickets. Travelstamps are given at this theatre.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

Whenever the saying of a thing cannot possibly do good and will, or even may do harm, it would better be left unsaid. When people are more and more recognizing the evils of drink and trying to do away with the use of alcohol, it is unfortunate that a man of the standing of Albert H. Atterbury should come out and champion its use in the form of beer and wine.

It is unfortunate too that Mr. Atterbury should have held up John Koren as "probably the most competent student of the liquor question in this country" because Ernest Gordon, the author of "The Anti-Alcohol Movement in Europe," investigated Mr. Koren and found that he was an anonymous contributor to "The Brewers' Yearbook."

This (unknown to Mr. Atterbury) fact will demonstrate the reason for Mr. Koren's advising the use of beer and it will also demonstrate the absolute partiality and unreliability of his conclusions. Furthermore, the lawbreaking of large numbers of saloon keepers, their defiance of Sunday closing regulations, the disreputable back rooms attached to many of the saloons and the general evil influence they exert in a community will prove the fallacy of the idea that the use of beer promotes temperance, when people stop to consider that almost all saloons are either owned or controlled by the brewers.

The Poster Campaign Committee by
R. HENRY DEPEW.

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

Allow me to correct a notice, given in an issue of your paper last week, of the death of Dr. Charles P. Bull, son of Charles P. Bull. It was the father who died, May 6, at the University of Virginia.

I feel that the death of Mr. Bull should have special recognition in our local press, as he had been for many years a resident of Plainfield until about 1902, after which he divided his time between New York and his home in the South, years of his life being periods of suffering and invalidism.

In the activities of Grace Episcopal church he was best known, where he served as vestryman, treasurer and superintendent of Sunday-school. Mr. Bull's fine character won the respect of all with whom he was associated, and his warmth of heart and prevailing courtesy gained for him the affection of all who knew him intimately. He had served in the Confederate army in our Civil War, and naturally was a loyal and devoted son of the South, but when he came to us all bitterness and sectional feeling was put aside, and he never failed to express his appreciation of the great kindness extended to him. Some testimonials have come to my notice, which I feel all who knew Mr. Bull will fully endorse.

A very close friend writes: "The loss of such a friend and of such a man to the world cannot be overstated. His gentle Christian character and his capacity for great things made a rare combination." Also, the superintendent of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, of which Mr. Bull had long been a valuable member, announce "with sadness and regret the death of our greatly-beloved Charle P. Bull, who died in his own dear Southland on May 6, 1916, in great peace. At 9 o'clock that morning he remarked 'I am so tired, I think I will take a little rest,' so he closed his eyes and peacefully entered Paradise. He was buried with tender hands in Aiken, S. C., on May 9, surrounded by a host of friends and comrades."

ELIZABETH TIFFANY.
May 17, 1916.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

1291—Turks captured the city of Acre, in Palestine; 60,000 Christians were killed or enslaved, and the Holy Land fell into the hands of the Moslems.

1785—St. John, N. B., chartered, the oldest incorporated town in Canada.

1822—Iturbide declared Emperor of Mexico by the army under the title Augustin I.

1843—Disruption in Church of Scotland, dissenting clergy and laity leaving the Established church.

1848—German National Assembly met at Frankfort to complete the consolidation of the German Empire.

1849—Fire at St. Louis burnt ships and warehouses on river bank.

1861—Arkansas admitted into the Southern Confederacy.

1898—Peace Conference assembled at The Hague.

1909—Death of George Meredith, English novelist and poet, aged 81.

1914—Panama Canal was opened for regular barge traffic.

1915—THE WAR.

Petrograd reports Teutons suffering heavy losses in their offensive movement.

French push attack between the Meuse and the Moselle; fierce hand-to-hand fighting taking place at Ailly.

Allied fleet reported to have silenced Kelid Bahr at the Dardanelles.

Russians admit that Germans and Austrians have crossed the San.

Kitchener calls for 300,000 more new recruits.

COMING EVENTS.

TOMORROW.

Building Trades Council.

Lecture at St. Peter's Lutheran church.

Thirty-ninth annual meeting, Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society—First Baptist church.

SUNDAY.

Gesang Turn Verein "May Walk."

WEDNESDAY.

Jr. O. U. A. M. euchre.

THURSDAY.

Annual meeting P. T. A.—Franklin School.

Euchre and "500"—St. Joseph's Hall.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P. dance.

FRIDAY.

Building Trades Council.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"Tiz" for sore, tired, puffed-up, aching, calloused feet or corns.

You can be happy-footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, aching feet. "Tiz" and only "Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed aching, sweaty feet.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more. —Adv.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. —Adv.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney troubles, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

AUTO BUSES
Dances, Parties, Lodges, etc.
Parties from 18 to 50 people transported any distance at reasonable prices.
SUBURBAN TRANSIT CO.,
R. W. Campbell, Mgr.
910 Park Avenue. 'Phone 130

TONY LUSARDI, JR.,
Successor to
B. KIVATINOS
Fancy Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc. We make a specialty of Olive Oil.
211 W. FRONT ST. Tel. 886-W.

ASK FOR and GET
HORLICK'S
THE ORIGINAL
MALTED MILK
Cheap substitutes cost YOU same price.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Old Shuteyes, the Dustman, Polishes The Stars.

To Get Down All the Stars and Polish Them.

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

"A FAIRY story, daddy; a fairy story!" cried Jack and Evelyn.

Daddy thought a minute and then began: "One night after Ole Lukoie, the dustman, had put a little boy, Halmar, to bed Halmar asked, 'Aren't we going to have any story tonight, Ole?'

"'Tonight we haven't time for any story,' Ole Shuteyes told him. 'But just look at this!'

"Halmar glanced up in his sleep and saw the prettiest umbrella opened over his head. The whole umbrella was just like a big Chinese bowl, with blue trees all over it and arched bridges. On these bridges stood funny little people nodding their heads.

"'Tomorrow is Sunday and a holiday,' Ole told Halmar. 'So we must get the whole world polished up. This is why I haven't time to tell you a story. I must go up into the church tower to see if the little church brownies are polishing the bells so they will sound well. I must go out into the fields to see if the wind has blown the dust off the grass and leaves. But my biggest piece of work is to get down all the stars and polish them. I take them in my apron. But first of all I have to number each star and the holes they belong to, so they will go back into their proper places; otherwise they would stick and one after the other fall out. Then we should have too many falling stars.'

"'Now I say, Mr. Lukoie,' said one of the pictures hanging on the wall, 'I am Halmar's great-grandfather, and I am much obliged to you for telling him bedtime stories. But you must not puzzle his brain with tales about polishing the stars. The stars are planets just like our earth.'

"'Much obliged to you, old great-grandfather,' said Ole Lukoie, the dustman. 'You are the head of this family, and you are very old. But I am much older than you. I am an old heathen. The Greeks and the Romans call me the dream god. I have my footing in the grandest houses. I get on with both big and little. But you may tell your great-grandson the bedtime story yourself.'

"Then Ole Lukoie took his beautiful Chinese umbrella and went away to polish up the world for Sunday holiday.

"Halmar's great-grandfather looked at his little sleeping heir sadly. 'I suppose such an old duffer as I am shouldn't have any opinion of his own,' he whispered in Halmar's ear.

"And then little Halmar awoke, and the morning sun was pouring into his room, broad daylight."

Marrying a Butterfly

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

Ethel Thinks Always of Her Rights; but What About Her Duties?

"You don't mean that you are paying $30 a month to that new maid," exclaimed Ralph Gordon in a great state of excitement.

"There is nothing so strange about that. Mother assures me that maids are almost impossible to get, and this one is a prize, for she can cook. I insisted on that. I told mother that life would be unendurable in the same house with you if you were not properly fed." Ethel Gordon settled her plumes as if she was sure she had silenced the enemy's guns.

"But, Ethel, we cannot afford it. We barely made ends meet before. I am earning a good salary, but it all goes up in smoke some way. There is not a cent of it to show at the end of the month." Ralph paced excitedly up and down the living room.

"I do not know what you are talking to me about it for. I have not boosted prices, though you would suppose you thought I was in a conspiracy against you to hear you talk." Ethel's tone was certainly petulent. "I get so tired of everlastingly hearing about expenses that I feel like stopping my ears."

"You might as well stop them for all the good it does you to listen. You go calmly on with your light-hearted scattering of money and are sweetly astonished when everything is gone. I certainly am about desperate. We shall never know what it is to be a dollar ahead." Ralph moodily looked out of the window with his hands in his pockets.

"Do you want I should send her away?" asked his wife. "I do not object to eating at the hotel, but I thought you would be glad of anything that took us away from these." Ethel looked reproachfully at him and thought how useless it was to try to please men. They were such unreasonable beings.

"Heaven forbid!" ejaculated Ralph fervently.

"Well, have you anything else to suggest? After all I did to get this maid just because I knew you would not be satisfied to eat anywhere but at home," complained Ethel.

"'All you did,'" retorted Ralph. "You do everything by calling on someone else to do it for you."

"You're perfectly horrid, Ralph Gordon! You bring me 'way out here where there is nothing to amuse me, nothing to enjoy, and then you do everything to make me unhappy. Just find fault with me for everything I do and blame all our servant problems onto me, and——"

"Well, who is to blame for Minnie's leaving if you are not, I should like to know?" His tone was hard and unfeeling.

"If you would learn to do something useful; learn to make the home comfortable as other women do, you would not need amusing. You would have something to occupy your mind and you would be far happier than you are idling away your time doing the Lord knows what. I never see a thing that you do." The pent-up irritation of weeks was finding voice.

"Oh, that it should come to this!" wailed the unhappy girl. "You care nothing for me. It is just your own selfish comfort that you are thinking about all the time," she sobbed.

"And you? Whose comfort are you thinking about, I should like to know?" Ralph strode into the hall, took his hat from the rack and ran down the walk. Ethel took the handkerchief from her eyes long enough to see him turn up the road to the fields. Then she settled herself for a full review of her husband's sins of omission and commision, while she wiped the tears of wounded self-love from her eyes.

(To be continued.)

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. J. L. Evans.

The Mothers' Society spent a very pleasant and profitable afternoon at a lawn party at the home of Mrs. Horace G. Philips, Kensington avenue, May 10. The beautiful lawn studded by stately trees made a charming place for an outdoor party. At the business meeting preceding the social reports were submitted from the various Parent-Teacher Associations regarding the school luncheons and other important matters by Mrs. A. C. Penn, Mrs. Frederick Smith, Mrs. G. Stuart Simons and Mrs. Steven Voorhees.

Mrs. Charles Monroe spoke on the subject of "Moving Pictures and Vaudeville." The letter of Mayor Calkins to the Council advising the elimination of questionable pictures was most heartly commended, and it was decided to appoint a committee composed of mothers, who will visit the theatres and report any improper pictures or performances.

Any mother who would like to become a member of this committee should send her name to the president of the Mothers' Association, Mrs. Champlin Riley.

There will be a meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday, May 25, at 8 o'clock sharp, at which the annual election of officers will take place. The entertainment for the evening will consist of a demonstration of the work done by the science department, given by the pupils under the supervision of Mr. Hubbard. Parents will be well paid for coming out to see this demonstration. This will be the last parent-teacher meeting of the year.

On Friday evening, May 26, a pageant and exhibition of folk dances and physical training will be given under the direction of Miss Jackson and Mrs. Patch. The entertainment is a most beautiful and instructive one, showing the folk dances of many nations, patriotic drills, an exhibition of what the boys have done in the way of preparedness, with many other attractive features. Music, both vocal and instrumental, will be provided under the direction of Mrs. William Burnett and Mrs. Guy Bender. The proceeds will be used by the Mothers' Association to establish a library in every school on "Home Administration" and "Child Gardening." These books have been carefully selected and will benefit the community at large.

During these days of the Biederwolf campaign I want to repeat what Dr. Biederwolf said in a recent sermon. "The way that a belief in the heart manifests itself is in the life. A man can believe in his head and you'll never know it unless he tells you, but when a man believes in his heart, his life will speak louder than any man's words can sound."

Dr. Zelie told a story at one of the Flower Guild meetings which ran this way: In a certain family consisting of the parents and six children, there was constant discord and quarreling among the children. The parents kept praying that Mary wouldn't be so selfish, that Johnny wouldn't be so irritable, that Jane would drop this habit and that Henry would drop that, and that Elizabeth wouldn't be so inconsistent, etc., but the trouble did not seem to grow any less, the discord seeming more apparent than ever. So finally the parents began to pray that they might all be filled with the Holy Spirit, and in a few weeks there was a marked change in the behavious of the children. Then said Dr. Zelie, "Do not pray to have spicific faults removed from those you love; just pray that they may be filled with the Holy Spirit, for then there will be no room for quarrels and ugly temper to nest there, and the evil tendencies will flee away."

MAYOR URGES THAT CITY "DRESS UP"

Informal Proclamation Calls for Decorations for Letter Carriers' Parade.

Mayor Leighton Calkins this morning issued an informal proclamation calling upon the people of Plainfield to decorate their homes and business houses for the parade of the New Jersey State Association of Letter Carriers here on May 30. The convention will be one of the biggest things Plainfield has ever known, and Mayor Calkins urges that all local citizens show their appreciation by "dressing up" the town in honor of the visitors. He calls attention to the fact that the local branch of the letter carriers has voted not to serve beer at the convention "out of deference to the wishes of Plainfield people," and asks that appreciation of this be shown by decorating on the day of the parade. The line of march has not yet been decided upon but will be announced in plenty of time for those living along it to put up flags and bunting, although decorations should not be limited to the streets over which the parade will pass.

MRS. JOHN M. WHITON CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Woman's Ass'n of Congregational Church Holds Its Annual Session.

At the annual meeting of the Women's Association of the Congregational church held yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. John M. Whiton; vice president, Mrs. H. V. Hubbard; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan; treasurer, Mrs. Philip S. Suffern; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles A. Rice; chairman Junior Lookout, Mrs. D. F. Updike.

Reports from various committees showed progress along all lines. The treasurer reported an increase over last year in amounts sent to the missionary societies and a generous balance in the treasury.

The work among the juniors under the direction of Mrs. D. F. Updike was most gratifying. The Misses Mary Decker and Evelyn Fisher, whom the society sent to the Northfield Conference last summer, proved how worth while a week at the Northfield rally is by the excellent way they have taught "missions" to the juniors and primary department. The association is planning a reception and social evening in honor of the organist, Mrs. B. T. Barnes, who has served twenty-eight years. The date will be announced later.

PLANNING TO FORM BIBLE STUDY CLASS

Miss Clyde Burnett Will Act as Teacher for Community Center's Latest Effort.

As a consequence of the interest created in religious reading by the prevailing evangelistis campaign, the West End Community Center has taken steps to form a Bible study class to further the knowledge of adults in the Holy Book. The first meeting will be held in the Washington School Auditorium on Tuesday night, June 6, and weekly sessions will be held on each Tuesday thereafter for the remainder of the month, possibly continuing longer. The membership is to be strictly non-denominational, and all persons interested are invited to attend.

Miss Clyde Burnett, of Madison avenue, who is known locally as an exceptionally capable Bible student, has kindly consented to act as teacher. She made the Holy Book a special study as a member of the class conducted by Dr. Haldeman, of New York, recognized throughout the country as one of the greatest Bible students in America. Miss Burnett was privileged to enjoy his full course of instruction, and those joining the Community Center class will reap the profit of her work.

Y. W. H. A. MEMBERS HOLD INTERESTING DEBATE

The literary branch of the Young Women's Hebrew Association held the first of a series of debates in the association rooms, Tuesday night. It was heard by a large and greatly interested audience and will undoubtedly be the forerunner of many others as equally successful.

The subject debated was: "Resolved, That it is better for a girl to work in a factory than as a domestic servant." Dozens of convincing points were brought out by both the affirmative and negative sides, but the judges decided that the affirmative had won out. The successful debaters were the Misses Anna Moledezky, Minnie Solomon and Ida Sachar. The negative was advanced by the Misses Rose Davidson, Sadie Moskovitz and Mildred Weintrob. The judges were Irving Kunzman, Abe Schwartz and Arthur Richards.

8,000 MARCH FOR CHRIST

(Continued from page 1.)

flags and lanterns.

Next came Company K and Guard, Winfield Scott Post, Grand Army of the Republic, local Sons of Veterans, ushers at the Tabernacle, women assistants at the Tabernacle, members of the cottage prayer meetings committee, and the Plainfield and North Plainfield Women's Christian Temperance Union. Ahead of the W. C. T. U. delegation was a water wagon, with Uncle Sam sitting astride, and one of the women bore a banner with the words, "Plainfield is Going Dry; You Might As Well Get Used to the Water Wagon." All this was Division No. 1, under the leadership of John R. McLaughlin.

George H. Batchelor lead Division No. 2, and at its head marched members of the chorus choir, singing hymns as they paraded the entire route. After the choir came hundreds of members of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., and behind them the various Boy Scout Councils of the city. Many Boy Scouts served along the line of march to light the way with fire.

The third division, H. W. Marshall in charge, was led by the Westfield band of twenty pieces. First marched a large number of students of Herr's Commercial College and other business educational institutions, and after them came students of Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools. The Matlack Bible-class made a highly pleasing showing and in the delegation of Federation of Men's Church Clubs and Bible-classes there were almost two hundred. Most of the fraternal and social orders in Plainfield were represented in the parade and they followed the men's clubs. A large body of uniformed Jr. O. U. A. M. members attracted much attention in the lodge group.

E. B. Shoemaker was in charge of Division No. 4, and it was led by the Plainfield drum and fife corps. Marching in the visiting delegations were men and women from Dunellen, Metuchen, Bound Brook, Fanwood and many other nearby towns. In this division was the Tabernacle group, made up of men and women not otherwise attached, and they numbered more than two hundred.

Judge William N. Runyon marched at the head of Division No. 5, headed by two hundred members of Hope chapel and friends. Behind them came delegations from other Sunday schools and churches of the city. Practically all of the churches were represented and all made a good showing. There were a number of floats in this division, including a gigantic truck from the Spicer plant with an electric cross. A float sent to Plainfield by a Dunellen church lost a wheel soon after it started and was forced to drop out of the parade.

Allan B. Laing had charge of the last division, which was made up of more than forty automobiles, all gaily decorated with flags, lanterns and flowers.

It required exactly thirty-five minutes for the parade to pass a given point, and those first in the Tabernacle got a good idea of the number of people in the demonstration by watching them pour through the door four abreast. The atuomobile containing Dr. Biederwolf, Mayor Calkins and others stopped at Sycamore avenue and the parade was reviewed by them there.

During the filling of the Tabernacle a few songs were sung and the High School delegations gave cheers for their schools, for Biederwolf and other members of the party. One Plainfield High School student climbed to the top of the Tabernacle above where his delegation was seated and planted his school pennant, amid the cheers of his friends. Immediately a North Plainfield High School student went up one of the big wooden columns in the center and hung his pennant from the rafters of the building, even higher than the other. A member of Company K promptly dared a dangerous fall by climbing, spider-like, to the very top of the Tabernacle, where he placed a small American flag between two supports on the roof, far above all.

It was almost 9 o'clock when the crowd finally ceased to come, and then hundreds were turned away. Every seat in the Tabernacle was filled, including those in the choir section and on the platform, and the rear aisle was filled with people who stood through the entire service, while many stood along the sides of the building.

Director McEwan urged the chorus choir to do great work by telling them that the organizer of "Billy" Sunday's choir in Trenton was on the platform. "They never had a choir like this," "Mac" said. "Come on, let's show him." And they did.

"The demonstration was simply wonderful," Dr. Biederwolf said. "In all my experience I have never seen one quite so big, so beautiful nor so dignified. Plainfield is to be congratulated."

Dr. Biederwolf called on Mayor Leighton Calkins for an expression of his appreciation of the demonstration. It was the biggest thing Plainfield has ever done, the Mayor said, and he congratulated Dr. Biederwolf and those who were instrumental in bringing about the parade. Mayor Calkins paid a tribute to the personality of Dr. Biederwolf, saying that no other man he knew could bring such crowds night after night and day after day.

"It is not the man," said the evangelist a few minutes later. "It is the thing. There isn't a man in the universe that could fill a building like this, night after night, talking on any other subject." He expressed his thanks and those of the audience to Mr. Kaufman, Mr. McCutcheon, Mr. Marshall and all other aides and committee members. Dr. Biederwolf also thanked Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett, who kindly had the streets cleaned yesterday afternoon so that the paraders might march in comfort. He then told every person who had a part in the demonstration to thank himself, or herself.

Because of the confusion caused by the immense crowd, a number of children became lost from their parents or elders, and three times Mr. Heaton or Dr. Biederwolf made announcements of lost or strayed youngsters. All were found. One man fainted during the sermon, but was revived as soon as she was carried outside the Tabernacle.

The Quartet sang a selection and Mr. McEwan sang "Plainfield for Christ." After an opening prayer by the Rev. Mr. Broek, Dr. Biederwolf began his sermon.

HEARN

Fourteenth Street — West of Fifth Avenue, New York

FRIDAY, AS USUAL, BARGAIN DAY

THESE OFFERINGS Do Not Tell Half the Story of TOMORROW'S OPPORTUNITIES Always More Than Advertised

No Mail or Telephone Orders for the following:—

Women's Suits, Coats, Dresses, Skirts, Housedresses — These Offerings for Friday.

Women's Coats—broken assortment of many styles and materials, including smart sport cloths, plain or checked silks, coverts, serges, gabardines, Bolivia cloths and others—sports, tailored and dress models—were $23.98.....20.75

Women's and Misses' Raincoats—olive, gray, navy, tan and black—canton or rubberized cashmeres—plain or belted models—reg. $6.98 and $7.98.....5.25

"Red Ticket" Lot of Women's Skirts—serges, wool poplins, silk taffetas and silk poplins—other popular sports fabrics including silk jerseys—
Were $3.98...2.95 | Were $8.98..5.95
Were $4.98...3.45 | Were $10.98..6.95
Were $5.98...3.95 | Were $11.98..7.95
Were $6.98...4.95
Were $16.98 and $17.98.....9.75

Women's and Misses' Silk Dresses—taffetas combined with Georgette or crepe de Chine—sport and dress style—sizes 14 to 18 and 34 to 46—our specialized value.....9.85

Women's and Misses' Voile Dresses—splendid line, worth while seeing—florals or stripes trimmed with self folds, ruffles and velvet ribbon—dainty organdie collars & vestees.5.98

"Red Ticket" Lot of Women's Tailored Suits—serges, gabardines, wool poplins, worsteds, gros de Londres, silk poplins and taffetas—black, white, navy, green, rookie and other new shades—fashionable novelty cut, as well as plainer, practical models—all exceptional values—
Were $22.98.....Now 14.95
Were $25.98 & $29.98..Now 19.95
Were $39.98.....Now 24.95
Were $41.98 & $45.98..Now 29.95
Were $49.98.....Now 34.95
Were $65.98.....Now 37.95
Were $75.98.....Now 47.95

Women's Percale Housedresses—neat stripes and figures—well made—one style, elastic belt—reg. .79.. .45

The "Winner," our specialized Housedress..... .98

Tailored Suits for Misses & Small Women — Red Ticket Lots for Friday.

Red Tickets Mean Great Reductions.

Strictly tailored, sports or dress models from reliable makers—navy, Hague blue green, gray, wisteria, rookie and other fashionable colors, black and smart checks—many novelty cut.

Were $14.98 & $16.98..Now 9.95
Were $17.98 & $19.98..Now 12.95
Were $21.98 & $23.98..Now 15.95
Were $25.98 & $29.98..Now 18.95
Were $31.98.....Now 22.95
Were $34.98.....Now 25.95
Were $42.98.....Now 29.95

Women's Blouses — Continuation of Our May Sale.

White Lawn Blouses—plain, striped, cross-barred and embroidered, also Organdies and Voiles—low neck—various style collars—value .98..... .68

Tailored and Dressy Blouses—Madras, Dotted Swisses, striped and plain Voiles—best liked models—value $1.98.....1.44

Silk Blouses of crepe de Chine, Georgette Crepe and Taffetas—leading fashionable shades—braided, embroidered, Venise lace inserts or smartly tailored—value $4.98....3.95

The New "Retrop" Sports Blouses of "Pussy Willow" Taffetas and crepe de Chine—White, Flesh, Black—splendidly tailored—all sizes—regularly $6.49.....5.50

New models added daily to our Specialized 1.85 Blouse.

Girls' Dresses — Continuation of Our May Sale.

Girls' White Dresses—fine lawn—lace insertings, embroidered organdy motifs and other effective trimming conceits—satin ribbon belts—6 to 14 yrs.—reg. $1.98 ..... Sale 1.49

Girls' Tub Dresses—new plaid ginghams in extensive variety—6 to 14 yrs.—reg. .98 ..... Sale .69

Girls' Repp Dresses—white, light blue or pink—attractive models with pretty plaited skirts—6 to 14 yrs.—reg. $1.79... Sale 1.25

Misses' and Girls' Middy Blouses—white Galatea—well tailored—silk laces—navy, red or Copenhagen collars and cuffs—also plain white—6 to 18 yrs.—reg. .98 ..... .66

Boys' Suits and Furnishings — These Offerings for Friday.

Boys' Norfolk Suits—many have extra trousers—various pleated models—checks, twills, stripes and mixtures—large assortment—cheviots, wool crashes and cassimeres—6 to 17 yrs.—were $4.98 3.59

Boys' Navy Suits—all wool serges and cheviots—pleated Norfolk and sack styles—pleated back—straight or Knickerbocker trousers—fully lined—7 to 17 yrs.—reg. $5.98.. 5.00

Extra Trouser Suits—homespuns, wool crashes, cheviots and cassimeres—light and medium fancies—smart Norfolk models in newest modifications—fine alpaca linings—excellent tailoring—8 to 17 yrs.—were $7.98 ..... 6.00

Boys' Washable Suits—2½ to 10 yrs.—white and best plain colors—stripes, checks and novelties—variety of new models, including middy and Junior Norfolk styles....Special 1.49

Boys' Striped Madras Blouses—attached or detached collars—also white pleated—8 to 16 yrs.—value .98 ..... .74

Children's Pajamas—fancy striped madras and percale—one piece style—also plain colors in crepe and soisette—one piece—6 to 14 yrs. two piece—6 to 16 yrs. reg. .79 .68

Children's Straw Hats—Madagascar and Raffa Straws—newest styles—self, ribbon or velvet bands—reg. .98 ..... .79

Extra Special—Boys' Blouses—"Tip Top" and "Boys' Favorite"—madras and percale—new patterns and colors—also plain white, khaki and blue chambray—also sports and Peter Pan styles—4 to 15 yrs. ..... .37

Millinery, Petticoats, Corsets — These Offerings for Friday.

Women's Ready-to-Wear Hats—black and best colors—large and small shapes—newest trimmings—reg. $2.98 ..... 1.95

Women's Untrimmed Hats—black, white and wanted colors—various styles and sizes—special. .98

Hats trimmed free if materials are purchased here.

White Wings—complete trimming for hat, extending all way around crown 1.24

Light Weight Coutil Corsets—some laced over abdomen—medium and long lengths—19 to 30 in lot, but not in style—reg. $2.00 ..... 1.19

Redfern Seconds—coutil and batiste—low bust—long hips—sizes 19 to 30—reg. $6.00 ..... 2.98

Women's Brassieres—fine cambric—trimmed with open embroidery—hooked front—value $1.50 ..... .88

Women's Silk Petticoats—chiffon or crisp taffetas—black and newest street shades—full pleated or ruffled flounces—fitted bands—reg. $4.98 ..... 3.74

1,269 MILES IN AUTO IN 16 DAYS

Stanley L. Karner and Family, of Kansas, Enjoy Interesting Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Karner, with their three children and Miss Elsie Rue, sister of Mrs. Karner, are visiting Mr. Karner's mother, Mrs. George N. Karner, of 112 Plainfield avenue, after making a somewhat remarkable automobile trip across the country. They left Hutchinson, Kansas, in an Overland car on April 29 and arrived in Plainfield on Sunday, May 14.

The first day out 120 miles were covered, but only eighteen miles the next day on account of muddy roads, the machine being pulled out of mud holes three times. At Kansas City they shipped by railroad to Peoria, Ill., the State of Missouri being impassable on account of bad roads, which is described as gumbo black clinging mud.

The wheels became solid, the mud guards being covered until the wheels revolved in a crease in the mud on them. The party left Peoria on May 8 over the Lincoln Highway. Through Indiana there was a stretch of road just scraped and rounded up. This covered all the deep mud holes with dirt so that they could not be seen and avoided, but they met a party in a Ford which being light went ahead and served to indicate bad spots. Then all would get out, the baggage removed and full speed ahead they bucked the mud until a better stretch was found.

They left Canton, Ohio, on May 11 and were soon in Pennsylvania, where ideal roads were found all the way to Plainfield, arriving here at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, May 11. The total distance traveled was 1,269 miles, 450 of which were by rail. One hundred and five gallons of gas was used, costing 18 cents in Kansas, to 30 cents in New Jersey; nine quarts of oil were also used. Five punctures and one blowout were also experienced. One front tire that had run 10,000 miles before starting arrived in Plainfield with Kansas air in it, never having given any trouble.

—If you have something to rent, you have something to advertise—and something that it will pay you to advertise adequately and persistently.

—Press want ads. pay.

—When discontent reaches a certain point, the furnished room advertisements become very interesting to some people.

SPORT TOPICS

Raking 'Em Over

By "JINKS"

DID THEY PULL A JOKE ON VETERAN WARRY?

Is he or is he not? That's the big question in City League life these rainy days. League moguls accepted Warry McLaughlin as a bona fide Abstainer Monday night. Yesterday the veteran twirler, who has been referred to as the twirler with a ten thousand dollar arm and a ten cent head, authorized his press agent to give forth a statement declaring he never was, is not now and never would be a City Leaguer. Furthermore he says that to put a championship nine on a Dunellen lot is his ambition. More power to him and to the much maligned press representative who sought to straighten matters out. Warry may have been misguided by some wiley T. A. B. S. scout, but we can't for the life of us believe that any league club would seek to have him instated as a qualified leaguer without first consulting him. To date the Abstainer management hasn't been heard from but an explanation is due all interested. Whether McLaughlin is a victim of misrepresentation or whether he's trying to pull a "Bennie Kauff" is a matter of conjecture at this time. Come across with the true facts and then we'll tell you where the City League and Warry get off in the argument.

• • • • • •

REPORT HAS IT THAT DUNELLEN WILL HAVE A CLUB.

With McLaughlin's public statement comes the assurance that Dunellen will have a real ball club fit to trample on the best opponent in the field. "Mac" says he has a special mission to perform and he's going to do the trick up right. He's out to put Dunellen back on the baseball map and before another month he is determined to put the deal through and make the local leaguers hustle to keep the fans in town Saturday afternoons. Warry has the talent at his fingers' tips and that he knows how to round them up and form a ball club is conceded. Second to seeing him in a Tab uniform we'd like nothing better than to have him head another Dunellen outfit that would revive the old time interest in the national nuisance and stage some real semi-pro sport.

• • • • • •

PLAINFIELD IN TRANSCONTINENTAL FLIGHT.

For the first time in municipal history we're due to have a representative in a transcontinental contest that may be classed with sports. The Sloane-Day Company, with a factory on North avenue, has sent in an entry for the aeroplane meet to be put on early in September. It will be pitted against the speediest ships in the country and should do much toward advertising Plainfield, N. J., in the cross-country competition. That the machine to be entered will be constructed in the Plainfield factory is probable and furthermore there may be a local pilot at the wheel when the race starts. This is undoubtedly one of the greatest events of the century and the eyes of the nation will be on the contending 'planes.

• • • • • •

CYCLING RETURNING TO FAVOR AS A MAJOR SPORT.

As an indication that cycling is returning to the plane of popularity it enjoyed ten years ago locally is indicated to no small degree by the activity of the Queen City Wheelmen, a recently organized club, the policy of which is to promote bicycling for sport's sake. With a membership of a far larger number than was ever anticipated the Wheelmen have planned a number of feature runs for the summer months and have gone one step further by entering some of the speedier men in Newark velodrome classics. Wheeling in Plainfield ten years ago was one of the major sports, but motorcycles and automobiles have overshadowed it recently to a degree that makes it a minor issue. Now we are expecting a revival and the Queen City Wheelmen are among those responsible.

• • • • • •

Abram G. Hooley and A. Clinton Wilmerding, both well known local dog fanciers, are two of the most active delegates in the American Kennel Club. All of which goes to show that Plainfield is gaining its place in the world of canine lovers as it has already done in other twentieth century events and features. These two men have probably been the most active in the local campaign to see that "every dog has a couple of days' prominence" each year and one of Mr. Wilmerding's chief achievements was the staging of a wonderfully successful bench show here not long ago.

• • • • • •

Now that Coyne and Voorhees have concluded their alley pastiming six inches of daily space on the Press sport pages is opened to all comers. This pair have been the chief cause for the lingering death of the pin season hereabouts and all concerned are glad that their little difference has been finally settled.

• • • • • •

Thirteen hits per game for three contests is the record of the North Plainfield High School baseball team. How long it may last is another thing but an accumulation of thirty-nine bingles in a trio of contests is an accomplishment that we seldom hear about in schoolboy circles.

• • • • • •

RUCKER TO KEEP HIS JOB.

Much has been said and written lately about Nap Rucker being dropped by the Brooklyn club. Rucker has been slipping for several seasons, but it seems that at a critical time he will brace and help out the Robinson crew. Rucker is using his slow ball almost entirely now, and with his excellent judgment of batters has been getting away with it. Last season Rucker worked in 19 games, winning nine and losing four. In the efficiency system of keeping pitchers' averages, Rucker ranked fourteenth in the National League. This record does not look like the hitters of the circuit are connecting very much with the floaters. Relative to him being released, President Ebbetts, of the Dodgers, says:

"Rucker has been one of the most willing workers the Brooklyn club ever had. He will positively be carried all this season, and he will be with us next season unless his arm is absolutely worthless. The Brooklyn club owes a sentimental debt to Rucker for his faithfulness, and I have always wanted to see such a great pitcher on a championship team. I believe that we have such a team this year, and I have not the slightest intention of depriving him of his great chance to round out his career. You can't make that too strong. Rucker is now on the disability list because he has a sore arm, but his arm is not gone, by a long shot. We expect him to pitch as often and as successfully as he did last year."

SOME CITY LEAGUERS READY TO JOIN M'LAUGHLIN'S DUNELLEN BALL TEAM

Rumor has it today in baseball circles that a number of the more prominent members of City Baseball League clubs have been considering offers to join the Dunellen semi-pro team being organized by Warry McLaughlin, the pitcher who was slated to play for the Tabs but who yesterday announced that he did not intend to join that outfit. McLaughlin is known to hold "strings of influence" on several of the veterans in the local circuit and it would take little coaxing on his part to force them to abandon amateur baseball and tie up with the Dunellen club where they would receive financial return for their performance on the diamond.

While the absence of these few from the City League would fall far short of leaving this loop high and dry it would do much in the direction of organization at Dunellen and it is a well known fact that good semi-pro baseball at that place would prove a drawing card of rare merit. The City League at present is a fairly good drawing card but local fans have always been partial to the brand of ball favored by McLaughlin and that he would pull from this city and vicinity Saturday afternoons is a foregone conclusion.

He has the backing of some of the best known men in Dunellen and the old ball park at that place is at his disposal. There are a number of crack teams of semi-pro calibre not far-distant from Plainfield and Dunellen and he would have little difficulty in signing good attractions once the team was organized.

With the aid of Bob Bogardus, who has long been recognized as an authority on semi-pro baseball in these parts, McLaughlin could probably stage as good exhibitions as have ever been put on in that town and he's determined to carry out his plans at this time. The season is still young and the horde of Dunellen fans, if augmented by the ones favoring semi-pro ball from this section, would prove ample to support a club of the kind proposed.

Many of the local leaguers have been forced to play on the Plainfield loop because of the absence of money paying propositions hereabouts and they are all ready to cast their lot with McLaughlin or any other manager who has the initiative to found a "pro" club.

Dunellen is a point easily reached from this city and many other towns in the immediate vicinity that have been clamoring for good baseball exhibitions and that the plans of McLaughlin will become a reality in the near future is reasonable to expect.

LOCAL WOMEN LEAD FOR TENNIS TITLE

Miss Wildey and Mrs. Weaver in Fine Form on West Side Courts.

Playing for the women's metropolitan doubles championship on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club yesterday afternoon, Miss Edna Wildey, of Plainfield, and her partner, Mrs. Edward Raymond, defeated Mrs. H. Pennington and Mrs. Davis, 6-2, 6-3. Mrs. Spencer Fullerton Weaver, formerly of Central avenue, this city, paired with Mrs. Rawson Wood, defeated Mrs. D. C. Mills and Mrs. A. H. Chapin 6-1, 6-2. In the third round Mrs. Weaver and her teammate defeated Mrs. Levy and Mrs. Manheimer 6-2, 6-2. These two are looked upon as a pair of the most formidable in the running for the title and experts are picking them today as favorites.

Rain wrought havoc with the efforts of the women experts. As far as the individual matches were concerned the result was nil, but the doubles had a fairly good start in spite of the moist atmosphere, and enough matches were played to make an entry into the third round.

BASEBALL.

